"911Skeptics Unite! -the encyclopedia"

Dedicated to the 911 victims

"911Skeptics Unite!" is an alphabetical index of information related to the Sep11th attack, the pretext for the attack, details of a possible blueprint and the political aftermath.

Instead of a traditional introduction, I have provided a list of Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) as is popular on the internet:

0) Isn't the release of this book "too late"?

That's a philosophical rather than a historical question. What constitutes, "too late"? The ultimate truth will never come out.

This is not a pacifist, antiwar or leftist book, it's not for humanists, activists or idealists, it's addressed for everyone.

When this book was planned, its purpose was to reveal the lies regarding Sep11th and more naively, to stop a gigantic expansion of war hostilities against Iraq (which, in any case had never ceased from the time of the 1990 Persian Gulf war) possibly leading to a copycat/domino effect and WW3 (North-South Korea, Egypt-Yemen, Jordan-Egypt, New Zealand-Australia, India-Pakistan, Israel-Palestine etc...).

At the time you will read this book, you will know more about how things have transpired than I know now as I am writing.

However, is it really too late for the truth and a political change?

This book might hopefully help you decide to change the political situation in your environment and demand a complete disclosure of the Sep11th- and anthrax-attacks.

1) What's the purpose of "another 911-book"?

Rather than trying to tell a new story, the idea of compiling this handbook, is to provide an unbiased research tool for netizens, investigators, progressives, left wingers, right wingers, truth seekers, activists, patriots, strategists, independent media supporters, idealists, lawyers, artists, producers, filmmakers, engineers, scientists, warmongers, chickenhawks, oil specialists, terror analysts, journalists, "becoming the media", smoking gun + bombshell snoopers, philosophers, psychoanalysts, open source and copyleft supporters, human beings, anti-wackos, basically everyone of this planet.

As usual, a handbook can never tell the "real" chronological story, therefore this index is strictly alphabetically organized to avoid hierarchism or "labels" as much as possible.
Please try to arrange the alphabetical index in your own order.

At the end "911Skeptics Unite!" might turn into the book you prefer:

an investigative handbook, an impeachment tool, a political weapon, a geopolitical research encyclopedia, a progressive dictionary, a history book, an analysis of paradigm change, a pretext for a peaceful revolution or anything else.

"The only way to stop the war against Iraq is to reveal the truth on Sep11th-the only way to reveal the truth on Sep11th is to stop the war against Iraq"

How should I work with this book?

Start wherever you like, check out the cross-references (arrows), archive your favorite contacts, analyse all "smoking gun coincidences", become the media, support the independent 911-citizen commission (-> 911p1.com), distribute suppressed stories, check out all sources, learn more details, tolerate some language barriers of international weblog members (which we couldn't fix in time).

For some readers this book might help to spur a nationwide impeachment campaign against the Bush-administration, CIA- and Pentagon officials, or an investigation within right wing (or "left wing" think tanks and their related oil- and military industry). It's on you, which way you will go?

While reading this book, however many people still might feel offended or just decide to continue ignoring the facts.

These facts are systematically ignored or blocked by the US Administration or international Media, which both is controlled by military companies.

You will find the names of these companies in this book.

Please come to your own conclusion and don't blame the messengers for it.

NOTE:
Most important abbreviations:

-> =keyword has own cross reference/keyword in this book
--> =keywords listed before have cross references
-> , -> =keyword cross reference list
-> -> =keyword cross reference refers to additional info, not alphabetically listed Sep11th =September 11th, 2001
Source = Original Source includes printed quote
"," without source = quoted from some internet weblogs or other websites
URL only = Original Source includes printed info
NOTE =personal note of author
COMPARE = related website and additional info on the keyword

Who is the "author" of this book?

There is no single author. However, this book was basically compiled with the help of results of members of GROUND ZERO Forum NYC (->), with other members of an investigative thinktank in the 911-folder at democraticunderground.com (->), with members of globalfreepress.com (->) and the team of Shadowgovernment TV.

One of these members was ewing2001 aka Testpod69 aka ?, who is an investigative journalist, programmer and media analyst. His investigative results had already been mirrored worldwide on the internet since Sep11th, 2001, 8:53 AM, when he started to dig on the facts.

His decision to use a nickname, is a regular procedure on any weblog or discussion board and his real identity is the name of the guy, who just presented this introduction for you and knows, how to work with media- since the 70s and how to work on the internet -since 1993.

This alphabetical "index" is based on results of many other different investigative- + strategy mailing lists, progressive websites, investigative 911-sites and a huge amount of "mainstream articles", while the same media obviously decided to continue to ignore combining their own dots and facts and discredit everyone, who decided otherwise.

This book has tried to avoid listing endless speculations or polemic essays.
The goal has been to collect investigative facts and attempt to validate their conclusions.

At the few parts, where some people decided to speculate -- this speculation is clearly indicated especially when no source is given.

Please come to your own conclusions.

I however have already come to a general conclusion, which is not based on any political, humanistic, pacifist, idealistic or anything else's decision- it's just an instinct.

This book IS able to prove the lies regarding 911, anthrax + Co. and you will be able to prove this as well.

I will try to continue to help everyone out who just want to receive answers or need to know more about the questions. This process of revelation could spring from a real independent 911-commission -- certainly not the one you might have heard about (the Kissinger, now Kean commission).

The 911-victims and a pending movement outside the box is already waiting for this independent 911-commission since Sep11th. They want no Kissingers, Kears, Carlyles, Exxons, Neros, Hitlers, Iran-Contras, Watergates, Nixons or whoever you want to call them. They don't want a corrupt manipulation of the results.

What's the premise of this book?

See Point 5

5) Is this book anti-American?

This book is definitely anti-terrorism, pro-American, pro New York, pro "truth" and pro-world.
While traditional investigation in intelligence and media got "hijacked" or corrupted, this book tried to do the opposite and work against this disturbing tendency.

"911Skeptics unite!" doesn't support any special disinformation or distraction, ideology or websites, who see the aftermath, irregularities and oddities regarding the Sep11th-story as an opportunity to abuse it for their own propaganda, paranoia, racism, mystification or evangelisation of life.

But this book should help you to find, to avoid or to challenge them.

Consequently, this book has tried to mention all of these possibility and in addition analyzes how so many different people have tried to comprehend the "official" Sep11th story. Some might describe this as "circus", some as unlucky, some as disturbing, i call it democracy.

A few of them, in the meantime, have become my friends, but i'm sure i will lose a few of them after the release of this book. Perhaps I will gain some new friends or just get isolated.

I have tried to consider all these possibilities, i have tried not to risk to reveal everyone's identity or other sources and i will promise to do so in the future.

But many might be hyper-sensitive or have other reasons to be concerned to be mentioned in this book either for personal or political decisions.

I respect their opinion, but in the most cases, it was necessary in order to credibly investigate or what some "suspects" depend, a logical decision to mention them. To all those I've left out or forgotten to cite, my apologies, it was done to protect the innocent.

"911Skeptics unite!" mentions many respectful, brave and patriotic people, who basically risked everything including their live to find out, what really "went wrong" or if the so called "incompetence" is just bogus, but this book tried to mention every activist project, who decided not to lump around or turn into a cynical, pessimist or never ending rant.

This book has tried to work scientifically on every possible detail, every angle and all findable facts, though many people and users of this book might wish, it should have been done in a different way.

But this is the premise. It's on you, your partner, your friends, your boss, your family and your environment to decide what should happen in the future.

If you think this book might not help you, it's just crap or "too late anyway", please throw it immediately in the garbage can.

If you think, it is important to discuss the purpose of this book in public, then please do so and contact any of the people who were mentioned. This could be one media guy, or a "nobody", "this guy i once heard about it", your Congressman or just someone who might be on your page, your spirit, your groove or someone who could become part of your team.

One more thing: We all live in a paradigm change and many people who helped creating this book for months, are already balanced enough to find a way to present their facts, wishes and goals.

Few of them wished to go back to their old stuff, i'm maybe one of them as well.

But many gave up or got discouraged, some have even already left their "homeland".

This book however supports a growing "911Skepticism movement", which combines or addresses politically aware people who are worried about the aftermath, the US constitution, the first amendment and diminishing prospects for peace.

"911Skeptics Unite" should help to work with all US- and any other nation's citizens, in a world, which doesn't even really consist of "nations" anymore.

It became the bizarro world and augmented reality of corporate identity and their staged and fabricated way of life, which has neither to do with capitalism or socialism.

Some of you might call it Big Brother, 1984, Network, Matrix, Fahrenheit 451, New World Order, Conspiracy, fascism, evil, greedy, but even "just right" or just dumb- i call it simply "your life".

But for the very first time ever in history, this "way" of life has affected every one of us and has manipulated our way of life. It's on us whether to let this manipulation continue and let a minority decide how the evolution should continue.

While i was working on this book, i spoke with many 911-victims, NYPD policemen, firefighters, lawyers, Con-Edison workers, politicians, journalists, activists, construction workers, businessmen and even former "terrorists".

At the end, everyone of them agreed: The current world has changed and is staged. September 11th wasn't what they told you and "everyone knows that".

So how many (shutdown?) websites, (silenced?) books or (ignored?) lawsuits do we need more to 'find that out'?

Well, it's not on the author of this book to give you the answer on that, i would prefer to watch a good TV show or sports match in between, but i hope that the one or other who got mentioned in this book will write his own book as well, many of them have the skills to do it.

By the way:
If anything might look different in the future with the author of THIS book, then there might be a simple explanation:

He got manipulated, screwed up, corrupted or just gave up.
My best friends however have assured me, this won't happen.
PS: If you want to discredit this book, check out the index.

2-Bit Terrorism

On March 21st, 2002 a car bomb in Peru shocked the peruvian nation.

Obviously organised by a leftist guerrilla group, as a protest against a pending visit of President Bush in Lima at that time, Bush cynically described it as "2-Bit-Terrorism" only and started a strong criticism in the peruvian media on his "double standard" views:

"Two-bit terrorists aren't going to prevent me from doing what we need to do, and that is to promote our friendship in the hemisphere," Bush said. "Our neighborhood is important to us. Peru is an important country."

A couple of weeks later U.S. Deputy Secretary of State Richard Armitage (->) claimed, that there is "a bit of a problem with al-Qaida itself and some Hezbollah (->) elements" in Ecuador's remote jungle region near the borders with Peru and Colombia.

Peru is targeted since 1994 by the former state oil company in Argentina, YPF, who bought in 1995 Dallas-based Maxus Energy, Peru and Argentina have historically friendly relations which began to spill over into the oil industry during the military dictatorships in both countries in the 1970s.

An engineer by the nickname of 2much BS.

Was one of the first independent skeptic investigators of the Twin Towers collapse.

Supported by other specialists including ENDIMION (->), Plaguepuppy (->), which met at the messageboard of democraticunderground.com (known as DU (->) in the "911-terrorism"-folder.

In this folder, 2MuchBS was continually attacked by other members like DocPaulie, Vincent_Vega, LARED, bolobuffin or anablep (->) aka Sarah Roberts.

In September 2002, 2MuchBS was banned at democraticunderground.com for unknown reasons, but remained in contact with the collapse- and aviation specialists.

20th Hijacker

A title, which was shared by five arrested muslims, until December 2001, when Zacarias Moussaoui was arrested and made bigger headlines and is now referred as the "20th hijacker".

The other five, most of them in the meantime plead unguilty are:

Mohammed Jaweed Aznath, Ayub Ali Khan, Nabil al-Marahb and Agus Budiman and Ramsi Binalshib (->)

On September 11th, 2001 rumours circulated around, that another "5th plane" was hijacked, too.
This was reported by Cat Lazaroff of Lycos News and the BBC:
"...Rumors flew regarding a fifth hijacked plane, which was alternately reported as missing, as circling Dulles Airport outside Washington DC, or as making an emergency landing in Ohio after an onboard bomb threat...."

"...Suicide hijackers may have been on board a fifth American transcontinental plane on the day of the attacks on the Pentagon and the World Trade Center, sources close to the FBI investigation reported.

One source told The Chicago Tribune that the FBI was searching for a number of passengers who were due to fly on American Airlines Flight 43 from Boston, which was grounded due to a mechanical problem.
This plane, scheduled to take off at 0810 local time, just 25 minutes after American Airlines Flight 11, which struck New York's World Trade Center.

One of the sources told the newspaper that the FBI was "very interested" in people whose names appeared on the passenger lists of several other American flights which were in the air when the first attacks occurred.

Those planes were then prematurely landed under the orders of air traffic controllers in response to the attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon..."

911-commission

On September 28th 2002, a few weeks after the new 911 hearings (>->) started, President Bush said, he would finally support establishing an independent commission to investigate the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

His decision was described in the US Media as a "reversing course".

He later signed a commission bill.
http://cryptome.org/bush-kissoff.htm

The families of 9 / 11 Victims (>->) protested on many different members of this commission.

Some of them wanted an independent commission.

Others just suggested Warren Rudman (>->) on this Panel:

Friday, 6 December, 2002

"...Families of Sept. 11 victims fear that the White House will block their effort to get former Sen. Warren Rudman of New Hampshire on the new commission investigating the attacks.

They consider Rudman the only well-qualified Republican sufficiently independent of his party and the White House to do a thorough job on the commission, Stephen Push (<->), a spokesman for the families, said Friday.

`` At issue is whether this commission is going to have any teeth," he said. "Having one independent Republican will make all the difference."

Push said the families believe Rudman is being blocked because of opposition from the White House.

``For some reason the administration has been fighting this (the commission) ... from day one. I assume they're worried about criticism they didn't heed those earlier warnings" of an attack, he said...

While Watch Groups like JudicialWatch.org (>->) or 911pi.com (<->) (who started to organise an own citizens commission since mid 2002) and even the 911-victim groups (>->) still protested a US-Gov controlled 911-commission and demanded an independent commission, the official committee ignored their opinions and added controversial people like John Lehman or Tom Kean (<->) with his Bin Laden connections to the 911panel.

The first 911-Hearings began on June 4th, 2002 with FBI Director Robert S. Mueller (->), CIA Director George J. Tenet (->) and whistle-blower FBI-agent Colleen Rowley (->).

Rowley wrote a memo accusing FBI headquarters of obstructing efforts by the Minneapolis office to investigate Zacarias Moussaoui (->), who the Justice Department contends was to have been the 20th hijacker on Sept. 11.

Among other witnesses:
Richard A. Clarke (->), CSG, President Bush's adviser on cyberspace security, who was coordinator of anti-terrorism efforts during 2001.

911-Hearings Staff director Eleanor Hill was negotiating with the Department of Justice officials on potential evidence for the Moussaoui trial.

One of the supporters was Bob Graham (->), but he was more interested "what lessons are to be learned from this and how can we apply these lessons to reduce the chance of another September 11"

Graham later urged the CIA to declassify some files.

Graham's role regarding September 11th is controversial as well.

He was in a meeting with Senate Intelligence Member Porter Goss and former Pakistan Secret Service (ISI -->) chief Massoud on September 11th in Washington.

In October 2002 the second 911-hearings started, which results got mostly ignored by the mainstream media. One of the biggest transcript archives is located at the website project of JohnHorne (->)

"Until a legitimate independent citizen's committee is funded and recognized by the U.S. government or a world political body or court, it is left up to the citizens of the world to investigate and share what they know with others."

911-Skeptics

In October 2001 GROUND ZERO Forum NYC (->) organised the so called "invisible" (911-)Skepticism Ring on their delphi:forum at the ourDNA.org (lebensaspekte.de)-website.

The idea was to inform every 911-related and 911-investigative website on each other's existence.

In May 2002, finally all contacts of this "Skepticism ring" supported a three-day 911-skepticism panel and live stream in Chashana Theatre on Times Square, New York.

The event was surrounded by other projects by many different peace activists and artists, organised by video mixing artist Missy Galore of feedbackgalore.com.

One of the panelists was Sterling of democraticunderground.com (DU->), Beetwasher (DU), Alex Jones (->), Guerrilla News Network (->) and Oscar Le Winter (->).

The most effective result out of this event was the idea of creating Shadow Government TV (->).

The expression 911Skepticism was later picked up by Osamakidneys.com (->) and many other 911-related websites, activists or anti-bushitas.

911Skepticism later became title for a progressive 'movement' against the political aftermath of the Sep11th attack (PATRIOT->, TIPS ->, TIA -> etc.) with difficult interests or names, but everyone had similar goals:

Stop the war (->Anti-War protest)
Impeach Bush (->)
Investigate Sep11th in an independent 911commission (->)

On September 12th 2002, J.K, Dineen of the San Francisco Examiner wrote the first mainstream article about "911-Skeptics":

"...you wanna know what really happened on 9/11?
While different groups are obsessed with different aspects of 9/11, there are some that seem to pop up everywhere. One is the CIA-Mohammad Atta connection. That theory focuses on the fact that the head of Pakistani intelligence, who happened to wire head hijacker Mohammad Atta $100,000, was in Washington on Sept. 11 having breakfast with the head of the House Intelligence Oversight Committee.

Others point to the fact that the hijacked planes were not intercepted, and that the extended Bin Laden family, who have strong connections to former President George Bush, were whisked out of the country right after the attacks. Another point theorists would like to see investigated is the proliferation of airline stocks that were "shorted" right before the attacks. Some say they have evidence proving that seven of the hijackers actually are still alive and that another one was actually dead a year before 9/11...

...Claudia Hernandez, who is part of a group called the All People's Coalition, said investigators need to follow the money.

"The United States government had oil interests in the area, There's a clear connection between the oil economy, the Bush administration and the war. The connections are out there. People need to connect the dots."

The article was the result of an interview with Carol Brouillet (->) from San Francisco (which name was quoted wrong!), who is working on "Understanding/Exposing 9-11" since Sep11th and worked on "Bush Did It!" rallies, marches and workshops, which promote the book of Nafeez Mosaddeq Ahmed (->), "War on Freedom" (->) or guest appearances by Mike Ruppert (->) or John Judge (->).

On the anniversary day of the Sep11th attacks, many 911Skeptics organised protests, like Brouillet did with a March and Rally in front of the Federal Building in Oakland.

On January 16th, 2003 Brouillet organised another Rally which supported the "impeach-Bush"- campaign by Prof. Francis Boyle.

The so called 911-strategy lists had been created in mid-2002.

Their purpose was to discuss different "conservative" strategies, how to reveal the truth on Sep11th to the US Nation in public and support an independent citizen's 911-commission without being conclusive in public.

("Bush Knew" ->, "Bush did it").

One of many innocent victims, who got arrested in odd connections with the Sep11th attack.

In January 2002, the Washington Post reported, that for four months, authorities jailed Mohamed Abdi and pressed him to explain why they found his name and phone number in a car left behind by the Sept. 11 hijackers.

When investigators examined an ADC map found inside a Toyota registered to Dulles Airport hijacker Nawaf Alhazmi, they noticed the name "Mohumed" and a Virginia phone number written on the cover in yellow highlighter. The number was Abdi's.

But Abdi was found ungullty. The judge couldn't find any hard evidence of contacts between Abdi and the Sep11th attack. The FBI never explained, what "went wrong".

ABM Treaty
On December 11, 2001 President Bush decided to give Russia notice that the United States will withdraw from the 1972 nuclear treaty that bans testing of missile defense systems.

Administration officials have said that Russian President Vladimir Putin had assured Bush during their October 2001 talks in Washington and Crawford, Texas, that U.S.-Russian relations would not suffer even if Bush pulled out of the treaty.

Another reason for this announcement had been increased revelations on the internet on the use of illegal mini nuke systems, and a new weapon system, called Thermonubarics. (->)

Abu Hafs the Mauritanian is described as one Al-Qaeda leader as reported, he was killed in the American bombing of Afghanistan.
His other nicknames are Mahfouz Ould al-Walid or Khaled Al-Shanqiti.

He blamed the CIA and FBI on the Sep11th attacks, in an interview with Yussef Al Shuli Al Jazeera on November 30, 2001:

"In the U.S. administration there are [agencies] legally responsible for safeguarding the security of America and the Americans. It is they who should be held accountable. The biggest budget of all the intelligence apparatuses in the world is spent on American intelligence. The FBI, with offices everywhere and dozens of other apparatuses, is entrusted with safeguarding America's security, on which the Americans spend billions of dollars of their tax money and their private funds so they will ensure their security.

Where were these apparatuses when these things occurred? These apparatuses have satellites, ground stations, millions of spies, and huge budgets. It is said that they know what is happening in the bedrooms, that they know the shoe sizes of the wanted [men]. How did a group of people manage to stay for years, to train inside the U.S., and to plan this operation?"

...Although we did not carry them out, these blows coincided with our interests, and their results were significant for us...Regarding what happened on September 11, and what was said and written about the killing of innocents and so on, I have a clarification. First, as I said, we are not responsible for this act and therefore we are not responsible for [issuing] religious explanations for it..."

More unbiased reports on Abu Sayyaf described them as an disorganized group of bandits, who are terrorizing the southern Philippines since the early 1990s.

However in February 2002, the United States sent 600 special operations troops to the Philippines to help hunting members of Abu Sayyaf, because they suspected them having ties with Al-Qaeda.

Many phillipino residents wondered, why Abu Sayyaf merits so much attention from the United States and its military.
"We need only 300 dedicated soldiers to defeat them," says the Rev. Cirilo Nacorda, a parish priest here on Basilan who was taken hostage by Abu Sayyaf in 1994. "We don't need thousands."

Two Abu Sayyaf factions are known.
One is on basilan island, the other operates in the Sulu island chain under a leader called "Commander Robot."

The two groups are believed to have well under 1,000 fighters; the Basilan branch, perhaps only 70 or 80.

"Less than six weeks before the September 11th attack Mohamed Atta and Marwan Al-Shehhi engaged in a fist-pounding shouting match, according to eyewitnesses, at The Pelican Alley restaurant in Venice Florida.
""I only recognized one of them, Atta," Renee continues. "He barely spoke a word to me. But he had a really mean expression on his face. He seemed very unhappy. The other guy—the heavy-set guy, did all the talking and was very friendly and outgoing."

AFB Andrews
AFB Andrews became one of the targets of independent aviation netizen investigators of the Sep11th attack. The question remained, why AFB Andrews wasn't able to send fighters in time to intercept Flight 77 (->), who was on its way to the Pentagon.
The facts:

Andrews AFB is located in the Southeast corner of the Washington Capitol Beltway.

The Air National Guard Readiness Center develops, manages and directs Air National Guard programs... to ensure combat readiness of ANG units. These ANG-Units in Washington are:

113th Wing (DCANG)
-flies the F-16C Fighting Falcon
Training for air combat and operational airlift for national defense is the 113th's primary mission.

Naval Air Facility, Washington, D.C.
-flies the F/A-18 Hornets
NAF's mission is carried out by 451 active duty members...

Marine Aircraft Group 49, Det, A
-flies the sophisticated F/A-18 Hornet
In the best tradition of the Marine Corps, a "few good men and women" support two combat-ready reserve units at Andrews AFB.

Marine Aviation Logistics Squadron 49, Detachment A, provides maintenance and supply functions necessary to maintain a force in readiness.

Questioning the 9/11 attacks...
http://www.koolpages.com/killtown/

As Paul Thompson (->) clearly pointed out:

1. Several planes from Andrews were flying over North Carolina when the attacks happened. They were ordered back to base. Two were low on fuel. One was not, so it immediately took off again to defend Washington, but just too late to beat the hijacked plane. Had it flown straight to Washington, it would have.

2. These planes were ordered back from North Carolina relatively late. Had they been ordered back to Washington shortly after the first WTC hit, they could have reached Washington about 40 minutes before Flight 77 did!

3. At least two planes were known to have been hijacked by 8:43 - clearly a national emergency. But the order to begin to get fighters ready at Andrews for scrambling didn't come until after 9:03 - at least 20 minutes later. Again, if not for the delay, the planes would have scrambled in time.

Afroz, Mohammad

Afroz, Mohammad is, what indian papers called, Indias "Moussaoui" (->). Afroz was arrested by the Mumbai police from a hotel in August 2001.

The Mumbai police declared Afroz a terrorist in a formal case registered in December 2001. He was described as being part of a suicide squad of the Al-Qaeda (->).

"While the others of Al-Qaeda targeted the World Trade Center", police say that Afroz had been trained to destroy the British Parliament, the Rialto Towers in Sydney and Indian Parliament.

Police claimed that Afroz had trained to be a pilot at the Tylor International School of Aviation in Texas. Afroz, it said, was the son of a Trombay tailor and could not afford the flight-training fees of Rs 36 lakh. Police said that Afroz had been financed by an uncle in London who was part of the Al-Qaeda terrorist network.

His story was ignored by US- and british papers, but picked up again in April 2002 by Indiareacts.com, when his trial started.

Indias Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) refused to pursue the case after the Mumbai police failed to prosecute Afroz. CBI officials reported that the entire case had been "cooked up".

Indiareacts came to the conclusion, that "either Afroz is a terrorist who Mumbai police was fool enough not to be able to convict. Or he is an innocent framed by Chhagan Bhujaal & Co. Somebody must pay for this blunder...."

Ahmad, General Mahmud

Lt. Mahmud Ahmad was former head of the Pakistan Secret Service ISI (-), until he "resigned" on October 6th, 2001. Only a few hours later the war against the Taliban started.

According to a October 12th, 2001 story in the Times of India, the Pakistani intelligence service, ISI, Washington's close ally in the 'infinite war' against terror, was intimately involved with the 9-11 hijackers.

This might have been the real reason, why Ahmad quit his job:

"The US authorities sought his removal after confirming the fact that $100,000 were wired to WTC hijacker Mohammed Atta from Pakistan by Ahmad Umar Sheikh (-) at the instance of Gen Mahmud."

(NO: Mahmud Umar Sheikh is also known as Sheikh Saeed)

General Mahmud Ahmad was obviously deep involved in the planning of a war against the Taliban since 1997/1998 and even worked together with the Northern Alliance:

During a May 2001 visit to Dusseldorf, Germany, the "...Northern Alliance led by ousted Afghan president Burhanuddin Rabbani and his military commander Ahmed Shah Masood have mustered Western support".

Source:

Only 8 weeks later, (due to the indictment against "hijacker 20", Zacarias Moussaoui), "on or about August 1 and 3, 2001, Ramzi Bin al-Shibh, using the name "Ahad Sabit," wired approximately $14,000 in money orders to Moussaoui (-) in Oklahoma from train stations in Dusseldorf and Hamburg, Germany." (Point 67, Source: findlaw.com)

On September 5th, 2001 Binalshibh traveled from Dusseldorf to Madrid, Spain, and did not return to Germany. (Point 89)

From parts of an original article by GROUND ZERO Forum at Scoop (-):

The ISI once founded the Taliban (-) with help of the CIA.

This is no secret, even US Military cheerleader Janes Defense Weekly (-) confirms that "half of Taliban manpower and equipment originate(d) in Pakistan under the ISI".

It is therefore a big mystery, that the ISI, with all their insider information, was the only secret service that didn't warn about an attack on America in the lead up to 911. (- early warnings)

Even more disturbing, is that the visit of General Mahmood in Washington between September 4th and 15th, 2001 is so resolutely ignored in the history books in Washington.

It has emerged, that even questions about this visit have been altered in official White House transcripts.

In the course of Condoleezza Rice's (-) May 16, 2002 press conference (which took place barely a few hours after the publication of the "Bush Knew" headlines in The New York Post), an accredited Indian journalist asked a question on the role of General Mahmood Ahmad:

(...) Q: Dr. Rice?
Ms RICE: Yes?
Q: Are you aware of the reports at the time that the ISI chief was in Washington on September 11th, and on September 10th $100,000 was wired from Pakistan to these groups here in this area? And why was he here? Was he meeting with you or anybody in the Administration?

Ms RICE: I have not seen that report, and he was certainly not meeting with me.

(...) Although there is no official confirmation, in all likelihood General Mahmoud Ahmad met Dr. Rice during the course of his official visit.

The word "ISI Chief" was later erased from the transcript and replaced with "inaudible".

Conclusion:

This event didn't "officially" happen in Washington, but there are various reports about it.

September 9th, 2001

"...ISI Chief Lt-Gen Mahmoud's week-long presence in Washington has triggered speculation about the agenda of his mysterious meetings at the Pentagon and National Security Council. Officially, State Department sources say he is on a routine visit in return to CIA Director George Tenet's earlier visit to Islamabad. Official sources confirm that he met Tenet this week.

He also held long parleys with unspecified officials at the White House and the Pentagon. But the most important meeting was with Mark Grossman, US Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs. US sources would not furnish any details beyond saying that the two discussed 'matters of mutual interests.'

What those matters could be is a matter of pure conjecture. One can safely guess that the discussions must have centred around Afghanistan, relations with India and China, disarmament of civilian outfits, country's nuclear and missiles programme and, of course, Osama Bin Laden..."

On the morning of Sept 11th (Mahmoud) met Senate Joint Intelligence Co-Chairman Bob Graham (->) (D-FL) and his House Intelligence Co-Chairman and former CIA operative Porter Goss (->)(R-FL), who both had prior knowledge about an attack, "with planes", since August 6th 2001, as they both confirmed to the Washington Post.

He later met, after September 11th, with Senator Joseph Biden, chairman of the powerful Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate.

-More about this meeting at http://www.scoop.co.nz/mason/stories/HL0207/S00119.htm )

As Richard Clarke (->) already knew in July 2001, the ambassador of Pakistan met suddenly with the ambassador of the Taliban in Karachi to discuss the rumours about warnings of a possible Al-Qaeda attack on America.

But more disturbing, as Times of India wrote various times, Mahmood later sought retirement after the U.S. attacks - confirmed by top sources in India, because of evidence produced by India showing his links to Mohammed Atta, the terrorist hijacking leader.

The Times said that, "U.S. authorities sought his removal after confirming the fact that $100,000 was wired to WTC hijacker Mohammed Atta from Pakistan by Ahmad Umar Sheikh on the instructions of ISI Lt. General Ahmad." http://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/articleshow.asp?xml=0&catkey=-2128936835&art_id=1454238160&sType=1)

The FBI was furthermore investigating checks written on Princess Haifa's bank account to Majida Ibrahim Ahmad, wife of Saudi national Osama Basnan, a close confidant of al-Bayoumi. The checks included monthly payments of $2,000 between November 1999 and May 2002 and at least one for $15,000 in April 1998.

As reported, the cash was to help defray the cost of treatment for a thyroid condition, but several of the checks were endorsed to Basnan and later diverted to an account maintained by al-Bayoumi, authorities said. Obviously, at some point his identity was stolen.
It is very interesting to note, to quote the Telegraph article, that:
"The FBI had published his personal details but with a photograph of somebody else, presumably a hijacker who had 'stolen' his identity. CNN, however, showed a picture of the real Mr Al-Ghamdi."

It makes you really wonder how this type of confusion could have occurred, but the fact there are two photos clearly proves that identity theft had occurred.

Alghamdi thinks that "CNN got the picture from the Flight Safety flying school he attended in Florida."
He had studied in Florida from 1998 to 1999 and then returned home and worked for Saudi Arabian Airlines.

In August 2000, he returned to the U.S. for further training. The striking thing, and something that is of the utmost importance in our understanding what is going on here, is that he grew up with two boys whose identities were stolen, and at least one of them, Waleed Alshehri, became a pilot and is still alive.

In other words, the intelligence agency who stole the identities knew enough to steal identities from people who grew up together in Saudi Arabia, and later went on to train as pilots, taking some training in the United States. This would be excellent evidence that the hijackers were the original Saeed and Waleed, except we know both of these people are still alive.

I have to tip my hat to whoever created these identities, as they knew enough to pick exactly the right identities to steal, and had to have unbelievable Saudi intelligence (->) sources to do this.
These people are good at what they do.

The most intriguing Saeed Alghamdi may have been a student at the Defense Language Institute (http://globalfreepress.com/ewing2001/www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzer...) in Monterey, California.

http://www.onlinejournal.com/Special_Reports/Hopsicker103001/hopsicker103001.html

This is a U. S. government school used to train the military in languages. It used to be called the Monterey Language School, and it is possible but a matter of some debate that no less than Lee Harvey Oswald attended there (we can't be sure as Oswald's military records were 'lost').

My guess is that the actor who played Saeed Alghamdi went to this school as part of his usual military training. As foreign students of countries who were allies of the United States could be invited to go there, it may have even been intended to leave the option open to depict Alghamdi as working for some Middle Eastern country if they needed an excuse to blame some government there.

The most telling thing about the school is that the fellow who recently made the headlines for daring to criticize Bush for 9-11 was vice chancellor for student affairs there (http://www.msnbc.com/news/629529.asp?newguid=2A663ABA3F335417685796EE180EA87AF&cp1=1) Butler, Steve).

In other words, this isn't just some guy in the military with an opinion, this is a guy with special knowledge about people like Saeed Alghamdi. If he wondered publicly about Bush's role in 9-11, we have to take his words very seriously.

Someone called Saeed Alghamdi was living in Patterson, New Jersey in the apartment of Hani Hanjour (http://www.sptimes.com/News/091501/Worldandnation/14_hijackers_spent_ti.shtml).

In 1992 (too early for the real Alghamdi), someone named Saeed Alghamdi used the Social Security number of a Vermont woman who had been dead for almost 30 years.

A Saeed Alghamdi lived in the Delray Beach, Florida area with Ahmed Alnami and Hamza Alghamdi (on one account from late 1992 on, although it is impossible or very unlikely that the real Saeed Alghamdi could have lived there that far back as he is too young).

In an amazing coincidence, the wife of the editor of the Sun tabloid, where one employee died from anthrax (http://www.msnbc.com/news/629529.asp?newguid=2A663ABA3F335417685796EE180EA87AF&cp1=1) Stevens, Bob), found the apartment for Saeed Alghamdi and Marwan Al-Shelthi.

(but note that another report says the apartment was found for Marwan Al-Shelthi and Hamza Alghamdi).

Saeed Alghamdi lived in December 1996 in Chino Hills (http://www.wwnacrimetimes.com/topstory.shtml) in Orange County, California.

Saeed Alghamdi may have trained at a school operated by Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University (http://www.msnbc.com/news/629529.asp?newguid=2A663ABA3F335417685796EE180EA87AF&cp1=1) (this may very well be the real Saeed Alghamdi as we know he took training in the United States).

Saeed Alghamdi lived in San Antonio Texas, and, ever the linguist, may have graduated from the Defense Language Institute at Lackland Air Force Base.

Saeed Alghamdi lived from 1988 to 1991 in Florham Park, New Jersey.
At that time, he had a wife and children, and was working for a pharmaceutical company. When he left the apartment, he told his landlord he'd been transferred to the midwest. This could not be the real Saeed Alghamdi, who is just 26 or 27 years old and is an airline pilot.

http://www.southjerseynews.com/attack/m091701s.htm

Saeed Alghamdi lived in Pensacola, Florida and listed his address as 10 Radford Blvd. on Pensacola NAS, a base road on which residences for foreign-military flight trainees are located.

(The Pensacola News Journal article states that the Naval Education and Training Security Assistance Field Activity, which administers training of foreign aviation students for the Navy, is headquartered in Pensacola and that fifteen percent of aviation students on any given day are foreign nationals.)

Saeed Alghamdi and fellow terrorist Ahmed Alghamdi are listed as living in housing for foreign military trainees at Pensacola Naval Air Station.

Saeed Alghamdi, Ahmad Alnami and Ahmed Alghamdi all may have trained in Pensacola.

http://www.msnbc.com/news/629529.asp?newguid=2A663ABA3F335417685796EE180EA87AF&cp1=1

While any one terrorist's name associated with an institution may be a coincidence and refer to another man, can three terrorist's names training at the same U. S. military training center be a coincidence?

Saeed Alghamdi in fact may have lived at two addresses near Pensacola Regional Airport, one a few miles north of the airport and another a few hundred feet away.

Saeed Alghamdi was associated with suspected terrorist Raed Hijazi (http://www.spynews.net/September11Hijackers.html), a former Boston cab driver convicted in Jordan for a plot to kill Americans and other tourists in Jordan on Jan. 1, 2000.

http://news.bbc.co.uk/hi/english/world/middle_east/newsid_1813000/1813739.stm

(Hijazi may have been in charge of training the terrorists responsible for the attack on the USS Cole, too).

Saeed Alghamdi may have lived in the Boston (-> Boston connection) area.

Saeed Alghamdi lived in Vero Beach, Florida.

Ali, Tariq

Ali accused the US State involvement for their blatant colonialism and their "solipism of the American State."

His implication is that Islamic terrorists simply weren't smart enough to pull this stunt off in secret, a theory shared by some of the less confident Islamic proles in the streets of Lahore that Ali interviewed. "But Bahgi, we are not smart enough to do this."

The American state is a nexus for global hegemon, but not the monad for all the world's evil, which is why comparative polisic folk scoff at notions of state involvement is 9/11.

Another popular interview with Ali, that Doug Henwood conducted on his radio show ("Behind the News," Thursdays 5-6 PM Eastern time, WBAI http://www.wbai.org/ 99.5 FM New York) was on September 20, 2001.

On July 8th, 2002 Ali gave an interview to Counterpunch (->).

Alibek, Dr. Ken

Dr. Ken Alibek aka Kanatjan Alibekov, in 2002 still director of Hadron Advanced Biosystems (->), is one of the Top BioWeapon specialists worldwide, who once worked for the soviet union at the BIOPREPARAT program.

Biopreparat was an organisation established in Russia in 1973 which was ostensibly a state-owned pharmaceutical facility developing drugs and vaccines, but in fact was a front for the USSR's secret offensive bio weapons programme.

In 1987, when he was only 37, Alibek went to Moscow to become chief scientist and first deputy director of Biopreparat. During this time he supervised the development and production of an 'improved' smallpox weapon.

Alibek began to have grave doubts on his project following an inspection visit to the US in 1991 in which, contrary to his expectations, he saw no evidence of an active biowarfare programme. The visit lasted from December to January 1992.
While he was away, Mikhail Gorbachev resigned as President and the Soviet Union became 15 independent republics. After his return to Russia Alibek resigned from Biopreparat and returned to Kazakhstan. He was asked by the new Kazakhstani government to establish a bio-weapons programme but refused. He went to the US in October 1992 and spent most of the next year being debriefed by the CIA.

Alibek was one of the first supporters of a "scientific" Homeland Security (->), long time before Sept11th. Already established by ANSER (->) in 1999, he testified in May 2001:

"...a determined organization could obtain virulent strains of microorganisms from their natural reservoirs (such as soil or animals), from culture libraries that provide such organisms for research purposes, or by stealing cultures from legitimate laboratories."

Alibek worked together with USAMRIID (-) specialists like William C. "Bill" Patrick III, at Battelle (-), with Robert C. Al-Jazeera Bombing
Many journalists suggested in November 2001, that the bombing on the afghan offices of the TV Station Al-Jazeera was on purpose.

Few knew, that it almost killed BBC World Service correspondent William Reeve, who was working on that day in the same Kabul office.

Nik Gowing, a presenter on BBC World said about this incident:
"It seems to me that a very clear message needs to go out that this must not be allowed to continue."

Al-Jazeera's chief editor, Ibrahim Hilal, said he believed that its Kabul office had been on the Pentagon's list of targets since the beginning of the conflict.

Al-Jazeera US-Website shutdown
On Sep7th 2001, only 4 days before Sep11th, the US mirror of Al-Jazeera was shut down for unknown reasons by the North Texas Terrorism Task Force of the FBI.

"An 80-member FBI terrorism task force on Wednesday and Thursday raided the offices of InfoCom Corporation, a Texas-based company that hosts a broad array of Arab Web sites, including the Arab world's leading news channel.
The FBI said the action was part of a two-year investigation by the North Texas Joint Terrorism Task Force, but declined to give specific reasons for the raid.

Source:
http://www.newsfactor.com/perl/printher/13407/

InfoCom is based in Richardson, Texas and launched their Internet Services Division in 1995. They provided computer services for both the Islamic Association for Palestine and for the Holy Land Foundation (-> Holy Land Foundation Affair)
http://www.infocomercorp.com/investorrelations.shtml

The story of the North Texas Electronic Task Force on Sep7th is much longer:
As the Guardian revealed on September 10th, 2001 it was in reality "Five hundred websites - many of them with an Arab or Muslim connection" - crashed, when the anti-terrorism taskforce already raided InfoCom Corporation in Texas on Sep5th!

"The 80-strong taskforce that descended upon the IT company included FBI agents, Secret Service agents, Diplomatic Security agents, tax inspectors, immigration officials, customs officials, department of commerce officials and computer experts."

Three days later, they were still busy inside the building.
As reported, they copied every hard disc they could find.
InfoCom hosts websites for numerous clients in the Middle East, including (the satellite TV station), al-Shaq (a daily newspaper in Qatar), and Birzeit (the Palestinian university on the West Bank).

In addition, InfoCom is the registered owner of ".iq" - the internet country code for Iraq.

Several Muslim groups have linked the raid to an article which appeared in the Wall Street Journal on August 13th, 2001.

Written by Daniel Pipes (->), director of the foreign policy research institute in Philadelphia, it called on the US to "support Israel in rolling back the forces of terror" by shutting down websites belonging to the Islamic Association for Palestine and the Holy Land Foundation.

Just across the road from InfoCom's offices, in Richardson on the outskirts of Dallas, is the headquarters of the Holy Land Foundation (HLF). Apart from their physical proximity, InfoCom and HLF are intimately connected through two brothers: Ghassan and Bayan Elashi. The Elashis are of Palestinian origin and of a religious disposition. Ghassan is chairman of HLF and vice-president (marketing) of InfoCom.

Al-Kadi, Yassin

In 2001-2002, saudi arabian businessman Yassin Al-Kadi (also spelled Yasin al-Qadi) has repeatedly denied any connection to bin Laden, but he was already on the U.S. government's "dirty dozen" list of leading terror financiers who are being investigated by the CIA.

Al-Kadi's accounts have been frozen by the United States, as shown at the executive order 13224:

AL-QADI, Yasin
(a.k.a. KADI, Shaykh Yassin Abdullah; a.k.a. KAHDI, Yasin), Jeddah (->), Saudi Arabia (->) (individual) 10-12-01
http://www.ustreas.gov/offices/enforcement/ofac/sanctions/terrorism.html

Kadi made news again in December 2002, when he was linked as the secret owner of the computer company Ptech (->) from Boston.

Kadi has served as a director of Global Mining Resources, based in Nevada, since December 1998. He is Chairman of Saudi National Consulting Center and Qordoba Real Estate Co. based in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Chairman of Caravan Co. based in Turkey, board member of Himont Chemical based in Pakistan and Cariba Bank based in Kazakhstan and on the Board of Directors as the nominee of New Diamond Holdings Limited.

Source:

Kadi, who co-owns the Karavan Construction company and heads the Saudi-based Muwafaq charity foundation, is on the 12 October (2001) U.S. government list of individuals and organizations suspected of having terrorist links.

Another name for the Muwafaq charity foundation is "Blessed Relief", which was registered in the Channel Islands in 1992 and run from Jeddah (->), Saudi Arabia.

This was already found out in the 911-lawsuit (->) against Saudi Arabia at point 1068 ff.

The charity was endowed by Defendant Khalid bin Mahfouz (->), another official al Qaeda banker, and run by Yassin al-Kadi.

Khalid bin Mahfouz’s son, Abdulrahman bin Mahfouz, is a director of the Muwafeq charity. Mahfouz indirectly investigated in President George Bush’s first company Arbusto (- >), with the help of his financeer James R Bath (- > Bath, ->BCCI).

Point 1070 of the 911 Saudi-indictment says:

"Yassin Al-Kadi ran the charity from 1992 until around 1997 with $15 million to $20 million of his own money along with contributions from other wealthy associates. Millions of dollars have been transferred to Osama bin Laden through Blessed Relief. An audit of the Defendant National Commercial Bank of Saudi Arabia in the mid-1990s, which was then run by Khalid bin Salim bin Mahfouz, reveals the transfer of $3 million for Osama bin Laden that traveled from the accounts of wealthy Saudi businessmen to Blessed Relief."

Point 1075:

"Yassin Abdullah al-Kadi is the Vice President of the Saudi Arabian company M.M. Badkook Co. for Catering & Trading, owned by his partner in Blessed Relief, Talal Mohammed Badkook. Talal Badkook is a member of the Al-Mustaqbal group along with Saleh Mohamed bin Laden, son of Mohammed bin Laden, and Abdullah Saleh Kamel, son of Saleh Kamel, who is the chairman of the Dallah al-Baraka."

Point 1076:

Yassin al-Kadi is the Chairman of the National Management Consultancy Center (NMCC) in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. NMCC lists the address PO Box 214, Jeddah, which is the same address listed on Muwafaq’s Delaware corporate records. Yassin al-Kadi’s address is P.O. Box 214, Jeddah, Saudi Arabia 21411.

After routine detention proceedings, court records show, he was not brought before a federal magistrate to face charges until May 22, 2002.

In June 2002, authorities transferred Almarabh from the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn to a Buffalo courtroom.

In October 2001, The New York Times reported, that the CIA knew “and’s connection with bin Laden, but was allowed to continue to move freely throughout the country”.

At the end of November 2002 it wasn't sure if the cab driver Al-Marah was framed as a scapegoat.

On December 24th, 2002, the NY Post reported, that Ali Saleh Kahlah al-Marri who researched Web sites about deadly chemicals - while earmarking almanac pages on major U.S. dams, reservoirs and railroads - was charged with lying about phone calls he allegedly made to a suspected financier of 9/11.

Shortly after the Sept. 11, 2001, attacks, agents learned that Ali Saleh Kahlah al-Marri, 37, of Qatar, had telephoned the United Arab Emirates several times between September and November of that year.

The phone number was used by Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi, who has been accused of transferring thousands of dollars to the hijackers before the attacks, authorities said.

Al-Hawasi has been named as an unindicted co-conspirator in a pending indictment against Zacarias Moussaoui, the so-called "20th hijacker."

When the FBI interviewed al-Marri later at his Peoria, Ill., home, he "falsely denied knowing al-Hawasi and ever calling the telephone number," prosecutors allege.

Al-Marri is accused of falsely denying that he had been in the United States between 1991 and Sept. 10, 2001.

Al-Qaeda

According to Bin Laden specialist Saad Al-Faghi (-), "Al-Qaeda" (or al-quaida) was only a list if visitors of Bin Laden's "living room". The CIA and Pentagon claimed during 2001-2002, that "al-Qaeda" was responsible for almost every terrorist attack worldwide, including crimes in the United States with their "sleeping cells".

The US government still blame the Sep11th attack on Bin Laden and his organisation, but didn't provide any logistic evidence. At the end of 2002, the Pentagon started to promote a "second generation" of Al-Qaeda.

The official "members" of Al-Qaeda (a name chosen by the CIA out of some messages of Bin laden, he himself never mentioned any name of an "organisation", but spoke always on "jihad or "holy war"), due to the US Government, have been:

Osama Bin Laden (-)
Since September 11th, 2001 missing.

Aymen al-Zawahiri and Mohammed Atef are believed to have known about the Sep11th attacks in advance, "by virtue of their rank in Al Qaeda". Al-Zawahiri's family was killed by a U.S. airstrike in Afghanistan. It is not known where al-Zawahiri is.

Mohammed Atef
Atef, one of a few brother-in-laws of Osama bin Laden.
U.S. officials have said that Atef was believed to have died in a CIA airstrike in November 2001 and had principal responsibility for supervising the training of al-Qaida members. Atef was indicted in connection with the 1998 bombings of U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania.

Atef had a "martyrdom video" of one of the so-called "20th hijackers" - the ones who never made it on a plane - at his house: Ramzi Binalshibh (->) . Binalshibh was unable to enter the United States in 2001.

On this propaganda video, the Pentagon identified Abd Al-Rahim, Muhammad Sa'id Ali Hasan, Khalid Ibn Muhammad Al-Juhani and Ramzi Binalshibh. The fifth man was unidentified.

It was reported, that Binalshibh was captured in September 2002, a few days after the final release of this video on Al-Jazeera.

Mullah Mohammed Omar

Ibn Al-Shaykh al-Libi

Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi
Many investigators believed he is al Qaeda's finance chief and primary source of funding to the Sept 11th hijackers.
Some US officials believe he may be the same man as Mustafa Muhammad Ahmad, alias Shaykh Sa'id, who is a top bin Laden financial lieutenant included on the list of alleged terrorists whose assets have been frozen by the United States. (-> Sheik Saed)

Source: http://unansweredquestions.org/timeline/AAAsaed.html

Another "bin Laden lieutenant", who is suspected of playing a planning role.
As reported, he met with future hijackers Khalid Almihdhar (->) and Nawaf Alhazmi (->) in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, in January 2000, just before Almihdhar and Alhazmi entered the United States, then already monitored by the CIA.

Other Al-Qaeda members, as reported, got killed:

Abu Hafs the Mauritianian (->), who gave an interview in late November 2001 on Al-Jazeera)
"Provided some of the scholarly justification for Al Qaeda's terrorist attacks".

Abu Salah al-Yemeni
"Identified" as senior logistics coordinator.

Tariq Anwar al-Sayyid Ahmad and Muhammad Salah
Two Egyptians involved in executing terrorist attacks.

Mohammad Omar Abdel-Rahman
There have been unconfirmed reports that Abdel-Rahman, son of a blind Egyptian sheik convicted of leading a bombing conspiracy in New York in the mid-1990s, was killed, but U.S. authorities believe he remains at large.

As reported, he once was captured by anti-Taliban forces.
He is considered a midlevel Al Qaeda official and a liaison to his father's Egypt-based terrorist organization, al-Gamaa al-Islamiya. Rahmans status is therefore still unclear.

Yassir Al-Jazeera
In March 2003, Pakistan Authorities arrested "suspected al-Qaeda operative", Yassir Al-Jazeeri and claimed, he was one of the most important leaders.
Captured Members (until end of 2002):

Ibn Al-Shaykh al-Libi and
Abd al-Hadi al-Iraqi, who commanded some of bin Laden's Afghan training camps, as reported by some media.

Mamdouh Mahmud Salim
Officially co-founder of al Qaeda.
He is charged with attempted murder in the stabbing of a jail guard November 1, 2000, while awaiting trial with four other defendants for the 1998 bombings of U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania that killed 224 people and injured more than 4,000 others.

Salim was born in Sudan and grew up in Iraq. According to prosecutors, he was in charge of al Qaeda's financial affairs when the group was based in Sudan in the early 1990s. He is accused of managing Wadi Aqiq, bin Laden's umbrella company that procured communications equipment and conventional weapons for the organization.

Salim was known among al Qaeda members as "Abu Hajeer al Iraqi" and was considered a religious scholar. According to the embassy bombings indictment, Salim taught followers that U.N. forces deployed in Somalia in 1993 represented a U.S. plan to attack Muslims.

Enaam Arnaout
Director of the Illinois-based charity Benevolence International Foundation (BIF), who was arrested on 30-Apr-2002 and charged with lying about links to Osama bin Laden and international terrorism.
The organization itself was charged with perjury.

The Treasury Department froze the BIF's assets in December 2001 because the government claimed the group had ties to al Qaeda, bin Laden's international terrorist organization. In a 35-page criminal complaint, the government says the BIF supported terrorist groups and individuals and had "direct dealings" with Chechen guerrillas and Hezb e Islami -- identified by the government as a military group operating in Afghanistan and Azerbaijan.

Khalid Shaikh Mohammed (->), a Kuwaiti lieutenant of Usama bin Laden, was described as "the likely mastermind of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks", a senior U.S. counterterrorism official said in August 2002.
His aliases include Ashraf Refaat Nabith Henin, Khalid Abdul Wadood, Salem Ali and Fahid Bin Abdallah Bin Khalid.

Mohammed is accused of working with Ramzi Yousef in the first bombing of the World Trade Center in 1993.
Yousef, serving a life sentence in the United States, is believed to have planned to crash a plane into CIA headquarters.

Abu Zubaydah (->)
Another "high rank" Al Qaeda leader in U.S. custody, as stated by US officiala.

Officially captured in Pakistan in March 2002, is said to have told U.S. interrogators that the hijacked plane that crashed in Pennsylvania was destined for the White House, suggesting he knew of the planning.
Some of the hijackers trained at Abu Zubaydah's Khaldan camp in Afghanistan, one counterterrorism official claimed.

Hashim bin Abas
Arrested Dec 2001 as prime suspect in plot to attack American targets in Singapore

John Walker (->)
20-year old American citizen from California, found fighting for the Taliban / Al-Queda in the city of Konduz.

David Hicks
Young Australian national found fighting for Al-Qaeda in Afghanistan.

Mokhtar Haouari
An Algerian living in Canada was convicted by U.S. Civil Court for participation in the failed Millenium bombing plot targeting the Los Angeles International Airport and sentenced (16-JAN-02) to 24 years in prison, the maximum penalty possible.

Wadid El-Hage
Now serving a life sentence in a maximum-security prison for conspiracy to commit terrorism in the August 1998 bombings of two American Embassies in East Africa. Within Al Qaeda, El-Hage was nicknamed "the Manager," according to federal prosecutors. For several years during the 1990s, the U.S. government alleges, El-Hage performed nefarious chores for his terrorist boss, like purchasing a jet plane in order to deliver Stinger missiles (El-Hage personally handed the keys to bin Laden at a dinner party).

Jose Padilla
Jose Padilla, also known as Abdullah Al Muhajir, is in the custody of the U.S. military and being treated as an enemy combatant (-> Dirty Bomber).

Padilla was officially arrested May 8, 2002 as he flew into Chicago's O'Hare International Airport from Pakistan, but John Ashcroft announced his arrestment a couple of weeks later in Moscow.

This announcement happened on the same weekend, when unansweredquestions.org (->) organised their press conference with the 911-victims in Washington and judicialwatch (->) announced their lawsuit against the US Government regarding prior knowledge of the anthrax attack.

After Ashcrofts announcement, CISpan decided to cancel the live broadcast of the UQ-conference.

Benjamin Ahmed Mohammed, had been taken into custody in Pakistan and was implicated in a bomb plot.

Mullah Abdul Salam Zaeef
Former Taliban ambassador to Pakistan
Mullah Ubai Dullah
Former Taliban Minister of Defense

Al-Qaeda-Dog Tapes
In August 2002, CNN obtained the so called Al-Qaeda-Dog Gas-Tapes.
What wasn't examined on their authenticity and origin, was supported by Dr. Rohan Gunaratna.
CNN broadcasted these tapes only 3 weeks before the 1-year anniversary of the Sep11th attacks.

Dr. Rohan Gunaratna, the so called "specialist' of Al-Qaeda is omni present since September 2001.
He works for one of the only "terrorist study centres" in United Kingdom, which is supported by the States.

It is the 'Centre for the Study of Terrorism and Political Violence' and was founded in 1996.
http://www.st-and.ac.uk/academic/intrel/research/cstpv/staff.html

Among the Honorary Research Associates we find Dr. Bruce Hoffmann from the US ThinkTank RAND (->), who promoted a controversial article about a possible attack against Egypt or the "enemy" Saudi Arabia.

Dr. Rohan Gunaratna is one of the few "prophets", who was asked already on October 2nd, 2001, about a possible "threat of chemical or biological terrorism or just something from the minds of conspiracy theorists?", which he expected.

3 days later Bob Stevens (->) died from anthrax.

Nic Robertson from CNN, who obtained these dog tapes and some older Bin laden tapes, reported on Sep11th- already from Kabul.
"5-59pm and Nic Robertson is reporting "heavy air detonations" in kabul, afghanistan"

He "covered the U.S. air strikes on Baghdad in 1998, refugee exodus from Kosovo in Albania, Montenegro and Macedonia and was on one of the helicopters carrying the first wave of NATO troops entering Kosovo in June 1999, and on the road with British Paratroopers all the way to Pristina, Kosovo"

Robertson did the daily videophone reports from Kabul and later interviewed the Northern Alliance.
Robertson was in Afghanistan during the Taliban takeover of Kabul in 1996 and organised the first live satellite links out of Iran and Iraq.

About the dog tapes:
"...Frederick R. Sidell, a chemical weapons expert who worked at the Army Medical Institute of Chemical Defense, said he doubted that sarin or cyanide was used. He called the video unsettling, but said it was not clear that the dogs had died...

...Asked why the C.I.A. failed to obtain the archive before CNN, Bill Harlow, the agency's spokesman, replied, "There are more of them in Afghanistan than there are of us, and they are paid better."

CNN's contributor Garrick Utley ("Meet the Press") is regular guest at the CFR (->), who was a big supporter of a war against the Iraq.

His last visits at the CFR had been on May 2, 2002 " The News About the News " and January 9, 2002: " Warrior Politics: Why Leadership Demands a Pagon Ethos " http://www.cfr.org/public/resource.cgi?pers!1827

On August 21st, 2002 it was revealed, that both CNN and CBS paid money for the "dog tapes".

CNN paid $30,000 and CBS a "very nominal, very standard" fee for its tapes, said Marcy McGinnis, senior vice president of news coverage.

Source:

Washington Post media critic Howard Kurtz criticized CNN as having "gone a little bit overboard in hyping these tapes."

FOX news supported Kurtz with a newspaper ad criticizing CNN for changing its story on paying for al-Qaida videotapes.

"CNN ... Caught?" said the full-page ad in one edition of The New York Times.

CNN had been protested in November 2002, for their Pro-Iraq war coverage.

Al-Qaeda Escape-Flights

In late 2001, for odd and still unexplained reasons, the US Government and the CIA allowed to fly many Taliban- and Al-Qaeda "members" out of afghanistan with an own chartered plane.

The story was finally confirmed on January, 21st 2002 by the New Yorker and Times UK:

"The United States secretly approved rescue flights by Pakistan into Kunduz that let Taleban leaders and al-Qaeda fighters escape from the besieged northern Afghan city before its fall last year, New Yorker magazine reports today. US intelligence officials and military officers said that the Bush Administration approved the flights and ordered US Central Command to set up a special air corridor to ensure their safety to allow evacuation of Pakistani soldiers and intelligence men stranded by Northern Alliance victories...

...Mysterious flights into Kunduz were reported by Northern Alliance officials in mid-November, but US and Pakistani officials denied an evacuation was under way."

Al-Qaeda-Financiers

While the official version was, that originally only Bin Laden sponsored Al-Qaeda and the attack on america, other independent investigators later speculated, that the Weapon- and Oilindustry and some right wing thinktanks had been silently behind the Sep11th attack.

Their conclusion: Some saudi arabian credit institutes orchestrated the financial transaction of this "military operation", with or without prior knowledge, what exactly would happen.

Others speculated, that indirectly these companies sponsored the "masterplan" itself:

Saudi Arabian intelligence (->) and their oil ties, Pakistan Secret Service ISI (->), parts of the Pentagon and CIA, ENRON (->), Carlyle (->), Halliburton (->), BinLadin Group Inc., UNOCAL Pakistan (->), Kissinger Associates Inc (->), SG Asia Project Finance, Northrop Grumman (->), Caspian Pipeline Consortium (CPC) etc..

Officially this guy had been on the list:
Sheikh Saeed (->), also known as Mustafa Mohamed Ahmad aka Mustapha Ahmad Al-Hawsawi (Saudi Arabia).

Sheikh Sayyid el Masry aka Mustafa Mohamed Ahmad was already mentioned in a public transcript of the trial on the Kenia Embassy Bombings from 1998, which was online since February 2001.

Saudis Must Stem Cash for Terror, Report Says
By Sebastian Rotella, Times Staff Writer

(2002-12-24) BARCELONA, Spain -- Despite a crackdown on terrorism financing after the Sept. 11 attacks, Saudi Arabia still must dismantle a system that has permitted hundreds of millions of dollars to flow to Islamic extremists through businesses and charities, according to a report submitted to the U.N.

Prominent Saudi donors, companies and charities whose funds have been traced to Osama bin Laden's Al Qaeda network by investigators around the world are still doing business, the French investigator who wrote the report said in an interview Monday. The problem stems in part from a blurring of religion and finance in Saudi society that impedes reform, according to the report.

"Al Qaeda was able to receive between $300 [million] and $500 million over the last 10 years from wealthy businessmen and bankers, whose fortunes represent about 20% of the Saudi GNP, through a web of charities and companies acting as fronts," said Jean-Charles Brisard, the investigator. "Most of this financial backbone is still at large and able to support fundamentalist institutions."

The 34-page report was submitted by Brisard last week at the request of the Colombian ambassador to the United Nations, the current president of the Security Council.

Al-Qaeda mock cell

In early December 2002, palestine officials claimed, that the Israeli intelligence Shin-Beth started to pose as Al-Qaeda. The purpose for this operation was not explained.

"Over the past nine months, we've been investigating eight cases in which Israeli intelligence posing as Al-Qaeda operatives recruited Palestinians in the Gaza Strip," said Abu Shibak (head of preventive security Rashid Abu Shibak), referring to a series of e-mails and phone call conversations.

He added that three Palestinians had been detained.

The security chief said his services had traced back to Israel cellphone calls and e-mails in which Palestinians were asked to join Al-Qaeda.

"The Shin Beth - Israeli internal intelligence - has the means to do whatever it wants."

Abu Shibak's revelations came two days after Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon charged Al-Qaeda militants were operating in the Gaza Strip and in Lebanon, raising fears of an intensification of Israeli military operations.

http://www.middle-east-online.com/english/?id=3544
The story was picked up at BBC on December 8th, 2002:
"Officials from the Palestinian Authority have accused the Israeli spy agency Mossad of setting up a fake al-Qaeda terrorist cell in Gaza.

Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat said that Israel had set up the mock cell in order to justify attacks in Palestinian areas."

"We are sure that Israel is behind this and that there are absolutely no groups such as al-Qaeda operating here," Colonel Abu-Shbak said.

American media reported, that al-Qaeda has set up a branch to help Palestinian militant groups fight Israel, according to a website US officials believe is linked to the organisation.

====================================
In April 2002, the US Government started to claim, that there is a new official Al-Qaeda website, created by Sulaiman Abu Ghaith (->) on alneda.

The website was originally located at http://66.34.191.223/

It had however nothing to do with their supporter-site and fanboard at http://www.al-neda.com, which was later incorrectly quoted as "the official alquaeda website".

Al-neda.com was created in March 2002 by Jon David and TheWetlands.com, Inc in Berlin, Maryland

However another supportive website of Bin Laden, http://www.maktabah.net, never picked up the information on Abu Ghaith, as a "new chief" of islamic jihad.

In November 2002, some US officials claimed, they found new connections between Palestines and Al-Qaeda, as reported on another propaganda website, www.jehad.net.

Reuters reported on December 8th 2002, that Sulaiman Abu Ghaith claimed in an audio statement responsibility for November 2002 attacks on an Israeli airliner and a hotel in Kenya.

Jehad.net was already created on December 7th, 2001 by Ahmad Ali and the Libyan Arab Jamahirva in Kuwait.

American Hospital Dubai

As Radio France International 1 (-> Labevriere, Richard) broadcasted in October 2001, (which was later picked up by Le Figaro, BBC, intelligenceonline.fr (->), ananova.com, yahoo singapore etc...), but ignored by US media, Bin Laden visited the American Hospital in Dubai in June 2001 for a kidney operation.

Furthermore he had been visited, due to different sources of RF1, by CIA agent Larry Mitchell, Al-Zawahiri (->Al-Qaeda) and Saudi Prince al Turki (->) (at that time still head of the Saudi Intelligence (->).

Within hours after the release of this report, Bernard Koval, the CEO of American Hospital in Dubai, denied in conflicting reports the visit of Bin Laden.

"...Tuesday, December 04, 2001 - a body discovered in a van in Pike National Forest was identified Monday as a missing 59-year-old Jefferson County man.

James Watkins, has been missing since Nov. 13.
Jacki Tallman, a spokeswoman for the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office, stated, he had committed suicide.

"It appears he died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound," Tallman said.

Watkins' wife of 33 years, Pat, could not be reached for comment Monday.

Watkins' van was spotted about 6 p.m. Saturday by a snowmobile rider who recognized it from media reports about the missing engineering consultant.

The Douglas County coroner's office on Monday had not completed autopsy, toxicology and forensic work, but "no foul play is suspected at this time," said Wes Riber, deputy coroner.

A weapon and a note were found at the scene, Tallman said. Contents of the note were not disclosed.

Watkins, employed at Arthur Andersen consultants, was last seen by co-workers at his downtown Denver office. At the time of his disappearance, he was preparing for a business trip to China..."

Due to various sources, Ansar al-islam was supported by Saddam Hussein to keep the kurs under control and oppose a revolution against him. This includes two other groups, the Patriotic Union of Kurdistan (PUK, lead by Jalal Talibani) and the Kurdish Democratic Party (KDP).

It looked therefore absurd, that this group had been undermined by Bin Laden supporters.

Mala Kreker was a former member of a Kurdish Islamic party who joined Ansar al-Islam after its formation in September 2001. Kreker replaced Abu Abdulrah Shafae – an Iraqi Kur.

Since the so called Sept. 23, 2001-ambush, peshmerga have pushed Ansar al-Islam back toward the Iranian border where they retain a stronghold in the town of Biara and surrounding villages.

Another of the group's leaders, Abu Abdul Rahman - who, the Kurds claim, was sent to northern Iraq by Bin Laden - was killed in fighting in October 2001.

Barhim Salih, a PUK leader, says a second group affiliated with Ansar al-Islam is working from the Baghdad-controlled city of Mosul.

The Kurdish sources say Hussein's involvement in any mission to destabilize their autonomous minstate would not surprise them. Since 1991, Baghdad has been unable to control the north, because of the no-fly zone created by the US and England and enforced by the US military from a base in Turkey (->). In February 2003, a secret plan, as found out by ABC News, Ansar-al-Islam planned to attack U.S. Special Forces in Northern Iraq.

NOTE:
There is another group, called Ansar al-Islam, who was already established in 1997- by Kamal al-Din Muhammad Tukur in Nigeria.
In March 2002, journalist Jeffrey Goldberg claimed in "The Great Terror," in the March 25, 2002, issue of The New Yorker, that Ansar al-Islams organization "has received funds directly from Al Qaeda; that the intelligence service of Saddam Hussein has joint control, with Al Qaeda operatives, over Ansar al-Islam; that Saddam Hussein hosted a senior leader of Al Qaeda in Baghdad in 1992; that a number of Al Qaeda members fleeing Afghanistan have been secretly brought into territory controlled by Ansar al-Islam; and that Iraqi intelligence agents smuggled conventional weapons, and possibly even chemical and biological weapons, into Afghanistan."

In an interview with the New Yorker, Goldberg however explained:
"I'm making no conclusions; I'm just reporting what I've heard.

In August 2002, Ansar-al islam was linked to a chemical weapons operation, as reported by CNN.

Unexplainably, in November 2002, when the UN Inspectors arrived in Iraq, this "operation" wasn't put on the priority list.

ANSER

ANSER (http://www.anser.org) is a public-service research institute, an independent, not-for-profit corporation chartered in California with the assistance of the RAND Corporation (->) founded in 1958.

In October 1998, Dr. Ruth David (former Director for Science and Technology at the CIA) became president and chief executive officer of ANSER.

David and ANSER started to work on the idea of a Homeland Security (->) already in 1998.

Between 1998 and 1999 she already pushed the CIA to forge new partnerships with the private sector and helped creating In-Q-Tel (->).

"Ruth David and her Deputy, Joanne Isham, were the first senior Agency officials to understand that the information revolution required the CIA to forge new partnerships with the private sector and design a proposal for radical change."

Source:

In November 1999, Dr. David initiated ANSER's Homeland Defense (->) Strategic Thrust to address the growing national concern of multi-dimensional, asymmetric threats from rogue nations, sub-state terrorist groups, and domestic terrorists.

In May 2001, the ANSER Institute of Homeland Security finished their final concept, still a few months ahead before the Sep11th attack took place and Tom Ridge (->) became famous.

Dr. David served in several leadership positions at the Sandia National Laboratories (->), where she began her professional career in 1975.

Mr. Aaron Cohen received a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1952 and an M.S. degree in applied mathematics from Stevens Institute of Technology in 1958.

A&M is connected with the CIA.

In May 2002 Texas A&M regents "named former CIA director Robert Gates on Saturday as the sole finalist for university president. Five of the seven regents who attended the special meeting voted for Gates, 58, who served as CIA director from 1991-93.

Another Chairman on the Board of Advisors of ANSER is Dr. Jay C. Davis

For the three years prior to rejoining Livermore in July of 2001, he served as the founding Director of the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTRA) of the Department of Defense.

From 1969 to 1971, he was an Atomic Energy Commission Postdoctoral Fellow in nuclear physics at the University of Wisconsin.

In the 1970s, he was principal scientist and project manager for the design and construction of the Rotating Target Neutron Source--II Project, building the most intense 14-million-electron-volt neutron sources in existence, used for nine years by the United States and Japan for fusion materials testing. In the 1980s he became the founding Director of the Center for Accelerator Mass Spectrometry, building the most versatile and productive accelerator mass spectrometry lab in the world.

Dr. Davis played a major role in the application of accelerator mass spectrometry to the biosciences, particularly in low-level toxicology and in dose reconstruction from events such as Hiroshima, Nagasaki, and Chernobyl. In 1994, he was asked to merge several research organizations at Livermore to create the Earth and Environmental Sciences Directorate. In 1998, he became the first Director of the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (http://www.dtra.mil/), integrating DoD's technical and operational activities to deal with weapons of mass destruction.

At the DTRA they developed the thermobarics (->), which they later used in ToraBora:
http://www.dtra.mil/td/thermo/td_thermo.html

Davis is on advisory bodies for the CIA and the National Nuclear Security Administration.
He has served as a visiting professor at Texas A&M (chemistry) and Angelo State University (government).
He is on the Board of Directors of the Fannie and John Hertz Foundation.

Dr. Davis participated in two UN inspections of Iraq in the summer of 1991, having major operational and scientific responsibilities in the inspection process.
He was selected as the only non-UN member of the team that briefed the UN Security Council after the confrontation at Fallujah on June 28, 1991, that produced the conclusive evidence of Iraqi evasion of the inspection process and violation of the Non-Proliferation Treaty.

Excerpts from an article by GROUND ZERO Forum (->), originally released at Scoop:

"Officially ANSER describes itself as a public-service research institute, an independent, not-for-profit corporation chartered in California with the assistance of the RAND Corporation in 1958.

This organisation, with one base close to the Pentagon, was founded to help them respond on a day-to-day basis to identified needs for unbiased studies and analyses.

If this is indeed a day-to-day basis, then ANSER must have known about all warnings about an attack and the advice to the Pentagon of Sept 10th, that their employees should not take a plane the following day.

ANSER has its home office in Arlington, VA and other offices in Colorado Springs, CO; Newport News, VA; Stoneham, MA; and Fairmont, WV.

Current President and Chief Executive Officer of ANSER is Dr. Ruth David. In November 1999, she initiated ANSER's Homeland Defense Strategic Thrust. From September 1995 to September 1998, Dr. David was Deputy Director for Science and Technology at the CIA.

She served in several leadership positions at the Sandia National Laboratories, where she began her professional career.

Sandia is one of the institutes, which is working on new thermo-nuclear or microwave weapons. From 1991 to 1994, Dr. David was Director of the Development Testing Center that developed and operated a broad spectrum of full-scale engineering test facilities.

Dr. David is a former adjunct professor at the University of New Mexico and has technical experience in digital and microprocessor-based system design, digital signal analysis, adaptive signal analysis, and system integration.

In June 2001 ANSER sponsored a BioTerror Scenario called DARK WINTER (->), which included role playing, but didn't inform the public.

Participants included Jerome Hauer (->) (ex-OEM New York), James Woolsey (->) (ex-CIA director) and many others.

Another executive of ANSER is General Hatch, who has held numerous positions on the staffs at Headquarters Strategic Air Command (SAC), Offutt Air Force Base (->); at Headquarters U.S. Air Force, Washington, DC; and in the Office of the Secretary of Defense http://www.anser.org/aboutanser/bios/trustees/hatchbio.html

Nothing is known on Hatch's whereabouts on September 11th.

Miriam E. John, another ANSER executive, is Vice President of Sandia's California Division. (->)

http://www.anser.org/aboutanser/bios/trustees/johnbio.html

At least 3 other ANSER executives worked for the CIA, too or still have ties to the Intelligence Agency or the Pentagon.

One example is H.B. Zachry, who held several positions leading to his appointment as Manager of the Command and Service Module in the Apollo Spacecraft Program Office.

Another is Dr. Mignogna:

http://www.anser.org/aboutanser/bios/corpofficers/mignognabio.html

He has served on high-level Air Force and DOD study efforts such as the Strategic Bomber Penetration Assessment Group and the Strategic Penetration Technology.

Mignogna is an Adjunct Professor of Statistics at the American University and a member of the AIAA Weapon Systems Effectiveness Technical Committee.

Dr. John Gannon, who works at ANSER's Homeland Security, served as Chairman of the National Intelligence Council (1997-2001) after serving for two years (1995-1997) as the Deputy Director for Intelligence, CIA.

http://www.homelandsecurity.org/Hls%2FAbout%20Institute/gannon%2Ehtm

Mr. Gannon earned a Ph.D. and an M.A. in history from Washington University in Saint Louis and a B.A. in psychology from Holy Cross College in 1966.*

Anthrax

On October 24th, 2001, the New Scientist (->) was the first paper who found out, that the anthrax bacteria is likely to be a US military strain.

Bob Stevens died as the first victim on October 5th, 2001 (->).

The FBI reported in early October 2001, that the anthrax scare was in some level connected to the hijackers' attack.

NOTE: The attack was described as a "military operation" by the Pentagon.

The oddities of the anthrax chronology:

In 1998 four different teams started a pattern of impacting events:

1) The Department of Defense (DoD->) started to plan the war (->) against afghanistan.
2) ANSER (->) and other related scientific thinktanks developed the idea of a Homeland Security.
3) The consulate in Jeddah (which was secretly run by the CIA, confirmed by former employee J. Michael Springman ->) let the first 'hijackers' into the country. They were being monitored after a while.
4) The pharmaceutical company Bioport (->) received a 3-year contract by the DoD to develop vaccines against anthrax.

The FBI's biggest anthrax suspect, Stephen Hatfill, in 2002, was connected with Sep11th related individuals and companies like Battelle, Jerome Hauer, Porton Down, USAMRIID and Dr. Thomas Inglesby (Johns Hopkins Institute), who claimed, that in June 2001 one of the hijackers was infected with cutaneous anthrax.

In May 2002, Inglesby released a memo on the infection, which was based on a undocumented diagnosis by Dr. Tsonas, Holy Cross Hospital in Fort Lauderdale.

In October 2001, the FBI showed up at Tsonas with some photographs and a prescription of an antibiotic, they claimed, it was traced back to him.

Tsonas then identified Ahmed Alhaznawi (who officially died on Flight 93), but denied this later.

As reported, Alhaznawi and other hijackers lived and attended a flight school near the Boca Raton headquarters of American Media Inc., where the first anthrax case surfaced.

Alhazni and Siad Jarra (who still received a FAA newsletter in 2002, according to the landlord, Charles Lisa) lived in the same apartment together.

-Another bizarre coincidence is, that Hamza Alghamdi ("WTC-south tower") rented in August 2001 unit 1504 at the Delray Racquet Club, 755 Dotterel Rd, which originally was owned by Gloria Irish, the wife of Editor Michael Irish of the Sentinel Sun, where first anthrax victim Bob Stevens worked.

Once again, the apartment's landlord was Charles Lisa.

One might think, it was just a copycat:

Someone with advanced knowledge of the Sep11th attacks knew about the whereabouts of the hijackers and tried to blame the anthrax attack on them.

However the question remains open, how it was possible to organise the apartments for them, which seemed to be so strongly connected to first anthrax victim Bob Stevens.

And who exactly had prior knowledge, even on date and time of the attack?

Was that the same connection, who told the White House on Sep11th to take the anthrax vaccine CIPRO?

Larry Klayman of judicial watch (->) seems to believe this:

"We believe that the White House knew or had reason to know that an anthrax attack was imminent or under way," Klayman said. "We want to know what the government knew, and when they knew it."

Sources:

When the New Scientist-article traced the spores back to Fort Detrick (->) and its content became more popular in late October 2001, the hijacker-connection was immediately and dramatically altered by both FBI and the US government (and still repeated in May 2002 by FBI Director John Collingwood).
This brought many 911 Skeptics to the conclusion, that both attacks had been part of the same original blueprint, only "something went wrong".

However in this scenario, the muslim terror connection around Bin Laden, no longer made sense.

In October 2001, the CIA and many other authorities like Jerome Hauer (->), James Woolsey (->), Richard Perle (->) suddenly speculated on an anthrax terror-connection to Iraq, which didn't really fit, as already found out by the FBI. (instead they started to interrogate some employees at Battelle->).

Perle, who is director of Hollinger Inc., obviously leaked his opinion to the Daily Telegraph UK, connected with Hollinger, at the same time, when other european and asian papers reported on a money transfer connection between Mohammad Atta and the ISI (->).

Other fabricated stories tried to confuse Silica with Bentonite. Both are substances that keep tiny anthrax particles floating in the air by preventing them from sticking together - making them more easily inhaled. CIA sources told ABC, that Bentonite was used in Iraq, while other sources found out, that both substances are homegrown as well and in fact Silica was used only.

Other US Media wrote on possible bioweapons in Afghanistan to distract from the possibility, that the anthrax attack was orchestrated with the help of Fort Detrick, CIA-contractors and biopharmacy companies.

In late November 2001, Barbara Hatch Rosenberg (->) (of the Federation of American Scientists) released a list of possible suspects, who might have produced and distributed the anthrax.

Neither iraqui scientists or Bin Laden and any hijackers had been on this list, but many US Companies and institutes.

Anthrax-911-Gate

The so called "Anthrax-911-Gate" expression is based on the possibility, that many US Biopharmacy companies knew about the Anthrax-spores of Fort Detrick, had contact with the CIA as a contractor, maybe even prior knowledge of the SepI 1th attack and tried to profit from a staged anthrax attack on the United States to receive more government budget for research, drugs, gene + nano technology or BioDefense vaccines.

The results of an investigation on all companies, who profited from the Anthrax attack was first reported at "Anthrax911Gate- Never ending evidence without breakthrough"?

Aramark, which operated a food court on top of Tower No. 2 at the World Trade Center as well as concessions and a tour of the observation deck, has reported, that seven of its employees are missing as a result of the September 11 terrorist attack. A total of 37 Aramark personnel were in the Twin Towers or the complex's lower mall during the attack.

The company operated five cafeterias and a Children's World Learning Center at The Pentagon in Washington, D.C. All Aramark employees and the children they served were evacuated safely.

According to The Wall Street Journal, Aramark has links to organized crime.

As reported, Aramark paid an ex-FBI agent-and former ARA employee - $167,000 plus lawyers' fees out of court not to discuss his deposition, which highlights the dining service corporation's organized crime connections.

Arbusto

According to a 1976 trust agreement, the history behind George W. Bush's first company Arbusto, started with Salem bin Laden, who appointed James Bath (->) as his business representative in Houston.

Later Bath helped to fund Arbusto.

In the same year former US president George Herbert Walker Bush served as director of the CIA.

Revelation about Bath, his relationship with the bin Laden financial empire and the CIA was made public in 1992 by Bill White, a former real estate business partner with Bath.

James R. Bath guided money to Houston from Saudi investors, i.e. Sheik Khalid bin Mahfouz (->) and other wealthy Saudis, who wanted to influence US policy under the Reagan and Bush administrations.

Among the investments made by Bath with Mahfouz's money was the Houston Gulf Airport.

Mahfouz was one of the largest stockholders in the Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI ->).

BCCI was actually an international crime syndicate providing banking services to the Medellin drug cartel, Panama dictator Manuel Noriega, Saddam Hussein, terrorist mastermind Abu Nidal, and Khun Sa, the heroin kingpin in Asia's Golden Triangle.

Tax documents and personal financial records show that James Bath invested $50,000 in the limited partnerships and had a 5 percent interest in Arbusto '79 Ltd., and Arbusto '80 Ltd., limited partnerships controlled by George W. Bush.

The word Arbusto means 'bush' in Spanish.

George W. Bush later changed the name of Arbusto into Bush Exploration Co., general partner in the limited partnerships, went through several mergers i.e. with Spectrum 7 Energy Corporation in 1984, eventually evolving into Harken Energy Corp. (->), a suburban Dallas-based company.

Bush said that to his knowledge, Bath's investment came from personal funds, and no Saudi money was invested in Arbusto. Bath, 55, a former U.S. Air Force pilot, always declined to comment for the record. Spokesmen for FinCEN (->) and the FBI declined to comment.

Bath was sole director of Skyway Airlines Leasing Ltd., a Houston company owned by Khaled bin Mahfouz (->). Bin Mahfouz had been a major shareholder in BCCI, which had been accused of using Mideast oil money to seek ties to political leaders in other countries throughout the 1970's and 1980's.

When BCCI and Mahfouz was investigated, the chief of the Justice Department's criminal division under former President Bush was Robert Mueller. Many critics accused Mueller that time of "botching the investigation".

Stephens Inc., the well connected brokerage firm owned by Jack Stephens, donated $100,000 to a Bush campaign fundraising dinner in 1991.

Stephens and Abdullah Taha Bakhsh, a wealthy and well-connected Saudi real estate investor, once signed another financial transaction for Bush Jr. In September 2001, a few days before September 11th, Robert Mueller was appointed by President George W. Bush as the new Director of the FBI, replacing Louis Freeh (->).

Arkeh, Walid

Walid Arkeh, a Jordanian citizen, claimed in a January 2002 interview with the Orlando Sentinel, that he became friendly in a British prison "with three alleged al Qaeda militants" accused of plotting the 1998 bombings at two American embassies in Africa.

Arkeh was convicted in Florida in 2000 of dealing in stolen goods and slapping his daughter. To escape deportation, he fled to England, where he was picked up and held in prison for 10 months before being sent back to the United States in July, the Sentinel reported.

In August, he got word to the FBI that he had information on a planned terror attack.

But when two FBI agents showed up at the Seminole County jail to interview him Aug. 21, 2001 he said he would tell what he knew only if he was freed from prison, given asylum in the United States and offered the kind of security granted by the witness-protection program.

Arkeh said one of the agents told him, "Is that all you have?"

The FBI never returned.

Armitage, Richard

From an 2002 GROUND ZERO-Forum (->)- article at Scoop (->)

"What we are desirous of is for our Pakistani friends to try and develop a relationship about Pakistan"
- Richard Armitage, June 18th 2001

Born in 1945, Mr. Richard Lee Armitage, who has been nominated by President George Bush as Deputy Secretary of State under Gen.Colin Powell, graduated in 1967 from the U.S. Naval Academy and was commissioned as an ensign.

He served on a destroyer stationed on the Vietnam coastline and subsequently did three combat tours with the advisor forces in Vietnam. He became fluent in Vietnamese.

Mr. Armitage left active duty in 1973 and joined the U.S. Defense Attache's Office in Saigon. Before the fall of Saigon, he organized the evacuation of the Vietnamese naval assets and personnel who had collaborated with the US, from that country. In May 1975 Mr. Armitage joined the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) in Washington as a consultant and was posted in Tehran, Iran, until November 1976, when he resigned from government service and joined the private sector.

It is generally believed that Mr. Armitage actually served in the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) till 1978 and from 1976, after a cover resignation from the CIA, worked for some private companies of the CIA, which were being used by it for covert actions in Indo-China.
His critics had alleged in the past that he was the author of the idea of using heroin to weaken the fighting capability of the communists in Indo-China and then in Afghanistan though the late Le Comte de Marenches, the head of the French External Intelligence Agency under Presidents George Pompidou and Giscard d'Estaing, had claimed that it was he who had given this idea to the Americans with specific reference to Afghanistan.

In 1978, he joined the staff of Senator Robert Dole of Kansas as Administrative Assistant. During the 1980 presidential campaign of President Ronald Reagan, Mr. Armitage served as senior advisor to Mr. Reagan's Interim Foreign Policy Advisory Board. After becoming President in January, 1981, Mr. Reagan appointed him Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for East Asia and Pacific Affairs.

In June 1983, he was elevated to Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, in which post he continued till May, 1989.

In that capacity, he was responsible for developing politico-military relationships and initiatives throughout the world; the U.S. Pacific security policy, including the U.S.-Japan and the U.S.-China security relationships; all DoD Security Assistance programs, and oversight of policies relating to the law of the sea; U.S. special operations forces; and counter-terrorism.

He played a leading role in Middle East security policies.

Between 1989 and 1992, Mr. Armitage served as Presidential Special Negotiator for the Philippines Military Bases Agreement and as Special Mediator for Water in the Middle East. President Bush (Sr) sent him as a Special Envoy to Jordan's King Hussein during the 1991 Gulf War.

From March 1992 until his departure from public service in May 1993, Mr. Armitage (with the personal rank of Ambassador) directed U.S. assistance to the new independent states (NIS) of the former Soviet Union.

In May 1993, he floated an organization called the Armitage Associates L. C., with himself as its President, to provide consultancy services to US government departments and business companies on a wide range of subjects relating to international relations and security.

Other positions held by him since leaving public service in 1993 include membership on the Board of Directors of the General Dynamics (--> Electric Systems, Inc.; membership on the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy; holder of a Brig Gen. H. L. Oppenheimer Chair of Warfighting Strategy at the Marine Corps University; membership on the National Defense Panel; membership of the Board of Directors of the Roy F. Weston, Inc., and of the U.S.-Azerbaijan Chamber of Commerce; Chairman of the Board of Visitors of the National Defense University, membership on the Secretary Navy Committee on Women in the Navy and Marine Corps; membership on the Board of Visitors of the Naval War College and on the Advisory Board of the ManTech International Corporation; and Chairman of the Honor Review Committee for the United States Naval Academy.

He is reputed to be one of the most highly decorated officers of the US public service. He has received numerous military decorations from the governments of Thailand, Republic of Korea, Bahrain, and Pakistan. He has been awarded the Department of Defense Medal for Distinguished Public Service four times, the Presidential Citizens' Medal, presented by the President to citizens who have performed exemplary deeds of service, and the Department of State Distinguished Honor Award.

In July 2000, a Commission on America's National Interests, established by a group of Americans with the help of well-known US think-tanks such as Harvard's Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs, the Nixon Center, the RAND (--> and the Hauser Foundation released a report identifying the US national interests that should receive the attention of the new US Administration coming to office in January, 2001.

The Commission was jointly chaired by Mr. Robert Ellsworth of the Hamilton Technology Ventures, L. P., Mr. Andrew Goodpaster of the Eisenhower World Affairs Institute and Ms. Rita Hauser of the Hauser Foundation and included, amongst its members, Mr. Armitage, Ms. Condoleezza Rice (-->), Mr. Bush's National Security Adviser, and Mr. Brent Scowcroft (-->), National Security Adviser under Mr. George Bush (Sr), whom Ms. Rice once described as amongst her mentors.

Though this Commission was not set up by the Republican Party, considering the active role played in it by these three prominent personalities as well as many others close to the Republican Party, its report warrants close study by our policy-makers and analysts.

In October 2000 Armitage renamed the US Defense Program to Allied Missile Defense to better reflect its new scope.

The ties between Richard Armitage (part of the so called "Wolfowitz Cabal" around Paul Wolfowitz (-->), Richard Perle (-->) and James Woolsey (-->), and a possible manipulated Sept 11th-attack are well known:

In May 2001 Richard Armitage, a career covert operative and former Navy SEAL, traveled to India on a publicized tour while CIA Director George Tenet made a quiet visit to Pakistan to meet with Pakistani leader General Pervez Musharraf (-->).

We can assume, that Armitage received the same warning reports about an attack as many other persons did: George Tenet (CIA), Richard Clarke (CSG), Thomas Pickard (FBI), Dale Watson (FBIHQ) or Henry H. Shelton (DOD). (-->)

Clarke informed Armitage about war plans against the Taliban.

In January 2001 Clarke sent the first official memo to Condoleezza Rice, that something was in planning.

Even CNN confirmed in the meantime, that in April 2001 Deputy Secretary of State Richard Armitage, Deputy Defense Secretary Paul Wolfowitz and Deputy National Security Council Adviser Stephen Hadley, met "to discuss U.S. policy against al Qaeda, approve "immediate actions" against al Qaeda" http://www.cnn.com/2002/ALLPOLITICS/08/05/wi.alqeda.timeline

Obviously these official meetings had been only a cover up for what was really going on in the Pentagon. It's in the meantime very silly to believe, that those war plans had not been synchronized with the warnings about an attack the CIA received.

Armitage had the best ties to both Pentagon and CIA. He has long and deep Pakistani intelligence connections and he is the recipient of the highest civil decoration awarded by Pakistan.

It would be reasonable to assume that "while he was in May 2001 in Islamabad, Tenet, in what was described as 'an unusually long meeting,' met with his Pakistani counterpart, Lt. General Mahmud Ahmad (-->), head of the ISI" to discuss the war plans against the Taliban.

Another interview in June 2001 with the Indian magazine "IndiaTogether" revealed, what Armitage really planned last year:

"...We believe India will be having a global view again...there are several nations in the world who really truly have a global view and we think India is about to have that...On the question of actual missile defense, the fourth element is one on which we didn't get an immediate endorsement because the Government of India said they hoped we would not do this unilaterally -- that means break out of the ABM treaty (->) - but they expressed a great deal of understanding of the need...

...we had a great relationship with Pakistan but it was in a way a false relationship because in the first instance, it was built against the India-Soviet Union axis and then latterly, it was against the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan...

...what we are desirous of is for our Pakistani friends to try and develop a relationship about Pakistan, as you probably are aware, Pakistan's Foreign Minister Sattar is coming, we look forward to discussions with him..."

The Hindu - June 18, 2001

Isn't it another ironic coincidence that the attack against America helped Armitage to achieve a new friendship with Pakistan?

Does it not really make more sense, that Armitage had prior knowledge about a war against the Taliban and was therefore helpful to arrange all these meetings with India and Pakistan?

But why was Armitage already 3 months before the attack on America so sure, that the relationship between Pakistan and the Taliban would change as well?

"I don't want to see Pakistan only through the lens or the prism of Osama Bin Laden...We want to look at Pakistan and see what Pakistan thinks about Pakistan's future...obviously Osama, the Taliban, the refugee problem...We are developing it, we are in the process of working it out, in my view, for the first time, a relationship with Pakistan..."

While Armitage was concerned about the Taliban that time, it obviously doesn't matter for him anymore today.

Already on 10 December 2001 the Taliban founded a new party in Pakistan, but this was ignored by Armitage, White House + Co. The party is called the Khudamul Furan Jamiat (KFJ ->) or Association of the Servants of Koran.

It seeks to establish an Islamic republic in Afghanistan. KFJ is led by an Afghan spiritual leader Ahmed Amin Mujaddadi. Its other members include the former Taliban ambassador to the UN and Pakistan, Abdul Hakim Mujadadi, ex-deputy information minister, Abdul Rehman Ahmed Hotak, former deputy minister for higher education Maulavi Arsalan Rehmani, the former deputy chief of the Supreme Court, Maulavi Abdul Sattar Siddiqi, and the former charge d' affaires to Saudi Arabia, Qazi Habibullah Fauzi.

But this doesn't really matter for Armitage anymore. In mid 2001 it was more important to get allies for a war against the Taliban. Armitage did all this.

He had already dealt with China, too:

"...it was not appropriate that I go to China given the state of our relationship at the time for missile defense consultations...but we didn't overlook China. Mr. Kelley (James Kelley, Assistant Secretary of State for East Asian Affairs), my colleague here, did go to Beijing and have discussions there..."

Armitage was in Japan and Korea in mid-May 2001: Tokyo and Seoul.

At the same time, Paul D. Wolfowitz, (Deputy Defense Secretary), made a swing through Europe that included a visit to Russia, the other major power on China's border.

http://www.businessweek.com/magazine/content/01_22/b3734007.htm

At the same time, a new RAND (->) study was released, written by former UNOCAL consultant Zalmay Khalilzad (->), at that time senior director at the National Security Council, today active for Bush in Afghanistan as well.

This study magically already envisioned "a coalition of U.S. Asian allies, including Australia and the Philippines, acting jointly to quell any regional conflict. It also suggests the U.S. promote a balance of power between Russia, China, and India so that none emerges as dominant."

http://www.businessweek.com/magazine/content/01_22/b3734007.htm

Unfortunately this study didn't include the interesting twist, that Khalilzad once worked for UNOCAL (->) in Afghanistan to get a huge pipeline running, as part of the CentGas Consortium (->).

This pipeline might be one of many reasons to plan this war. Armitage had enough reasons to let the attack happen on purpose.

He is a warhawk, too.

He once served as Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security under the Reagan Administration. At that time he seemed to be very interested in shady weapon deals.

As later came out he was involved in the Iran-Contra (->) arms smuggling scandal and worked closely together with mastermind Oliver North (->).

But there is a current conflict of interest. His undersecretary of State, Charlotte Beers is lobbied by Bristol Myers Squibb (->) , General Motors, Texaco, Verizon and media mogul Disney to enforce intellectual property agreements.

Beers owns $100,001 - $250,000 of Exxon-Mobil stocks.
Charlotte Beers was hired by the US Administration to work on special PR initiatives like the Rendon Group (->) around the former Office of Strategic Influence (OSI->) did and still does.

Armitage owns at least $250,001 to $500,000 in stocks of Electronic Data Systems, the 49th largest defense contractor, which lobbies the Defense Dept. over various appropriations issues.
And Armitage even owns a huge amount of General Electric stocks as well and was lobbied by Merck over the Biological Weapons Convention implementation protocol.
http://www.public-i.org/story_02_011402.htm

Armitage is a strong supporter of old ideas by Zbigniew Brzezinski (->"The grand chessboard") and Samuel Huntington.

As part of the Wolfowitz Cabal, Armitage was later on the National Defense Panel under Philip A. Odeen (->).

Armitage is supporter of the current Defense Policy Board (with many ties to England or Israel) who have supported a war against the Iraq for years.

Members of the Defense Policy Board; Henry Kissinger (->), James Woolsey (->), Newt Gingrich, former Admiral David Jeremiah, Dan Quayle, James Schlesinger (->), Elliot Abrams (Iran-Contra) or former minister of defense under Carter Harold Brown. But nothing happened as the DPB wanted.

Perhaps they needed some moles in the government, or a person who would let this attack happen in order to facilitate another one?

Did Armitage let the attack happen on purpose to get this war?

Artists United To Win Without War
===================================
On December 10th 2002, more than 100 celebrities, including Kim Basinger, Matt Damon, Ethan Hawke, Samuel L. Jackson and Jessica Lange, have urged President Bush to avoid a war with Iraq in a letter.

The letter, also signed by a retired admiral and a former U.S. envoy to Iraq, was co-founded by the group called "Artists United To Win Without War." http://www.moveon.org/artistswinwithoutwar/

In addition to the celebrities, the letter was signed by retired admiral Eugene Carroll Jr and Former U.S. ambassador to Iraq Edward Peck.

The anti-war letter followed a similar message put together by Farrell against a plan to bury nuclear waste at Nevada's Yucca Mountain.

Stars including Alec Baldwin, Tim Robbins, Barbra Streisand and Harry Belafonte signed that letter.

Ashcroft, John
During 2001-2002 Attorney General Ashcroft, who is spelled "John AshKroft" on many political websites, became one of the top suspects of 911Skeptics of having advanced knowledge of the Sep11th attack, which he never confirmed.

In April 2002, attorney Barbara Olshansky of the CCR (Center for Constitutional Rights) announced to file a lawsuit against Ashcroft because of his "Terror Database" and charged widespread abuse of Middle Eastern men detained on immigration violations after Sept. 11. (-> Detainees, missing)

During 2002, Ashcroft was still involved in another ongoing grand jury investigation of some undisclosed payments of Exxon and BP Amoco.

Source: http://www.eurasianet.org/departments/business/articles/eav032602.shtml

"Two grand juries have been investigating allegations that ExxonMobil, the world's largest corporation, and BP Amoco paid cash bribes to the president of

Kazakhstan, Nusrultan Nazarbayev, and his oil minister, Nurlan Balgymbayev, and that Mobil engaged in an illegal oil swap of Kazakh oil through Iran in 1997.

Vice President Dick Cheney's energy task force - now the center of a constitutional battle over the release of its records - was meeting representatives of both companies after the grand juries had been empanelled as a result of information received from a Middle Eastern source in 1997 and inquiries from Swiss banks in 1999.

ExxonMobil was the single largest oil and gas contributor to Ashcroft's 2000 Senate race, donating $11,650 - $4,140 more than Enron - as disclosed by documents obtained from the Center for Responsive Politics. Other oil industry donors to Ashcroft's campaign which are heavily invested in Kazakhstan, or which represent firms that are, include Chevron ($7,500), Enron ($7,499), The Independent Petroleum Association of America ($5,000), BP Amoco ($4,000) and Halliburton ($3,500).

Thus, the total reported corporate donations to Ashcroft's campaign, from firms with known vested interests in opening Kazakh oil fields, totals $39,149. Taken together, these contributions (which exclude soft money donations reported only to the Republican Senatorial Committee) would rank second only to Enterprise Rent-a-Car as Ashcroft's biggest 2000 contributor.

The role of John Ashcroft regarding the Sep11th attacks and possible prior knowledge and even "ignored warnings on purpose" (-> Wright, Robert) was topic of many 911-investigative websites during 2001-2002.

Based on the so called "Ashcroft Flying High"-story (->), it was implied, that Ashcroft knew about pending attacks, but was obviously cohered to ignore them.

On September 11th, 2001 John Ashcroft was in Milwaukee, at Sen. Arnold, R. Wright.

One day before, senior Pentagon members were not allowed to fly the following day.

But Colin Powell was allowed to fly to Chile and Ashcroft took his plane to Milwaukee.

On August 19th, 2002 JSonline reported, that U.S. Rep. F. James Sensenbrenner said he'll play hardball with Attorney General John Ashcroft over a congressional demand for detailed information about the Patriot Act, the post-Sept. 11 law giving the government broad powers to investigate terrorism.

50 written questions about the act raised by the House Judiciary Committee in June.

If the committee still doesn't have the answers by then, Sensenbrenner said, he may take the unusual step of issuing a subpoena to Ashcroft to force him to testify before the Judiciary Committee, which Sensenbrenner heads.

The 50 questions about the Patriot Act from both Republican and Democratic committee members include how many times the Justice Department has obtained wiretaps and other devices that can track a suspect's phone calls and e-mails.

At the end of 2002, the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee (ADC), Alliance of Iranian-Americans (AIA), Council on American Islamic Relations (CAIR), and the National Council of Pakistani-Americans (NCPA) filed a class action lawsuit against Ashcroft and the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

The lead attorneys in this case are Peter A. Schey and Carlos R. Holguin of the Center for Human Rights and Constitutional Law.

(-> Detainees)

In early 2003, Ashcroft continued to support more surveillance of Americans:

A new proposed law, "would radically expand law enforcement and intelligence gathering authorities, reduce or eliminate judicial oversight over surveillance, authorize secret arrests, create a DNA database based on unchecked executive 'suspicion,' create new death penalties, and even (b)seek to take American citizenship away from persons who belong to or support disfavored political groups."

Ashcroft Flying High

On July 26th, 2001, CBS released their story "Ashcroft Flying High", which is still described as one of the biggest evidence on prior knowledge about the Sep11th attack:

"Fishing rod in hand, Attorney General John Ashcroft left on a weekend trip to Missouri Thursday afternoon aboard a chartered government jet, reports CBS News Correspondent Jim Stewart.

In response to inquiries from CBS News over why Ashcroft was traveling exclusively by leased jet aircraft instead of commercial airlines, the Justice Department cited what it called a 'threat assessment' by the FBI, and said Ashcroft has been advised to travel only by private jet for the remainder of his term."

Source:

But John Ashcroft was aware of a pending attack on america!

A few weeks earlier, on May 9, 2001, he testified in a Joint Hearing on U.S. Federal Efforts to Combat Terrorism:

"...It is clear that American citizens are the target of choice of international terrorists..."
...As relates to terrorist acts directed against U.S. interests overseas, the Department of Justice works closely with a number of other federal agencies, including the Departments of State, Defense, and the CIA...
...By making effective use of intelligence information, we seek to involve the FBI in the investigation of terrorist plots as early in the chain of conspiratorial events as possible...

Officially described as the "ringleader" of the Sep11th attack.

His father claimed in many different interviews, Atta was a victim of a secret service plot and is still alive.

"...The father of Mohammed Atta, the alleged ringleader of the September 11 attacks, said in an interview published yesterday that his son was still alive.
"He is hiding in a secret place so as not to be murdered by the US secret services."

In May 2002, some US papers promoted the idea, that Mohammad Atta might have used a small GPS device to crash the plane into the Twin Towers.

The device, which was described, i.e. in the New York Post, points to the handheld Garmin GPS II o III, which can provide resolutions down to 1 metre, with a positional error down to 4m.

The paper claimed, that Atta did a test in New York before Sep11th.

However, due to FBI investigations, Atta was the last time in New York City "in June 2000, when he stayed in Park Slope, Brooklyn".

From an indictment at the Moussaoui (->) trial it was reported, that "on or about August 22, 2001, in Miami, Florida, Ziad Jarrah (#93) purchased an antenna for a Global Positioning System ("GPS"), other GPS related equipment, and schematics for 757 cockpit instrument diagrams."

Atta-1SI

Disturbingly, only a few weeks after the attack, it came out, that Pakistan's secret service obviously allowed some payments to Mohammed Atta with the help of saudi arabian credit institutes.

The story was ignored in US media, but later even covered by CNN but twisted:

"As much as $100,000 was wired in the past year from Pakistan to Mohamed Atta, the suspected leader of the terrorist hijackings, CNN has been told by law enforcement sources.

These funds could have been provided to Atta by Al Qaida but through Harakat-ul-Mujahideen.

Sources said the wire transfers from Pakistan were sent to Atta through two banks in Florida. Then, Atta allegedly would obtain money orders -- a few thousand dollars at a time -- to distribute to others involved in the plot in the months before the hijackings.

Meanwhile, sources in the Middle East confirm that Atta and two other men wired more than $15,000 back to the United Arab Emirates just before the attacks -- what may have been leftover cash from the terrorism funds.

The money went to a man who flew out of Dubai for Karachi, Pakistan, on September 11 -- the day of the attack.
Atta sent $5,000, according to the sources. His Florida roommate, Marwan Al-shehhi, wired $5,400. A third man, Waleed Alshehri, sent slightly more than $5,200.

Officials in the United Arab Emirates have identified the recipient of those wire transfers as Mustapha Ahmad Al-Hawsawi (->).

(NOTE: Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi, a/k/a "Mustafa Ahmed," was born in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia on August 5, 1968. He was described as "Moussaoud's Supporting Conspirator" a/k/a "Shqaiq," a/k/a "Abu Khalid al Sahrai" in an indictment of December 11th, 2002.

Source: http://www.usembassy.it/file2001_12/alia/a1121106.htm )
Due to some confusion (on purpose?) in US Media, it was ignored for a long time, that Ahmed al-Hawsawi (->), who had indeed strong ties to the ISI and was later framed for the killing of Daniel Pearl (->).

On May 23rd, 2002 (in the meantime the Atta-ISI-story became worldwide famous on the internet), the U.S. Treasury Department on Thursday started "vehemently" to deny a U.N. report that "Mohamed Atta, one of the terrorists involved in the Sept. 11 attack on the World Trade Center, received a transfer of funds into his U.S. account which was flagged by his bank.

According to Wednesday's U.N. report, the bank filed a "suspicious transaction report" with the Treasury Department's Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCen ->) "which was not noticed quickly enough because the report was just one of a very large number and was not distinguishable from those related to other financial crimes."

The Financial Crimes Enforcement Network said in a statement Thursday that it wanted "to unequivocally deny that any suspicious activity report was filed prior to the tragic events of Sept. 11, 2001 on terrorist Mohamed Atta."

http://abcnews.go.com/wire/Politics/ap20020523_2026.html

At that time all Atta-Transfers had been already made public.

Atta-Alomari at Portland

For strange reasons, only one day before the Sep 11th-attack, Mohammad Atta decided to fly to Portland. This time not with his "buddy" Marwan al-Shehhi, but with Abdul Aziz Al-Omari.

This disturbing detail in the timeline includes another oddity, that the flight from Portland to Boston was delayed for 40 minutes on that morning. How could they know?

And why did they need only 12 minutes from their hotel until they passed through airport security?

From the timeline:

Tuesday, September 11, 2001

5:33 am ATTA and AL-OMARI checked out of the Comfort Inn.
5:40 am The 2001 blue Nissan Altima rental car, bearing Massachusetts license 3335VI, entered Portland International Jetport Airport parking lot. It was parked on the first floor directly across from the airport entrance.
5:43 am ATTA and AL-OMARI checked in at US AIRWAYS counter.
5:45 am ATTA and AL-OMARI passed through airport security.
6:00 am ATTA and AL-OMARI departed on Colgan Air en route to Boston, Massachusetts.

On September 17th, 2001 the Air Force confirmed, that Mohammed Atta trained at a US Air Base.

Or was that Mohammad Atta No.2?

"...Air Force spokesman Col. Ken McClellan said a man named Mohamed Atta -- which the FBI has identified as one of the five hijackers of American Airlines Flight 11 -- had once attended the International Officer's School at Maxwell/Gunter Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala."

McClellan later denied his own report and came to the conclusion, that this Atta just shared the same name.

Atta No.3

Almost one year later after the attack, the following article turned into a lie:

Mohamed Atta and Marwan Al-Shehhi, who piloted a second hijacked jet into the other tower, met on Sep 8th at Harry's Bar at the Helmsley Hotel in Manhattan (East 42nd Street), a law enforcement official said, "speaking on condition of anonymity". They sat with two other men and stayed for several hours..."

http://www.nypost.com/apstories/V5201.htm

In reality, this Atta was another Dr. Mohammad Atta, a kidney specialist. This makes sense, because on September 9th another Atta returned a rental car in Pompano Beach, Florida.

Atta No.4

It was in fact in April 1986, when Jordanian native and naturalized U.S. citizen Mahmoud Atta (not Mohammad!) threw a firebomb at a bus in the West Bank.

Mahmoud Atta was deported to the U.S. where he was arrested by the FBI. Three years later Atta was extradited to Israel where he was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mohammed Atta, was Egyptian and thirteen years younger than Mahmoud Atta.

His lawyer said the 21-year-old has a strong case, due to a ruling in May 2002 by a New York federal judge who found that Awadallah was detained illegally.

The probe began after a scrap of paper with the words "Osama 589 5316" - Awadallah's phone number - was found inside a car left by one of the hijackers in Washington on Sept. 11, 2001.

It took 3 months, before the title of "hijacker No.20" was taken over by Zacarias Moussaoui (->), but originally belonged to Mohammed Azmath and Syed Gul Mohammad Shah, who both got arrested on an amtrak train on Sep12th.

Almost one year later, former material witness, Mohammed Azmath, was released free and found unguilty in any connection with the Sep11th attacks.

Azmath's story was reported in Village Voice:

"...Seized last September 12 on an Amtrak train in Texas and then investigated for terrorist ties, Mohammed Azmath hardly measured up to the hype when he appeared at his sentencing hearing in Manhattan last week. ...The crime he had copped to in a plea agreement with federal prosecutors—one count of credit-card fraud—also seemed to fall short of the circumstances. Indeed, he could have received up to 14 months more in jail, but U.S. District Court Judge Shira Scheindlin let him off with time served. She said, "There's no question that the 12 months he's been in custody in this country have been under unusually harsh conditions." Azmath was in solitary confinement from September 14, 2001, when he arrived at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn, until he was transferred to the jail's general population sometime this August. He was assigned a lawyer only after he was charged with the credit-card crime, in December."

A few weeks later, on January 3rd, 2003, the NY Post reported on Syed Gul Mohammad Shahon, free and found unguilty, but already deported to Hyderabad, India:

"In an interview at his home, after he was deported from the United States upon conviction of credit card fraud, Shah said he had been kept in solitary confinement for 12 months and been subjected to psychological torture at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn."

Aztlan.net

Aztlan.net or La Voz de Aztlan was created in 1997 by Hector Carreon and the Aztlan Internet Services in Whittier CA. Many articles in 2001-2002 covered Mexican-American relationships and articles about "Zionist Terrorism".

Carreon covered the terrorist attack on the Mexican Congress "by two Israelis" on October 10, 2001.

Aztlan.net circulated a report on the idea, that the Anthrax letters had been sent by "Zionists" and blamed it on the "jewish microbiologist Dr. Philip M. Zack", who worked at the U.S. Army's Medical Research Institute for Infectious Diseases in Fort Detrick, Md.

The case against Dr. Phillip M. Zack began when Egyptian-born scientist Dr. Ayaad Assaad, a U.S. citizen, was called in by the FBI for an interview on October 2, 2001. The FBI had received an unsigned letter falsely accusing Dr. Assaad of being responsible for mailing the anthrax tainted letters.

The letter stated, among other things, "Dr. Assaad is a potential biological terrorist," and "I have worked with Dr. Assaad, and I heard him say that he has a vendetta against the U.S. government and that if anything happens to him, he told his sons to carry on."

This story however wasn't updated again since February 2002.

The FBI concentrated later on suspects from Battelle or the SAIC.

In reality, Blair, who is Chairman of Carlyle Europe (->), was pushing the sale of a lucrative deal with arms merchant BAE Systems.

The Russian newspaper stated 'Blair's minions are putting the squeeze on India to accept a $1.4 billion deal with arms merchant BAE Systems for 60 new jet fighters.

In March 2002, former CIA agent Robert Baer, who was in Iraq during the failed uprising in 1995, revealed on the BBC show "Hardtalk" early 911-warnings, which had been "ignored".

The highlights of this interview included that he himself heard ".in last August (2001)

Baer sent this warnings to his Officials, but because he was an "outsider", they told him to "go away with your names".

Baer knew about 500 names in a list, he had 10 of them.
His accusation against CIA had been, that ".it's a cultural problem, not only CIA.."

CIA field officer Robert Baer served on the front lines in the war against terrorism during the 1980s and 1990s, risking his life in some of the world's most dangerous places.

In his 2001 book, "See No Evil", Baer made alarming charges about deficiencies in U.S. intelligence that he believes were precursors to the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

The James Baker Institute at Rice University funded a study called "Strategic Energy Policy: Challenges for the 21st Century." The author of that report is Matt Simmons, president of Simmons and Company Investment Bankers and member of the Board of Directors of Kerr-McGee (US/Western Sahara).
It helps the cause of Kerr-McGee that Baker's former spokesperson at the Departments of State and Treasury and close personal friend, Margaret Tutwiler, serves as the U.S. ambassador to Morocco.

One of Tutwilers best friends is former White House Communications Director and close Bush confidant Karen Hughes (-).

The Western Saharanas are claiming the deals between Morocco and TotalFinaElf and Kerr-McGee are in violation of international law and previous UN resolutions. The Sahrawi President, Mohammed Abdelaziz, condemned the oil deals as an illegal "provocation." The Sahrawi cause is supported by a number of NGOs, former French First Lady Danielle Mitterand, and East Timor's leadership, which knows all too well about being held hostage by oil interests and brutal occupying dictatorships allied with the West. But the oil companies and the Baker-Bush team still holds the trump card. If the Sahrawis, out of desperation, break the cease-fire and go to war with Morocco, the anti-terrorism measures undertaken by the United States may seal their fate.

May be one of the most popular political, activist- and investigative 911-websites of 2001-2002 with many sources and an own forum at bartcopnation.com.

In March 2002, owner Marc Perkel was arrested from the Springfield Missouri Police Department in a trespassing charge for a trespass he supposedly committed three days earlier. Perkel then filed a complaint against Officer Kevin Hollie for false arrest.

Battelle

Battelle, connected with The Battelle Memorial Institute, (according to William Broad and Judith Miller in the New York Times, Thursday, Dec. 13) provides services as "a military contractor in [West Jefferson] Ohio," and "has experience making powdered germs. . . ."

Battelle participated in a secret CIA program, code-named Clear Vision that began in 1997, that used allegedly benign substances similar to anthrax.

Battelle, as a CIA contractor, partnered with Bioport (->) for America's sole anthrax vaccine production.

Bioportlargely owned by Britain's top secret biowarfare consortium Porton Down (->), bin Laden family associate Faud El Hibri, Admiral William J Crowe, Jr., a former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and others (including, according to some investigators, the multinational investment firm and defense contractor, the Carlyle (->) Management Group, that managed bin Laden family millions prior to 9-11, directed by past CIA director Frank Carlucci, James Baker III (->), and Past President George H.W. Bush);

"Project Jefferson" was ongoing around the same time American anthrax ace William C. Patrick III (USAMRIID ->, was contracted by Battelle Memorial Institute to develop a report on the ramifications of mailing powdered anthrax, much the same as what occurred in the wake of the October anthrax mailings.

...William C. Patrick III and Russian detector Kanatjan Alibekov (alias, "Ken Alibek" ->)the world's two leading anthrax experts were very "close friends!" Both men held classified consulting contracts with the CIA and Battelle, Alibekov was on the CIA's payroll at that time, according to Preston, and he was fully employed by the Battelle Memorial Institute (BML).

...Thus, the government "contractor" for whom anthrax expert William C. Patrick III wrote his mailed anthrax aerosol dispersal assessment could have only been Battelle for whom "Ken Alibek" worked; Robert Myers, Bioport's Chief Operating Officer affiliated; and Jerome Hauer (->) in New York's emergency management helped facilitate tests

In addition to Battelle's voluminous research, development, and testing activities, this private institute co-manages America's most secret enterprises including the DoE's Brookhaven National Laboratory, National Renewable Energy Laboratory, Oak Ridge Laboratory, and fully manages several others including the Pacific Northwest National Laboratory .

Their two biological level-3 "Aerosol Engineering & Biological Sciences Facilities" in West Jefferson, Ohio appear in photographs on a Federal Emergency

Baudrillard, Jean
On November 2nd, 2001, French author and philosopher Baudrillard ("The Year 2000 did not happen") responded on the so called war against terrorism in a new essay in LeMonde, later translated and mirrored at cryptome:

"...It is almost they who did it, but we who wanted it. If one does not take that into account, the event lost all symbolic dimension to become a pure accident. ...Terrorists know that in their symbolic strategy they can count on this unavoidable complicity.
...One must recognize the birth of a new terrorism, a new form of action that enters the game and appropriate its rules, the better to confuse it. Not only do these people not fight with equal arms, as they produce their own deaths, to which there is no possible response..."

Baxter International
===============
Baxter, a global health care company, is the leading maker of intravenous (IV) supplies and solutions via its Medication Delivery unit, which brings in almost 40% of sales.

Baxter is the leading U.S. provider of cardiovascular, kidney dialysis, and intravenous products to the healthcare market.

"Blood goes in, blood goes out, and Baxter International is there. Through its BioScience segment, the company not only makes equipment to collect and separate blood and blood components, but also develops plasma protein therapies for such blood-related disorders as hemophilia" http://www.hoovers.com/co/capsule/8/0,2163,10188,00.html

In 1979 Baxter introduced the first automated blood-cell separator, the CS-3000 system.
In 1985 they acquired American Hospital Supply Corporation.
In 1995 Nextran became a wholly owned affiliate of Baxter, focusing on research in xenotransplantation, or animal-to-human transplants.
In 1997 Baxter acquired Immuno International AG, an international leader in infectious disease research and the development of blood products, related biologics and vaccines.

In the same year, Baxter, Becton Dickinson and Johns Hopkins University (-) filed together a lawsuit on a stem cell patent by CellPro, Inc.

Baxter is behind Global Healthcare Exchange, an independent, Internet-based company that facilitates the exchange of information related to buying, selling and distributing medical equipment, devices and healthcare products and related services worldwide.

To improve their research on blood related products, their subsidiary Baxter Healthcare supports cruel experiments on animals, too. One of these financed tortures are the so called AHA Experiments on 2 days to 8 weeks old dogs, in which they are subjected to hosting a chronic indwelling catheter for 30 days. Two pain medications are being delivered through these catheters to assess their toxicological effects. The experiments take place at the University of Arizona, Tucson.

In late 2001, Baxter announced that it would participate in the production of approximately 155 million doses of smallpox vaccine (-) , in conjunction with Acambis Inc (-), former Oravax.

Baxter, John Clifford

Former ENRON (->) employee, who officially committed suicide.

Baxter was connected to Jeff Skilling - who had replaced Kenneth Lay as Enron’s CEO in February 2001.

But Skilling abruptly stepped down in August 2001, just weeks after FERC’s price controls began to take effect. As reported, Baxter feuded with then-Chief Executive Officer Jeffrey Skilling over the propriety of off-balance sheet transactions that hid billions in debt and ultimately triggered the once-mighty Houston company’s spiral into the largest bankruptcy in U.S. history.

``Cliff Baxter complained mightily to Skilling and all who would listen about the inappropriateness of our transactions with LJM,” Enron whistle-blower (->) Sherron Watkins wrote to Chairman and CEO Ken Lay, in an Aug. 14th 2001.

Because of Baxters deep connections between the US government and ENRON, his suicide was questioned by many investigative websites on the internet.

This included Dan Rather (CBS Evening News), who was openly skeptical of the claim that this was a suicide.

Baxters body was discovered on January 25th, 2002, about 2:20 a.m. in the driver's seat of his Mercedes-Benz, parked in the 5800 block of Palm Royale Boulevard.

Sgt. Truman Body from the Sugar Land Police (->) found him "inside his Mercedes with a suicide note and revolver at his side". He had been shot once in the head and a .38-caliber revolver was found inside the locked car, investigators said.

Another new autopsy in late January 2002 by "Medical Examiner Joyce Carter (->), who conducted an autopsy on Baxter's body Friday, said the cause of death was suicide by "a penetrating gunshot to the head."

But as investigative members of democraticunderground.com (->) found out, Carter had a controversy past.

These results had been picked up by New York's weekly paper VillageVoice (->)

"Fueled by a report on Democraticunderground.com, skeptics are homing in on the Harris County coroner, Joyce M. Carter.

Carter has had her share of controversy. In 1998, Harris County paid a former employee in the medical examiner's office $375,000, after a jury agreed Carter fired her for reporting potentially illegal cover-ups. Then a federal court awarded another whistleblower $250,000 after she was fired for reporting that an unlicensed physician had performed autopsies. In 2000, writes The Houston Chronicle, a Harris County commissioner asked the county to hire an outside law firm to review Carter's hiring and firing practices."

Source:

Friends of Baxter told some papers, that he "loved yachting and had recently traded in his 72-foot boat for one with a larger engine so he could travel to Florida in two days." Baxter was looking for a bodyguard, as one anonymous source told the NY Times.

http://www.truthout.com/01.30C.Police.Suicide.htm

"...Detective Billy Baugh is retracing Baxter's movements in the days prior to his death. In addition, he is checking the car for blood splatters and fingerprints and running ballistic tests on the gun that was found in Baxter's hand.

Baxters role at Enron was primarily in mergers and acquisitions.

He helped engineer the purchases to build up Enron's failed water venture, Azurix Corp., and of Oregon utility Portland General.

More oddities:
Due to http://www.dallasnews.com/latestnews/enron_012502early.d61e0.html the car was "closed".

A family friend told the New York Post that Baxter's wife says he was home in bed just hours before his body was found at 2:23 a.m. on Friday, January 25.

"His wife couldn't believe he could get out of bed without her knowing it," said the friend...

In February 2002 madowprod.com (->) reported, that "...contrary to the statements of the Sugar Land Police Department, it was not two Sugar Land police officers but one of Hal Werlein's Deputy Constables who discovered the former Enron executive."

As whatreallyhappened.com (->) found out in the same month:
The original autopsy report, which can be ordered for $25 by the Medical Examiner of Harris County, Texas, said Baxter was found in his car in the 5200 block of Palm Royale Boulevard.

We learn for the first time here, though, that his home was at 5211 Palm Royale Boulevard. He was less than a block from home, and could have been in front of his own house.

His dress, workout pants and a t-shirt, are most consistent with his having just ventured out from his house rather than his having been out in some public place.

Then in March 2002, National Enquirer (->) still insisted, that Baxter was murdered.

"He knew where all the Enron bodies were buried and he was apparently ready to talk," former congressman John LeBoutillier, who attended Harvard Business School with former Enron CEO Jeff Skilling, told the ENQUIRER.

They picked up the past of Medical Examiner Joyce Carter:
In February 2001, Carter was fined $1,000 and narrowly escaped being fired for allowing an unlicensed pathologist to perform roughly 200 autopsies in the Houston area.
Nine days after Baxter's death, police still hadn't publicly supported the suicide verdict.

In March 2002, CBS investigated:
"(Baxter) just agreed to testify to Congress in the Enron case. A congressional source tells CBS News that Baxter wasn't a target in the probe, he was to provide evidence against others.

The gun and other evidence were moved before photos were taken. The body was moved as well.
The experts found several things highly unusual. First the peculiar ammunition: not regular bullets but something called "rat-shot".
"This kind of ammunition cannot be easily or readily traced back to the gun from which it was fired," explained (independent coroner Cyril) Wecht.

"It's not as frequently used by people for any reason. It's not the type of ammunition one finds in guns - it has a specific purpose: shooting at snakes and rodents in order to get a distribution pattern of the small pellets contained within the nose portion of the bullet. It's not something that a person is likely to have and to use if they intended to kill themselves," said Wecht.
Other unanswered questions include mysterious wounds on one hand and unexplained shards of glass in Baxter's shirt. All reasons to look deeper to rule out murder.

Source:

Finally in April 2002 Baxters "suicide note", addressed to his wife Carol, was released, but disturbingly, it contained some oddities, as recognised by DU(->) member Doug Decker:
"At the bottom of the page (far below his printed name, his wife name appears.

His name is typed/centered in the middle of the page (including his initial)
"If a formal note (with typing) wouldn't it have a formal signature... If an informal note - why would the name be typed?.."
The Carol twice could indicate that the paper was folder over, with Carol written as an address (i.e. To Carol).
"The note was signed, "Cliff." instead of "your Clifford"

Other observations:
1) If you fold his letter, the second "Carol" appears still on the same side, which makes no sense.
2) Writing in rude, capitol letters, more impersonal style, is strange
3) The handwriting still looks very dynamic at the end, not depressive. The two FF's still go up.
4) The uppercapse letter i for the pronoun I is indeed different from the other uppercase i letters
5) The "I's look different
6) It's hard to explain, why his suicide note didn't start with something like "dear carol"
7) a bold number on the Top could not be explained:
02000599 can't be an evidence number, it would destroy the evidence. It looks like his handwriting.
7) Why was this note released so late and what was so personal anyway in this note?
8) If you look carefully at the word "try" at "Please try to forgive me." you will see a very small typed "I" under the "T". What is this about?
9) What does the dot mean in the middle of the lines between 02000599 and the first Carol.
Just a smear?

Mirror at:
http://www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzero/images/cliff_lastwill.jpg

More was revealed on Joyce Carter:
"A federal jury awarded $250,000 Friday to a former Harris County pathologist who said she was fired in 1998 for blowing the whistle on what she considered illegal activity in the medical examiner's office."

Source:

In June 2002, Baxters original story was upgraded with another bizarre twist.
"A cop in the neighborhood said he saw Baxter driving alone. About two minutes later, the same officer found Baxter shot in the locked car"

Source:

At the end of 2002, most independent investigators on the internet still believed , that Baxter was killed.
The phrase" baxterised" became a synonym for a political murder and was used, when Senator Paul Wellstone (->)died in a plane crash, just one week before the US election.

BCCI

BCCI, renamed in 2001 into BBBBCI (Barclays Bank-Bush-Bin Connection International), stands for Bank of Credit and Commerce International.

During the late 80s, the BCCI was well known laundering money to and from drug dealers, terrorists, spies and blackmailers and was renowned for having set off the largest banking scandal in world history.

BCCI, was founded and directed by many of the same people (allegedly including former CIA director Richard Helms (->) who created Australia's Nughan Hand Bank and then ran into the ground, BCCI went belly-up in the late 1980s (billion of dollars in debt, with $20 billion more that's never been located) its treasurer was convicted on charges of laundering drug-trafficking money.

In 1986, BCCI started to cooperate with Kissinger Associates (-), which represented at that time Brent Scowcroft (-), Lawrence Eagleburger or and investment bank T. Jefferson Cunningham III.

In 1998/99, the Bank of England started to investigate on the BCCI.

At the end of this investigation it came out, that BCCI was deeply involved in Pakistan's nuclear program, with Iraqi arms dealer Sarkis Soghalianian, syrian terrorist Monzer Al-Kassar, in arms sales to Iran (->Iran-Contra) and contacts with international criminal financier Marc Rich.

Furthermore BCCI had extensive activity in China, and the Chinese government allegedly lost $500 million when BCCI closed, mostly from government accounts.

One of the largest stockholders of the BCCI was Sheik Khalid bin Mahfouz (-), who helped funding George Bush's company Arbusto (-) or the Houston Gulf Airport.

Becker, Silvan

Due to the book "Bin Laden- the Forbidden Truth" by Brisard and Dasquier, (-> in 1994, Bin Laden was accused by Libya of being behind the killing of two german intelligent agents Silvan Becker and his wife.

At that time, as reported, Bin Laden supported a fundamentalist group called al-Muqatila, made up of Libyans who had fought with him against the Soviets in Afghanistan.

According to the former MI5 agent David Shayler (-> Shaylergate), al-Muqatila tried to kill to assassinate Libyans leader Al-Gadafy in November 1996.

Belafonte, Harry

In October 2002, Harry Belafonte criticised National Security Adviser Condoleeza Rice and Secretary of State Colin Powell for being "house slaves' doing the bidding of President Bush.

He repeated his criticism in November 2002.

Benevolence International Foundation

=======================

In April 2002, Enaam Arnaout, Executive Director of the Charity Organisation Benevolence International Foundation (BIF) in Illinois,was accused of having "direct links to Osama bin Laden".

Arnaout denied these connetions.

On May 1st, 2002 Arnaout was arrested.

The foundation's assets, as well as those of another Chicago-area Islamic charity, Global Relief Foundation, were already frozen Dec. 14, 2001 on suspicion of supporting terrorism.

Both groups have sued the government, denying they have anything to do with terrorism and asking that their assets be released.

According to the affidavit, the foundation sponsored the visa for a visit to Bosnia for bin Laden associate Mamdouh Salim.

In May 2002, FBI agent Robert Walker testified on a letter found in March 2002 at the charity's office in Bosnia, addressed to someone named Abu Mahmood and signed Abu Al-Qaqaq, which the agent testified were aliases used by Arnaout and bin Laden.

Defense attorneys said, however, that who signed the letters was in doubt.

In February 2003, Enaam Arnaout, finally pleaded guilty only to funneling money to Muslim fighters in Chechnya and Bosnia after reaching a deal with prosecutors.

"This plea agreement shows that this defendant and this charity had nothing to do with al Qaeda or Osama bin Laden," Arnaout's lawyer Joseph Duffy said.

Berger, Sandy

Sandy Berger was former Clinton National Advisor, who warned of a pending terrorist attack in 2001.

The incoming Bush administration in 2001 ignored dire warnings from Berger that Al Qaeda was the major security threat facing the U.S.

Instead, the new administration focused on the war on drugs and even funneled "humanitarian" aid to Taliban-run Afghanistan as a reward for the fundamentalists' eradication of an opium crop.

However, behind closed doors, as Berger said, that at least one report included a warning that they'd spend a lot of time on Al Qaeda.

Bernhard, Sandra

In March 2002, author Bernhard expressed her opinion that 'Bush is amateurish and self-serving and, frankly, it's disgusting.'

'Everybody is covering their asses with the Euron scandal and it was very convenient that September 11 came along to deflect the fact that they should never have been in the White House in the first place. What happened at the [presidential] election was completely corrupt.'

Bilderberg Group

The "Bilderberg Meeting" is held every year since 1954, when it was founded in Oosterbeek, Holland's Bilderberg Hotel, by Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands and Joseph Retinger, a 33rd degree Freemason and Jesuit priest, this highly secretive three-day-gathering of Europe and America's most influential politicos and wealthiest business leaders consists of networking and meetings on how to run the world better.

Some Bilderberg members had been:

A few weeks before Sep11th, 2001 some of the new participants had been:

Lewis, Bernard - Emeritus Professor of Near Eastern Studies, Princeton University (USA)
Nashashibi, Mohammed - Former Roving Ambassador of the Arab League; Author (ISR)
Robertson, George - Secretary General, NATO (INT)
Vasella, Daniel L. - Chairman & C.E.O., Novartis AG (Pharmaceuticals) (CH)

Binalshibh, Ramzi

Officially Ramzi Binalshibh arranged money transfers to "cell leaders of the Sep11th attack" and lived together with Mohammed Atta at the same address in Marianstraße 54 in Hamburg.

It was reported, that he tried to get a visa in August 2000 to start a flight license. After Sep11th he was put on an international watch list.

Binalshibh was arrested almost exactly one year after the attack in Pakistan on September 11th, 2002, which appeared to have been planned. Binalshibh was captured at an undisclosed place in the United States.

Instead of this, literally a few hours () before the confirmation of the arrest, Al-Jazeera showed an older propaganda video with Binalshibh, rendered in front of the burning Twin Towers.

In the translation of this video, it was claimed, Binalshibh confirmed the White House as the fifth target, but was mentioning a different code name of the Building, than the NSA used in their translations.

In fact Binalshibh, was captured at an unknown time, before Sep11th 2002 in Karachi, Pakistan.

A second prisoner "of interest" to U.S intelligence, Umar al-Gharib, was captured in the Karachi raid as well.

Al-Gharib is the brother of an al Qaeda leader named Khallad Tawfiq al-Attash -- one of the suspects in the October 2000 bombing of the USS Cole in Yemen, which killed 17 U.S. sailors.

In another suppressed interview on Friday, 28 September 2001 with Urdu magazine Ummat, Bin Laden said:
"I have already said that I am not involved in the 11 September attacks in the United States. As a Muslim, I try my best to avoid telling a lie. I had no knowledge of these attacks, nor do I consider the killing of innocent women, children and other humans as an appreciable act. Islam strictly forbids causing harm to innocent women, children and other people. Such a practice is forbidden even in the course of a battle..."

Bin Laden has denied the involvement on at least one other occasion: Jamal Ismail, a Palestinian journalist, has said "a bin Laden aide called him after Tuesday's attack" to say bin Laden denied being involved but "thanked almighty Allah and bowed before him when he heard this news."

Bin Laden did not only give interviews to Ummat and Dawn during the week of Sep11th to Sep 16th, 2001, he faxed a statement to Afghan Islamic Press (AFP), too. In all three press releases he always denied any involvement in the attack. None of the three interviews had ever been released in any american media publication.

Since October 2001, nothing is really known about Bin Ladens whereabouts.

In December 2002, Bin Laden was still either dead or alive, sighted at several places worldwide or released his "last will".

Bin Ladens ties with the CIA had been still denied by the agency.

Binladin has lived in Switzerland for about 20 years and has held a Swiss passport since 2001.

Bin Laden Audiotape
====================
In November 2002, an audio tape with Bin Laden circulated in some media.
Only a few weeks later, BBC reported on some researchers in Switzerland, who had questioned the authenticity of an audio recording attributed to Osama Bin Laden.

A team from the Lausanne-based Dalle Molle Institute for Perceptual Artificial Intelligence, Idiap, said it was 95% certain the tape does not feature the voice of Bin Laden and is not authentic.

Bin Laden- Home Video
Osama Bin Laden's famous home video, which was "found" in December 2001, was used for an "evidence" on the Sep11th attack and was originally translated with the help of "independent" translators.

This seemed to be untrue. They all had government or military connections (-> Monterey) and got even criticised for their "superficial" job.

This included Christopher Ross, a US Department of State consultant, who admitted, that the English translation was "not accurate confirming that he replayed the tape fifty times for translation".

MiddleEastWire pointed out, that the congratulating expressions that came in the tape, indicate Bin Ladin was getting a congratulating by the marriage of his child by Aiman Al-Zawaheri 's child that completed since four years.

Many other sources speculated about a stand-in for Bin Laden.

Sources:
http://www.11september.2bn.com/latest_news/fake_video.htm
While the Tape seemed to be not fabricated, the translation was obviously wrong.

Pretty odd the reaction of Donald Rumsfeld, who confirmed that the tape was found only "a few weeks ago", which was exactly at the time, when neither the Northern Alliance nor the US Troops had been arrived yet in Kandahar (where it was officially found) or in Jalalabad (where it was officially produced):

"...It took some time, and we believe it was done carefully, but we do not stand behind it. It is not our tape. It is not our translation. We did the best we could..."

"Q: What do you mean, you do not stand behind the tape? Rumsfeld: It is not for me -- I don't speak Arabic..."

Noted Harvard law Professor Alan Dershowitz said "the vile video of Osama bin laden does not necessarily prove the master terrorist's guilt".

The UK Observer asked:

Why had bin Laden broken his tight security to talk?
Why had he not used one of his normally favoured media outlets?
Was the tape genuine? Was this indeed bin Laden at all?

Source: http://www.guardian.co.uk/september11/story/0,11209,619188,00.html

From an early analysis at Ground Zero Forum (->):

Another speculation circulated, that parts of the conversation on this tape had been based on a conversation from June 2001 on the attack on the USS Cole and just had been resampled, rearranged and reedited.

Middle East Magazine Markazdawa pointed out, that the use of "We asked" "We expected" and "We calculated" are in fact not the words used as he actually says "They asked" "They said" "They calculated"...

Source: http://www.markazdawa.org/English/200112/15-a-inin.htm#2

It was wrong, that Mohammad Atta's last name was mentioned in the video, as many tabloid papers tried to fabricate.

Atta's last name wasn't mentioned in the originally transcript, which was released worldwide.

In fact, it looked that Bin Laden, as usually, was talking about his favourite prophet, named "Mohammed" (correctly spelled with an 'e' in the transcript).

Another point:
If Bin Laden said, "when you hear a breaking news announcement on the radio, kneel immediately, and that means they have hit the World Trade Center", then it wouldn't fit, once again, with his original description of that day:

First he said:
"...We had finished our work that day and had the radio on.
It was 5:30 p.m. our time..."

This would have been before 8AM in New York Time, and 45 minutes before the first crash into the WTC.

Does that mean that they waited or just listened to the radio?
Keep in mind, that a live broadcast on the radio was impossible.

No radio station or TV was able to show the first crash live, but later they showed the 2nd crash live.

Another question is unanswered: which radio station did they listen at all in Afghanistan?

Now Bin Laden says:
"...I was sitting with Dr. Ahmad Abu-al.
Immediately, we heard the news that a plane had hit the World Trade Center..."

So this doesn't make sense at that time.

But then he said:
"...We turned the radio station to the news from Washington. The news continued and no mention of the attack until the end.
At the end of the newscast, they reported that a plane just hit the World Trade Center..."

It was well known, that the Taliban has banned every international TV and radio stations.

Which radio station did Bin Laden listen to?

Finally on December 20th 2002, German TV Magazine MONITOR (Host: Klaus Bednarz/ARD TV) and two notarised arab speaking specialists incl. Abdel El M. Hussein and orient expert Gernot Ritter came to the conclusion, that the following parts have been manipulated:

1)
"...We calculated in advance the number of casualties who would be killed."

The ORIGINAL was however:
"...We calculated the number of casualties..."
That means the words "in advance" didn't appear in the original and have been added in the text translation transcript

2) "...We had notification since the previous Thursday that the event would take place that day..."
The ORIGINAL was however:
"...We had notification since Thursday...
"previous" didn't appear on the original tape.

3) "...we asked each of them to go to America..."
The ORIGINAL was however:
"...they have been forced...(rest was inaudible!!)
The TV Magazin came to the conclusion, that with the "new correct translation" the tape is no evidence anymore.

Conclusion:
The Tape is useless and was manipulated in the translation.
The TV Magazine didn't analyse, if the conversation was overdubbed or sampled.
They didn't investigate the original tape, which includes a digital timestamp.

The official production date was on November 9th 2001.

A request by hacker magazine 2600.com to analyse this timestamp, was denied by the Pentagon. MONITOR received a copy of the original tape by the US-Government

Only 6 hours after an article on MONITOR was released, the Pentagon decided to release "new" parts of the Bin laden video, which then included some disturbing ties to Saudi Arabia (->).

New Bin Laden Videos appeared during 2002, with even less credibility.

Bin Laden relatives
====================
Only a few days after Sep1th, the FBI allowed some Bin Laden relatives to leave the United States with a plane, missing the opportunity to interrogate them on Osama.
(-> Palast, Greg)

This oddity was mentioned by Frank Rich of the NY Times, almost 15 months later, when he criticised Bob Woodward's (->) new book "Bush at War":

"...The Saudis are remarkably minor figures. 'We need to know whoever is giving money and deal with them,' says President Bush, who vows to personally contact the leader of any nation reluctant to cooperate with the crackdown.

But the Saudis' continued resistance to these entreaties goes unreported. Even odder is that Mr. Woodward's book, for all its you-are-there theatrics in recounting the days after 9/11, makes no mention at all of what happened on 9/18: the administration's collaboration with the Saudis in flying bin Laden family members out of America.

What old/oil boy network pulled those strings in the White House? Why did the F.B.I. not verify whether the fleeing bin Ladens were both personally and financially estranged from Osama? Neither the Americans nor the Saudis have yet lifted the veil on this dead-of-night exodus..."

Bin Laden Tape 2003
==================
After the announcement of a new peace plan of Germany and France, only a few days later, on February 11th, 2003, all for a sudden, a new audio tape by Bin Laden was aired by the Qatar-based TV station al-Jazeera.
First the station denied that it had such a bin Laden message and said that it was a rumor that has been circulating for several weeks. Then they confirmed and broadcast it.

One day later it was reported, that there was yet another video.
On February 13th, the Guardian reported, that the US knew about the latest bin Laden tape five days before it was broadcast.
http://www.guardian.co.uk/alquida/story/0,13469,894482,00.html

This may clear up the mystery of how Colin Powell, the US secretary of state, had access to a transcript of the tape long before staff at al-Jazeera even became aware of its existence. Early on Tuesday Mr Powell told a Senate panel that the tape provided evidence of Bin Laden's "partnership with Iraq" and would be shown by the Arab channel later that day.

A MSNBC article was scrubbed to clear this message.

Bioport

BioPort, a BioScience company, is located in Lansing, Michigan.

Formerly "Michigan Biologics Products Institute MBPI", Bioport was founded by Fuad al-Hibri (Ex-Porton International UK), who had many saudi arabian (-> business contacts and Admiral William Crowe (->), 76, former military chief under President Ronald Reagan.

The purpose of Bioport was to develop anti bio agents.

BioPort signed a contract with the Department of Defense (->DoD) in 1998 to develop vaccines against anthrax in the "next 3 years".

The vaccines should have been available in 2001.

Bioport received a $50 million contract for developing AVA (Anthrax Vaccine Adsorbed) for 2.5 million US Soldiers.

According to ABC News reporter Howard L. Rosenberg,
"BioPort Corp. was created solely to take over the assets of Michigan Biologic Products Institute by Admiral Crowe, his partners in a company called Intervac L.L.C. and a group of former managers of the Michigan-based institute."

It is Intervac that has the most interesting history here. According to Crowe’s associate and spokesman, Jay Coupe, Crowe owns 22.5 percent of Intervac shares, although he hasn’t "invested a penny" in the venture.

Another 30 percent of Intervac shares are owned by Nancy El-Hibri, a mother and homemaker in suburban Maryland and the rest of the company is in the hands of "I&F Holdings," a company directed by Nancy El-Hibri’s father-in-law, Ibrahim El-Hibri, a Venezuelan citizen, and her husband, Fuad El-Hibri, a German citizen of Lebanese descent.

According to Coupe, when Crowe returned from England in 1997, he was approached by Fuad El-Hibri’s father, Ibrahim El-Hibri. The elder El-Hibri, whom the admiral had met a decade before, invited Crowe to serve on the board of Intervac."

A stockholder of BioPort Corp., is the Bin Laden Group, some 24 family members of which were whisked out of the U.S., on "safety" reasons by the secret political police, the FBI, following the September 11, 2001 events.

From a testimony in December 2001 by Henry J. Hyde, Chairman Committee on International Relations -U.S. House of Representatives (From 1985 to 1991, Hyde served as the ranking Republican on the House Select Committee on Intelligence):

"...By a process reminiscent of Haydon-Baillie’s creation of Porton International, in 1998 Ibrahim and Fuad El-Hibri and Admiral William J. Crowe, Jr., who had just returned from a posting as ambassador to the United Kingdom, created BioPort Corporation, which acquired the State of Michigan’s Biological Products Laboratory, the principal function of which was the production of anthrax vaccine for the U.S. Department of Defense..."

Source:
http://cryptome.org/ff2-anthrax.htm

According to an original story published on December 1, 2001 by the Pakistan News Service, documents originating from the US Defense Department that referred to Bioport, Inc. were found in the possession of Bin Laden related associates in Kabul, Afghanistan.

According to Biopорт spokeswoman Kim Brennen Root, "the document was a report on the environmental impact of renovations to our Lansing, Michigan plant, not a 'how-to' manual on making the vaccine."
On January 17th, 2002, it was reported, that Bioport was finally cleared to Make Anthrax Vaccine, almost 3 months after the attacks.

In October 2001, instead of Bioport, BAYER (->) distributed their anthrax vaccine Cipro (->) Investigative journalist Joe Vials (->) thinks, that "Bishop was probably dead long before his aircraft hit the Bank of America.

In the words of the helicopter pilot: “He [Bishop] sat motionless at the controls. He would not look at the helicopter, nor would he respond to radio or hand signals telling him to land his aircraft”.

Vials conclusion was, that this Cessna was remote controlled.
The only purpose of this flight was to promote "suicide missions" for Bin Laden.

He noted, in comments to reporters, that only the inspectors had the authority to look inside potential Iraqi arms facilities, and he appealed to Washington to give him better information about where to look.

In late December 2002 Blix received a list of 500 Iraqi scientists for interviews.

Instead of Bush's opinion, Blix claimed, he thinks, that a war against Iraq was not inevitable.

In January 2003, some papers wrote, that Blix was involved in a pedophilia investigation.

Leftwingers suggested, this was part of a smear campaign.

Other websites followed this example and turned the Booker Elementary into a "Zapruder 2001-2002".

In Summer 2002, GZ and SGTV (ShadowGovernment TV ->) worked on an idea to synchronise this video together with a french documentation on the events in New York, based on a timeline.

SGTV produced NO.1 and added some other reports into it, i.e. from the UQ-press conference in June or samples from an interview with Peter Dale Scott, produced by Guerrilla News Network (->).

Almost at the same time, Symbolman (->) had the same idea using the Booker Elementary footage and turn it into a flash animation.
President Bush claimed after the attack, that he saw the first plane crash live on TV, which was impossible.
Even without this statement, it was already proven, that he knew on the first attack, before he even arrived at the school.

Instead of cancelling this event, he decided to enter the classroom.
He didn't react after Andrew Card told him about the second crash.

Bush later confirmed in May 2002, he had prior knowledge on an attack on america.
Implying this knowledge, why didn't he react and give sudden decisions?

Transcript:

Mostly unknown- the official reason to visit Booker Elementary on that day, to announce a new reading initiative, is based on wrong facts.

Some weeks earlier, as told by the minister of education, Rod Paige, Bush visited with Paige already the Griegos Elementary School to support this initiative.

On September 4th 2001, Paige didn't know about further visits:

Boston-Connection

=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=-=

Boston played an important logistic role in the Sep11th attacks and combined some odd coincidences.

More at (->) Massachusetts-Connection.

Here are some of the Boston-ties, which had been originally released on Ground Zero Forum NYC in June 2002:

1)

Boston Logan is connected to Westfield (->), who finished a lease with the Twin Towers a few weeks before the attack.

There is another connection between the other owner of the Twin Towers, (Larry Silverstein Properties was one of them) and Westfield America and the airports from which the planes originated.

Financial Times Limited, September 14, 2001:

"The owners of the demolished World Trade Center in lower Manhattan acquired the buildings just two months ago under a 99-year lease allowing them to walk away from their investment in the event of 'an act of terrorism.'

The owners, Silverstein Properties and Westfield America - a shopping mall specialist - purchased the buildings from the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey for $3.2bn in July and completed the financing just two weeks ago..."

Westfield managed the retail concessions at Boston-Logan International Airport, Newark International Airport, Orlando International Airport, Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport, San Antonio International Airport, and Washington Dulles International Airport.

This means, Westfield was connected with all four "hijacker" departments!

flight 11 BOSTON, MA, TO LOS ANGELES, CA ===> WTC

b)
flight 93 NEWARK, NJ, TO SAN FRANCISCO, CA ===> Pennsylvannia

c)
flight 77 WASHINGTON-DULLES, VA, TO LOS ANGELES, CA ===> Pentagon

The airport statistics on the Westpoint Properties:
Boston-Logan International Airport
Leasable Retail Space 16,000 square feet

Newark International Airport
Leasable Retail Space 100,000 square feet

Washington Dulles International Airport
Leasable Retail Space 23,000 square feet
2) "Supervisory Special Agent David Frasca (->) (SSA), the same guy, who ignored FBI agents Kenneth Williams' (->) memo, shares his last name with the lawyer company Frasca Associates of Massport (Boston).

3) Barry Mawn (->), who classified the passport in the rubble by Satam Al Suquami, tried to get a job at Massport. He later resigned in March 2002.

4) Finally a report in June 2002 by NandoTimes revealed, that the report on security at Boston was altered.

Report on security at Boston airport was altered, newspaper says
The Associated Press

BOSTON (June 18, 2002 10:40 a.m. EDT) -

"...A consultant hired to independently evaluate Logan Airport security procedures leading up to Sept. 11 reportedly removed tough criticism of the Massachusetts Port Authority after a three-hour meeting with the agency's general counsel. The Boston Globe reported the change in its Tuesday edition.

An initial report addressed whether airport and agency officials were sufficiently responsive to warnings about possible lapses in security procedures. That report blamed bureaucratic infighting for delays in installing security improvements.

The Globe had reported in March that the consultant, Counter Technology Inc., significantly watered down its initial report before making its final submission to Massport, which runs the Logan Airport. Massport said in a statement that at no time did it require CTI to "either reach or avoid certain conclusions."

But paperwork submitted to Logan for payment of CTI's chief investigator, Michael Bearisto, indicates he changed his report after meeting Nov. 7 with the airport's general counsel, billing the agency for "revisions."

5) A Boston Globe report revealed a story on an unidentified muslim on Saturday, Sept. 8, who visited the Logan Airport tower for 15 minutes, three days before two flights from Logan were hijacked.

He identified himself to controllers as an airline pilot with family in Afghanistan and lived in Havervill, Massachusetts.

Furthermore, on the same day, four other men, all described by an official familiar with the incident as "Middle Eastern," approached another controller and inquired about getting a tour of the tower.

NOTE:
In May 2002 Whitley Strieber, an UFO author (Coming Global Superstorm, UFO Briefing Document) reported on a "witness" and friend, who told him, that he "had been staying at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston on the nights of September 10 and 11 told (him) that the FBI had cleared the hotel on the morning of Monday, September 10, at about four AM, and had searched it".

Boyle, Francis Professor

==================================================

Professor Francis Boyle became the first time interesting for the 911Skeptics in early 2002, when he continued to support Barbara Rosenberg (->) of the Federation of American Scientists, proving that the anthrax of October 2001 was homegrown and the attacks had been a military operation.

Boyle is human rights lawyer and a professor of law at the University of Illinois.
He is the author of "The Criminality of Nuclear Deterrence", in 2001 published by Clarity Press.

He studied many different biowarfare contracts, which "safety levels were atrocious".

In April 2002, he released the article "BioWarfare, Terror Weapons and the US Home Brew?" on Counterpunch.

http://www.counterpunch.com/boyle0425.html

October 11, 2002:
"George W. Bush was never elected President by the People of the United States of America. Instead, he was anointed for that Office by five Justices of the United States Supreme Court who themselves had been appointed by Republican Presidents. Bush Jr.’s installation was an act of judicial usurpation of the American Constitution that was unprecedented in the history of the American Republic"

http://www.counterpunch.org/boyle1011.html

Boyle often claimed that President George W. Bush and Attorney General John Ashcroft are attempting to transform the United States into a police state.

On November, 2nd 2002, he started the campaign "Impeach President George W. Bush", which included Cheney, Rumsfeld and Ashcroft. on http://globalresearch.ca/articles/BOY211A.html, only a few days before the election day.

"...we are trying to get one MOC who voted against war to support introducing our Bill of Impeachment against Bush et al into the House in order to prevent this war of aggression against Iraq..."

His committee is supported by Cynthia McKinney (->).

In January 2003, the Impeachment Campaign was promoted in some media:

Bredaro-Shaw Group
==================
In 1996, Dresser Industries and Shaw Industries merged their pipecoating businesses to form Bredaro-Shaw Group. H.C. Price, a major builder of pipelines, and one of Saudi Binladin's joint venture partners, became part of Bredaro-Shaw.

Halliburton acquired Dresser in 1998. George H.W. Bush's father, Prescott, was the managing director of Brown Brothers Harriman, which previously owned Dresser.

Dick Cheney orchestrated the Dresser and Bredaro-Shaw acquisitions.

Both Halliburton, and its subsidiary Brown & Root, have deep ties to the CIA and the military. The company has been involved in US military conflicts in Vietnam, Bosnia, Kosovo, Macedonia, Chechnya, Pakistan, Colombia and Rwanda. Brown & Root builds oil rigs, pipelines, wells, and nuclear reactors. It does not appear to be a simple case of coincidence that Saudi Binladin, a long time business partner with the Bush family, has a partnership with a Dick Cheney-affiliated Halliburton that works with Enron (->).
"In fact, to limit the scope and duration of a commission so that it cannot thoroughly examine fault, to limit its subpoena power so that information and answers are not forthcoming, and to insist upon having the president nominate the chairman, who will control the commission's agenda, smacks of "paralysis and politics."

The Sept. 11 families and this country deserve nothing less than the unfettered truth. After Sept. 11, the preservation of life should supplant politics."

Jean-Charles Brisard is one of the two co-authors of "Forbidden Truth", which basically claimed, that the War against the Taliban was already planned since 1998 to get an oilpipeline.

The other author is Guillaume Dasquie. Both insist, that their research is based on facts. Forbidden Truth includes an interview with FBI anti-terror specialist John O'Neill, which took place only a few weeks before he died in the Twin Towers. His death was ignored by US Media.

For odd reasons, he wasn't mentioned as a "hero".

The book contains statements of John O Neill, that he felt sabotaged by the FBIHQ, which would have been Dale Watson and James Chiaradio, and his own boss, Louis Feeh, which was later replaced by Thomas Pickard.

On April 29th, Brisard gave an interview to democrats.com:

"...In an exclusive interview with Democrats.com, French intelligence analyst Jean-Charles Brisard, co-author with Guillaume Dasquie of Bin Laden: The Hidden Truth said they stand by their version of events first published last November, that the September 11 attacks followed the breakdown of secret negotiations between the U.S. and the Taliban.

Boycotted for the way it's pushed its baby formula on poor mothers, in 1998 Bristol-Myers settled a class-action lawsuit (with two other companies) after being accused of price-fixing their Enfamil formula (though they were not found guilty).

During WWII , Bristol-Myers Squibb supplied Penicillin and Morphine to the troops.

In the 1990s, the company developed the AIDS drug DDI, one of the AIDS cocktails.

CEO Richard Gelb and his brother, company president Bruce Gelb, are both staunch Republican and close friend of George Bush Sr.

Bruce left Bristol-Myers in 1989 to head the US Information Agency and later served as ambassador to Belgium during the Bush Sr. administration. The Gelb brothers founded Clairol, and both attended the exclusive Philips Academy with Bush and later Yale as well (where Bush and Richard graduated the same class, 1948-leading to the likelihood that Dick Gelb was a member of the Skull + Bones secret society)?

Bristol-Myers was one of the companies, who profited from the Anthrax-"Attacks" and got a big percentage of the "$3 billion on biodefense".

(In 2000) Bristol-Myers "has contributed just under $650,000 in soft money, PAC and individual contributions to federal parties and candidates, 78 percent to Republicans. The latest installment: a $250,000 check the company contributed to the NRSC on Oct. 22-just days after the Senate approved its version of the bill"

Bryce's story made some press for a while, but her name was never mentioned again.

Bryce, Robert

At the end of 2002, Robert Bryce released his extraordinary book on ENRON: "Pipe dreams".

The Guardian UK described it as "the heady mix of greed, sex and arrogance that produced America's most spectacular financial scandal". Many independent investigators came to the conclusion, that ENRON's role of sponsoring the campaign of President Bush was important for the time schedule of the Sep11th attack.

Brzezinski, Zbigniew

Former US president Jimmy Carter's national security advisor and George Bush Sr.'s campaign advisor.

- Counselor, Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS ->)
- Professor of American Foreign Policy, Johns Hopkins University (->)
- National Security Advisor to President Jimmy Carter (1977-81)
- Trustee and founder of the Trilateral Commission (->)
- International advisor of several major US/Global corporations

- Under Ronald Reagan – member of NSC-Defense Department Commission on Integrated Long-Term Strategy
- Under Ronald Reagan – member of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board
- Past member, Board of Directors, The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR->)

In 1973, Brzezinski was asked by "Insider" David Rockefeller, to put together an organization of the top political and business leaders from around the world.

The result was TC (Trilateral Commission ->), an elitist worldwide organization of "concerned" corporate leaders formed under the guise of fostering international relations and encouraging the trilateral economic linkage among Japan, Europe and North America.

In his book 'Between Two Ages' Brzezinski explains that, "National sovereignty is no longer a viable concept", and that 'Marxism represents a further vital, and creative stage in the maturing of man’s universal vision. Marxism is simultaneously a victory of the external, active man over the inner, passive man, and a victory of reason over belief..."

A majority of 91Skeptics believe, that in case, 911 was a setup (->), it was based on a blueprint by Brzezinski's most famous book "The Grand Chessboard", a strategic analysis of Eurasia and its importance to America's drive for global hegemony.

Budiman, Agus

In late November 2001, Agus Budiman, an indonesian driver for a food delivery service, was officially charged for helping another man, Mohammad Bin Nasser Belfas (->), obtaining a false Virginia driver's license.

FBI special agent Jesus Gomez linked Budiman to three of the hijackers, including suspected ringleader Mohammed Atta, and two others believed to have close ties to the terrorists.

Budiman's defense attorney, Mark Thrash, characterized the government's case as "smoke and mirrors," saying Budiman had only a passing acquaintance with the hijackers through a Hamburg mosque. He said there was no evidence that Budiman had shared the hijackers' views about the United States or known of their plot.

Gomez testified that hijacker Ziad Samir Jarrah (->), who was the official hijacker-pilot of Flight93 (->) used Budiman's name to get into the United States, and Ramzi Binalshib (->), a Muslim cleric from Hamburg, twice unsuccessfully tried to use Budiman's name to get into the country. The FBI says Binalshib was supposed to be the 20th hijacker on Sept. 11.

From the indictment US v Budiman:

"On or about November 4, 2000, the defendant agreed to assist an unindicted coconspirator to obtain a Virginia identification card from the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) by fraudulent means..."

On the same day, Budiman "received a Virginia identification card from agents of the Virginia DMV"

During 2002, it was almost impossible to find updates on Budimans case in the mainstream press, especially on the connection of Virginia DMV and the strange death of "witness" Katherine Smith (->), who was another employee of the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles.

The only chance was to translate articles on Budiman of http://www-tempo.co.id, who covered his story in 2002 for a couple of months.

Finally in September 2002, Straitsetimes revealed, that Budiman was indeed 7 months unguilty in prison and had been cleared of involvement in the terror attacks.

Meanwhile deported to Indonesia, Budiman's lawyer, Mr. Winwan Adnan, said his client was a victim of guilt by association. US authorities say they had reason to be suspicious of Mr. Budiman "because he knew Muhammad Atta" (->).

http://straitstimes.asia1.com.sg/sep11/story/0,1870,142852,00.html

The US Media described Budiman once as "contact person for Osama bin Laden" and said that Budiman allowed hijacker Ziad Jarrah to use his address on his visa application.

Note:
The "food service", Budiman was illegally working for, was Takeout Taxi, "a food delivery service in suburban Washington, Belfas frequently accompanied him as he drove."

Takeout Taxi is one of those services which delivers for a number of restaurants."

Bukhari, Adnan
In the first hours after the attack on the WTC, the FBI accused the wrong guy to be on the passenger list (->), as one of the official hijackers.

His name was Adnan Bukhari, who was still alive and visited the FBI a short time after the attack. CNN, who reported on his confused identity, released later a correction on their website at http://www5.cnn.com/video/us/2001/09/13/mb.retraction.reut.med.html

"...Adnan Bukhari's attorney says the identities of a client and his brother may have been stolen by conspirators."

Question:
If Bukhari's ID had been stolen, why did the FBI not update this possibility on all other 19 hijackers as well?

On September 14, 2001, CNN released their story on Bukhari:

"... Saudi flight engineer Adnan Bukhari ... Federal sources initially identified Bukhari and Ameer Bukhari as possible hijackers who boarded one of the planes that originated in Boston. The two men were first identified as brothers, but Adnan Bukhari said that was not the case.

Their names had been tied to a car found at an airport in Portland, Maine, but Adnan Bukhari's attorney said it appeared their identifications were stolen and said Bukhari had no role in the hijackings. A federal law enforcement official said Bukhari passed an FBI polygraph test and is not considered a suspect.

Ameer Bukhari died in a small plane crash in Florida last year, said Adnan Bukhari's attorney...

On September 13th, 2001, CNN released this "correction":

"We would like to correct a report that appeared on CNN. Based on information from multiple law enforcement sources, CNN reported, that Adnan Bukhari and Ameer Bukhari of Vero Beach Florida, were suspected to be two of the pilots who crashed planes into the World Trade Center. CNN later learned that Adnan Bukhari is still in Florida, where he was questioned by the FBI.

We are sorry for the misinformation. A federal law enforcement source now tells CNN that Bukhari passed an FBI polygraph and is not considered a suspect. Through his attorney, Bukhari says that he is helping authorities. Ameer Bukhari died in a small plane crash last year..."

The captain of AA77 (-> Flight 77) was a Navy pilot and anti-terrorist commander, as reported in the Washington Post on September 16, 2001.

"At Dulles Airport, Capt. Charles Burlingame, who had been a Navy F-4 pilot and once worked on anti-terrorism strategies in the Pentagon, was steering his 757, American Airlines Flight 77, down the runway for the long flight to Los Angeles. Plenty of empty seats in his cabin, like several other cross-country trips at that hour."

Burns, John
Just two days before the Sep11th-attack, the NY Times published a lengthy and chilling article about Osama Bin Laden by reporter John Burns.

But some time after 9-11, the Times scrubbed this article, replacing it with a completely different article that Burns wrote on 9-12. Both articles discuss a 2-hour videotape by Bin Laden that intelligence agencies first saw in June 2001, but ignored until September 2001.

The article was originally published here:

The original article was mirrored on various websites and included this line:

"Intelligence officials who have analyzed the tape now say it features the fullest exposition yet of Mr. bin Laden's views, as well as his terrorist strategy, and thus provides a rough road map of where his organization, Al-Qaeda, is headed.

...Vincent Cannistraro, former head of counterterrorist operations for the Central Intelligence Agency, who reviewed the tape, said Mr. bin Laden's warnings of new attacks should be taken seriously..."

Bush, George
Before President Bush became President of the United States, he was more famous for his drug escapades and his company Arbusto (->), which was established with some help of his father and his ties to saudi arabian oil business and the Carlyle Group (->).
As investigative journalist Greg Palast, BBC (->) found out, the whole election campaign in 2000, including the electronic results in Florida seems to have been rigged, with the help of the computer company DBT Online (->) and some manipulated voting machines.

Many other people think, that the rigged election and its sponsor, ENRON, was part of the blueprint for the Sep11th attack.

Palast was working on his book, "How much money democracy can buy?", when the Sep11th attack happened. During his research, he already found out before Sep11th, that Bush instructed to stop a FBI- investigation on the Bin Laden Family and their ties to the Carlyle Group.

President Bush almost agreed to a beginning of the war against the Taliban -already a few days before the attack.

As later came out, and reported in TIME magazine, the whole war was already planned since 1998.

President Bush gave some disturbing statements after Sep11th.

He claimed, he watched the first crash live on TV, which was impossible.

In these two transcripts he stated, he thought the first crash was caused by a "bad pilot".

President Bush finally confirmed on May 16th, 2002, that he had prior knowledge about an attack with planes.

This revelation created the famous slogan "bush knew" (->)

Bush, George Herbert Walker

President from 1989 to January 1993, served as CIA Director for 13 months from 1976-77. He is now a paid consultant to the Carlyle Group (->), the 11th largest defense contractor in the nation, which shares joint investments with the bin Laden

George H. W. Bush was in the White House on September 11th, as confirmed by an NBC report. (-> Bush1 in White House Sep10th/11th)

The question is, if the FAA or any F16s or F15s forced the hijackers on the plane of AA77, not to crash into the White House or if this plan was just cancelled, before the planes departed from Boston, Washington or New York.

Bush1-Carlyle-Bin laden-ties

Google 'bush carlyle bin laden' and you will find in the meantime more websites on these results than on Britney Spears.

The strong ties between former President George H.W. Bush and the Carlyle Group, who worked together with the Bin Laden family, are confirmed and water-proof.

Their ties are downplayed in the US Media for political reasons.

One famous story, which took place before Sep11th, you will find all over the place:

"George H.W. Bush travels to Saudi Arabia on behalf of the privately owned Carlyle Group, the 11th largest defense contractor in the U.S. While there he meets privately with the Saudi royal family and the bin Laden family."

Bush1 in White House Sep10th/11th

Not a rumour or hoax. The story of George Bush in the White House on Tuesday Morning of Sep11th is true.

While it was never confirmed, if he slept over and for what reason he was in the white house, NBC was the first who reported on this bizarre coincidence:

"...NBC's Tim Russert, on the role former President Bush might be playing: "Ironically, former President Bush was in the White House on Tuesday morning when this attack occurred.
He happened to be visiting there in town. He did not go to the situation room and become part of the negotiations or discussions, but he... left the White House. But he is someone that the current president loves and respects, and those are two pretty good qualities to have in any adviser."
During the situation when our plane was forced to land in China, former President Bush was an invaluable adviser. And I would think that this president will utilize his knowledge, and his thoughts, and his experiences, and I think most Americans would understand that; in fact, encourage it"

Bush2 from September 10th to September 11th

On the night of September 10th to September 11th, President Bush was in Florida and met his brother Jeb Bush (->) , former governor Bob Martinez and other state Republicans.

Governor Martinez was once appointed by President Bush to be the director of the National Campaign Against Use of Drugs. He now operates an international business consulting firm in his hometown of Tampa.

Source: http://dhr.dos.state.fl.us/governors/martinez.html

President Bush later left the meeting with Martinez and stayed at Longboat Key.

On 6:30 AM in the morning of Sep11th, he went already for a four-mile run around the golf course at the Colony Beach and Tennis Resort on Longboat Key.

At 8:30 AM his motorcade left for Booker Elementary School (->).

Bush then learned before he entered the school, that a plane had attacked the Twin Towers, but decided not to cancel his schedule.

Bush claims, when Andrew Card told him about the second trade center attack, he was thinking: "I made up my mind at that moment that we were going to war"

But we knew, that a while before, his adviser Karl Rove brought him the news about the first plane, "saying it appeared to be an accident involving a small, twin-engine plane".

Source: http://www.washingtonpost.com/ac2/wp-dyn?pagename=article&node=&contentId=A42754-2002Jan26>

If Bush had prior knowledge on a terrorist attack, it would explain, why he wasn't shocked, when he heard about the second crash, but it can't explain, why he then still continued his schedule for almost 20 more minutes.

Bush lied here more than once:
He later confirmed that he was thinking about an accident only, but furthermore claims, he saw the first plane crash live on TV:

"I was sitting outside the classroom waiting to go in, and I saw an airplane hit the tower - the TV was obviously on. And I used to fly, myself, and I said, well, there's one terrible pilot. I said, it must have been a horrible accident."

The Washington Post however writes it a little bit different:
"This is pilot error," the president recalled saying. "It's unbelievable that somebody would do this." Conferring with Andrew H. Card Jr., his White House chief of staff, Bush said, "The guy must have had a heart attack."

Bush-Clan

The Bush-Clan is described as the 'collection' of President Bush's relatives (-> Jeb, Marvin, Dorothy etc.) and various business- and political ties with the help of his father, former CIA-director Herbert Walker Bush, who worked as a director of BioPharmacy company Eli Lilly.

The "Bush-clan" contains a huge list of sponsors and employees of his former company Arbusto (->), which later merged to Spectrum7 which was absorbed by Harken Energy (->).
Harken was later sold to a new investment group headed by New York attorney Alan G. Quasha, a partner in the firm of Quasha, Wessely & Schneider. Quasha's father, a powerful attorney in the Philippines, had been a staunch supporter of then-president Ferdinand Marcos. William Quasha had given legal advice to two top officials of the notorious Nagan Hand Bank in Australia, a CIA operation.

Other important "members" of the Bush-clan had been Jackson Stephens of Stephens, Inc., Ghaith Pharoan of BCCI, Khalid Bin Mahfouz (->), James R. Bath (->), Sheikh Khalidah- the prime minister of Bahrain, Sheikh Abdullah Bakhsh (business associate of BCCI ->), Talat Othman (Harken Energy), Brent Scowcroft (->), Henry Kissinger (->), Robert Bass, William DeWitt, Mercer Reynolds and many others.

The Bush-clan is supported by the "Team 100," a group of 249 wealthy individuals, who have contributed at least $100,000 each to the GOP's presidential-campaign committee.

One of the best analysts of the Bush Clan is Stephen Pizzo, author of "Inside Job: The Looting of America's Savings and Loans"

Bush's dog prior knowledge on Bin Laden

"After President Bush learned that his wife, Laura, and his two daughters were safe, he asked jokingly how Barney the family dog was doing.

Many skeptics asked already at that time, "how did they know then it was OBL's men?"

Bush Knew

Famous slogan of the 911Skepticism- and Anti-War movement, based on the fact, that President Bush confirmed prior knowledge on May 15th 2002, about possible attacks on the United States, when he received a CIA memo on August 6th 2001.

On that day Bush received a briefing report with the heading, "Bin Laden Determined to Strike the United States." The report discussed the possibility of traditional airline hijackings.

But the White House later claimed, they put all "terror meetings" on hold, which was a lie.
"To say that the principals never talked about it before Sept. 4 is wrong," another official said. "There were lots of conversations on the margins at meetings or informal meetings.

Source:

Instead of investigating Bush's prior knowledge, the US government tried to turn his confirmation into a "red herring" (->). Only 24 hours later Vice President Cheney even reacted with new warnings on new threats on the United States.

The slogan "Bush Knew" is associated with Bush's "non"-reaction on Sep11th at Booker Elementary School (->), where he didn't react for 25-30 minutes, especially after the 2nd plane crash.

Many 911Skeptics think, that people around Bush forced him to confirm prior knowledge, because there had been already too many independent investigations around on the Internet.

The US Government silenced or sabotaged discussions on public 911-hearings and independent commissions.

Bustani, Jose
In April 2002, the United States fulfilled their so called "chemical convention coup" against brazilian ambassador Jose Bustani.

The United States had lead the campaign against Jose Bustani of the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW), accusing him of mismanagement and taking politically motivated initiatives against the wishes of most members.

At a special sunday meeting on April 21st, 2002, in The Hague, voted by 48-6, with 43 abstentions, Bustani was removed from office.

Bustani's supporters said, that Washington denied, that the real motive was to stop Bustani from persuading Iraq (->) to join the chemical weapons convention, which could weaken the case for a U.S. attack to oust Iraqi President Saddam Hussein.

"What the Americans are doing," Bustani says, "is a coup d'etat. They are using brute force to amend the convention and unseat the director-general."

Source:
http://www.guardian.co.uk/iraq/Story/0,2763,685155,00.html

The Guardian claimed in another article, that states like Micronesia had been bribed to fail to appear at the important voting meeting for or against Bustani. In another coup in the same week, Dr. Robert Watson, chief of the Organisation for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons (OPCW) was removed.

Watson had been pressing member nations to take the threat of global warming seriously, to the annoyance of the oil company ExxonMobil.

Watson was replaced by Indian scientist Rajendra Pachauri, who fought in 2001 against a bid by the Indian government to investigate "a gigantic financial boondoggle" at the controversial Dabhol Power Plant, Rediff.com of India.

Campus-watch.org

In 2002, Daniel Pipes (-> Muslim Websites plugged) founded Campus Watch (http://www.Campus-Watch.org ), a project to "monitor, assess and improve Middle East studies" in North America.

The purpose was to keep an eye on teachers or professors, who criticised the US Government.

Campus-Watch is supported by the following "experts":

Ziad Abdelnour (Lebanon, Middle East Christians, Hizbullah), Mitchell G. Bard (Israel-U.S. cooperation, Arab-Israel conflict, Peace Process), Patrick Clawson (Iran, Middle East economics), Khalid Durán (Islam, Pakistan, Sudan, American Muslims)

Director, Council on Middle Eastern Affairs), Joseph Farah (Arab-Americans, Arab-Israel conflict), William Kristol (U.S. policy in the Middle East), Judith Miller (Militant Islam, Biological warfare), Daniel Pipes (Islam, Arab-Israel conflict, Syria, American Muslims), Michael Rubin

Iran, Iraq (Visiting Fellow, American Enterprise Institute ->) and many others.

Daniel Pipes on the idea of Campus Watch:

"...AMERICANS broadly agree on two facts about the Saddam Hussein regime in Iraq: its brutality and the danger it poses to themselves, especially the danger of nuclear attack. Disagreement arises primarily over what to do: Take out the regime now? Give Baghdad another chance? Follow the United Nations' lead?
Visit an American university, however, and you'll often enter a topsy-turvy world in which professors consider the United States (not Iraq) the problem and oil (not nukes) the issue.

Here's a typical sampling of opinion:

Noam Chomsky (->), professor of linguistics at MIT and far-left luminary, insists that President Bush and his advisers oppose Saddam not because of his many crimes or his reach for nuclear weapons. "We all know . . . what they're aiming at," Chomsky said in a recent interview, "Iraq has the second-largest oil reserves in the world." ...The time has come for adult supervision of the faculty and administrators at many American campuses. Especially as we are at war, the goal must be for universities to resume their civic responsibilities.

This can be achieved if outsiders (alumni, state legislators, non-university specialists, parents of students and others) take steps to create a politically balanced atmosphere, critique failed scholarship, establish standards for media statements by faculty and broaden the range of campus discourse...."

Carlucci, Frank

Former secretary of defense Frank Carlucci, is most famous worldwide for his responsibility with the Carlyle Group (->) and their "never ending ties to the Bin Laden Family" (->).

On Sep 11th, 2001, he was involved in another meeting with Bin Laden Inc.:

"...Present were former secretary of defense Frank Carlucci, former secretary of state James Baker III (->), and representatives of the bin Laden family. This was not some underground presidential bunker or Central Intelligence Agency interrogation room. It was the Ritz-Carlton in Washington, D.C., the plush setting for the annual investor conference of one of the most powerful, well-connected, and secretive companies in the world: the Carlyle Group. And since September 11, this little-known company has become unexpectedly important..."

Rumour has it, that the father of President Bush (->) was at Ritz-Carlton, too after he left the White House on the morning of Sep 11th. (NBC)

From a former article by GROUND ZERO Forum (->) at Scoop (->) on Frank Carlucci:

"United Defense, a subsidiary of the Carlyle Group has become one of the most important contractors of the "war against terrorism" since Sept 11th.

Carlyle has counted George Soros (CFR->), Prince Alwaleed bin Talal bin Abdul Aziz Alsaud of Saudi Arabia, and Osama bin Laden's estranged family among its high-profile clientele. The bin Laden family were shareholders in Carlyle until shortly after 911.

Yet the connection between the Carlyle Group, the Bush family and the bin Laden family is still downplayed in the media. Why?

How much advanced knowledge about an attack did Carlucci have? Did he let the attack happen on purpose?" (-> LIHOP)

Carlyle Group

The Carlyle Group, headquartered in Washington DC and established in 1987, specializes in seizing control of aerospace and defense contractors and then strong-arming, contracts out of the Department of Defense (i.e. United Defense Industries).

Carlyle describe themselves as "a private global investment firm".

Most famous investor in the Carlyle Group has been George Herbert Walker Bush (->).

The Carlyle Group includes former cabinet members of the Elder Bush White House and other oil monopolists, such as James A. Baker III (->), once Secretary of State.

Chairman of Carlyle is Frank Carlucci (->), co-chair of the RAND Center (->).

Carlucci was Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Sears World Trade, Inc. and former Deputy Director of the CIA.

Managing Director of Carlyle is Jonathan E. Colby, who was a General Partner of The Blackstone Group (->) (1989 to 1996).

Colby served in the Nixon Administration as Staff Assistant (Foreign Affairs) on the National Security Council under the direction of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger. (->)

On January 8th, 2002, business magazine Red Herring revealed, that on September 11th 2001, Frank Carlucci, James Baker III, and representatives of the bin Laden family met in Hotel Ritz-Carlton in Washington, D.C., without being interrogated by the FBI.

"Present were former secretary of defense Frank Carlucci, former secretary of state James Baker III, and representatives of the bin Laden family."

In March 2002, United Defense, Carlyle's subsidiary, received over $470 million by Donald Rumsfeld's Department of Defense to continue development on the "problem-riddled" Crusaders.

On August 23rd 2002, the Blackstone Group (->) and the Carlyle Group, have joined forces to bid for TRW's (-> Peter G. Peterson) automotive parts division.

The deal joined the $7bn sale of QwestDex to Carlyle and Welsh Carson as one of the largest buy-out deals of all time.

Source:
In late 2002, it was announced that IBM's Louis V. Gerstner will replace Carlucci in 2003:

"...Louis V. Gerstner, IBM Corp.'s outgoing chairman, will take the helm of The Carlyle Group, the politically connected investment league whose rarefied leadership and investor roster ranges from former president George Bush to the Saudi family of Osama bin Laden.

Gerstner will become chairman of the Washington, D.C.-based Carlyle on Jan. 7, replacing Frank Carlucci, who was defense secretary during the Reagan Administration."

Carnivore

With the sniffer program "Carnivore", the FBI can order an Internet Service Provider to place a special monitoring computer called Carnivore (now renamed "Data Collection System 1000") on its network servers. The FBI can then select the e-mail of surveillance targets for capture and storage.

Companies like Top Layer Networks, Inc. of Westboro, Massachusetts, are developing ways for FBI to install surveillance systems at a few key Internet hubs which would allow federal agents to remotely flip a switch and pound a few keys to begin monitoring the e-mail or web-based mail of any targeted group or individual.

The higher gigabit intercept equipment would be placed at major Internet backbone hubs in strategic locations like Washington, DC, the San Francisco Bay Area, Chicago, Dallas, and Los Angeles.

The large defense and intelligence consulting and engineering firm Booz, Allen & Hamilton (->) has not only developed the FBI's Carnivore capability but it has assisted the bureau in ensuring that all telecommunications companies engineer their systems to ensure they are "wiretap friendly."

Caspian Oil Pipeline

The caspian oil pipeline was one of the most important reasons to start a war against the Taliban, which was planned since 1997/98.

In November 2001, parts of the pipeline had been opened in Russia:

"...A new pipeline which will pump around 600,000 barrels of oil to the west from Central Asia each day will be officially opened on Tuesday. The $2.6 billion Caspian Pipeline Consortium (CPC) project runs from the Tengiz oilfield in western Kazakhstan to Russia.

U.S. companies have invested around $700 million in the pipeline, and U.S. Energy Secretary Spencer Abraham has travelled to Russia for the official opening in the southern region of Novorossiysk.

The CPC was established in 1992 by Russia, the Republic of Kazakhstan and the Sultanate of Oman to run a 1,580 kilometre crude oil pipeline to a Black Sea terminal near Novorossiysk.

Construction began in 1999 and full completion is expected early next year.

The project promises estimates of around $20 billion in tax revenues for Russia and $8.2 billion for Kazakhstan.

David O'Reilly, chairman and CEO of Chevron/Texaco, which has a 15 percent interest in the project, said it was "world class."

He told CNN: "The first capacity of this pipeline is about 600,000 barrels a day..."

The CDC is studying chronic fatigue syndrome, AIDS and other diseases.
In 1978, Wolf Szmunes, the National Institutes of Health and the CDC experimented on more than 1000 nonmonogamous men with vaccines, designed by Merck and other pharmacy companies.
Between 1985 and 1989, the CDC was responsible for most of the shipments of lethal American-produced Biochemical Warfare agents that were sold to Iran.
The National Institutes of Health "ran a massive experimental virus inoculation program and in 1971 under Nixon a Viral Cancer Program..."

CFR

Some CFR critics say, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, and the civil rights movement were all arranged and approved by the CFR and the Insiders- and that each one has played on a kind of mass reverse psychology: the more societal unrest there is, the more people will turn its government for control, eventually becoming so desperate for order that they grant their government more and more power over every citizen's private life.

Chairman of the Board of the CFR is Peter G. Peterson (->), who is executive of the military company Blackstone Group (->), a subsidiary of TRW (->), who merged in Summer 2002 with Raytheon (->).

Maurice R. Greenberg (->) is Chairman of the Board.

Among the other board members are Leslie H. Gelb, Michael P. Peters, Charles G. Boyd, or David Kellogg. Some of their directors hold important positions in many other worldwide connected companies or government related institutions:

John Deutch, Richard C. Holbrooke, Theodore C. Sorensen, George Soros or David Rockefeller.

Sources:
http://www.cfr.org/about/board.php

On many 911-related websites or discussion groups the idea is heavily circulating, that some of the members of the CFR, with the help of other related thinktanks, scripted the blueprint for the Sep11th attack, based on thoughts of Brzezinsky (->) and Project Northwoods (->).

Cfr.org was created in July 1993 by the Council on Foreign Relations in New York (58 E 68th St.).

From an older GROUND ZERO Forum (->) article at Scoop:

"There is a chance for the President of the United States to use this disaster to carry out what his father - a phrase his father used I think only once, and it hasn't been used since - and that is a new world order," CFR member Senator Gary Hart, September 11th.

It's time to demystify the CFR and focus strongly on their influence on the current US Government. It's obvious that with all their connections to the Pentagon, CIA, many intelligence panels and even the media, they must have heard about all these warnings during 2001 and they knew about the war plans against the Taliban at the same time.

We know for example, that CFR members Gary Hart and George Shultz received a warning about an attack a few days before Sept 11th. Coincidence?

The CFR had at least a lot of prior knowledge and needed a reason to start a war against Iraq. Afghanistan was therefore helpful as a warm-up.
The CFR supported the election campaign of George Bush and gave proposals for the team around Bush. It's interesting how their background later was helpful for the schedule in Afghanistan.

But already in 1998 the CFR helped to establish another think tank, called ANSER (http://www.anser.org) This organisation already established the Homeland Security plan and included almost 30 members with a hugely experienced scientific and military background.

...The CFR helped set up the GATT and NAFTA and was and is pushing for the Multilateral Agreement of Investments (MIA).

CFR members Joseph S. Nye and Gary Hart were two of the first people after the attack to offer suggestions for the new Office of Homeland Defense.

Only three days after the attack, the CFR convened a meeting in Washington organized around the U.S. Commission on National Security in the 21st Century. The Commission, which was a joint creation of former President Bill Clinton (CFR) and House Speaker Newt Gingrich (CFR), was co-chaired by former senators Gary Hart (CFR) and Warren Rudman (CFR).

How big is the influence of the CFR on the US Administration?

What's the role of CFR MEMBER Dr. John Hamre, President & CEO since 2000 and formerly Deputy Secretary of Defense?

How big is the influence of other CFR-representatives like David Rockefeller (Honorary Chairman), Vanessa Pokorny (Research Associate, Terrorism Task Force), Theodore C. Sorensen, George Soros, Richard C. Holbrooke or Peter G. Peterson (Chairmen of the Board)?

What exactly did CFR member James Z. Zogby know about a possible attack? http://www.cfr.org/Public/publications/PubDiplom_TF.html Zogby is President of the American Arab institute, which is sponsored by the White House. At the American Arab Institute works Khaled Elgindy (US Commission in International Religious Freedom), whose brother Amr Ibrahim Elgindy is No.1 suspect in an 911-insider trading (->) plot, another connection which is totally ignored by the National Media.

Elgindy worked together with ex-FBI agents Jeffrey A. Royer and Lynn Wingate, who obviously had advanced knowledge on the attack on America. The indictment is at: http://news.findlaw.com/hdocs/docs/fbi/uselgindy502indi.pdf

Another arrested suspect was Derrick M Cleveland, who short sold some stock of Nuclear Solutions Inc. after the attack.

Nuclear Solutions merged this year with RTS. On Feb 28, 2002 the company entered into a support contract with Los Alamos National Laboratory to support the company's development of photonuclear transmutation technologies.5

__________________________
During the election campaign for George Bush, in August 2000, Vice President Dick Cheney stepped down as CEO of Halliburton Root and Brown (->), but still had a considerable shareholding in the conglomerate.

Halliburton worked together with UNOCAL (->), who had big interests in the Afghanistan region.

Richard Celler, former director of "UNOCAL Pakistan Ltd" once said:

"...UNOCAL controlled is best contacts, into US-government circle around US-vice president Cheney, that at a project office to the line plan involved. In addition assured "UNOCAL...() the cooperation of influential lobbyist as well as Ex-Foreign Minister Kissinger (->), the earlier US-ambassador in Pakistan, Robert Oakley, and the former colleague of the UN-Sondermission in Afghanistan, Charlie Santos, also US-American."

In 1996, Unocal (advisor at that time was Henry Kissinger ->) signed an agreement with the Taliban and the Afghan Northern Alliance (->) giving Unocal the go-ahead to build a south-bound pipeline through Afghanistan to Pakistan and the expanding Asain market.

Halliburton was UNOCALs construction partner.

In 1997, a multinational consortium was evaluating construction of a Central Asia Gas (CentGas ->) pipeline between Turkmenistan and Pakistan. Part of this pipeline would have crossed western Afghanistan. However, Unocal pulled out of the consortium in 1998 and the pipeline was never constructed.

From the original Ground Zero Forum archive:

"In June 2001, Cheney asked Indian opposition leader Sonia Gandhi about a multimillion-dollar debt owed to Enron from a major energy project in India. A Cheney aide said, the vice president has had three meetings with Indian officials since the Bush administration took office.

The $64 million Enron debt has come up just once, in the June 27th meeting with the opposition leader.

Halliburton, in the same time finished new deals with the US Defence.

In 2001 the "Fasttrax consortium team" [US/UK] provided tank transporter service to British Army include Oshkosh Truck Corporation and Deutsche Bank.

Local partners of FastTrax include King Trailers Limited, who produce "Disaster Recovery Vehicles" for the middle east region. King Consortium is a subsidiary of the Halliburton Company.

MechTool has many "alliances in the Far East [and] Middle East".

http://www.mechtool.co.uk/company_profile.htm

In March 2000, Military Magazine Janes (->) already reported, that "seven consortia were invited to submit outline proposals for the Heavy Equipment Transporter (HET) service and eventually two companies, Defence Heavy Equipment (Serco Military teamed with MAN truck) and FastTrax (Brown & Root teamed with Oshkosh Truck), went through to the final stage.

The official endorsement of the preferred bidder due later this year."

The BBC confirmed in December 2001 the August 2001 deal, which took place only a few weeks before the Sep11th attack.

"A private consortium called FastTrax headed by Brown and Root (->), a subsidiary of US oil services giant Halliburton, has become the preferred bidder for a £300m contract to provide the British Army's new tank transporters."

http://news.bbc.co.uk/hi/english/business/newsid_1689000/1689031.stm

On December 3rd, 2001, BBC said, that "Britain's contribution to the ongoing struggle in Afghanistan" could be worth "about £13bn over a number of years".

Cheney always played the mystery man.

During Summer 2001, Cheney was working on a "top secret" Energy Development Task Force.

Immediately after the Sep11th attack, Cheney (who had four heart attacks in the last few years) vanished for various times from the political landscape. In fact his whereabouts had been questioned various times until he suddenly announce a trip to the Middle East.

In late 2002, he was responsible for the arrestment of a photographer.

In the meantime, various US Congress Members like Sam Donaldson asked for an investigation of Halliburton + Dick Cheney, later supported by watch group Judicial Watch and even the GAO (->).

Donaldson pointed out:

"A company that, in one year, changed its accounting rules to count $100 million of cost overence (ph) as revenue without telling their investors for more than a year. This was on the advice of Arthur Andersen. The company's Halliburton.
The man who made that decision as CEO was Dick Cheney.

Cheney, Lynne

Lynne Cheney, wife of Vice President Dick Cheney, was on Lockheed Martin's Board of Directors from 1994 until January 2001.

(-> Lockheed)

Cheney, vacation

Not only President Bush was on vacation during August 2001, Vice President Dick Cheney as well:

"Vice President Dick Cheney took time off from his month-long working vacation Monday to outline his plans for August in Jackson Hole and to reflect on "an amazing year."...

...Cheney, who will live at his Teton Pines home about six miles west of Jackson until Labor Day, defended his energy policy, supported a local decision to limit drilling around the Gros Ventre Wilderness, recalled a life of service in Washington and said his health problems are not affecting his ability to fish for trout on his favorite Western waters."

Chevron

Oil company with deep connections to Kazakhstan, which was connected with Condoleezza Rice (->). Rice was a director of Chevron through out the 1990s.

On February 19th, 2003, David O'Reilly, chairman and chief executive of Chevron Texaco complained there "was a view among some sections of the public that the conflict was about nothing but oil and that was not a good enough reason to go to war."

Chiaradio, Robert J.

Former head of the FBIHQ during the Sep11th attack.

In November 1989, he was ordered to FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.
In May 1996, Mr. Chiaradio was ordered to the Tampa Field Office to serve as the Assistant Special Agent in Charge.

After the terrorist events that occurred on September 11, 2001, Mr. Chiaradio was asked to report back to FBI Headquarters for a temporary assignment as Director Mueller's assistant.

Robert J. Chiaradio left the FBIHQ in 2002:
"...On July 8th, 2002 Chiaradio was named by KPMG Consulting (->), one of the world’s largest business consulting and systems integration firms, as managing director and lead advisor on homeland security...."

Chicago-Connection

Until 1995, ex-FBI anti-terror specialist John O'Neill had an office in Chicago and investigated on possible links of muslim citizens.

Ex-FBI agent Robert Wright (->) was based in Chicago, who had accused the FBI of shutting down his 1998 criminal probe into alleged terrorist-training camps in Chicago and Kansas City, which he linked to Hamas. He once was allowed as the only FBI agent to seize terrorist funds.

One source of the funds was Yassin Kadi (-> Al-Kadi, Yassin), a Saudi businessman, who was a financier of Osama bin Laden (->), as stated by the FBI.

In 2000, Robert McFarlane (->, former national security adviser in the Reagan administration) was hired by two wealthy Chicago commodity speculators, Joseph and James Ritchie, to assist them in recruiting and organizing anti-Taliban guerrillas among Afghan refugees in Pakistan.

On February 7, 2001 (due to his indictment) Zacarias Moussaoui (->) flew out of Karachi to London from where he flew to Chicago carrying $35,000.

On or about February 23, 2001, Moussaoui flew from London, England to Chicago, Illinois, declaring at least $35,000 cash on his Customs declaration, and then from Chicago to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

In Summer 2001, Chicago attorney David Schippers (->), former Clinton prosecutor was warned by various FBI agents from Chicago on a terror attack on america.

On September 11th, 2001, one source told the Chicago Tribune that the FBI was searching for a number of passengers who were due to fly on American Airlines Flight 43 from Boston, which was grounded due to a mechanical problem. This plane was rumoured as the so called "fifth plane" (->) of the Sep 11th-attack.

After September 11th, 2001, the United States assets included the al Baraka Bancorp Inc. in Chicago, Illinois, and al Baraka Bancorp Inc. in Houston, Texas. Al Baraka Bank (which means "the plan"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Dallah Albaraka Group (->), is based in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia (->).

Global Relief Foundation (->), a benefit organisation, accused of supporting terrorism, is based in the Chicago-area.

Laila I. Gomaa, mother of 911-insider trading suspect Amr I. "Tony" Elgindy (together with FBI agents Lynn Wingate and Jeffrey Royer) works as a pediatrician in Chicago. Elgindy ("Mad Max of Wall Street", WIRED Magazine) was accused of having advanced knowledge of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

In May 2000, it was revealed that he worked as an informant for the SEC, FBI and other government agencies, as he was sentenced to four months in prison after pleading guilty to insurance fraud.

In 1992, his own mother accused Elgindy and his AMR Securities Inc. of making unauthorized trades in her pension account. El Gindy's brother Khaled El Gindy works for the White House supported Arab American Institute (->).

In late 2001, Noam Chomsky released his book "9-11", in which he reminded, that "we should recognize that in much of the world the U.S. is regarded as a leading terrorist state, and with good reason."

Source:
http://www.fair.org/media-beat/011206.html
In an interview in March 2002, Noam Chomsky pointed out, that what drives the so called "War on Terrorism", "has nothing to do with terrorism. What drives it is control over resources, and that’s important. It’s not just oil. For example, another major resource, which people don’t pay enough attention to, is water."

Source:
http://www.agmews.org/issues/164/commentary.html

"The smart way to keep people passive and obedient is to strictly limit the spectrum of acceptable opinion, but allow very lively debate within that spectrum."

In April 2002, Chomsky started to publish a new print magazine called http://www.war-times.org/

On December 6th, 2002 Chomsky "analysed the Bushies" in an interview with Anthony DiMaggio (http://indy.pabn.org/):

"Regaining control over Iraq’s oil resources (not access, but control; a very different matter) is longstanding. 9/11 provided a pretext for the resort to force, not only by the US: also Russia, China, Indonesia, Israel, many others. ...Bush is probably irrelevant. But the people around him have a record: They are recycled Reaganites. ...It’s interesting to read the archives of Nazi Germany, fascist Japan, the Soviet Union. The leaders are acting from the highest imaginable motives, and probably believed it."

=================
The history of the CIA began with a plan of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was concerned about American intelligence deficiencies. He asked New York lawyer William J. Donovan to draft a plan for an intelligence service. The Office of Strategic Services was established in June 1942.

(Due to some historicans, the early OSS was in reality created with some nazi money.
Compare: -> Nazis in the Repulibican Party and USA -> "Shadow of the Swastika")

In October 1945, the OSS was abolished and its functions transferred to the State and War Departments.
After some debate, on how a secret intelligence should be seperated from the work of the FBI, in 1946 President Harry S. Truman established the Central Intelligence Group with Rear Admiral Sidney W. Souers as the first director.

Under the provisions of the National Security Act of 1947 (which became effective on 18 September 1947) the National Security Council (NSC) and the Central Intelligence Agency were established.

In January 1952, CIA's intelligence functions were grouped under the Directorate for Intelligence (DDI). Many new sub divisions had been created, i.e. the Office of Scientific Intelligence (OSI ->), which engaged in basic scientific research; and the Office of Current Intelligence (OCI), which provided current political research.

During the late 90s, former CIA-members had been involved in the development of the Homeland Security, a long time before Sep11th, at ANSER (->) or BENS.

The evidence, that the CIA had prior knowledge on Sep11th can be located in various references.

Their long list of informants, moles and confirmed contacts with the official hijackers, their downplayed teamwork with other intelligence services (Yemen, Malaysia, Spain, France, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia) and the ignored warnings of others (Israel, UK, Russia, Germany etc...) point on the strong possibility, that the CIA knew or observed all 19 (20) hijackers before Sep11th and was forced by their "contacts" in weapon- and oil industry, to let the attack happen on purpose (->LIHOP).

To search for political criticism on the CIA would turn into a never ending study.

On November 7th, 2002, Green MP Keith Locke was calling for the CIA to be classified a terrorist group after destroying a car carrying six al Qaeda members in Yemen.
The cross reference links (and moles?) of the CIA would fill another book.

CIA building strike on Sep1 1th
On the morning of September 11th 2001, John. Fulton and his team at the CIA were running a pre-planned simulation to explore the emergency response issues that would be created if a plane were to strike a building. Little did they know that the scenario would come true in a dramatic way that day. Information is the most powerful tool available in the homeland security effort.
At the core of every initiative currently underway to protect our country and its citizens is the challenge of getting the right information to the right people at the right time. How can so much information from around the world be captured and processed in meaningful and timely ways?
Mr. Fulton shares his insights into the intelligence community, and shares a vision of how today's information systems will be developed into even better counter-terrorism tools of tomorrow.

About John Fulton:
John Fulton’s 25 years in the intelligence community has contributed to his recognition as an expert in risk & threat response analysis, scenario gaming, and strategic planning. He is on staff for the Strategic War Gaming Division of the National Reconnaissance Office, and as a member of U.S. Joint Forces Command's Project Alpha - a prestigious "think tank" for advanced concepts related to such issues as homeland security.
He formerly served as the mission director for our nation's satellite imagery program as well as replacing Army Astronaut Same Gemar as the Director of the National Security Space Master Plan for the U.S. Department of Defense and Intelligence Space Communities under the auspices of the Deputy UnderSecretary of Defense (Space).

==========
Due to a June 2002 article by the NY Daily News, a former CIA "mole" of middle east related "terror groups", warned about an Al Qaeda training camp, a couple of months before Sep11th:
http://www.nydailynews.com/2002-06-01/News_and_Vews/Beyond_the_City/a-152809.asp

U.S. had agents inside al-Qaeda
June 4, 2002
"U.S. intelligence overheard al-Qaeda operatives discussing a major pending terrorist attack in the weeks prior to Sept. 11 and had agents inside the terror group, but the intercepts and field reports didn't specify where or when a strike might occur, according to U.S. officials. The disclosures add to a growing body of evidence to be examined in congressional hearings that open today into how the CIA, FBI and other agencies failed to seize on intelligence pointing to the deadliest terror attack in U.S. history."

In December 2001, the Washington Post reported, that "the CIA recruited and paid a team of 15 Afghan agents to track Osama bin Laden ‘s movements in Afghanistan."

The team, whose code name is still classified, operated from early 1998 to this Sept. 11, the Post said."

CIA-Observation
=================
As already known shortly after Sep11th, the CIA observed two of the official hijackers, Khalid Al-Midhar and Nawaq Alhazmi, since early 2000:
Source:

In January 2000, Khalid al-Midhar is observed by the CIA in Malaysia.
He is later the suspected hijacker aboard American Airlines Flight 77, which crashed into the Pentagon. The CIA officially "lost" his track later.
Almost unknown, the FBI observed al-Midhar and Khalid Nawaq Alhazmi, too, however "someone" cancelled their investigation in August 2000 for unexplained reasons.

"...Newsweek said the information was held at the CIA's Counterterrorism Center, the base camp for the agency's war on bin Laden. The magazine said that when Almihdhar's visa expired, the State Department, not knowing any better, issued him a new one in July 2001, even though the CIA had linked him to one of the suspected bombers of the USS Cole (news - web sites) in Yemen in October 2000.

On May 24th 2002, US Media released the famous whistleblower-letter of Colleen Rowley:

"When, in a desperate eleventh-hour measure to bypass the FBI HQ roadblock, the Minneapolis division undertook to directly notify the CIA's counterterrorist center, FBI HQ personnel chastised the Minneapolis agents for making the direct notification without their approval."

Now, one should recognise this:

"Newsweek said FBI officials have prepared a detailed chart showing how agents could have uncovered the terrorist plot if they had learned about Almihdhar and Alhazmi sooner, given their contacts with at least five of the other hijackers."

So : the CIA's Counterterrorism Center had information on Almihdhar and Alhazmi -- as Al Qaeda operatives -- and was directly notified about Zacarias Moussaoui (by desperate agents in Minneapolis). Furthermore, since the Minneapolis agents were reprimanded by their superiors after talking to this office, it's pretty clear that someone there was talking to higher-ups at the FBI.

NOTE:
We know that Coleen Rowleys memo to the FBIHQ and her own contacts with the NSLU had been finally ignored on August 28th.

CIPRO

In July 2000, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) endorsed as a treatment for anthrax (then largely unknown to the public as a threat) an antibiotic produced by the Bayer Corporation (->).

The drug was Cipro.

As Tethrahedron (->) reported, 'after September 11, 2001, the drug became the one-of-choice for treating anthrax in the wave of attacks that terrified the United States. However other well-established drugs are far less expensive and proven to be just as effective.

Broadcasters such as Peter Jennings on the ABC Nightly News featured the antibiotic Cipro, without mention of far less costly and risky alternatives to mass population prophylaxis.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) advanced Cipro for anthrax along with a "Model State Emergency Health Powers Act" for generic bioterrorism response including forced drugging and certain vaccinations for anthrax and smallpox.

Due to the panic and official endorsements, Cipro sales skyrocketed more than 1000%. At a single consumer prescription cost of $700 for a mere sixty-day supply, the resulting revenue helped rescue Bayer from the brink of bankruptcy.

Then, Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Secretary Tommy Thompson rushed to spend millions more on a "special" Cipro contract in further defense of the nation's health. By November 2001, in the wake of the anthrax mailings, more than 30,000 panicked people in the United States were taking Cipro"

Clarke, Richard

Richard Clarke, head of the CSG and Cyber Security Task Force knew about all the warnings to FBI and CIA and the plans of a war against the Taliban.

From a GROUND ZERO Forum aticle, originally released at Scoop:

"Something spectacular is going to happen."

July 5th, 2001 Richard Clarke in a White House meeting

http://www.npr.org/programs/morning/features/2002/may/timeline/

If anyone knew most about warnings and war plans at the same time, it was Richard Clarke. Richard Clarke was connected with John O'Neill (->), who died in the World Trade Center.

This is what the New Yorker wrote about their relationship:

"On a Sunday morning in February, 1995, Clarke went to his office to review intelligence cables that had come in over the weekend. One of the cables reported, that Ramzi Yousef, the suspected mastermind behind the first World Trade Center bombing, two years earlier, had been spotted in Pakistan.
Clarke immediately called the F.B.I. A man whose voice was unfamiliar to him answered the phone. "O'Neill," he growled. "Who are you?" Clarke said. "I'm John O'Neill," the man replied. "Who the hell are you?" O'Neill had just been appointed chief of the F.B.I.'s counter-terrorism section, in Washington. He was forty-two years old, and had been transferred from the bureau's Chicago office. After driving all night, he had gone directly to headquarters that Sunday morning without dropping off his bags.

When he heard Clarke's report about Yousef, O'Neill entered the F.B.I.'s Strategic Information Operations Center (SIOC) and telephoned Thomas Pickard (->), the head of the bureau's National Security Division in New York. Pickard then called Mary Jo White, the United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, who had indicted Yousef in the bombing case.

One of O'Neill's new responsibilities was to put together a team to bring the suspect home. It was composed of agents who were working on the case, a State Department representative, a medical doctor, a hostage-rescue team. In Washington, O'Neill became part of a close-knit group of counter-terrorism experts which formed around Richard Clarke.

The members of this inner circle, which was known as the Counter-terrorism Security Group (C.S.G.), were drawn mainly from the C.I.A., the National Security Council, and the upper tiers of the Defense Department, the Justice Department, and the State Department.

They met every week in the White House Situation Room. "John could lead a discussion at that level," R. P. Eddy, who was an N.S.C. director at the time, told me. "He was not just the guy you turned to for a situation report. He was the guy who would say the thing everybody in the room wishes he had said."

http://www.newyorker.com/fact/content/0201114fa_FACT1

During 2001 Richard Clarke worked almost 24/7 in the CSG and was exposed to a great deal of information about a possible terrorist threat. On April 20, when the group transmitted a 12-page discussion draft for the first time to their superiors, they were proposing a plan of "significant action to permanently erode what is now a robust terrorist organization."

Intelligence had been streaming in concerning a likely Al Qaeda attack. "It all came together in the third week in June," Clarke said. "The C.I.A.'s view was that a major terrorist attack was coming in the next several weeks."

As MSNBC confirmed, on May 23rd 2002 Richard Clarke reacted first: "...As a precaution, however, the National Security Council's counterterrorism coordinator, Richard Clarke, advised the FAA to issue a warning about the hijacking threat, which resulted in the June 22 warning, officials said...."

On June 29, 2002 U.S. Ambassador to Pakistan William B. Milam, who heard about all the warnings of a, "major attack on U.S. interests", tried to get in touch with the Taliban Ambassador Abdul Salam Zaeef in Pakistan. Richard Clarke heard about this planned meeting by telephone, "conveyed the same message to intermediaries in the United Arab Emirates".

"On July 5th, 2001 Richard Clarke convened a White House meeting of the Counterterrorism Security Group; then met with Rice and Bush Chief of Staff Andrew Card; then met again with CSG plus, Federal Aviation Administration, FBI and Immigration and Naturalization Service. Clarke told them: 'something spectacular is going to happen."

From then on Richard Clarke met daily with his team.

Clarke supervised the cyberspace security and was already counterterrorism coordinator for President Clinton.

He coordinated the unmanned Predator test flights, which had been later used in Afghanistan. Instead of conflicting reports, USA TODAY found out, that "officials ...have said unarmed Predators flew reconnaissance missions over Afghanistan before 2001."

This means, a war against the Taliban was long in the planning.

Clarke confirmed, that a "mud complex was built in the deserts of the United States to simulate bin Laden's headquarters, and then struck by a Hellfire missile fired by a Predator...."

Clarke is member of the Homeland Security Council and the Critical Infrastructure Protection http://www.state.gov/g/stas/8580.htm http://www.state.gov/g/stas/8580.htmlhttp://www.state.gov/g/stas/8580.htm

And Clarke was a warhawk as well.

"...In October 1998, Richard Clarke continued the policy of US officials announcing confusing assessments, even including nuclear weapons in one single tally.

In his remarks at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, he observed that, "Twenty-two countries, however, do possess them, if you consider biological weapons, chemical weapons, and nuclear weapons to be weapons of mass destruction."

After Clarke’s White House meeting on July 5th, 2002 he was updated about every new involvement:

July 6 - The Counterterrorism Security Group meets again in the White House; learns that targets for attack are located in Paris, Rome and Turkey (->).

July 10 - Phoenix FBI agent Kenneth Williams sends electronic memo to FBI headquarters, urging investigation of possible terrorists connected to bin Laden enrolled in American flight schools.

July 18 - FAA warns airlines to exercise the highest level of caution. Mid-July CIA disrupts attacks in Paris, Rome and Turkey (->).

July 20-23 - High Alert when President Bush attends G-8 summit in Genoa, Italy.

July 31 - The FAA issues another warning to airlines: terrorists are planning and training for hijackings.

Aug. 6 - CIA's Tenet briefs President Bush in Crawford, Texas, on a generalized terror threat, including Osama bin Laden and hijackings.

Aug. 17 - The INS dets Zacarias Moussaoui for suspicious activity at a Minnesota flight school.
Sept. 4 - Robert Mueller becomes FBI director. A week before the Sept. 11 attack, FBI investigators told the Federal Aviation Administration that student-pilot Zacarias Moussaoui had been arrested and was under investigation as a potential terrorist with a particular interest in flying Boeing 747s. But the agency decided against warning U.S. airlines to increase security.

Clarke always had the same information as the FBI and CIA, however, MSNBC claimed: "...The FBI didn't inform Mr. Clarke or other White House officials about the Moussaoui arrest prior to Sept. 11, officials said..."

At the same time CFR members George Shultz and Gary Hart received a warning and Mayor Willie Brown of San Francisco.

http://www_sfgate.com/cgi-bin/article.cgi?file=chronicle/archive/2001/09/14/MN92245.DTL&type=printable

During the last weeks before Sept. 11th, the CIA received still more warnings from the intelligence services of Italy, France, Jordan, Egypt, Russia, Germany, UK, Morocco, and Israel. The latter warned them twice.

The only secret service which didn't warn the US, was Pakistan's ISI, even with all their good connections to the Taliban and therefore information about Bin Laden. But their chief General Massoud visited Washington between Sep. 4th and Sep. 15th.

Nothing is known about this meeting, but he met Richard Clarke's friend Richard Armitage and James Woolsey of the CIA. From all these reports it is pretty obvious that some high ranking officials in Pentagon and CIA allowed the attack to happen to justify war against the Taliban...

NOTE:
On January 31st, 2002, Richard Clarke resigned as the director of Cyber Security. He dismissed reports that his bureaucratic opponents had blocked him from being offered a senior post in the new Department of Homeland Security. Clarke left with criticism: "When we sacrifice our civil liberties and privacy rights, the terrorists win because they have gotten us to change the nature of our country"

Veronica Clarke is spokeswoman for the Pentagon and Pentagon officials.

In an interview with Greta Van Susteren of Fox News, Clarke told Susteren, how they reacted on the attack and didn't decide to evacuate the building:

"...we were talking about some incredibly tricky issue that we were going to have to address that day on Macedonia, and somebody points to the TV screens in the room and says, well, this is the story of the day. And that was when the first plane hit the World Trade Center. And then, all the operations --

...Secretary Rumsfeld was still in his office, he was getting a briefing on another matter, he was going to be joining us. And we're in a room with no windows, we've got tons of screens up with different agencies, all the different networks, and felt this enormous thump and a big noise...

...I said, it must be a car bomb. And somebody else said, it's a bomb of some kind..."

Clearstream
==============

All international banking transactions are monitored and electronically recorded by three "clearing" companies.

They are based in Luxemburg (Clearstream) and in Brussels (Euroclear and Swift).

French journalist Denis Robert has made a long inquiry and wrote a book about the "Clearstream" system. His enquiry revealed that that half of the Clearstream accounts weren't published.

Robert managed to obtain some April 2000 microfiles. He explains in his book that on one of those microfiles, is the "Bahrain International Bank", one of the 8 banks mentioned by President Bush as being a party to Bin Laden's transactions.

Several European non-governmental organisations have been asking for years, that these international finance "black boxes" should be controlled by governments, rather than just by banks.

They're asking that these companies should be under public control.

Via the 3 companies, all financial transactions are traceable via these microfiles.

Clearstream International was formed in January 2000 through the merger of Cedel International and Deutsche Boerse Clearing.

In an May 2001 interview with Denis Robert, he explained, that one originator of this file system died under strange circumstances on Corsica in 1983. His name was Gerard Soisson.

He was in vacancy in a Mediterranean club with his 4 children. He broke down on the terrace of his hotel, heart failure, natural death concluded the doctor."

As twisted in some reports, it was in fact General Pervez Musharraf (->), who halted this attack on Bin Laden in 1999, not Clinton.

Cointelpro

In the 1960s and 70s, the FBI's Counter Intelligence Program, known as COINTELPRO, was used to gather personal details on the lives and habits of a wide array of activists ranging from public figures like Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., actress Jane Fonda and noted pediatrician Benjamin Spock, to members of local anti-war and civil rights groups. This information was used to disrupt lawful organizing and protest activities.

Many civil liberty groups argued in 2001-2002, that the "Re-Hooverisation" of the FBI and Homeland Security Bill is nothing more than a relaunch of Cointelpro.

Collapse, Building 7

Almost forgotten or unknown, Building 7 collapsed on September 11th, but at around 5:30 PM.

http://www.digitalglobe.com/images/qb/manhattan_ground_zero_co080202_dg.jpg

The most important and disturbing facts on Building 7 (Questions 5-11 compiled by "ENDIMION"):

1) Both DoD and CIA had an office in Building 7 on the 25th floor.

On the 26th and 27th floor was the office of Standard Chartered Bank (->).
Due to the official indictment of Zacarias Moussaoui (->), the official 20th hijacker (->), it was a dubai account of Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi from Standard Chartered, which transfered money to Moussaoui.

The FBI has linked Hasawi aka Mustafa Muhammad Ahmed , via joint credit card accounts, to Khalid Shaikh Mohammed (->), one of the accused masterminds of the Sep11th attack.

http://www.dailycamera.com/bdc/nation_world_news/article/0,1713,BDC_2420_1629906,00.html

As we learned later, another alias of Shaikh Mohammed is Saeed Sheikh (also spelled Shaykh Said).
Actually, CNN reported in October 2001, that "investigators have now determined that Saeed and Mustafa Muhammad Ahmad are the same person."

Sources: CNN, 10/6/01, Washington Post, 12/13/01
Saeed was later accused of being one of the killers of Daniel Pearl (->).

2) There is no official testimony on the collapse on Building 7, only a study, which doesn't come to any single conclusion, why B7 collapsed.
In September 2002, Con Edison therefore decided to sue Building 7.

3) The former footprints of Building 7 can not be visited by tourists, it's the only side, which was still closed at the end of 2002. Federales watching the outside of the former building.

4) Blackstone Group, a subsidiary of military company TRW, obtained a mortgage on Building 7 in October 2000.

5) 34 km north of WTC, Lamont-Doherty Earth Observatory of Columbia University registered a 0.6 Richter earthquake at the begining of collapse.
-Isn't it a bit strange to register it 20 km far away? In the beginning of the fall?

6) The building fell down in an ALMOST PERFECT free fall.
As it was 174 m high it's free fall would be 5.956 s. It fell in 6 s.
That is difference of 0.05 s!

-It is maybe the most promising physical fact that has to be considered!
Simple equation says it.
\( t = \sqrt{\frac{2h}{g}} \)
And look how it violently starts to sink! Without any tensity or cracking of the facade.

7) It fell DIRECTLY in its own footprint. The debris was spread only a bit more than 10m around.
The pile of debris was less than 15m high.
Normally, it should TILT and destroy a block, or another building, like Verizon, or US Post Office. It should collapse slowly. And the pile would consist of many big pieces of floors-none found. There were only few "big" pieces of facade maybe 3-4 floors big. Everything else was MUSHED.
It is extremely dumb to even think that EVERYTHING would be broken. Simple collapses (like when we just sewer the building's foundations) should be pretty caotic (even more for a LOCAL fire).
8) It was burning (not so vigorously as media says, I saw the pictures) for 7 hours. Those fires were local, spread on 2 floors. Not AS CLOSE as the First Interstate Bank in 1988 L.A.
(it's FOUR floors were burning for 18 HOURS! The fires were great).
Someone at other forum mentioned diesel explosions. I ask you: Do you think that diesel fuel (oily and heavy) could EXPLODE and throw of balance a STEEL tower?
I think no. Neither car gas could. Diesel doesn't create so much flameless steam that could get into a proper mix with O2. And there have to be good conditions. Car gas is volatile and it would explode, but NOT with such vigourosity as for example TNT. No way.

9) It's penthouse sanked first, meaning that the center of the building was destroyed first. I think the center was mushed, then the facade broke down while falling.

10) Chain squibs are visible going on ~10 floors. Did you see them on your video that you posted a link to?
Again mushing. I wonder sometimes why would the bad guys that did this plant SÖ MUCH detonators inside-it is useless. There could be less of it.

11) First steel-framed building in history that fell cause of fires.

Collapse, Twin Towers
======================
Many circulated video clips of the "collapse" showed some physical evidence on controlled demolition, as shown on the cover photo from "The War on Freedom" (->)
http://www.bombinsidewtc.dk/
As independent researcher Plaguepuppy (->) observed, at the start of the collapse, the south tower begins to lean to the south, away from us in this view, so there should be no significant compression (and possibly some traction, if the core has any resistance) on the side closest to us. This means that there is no way from the action of gravity to generate the high pressures it would take to pulverize and eject material in the manner seen.
On Plaguepuppy's website is a collection of footage on the collapse.
http://home.attbi.com

His "Spirepage" shows interesting videos of other parts which started to drop almost straight down and then turned into dust in place, as seen in one animation:
http://home.attbi.com/~jmking/The_spire_expires.htm
http://home.attbi.com/~jmking/dust_tower.gif

Plaguepuppy on the fire:
"As someone who does not believe that the plane damage and fires alone can explain the way the towers collapsed, my biggest problem with the fires is that they got air almost exclusively from around the edges, yet are claimed to have generated enough heat to severely soften the core columns. There were fire shutters on each floor to keep the elevator and utility shafts of the core from acting as air vents or chimneys, so the oxygen and most of the heat generated would be around the edges, far from the core."

Christopher Bollyn of American Free Press (->) came to the following conclusion:

"Impacts of the magnitude of those that occurred on September 11 were considered by the designers of the twin towers and the towers were designed to survive them.
The possibility of a jet-fuel fires the size of those that occurred on September 11 were considered by the designers of the twin towers and the towers were designed to survive them.
In order to explain why the towers collapsed, where other steel framed buildings would have survived, the WTC conspirators invented the "truss theory".
The "truss theory" is seriously flawed. It cannot explain how the perimeter wall transmits wind loading to the central core."
The "truss theory", if accepted, leads to a 33 percent underestimate of the amount of steel in the towers. That is, the "truss theory" does not account for the whereabouts of 32,000 tons of steel (of 96,000 tons) used in the construction of each of the towers.

The "truss theory" is a lie that has been spun to convince a gullible public, that what appeared to be the controlled demolitions of three of the World Trade Center buildings, were actually natural consequents of the aircraft strikes and not controlled demolitions at all. There are photos showing large steel girders positioned where the "official" line states that only (double) trusses should be.

In all, one has to conclude that the "truss theory" is false and that those who push it are part of a large conspiracy to deceive the American people.

ARCHITECTS MUST PROVIDE WORLD TRADE CENTER BLUEPRINTS AND PLANS.

Design architecture for the World Trade Center was provided by Minoru Yamasaki & Associates. Emery Roth & Sons served as the architect of record. Since these people have nothing to hide, they should provide the architectural plans of the World Trade Center, for all to see. This will enable any misunderstandings regarding the facts of the collapse to be established and corrected. In fact, Minoru Yamasaki & Associates, Roth & Sons, or their descendant companies, should put the entire set of architectural plans on the internet.

Collins, Aukai

Aukai Collins, the informant, said he worked for the FBI for four years in Phoenix (1996-2000), monitoring the Arab and Islamic communities there. Hani Hanjour was the hijacker Collins claimed to have told the FBI about while Hanjour was in flight training in Phoenix.

Sources:
- Aukai Collins released later his book "My Jihad" (Lyons Press), which was reviewed at Salon.com:
  "Collins offers a grunt's-eye view of the underground world of the mujahedeen: the training camps, the motley platoons fighting away in various global hot spots, the smooth-talking organizers gathering fighters, funds and arms in Western cities. Then there's the FBI and the CIA; finally repelled by Islamist terrorism, Collins wound up working for both agencies for several years during which they earned his implacable contempt.

In 1993, Collins trained at the Khalid Bin Whalid camp just over the Pakistani border in Afghanistan. The camp was sponsored by Osama bin Laden, among others, and was leveled by U.S. cruise missiles in 1998, in retaliation for the bombing of two U.S. embassies in Africa. Collins never met bin Laden, but he had an invitation to do so when he was working for the CIA and the agency forbade him to do it."

Commanders of the U.S. Armed Forces

Commando Central photos on Sep11th

There are different thoughts on the commando central photos, which ironically had been released only 48 hours before President Bush had to confirm prior knowlegde.

Here are a few of them:

http://www.theredflag.net/bush_school_photos.html

"...OK, let’s stretch our imagination and just pretend it is 9:25am. Who is he talking to on the phone? According to the official 9/11 timeline Bush speaks to Condolezza Rice on the phone at about 9am and meets with her at 9:30. Where is Condolezza Rice in the photo?..."

Thanks to Guy Williams for this, read his full analysis at http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Propaganda_Matrix/message/1396

The woman standing behind Bush in the first photo (in beige, on a phone) is Deborah Loewer - who is "Director of White House Situation Room, National Security Council" - who is also a Navy Captain.
This is confirmed by the Whitehouse's own site:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/president/september11/and this is her version of events that morning:
Global Free Press: Peircing The Veil Of Censorship

http://www.directsourceradio.com/links/1126200112ON.html
http://www.catholiccincinnati.org/tct/Archive/dec0701.htm

Here are Captain Loewer's (two) versions of what Bush knew:

From the first link

... Shortly before 9 a.m., Loewer got a call telling her that "an aircraft had impacted the World Trade Center."

Loewer said that when she arrived at the school, she ran hard and fast to the president.
"It's a very good thing the Secret Service know who I am," Loewer said.
Loewer told the president and his chief of staff, Andrew Card, that an aircraft had hit the World Trade Center.
"This is all we know," she told them.

Like most Americans, Loewer was watching television when the second plane struck the second tower.
"I tell you, I was so stunned, as I'm sure many of you were," Loewer recalled. "Well, it took me about 30 seconds to realize that this was terrorism."
She relayed that thought to Card, who then whispered to the president, "Capt. Loewer says it's terrorism."

... From the second link:
...Captain Loewer traveled to Florida with President Bush on Sept. 11 to visit a school. She received the message from her deputy in the White House Situation Room about the plane crashing into the first tower, and she described running from her car in the motorcade to the president's car to pass along the information.

Once they reached the school, they watched events unfold on television, along with others in America. A short time later, she recognized the attacks for what they were and reported, "Mr. President, I think it's terrorism."

Different colors of the jackets:
My conclusion was that some photos had been staged (including the clocks).
However the different colors from the school video and the photo with Andrew Card seem to come from an encoding light or general overexposed lighting problem.
Later he could have changed his jackey.

NOTE:
Peter Peterson is chairman of the CFR and executive at the Blackstone Group, a subsidiary of TRW (merged in 2002 with Raytheon).

On September 6th, 2001 the Concord Coalition suggested a radical reform of the Social Security System:

Robert Bixby, Executive Director of The Concord Coalition at a public hearing of the President’s Commission to Strengthen Social Security in San Diego:

http://www.concordcoalition.org/releases/010906release.htm

"For over 60 years Social Security has provided a vital floor of protection. Its broad range of retirement, disability, and survivors’ benefits for millions of Americans makes it an important issue for people of all ages. But changing demographics render the current pay-as-you-go system fiscally unsustainable and generationally inequitable over the long-term. Reversing this trend will require facing up to some hard choices and making far-sighted decisions.

"Now is the time to begin preparing for the aging of America by designing a retirement system that is both more secure for the old and less burdensome for the young. Demographic and economic circumstances will never again be so favorable for Social Security reform."

13 months later, on October 1st, 2002 the CC placed a full-page advertisement in the Sunday's New York Times offering voters hard facts and five questions to ask the candidates about Social Security reform.

The ad was signed by Concord Coalition Co-Chairs, former Senators Warren B. Rudman (R-N.H.) and Sam Nunn (D-Ga.), and Concord Coalition President Peter G. Peterson, former Secretary of Commerce.

The full text of the ad, including five charts, is available on Concord's web site at http://www.concordcoalition.org/new.html

Another member of the Concord Coalition is Stephen Friedman, a former co-chairman of Goldman Sachs, the investment firm (who replaced Lawrence B. Lindsey in December 2002 as chairman of the White House's National Economic Council)

Conspiracy

Based on the greek word "conspirare", which means "breath together". Extreme thinking people argue, that everything is run by the same big conspiracy, while more realistically, many different small conspiracies in fact compete with each other.

It's on investigative journalists and progressive media, to separate speculations from facts, while sociologists try to analyse conflicting theories from paranoia.

In 2001-2002, results of investigative research got hijacked by censorship and oppression.

The idea of a conspiracy influenced many other, less investigative, but more speculative websites like conspiracyarchive.com and others.

Controlled Cleanup

From an older article, which had been mirrored first at DU (<->)

"...Immediately after September 11th, four companies started to clean up the rubble in New York + at the Pentagon.

They are:

AMEC Construction Management, Inc.; Bovis Lend Lease LMB, Inc.; Tully Construction Co., Inc.; and Turner/Plaza Construction Joint Venture.

http://www.osha.gov/media/oshnews/nov01/national-20011120.html

Here are some background profiles:

No. 1
http://www.amec.com

AMEC is a leading international provider of specialised services and engineering solutions for clients in manufacturing, commercial, infrastructure and process industries, based in London. AMEC was the only construction company, who was working at both disaster sites in New York and at the Pentagon, Washington.

http://www.amec.com/cm/how/how_2ndlevel.asp?PAGEID=3046

In an interesting coincidence, AMEC already worked for the Pentagon in 2001, completing a renovation of the same section of the Pentagon, Wedge 1 ($150 million costs), which was later officially hit by AA77.

http://www.amec.com/cm/how/how_2ndlevel.asp?PAGEID=3034

AMEC worked together with the oil industry. (<-> Oil)

In 1999 BP Amoco awarded AMEC Process and Energy a major support services contract.

http://www.amec.com/about/about_2ndlevel.asp?pageid=24

During the same period BP Amoco already supported the election campaign of George Bush. Totally they spent $2,989,073 between 1995 and 2000.

http://www.earthisland.org/eijournal/new_articles.cfm?articleID=608&journalID=65

They had not been alone. Exxon spent $3,280,216, Occidental Petroleum $1,544,774 and Texaco Inc. $1,272,585.
Us Congress member Don Young (R-AK), an Arctic Refuge drilling advocate, received $119,708 for his 1998 election, $133,850 for 2000, and so far $27,750 for his upcoming race in 2002.

"It was Young, incidentally, who suggested that environmentalists may have been responsible for the airplane crashes into New York's World Trade Center and the Pentagon on September 11. Attorney General John Ashcroft received $151,149 from the oil and gas industry for his failed Senate race in 2000..."

AMEC is specialised in cleanups of fuel tanker rollovers, their latest big job was a cleanup in New Mexico.

Other clients include PharmaChem- or rail services.

AMEC invented AFMS (Automated Frequency Management Services), which "advises clients all over the world on matters of radio regulations development, communication policy, spectrum planning, and computer-based frequency management and radio station licensing"

http://www.spectrocan.com/english/services_eng.htm

Part of AFMS is SPECTROCAN, which is a member of the International Telecommunication Union, concentrating on monitoring the radio spectrum for governments and regulatory agencies around the world. AFMS is a very popular acronym, therefore easy to be confused. (i.e. Air Force Manpower Standard, Automatic Flight Management System, Automated Form System etc...)

The AMEC-AFMS was involved in the analysis of the malfunction of handheld radios which complicated the rescue efforts of firefighters at the World Trade Center.

It has been reported, that an evacuation order broadcast by Fire Chief Joseph Callan was not received by some of the firefighters.

In an analysis by Prof. Donald A Lund from April 2002, Lund came to the conclusion, that currently "there is a lack of available radio frequencies for emergency responders and public safety officials to use. As a result, existing frequency spectrums are crowded."

It would be interesting to hear the conclusion from AMEC/AFMS.

Currently are conflicting reports around, if maybe the GE-Ericsson 800 megahertz radio system should be standardized nationwide for emergency cases.

http://216.239.37.100/search?q=cache:ZvMt6hemFKIC:www.justiceworks.unh.edu/Research/B_B_Vol_5/justiceworkspub.pdf++malfunction+of+handheld+r:

AMEC works together with the SAIC, i.e. Kyle Cook (SAIC ->) and Chris Stransky (AMEC) in the County Project "Clean Water" in San Diego.

The SAIC, on the other hand, is a mega tech specialist, which develop different communication standards.

One of their various companies is Telcordia.

Telcordia Technologies is specialised in Lazer Technologies or Space Imaging and a subsidiary of the SAIC.

Hatfill worked together with Jerome Hauer at the SAIC in 1999, who later directed the OEM and built the emergency center, known as "the bunker" on the 23rd floor of Building 7.

Hauer organised the security job for former FBI terror specialist John O'Neill, who died in the Twin Towers.

Corporate Vice President of Applied Research Telcordia (formerly Bellcore Communications Research) is Robert W. Lucky, a specialist in "correcting distortion in telephone signals".

Lucky is on the Board of Trustees of ANSER (->), who established the Homeland Security in 1999.

http://www.anser.org/aboutanser/bios2/luckybio.html

Both ANSER and AMEC are prime contractors of the Pentagon.

Chief Executive of AMEC is Sir Peter Mason, former executive director of BICC plc, a huge Cable Company. Among AMECs analysts and brokers are Deutsche Bank, Merrill Lynch or UBS Warburg. Their auditor is KPMG Audit Plc. (-) http://www.amec.com/investors/investors_2ndlevel.asp?pageid=31

KPMG is in the meantime represented by former FBI-HQ Robert J. Chiaradio, who once ignored various warnings about a possible terrorist attack and obscure flight school trainings in the United States.

Chiaradio works since July 2002 at KPMG as "managing director and lead advisor on homeland security". AMEC received another contract by the US Department of Defense on 13 December 2001 to "to provide environmental engineering, professional, technical and remediation services for the Air National Guard. The Department announced that the contract has a total potential value of up to US$598 million over ten years"

"...The new services contract closely follows AMEC’s selection by the Department of Defense to extend its provision of construction management and support services at the Pentagon building following the terrorist attacks of September 11. AMEC’s Construction Management division had previously completed renovations to Wedge 1 of the Pentagon and is currently providing emergency repair and restoration of the impacted sections. Specific contract details have not been disclosed..."

On January 2002 AMEC received another contract about $1.4 billion International Air Terminal to "complete" John F. Kennedy International Airport.

AMEC is represented in the States by New York-based Construction Management and has other contracts with airports like Ft. Lauderdale/Hollywood International, San Francisco International, Hopkins International, construction contracts with the New York Stock Exchange and the renovation work at the Pentagon.

AMEC Construction Management is led by Mitchell Becker and John Babieracki, a "a 30-year veteran in the construction industry", who "built 50-story skyscrapers that grace New York City’s skyline".

In May 2002 AMEC was joined by Homeland security and environmental risk scientist Laurel H. Pye http://colorado.construction.com/COCN/CO-Jul02/COdsgnws-Jul02.html

In the last couple of months AMEC had been joined by wildlife biologists, ecologists, physicians or Air Force Engineering Expert Col. Scott E. Streifert (US Airforce/August 20, 2002).

Col. Streifert recently retired from the Air Force as Support Group Commander at Travis Air Force Base in California. His past activities with the Air Force have included environmental compliance at the the Pentagon or environmental management at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

Bovis Lend Lease
http://www.bovislendlease.com

Bovis Lend Lease is based in London. They have clients in the telecommunications-, health care-, microelectronics- or pharmaceutical companis and the british government. They work for the U.S. Department of Defence or with the Department of Defence in Australia. Other clients are Johns Hopkins Medicine, Massachusetts General Hospital in the United States, Nokia, Lucent, Ericsson, Cisco, Nortel Networks, AT&T, Telstra, IBM, the European Space Agency of Schering-Plough, an American pharmaceutical company.

On August 26th, BLL announced a contract with Japan's 3G mobile phone network.

Bovis Lend Lease is partner of British Pretoleum (BP) "Global Alliance".

http://www.globalalliancesupplier.com/

Since January 2002 Roger Mabey of BP Global Alliance is member of the board of Bovis Lend Lease.

On October 30, 2001 Bovis announced their division of Bovis Lend Lease Pharmaceutical, a new company focused on providing solutions to its global customers in the pharmaceutical and allied industries.

Bovis had worked for the Pentagon before. They built the Pentagon City Mall, Pentagon City's Washington Tower office building and The Ritz-Carlton hotel in 1990.

In early 2002 New York City's Department of Design and Construction confirmed, that they hired "a private company, Bovis Lend Lease, as the primary manager of the World Trade Center site"

Turner Construction

http://www.turnerconstruction.com

The Turner Corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of HOCHTIEF AG since 1999.

HOCHTIEF, headquartered in Essen, Germany

HOCHTIEF is continuously expanding its range of services: Airport Management, Project Development, Software, Environmental Technology and Facility Management now feature more and more strongly in the framework of its business.

http://www.ptoinalexandria.com/turner.html

Turner have their US office on Hudson Street, New York. They work in in Asia Pacific, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East.

Turner provides a complete range of construction and program management services.

Chief Executive Officer is Thomas C. Leppert, who was once involved in a golf course controversy at his company Lani‘i in 1994. In 1996 however he earned the Pacific Award of Hawaii.

http://www.turnerconstruction.com/Corporate%20Information.doc

President and Chief Operating Officer of Turner is Robert E. Fee. Robert E. Fee was personally involved in the removal of the debris of Ground Zero. "It's still considered a crime scene, so we can't bring in the front-end loaders. We are looking for evidence, and hopefully, survivors." (9/24/01)

The city's Dept. of Design and Construction had split the site into rough quadrants with cleanup work in each managed by the four companies, one quadrant was for Turner.

Turner has various clients in the oil and pharmaceutical industry. They once built the BP Amoco Oil Building in Chicago.

Tully Construction

When contacted by the American Free Press (AFPN) and asked, if they ever had seen concrete pulverized as it was in the WTC; they said: "No-never".
"Tully said, that there were hot spots where he observed 'literally molten steel'...Everything that was above grade -above the 6th and 7th floor -disintegrated...it was like an explosion"
(APFN/08/26/02)

"We had 75 trucks leaving a day during the first few days," says Tully.
http://216.239.51.100/search?q=cache:WjOS-g-IM5oC:www.enr.com/news/enrbld_092401.asp+&hl=en&ie=UTF-8

Tully Construction of Flushing, NY is the only american-owned company who was hired for the "cleanup of Sep11th".

Earlier this year Tully received a contract by the MTA/New York City Transit Subway System in a joint venture with J. Pegno of Flushing, N.Y., the project's general contractor.

Work includes 1,200 ft. of complete tunnel replacement, tunnel lighting and track and signal work.
At Ground Zero Tully built concrete plugs to prevent dust and debris from further contaminating the entire line.
"We used supersuckers in there to clean up the dust and debris. The plugs have since been removed," President Peter Tully noted.

Tully has been under a special monitoring arrangement with New York City since 1996; prior to that, it was banned from doing business with the city.
Among conflicts it became embroiled in were complaints that it performed a shoddy job fixing up Brooklyn homes after a water main break.

http://www.newday.com/ny-queens25-tullyconstructionstory

Tully retained Controlled Demolition Inc.,Phoenix, Md, who had been involved once in the demolition of the bombed Murrah Building in Oklahoma in 1995.
Controlled Demolition is specialised in implosions of big towers, like i.e. the Landmark Hotel Tower* in Las Vegas or the Columbus Homes Housing Projects in Newark, New Jersey.

http://www.controlled-demolition.com/control%20demolition.html

Controlled Demolition had their first implosions in the 70s and worked several times for the US or local governments.

In 1991 they imploded the Old Orlando City Hall in Orlando, Florida.
http://www.controlled-demolition.com/cdi%20demolition.html

In 1995 they imploded the Mendes Caldeira Building
São Paulo Brazil(361 feet tall), as they say on their website, the "tallest standing concrete building ever felled with explosives".
In 1998 they imploded a 439 feet, the "tallest structural steel building ever imploded"

http://www.controlled-demolition.com/control%20demolition.html

Controlled Demolition claims to have "a very small number of employees" and not much known is about their business profile.
They work together with the The Loizeaux Family.

In February 2000, a federal grand jury indicted Mark Loizeaux, Douglas Loizeaux and Controlled Demolition, Inc. on charges of falsely reporting campaign contributions to the campaign of Rep. Elijah E. Cummings (D-Md.).

The Baltimore Sun reported, that the illegal contributions allegedly occurred between 1996 and 1998. The Loizeaux brothers and CDI were acquitted in September 2000.

http://www.xenophilia.com/zb/zb0002/links73.htm

On the internet, hounded of websites speculate since September 2001 about a possible controlled demolition inside the Twin Towers with bombs.
J. McMichael was one of the first dozen engineers, who tried to wonder about the collapse.

http://serendipity.magnet.ch/wot/mcmichael.htm

A very impressive and intense discussion currently continues at http://www.democraticunderground.com/cgi-bin/duforum/duboard.cgi?az=show_thread&om=4840&forum=DCForumID43&omm=0

Loizeauxs buildings, with controlled demolition, usually "drop like a tree".
In 2000 the 1,000-ton National Gettysburg Battlefield Tower, but no public access was allowed that time.

But the collapse of the Twin Towers remains a logical mystery.
The official testimony was postponed for various times, the melting theory wasn't updated again.
Another testimony for the collapse of Building 7 never even took place.
Only a study without conclusion is around.
But even possible conventional bombs might not explain the pulverisation of the whole Twin Towers Buildings.

Maybe the answer is somewhere else, some "miles" away?
The DoD started this year with test bombings of a new laser microweapon system called thermobarics, which they officially tested in Nevada and later used in ToraBora, Afghanistan.

The thermobaric bomb releases and then detonates a fine cloud of high-explosive chemicals, creating devastating shock waves that destroy everything -- and everyone -- inside a cave, bunker or building.

Using a device called a Viper -- a portable laser range finder, digital map display and Global Positioning System receiver they can point on many different positions.

The term thermobaric is derived from the effects of temperature -- the Greek word for heat is "therme" -- and air pressure -- the Greek word for pressure is "baros" -- on the target.

The CIA and DoD had both an office on the 24th floor in Building 7, but nothing is known about their purpose.

The ties of Controlled Demolition, Inc. with the DoD are very old.

In November 1978 through January 1979 CDI used both conventional and implosion methods to destroy former Soviet military’s Large Phased Array Radar Facility in Skrunda, Latvia, under the direction of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers’ Transatlantic Programs Center.

Already in the 50s the father of the Loizeaux Brothers, Jack Loizeaux, "was blasting tree stumps for the U.S. Forestry Service in Georgia." He later would found Controlled Demolition.

http://www.implosionworld.com/history3.htm

About the vertically, rather than falling over collapse of the Twin Towers, his son Mark Loizeaux once answered: "I don't have a clue".

Control Systems High Tech

Between October and November 2001, the media pushed various reports on new control systems like improved surveillance camera systems, Opinion Mining, Wireless Biometry, Nanosatellites, Face Recognition, Chat- and Boardsniffer, Brain Scans, the National ID, The Pentagon Smart ID, the VeriChip or other Tracking Tools.

Other special magazines revealed news about "Skin color spectrum monitor programs" or Nanobarcodes.

Convar

Convar (Pirmasens, Germany) was mentioned as the german computer company, who tried to recover the data from all destroyed computers in the Twin Towers.

Richard Wagner, a data retrieval expert at the company, said illegal transfers of more than $100 million might have been made immediately before and during the disaster.

"There is a suspicion that some people had advance knowledge of the approximate time of the plane crashes in order to move out amounts exceeding $100 million," Wagner said. "They thought that the records of their transactions could not be traced after the main frames were destroyed."

Since December 2001, not much was heard about this story anymore.

http://www.convar.de
http://www.datarecovery-europe.com/welcome.htm

One reason might be that Convars department in England, Ontrack had Kroll (->) as one of their investors, a subsidiary of risk consulting company Kroll O'Gara (former Kroll Associates, Inc), who is responsible for the security of all US-presidents since 1945.

One of Krolls former employees was Jerome Hauer, (->)

Cooper, William

Cooper, a famous "conspiracy"-analyst was one of the earliest authors, who picked up the oddities of the Sep11th attack but was killed in an accident by a police officer in October 2001. Many Cooper-fans think, that this wasn't a coincidence. William Cooper was reared in an Air Force family. As a child he lived in many different countries, graduating from Yamato High School in Japan. Since he has traveled through or lived in many different foreign countries Mr. Cooper has a world view much different than most Americans.

William served with the Strategic Air Command, United States Air Force. He held a secret clearance working on B-52 bombers, KC-135 refueling aircraft, and Minuteman missiles. William received his Honorable Discharge from the United States Air Force in 1965.

Cooper was a member of the Office of Naval Security and Intelligence serving as a Harbor and River Patrol Boat Captain at Danang and the Dong Ha River Security Group, Cua Viet, Republic of Vietnam. He produced several documentaries covering subjects such as the Kennedy assassination and secret black projects area51.htm that have built flying disk shaped craft. William is an internationally acclaimed radio personality broadcasting the Hour Of The Time hott.htm on WBCQ worldwide short-wave 7.415 MHz from 10 PM until 11 PM Eastern Standard Time (0300 to 0400 UTC) Monday through Thursday nights.

William Cooper was the author of "Behold A Pale Horse". The book has become the best selling underground book of all time. It is read and promoted by word of mouth by People of all races, religions, and nationalities.

Shortly after the bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah federal building Rush Limbaugh read a White House memo on the air during his broadcast which named William Cooper, "...the most dangerous radio host in America".

His early and late work was located at the end of 2001 at http://www.williamcooper.com

William Cooper already predicted in January 2001, that "indicators point to a major Middle East war erupting in the very near future" http://www.williamcooper.com/vnsexclusivesarchives6.html#who Cooper was shot and killed by an Apache County Sheriff around 12:15 AM Tuesday November 6th, 2001 while serving of an arrest warrant on a local issue. A sheriff was also wounded.

Militia leader killed, deputy wounded during attempted arrest

Associated Press/The Arizona Republic
Nov. 06, 2001 12:20:00
EAGAR -
"A national leader of the militia movement has been killed and an Apache County sheriff's deputy wounded in a shootout, authorities said.
"...William Milton Cooper, 58, of Eager, had hosted a talk show broadcast on the Worldwide Christian Radio out of Nashville, which receives it via phone from his home in St. Johns. He had millions of listeners worldwide, including Timothy McVeigh.

The deputy, whose name was being withheld by authorities, was shot twice in the head while trying to arrest Cooper, a state Department of Public Safety spokesman said today. Cooper was killed by another officer.

Several deputies were attempting to arrest Cooper, who was armed with a handgun, said Officer Steve Volden, a spokesman for the DPS, which was investigating the shooting...."

CoppCia.com, also known as 'From the Wilderness' is one of the most popular Sep11th-investigative websites, which has been hacked various times and had at the end of 2002 six mirror pages.

Their video "Truth and Lies of 9-11" became a bestseller, the name CoppCia became a synonym for bumperstickers and questioning the official story of Sep11th. This video had special appearances by Reps. Cynthia McKinney (-), Ron Paul and Barbara Lee.

On November 28th 2001, Mike Ruppert, editor of copvcia, already had an audience of estimated 1,000 people, who came from as far away as Seattle and San Francisco to see him at Portland State University.

Only two skeptical websites immediately reacted within minutes to investigate on the Sep11th attack. CopCia.com was the one, who started it all and influenced many 911Skeptics worldwide, not only to speculate, but to investigate on facts.

The other website was ourDNA.org/Ground Zero Forum, who reacted on a posting
"Please put on your TV on: A plane crashed into the WTC building" at 8:53 AM with GZ: "Oh my god, thanks" (full story there ->) and created the folder "investigation continues...", without knowing, that it would become a never ending story.

Mike Ruppert was already known as a specialist of "CIA-drugs" and related money laundering business.
While September 11th happened, he investigated on Maurice Greenberg (->).

CopvCia is worldwide famous for the investigative work of Tom Flocco (->), who later started his own website and the timeline of Ruppert, named "Lucy", which later inspired GZ's "ultimate timeline", 911timeline.net and Paul Thompson (->), who turned it into a scientific research.

Ruppert was guest at many other projects like Unansweredquestions.org, GNN, INN TV/New York or the Rense Radio Show.

Corn, David

The only "theory", which officially was allowed by the US Admin, is the "incompetence theory" (->), which came to the conclusion, that CIA and FBI lacked of incompetence on September 11th.

One of the strongest supporters of this theory is David Corn.

Supported by Richard Perle (->) or James Woolsey (->), who both haven't even been in charge on Sept 1th.

David Corn's extreme portrayal is contradicted by a report in the Washington Post in May 2001 which observed that the two specialised U.S. intelligence agencies the FBI and the CIA have "in recent years" developed a very close "working relationship".

Corn tried to attack various 911Skeptics and had been therefore analysed in War on Freedom himself, while arguing that "… anyone with the most basic understanding of how government functions (or, does not function) realizes that the various bureaucracies of Washington - particularly those of the national security 'community' - do not work well together."

Corn fails entirely, however, to specify exactly in what respect(s) this is the case.

Unlike Stratfor, he does not clarify the nature of particular structural discontinuities between different bureaucratic and intelligence agencies and in what way they have problems integrating...

"A cursory analysis of relevant facts certainly strongly suggests that the hijackers had some sort of high-level U.S. military connection.
According to reports in Newsweek, the Washington Post and the New York Times, after September 11, U.S. military officials gave the FBI information "suggesting that five of the alleged hijackers received training in the 1990s at secure U.S. military installations..."

During 2002, CorporateSleuth was a news group on YahooGroups, which was specialised in digging into corporations. The Carlyle Group. The Blackstone Group. Accenture. Andersen. Global Crossing. Clear Channel.

Dallah Avco
==================================
During 2001-2002, the FBI was silently investigating possible ties between Dallah AVCO and the "Al Qaeda network".

Asked about these ties by Newsweek, Dallah AVCO's owner, Saudi Billionaire Saleh Abdullah Kamel, responded, "This is not true at all." U.S. intelligence suspects that wealthy Saudis are funding Islamic extremist groups."

The Newsweek story of the "Saudi-Money trail" and Dallah AVCO's Omar al-Bayoumi was released at http://www.msnbc.com/news/839269.asp?0cv=KB10

"...Who is al-Bayoumi? At various times, the affable father of four told people that he was getting his doctorate at San Diego State, though the school has no record he ever attended. He told others that he was a pilot for the Saudi national airline. He worked for Dallah Avco, an aviation-services company with extensive contracts with the Saudi Ministry of Defense and Aviation, headed by Prince Sultan, the father of the Saudi ambassador to the United States, Prince Bandar..."

In 1982, Dallah/Avco in 1982 released a book in Jeddah (->), Saudi Arabia, called "Management Control of Computer Systems"

http://home1.gte.net/pfingar/hfpubs.htm

Omar al-Bayoumi (->) was accused of having financial ties with two of the official hijackers.

More on Dallah/Avco and some Hamas-ties, compiled by Jimmy LynnVerner, Jr.:

LynnVerner, Jr is Dallas attorney who is Board Certified in Civil Trial Law and in Family Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He is admitted to practice law in New Mexico.

He analysed the 911-Lawsuit against Saudi Arabia, which results had been obviously leaked to Newsweek:

"A Guide to the 9-11 Lawsuit
Part 1: Background
Overview of the Suit
On August 15, 2002, the families of many of the 9-11 terrorist attack victims filed suit in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia..."

http://law.about.com/library/911/blalbarakaat.htm

...Dallah Albaraka portfolio includes a wholly owned subsidiary specializing in aviation-services, Dallah Avco Trans-Arabia Co Ltd. The company was formed in 1975 and is based in Jeddah.
Al Baraka Investment & Development Corporation (or “al Baraka”), a wholly owned subsidiary of Dallah Albaraka Group, is based in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. Its investments include 43 subsidiaries, mainly banks in Arab and Islamic countries. Most of them are known as or registered as “al Baraka Bank.”

United States assets include al Baraka Bancorp Inc. in Chicago, Illinois, and al Baraka Bancorp Inc. in Houston, Texas.

...Al Baraka Bank provided Osama bin Laden with financial infrastructures in Sudan beginning in 1983. For example, the use of al Baraka Bank by al-Haramain was confirmed by a statement from al-Haramain chairman, Aqeel al-Aqeel, who declared that the charity maintained accounts at Al Baraka bank in Saudi Arabia.

Omar al Bayoumi was Assistant to the Director of Finance for Dallah Avco, reference he gave in an application for admission to a doctoral program at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland in 1998.

From the indictment:
916. On May 5, 1998, Omar Al Bayoumi registered a fictitious company name called Masjed al Madinah al Munawarah (Masjid al Madinah al Munawarah) based in San Diego, California,
917. In March 25, 1999 a mosque was registered in the state of Pennsylvania under the name of Masjid al Madinah al Munawwarah Inc.
918. Dallah Albaraka financial arm is al Baraka Investment & Development (or “ABID”), a wholly owned subsidiary based in Jeddah (->).

919. Saleh Abdullah Kamel, Chairman of Dallah al Baraka and al Baraka Bank was one of the three founding members of al Shamal Islamic Bank in 1983, along with a Sudanese company, al Shamal for Investment and Development and the Government of Northern State, then controlled by Governor Mutasim Abdel-Rahim, representative of Hassan al-Turabi.
920. The involvement of Dallah Albaraka Group and al Baraka Bank in providing financial support and assistance to terrorist organizations is also revealed in the financing of the HAMAS terrorist group.
921. In 1998, al Aqsa Islamic Bank was established with $20 million in capital. Its main shareholders were Dallah Al Baraka and the Jordan Islamic Bank. Jordan Islamic Bank, a Dallah al-Baraka subsidiary, owns 14 percent of al-Aqsa. Saleh Abdullah Kamel acknowledged that Dallah al-Baraka owns another 12 percent directly.
922. Since 1998, Israel had refused to approve the bank, citing its obvious ties with HAMAS. At the beginning of 2001, several antiterrorist authorities from that country even visited Citibank’s headquarters in New York to warn its directors of the nature of the bank’s activities.

Interview with 911-Saudi Lawsuit attorney and one 911victim Aired November 25, 2002 - 20:00 ET:

CHUNG, CNN:
Ron, I'm told that you have just returned from Kabul, that your investigators were there looking into links between the hijackers and the Taliban and al Qaeda. Were they able to find any link to the Saudi royal family?
RON MOTLEY, ATTORNEY FOR 9/11 VICTIMS AND RELATIVES: Yes, ma'am. We were able to establish, by sworn testimony, the act of participation of Prince Turki in the facilitation of the funding of al Qaeda directly in Afghanistan.

CHUNG: Are you saying that Prince Turki, with whom I just spoke and who claims no one in the royal family is in any way connected to or funding al Qaeda, are you saying that he is indeed not only a funder, but a facilitator for al Qaeda?
MOTLEY. There is absolutely no question about it. We spoke with senior Taliban officials who were in the room when he indeed did facilitate the transfer of large sums of money directly to al Qaeda in Afghanistan.

Darkanzali, Mamoun

Mamoun Darkanzali, a Syrian-born executive in Germany who German authorities suspect may be a link between the hijackers and Islamic extremists in Germany.

Darkanzali has been included on a list of 27 individuals and organizations whose assets were frozen by the United States on suspicion that they provided money to bin Laden's group, al Qaeda.

Mamoun Darkanzali visited with Mohamed Atta, Marwan Al-Shehhi and Ziad Jarrah, the same Hamburg mosque, Al Quds and knew all tenants of Atta's home address, 54 Marienstr., one of them Ramzi Binalshibh (->).

Darkanzali was on a watch list of the CIA since at least 1999 and, due to a Chicago Tribune report, they tried to hire him as an informant:
"Early two years before the Sept. 11 hijackings, the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency began persistent efforts to recruit as an informant a Syrian-born Hamburg businessman with links to Al Qaeda and the key hijackers, the Tribune has learned.

The CIA's attempts to enlist Mamoun Darkazanli were initiated in late 1999...

Darkazanli, 44, has acknowledged knowing the three pilots, Mohamed Atta, Marwan Al-Shehhi and Ziad Jarrah, with whom he attended the same radical Hamburg mosque, Al Quds, and shared several friends in this city's sizable but insular Muslim community.

...the disclosure that the CIA was seeking to turn Darkazanli into a spy during the time the initial hijacking plans were being laid represents the earliest and deepest set of U.S. intelligence footprints outside the hijackers' window.

http://www.chicagotribune.com/news/nationworld/chi-0211170296nov17,0,6628254.story?coll=chi%2Dnews%2Dhead

One possible reason for the observation of Darkazanli, which included Mohammad Atta (->), was that Darkazanli had been in contact with two bin Laden's associates in Sudan, Wadhih El-Hage (Manbaa Al Anhar Trading, Dubai) and Mamoudouh Mahmoud Salim, who is imprisoned on terrorism conspiracy charges for the 1998 bombings of U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania, already arrested since September 1998.

In Sudan, Salim once ran Wadi Aqiq, bin Laden's umbrella company.

Wadhih El-Hage was bin Laden's personal secretary when his organization was based in Sudan and later became a key facilitator of his East Africa cell, living in Nairobi from 1994 to 1997.

One el Hage business card, for his 'Anhar Trading Co.,' listed two addresses -- his former home address in Arlington, Texas, and a second address in Hamburg, Germany, which matches the home address of Marmoun Darkazanli, who has lived in Germany since 1985.

Anhar Trading is specialised in Building & Construction Material Trading Darkazanli's Import-Export company had ties in Spain.

As reported, in January 2000, Atta and Shehhi flew to Madrid, Spain where they met Imad Eddin Barakat Yarbas, otherwise known as 'Abu Dahdah', a Palestinian with Spanish citizenship and connections with Bin Laden associates.

Spanish intelligence had tapped Yarbas' telephone since 1997.

In November 2001, Yarbas and seven other suspects had been arrested in Spain.

It is said, they had ties to three other suspects of an european cell, already arrested in September 2001 and June 2002. One of them, Mohamed Bensakhria aka Meliani, an alleged aide to bin Laden, was arrested in Spain.

http://www.papillonsartpalace.com/alqaedas.htm

Bensakhria used to live in Frankfurt, germany, where he was in contact with some associates of the milan base of the african based Salafist Group for Call and Combat (GSPC).
http://www.cdi.org/terrorism/gspc.cfm

The GSPC was on a watchlist since years.

Haydar Abu Doha, a London-based Algerian known as "the Doctor", was one of the leaders, helping recruiting members.

One of their plans was to blow up markets at the G-8 summit in Genoa in 2001, but US officials had been able to save the city.

Abu Doha was connected to Ahmed Ressam, the Algerian convicted for trying to attack Los Angeles International Airport during the millennium changeover.

BioTerror Scenario, which took place between June 22-23, 2001.

On July 14th, 2001 the testimony on DARK WINTER was released:

CSIS president and CEO John Hamre and former senator Sam Nunn, CSIS board chairman, outlined the results of the "war game that simulated a biological attack on American soil" in testimony before the House Subcommittee on National Security, Veterans Affairs, and International Relations.

This testimony took place a couple of weeks after the german secret service, BND, warned in June 2001 the CIA and Israel 'that Middle Eastern terrorists are 'planning to hijack commercial aircraft to use as weapons to attack important symbols of American and Israeli culture.'

Military Scientist, who influenced the DoD, ANSER and Homeland Security during the late 90s.

Davis is a National Security Fellow at the Center for Global Security Research at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory.

This is the laboratory, where he developed a weapon system, which was later made famous in Tora Bora, Afghanistan: thermobarics (->).

For the three years prior to rejoining Livermore in July of 2001, he served as the founding Director of the Defense Threat Reduction Agency of the United States Department of Defense, where he started to develop these weapons.

Dr. Davis received his BA in Physics from the University of Texas in 1963, his MA in Physics from the University of Texas in 1964, and his Ph.D. in Physics from the University of Wisconsin in 1969. From 1969 to 1971, he was an Atomic Energy Commission Postdoctoral Fellow in nuclear physics at the University of Wisconsin.

At Livermore since 1971, he has worked as a research scientist and as an engineering manager, having led the design and construction of several unique accelerator facilities used for basic and applied research.

In the 1970's, he was principal scientist and project manager for the design and construction of the Rotating Target Neutron Source-II Project, building the most intense 14 MeV neutron sources in existence, used for nine years by the US and Japan for fusion materials testing.

In the 1980's he became the founding Director the Center for Accelerator Mass Spectrometry (CAMS), building the most versatile and productive AMS lab in the world.

CAMS is used by all nine campuses of the University of California and several hundred international users. He played a major role in the application of AMS to the biosciences, particularly in low-level toxicology and in dose reconstruction from events such as Hiroshima, Nagasaki and Chernobyl.

In 1994, Davis was asked to merge several research organizations at Livermore to create the Earth and Environmental Sciences Directorate. In 1998, he became the first Director of the Defense Threat Reduction Agency, integrating DoD's technical and operational activities to deal with Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMDs).

Davis has numerous publications on research in nuclear physics, nuclear instrumentation, plasma physics, accelerator design and technology, nuclear analytical techniques and analytical methods, and treaty verification technologies. He holds patents on spectrometer technologies and methods for low-level dosimetry of carcinogens and mutagens, and for the study of metabolic processes.

He has been a scientific advisor to the UN Secretariat, several US agencies, and has served on advisory committees for the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, the Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organization, and the Institute for Nuclear and Geologic Sciences of New Zealand.

Davis participated in two UN inspections of Iraq (->) in the summer of 1991, and was selected as the only non-US member of the team that briefed the UN Security Council after the confrontation at Fallujah on June 28, 1991 that produced the conclusive evidence of Iraqi evasion of the inspection process and violation of the Non-Proliferation Treaty.

Davis was Phi Beta Kappa and a Junior Fellow of the College of Arts and Sciences at Texas. He is a Fellow of the American Physical Society and was one of its Centennial Lecturers in its Hundredth Anniversary Year. For his contributions to national security during his tenure at DTRA (->), he was twice awarded the Distinguished Public Service Medal, DoD's highest civilian award.

His current interests are homeland defense, nuclear and biological forensics, applications of accelerator technologies to multi-disciplinary research, and strategic planning and management of change in organizations.

Davis is an advisory bodies for the CIA and the National Nuclear Security Administration.

He has served as a visiting professor at Texas A&M (-> chemistry) and Angelo State University (Government). He is on the Board of Directors of the Fannie and John Hertz Foundation.

Jay C. Davis worked on future weapons.

At the Center for Accelerator Mass Spectrometry (CAMS) at LLNL he developed a wide range of isotopic and ion-beam analytical tools for use in basic research and technology development.

Their research on Tokamak Plasma Spectroscopy at LLNL (http://www-phys.llnl.gov/Research/Tokamak/) helped to develop the thermobarics, which are able to destroy buried bi- and chemical weapon stocks.

Basically these weapons work with a device which uses electric or magnetic fields to increase the speed (and thus the energy) of charged particles.

In magnetic fusion, neutral beam heating is used on present tokamaks to heat the plasma to fusion-relevant temperatures http://fusioned.gat.com/Fusion%20Glossary.htm

The third generation tokamak was developed a while ago by General Atomics in San Diego, California, the largest operational tokamak in the United States. In the International Thermonuclear Experimental Reactor (ITER) they worked on a test reactor based on the tokamak concept.

One method of producing nuclear fusion by compressing a pellet of fuel using a laser, particle beam, or other external driver.

If the compression produces a high enough density rapidly enough while heating the fuel to a sufficiently high temperature, economically attractive amounts of fusion energy can be produced.

The resulting confinement is called “inertial” because it depends on the inertia of the fuel itself to maintain the high densities and temperatures to burn the fuel before it rebounds and flies apart.

Another method is containing a plasma or charged particles in a finite region using magnetic fields. This is called magnetic confinement.

Basically the concept of beam weapons is very old.

In the 50s the Russian scientists Sakharov and Tamm proposed an idea for a controlled thermonuclear fusion reactor, the TOKAMAK (abbreviated from the Russian phrase for Toroidal Chamber with Magnetic Coil).

In the 90s the strategic Defense System Phase II ground-Based Laser (GBL) System Concept described "techniques of beam handling and emittance control for high current beams in advanced accelerators" http://library.nps.navy.mil/home/bibs/dewtrz.htm
During the 90s various laboratories worked on different concepts. In the scientific archives you can find "Laser Plasma Interactions" (Livermore National Laboratory, 95), "Megawatt-Class Free Electron Laser Concept for Shipboard Self-Defense" (97).

In 1994 the Defense Technology Plan worked on 19 (!) different areas to use this technology for battlespace environments or electronic warfare and directed energy weapons. In the same year Wright/Patterson in Dayton, Ohio started to develop directed-energy weapons which can be divided into three branches, namely:

1. laser weapons, which can destroy or destabilize targets by using electromagnetic radiation energy beams with a wavelength of less than 1 millimeter;
2. radio-frequency weapons, which can destroy or destabilize targets with radiated electromagnetic energy within the radio spectrum range (the wavelength is more than 1 millimeter and radio frequency less than 300 gigahertz);
3. particle beam weapons, which are capable of destroying or destabilizing targets with neutral high-energy atomic particle beams (usually hydrogen, deuterium and tritium) or charged high-energy atomic or subatomic particle beams.

In 1995, the USAF Scientific Advisory Board proclaimed that "directed energy weapons, both lasers and microwaves, will have widespread application over the next few decades" Thermonuclears are part of the microwave weapons. Another definition can be find at http://www.dtic.mil/descriptivesum/Y2003/DTRA/0603160BR.pdf

"...The Thermonuclear Demonstration will develop a weapon concept that is based on a new class of thermonuclears. Thermonuclears include a broad range of high-energy materials that are capable of producing high temperatures ('thermo') and high pressures ('barics') for extended periods of time. This technology develops the potential for producing sustained, distributed damage in hard targets. The weapon could be used against certain type of tunnel targets for a maximum functional kill of the tunnels. Prototype weapons will be tested under operational conditions for their performance, and leave-behind will be delivered to the customer...

Seven programs are currently planned for the future: the Second Counterproliferation (CP2) Counterforce ACTD, the Agent Denial Demonstration (a proposed ACTD), the Biological Characterization Testbed, a classified program, the Hard Target Defeat (HTD) C3I Demonstration, the Thermonuclear Demonstration (a proposed ACTD), and the CP Analysis and Planning System (CAPS).

Again, the USAF had no chance to use some of them, until September 11th, 2001!

Dawn.com

On December 13th, 2002, editor Timothy Garton Ash tried to write against on the real reasons for a war on "terrorism":

"I have heard, from Americans, all the claims made by anti-American or supposedly anti-American Europeans. That Bush is doing it to distract attention from economic problems at home. (A prominent Democratic senator, John Kerry, recently raised this charge.) That it's for oil. That he's completing unfinished business from the first Bush administration's Gulf War. That it's George Bush's personal grudge-fight to topple "the guy who tried to kill my dad". That they're going after Saddam because they can't find Osama bin Laden. That it's a war for Sharon's Israel as much as for the United States. That it's about winning the next presidential election, as well as the mid-term elections last month, where it produced a resounding victory for the Republicans...

... No one in the administration wants to say this publicly, but there is a clear logic that leads from the democratization of Iraq to that of Saudi Arabia. If you want to get rid of the mosquitoes, you must drain the swamp. And so people are talking here about a Wilsonian project for reshaping the whole Middle East, comparable in its ambition only to those for Europe in 1919 and 1949."

"...A commercial jetliner traveling from Israel to Novosibirsk, Siberia was shot down over the Black Sea by an "errant" Ukrainian surface-to-air missile, killing all on board. The missile was over 100 miles off-course. Despite early news stories reporting it as a charter, the flight, Air Sibir 1812, was a regularly scheduled flight.

According to several press reports, including a Dec. 5 article by Barry Chamish and one on Jan. 13 by Jim Rarey (both available at www.rense.com), the plane is believed by many in Israel to have had as many as five passengers who were microbiologists. Both Israel and Novosibirsk are homes for cutting-edge microbiological research. Novosibirsk is known as the scientific capital of Siberia, and home to over 50 research facilities and 13 full universities for a population of only 2.5 million people.

November 12th, 2001

Dr. Benito Que, a cell biologist working on infectious diseases like HIV, who was found dead outside his laboratory at the Miami Medical School. Police say his death was possibly the result of a mugging.

The Miami Herald reported, that:
"The incident, whatever it may have been, occurred on Monday afternoon as the scientist left his job at University of Miami's School of Medicine. He headed for his car, a white Ford Explorer parked on Northwest 10th Avenue. The word among his friends is that four men armed with a baseball bat attacked him at his car."

November 14th, 2001 - December 20th, 2001

Don C. Wiley (->), MicroBioLogist, disappeared in Memphis.

His dead body was found 40 days later, 300 miles away, on December 20th at around 10 AM in the area of a at military hydroelectric plant in Vidalia, across from Natchez, Mississippi. The latest official version was, that his body was "snagged on a tree" near this plant.

No new autopsy yet. All friends and his family relatives claim, that he didn't commit suicide.

UPDATE: On January 14th, two months later, the official version of suicide was changed into accident.

November 23rd, 2001

Nothing is known about the circumstances of his death.

November 24th, 2001

On Nov. 24 th, 2001, a Swissair flight from Berlin to Zurich crashed on its landing approach. Of the 33 persons on board, 24 were killed, including the head of the hematology department at Israel's Ichilov Hospital, as well as directors of the Tel Aviv Public Health Department and Hebrew University School of Medicine. They were the only Israelis on the flight. The names of those killed, as reported in a subsequent Israeli news story but not matched to their job titles, were Avishai Berkman, Amiramp Eldor and Yaacov Matzner.

"Victoria Police said Set Van Nguyen, 44, appeared to have died yesterday morning [=December 11th] after entering an airlock into a storage laboratory filled with nitrogen.

Police said he did not know the room was full of deadly gas which had leaked from a liquid nitrogen cooling system. Unable to breathe, he collapsed and died"

An odd coincidence: Van Nguyen has almost the same last name as Vietnam Immigrant Kathy Nguyen, who died in late December of Anthrax, but no envelope was involved.

"...A driver's license examiner charged in a scheme with five men to sell fraudulent licenses died in a fiery car crash the day before her first court appearance, a crash the prosecutor called "most unusual and suspicious"

As Katherine Smith failed to appear in court Monday, the FBI disclosed that it is investigating whether her five co-defendants have terrorist ties, with Prosecutor Tim DiScenza citing "connections" to the Sept. 11 attacks.

Smith, 49, was killed after the 1992 Acura Legend she was driving ran off the road early Sunday and struck a utility pole on U.S. 72 just north of the Mississippi state line, Highway Patrol Lt. Col. Mark Fagan said Tuesday.

Her car was immediately engulfed in flames" but authorities don't know whether the fire started before or after the crash, he said. The body was so badly burned it took authorities until Tuesday to verify Smith's identity.

Defense Policy Board

The idea of the Defense Policy Board was to influence (or manipulate) US Media, or infiltrating them with neoconservative ideas.
Chairman of the Defense Policy Board is Richard Perle(->), former Reagan Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, now based at the neo-conservative American Enterprise Institute (->).

Perle was the joint initiator with neo-con William Kristol of the Rupert Murdoch-funded Weekly Standard.

The United States allowed this board to force changes in U.S. policy through an "outside-inside" operation. The heads are basically described as NeoCons (->).

Other members of this board are former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger (->), who is a member of Hollinger's (->) International Advisory Board; former House Speaker Newt Gingrich; former CIA-Director R. James Woolsey (->); former Deputy Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Adm. David E. Jeremiah; former Vice President Dan Quayle; former Defense and Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger (->); and former President Carter's Defense Secretary Harold Brown.

The Defense Policy Board is connected with the so-called "Wolfowitz Cabal" (->), a term for friends around Perle, Paul Wolfowitz, James Woolsey, Richard Armitage and Paul Zoellick.

On Oct. 7th 2001, the day the Afghanistan bombings began, this cabal again attempted to provoke a rift between the United States and members of the UN Security Council, especially Russia and China, by altering the text of a letter from U.S. Ambassador to the UN John D. Negroponte (->), which provoked an argument between Colin Powell and Paul Wolfowitz, who was responsible for the manipulation of this letter.

de Grand Pré, Coronel Donn

A retired Army colonel and author of "A Window on America, Confessions of an Arms Peddler and his latest, Barbarians Inside the Gates".

From his report "The enemy is inside the gates", which circulated on the internet since October 2001:

"A group of military and civilian US pilots, under the chairmanship of Colonel Donn de Grand, after deliberating non-stop for 72 hours, has concluded that the flight crews of the four passenger airliners, involved in the September 11th tragedy, had no control over their aircraft.

Captain Kent Hill (retd.) of the US Air Force, and friend of Chic Burlingame, the pilot of the plane that crashed into the Pentagon, stated that the US had on several occasions flown an unmanned aircraft, similar in size to a Boeing 737, across the Pacific from Edwards Air Force base in California to South Australia. According to Hill it had flown on a pre programmed flight path under the control of a pilot in an outside station.

During the press conference Captain Hill maintained that the four airliners must have been choreographed by an Airborne Warning and Control System (AWACS)."

"If there was an AWACS on station over the targeted area, did it have a Global Hawk capability? I mean, could it convert the commercial jets to robotic flying missiles?"

Colonel Donn de Grand said that if President Bush is lying it would not be the first time that the American people had been mislead by its government. He cited the recently published official government archives describing President Roosevelt's duplicity in deceiving Americans about the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbour, which triggered the US entry into WW II."

Democraticunderground.com

Created in 2000 by David Allen aka Skinner and David Allsop aka EarlG (both from onlineworkshop.com) and Democraticunderground LLC (DU) in Washington DC.

DU was founded on Inauguration Day, January 20, 2001, to protest the illegitimate presidency of George W. Bush.

One of their most famous members is William Rivers Pitt (->).

During 2001-2002, DU's "911/Severity-forum folder" was melting point for investigative, scientific and progressive talents like Jack Riddler, Ajw18, Ewing2001, DulceDecorum, Paul Thompson, MedianteAnalyse, ENDIMION, 2MuchBS, JohnHorne, Coppertop, JackieO and many more.

They all became more or less friends or turned into a thinktank, but got ignored by more liberal and pragmatic members of DU from the other folders, especially the "general discussion".
What was early called a "progressive" forum, concluded since mid-2002 into some diversions and less progressive, but Orwell-like censorship, "orchestrated by the DNC” and some of their moles.

On October 16th, 2001, three weeks before the election, a fight on a news thread on a Hillary Clinton-protest led finally to a ban of many members, among them Sterling (->), ewing2001 (->) and 2MuchBS (->).

This night became later famous as "Night of the long knives" and was the beginning for a more progressive forum at globalfreepress.com (->).

DU was however one of the most important strategy- and investigative meeting points for an independent 911-investigation and therefore wrote internet history.

They air Monday-Friday on over 120 stations including Pacifica radio stations, Pacifica affiliates, WBIX.org, public access TV stations, Free Speech TV (DishNetwork Channel 9415), and Shortwave Radio (Radio for Peace International).

In 2001-2002, DN covered many independent 911-related investigations and regular correspondent Greg Palast (->), who reported basically on the "Bush-Saudi-Enron-Argentina Connection" and election background info.

In November 2002, they broadcasted a report by Jeremy Scahill, how in 1991 former President Bush and Secretary of State James Baker had committed billions of taxpayer dollars to assist Saddam Hussein.

Democracynow.org was created by Samuel Hennessy in 1999 in Washington DC.

Denko Mechanical

The original story on Denko Mechanical began with the arrestment of Sakher "Rocky" Hammad in 2001, who was carrying a WTC pass for Sept 5th 2001.

He told police that he had been working on the sprinkler system. He showed them his business card: Magic Plumbing and Heating.

Hammad was later involved in a trial on drivers license fraud, which was interrupted with the bizarre death of witness Katherine Smith (->).

The following results are based on an independent investigation by DU (->) member Rebecky:

"Rocky was released on $250,000 bail. The nature of the work was not specified. The Port Authority of New York claimed no knowledge of hiring a Denko Mechanical and said Denko must have been hired by a tenant.

Denko Mechanical Ltd's address and phone is the residential Manhattan apartment and phone of Mr. Sergei Davidenko. Mr. Davidenko obtained a business license in Feb, 2000. Denko is not listed in any yellow pages or in any type of NY contractor list.

Denko simply could not be the sprinkler system contractor for the WTC. Not only would the Port Authority have had records, but companies that install and maintain sprinkler systems for large buildings are heavily regulated major operations with civil engineers, inspectors, warehouses full of delicate equipment and highly trained specialty crews.

A Feb 8, 2000, business entity license issued for a Denko Mechanical Ltd, 232 E 26th St. in Manhattan (ph 212-481-8226) which, on reverse trace, is the Manhattan residence and phone of Mr. Sergei Davidenko; it's an apartment building. As noted above, the letter verifying Hammad's WTC employment was signed by a Sergei Denko.

In addition to the WTC 9/5 pass, found in Mr. Hammad's wallet at the time of arrest; two video rental cards, a credit card, a membership card for the New York City Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, a card for Detectives Endowment Association of New York with a commemoration for 9/11 victims on it, and a charter membership card to Team Ford Racing.

In a February 2002 interview, a rep of the Port Authority, Alan Hicks stated that the PA took care of its own sprinkler system and had no records of Mr. Hammad hired to work on it.

The letter exonerating Mr. Hammad's employment was from a company Denko Mechanical signed by its owner Sergei Denko -- does not exist in NY except as a 2 y.o. business license registered to a Mr. Sergei Davidenko of 232 E 26th St., Manhattan. Another residential apartment (again using Skipase reverse trace).
A co-defendant in the Memphis trial was Hammad's cousin, also in the WTC on 9/5, Mr. Abdelmuhsen Mahmid Hammad. Other defendants were the Memphis ringleader Khaled Oddlliah of Jerusalem, immigrated to the US in 1989, and Mr. Mostafa Said Abou-Shahi and Mr. Mohammed Fares, and a juvenile obtaining a 20 y.o. false ID, Mr. Omar Khayat.

Detainees, missing
Thousands of detainees being held secretly by the government or wiretaps on prisoners' conversations with their lawyers. Only a few of the stories, which started a public debate, increased on the advisability of using torture to make suspects.

Even the NY Times reported in November 2001, that "it is time the White House stepped in"

Various cases had been hidden in some reports in US papers, the rest had been made public on many progressive websites only.
Finally in April 2002, the Washington Post was one of the first papers, who revealed one of the most controversial cases:

"Anser Mehmood, 42, a Pakistani immigrant, said that shortly after his arrival at MDC, prison guards shoved his face into the wall, bloodting his lip, and threatened to kill him if he spoke.
After he was strip-searched, Mehmood said, a guard asked him: "Do you know why you're here?"
"Yes, I overstayed my visa," Mehmood said he replied.
"No," the guard told him. "You are a World Trade Center suspect."
Mehmood said he was held for 123 days in the Special Housing Unit before being cleared by the FBI and moved into the general population, a transition he described as "going from hell to heaven. When I came out, it was like I was a human being again."

But Mehmood was only the tip of the iceberg.

The Village Voice released one of the letters of detainee Said Hammouda (January 30, 2002 from a federal prison in Brooklyn):

"I am now in solitary confinement for the past three months and a half...By Allah, if it wasn't for the Qu'ren and the Salat I may lose my mind or have a nervous breakdown. This is the picture of the situation that I am in... extreme pressure... and killer stillness. By Allah dear Ahmed, if suicide was not forbidden religiously, I would have done it a long time ago."

On February 19th, 2002 the Pentagon confirmed, that it is developing plans to provide news items, possibly even false ones, to foreign media organizations as part of a new effort to influence public sentiment and policy makers in both friendly and unfriendly countries.

The OSI has hired the Rendon Group (->), a Washington-based international consulting firm run by John W. Rendon Jr., a former campaign aide to President Jimmy Carter (->).

The company, which was being paid about $100,000 a month, has done extensive work for the CIA, the Kuwaiti royal family and the Iraqi National Congress (INC), the opposition group seeking to oust President Saddam Hussein.

Djerba attack

In April 2002, a truck bombing at a Tunisian synagogue Djerba killed 15 people, most of them Germans. German federal police later came to the conclusion, that this attack was planned by Al-Qaeda, but Tunisian police linked this attack to al-Tawhid group around Jordanian Abu Katadah.

The London-based Arab daily Al-Quds Al-Arabi said it had received a claim of responsibility for the Djerba explosion said to have been left by a truck driver, identified as Nizar Nawar.

German magazine DER SPIEGEL promoted the story, that two German residents, Michael Christian G. and Karim M. received a phone call 1 hour before the attack.

They reported, that a telephone number of Sep 11th suspect Mohammad Atta (->) was found in the apartment of suspect Michael Christian G. (Mulheim, Germany) and Karim M. DoD

During the mid- and late 90s, a paradigm change began at the US Department of Defense (DoD).

The Pentagon increased their business with private military contractors (PMCs) and became fresh advise by analysts like RAND (->), BENS (->) or ANSER (->), especially by Jay C. Davis (->) and Dr. Ruth David.

From an older GROUND ZERO Forum (->) article at Scoop:

"...As learned in the Washington Post, only 8 days after the attack on America, Ronald M. Sega, who directs research and engineering at the Pentagon, called a dozen defense technology officials together to work on a schedule in Afghanistan.

Then, during a couple of weeks dozens of government scientists and engineers at the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTRA) "finished" their work of years and okayed the official first use of a new microwave weapon system, thermobarics.

Sega was nominated for the staff of Bush only a few weeks before the Sept 11th attack, on June 7, 2001 He was already appointed on August 3, 2001 and started to refine his skills.

Sega was the perfect man for thermobarics. He's a former astronaut, who had a master of science degree in Physics.

From 1979 to 1982 he was on the faculty of the U.S. Air Force Academy in the Department of Physics where he designed and constructed a laboratory facility to investigate microwave fields using infrared techniques while pursuing a doctorate in Electrical Engineering.

Dr. Sega has logged over 420 hours in space.

He left NASA on July 1, 1996 to become Dean of the College of Engineering and Applied Science, University of Colorado at Colorado Springs.

http://www.jsc.nasa.gov/Bios/htmlbios/sega.html
On the same day, when Sega was nominated for the US government, John Paul Stenbit was nominated for the Department of Defense, too. Confirmed by the Senate on August 3rd, 2001, he is a supporter of airspace and microwave weapons.

Already from 1973-77, he served in the Department of Defense for four years, two of which were spent as principal deputy director of telecommunications and command and control systems.

In 1968, Mr. Stenbit joined TRW (->) and was responsible for the planning and analysis of advanced satellite surveillance systems. He retired as an executive vice president of TRW on 1 May 2001.

TRW, led by Phillip A. Odeen (->) as executive vice president and general manager, just merged in June 2001 with Northrop Grumman (->), a principal member of the Lockheed Martin JSF (->) team.

Stenbit served as chairman of the Science and Technology Advisory Panel to the director of the CIA and was a member of the Science Advisory Group to the directors of Naval Intelligence and the Defense Communications Agency.

A perfect combination for future weapons, pushed by the "Big 4": Sandia National Laboratories (->) Missiles and Fire Control/Dallas, TX, Orlando/FL), Boeing (->), Raytheon (->) and TRW.

These four corporations, which have been receiving 60 percent of government missile defense contract basically control this country and profited from the attack.

“Our government is being bribed by these corporations pushing for Star Wars” - Alice Slater, president of the New York-based Global Resource Action Center for the Environment (GRACE).

Just days before Rumsfeld was named Pentagon chief, the Space Commission issued a report championing Star Wars.

The Bush administration is intimately linked with the corporate interests behind the missile defense program. Vice President Cheney is a former member of the board of TRW. His wife, Lynn Cheney, was a longtime member of the Lockheed Martin board, stepping down only as her husband prepared to take office.

Bush's appointee as deputy director of the National Security Council -- whom he has also assigned to travel the world to promote the U.S. missile defense program - is Stephen J. Hadley, previously a partner in Shea & Gardner (->), the Washington law firm of Lockheed Martin.

Another Partner of Shea &Gardner is James Woolsey (->), ex CIA director.

They all had been former supporters of the Strategic Defence Initiative (SDI) program, aka Reagan’s Star Wars.

Other Bush administration officials drawn from the aerospace industry include Albert Smith, a Lockheed Martin vice president, appointed undersecretary of the Air Force; Gordon England, vice president of General Dynamics (->), named Navy secretary; and James G. Roche, retired president of a Northrop-Grumman division, appointed as Air Force secretary.

The question is, who of the real executives of the US Administration had a special interest to let this attack happen to enable a war "against terrorism"?

And who else is working in the Department of Defense and might have had some interest to start finally the use of future weapons and the relaunch of a SDI-program?

Some information about the DoD staff:

Source: http://www.leadershipdirectories.com/fmy/b6.htm

Stephen A. Cambone was Fellow in Political-Military Studies at the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS) from 1993 to 1998 and a Staff Member in the Office of the Director, Los Alamos National Laboratory from 1982 to 1986. Since July 2002 he is director of the Office of Program Analysis and Evaluation

Thomas P. Christie erved for nine years as director of the Operational Evaluation Division (OOD) at the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA), a federally funded research and development center. Christie was responsible for independent analyses of more than 200 major DoD test and evaluation programs.

Jack Dyer Crouch, II was Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Policy from 1990 to 1992. From 1985 to 1986, he served at the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency as an advisor for the U.S. Delegation to the Nuclear and Space Arms Talks.

Douglas Jay Feith was Special Counsel to Assistant Secretary of Defense Richard Perle 1982-1984. Feith is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR->). Before Mr. Feith transferred to the Pentagon from the National Security Council at the White House, where he worked from 1981 to 1982 as a Middle East specialist.

Like Paul Wolfowitz he is a pro-Israel advisor and founded the law firm Feith and Zell (->). Feith and Zell is part of FANDZ international law group with headquarter in Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, Washington, D.C. and Moscow Wolfowitz is one of the strongest supporters for a war against Iraq.

Diane K. Morales was the president of DMS, a management services firm that focuses on defense and commercial logistics. She was already Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Logistics and Secretary of Defense for Logistics, 1990-93 and served in this capacity during Operation Desert Storm Morales was vice president of the S.A.F.E. (Safeguarding America For Everyone) Foundation, Inc.

SAFE is a pro cyber-warfare supporter including Congressman Curt Weldon, former Steely Dan and Doobie Brothers guitarist Jeff Baxter, who acted in an advisory capacity for Congressmen Curt Weldon and Dana Rohrabacher (-> R-CA), both members of the House Science Committee, and has participated in numerous war games for the Pentagon.

Mr. Baxter was invited to serve on the Laser Advisory Board at Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory and has lectured at the University of Manitoba School of Political Science on the topic of regional conflict and missile defense.
Peter W. Rodman served already During the Reagan and first Bush administration. During the Nixon and Ford administration, Mr. Rodman was a member of the NSC staff and Special Assistant to Dr. Henry Kissinger (1969-1977). Mr. Rodman was a scholar at the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS ->) and at the Johns Hopkins Foreign Policy Institute.
http://www.defenselink.mil/policy/isa/bios/peter_w_rodman.html

Joseph E Schmitz, Inspector General Department of Defense worked as a partner at the law firm at PATTON BOGGS LLP. As we learn from their website, they are specialised in Middle Eastern governments "to recover assets removed by a former head of state"

Between 1995 and 2001, he served in senior leadership positions in the Naval Reserve, culminating in service as the Deputy Senior Inspector for the Naval Reserve Intelligence Program, responsible for Command Inspections/Audits, Investigations, and Intelligence Oversight of more than 4,000 Naval Reservists nationwide.
http://www.dodig.osd.mil/fo/schmitz_bio.htm

Finally Michael W. Wynne. He retired as senior vice president from General Dynamics, where his role was in international development and strategy. He spent 23 years with General Dynamics in various senior positions with aircraft (F-16), main battle tanks (M1A2), and space launch vehicles (Atlas and Centaur). Wynne spent three years with Lockheed Martin and became the general manager of the Space Launch Systems segment. Wynne served in the Air Force for seven years.

In December 2001 the Pentagon confirmed, that they dropped thermobarics on Tora Bora.
The term thermobaric is derived from the effects of temperature -- the Greek word for heat is "therme" -- and air pressure -- the Greek word for pressure is "bara" -- on the target...

DTRA

The Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTRA) has nine bases worldwide:

Albuquerque, Frankfurt (Germany), Moscow, Kiev & Almaty (former Soviet Union), Nevada, San Francisco, Washington, D.C. and Yokota in Japan.

While the DTRA claims, it works on a Chem-Bio defense, they got involved in the production, which is from need to produce vaccines or anti-weapons. One of them are the thermobarics (->), a mini-thermonuclear-system, which can destroy buried Bioweapon stocks.

Dubai

On July 14, 2000, french daily newspaper Le Figaro reported, that Osama bin Laden had met with "a high level CIA official (Larry Mitchell) in a Dubai hospital (->American Hospital)."

The newspaper stated: "the meeting was held in bin Laden's private suite in the hospital."

The report was originally based on a radio report by France International 1 and later picked up by frenchintelligence.com.

In the same month, when it was claimed that the CIA met Bin Laden, another terrorist was arrested in the same town.

This was Djamel Beghal, just returned from Paris, he was heading for London, where he was to emerge as a key figure in recruiting young Muslims for the so called Jihad.

Bin Laden was very often in Dubai between 1996-1998.

He had not only a bank account there, but drove his own Mercedes.

Dunham, Richard S.
On May 20th, 2002, journalist Richard S. Dunham asked 5 questions in the Business Week. Two of them had been unanswered at the end of 2002:

"Why, if Attorney General John Ashcroft (->) stopped flying on commercial aircraft over the summer, did Justice not issue sterner warnings to airlines and the public about threats to commercial aviation? Why did the Administration decide not to tell the public of the information it knew until the story leaked to the press?"

DynCorp

Founded in 1946, DynCorp is among the largest company-owned technology and services companies in the United States, providing IT, outsourcing and technical solutions for public and private sectors worldwide. DynCorp’s clients include the Defense and State Departments, and the Environmental Protection, among others. Capricorn (->) distributed 70% of its DynCorp investment to its partners in early 1997.

DynCorp was one of the lead contractors for the War on Drugs in South America called “Plan Colombia”. DynCorp helped clients such as the U.S. Army’s Logistics Civil Augmentation Program (LOGCAP), the Environmental Protection Agency and the U.S. Postal Service.

On the list of DynCorp clients from the public sector:

U.S. Postal Service (USPS), Centers for Disease Control, Department of Defense etc.

http://www.dyncorp.com/world/public.htm

DynCorp is responsible for the crashes of the helicopters in Afghanistan, as confirmed by tech mag insight, reported by investigative reporter Kelly Patricia O'Meara . http://www.insightmag.com/main.cfm/main.cfm/main.cfm/include/detail/storyid/229690.html

1) ENRON (->) executive Herbert S. "Pug" Winokur was on the board of DynCorp from 1988 to 1997, Winokur was the Chairman and CEO of DynCorp. It was said, that ENRON worked with 20 CIA agents to bribe business deals. DynCorp is one of the lead contractors for the new phony War on Drugs in South America called "Plan Colombia".

2) James Woolsey, former CIA director and friend of Pentagon advisor Richard Perle (Hollinger Inc.= Daily Telegraph, Jerusalem Post etc..) was director of DynCorp.

3) DynCorp is connected with the CIA as the nation's twenty-second largest defense contractor with 1998 U.S. Government contract revenues of $475 million. DynCorp, which currently has between 300-600 contracted employees in Colombia, is performing functions like crop eradication (using defoliants - like Vietnam), to sophisticated aerial reconnaissance, to combat advisory roles training military and possibly even paramilitary forces.

4) On Nov. 12, 2001, DynCorp, major government contractor for data processing, military operations and intelligence work, was awarded a $322 million contract to develop, produce and store vaccines for the Department of Defense (DynPort Vaccine Company — A joint venture of DynCorp and Porton International Ltd. ->)

5) DynCorp and Hadron (->), both defense contractors connected to classified research programs on communicable diseases, have been linked to a software program known as PROMIS (->).

7) Back to ENRONs Herbert "Pug" Winokur (->) and a report from Etherzone (Uri Dowbenko->):

"Pug" Winokur has been such a permanent fixture in the Washington Old Boy Network that he's even mentioned in a 1978 book by Daniel Guttman called "The Shadow Government.".

Historically Winokur's Capricom Holdings was used as an investment vehicle in NHP, an apartment management firm headed by Roderick Heller III.

In turn, NHP's assets included oft-purloined and defaulted HUD Section 8 subsidy housing, a notorious and well-known vehicle for fraud and money laundering.

Winokur was on the Board of Directors of Harvard Endowment Fund, which purchased 50 percent of NHP, making the prestigious Harvard a prototypical, but very low-profile, slum landlord.

It should be noted that George Bush Jr. attended Harvard Business School. Later, after Bush joined Harken Energy Corp and became a director, the largest stock position and seat on the board was acquired by Harvard Management Co. Since DynCorp had a contract from the Department of Justice, Winokur would have profited from the DoJ Asset Seizure Program, as well as HUD's Operation Safe Home seizures which targeted low-income tenants and mortgage holders in the inner cities.

ENRONs help by the CIA

Enron dealmaker Frank Wisner, Jr. muscled the company into lucrative overseas contracts, most notably in India and the Philippines. Enron's deal to manage a power plant in the Philippines was due largely to Wisner's efforts. Based in Subic Bay, a former US military outpost, the power planet was taken over by Enron in 1993, two months after the last US troops left the base.

Wisner is credited with helping Enron win a $2.8 billion deal in India, building a power plant near Bombay. Now the project is under heavy fire for being over-priced, and the deal continues to simmer with allegations of bribery. Wisner Jr. must have learned his tradecraft from his father Frank Wisner Sr., one of the CIA's prime operatives.

Wisner Sr., who worked at CIA from 1947 until just before his "suicide" in 1965, was involved in 1) the 1954 CIA coup in Guatemala, toppling the government of Jacobo Arbenz for United Fruit Company, 2) the 1953 overthrow of Iranian Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadeq, and 3) the secret operations against Indonesian President Sukarno.

Unlike his spooky father, Frank Wisner Jr., however, was a former Pentagon official before his job at Enron.

"The name of Dyncorp surfaced once more in connection with the shoot down of the missionary plane in Peru. Early news reports identified the American "spotters" who fed the Peruvian pilots the targets as under contract to the CIA. It turns out they were actually contracted by Dyncorp which may or may not have had a contract with the CIA. Dyncorp "employees" are involved in the "defoliating" campaign in Peru and Columbia reminiscent of the Agent Orange debacle in Vietnam.

Dyncorp is only one of a number of government "fronts" or "proprietaries" involved as surrogates around the world. Almost allof its $1.4 billion in 1999 revenue came from the U.S. Government.

Early warnings
==================================
Many 911-related websites, including the GROUND ZERO Forum (->lebensaspekte.de, ourDNA.org) compiled several early warning lists about a pending attack in 2000/1 including the last 24 hours before Sep 11th.

CopvCia.com by Mike Ruppert (->) was one of the first websites, who had a huge list of oversea intelligence warnings, grabbed from mainstream articles.

Finally in Summer 2002, Paul Thompson compiled the most detailed list at http://cooperativeresearch.org/

Which countries exactly warned of the secret service intelligence and foreign governments?

Afghanistan: Taliban-Minister warned US State Department (->Mutawakil, Ahmed)
Egypt: President Mubarak
France: DGSE , French Secret Service
Germany: BND
Israel: Efraim Halevy , Director of Mossad
Italy: Italian Deputy Prime Minister Gianfranco Fini
Jordan: Intelligence
Morrocco: Intelligence
Russia: Igor Ivanov (Russian Foreign Minister), Vladimir Putin (Russian President)
United Kingdom: MI5
Many early warnings had been confirmed various times in some newspapers, but got still ignored by US Government.

1) Israeli Prime Minister Ariel Sharon authorised the leak of sensitive documents which reveal America's spy agencies were warned about a terrorist strike weeks before September 11.

As late as August 24, less than two weeks before the attacks, a Mossad (->) warning, confirmed by German intelligence, BND, said that "terrorists plan to hijack commercial aircraft to use as weapons to attack important symbols of American and Israeli culture."

The warning alert was passed to the CIA.

The warning was passed to Mif6, Israel warned later a second time.
http://www.gordonthomas.ie/104.html

2) Jordan, beyond a doubt, and Morocco, with some certainty, advised US and allied intelligence that "Osama bin Laden's Al Qaeda terrorists were preparing airborne terrorist operations in the continental United States".

3) Britain gave President Bush a categorical warning to expect multiple airline hijackings by the al-Qaeda network a month before the September 11 attacks.
http://www.sundayherald.com/24822

4) Egyptian intelligence warned American officials about a week before Sept. 11 that Osama bin Laden's network was in the advance stages of executing a significant operation against an American target: President Hosni Mubarak said.

In an interview with Le Figaro, Mr Mubarak said; "We had communicated to the Americans certain information from the video made by bin Laden on June 13. It spoke of assassinating President Bush and other heads of state in Rome. It was a question of an airplane stuffed with explosives.
http://globalresearch.ca/articles/LEB112A.html

5) The National Security Agency (->NSA) received information on September 10th that "something big" was coming.

June 21, 2002:
"Recent news that the National Security Agency (NSA) intercepted two messages the day before the World Trade Center and Pentagon attacks -- messages that indicated imminent action -- obliges us to reconsider whether the airliner hijackings that led to 3,000 lost lives and $20 billion in property damage could have been foiled."

6) Sources tell NEWSWEEK, a "tested" undercover "asset" who had been working closely with the FBI office in San Diego on terrorism cases related to Hamas.

7) American intelligence agencies received many more reports of terrorists plotting to use planes as weapons before Sept. 11 than the U.S. government has previously acknowledged, a congressional investigator said. The intelligence agencies warned senior U.S. officials in July 2001 -- just two months before the attacks.

8) In August 1998, U.S. intelligence learned that a "group of unidentified Arabs planned to fly an explosive-laden plane from a foreign country into the World Trade Center.
http://story.news.yahoo.com/tmp=story2&cid=525&ncid=525&c=2&u=ap/20020918/ap_on_go_co/attacks_intelligence_17

9) On September 7th, 2001, former U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz (CFR->), received "a little-noticed State Department memo that was issued a week ago and warned that Americans "may be the target of a terrorist threat."

10) David Welna, NPR:
"I spoke with Congressman Ike Skelton(-) (CFR)--a Democrat from Missouri and a member of the Armed Services Committee--who said that just recently the Director of the CIA warned that there could be an attack--an imminent attack--on the United States of this nature. This is not entirely unexpected."
To hear this audio in MP3 format (or as streaming Real Audio), head to:
http://www.thememoryhole.org/tenet-911.htm

11) The Taliban Warning:
Talibans minister Muttawakil (->) warned the US Embassy in Pakistan, who alerted the US State Department.
"Weeks before the terrorist attacks on 11 September, the United States and the United Nations ignored warnings from a secret Taliban emissary that Osama bin Laden was planning a huge attack on American soil."
http://news.independent.co.uk/world/politics/story.jsp?story=331115
12) (The US) had picked up reports of threats about attacks planned for inside the United States and of using airplanes as weapons.

13) Sep17th 2002 at the second 911-hearings:
33 (!) Indices confirmed by Staff Director Eleanor Hill, Joint Inquiry Staff.

"...Hill also said that between May and July 2001, the National Security Agency reported at least 33 communications indicating a possible, imminent terrorist attack.

The hearings compiled a list of 50-60 warnings including classified documents.

Hayden:  http://9-11congress.netfirms.com/Hayden.html etc...)

14) Moussaouis (->) own warning ignored:

An FBI supervisor, sounding a prophetic pre-Sept. 11 alarm, warned FBI headquarters that student pilot Zacarias Moussaoui was so dangerous he might "take control of a plane and fly it into the World Trade Center," a congressional investigator said in a report.

FBI agent Colleen Rowley (->) took this warning and evidence serious, but got ignored by FBHQ, FISA and the NSLU.

Pan AM and the FAA (->), confirmed by Minnesota Rep. Jim Oberstar, knew about Moussaoui:

"After his arrest, Pan Am learned that Moussaoui had flown 57 hours in a CESSNA 152 in Oklahoma but never soloed, an accomplishment usually after 20 hours.

French anti-terrorism Judge Jean-Louis Bruguier, in charge of the investigation, opened his inquiry into the alleged embassy plot Sept. 10 -- a day before the catastrophic attacks in New York and Washington.

http://detroitnews.com/2001/nation/0110/03/a07-309216.htm

http://detroitnews.com/2001/nation/0110/03/a07-309216.htm

They confirmed, that the CIA ignored a visit by Bin Laden in a Dubai Hospital (->) in June 2001:

"French Intelligence sources say that another CIA agent was present; and that Bin Laden was visited by Prince Turki al Faisal (->), then head of Saudi intelligence (->), who had long had links with the Taliban, and Bin Laden."

15) Kenneth Williams (->) warning ignored

"A Minnesota FBI agent investigating Zacarias Moussaoui testified yesterday that he notified the Secret Service weeks before Sept. 11 that a terror team might hijack a plane and "hit the nation's capitol."

Williams released the Phoenix-memo (->), which included a warning on muslim students in US flight schools.

16) Between Sep6th and 7th, 2001, put options (a speculation that the stock will go down) totaling 4,744 are purchased on United Air Lines stock, as opposed to only 396 call options (speculation that the stock will go up). This is a dramatic and abnormal increase in sales of put options. Many of the United puts are purchased through Deutshebank/A.B. Brown, a firm managed until 1998 by the current executive director of the CIA, A.B. "Buzzy" Krongard. (Source: The Herzliiya International Policy Institute for Counterterrorism (ICT), http://www.ict.org.il ) (-> Insider Trading, CIA, - -> Insider Trading, FBI)

The New York Times reported the findings of Ernest Welteke (German Bundesbank) that "there have been fundamental developments in these markets (airline stocks) and the oil price rise just ahead of the attacks is otherwise inapplicable."

Mayo Shattuck III, the head of the Alex Brown unit of Deutschebank -- which had its offices in the WTC -- suddenly resigned from a $30 million, three-year contract on Sept. 12, as reported by the New York Times and other papers.

17) The San Francisco Chronicle reported, that Mayor Brown (->) was called eight hours before the attack and warned that "Americans should be cautious in their travel." (I consider this a general warning only since none of the planes involved were on the West Coast).

18) Author Salman Rushdie (who has written anti-Islamic works) was warned by the FAA on Sept. 3 not to fly to Canada and the US, according to the London Times.

He was scheduled to be on Minnesota Public Radio's book club "Talking Volumes" on September 11th.

19) The Defense Language Institute in Monterey (->) was put on alert prior to the attacks, as well as some overseas embassies and military bases. Monterey Officer Steve Butler (->) later accused President Bush of letting the attack happen on purpose.
20) Project Bojinka (->) was well known to the CIA, an older terror plan to crash planes into buildings.

21) Former FBI agent Robert Wright (->) (and 9 unidentified other agents) contacted former Top Prosecutor David Schippers (->) and warned of an attack. Schippers tried to reach John Ashcroft, without success.

22) Alex Diamandis, vice president of sales and marketing, confirmed that workers in Odigo's research and development and international sales office in Israel received a warning from another Odigo (->) user approximately two hours prior to the first attack.

23) Warning of member at TV Clubhouse:
Jeannenjm
Tuesday, September 11, 2001 - 03:32 pm
"I heard earlier today they knew this was coming ... I have a brother who lives and works close to the Wright/Patterson Air Force base in Dayton (->) ... The company he works for said the officials at W/P advised them to send home all employees... stating W/P was to be target number 6 and they have known this since last night"
NOTE: The company was later identified as Reynolds + Reynolds, a subsidiary of TRW/Raytheon. (->)
The responsible executive was Philip A. Odeen (->)

24) The Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung (FAZ), quoting unnamed German intelligence sources, said that the Echelon (->) spy network was being used to collect information about the terrorist threats, and that U.K. intelligence services had advance warning.

25) Italian Deputy Prime Minister Gianfranco Fini spoke on Italian television of parallels between the attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon and warnings received before the Genoa meeting.
"Many people joked about the Italian Intelligence Force," Mr Fini said. "But actually they had information that in Genoa there was the hypothesis of an attack on the American President with the use of an airplane. That is why we closed the air space above Genoa and installed anti-aircraft missiles.

At the Genoa Summit, the security measures had been increased:
"...Up to 20,000 police and military personnel are involved in the security operation"

26) Former Top Anti-Terror FBI-agent John O'Neill (->) warned about an attack:
Under the influence of U.S. oil companies, the government of George W. Bush initially blocked U.S. secret service investigations on terrorism, while it bargained with the Taliban the delivery of Osama Bin Laden...
...the Federal Bureau of Investigation's deputy director John O'Neill resigned in July in protest over the obstruction.

27) Pakistan knew about threats and the planning of the war- at the same time:
"A former Pakistani diplomat has told the BBC that the US was planning military action against Osama Bin Laden and the Taleban even before last week's attacks.
Niaz Naik (->), a former Pakistani Foreign Secretary, was told by senior American officials in mid-July that military action against Afghanistan would go ahead by the middle of October (2001)"

Condoleeza Rice (->) not only knew about the Ashcroft warning and received the CIA-memo (http://www.newsmax.com/showinsidecover.shtml?sec=2002/5/28/231650), she received two more warnings within the same week before Sept11th, by Gary Hart and Dana Rohrabacher.
Five days before Sept. 11, National Security Advisor Condoleezza Rice was warned that a terrorist attack inside the United States was imminent.

30) Walid Arkeh warning:
A Florida inmate claimed he warned the FBI last summer that al Qaeda was planning a terror attack on New York - but his words were ignored.
"I told them something big was going to happen in New York City," Walid Arkeh, 35, said in an interview with the Orlando Sentinel.
In August, he got word to the FBI that he had information on a planned terror attack.
But when two FBI agents showed up at the to interview him Aug. 21, he said he would tell what he knew only if he was freed from prison, given asylum in the United States and offered the kind of security granted by the witness-protection program.
Arkev said one of the agents told him, "Is that all you have?"

The FBI never returned until the afternoon of Sept. 11, when agents showed up again to speak to him. http://www.nypost.com/seven/01072002/news/nationalnews/38382.htm

31) Cayman Islands warning:
As the Los Angeles Times revealed: "Two weeks before the hijackings, an anonymous letter sent to a Cayman Islands radio station warned that the three might be involved with bin Laden in preparing 'a major terrorist act against the US via an airline or airlines.'"

Meanwhile, the Ottawa Citizen reported, that "a man in the Cayman Islands was said to have contacted American authorities in late August saying he overheard three Afghan men in a bar discussing planned attacks on the US." There's no way to know if this man and the letter-writer are the same person, or whether these three men are the same ones mentioned in the letter, but either way at least one person knew what was going to happen and warned the authorities and the media.

32) Twin Towers on high alert:
"Over the past few weeks we'd been evacuated a number of times, which is unusual...:

...Ben Fountain, 42, a financial analyst with Fireman's Fund, was coming out of the Chambers Street Station, headed for his office on the 47th floor of the south tower.

How could they let this happen? They knew this building was a target. Over the past few weeks we'd been evacuated a number of times, which is unusual. I think they had an inkling something was going on."

CounterPunch has learned from two sources that a) three weeks before the attack of September 11 security at the World Trade Center was abruptly heightened and that b) six weeks before the attack a US army base in New Jersey was placed on top security alert.

33) Portland eyewitness report (by Maine Mary, DU):
"On August 11th, I brought my daughter to Maine's Portland airport to send her off for a visit with her father in Arizona. I'm very familiar with that particular airport and nothing seemed any different. As usual, I was able to walk right through the baggage check area with her and to the Gate she would leave from.

But everything was suddenly different when I came to pick her up on August 26th. The most notable was the fact that no one was allowed to wait at the Gate(s). Only people coming from, or going on a flight were allowed through the baggage check area right up to the gate(s). I had never seen Portland do that before and furthermore, it isn't set up well to have so many people say hello or goodbye to their loved ones in the small area we were allowed in."

34) John Ashcroft was warned:
July 26th, 2001:
"In response to inquiries from CBS News over why Ashcroft was traveling exclusively by leased jet aircraft instead of commercial airlines, the Justice Department cited what it called a 'threat assessment' by the FBI, and said Ashcroft has been advised to travel only by private jet for the remainder of his term.

"There was a threat assessment and there are guidelines. He is acting under the guidelines," an FBI spokesman said. Neither the FBI nor the Justice Department, however, would identify what the threat was, when it was detected or who made it.

35) Al-Jazeera US-Website mirror was shutdown by FBI 4 days before Sep11th:

Sep 7th, 2001:
"An 80-member FBI terrorism task force on Wednesday and Thursday raided the offices of InfoCom Corporation, a Texas-based company that hosts a broad array of Arab Web sites, including the Arab world's leading news channel.

36) Bob Gipson warning:
"Bob Gipson of El Dorado County, California, wrote his congressman expressing his fear that the U.S. government would orchestrate a terrorist attack on "certain" U.S. cities and blame the attacks on "Islamic terrorists." Gipson told Rep. John T. Doolittle (R-Ca) he thought the "operation" would be a platform for declaring martial law in the U.S."

37) US Congress Member Dana Rohrabacher (->) tried to warn the US Department and arranged an appointment a few days before Sep11th.

38) Former naval intelligence officer Delmart Vreeland (->) claimed, he tried to warn the US Intelligence with a letter, while he was in prison.

39) The Pentagon was warned on September 10th:
On Sept. 10, NEWSWEEK has learned, a group of top Pentagon officials suddenly canceled travel plans for the next morning, apparently because of security concerns.

The idea that authorities had no idea the Pentagon could be a target is laughable, according to information in the Daily Telegraph. "For years, staff at the Pentagon joked that they worked at 'Ground Zero', the spot at which an incoming nuclear missile aimed at America's defenses would explode. There is even a snackbar of that name in the central courtyard of the five-sided building, America's most obvious military bullseye.

In October 2000 the Pentagon built a miniature Pentagon and crashed some planes into it.

40) Tommy Franks and Jeffery Starr on "high alert" ?
British newspaper The Guardian: According to it, a U.S. department of defense official, Dr. Jeffrey Starr, visited Tajikistan in January, and U.S. Rangers were training special troops in Kyrgyzstan. The head of the current Afghan war, General Tommy Franks, visited Dushanbe on May 16, 2001, calling Tajikistan "a strategically significant country."

41) The FAA (->) issued 6 warnings or bulletins on possible attacks between January 2001 and August 2001 but ignored the Moussaoui-warning in a public statement.

However, FAA Administrator Jane Garvey and other agency officials did not order any new security measures. Airlines and airports said they received no detailed warnings from the federal government that would have prepared them for the Sept. 11 attacks. Official statements had been made by Delta spokeswoman Peggy Estes, Barbara Platt, spokeswoman for Massachusetts Port Authority, which runs Boston's Logan Airport
http://www.foxnews.com/story/0,2933,52998,00.html

42) Own US Congress-Reports ignored:
In December 2000, a committee appointed by Congress – the Advisory Panel to Assess Domestic Response Capabilities for Terrorism Involving Weapons of Mass Destruction – released their second annual report. It flatly stated: "We are impelled by the stark realization that a terrorist attack on some level inside our borders is inevitable."
On September 10, 2001, the Congressional Research Service issued a report titled "Terrorism: Near Eastern Groups and State Sponsors." This prescient report stated: "Signs continue to point to... a rise in the scope of threat posed by the independent network of exiled Saudi dissident Osama bin Laden, which is independently financed and enjoys safe haven in Afghanistan, poses an increasingly significant threat to US interests in the Near East and perhaps elsewhere." On September 18th, the second 911-panel confirmed, that a "plan to attack WTC was among warnings that preceded 9/11."

43) On September 7, 2001, the State Department issued a “worldwide caution” which said: "American citizens may be the target of a terrorist threat from extremist groups with links to Osama bin Laden's al Qaeda organization."
http://www.sfgate.com/cgi-bin/article.cgi?file=chronicle/archive/2001/09/14/MN92245.DTL

Former US Secretary of State George Schultz said he was "startled" by the State Department's memo. "I have no idea what intelligence lies behind the warning, but they put this out because they had some sort of intelligence," he said. "They had some sort of rumbling of something, even if they didn't pinpoint it in the right direction... Something was cooking."

44) Airline News Warning:
"US Airlines May Be a Terror Risk Over Next 3 Days," read the headline of a story from Airjet Airline World News. Dated June 23, 2001, the news release is worth quoting at length:

"With US Gulf forces already on high alert, the US State Department is expected to issue a travel advisory shortly warning Americans traveling overseas to be on their guard."

45) Suspicious Observations ignored
In June 2001, Federal Protective Service officers in New York arrested three Middle Eastern men who were engaged in photographic reconnaissance of federal buildings in New York City. In another stunning display of incompetence, after the FBI and INS interrogated the men, they were let go, according to the New York Post.

46) Atta (->) was under surveillance:
From January to May 2000, Mohamed Atta – considered the ringleader of the hijacking teams – lived in Frankfurt, Germany, where the CIA had him under surveillance. (According to the German news magazine Focus, the agents didn't tell German authorities about Atta, who came to the US in June 2000 to take flying lessons.) This is in stark contrast to the statements of authorities, who claim that as of Atta's entry into the US in January 2001, they had no idea he was involved in terrorist activity.
On a related note, German security officials say they had been observing Said Bahaji – a prime suspect under warrant for the 911 attacks – at some point before Sept. 11.

Atta was under surveillance by the Mossad, too.

"Just a month before the deadly attacks, the paper said, Mossad handed over to the Americans a detailed report naming several suspects they believe were preparing an attack on the United States.
The ring was reportedly hard on the heels of at least four members of the hijack gang, including its leader Mohammed Atta. The paper also claims that the CIA failed to inform the German authorities that Ramzi Binalshibh, a key logistics man for the attacks, had attended a high level meeting of al-Qaeda activists in Malaysia over 18 months before November 11.

Without that information the Germans could not prevent him re-entering the country and contacting the Hamburg cell that was planning the hijackings."

http://www.spiegel.de/politik/ausland/0,1518,216421,00.html
47) Iraq (->) was on high alert:
Two weeks before the attacks, Saddam Hussein put his military on its highest state of alert, something he hadn't done since the Gulf War a decade earlier. He hid in his network of bunkers and moved his wives out of their palatial residence in Baghdad.

What makes this so suspicious is that Hussein had no apparent reason for declaring a red alert and going into hiding. A US intelligence official commented: "He was clearly expecting a massive attack and it leads you to wonder why."

48) Russian President Putin warned Bush personally of an attack during the Summer of 2001, same to the Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov.
http://izvestia.ru/rubr.cgi?id=5542&i=dr=523%20

Already during the summer of 2001, Russian media were abuzz with talks of some kind of "attack" against the US that would destabilize and perhaps topple the economy. Russian citizens were urged to convert their dollar to rubles.

On July 12, Pravda ran a page-one article headlined, "The Dollar and America Will Fall Down on August 19".

49) Iranian prisoner warning:
An Iranian man being held in Hanover warned US intelligence officials of an attack that was to take place in America the week of September 10. After pleading with his captors to let him talk to authorities in America, he was allowed to call (at least one of those he called was the Secret Service). However, US officials hung up on him when he said that he was awaiting deportation from Germany. Mere hours before the 911 attacks commenced, the 29-year-old begged to fax a letter to President Bush. He was denied the chance.

50) Ex-FBI Officials Admit of Knowledge of the Coming Attacks:
"Rusty Capps, a retired FBI counterterrorism chief: "We've had indications this was coming for some years." (Knight Ridder News Service 27 Sept 2001)

Michael Cherkasky, former New York City prosecutor who worked on the 1993 WTC bombing investigation and currently the head of Kroll, Inc., a well-known security company: "I believe that we had sufficient, specific information to say we were at enormous risk during the year 2000, 2001 of having a very, very serious incident here." ("Warning Signs." NBC News 23 Sept 2001)

Jerry Bremer, a former State Department terrorism expert and the chair of a national commission on terrorism in 2000: "We all predicted this. We had strategic warning. This is not something the analysts missed. (Boston Globe 15 Sept 2001)

51) Warning was passed to US Army Medical Corps and NSC:
In August 2001, Drs Garth Nicholson and Nancy Nicholson, two of the world's most distinguished Mycoplasma researchers on Gulf War Syndrome, informed Pentagon officials that they had "confirmed intelligence that on September 11, 2001, a terrorist strike against the Pentagon would be made." They cited their sources as including "individuals in key intelligence positions and one high-level African diplomat." Their information was passed to the Inspector General of the U.S. Army Medical Corps and the National Security Council. "Unfortunately it was ignored," says Dr Garth Nicholson.

52) As learned from the second 911 hearings (->) in September 2002, in July 2001, the DCI's CTC was aware of an individual who had recently been in Afghanistan who had reported, "Everyone is talking about an impending attack." The Intelligence Community was also aware that Bin Ladin had stepped up his propaganda efforts in the preceding months.

On August 23, 2001, the Intelligence Community requested that two individuals, Khalid al-Mihdar and Nawafal-Hazmi, who had first come to the attention of the Intelligence Community in 1999 as possible associates of Usama Bin Ladin's terrorist network, be added to the U.S. Department of State's watchlist for denying visas to individuals attempting to enter the United States.

A briefing prepared for senior government officials at the beginning of July 2001 contained the following language: "Based on a review of all-source reporting over the last five months, we believe that LJBL will launch a significant terrorist attack against U.S. and/or Israeli interests in the coming weeks. The attack will be spectacular and designed to inflict mass casualties against U.S. facilities or interests.

In August 2001, based on information it had in its possession at the time, the CIA sent a message to the FAA asking the FAA to advise corporate security directors of U.S. air carriers of the following information: "A group of six Pakistanis currently based in La Paz, Bolivia may be planning to conduct a hijacking, or possibly a bombing or an act of sabotage against a commercial airliner.

In late summer 2001, the Intelligence Community obtained information that an individual associated with al-Qa’ida was considering mounting terrorist operations in the United States.

http://burningbush.netfirms.com/Eleanor_Hill.html

53) As learned from an interview between FEMA spokesman Tom Kennedy and CBS Dan Rather on Sep12th, 2001, one team from FEMA was apparently in New York on "monday evening", September 10th, http://www.whelatreallyhappened.com/fematape.html

FEMA was able to install in time one of their emergency softwares, a new trial upgrade of FDomScene (->), which was installed on September 11th, confirmed by Skip Trudo of NJ Field Communications.

(-> Abbott, Tom)
(-> Pentagon, simulated crash)
The CIA knew what was going on and already confirmed it:
On April 12, 2002, James Pavitt, Deputy Director of CIA Operations, speaking at the Duke University Law School Conference, said, "We had very, very good intelligence of the general structure and strategies of the al Qaeda terrorist organization. We knew and we warned that al Qaeda was planning a major strike"

The FBI confirmed on Sep24th, that they "knew that several associates of Osama bin Laden had trained at U.S. flight schools, but believed the al Qaeda leader needed pilots to transport goods in Afghanistan"
http://www.alertnet.org/thenews/newsdesk/N24304866

But none of any officials was fired. Without any further public notice, however FBIHQ-Officers Dale Watson and Robert J. Chiaradio quit their job in 2002, another CIA-officer Cofer Black quit his job without any further explanation.

It has been standard FAA procedure for more than 25 years to scramble U.S. fighters to intercept -- not shoot down -- any errant or non-responsive aircraft under FAA control.

At the end of 2002 the US Government still defined Sep11th as the result of "incompetence" or "intelligence failure".

Ecuador

Ecuador is the second largest producer of oil in Latin America, after Venezuela. Fifty percent of Ecuador's national budget is funded by oil earnings (primarily the U.S. company Texaco and Ecuador's state-run company Petroecuador).

Several tribes and environmental groups are still suing the U.S. oil company, Texaco, for $1.5 billion in damages.

In Ecuador, drinking, bathing, and fishing water contain toxins much higher than the safety limits set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Due to many reports, oil companies that drilled in the rain forest were responsible for "felling thousands of acres of trees, dynamiting the earth, spilling vast amounts of oil, destroying habitats, and fouling rivers."

Another fight is between the Indians and Dallas-based Maxus Energy Corporation, who was constructing an underground pipeline that will pass through the territory of the Huaorani and Quichua tribes and the Yasuni Park in the Oriente.

Indigenous groups are calling for a 15-year moratorium on oil drilling, which would include repairing the environment.

Elgindy, Khaled

Brother of 911-Insider Trading suspect, who works for the White House-related Arab American Institute (->)

Elgindy, Tony

Elgindy has been an informant for the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the FBI and other federal agencies.

The informant deal was made public in May 2000 as he was sentenced to four months in prison after pleading guilty to insurance fraud.

Only 1.5 years later he made news again, when he was involved in a 911-insider trading story, which was ignored by the mainstream news.

According to an indictment handed up by a New York grand jury, Elgindy and his associates, including one former and one current FBI agent, used confidential material from FBI files to shake down companies under federal scrutiny or to profit by betting their stock prices would fall.

(-> Insider Trading, FBI).

Moreover, Assistant U.S. Atty. Ken Breen said at a May 24, 2002 bail hearing in federal court in San Diego that Elgindy might have had advance warning of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

=================================
Former energy giant ENRON made big news worldwide, only a few weeks after the Sep11th attack, when many journalists came to the conclusion, that the US government knew already in August 2001 on the pending bankruptcy.

On November 8th, 2001, the company disclosed that it had overstated earnings dating back to 1997 by almost $600 million. That same day, an e-mail ("Importance: High"), whose sender and recipient are blacked out, warned, "President Bush cannot talk about Dabhol as was already mentioned."

The memo said, that Bush economic adviser Lawrence Lindsey could not discuss Enron either.

Lindsey had been an Enron consultant.

This started a long debate on the connections between ENRON and the US Government, the "rigged election" of President Bush, the ties to UNOCAL(->), military business, deals with India, CIA connections, many small hidden scandals and even a Taliban connection.

More on President Bush-ENRON ties at:
http://www.bushnews.com/bushmoneytree.gif

The Guardian UK became one of the few mainstream specialists of the complete ENRON story.

They reported, that ENRON's testosterone-fuelled traders were fixtures in Houston's strip clubs.

"One division of the company spent $2m a year on flowers alone. And its executives used the firm's corporate jets as taxis."

Another specialist, Robert Bryce (->) described in a 2002 book on ENRON "the heady mix of greed, sex and arrogance that produced America's most spectacular financial scandal"

Source:
http://www.guardian.co.uk/g2/story/0,3604,825351,00.html

"When Enron needed cash, the company's chief financial officer had just the answer: a web of companies that would keep the firm's liabilities off its books - and make him rich."

Source:
http://www.guardian.co.uk/g2/story/0,3604,830137,00.html

In the final extract of his book, Robert Bryce described how the firm bought its way into Washington's corridors of power.

(-> Bryce, Robert)

One of ENRONs most important executives, was Herbert "Pug" Winokur, who is on the board of DynCorp (->):

DynCorp is a CIA sponsored company, once directed by ex-CIA director James Woolsey
(-> Wolfowitz Cabal)

In 1997, Enron announced plans to link Dabhol, India to the Hazira terminal of the of the so called HBJ pipeline. Enron said they were going to add to about 1500 miles to the HBJ pipeline. Costs: $300 million and $900 million, respectively.

Enron had a $3 billion investment in the Dabhol power plant, near Bombay on India's west coast. The project began in 1992, and the liquefied natural gas-powered plant was supposed to supply energy- hungry India with about one-fifth of its energy needs by 1997. It was one of Enron's largest development projects ever (and the single largest direct foreign investment in India's history). The company owned 65 percent of Dabhol; the other partners were Bechtel, General Electric and State Electricity Board.

In March 2002, Raghu Dhar of Zee TV, business editor of India’s largest television network confirmed in the CBS - "60 Minutes"-show, how "Enron offered to pay him $1 million a year to be its corporate communications chief in an effort to silence his criticism of its plan to build a $3 billion power plant there."
(-> Bustani, Jose)

"...The plant would run on liquefied natural gas shipped by tanker from the Middle East, a prospect many considered odd because India has lots of coal, a much cheaper and common fuel it has traditionally used to generate electricity. It turns out Enron was going to buy the natural gas from one of its own subsidiaries. Moreover, the central Indian government would assume essentially all risks in the venture, assuring Enron a 25 percent return on its investment."

Source:

Another website, http://www.altindia.net/enron described precisely the indian Enron deal, an agreement between the Maharashtra State Electricity Board (MSEB) and the Dabhol Power Company (DPC), an Indian subsidiary of the U.S. based Multinational, Enron Corporation.

On January 5th, 2003, CBS showed their own movie on ENRON (prod. by Robert Greenwald), leaving out the more interesting aspects.

Senator Phil Gramm and his wife Wendy Gramm had been accused on corruption regarding Gramm's past at ENRON.

Wendy Gramm was on the board of Enron Corporation, which has given almost $35,000 to Phil Gramm over the last few years. Wendy Gramm was named to the company's board, just five weeks after stepping down from the CFTC (Commodity Futures Trading Commission), which around the same time, exempted Enron and a group of other oil and gas companies from federal regulation on some of their commodities trading. The move was a big financial boon to Enron.

Due to a PBS-report, Enron paid Wendy Gramm $22,000 a year for her service on its board, plus $1,250 for every meeting she attended. The CEO of Enron, Kenneth Lay, was regional chair of the Gramm for President Campaign.

Robert Scheer wrote in the Los Angeles Times, that Wendy Gramm was mentioned in a bank lawsuit alleging insider trading as having sold $276,912 in Enron stock in November 1998. Her response is that she sold the stock to avoid the appearance of a conflict of interest, given that her husband was chairman of the Senate Banking Committee.

ENRON-Taliban connection

In March 2002, National Enquirer revealed, that
"...Atul Davda, who worked as a senior director for Enron's International Division until the company's collapse, confirmed to The ENQUIRER that "Enron had intimate contact with Taliban officials.

Building the pipeline was one of the corporation's prime objectives."

The ENQUIRER revealed already earlier in 2002, that "Enron secretly employed Talibam", due to one CIA source.

Furthermore an FBI source told The ENQUIRER that "Enron and Unocal dumped hundreds of millions of dollars into Afghanistan and the Taliban. The pipeline would relieve our dependence on Saudi Arabia -- and Enron would make billions."

Another source revealed, that "after the Taliban came to power in 1996, Taliban leaders were invited to Sugar Land (->), Texas, by Unocal (->) and Enron executives."

It was well known, that ENRON had many connections to the CIA.

Executive Herbert Winokur, formerly DynCorp (->), who was once directed by James Woolsey (ex-CIA director) was an indirect source.

ENQUIRER claimed, that ENRON had contact with at least 20 "secretly employed CIA agents to carry out its nefarious dealings".

Former ENRON employer Janice Holloway told the National Enquirer, that ENRON was 'a sin city of greed, adultery and corruption where top executives lived the high life'

Source:

National Enquirer had many personal reasons to investigate controversial ties of the US Government.

In early 2001 they got criticised after an article on Dick Cheney's daughter and her drug experiences.

In October 2001 their building (AME) was attacked by anthrax (->).

Bob Stevens died as the first official victim of a possible related terrorist attack.

ENRON had its own telecommunication subsidiary in Afghanistan, TSI Communications (->), who had another contract with the Taliban.
Former federal war crimes prosecutor John Loftus (<-> john-loftus.com) already claims knowledge of paperwork confirming secret dealings between Enron and the Taliban. According to Loftus an al-Qaeda document on this subject was discovered in 1998 by FBI counter-terrorism chief, John O'Neill (<->), following the US embassy bombings in Africa.

On January 2nd, 2003, Newsday reported, that the Office of Homeland Security lost the first round in a legal fight against EPIC. Election Systems & Software.
One of the companies, who got involved in the US 2000 election.

One major shareholder is Michael R. McCarthy, who runs the McCarthy Group.
The McCarthy Group has been a primary owner of Election Systems & Software, including its predecessor, American Information Systems for more than a decade.

Michael R. McCarthy is the current campaign Treasurer for Republican senator Chuck Hagel. Prior to his election, Republican Senator Hagel was president of McCarthy & Company.

Election Systems & Software was formed by a merger of American Information Systems (AIS), a huge election company featuring several Republican owners, and Business Records Corp., part of Cronus Industries, in turn partially owned by a member of the Hunt oil family of Texas.

World Companies, Inc is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Omaha World-Herald.
It is a holding company with substantial ownership in Election Systems & Software, and it controls World Marketing Inc., which operates gigantic databases and mammoth direct marketing companies.

Furthermore Election Systems & Software is involved in voter registration services, and no one has questioned whether there is a conflict of interest with voter registration activity and access to the nation's largest databases containing race, political affiliations and other demographics.

One person with shares in the World Companies Inc. is Harold W. Andersen, who is on the board of directors for The Williams Companies who was exposed in 2002 by CBS for creating a sham energy crisis in California.

On October, 10, 2002 Bev Harris, author of the upcoming "Black Box Voting: Ballot-Tampering" in the 21st Century, revealed that Republican Senator Chuck Hagel has ties to the largest voting machine company, Election Systems & Software (ES&S).

She reported, that he was an owner, Chairman and CEO of Election Systems & Software (called American Information Systems until name change filed in 1997), ES&S was the ONLY company whose machines counted Hagel's votes when he ran for election in 1996 and 2002. The Hill, a Washington D.C. newspaper that covers the U.S. national political scene, confirmed her findings today and uncovered more details.

Dick Cheney confirmed in an interview with Tim Russert (Meet the Press) that "the Secret Service has an arrangement with the F.A.A. They had open lines after the World Trade Center was hit"

However, all airlines claimed, they haven't been warned before Sep11th.

New York Air National Guard Col. Robert Marr, commander of the Northeast Defense Sector in Rome, N.Y., told the British Broadcasting Corp. that he had unarmed jets flying training missions when it became clear the terrorists intended to crash airliners into buildings.

"If you had to stop an aircraft, sometimes the only way to stop an aircraft is with your own aircraft if you don't have any weapons," Marr said in an interview on the BBC program, "Clear the Skies."

"It was very possible that would have been asked to give their lives themselves to try to prevent further attacks if need be."

Marr said that on the morning of the attacks at the World Trade Center and the Pentagon, only 14 armed planes were available to defend the U.S. mainland. Only four of those planes were patrolling the Northeast...

In April 2002 it came out, that the official pilot and hijacker of Flight93, Ziad Jarrah, still received some newsletters by the FAA.

Kathleen Bergen, an FAA (->) spokeswoman in Atlanta, said that she did not know why Ziad Samir Jarrah's name had not been removed from the mailing list earlier.

The incident came to light just weeks after it was disclosed that the Immigration and Naturalization Service sent official notice to a Florida flight school six weeks after the attacks that two of the other hijackers had been approved for student visas.

The FAA newsletter was mentioned by Charles Lisa (->), a landlord, who was already involved in another hijacker-connected "coincidence".

FAA-Warnings
At least 6 FAA-warnings during 2001 had been confirmed:

January 2001:
As confirmed in an AP-report (John Solomon) from May 2002, the FAA received a personal warning by the manager of the JetTech flight school in Phoenix on Hani Hanjour.

Peggy Chevrette, the JetTech manager, called the FAA (->) inspector John Anthony, who oversaw her school three times in January and February 2001 to express her concerns about Hanjour.

"I couldn't believe he had a commercial license of any kind with the skills that he had," she said.

Jet Tech was closed in September 2001.
It was owned by the Pan Am International Flight Academy.

John Anthony "did observe Hani's limited knowledge of flying" and "did check his flight credentials. He did tell Marilyn Ladner, a vice president for the Pan Am International Flight Academy, they were valid, so he did follow up on our concern," she said.

Chevrette, the flight school manager, said she told Anthony she believed Hanjour could not write or speak English fluently as required to get a U.S. commercial pilot's license.

Chevrette said she was surprised when FAA official Anthony suggested the school might consider getting a translator to help Hanjour. In May 2002 John Anthony refused to be interviewed on that detail.

Hanjour did not finish his studies at JetTech and left the school.
His last flight license was already expired in 1996.
Later the FBI claimed, that it was algerian pilot Lotfi Raissi (->), who helped Hani Hanjour flying Jets.
But this was debunked as false. Raissi was plead unguilty in March 2002.

June 22nd 2001
The FAA issued a bulletin that had concerns about terrorism.

July 2nd 2001
The FAA told the airlines the man involved in the millennium plot had intention of using explosives in terminal buildings.

July 18th 2001
The FAA issued a bulletin that said there are terrorist threats and we urge you to use caution.

July 31 2001

Unexplained, the FAA security took no action against another alert at a flight school in August 2001.

It was yet another Pan Am school in Minnesota, who contacted the FBI about a different Arab student who raised concerns by seeking jetliner training. That student, Zacarias Moussauoui (->), was immediately arrested in August 2001. He trained at a flight school in Norman, Oklahoma (->).

One employee, a whistleblower of the FAA, James Hopkins, was fired after he told his supervisors that an airport security trainee might be linked to a Sept. 11 hijacker.

Fake evidence on Iraq

In February/March 2003, many different papers called the "evidence on Iraq" fake, among them Washington Post and BBC.

DER SPIEGEL described these methods as "Tonkin lie", ABC as "Questionable Evidence" and CNN argued, that the Fake Iraq documents are "embarrassing for U.S."

In March, 2003, a group of retired CIA-officers started to question the evidence on Iraq as well. One of them, Ray McGovern, a 27-year CIA veteran who briefed top Reagan administration security officials before retiring in 1990, told AP; "It's been cooked to a recipe, and the recipe is high policy...That's why a lot of my former colleagues are holding their noses these days." Sources:

http://www.spiegel.de/politik/ausland/0,1518,239340,00.html

In March 2003, on a request by Sen. Jay Rockefeller of West Virginia, the FBI announced, that they are looking into the forgery of a key piece of evidence linking Iraq to a nuclear weapons program, including the possibility that a foreign government is using a deception campaign to foster support for military action against Iraq.

FAS.org (=Federation of American Scientists) is a progressive archive of scientific articles.
FAS.org was created in 1995 by the Federation of American Scientists in Washington DC.
In 2001-2002, they informed very precisely about the American weapons of mass destruction including new nuclear system and their anthrax program.

President of FAS is Henry C. Kelly. FAS is sponsored by dozens of independent scientists and others.
One of their members, Barbara Rosenberg (Biological Weapons Verification) became famous in 2001-2002, when she compiled a list of possible suspects of the anthrax attack.
She was later accused to having promoted the name of Stephen Hatfill, which she denied.

In fact, she released a list of 15 to 20 institutions:

USArmy Medical Research Institute for Infectious Diseases (Ft. Detrick, MD)##
Dugway Proving Ground (Utah)##
Naval Research Medical Center and associated military labs (MD)#
Battelle Memorial Institute (Ohio; plus laboratories in many other locations)#*

Fascism

"The liberty of a democracy is not safe if the people tolerate the growth of private power to a point where it becomes stronger than their democratic State itself. That, in its essence, is Fascism — ownership of government by an individual, by a group or by any controlling private power."

-Franklin D. Roosevelt

FBI

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was created in 1908 by the Justice Department.
One of their most controversial parts of their history was, when J. Edgar Hoover (1924-1972) tried to turn the FBI into an orwellian database, when he okayed COINTELPRO (->) in the late 60s.

Former G-Men George Wackenhus created Wackenhus Securities, which included a lot of former FBI-agents.
Since the late 90s the FBI was corrupted by new concepts as in their "Division5", "National Police Force" and now as an arm of the Homeland Security.
The FBI claimed, that it was incompetence of their office, who led to Sep11th.

It speaks for the FBI that one of their agents, John O'Neill was almost able to prevent the attack, but his story had never really been told for the public. O'Neill knew since 1998 about an ENRON-Taliban business deal.

The majority of 911Skeptics think, that the FBI was corrupted, sabotaged and manipulated by the CIA during the last 3 years.

FBI alert on 19 new suspects in Dec 2002

On December 29th 2002, the FBI issued a new terror alert on 19 suspects, which illegally entered the US borders and released a list of 5 names: Abid Noraz Ali, Ifitkhar Khozmai Ali, Mustafa Khan Owasi, Adil Perez and Akbar Jamal.

Only a few days later, a pakistani man said, that he was pictured in the alert, but is innocent.

An AP photograph of Mohammed Asghar taken at his shop in Lahore on Wednesday was a near-perfect match for the one included on the FBI list under the name Mustafa Khan Owasi, down to the prominent mole on Asghar's left cheek.

Asghar, 30, told AP that he was surprised to open a local newspaper and see his picture with another man's name beneath it.

Asghar said his only attempt at traveling abroad was frustrated when police in the United Arab Emirates discovered he had a forged visa. He suggested that the document forgers he once patronized could have used his picture to create false travel documents for another man.

He acknowledged that two months ago he tried to travel to Britain on forged documents. But he said that immigration officials at the airport in Dubai, in the United Arab Emirates, detected the falsification, questioned him for nine hours, arrested him and deported him back to Pakistan.

Asked if the forgers were responsible for switching the photos, Asghar said "I don't know who misused my travel documents. I don't know how my picture reached the hands of the FBI." Asghar refused to say where, or from whom, he bought the forged documents.

FBI-watchlist

==============================================

For bizarre reasons, all 19 hijackers still had been on a watchlist of October 2001

The list was originally located at

Original:
http://www.vrwa.org/fbiwatchlist.htm
11 October 01

Mirror:

Examples:

19 AlHazmi Nawaf
19 AlHazmi Nawaf M S
19 AlHazmi Nawaf M
19 AlHazmi Nawaf
20 AlHazmi Salem
401 AlHazmi Bandar A

Not only them:

The Alomaris, the AlGhamdis, Mohammad Atta (!), EVERYONE OF THE 19 HIJACKERS, was listed there.

Info:
"...The NIPC wishes to advise recipients that the FBI is seeking the following individuals who may have information related to the ongoing investigation of the 11 September 2001 terrorist attacks against the World Trade Center and Pentagon complex..."
Every suspect was listed with a so called SID-number:
Atta, Mohamad (55), AlHazmi, Nawaf (19), Moqed Majed (90?),
AlDin, Khayr (2), Aledreesi, Ali M (395?)
Abu Zubaydah was already on that list as No. 275, Binalshib, Ramzi (187), Mousaqui, Zacarias shared with Moussaoui, Zacarias No. 93

It's getting more bizarre:
Abdullah Al Mujahir aka Jose Padilla seems to have been there in a different spelling as well :
Abdulqadir Mujahid (No.87), but this is a speculation of myself.

This list was linked from the Virginia Rural Water Association.

*Thx to Jesuschrist, http://www.osamakidneys.com), who found more infos on the VRWA.
The VRWA is the Virginia Rural Water Association.

http://www.vrwa.org/

It reproduced an FBI watchlist, distributed by NIPC, of "individuals who may have information related to the ongoing investigation of the 11 September 2001 terrorist attacks against the World Trade Center and Pentagon complex" can be seen at

http://www.vrwa.org/fbiwatchlist.htm

The list was sent to water authorities, warning them to guard against employees or visitors with these names as possible threats to the water supply. The same list is presented in a different and more detailed format on the New Jersey water authority's site, where however it lacks the "SID numbers" specified for each individual of interest in the VRWA version:

http://www.njwater.org/FBI.htm

The list of 345 potential suspects includes ALL of the 9/11 hijacker names in many different spellings and variations. This implies that as of Oct. 11, 2001, the FBI had no clue about whether the identities used in the 9/11 operation were the actual men on the planes (or if there even were such men on the planes, of course). Not quite an admission of total ignorance, this can be chalked up to "thoroughness" since the whole issue of identities is vague.

After all, the Pentagon did admit that men with the same names as the hijackers were trained at U.S. bases (saying these were no doubt different men, ahem, move along and don't ask questions).

The watchlist was issued by NIPC, the "National Infrastructure Protection Center," possibly the leading warning-and-threat disseminator of the last year. Check out their website for a whole wealth of advisories to infrastructure authorities, especially with regard to software and e-threats:

http://www.nipc.gov/

"At any rate, I am satisfied that this list is not a hoax. As of Oct. 11, the FBI was seeking a man named Mohamad Atta, Mohamed G. Atta, Mohammed Atta or M. Attar in connection with the 9/11 attacks. In addition to the 19 alleged 9/11 hijackers, each in several variations, the list also includes the men on the FBI's Top 22 Most Wanted Terrorists (including Ramzi Binalshibh), and a number of names that do not sound like Arabs (Juan Poncho Bennett, Mel Burks)."

After this list circulated in October/November 2002 on some 911-investigative websites, the FBI released this statement:

FBI loses control over "watch list" - private sector obtains list"

Good to see the FBI performing its functions so well

U.S. watch list has 'taken on life of its own, FBI says Versions of watch list distributed to private sector

From Kelli Arena CNN Wednesday, November 20, 2002 Posted: 1:00 AM EST (0600 GMT) WASHINGTON (CNN) --

"FBI officials said Tuesday they have "lost control" of an agency-created watch list of people wanted for questioning following the September 11 terrorist attacks. Additionally, agency officials acknowledged that the list, which has gone through several manifestations, has "taken on a life of its own," and has shown up on several Web sites and contains names of people who have been cleared of any possible connection to last year's attacks. The FBI said the list was not a list of suspects, but people who agents wanted to talk to."

Feinstein-Sabotage

In Summer 2001, Sen. Feinstein discussed the lack of protection against terrorist attacks against targets within the US with the staff of VP Dick Cheney. She strongly requested more protection for the US. On September 10th 2001, she finally was told by the Cheney staffer it would have to wait at least six months.

In an interesting twist, Feinstein once included accelerated environmental clean up at Hunters Point Naval Shipyard and McClellan Air Force Base, a new barracks complex at the Monterey Language Institute ( ->), which was connected with some of the hijackers, according to some mainstream articles.

In early 2002, Feinstein was protested by Carol Brouillet ( ->).

Feith, Douglas Jay

Douglas Jay Feith was Special Counsel to Assistant Secretary of Defense Richard Perle 1982-1984. Feith is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR ->).

In 1996, he was member of a 18-member committee, who passed around a document called "A clean break: a new strategy for securing the calm".

According to British journalist Brian Whitaker, this blueprint was written for Binyamin Netanyahu, prepared by the Institute for Advanced Strategic and Political Studies (IASPS), a right-wing Israeli think tank.

Content was a remodelled Middle East. One important item in the strategy, the paper strongly implied, would be getting Saddam Hussein out of power in Iraq. Head of the committee was Richard Perle ( ->).

Another member of the committee was David Wurmser, who is now a senior adviser to John Bolton, the Under-Secretary for Arms Control and International Security, and the State Department's most hawkish senior official. In 1999, Wurmser published a book (with a foreword by Richard Perle) called "Tyranny's Ally: America's Failure to Defeat Saddam Hussein." It provides a detailed description of a dramatically improved Middle East, from the hawk point of view, after regime change in Iraq.

The other members: James Colbert (Jewish Institute for National Security Affairs), Charles Fairbanks, Jr (Johns Hopkins University/SAIS ->), Robert Loewenberg (President IASPS), David Wurmser (IASPS), and Meyrav Wurmser (Johns Hopkins University), Jonathan Torop (The Washington Institute for Near East Policy) and others.

The committee and this document later inspired PNAC ( ->) for another blueprint of a regime change in Iraq.

Strategy paper on oil, August 2001:

Turkey: The key to oil and gas (IASPS report, August 2001):

"...A recent study by CSIS (Center for Strategic and International Studies ->) in Washington, D. C., foresees that by 2020, 50 percent of estimated total global oil demand will be met by countries posing a high risk of internal instability. Crises in the world's key energy-producing countries are highly likely for the next two decades. There is little likelihood that such crises will bring to power rulers friendlier to America than the current ones, since 65.3 of the recoverable oil reserves of the world (683.6 billion barrels) are in the unstable and largely anti-American Middle East region. Saudi Arabia produces a 25.3 percent share, while Iraq puts out 10.8 percent and Iran 8.6 percent...

...The U.S. is 50 percent dependent on oil imports; Turkey and Israel are almost totally dependent on outside oil and gas...the importance of Caspian hydrocarbons will greatly increase.

Some major European, Asian and Russian oil companies (TotalfinaElf, Shell, ENI and others) are taking advantage of anti-Americanism generated by U.S. sanctions toward Iran and Iraq by investing there, free of U.S. competition. Therefore it is questionable whether the U.S. will be able or willing to secure Europe’s (and Asia’s) Middle Eastern oil supplies...

...Some national oil companies around the Caspian tend to exaggerate their unexplored (potential) reserves to attract foreign investors. On the other hand, some major oil companies try to play down those reserves, either to receive better terms in the Production Sharing Agreements or to delay major investments like main export pipelines, as we now are observing in the decision process of the Baku-Ceyhan oil pipeline from the Caspian..."

In an interview with Dan Rather (CBS), FEMA spokesman Tom Kennedy said, that the FEMA already arrived in New York "on monday evening", so one day before Tuesday, September 11th. Rather didn't react on this statement and an official explanation had never been found.

On November 20th, 2002, credible democraticunderground-member "BeHereNow" reported from a conversation with some FEMA-employees, he met at a dinner in a "large city in Southern California", who just came back from a "training":

"The gist of the conversation was this:

"-Our government know we will be attacked once the invasion of Iraq begins. Think infrastructure in metropolitan, high profile cities
-They FULLY expect widescale disasters, simultaneously in retaliation.
-THEY DON'T CARE, and we are woefully unprepared for what is about to ensue on our soil, and these emergency rescue guys know it and feel absolutely guilty that the citizens in this country are not being warned or prepared for the impending chaos; our government is NOT telling us what they know."

Firefighters
=============

Totally ignored by the US media, many of the NY-firefighters doubted the official story of the Sep11th attack and demanded an independent investigation of the Twin Towers collapse, which was ignored. (-> Firefighter Tape)

In autumn 2002, as reported in the NY Post, many firefighters had still problems with depressions.
On September 26th 2002, one of them, Gary Celantani, a member of Squad 288, which lost 8 members at the WTC, committed suicide with a gun in front of a makeshift shrine he built to friends and colleagues lost in the terror attack. He released a suicide note, in which Celantani said, a "recent breakup with his girlfriend' drove him to kill himself.

In November 2002, the NY Firefighters still had been part of downplayed local news.
Eight firefighters, busted while protesting plans to cut the number of Bravest recovering human remains at Ground Zero, started to sue the city for false
The firemen in the lawsuit are Michael Carter, Sal Civitillo, Michael Destefano, Victor Fiorella, Matthew James, Thomas Manley, Sean Nealon and Michael Tierney.
The city Legal Department and NYPD declined comment on the suit.

Due to many US Civil right groups and lawyers, the first amendment of the United States died during 2002.
In early 2003, a lawyer was arrested, while wearing an anti-war T-Shirt, and two High School Teachers had been Suspended Over Anti-War Signs.
In Hollywood, rumours circulated on a new pending "black list", similar to a black list during the 50s-area of McCarthy.
First Plane Crash "live" on TV
=================
As already proven from various timelines (->), President Bush knew already before he even entered the school (and not the classroom only), that a plane had attacked the World Trade Center.

Instead of taking care of already one tragic national desaster, he decided not to cancel his schedule, as journalist Peter Jennings found out:

JOHN COCHRAN reporting:

"Peter, as you know, the president's down in Florida talking about education. He got out of his hotel suite this morning, was about to leave, reporters saw the White House chief of staff, Andy Card, whisper into his ear. The reporter said to the president, 'Do you know what's going on in New York?' He said he did, and he said he will have something about it later. His first event is about half an hour at an elementary school in Sarasota, Florida."

President Bush continued with this lie and two possible freudian statements:

He claimed he saw the first plane crash live on TV, which was impossible. No TV Station showed it live and there even did exist only one video- by two french filmmakers (->)

1) Q What was the first thing that went through your head when you heard that a plane crashed into the first building?
THE PRESIDENT: Yes. Well, I was sitting in a schoolhouse in Florida. I had gone down to tell my little brother what to do, and -- just kidding, Jeb. (Laughter.) And -- it's the mother in me. (Laughter.) Anyway, I was in the midst of learning about a reading program that works. I'm a big believer in basic education, and it starts with making sure every child learns to read. And therefore, we need to focus on the science of reading, not what may feel good or sound good when it comes to teaching children to read. (Applause.) I'm just getting a plug in for my reading initiative.

Anyway, I was sitting there, and my Chief of Staff -- well, first of all, when we walked into the classroom, I had seen this plane fly into the first building. There was a TV set on. And you know, I thought it was pilot error and I was amazed that anybody could make such a terrible mistake. And something was wrong with the plane, or -- anyway, I'm sitting there, listening to the briefing, and Andy Card came and said, "America is under attack."

And in the meantime, this teacher was going on about the curriculum, and I was thinking about what it meant for America to be under attack. It was an amazing thought. But I made up my mind that if America was under attack, we'd get them. (Applause.) I wasn't interested in lawyers, I wasn't interested in a bunch of debate. I was interested in finding out who did it and bringing them to justice. I also knew that they would try to hide, and anybody who had proved haven, help, food, would be held accountable by the United States of America. (Applause.)
Anyway, it was an interesting day.

2) Q One thing, Mr. President, is that you have no idea how much you've done for this country. And another thing is that, how did you feel when you heard about the terrorist attack? (Applause.)
THE PRESIDENT: Thank you, Jordan. Well, Jordan, you're not going to believe what state I was in when I heard about the terrorist attack. I was in Florida. And my Chief of Staff, Andy Card -- actually, I was in a classroom talking about a reading program that works. I was sitting outside the classroom waiting to go in, and I saw an airplane hit the tower -- the TV was obviously on.
And I used to fly, myself, and I said, well, there's one terrible pilot. I said, it must have been a horrible accident.

But I was whisked off there, I didn't have much time to think about it. And I was sitting in the classroom, and Andy Card, my Chief of Staff, who is sitting over here, walked in and said, "A second plane has hit the tower, America is under attack."

On September 12th, 2002 the NY POST altered the original story, as proven already on video and from the local live broadcast:

"...at Emma E. Booker Elementary School, teacher Sandra Daniels recalled yesterday how she and her class learned of the terror attacks- when a Secret Service agent rushed into the room to inform the president of United States. President Bush had been presiding over her reading class last 9/11, when a Secret Service agent interrupted the lesson and asked, "where can we get a television?".

This lie increased a new angry storm among the 911skeptics and increased the internet mirrors of the original school video and a remastered version in the first episode of ShadowGovernment TV (->).

Even the name of the teacher was incorrect, in fact the reading lesson took place in KAY Daniel's classroom----many other children were already gathered in the MEDIA room, where Junior was scheduled to speak about education following the reading demonstration/photo op in Kay Daniel's classroom.

Flight 11-Mystery
==================
Due to conflicting reports and one FAA-protocol, one crew member on Flight 11, Madeline Amy Sweeney, (purportedly) was able to place a cell phone call to her ground manager during the hijacking.

The assembled FBI transcript of this (recorded) call, was reviewed by the LA times and published on September 20th.

A close examination of this transcript, however, proves to be very perplexing for a number of reasons: In it, Ms. Sweeney claims that the hijackers had stabbed two flight attendants and slit the throat of a business-class passenger, killing him. In addition, according to a released FAA memo produced on 9/11/01 (5:31 PM), one passenger is even mentioned as being shot.

Another story implies, that there was a problem with the plane about 15 minutes after departure.

In another related story, it was reported, that the passenger, who "was shot" by shot by passenger Satam Al Suqami, was Daniel Lewin from Akamai. Suqamis passport was later found in the rubble from the Twin Towers. (-> passport in the rubble)

As Equire reported, he was working for Shin Beth. (->)

* ewing2001 posted on 4/2002 at GZ: An official at Saudi Airlines announced that Amer Kenfer, a Saudi aviation engineer whose name appeared on the list of passengers on board the United Airlines flight, en route from Boston to Los Angeles, is currently in Saudi Arabia.

Kenfer called Saudi Airlines from his home in Mecca once he heard his name announced as one of the passengers on the United flight, confirming that another passenger had used Kenfer's name.

The official Saudi source added that another Saudi suspect whose name was also included on the list of passengers who boarded the same United flight -- Amir Bokhari, a Saudi Airlines pilot -- had died two years ago during aviation training exercises.

Even if these two names are removed, there is still 2 extra people listed for this flight.

Flight 587

On November 11th, 2001 Flight 587, an American Airlines jetliner on its way to the Dominican Republic crashed moments after takeoff in a residential neighborhood of Long Island/New York five miles from Kennedy Airport, authorities said.

On the same day the final data from the media consortium's recount of the state of FL presidential results had been released: the NORC results (National Opinion Research Center) (->election, rigged).

Bill Schumann of the Federal Aviation Administration said there was no immediate indication of what caused the crash, which came two months after the attack on the Twin Towers.

Witnesses on the ground saw an explosion in one of the engines then the plane nose dived.

The White House claimed, that it was no terrorist attack.

Others speculated on a sabotage and fake accident.

Initial reports said the plane was an American Airlines Boeing 767, however, the FAA later confirmed the plane was an Airbus A300.

The FAA has already warned in August 2000, that the CF6-8 Engine by General Electric (->), used in that plane, has to be fixed, after it blew apart during a maintenance check in Philadelphia.

The crash, the first in the United States of an Airbus, is unusual because big jets seldom break up in the air.

Before the plane was delivered in 1988, the composite material in one of the six fittings holding the tail in place was found to be delaminating, meaning its layers were coming apart. It was fixed by adding layers and inserting rivets, and the manufacturer decided that no extra inspections were required afterward.

On November 17th, 2001 Newsmax reported on a video, which "showed a puff of smoke in the sky seconds after it crashed outside New York's JFK Airport", lending credence to eyewitnesses who say the jetliner exploded before slamming into the Queens, N.Y., neighborhood.

Another "unnamed aviation expert", quoted in New York's Newsday, said one likely explanation for Flight 587's breakup was a bomb exploding on board.

More relatives demanded an investigation:

Tom Lynch, 59, a retired firefighter, said he had spoken to 18 other people who saw the Airbus A300 flying on fire before it crashed into houses in Belle Harbor, Queens.

The witnesses said they were surprised NTSB Chairwoman Marion Blakey was able to say, only hours after the crash, that all indications pointed to an accident, rather than a terrorist attack.

Another witness not involved with Lynch's group, Michael Benjamin, said he saw a huge orange fire engulfing the front third of the plane's right side while he was driving along Flatbush Avenue in Brooklyn with his wife and two children.

In February 2002 investigators claimed, the crash of Flight 587 may be linked to an illegal trade in sub-standard jet parts.

Source:

On February 20th, 2002, CNN reported on the released tapes of Flight 587:
"American 587 heavy, I'm not receiving your transponder," one controller said.

Source:

On June 5th, 2002 the NY Post reported, that "more than half of the witnesses to November's Flight 587 crash in the Rockaways told National Transportation Safety Board probers they saw a fire while the plane was in the air".

The board released a summary of the 349 eyewitness accounts it has received during its investigation of the American Airlines crash.

Another group of pilots has submitted a petition with 230 signatures to American, asking for regular inspections of the composite tail "to guarantee the continued structural integrity of the A300-600 fleet."

And the Coalition of Airline Pilots Associations, which includes the American pilots union, has asked FAA Administrator Jane Garvey to order detailed inspections of the Airbus tails, including ultrasound.

Source:

On October 30th 2002, the official version changed again.

Now it was "the co-pilot's aggressive handling of the rudder", who may have contributed to the crash.

Flight 679

Possibly "planned" as the "fifth plane" (->), due to some speculations.

On Sept 12th 2001, two Indian men, Mohamed Jaweed Azmath (->) and Syed Gul Mohamed Shah (also known as Ayub Ali Khan) were detained as part of the investigation into the terrorist attacks of Sept 11th.

They were in the air on TWA Flight 679, from Newark to San Antonio at the same time as the other attacks were being carried out.

Sources:

Their flight was forced to land in St. Louis, Missouri, when the Federal Aviation Administration closed the skies after the hijackings.

They continued their journey on an Amtrak train. They were arrested outside Fort Worth, Texas, during a routine drug inspection of the train.

A couple of months later it came out, that both "suspects" had nothing to do with the attack.

Flight Colgan Air

On September 11th, Atta and Abdulaziz Alomari board a Colgan Air flight from Portland, Maine to Boston. They are filming going through security in Portland. This is the only footage of the hijackers in airports on 9/11, and it's not even one of the suicide flights. The timestamp on the released photos shows 5:53. If the hotel manager is correct, Atta (and Alomari?) needed only 23 minutes until they checked in and passed this camera.

After the plane departed, a man has an argument with five Middle Eastern men over a parking space in the parking lot of Boston's Logan Airport. Later in the day he reports the event, and the car is discovered to have been rented by Atta.

Flight manuals

As reported wrong, only the flight manuals for the 767's, 747's, 737's, and 777's operated by Japanese airlines are available in Japanese (Kanji), except for non/untranslatable words, which are printed in English.

All other official manuals are only available in English language, but not arabic.

The actions have been called to bring attention to and protest the continual barrage of pro-war reporting by major media outlets, including MPR.
Similar actions have been occurring in St. Paul/Minneapolis with regular frequency following horrible media coverage of the historic October 26th anti-war protest that drew more than 10,000 people to the St. Paul Capitol building.

On Sep24th 2002, Army Staff Sgt. Ryan Foraker, a National Guardsman of Guantanamo Bay (->) vanished under strange circumstances.

Fort Bragg Killings

In July 2002, reports increased on strange killings and suicide series in Fort Bragg. Four soldiers at Fort Bragg, home of the elite U.S. Special Forces Command, have been accused of murdering their wives within six weeks.

June 11
Sgt. 1st Class Rigoberto Nieves shot himself and his wife, Teresa, in the bedroom of their home near the base - just two days after he returned from Afghanistan.

June 29
Master Sgt. William Wright of the 96th Civil Affairs Battalion was accused of murdering his wife, Jennifer, and then hiding her body. Wright had been home from Afghanistan for about a month, had moved out of the couple's home, and was living at the Fort Bragg barracks. Family members reported that the couple discussed a divorce.

July 19
Sgt. 1st Class Brandon Floyd a member of the elite anti-terrorism unit Delta Force, shot himself and his wife, Andrea, to death at their home near the base. Floyd had been home from Afghanistan since January. (On the same day Sgt. William Wright led investigators to the dead body of his wife)

July 9
Army Sgt. Cedric Griffin has been charged with stabbing his wife Marylin to death on July 9 and setting fire to their home. The couple's two children managed to escape the fire, police said. Soldiers at Fort Bragg said they are well aware of mental problems linked to the anti-malaria drug Lariam, which include aggression, depression, paranoia, hallucinations and suicidal thinking Lariam is produced by Hoffman La Roche.

Frasca, Dave

Dave Frasca is the manager at FBI Headquarters, whom Minneapolis FBI Agent and Legal Adviser Coleen Rowley named in her 13-page letter to FBI Director Robert Mueller.

"...(FBI agent Colleen) Rowley - basically fingers a mid-level FBI supervisory agent in the Hoover Building (in Washington) named Dave Frasca, head of the task force on religious fanatics. After the Minneapolis office took flight student and hijacker-wannabe Zacarias Moussaoui into custody and obtained intelligence from the French indicating that he had terrorist ties, alert Minnesota agents didn't just passively push the case up the chain of command.

They became, in Rowley's words, "desperate to search his computer laptop." So desperate that they risked the wrath of higher-ups by committing a real pre-9/11 no-no - contacting the CIA.

....Because Frasca's not commenting publicly, we haven't heard the other side of the story. But as anyone who has ever worked in an office knows, HQ always has its own take on events, and sometimes it's even right..."

Global Hawk
================================
Global Hawk is complemented by the DarkStar system, a UAV (->) with low-observable characteristics. DarkStar is for use in high-threat environments where ensured, survivable coverage is more important than range and endurance. The complementary nature of the two systems provides a flexible, cost-effective mix for military commanders.

The Global Hawk program is funded by the Defense Airborne Reconnaissance Office (DARO) and managed by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA ->) and the US Air Force.

Teledyne Ryan Aeronautical is the prime contractor for the Global Hawk. Raytheon E-Systems (->) is developing the advanced sensor payload. The ground mission control segment is being developed by Hughes Aircraft, and the communications system is being developed by Lockheed Martin Communications Systems (->).

Ryan Aeronautical Centre is another contractor. The principal suppliers for Global Hawk include Raytheon Systems (sensors), Allison (turbofan engine), Boeing North American (carbon fibre wing) and L3 Communications (communications system).

4) Peter Gay (AA11), 54, of Tewksbury, Massachusetts, was a Raytheon Co. vice president of operations for electronic systems based in Andover, Massachusetts.

He had worked for Raytheon for more than 28 years.

Historical Highlights of Global Hawk:

Friday, 18 Jun 1999:

Global Hawk - Unmanned Aerial Vehicle stays airborne for more than 27 hours..

Global Hawk successfully completed a military utility assessment in June 2000, carried out at Eglin Air Force base, Florida.

In June 2000, Global Hawks 116-foot wingspan was greater than a Boeing 737 airliner's, and its maximum weight tops 25,000 pounds.

In March 2001, the US Department of Defense awarded Northrop Grumman a contract for the engineering and manufacturing development (EMD) phase of the program, to last until March 2003 and in June 2001 a contract for two low rate initial production UAV's.

January 2002:
AeroVironment has partnered with the US Army Research Laboratory (ARL) and United Defense to develop a Gun Launched Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (GLUAV) that could be built in calibers ranging from 81mm to 155mm for applications including reconnaissance, target acquisition and identification, and battle-damage assessment.

Winging its way toward Europe for the first time, Global Hawk Air Vehicle No. 4 took off from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., May 8, and flew non-stop to Portugal, carried out some radar imagery tasks, and then returned to Eglin some 28 hours later.

While over Portugal, Global Hawk took classified radar imagery of targets in Portugal and the Madeira Islands, disseminating these images via Royal Air Force station Molesworth, U.K., to SOUTHLANT, regional command for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Supreme Allied Command Atlantic," said Lt. Col. Mike Trundy, deployment commander, Global Hawk Office, Reconnaissance Systems Program Office, Aeronautical Systems Center here, which is developing the new UAV for future Department of Defense applications.

"The images were provided to regional commanders as intelligence data for amphibious (exercise) landings planned later in the week."

AWACS + FANS:

AWACS:
Is AWACS the answer? by Joe Vialls (->)

Is Global Hawk + GPS just a distraction, if FANS already can help out?

FANS (thx to one member of DU*):
"...What you are after is FANS or the Future Air Navigation System which is fitted to both the 757 and 767 as standard.

FANS is a system that is integrated into the FMCS or Flight Management Computer System (basically an incredibly advanced autopilot that can fly the aircraft from immediately after take off until and landing). FANS is a system that allows air traffic control to make adjustments to an aircraft's flight path (such as heading, altitude etc) without pilot input via remote radio data links.

Forget Global Hawk!
Talking about Global Hawk as being what was used to take over the aircraft is like saying "F-16 Falcon" was used to take over the aircraft. Global Hawk is the name of a specific remotely piloted semi-autonomous unmanned reconnaissance drone and nothing more.
Just like Predator is the name of another drone aircraft.

That name has nothing whatsoever to do with remote piloting technology except in that it refers to a type of remotely piloted aircraft!

Here is a good start for you:
The 757-200 flight deck, designed for two-crew member operation, pioneered the use of digital electronics and advanced displays.

A fully integrated flight management computer system (FMCS) provides for automatic guidance and control of the 757-200 from immediately after takeoff to final approach and landing. The precision of global positioning satellite (GPS) system navigation, automated air traffic control functions, and advanced guidance and communications features are now available as part of the new Future Air Navigation System (FANS) flight management computer.

Globalresearch or Centre for Research on Globalisation was founded by Michel Chossudovsky (->).
One of the most important sources for 911-research since 2001.

The Centre for Research on Globalisation (CRG) is an independent research and media group of progressive writers, scholars and activists committed to curbing the tide of "globalisation" and "disarming" the New World Order.

Global Research released a print magazine "GlobalOutlook" and promoted articles by Francis Boyle, Greg Palast, Larry Chin, Michael C. Ruppert, Michel Chossudovsky (CRG editor), Robert Fisk, Mumia Abu-Jamal, Carol Brouillet, Tetrahedron, Nico Haupt, Scott Ritter, Alex Jones, FAIR, Sunshine Project (Jan v. Aken etc.), Gore Vidal, Stan Goff, Barrie Zwicker, Chaim Kupferberg, Patrick Martin, Paul Thompson, Jacob Levich and many many more. (->)

Therefore Globalresearch is an important tool for investigative newbies.
GR analysed interviews with Zbigniew Brzezinski (->), who was described as the "blueprinter" of 911 or basically "inspired the real people behind 911".

====================================
"Why of course the people don't want war. Why should some poor slob on a farm want to risk his life in a war when the best he can get out of it is to come back to his farm in one piece? Naturally the common people don't want war neither in Russia, nor in England, nor for that matter in Germany. That is understood. But, after all, it is the leaders of the country who determine the policy and it is always a simple matter to drag the people along, whether it is a democracy, or a fascist dictatorship, or a parliament, or a communist dictatorship. Voice or no voice, the people can always be brought to the bidding of the leaders. That is easy. All you have to do is tell them they are being attacked, and denounce the pacifists for lack of patriotism and exposing the country to danger. It works the same in any country."
– Hermann Goering at the Nuremberg Trials (Commander of the Luftwaffe, President of the Reichstag, Prime Minister of Police Gestapo, Hitler's 2nd man in the Third Reich & Marshal of the German Empire)

Stan Goff, (Rtd.) Furthermore Goff is writer and organizer, North Carolina Network for Popular Democracy, Raleigh, North Carolina.

For the book, "war on freedom", Goff explained the Capital-Liquidation effect:

"...This is just part of a historical evolution that is at some point inevitable and I think it’s about to happen. I think what they’re doing now is not something they’re doing out of a position of strength but out of a position of desperation and panic....

...I think historically we can go back and see that when big capital gets in trouble and the market’s not working for them anymore they have to find a way, cause right now there is a worldwide production over-capacity that’s created a recession that’s about to go deep and about to go long and one of the ways that they’ve traditionally gotten themselves out of that is to liquidate a bunch of that capital and the best way to liquidate capital real fast is war. That’s the way they correct the problem they use non-market mechanisms to correct for a fallen rate of profit within a market economy."

Gold, Twin Towers
====================================
Described as a rumour, Recovery workers at the World Trade Centre indeed found a cache of gold.

Due to some british papers, more than £137 million in gold and silver had been buried under the twin towers when they collapsed.
The vault was owned by the Bank of Nova Scotia, which held the gold and silver as security for trading international currencies in New York.
The gold was being taken to a location guarded by security firm Brinks (Irving, Texas).
http://www.brinkshomesecurity.com

(Blanks protect some of the world's most valued treasures, including:
- The first rock samples brought home from the moon by the astronauts.
- United States Declaration of Independence)

The vaults below the complex that was the World Trade Center were a vast and secret place. Not only did they hold some of the world's largest gold depositories, but they were home to stashes belonging to the CIA and secret service.

Seventy feet below ground is an array of goods that includes bricks of cocaine, fake taxi cabs used for covert operations, bomb-proof state cars and security files meant for the eyes of the CIA only - nice booty for potential looters.

Removing the debris has been controversial. The police said that some scrap metal has been diverted to mob-controlled businesses rather than the dump where investigators are examining rubble for clues and human remains.

"...It will be a little bit like the Kennedy assassination, I'm sure," said Mr. Goss, himself a former C.I.A. clandestine case officer. "It'll go on forever and ever because we are never going to be totally certain, I think, about who did what to whom..."

Graham, Bob
Bob Graham was one of the few members of the Intelligence Committee, who received a copy of the CIA-memo to Bush on August 6th, 2001.
Since then his strategy seems undefined.

In October 2002, he said, he is seeking to declassify "the most important information" obtained in a congressional probe of the Sept. 11 attacks.

However, Graham didn't tell the public, that he was in a meeting with former Pakistan Secret Service Boss Massoud on the morning of Sep11th and didn't talk about it yet.

Almost unknown, Graham was already in Pakistan a few weeks before that meeting.

Graham, Porter Goss (R) and Senator John Kyl (R) traveled to Pakistan and met with President Musharraf. They discussed various security issues, including the possible extradition of bin Laden. They also met with Abdul Salam Zaeef, the Taliban ambassador to Pakistan. According to a local press account at the time, "Zaeef assured the delegation that the Taliban government wanted to settle the issue through negotiations."

In early 2003, Graham, whose sister-in-law, Katherine Graham once owned the Washington Post, announced he would run for 2004, but planned his final decision for April 2003.

Graham continued to give his opinion on some classified 911 files:
"Frankly, there is a piece of information which is still classified which I consider to be the most important information that's come to the attention of the joint committee," Graham said on CBS's "Face the Nation."

Greenberg, Maurice

Maurice “Hank” Greenberg, once floated as a possible CIA Director in 1995, is the CEO of AIG insurance (-), manager of the third largest capital investment pool in the world.

Maurice Raymond Greenberg (AIG, Kroll, CFR) was born in New York City May 4, 1925, the son of Jacob Greenberg and Ada (Rheingold) Greenberg. The young man adopted the nickname “Hank” to make people think of a popular American baseball player with the name, Hank Greenberg.

Maurice Greenberg was deeply involved in chinese trade in the 80s, where Henry Kissinger (-) was one of his representatives.

In the China trade, Greenberg became very close to Shaul Eisenberg, the leader of the Asian section of the Israeli intelligence service Mossad, and agent for the sales of sophisticated military equipment to the Chinese military.

In 1993, Maurice Greenberg’s American International Group (AIG ->), became co-owner of the "private spy agency", Kroll Associates (-), as a result of rescuing Kroll from bankruptcy with a cash infusion.

Kroll was notorious during the 1980s as the “CIA of Wall Street” due to the prevalence of former CIA, FBI, Scotland Yard, British secret service and British Special Air Service men Kroll employed for corporate espionage in takeover bids, as well as for destabilization of foreign nations.

During 1996, while Greenberg was deputy chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations (- CFR), he chaired the CFR task force on intelligence, which published “Making Intelligence Smarter: The future of U.S. Intelligence.” This report mostly served to exhibit Greenberg’s access to the intelligence community; but he parlayed it into a nomination by Senator Arlen Specter and others, for Greenberg to be Director of the CIA (-).

Greenberg has used his connections to covert intelligence, supranational institutions, private bankers and speculators, and his huge global cash inflow, to shape a unique personal empire.

Since 1997, Frank G. Wisner, Jr., has been a board member of Kroll, and is currently Greenberg’s Deputy Chairman for External Affairs. Wisner’s father was a founder of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, who killed himself over the scandal from his being duped by British-Soviet masterspy Kim Philby.

Frank Wisner, Jr., is a director of the George Bush-linked energy giant Enron (a client for whom AIG negotiated payments from Peru over nationalization of Enron operations).

In the early 1990s, Miami-based private investigator Lou Polumbo joined Kroll Associates. According to sources in the industry, Polumbo brought with him a personal history of involvement with the Medallin and other South American narcotics cartels; his business included helping relocate some of the capabilities of these cartels out of Colombia.

The deal to bring Polumbo into Kroll was worked out by Avram Shalom, the former head of Israel’s Shin Beth secret police. Shalom went to work for Kroll; he had been fired as Shin Beth boss due to a scandalous massacre of Palestinians in the Israel-occupied territories by his Shin Beth agents.

GroundZero Forum

The idea of GROUND ZERO Forum was born on September 11th, 2001 at 8:53 AM EST, when ewing2001, a netizen member of canadian TV Clubhouse, was contacted during a live feed transcript session on the TV show "Big Brother" (CBS) via discussion board, and had been informed that one of the Twin Towers had been attacked by a plane.

At that time in Brooklyn, New York, ewing2001 repeated with the words "oh my god, thx" and started to report live from New York on updates and first investigative background stories.

The first report took almost 22 hours in a row until the next morning, when ewing2001 already started another topic called 'Investigation continues...'.

The result of this Sep11th report reached an entry in the historical reviews on Sep11th at web.archive.org and another european media history archive at http://520066654038-0001.be1.t-online.de/

Later described as "Dan Rather from TV Clubhouse", ewing2001 decided to mirror his live report and investigative topic on his own delphi-board at ourDNA.org (lebensaspekte.de).

The board was originally planned for news and updates on (Bio-)science, high tech and control systems and wasn't yet customized.

In the same week, the name GROUND ZERO Forum had been invented and almost 12 further sections had been added to analyse the Sep11th attack from a media-, science-, terror- or secret service perspective.

In October 2001 ewing2001 aka testpod69 aka ? started an own chat room on the IRC with friends of Josh Harris' Big Brother art project "welieveinpublic.com", where he updated on the AnthraxAttacks or first rumours and beginning of the War against the Taliban.

In the same month, GROUND ZERO Forum contacted almost 80-100 other Sep11th-related website projects, who tried to challenge the official version of Sep11th, including Barry Zwicker of Vision TV, Canada.

The 'invisible 911-Skepticism ring' informed every web admin from each other's existence and started to respond to GROUND ZERO.

In the meantime, GROUND ZERO Forum had already international members or was visited by netizens from Canada, United States, Europe, Australia, New Zealand and China!

In November 2001, ewing2001 started to promote his investigative results in an own newsletter and mirrored the highlights on guerrillanews.com.

In the same month, the "ultimated timeline" was released, a document, which was 20 pages long and started in the 60s, and gave detailed background on the years 1998 until Sep11th including disturbing ties to the anthrax attack.

This timeline became popular worldwide and was mostly promoted together with Mike Rupperts Timeline "lucy", until fortunately, a much better and scientifically professionalised timeline by master investigator Paul Thompson was released in Summer 2002 at cooperativeresearch.com.

GZ promoted Thompsons timeline idea at Jeff Rense, who immediately decided to mirror Thompsons complete timeline.

UQ and Scoop followed this decision.

In December 2001, ewing2001 decided to reach a political level.
He signed in at democraticunderground.com (DU) and promoted his investigative results in the "911-section", where he cooperated with talents like Ajw18, JohnHorne and 2muchBS or in PM sessions with jackriddler (osamaskidneys.com).

In the same month, ewing2001's alter ego started with his first public lectures on Sep11th-oddities and geopolitical background at Joe's Gallery in east village, New York.

GZ found the original video of President Bush's visit at Booker Elementary on their website and decided to mirror and promote it worldwide.

The cooperation between GZ Forum, ewing2001 and DU became succesful.

GZ started to promote DU worldwide and contacted or invited new investigative or scientific talents like Paul Thompson, Medienanalyse, Eric Hufschmidt, ENDIMION or Plaguepuppy to DU.

In January 2002 Ground Zero Forum released their "Top 500 FAQ", an immense list of unanswered questions for a 911-commission, which was later mirrored at rense.com and improved at DU with the help of some members.

Major sections of these questions later appeared in the german book and bestseller "...Secrets of 911" by matthias broeckers (telepolis.de, another forum, which was supported by ewing2001 and had co-authors like Stanislaw Lem or Sherry Turkle).

Between February and March 2002, GROUND ZERO Forum sent the Top500 FAQ in a continuing spam mail action to every member of the US Congress, including Tom Daschle in personal emails.

In March 2002 GROUND ZERO Forum tried to contact Cynthia McKinney to inform her about the massive support of challenging the official story of...
Sep 11th. At least her emails didn't bounce back.

In April 2002 GROUND ZERO Forum was 16 folders strong, but still continued to analyse more speculative angles in a teamwork and investigative thinktank at DU, before they finally appeared as an improved conclusion at GZ.

GZ developed therefore the so called LIHOP-media strategy to seperate more speculative and "tinfoilish" perspectives on a SETUP by CIA, oil- and weapon industry.

LIHOP stands for "let it happen on purpose" and means that the US Government and related right wing think tanks found out of the pending attacks and allowed them to start in reality to start a war on oil and other resources - instead of a war on terrorism.

The LIHOP strategy, which tried originally to leak credible facts into mainstream media, became successful. (At the end of 2002 a google-result showed, that all LIHOP-related topics appeared on 150-200 other websites worldwide)

William Rivers Pitt, a more pragmatic member of DU reported on LIHOP in a truthout.org -article, german magazine DER SPIEGEL interviewed GROUND ZERO Forum, but decided to discredit the admin of GZ.

Medienanalyse-international.de responded on the SPIEGEL-article in a positive analysis.

Part 2 of "LIHOP-the Top 20 Suspects" reached 40000 hits during a few days at Scoop and became the most succesful article of GZ Forum worldwide and was mirrored by disinfo.org, rense.com and various other websites.

Parts of the 911Skeptic section at GZ Forum, including older articles on a miniature model of the Pentagon in October 2000 became new interest and had been picked up by mediawhores.com, democrats.com smirkingchimp.com and the photo of a military server became one of the most popular pending smoking guns.

In May 2002 Ground Zero Forum organised a 3-Day 911-Skepticism Forum at Chashama Theatre on Times Square, New York and invited many different panelists.

Alex Jones, Mike Ruppert, Barry Zwicker or Barbara Rosenberg all had no time, Uri Dowbenko from almartinraw.com had to cancel on the last minute, Guerrillanews promised to appear in time, but due to some technical problems they had to leave again, before the panel finally could start.

DU-Members Sterling and Beetasher agreed to support the event on that afternoon, which was in the meantime part of a huge art- and activist event, organised by MissyGaler to feedbackgaler.com.

In a live video stream, the event was supported via telephone conference including Oswald Le Winter from Portugal.

The most successful part of the event was however not the panel itself, but the hallway, which was plastered with various printouts and photos and supported with the booklets "I hit the trifecta" of Sterling Rainbolt.

The partner- and friendship between sterling and ewing2001 turned into Rainbolts idea to create Shadowgoverment TV, which was later hosted at shadowgovernment.info and merged in October 2002 in a progressive coup with globalfreepress.com, bushknow.info and lihop.net.

Only a few days after the 911Skepticism Event in May 2002, all supporters of this event, guerrillanews, democraticunderground and ourDNA.org had been hacked or attacked.

The website of ourDNA.org was furthermore defaced and in an unconcentrated moment, while the anti-trojan was disabled, the "winninit" of the home station was erased and the network infected with a worm.

After one day, the system was finally able to start in a 16-bit mode.

GroundZero-Forum, independent from ourDNA.org continued to operate during this incident, but was strongly handicapped.

Then, only a few days later, on May 15th 2002, President Bush confirmed, that he had prior knowledge on the Sep11th attack.

At almost the same time, GZ contacted Kyle Hence to suggest a media activist cooperation.

Hence was working on a press conference in Washington with 911-victims, which was supported by investigative journalist Tom Flocco and Catherine Austin-Fitts.

Hence decided to launch unansweredquestions.org in June 2001.

The public cooperation between ShadowGovernment TV, GZ Forum and UQ continued for a while, when Hence decided to concentrate on an initiative for a citizens commission on 911.

SG TV released their first show in August 2002, which included a remastered and synchronised version (with the attacks in NY City) of the Booker Elementary Video, which GZ originally hosted on their server, until the traffic became too immense and had to be removed again.

During the anniversary event of the Sep11th attack, GZ Forum met with their oversea- and european contacts in New York.

This cooperation turned into the idea by osamaskidneys.com to create a new NYC-911-strategy group and mailing list.

On October 16th, 2002, a conflict between many progressive members and more pragmatic, hopefully democrat party supporters of DU turned in the famous "september Skinner coup" or "night of the long knives" (-> DU), as many speculated, "orchestrated by the DNC".

It was one "insulting" news topic on an anti-Hillary Clinton protest, which was used by DU-admin Skinner as a reason to ban various members of the board, including the leftist Indianagreen, Sterling, 2muchBS and - ewing2001.

Only 3 weeks before the election, Sterling and ewing2001, already active in public on manay different other events, decided to support DU-member Bpilgrim's private portal globalfreepress.com (GFP) and turn it into an independent and progressive media project.

Almost over night, many former and current DU-members protested Skinners decision and decided to support ewing2001 and Sterling at GFP.
GFP got more members, when the democratic party lost the senate election in October 2002.

SGTV and bushknew.info had their own "table" at the Washington Anti-war protest on October 26th, 2002 and distributed their booklets, videos, leaflets and flyers by William Gibson (->), which promoted waronfreedom.com (->) or adoptcynthiamckinney.com (->).

Finally SGTVD met Cynthia McKinney in person in the same month.

Ewing2001, in the meantime, delivered personally his "911-Files", Sterlings booklets and the SG TV- videos into the United Nations, to Martin Luther King III (at a peace vigil in NYC). Spookie, Nina Hagen or Ralph Nader of the Green Party and was invited by Erskine into his radio show at businessradio.com.

Since October 2002, GZ Forum visited the weekly internationalanswer.org meetings to promote the 911-files and impeachment campaigns, and continued to contact other independent media- and peace activists.

In November 2002, GZ Forum started to work on the book "911Skeptics Unite! -the encyclopedia", while SGTVD was at the same time already working on SGTVD 3 and interviewed by freerepublic.com.

During December 2002, globalfreepress.com released teasers of the 911Skeptics- book and GFP, SGTVD and GZ continued to cooperate with many different media activist groups or progressive and investigative projects and contacted worldwide guests or supporters of different websites.

Guerrilla News Network

GNN was one of the most popular sources including an own forum on their discussion board with Sep11th related topics challenging the official version, called "State of Emergency: The Aftermath of Black Tuesday".

Many independent 911-investigators participated on the forum or just mirrored new results or unanswered questions like Jack Riddler (->) or ewing 2001 (->).

One of the most active "911"-members on GNN had been Vilad or Anthony (Lappe), GNN was contacted by Unanswered Questions (->) organizers of the eponymous June 10, 2002 press conference at the National Press Club in Washinton, D.C.. During that initial conversation, it was reasoned that the independent media should counter the imminent onslaught of government sponsored (retaliatory) propaganda with a strong investigative piece that did not detract from or compound further the pain and suffering of the nation.

Hence, the birth of an association that led to GNN's unique memorial for that dark day and the victims of its uncertain architects, AfterMath: "Unanswered Questions from 9/11", a video serious, whic is available online.

With AfterMath, GNN has asked nine (9) people, eleven (11) of the most pressing questions that emanate from the terrible and, as yet, unexplained, events of that day.

Guerrilla News Network is an underground news organization with headquarters in New York City and production facilities in Berkeley, California. Their mission is to expose people to important global issues through guerrilla programming on the web and on television.

In 2002 GNN won a price at the Sundance Film Festival.

GNN was co-founded by Stephen Marshall and Josh Shore in the summer of 2000. The partners first joined forces at MTV (Josh had brought Stephen in to consult on some radical television ideas for the station) when they finally realized that the mainstream networks would never allow their hi-impact brand of television content and design to reach prime time.

GNN's inaugural project was a NewsVideo called The Diamond Life (http://www.guerrillanews.com/diamondlife/index.htm).
Completed in the fall of 2000, the video features the music of Peter Gabriel and was produced in conjunction with his non-profit organization, WITNESS (http://www.witness.org).

One of GNN's editors is Anthony Lappé (Executive Editor)

Lappe is a writer and television producer who has written for more than twenty magazines and newspapers and has produced television news programming that has aired around the world. He has written for Black Book (where he was National Affairs Editor), Details, Gear, New York, The New York Times (City, Styles and Magazine sections), Houston Chronicle, and Salon.com, among many others. Hadron
===============
Profited from the October 2001 Anthrax attacks with new US-Budgets or contracts (-> Anthrax-911-Gate).

Hadron was created when XONICS got into trouble with SEC.
In July 2002 Hadron became Analex Corporation. Hadron bought these companies since 1997/8:
Analex Corporation, Advanced Biosystems (ABS) (biological warfare treatments), Avenue Technologies, Inc (information warfare) and SyCom Services (real-time embedded radar systems)
http://www.hadron.com/html/contact_us.html

Hadron developed Pharmaceuticals used against Biological Warfare Agents, Analysis of Bio-Warfare and Bio-Terrorism Threats.

In 1998, John D. Sanders, one of their directors completed the acquisition of Vail Research and Technology Corporation ("Vail"), a privately-held information technology firm based in Northern Virginia, for approximately $1.6 million. Vail provides a comprehensive range of superior-quality professional and technical services to clients — including the U.S. Navy, Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA ->), U.S. Army, U.S. Air Force, U.S. Special Operations Command, NASA, Department of Transportation, Department of Commerce, Department of Energy as well as private-sector firms.

In May 1999 Hadron was supported with a new director and Chief Scientist, Ken Alibek (former Battelle -> and Biopreparat, Russia ->).

In June 1999 Sycom, a subsidiary of Hadron, put Shawn McCoy as a new president in charge. McCoy formerly worked with Betac Corporation, Lockheed Martin (->) and Martin Marietta Corporation, and serviced as an intelligence officer in the U.S. Navy.
Jon M. Stout, another Hadron-president, was former president of his own company DPC Technologies, Inc., a military intelligence IT company he had founded with his wife in 1988, and sold later to Northrop Grumman (->).

Gerald R. "Mac" McNichols, Sc.D., another director came from the Air Force.
Gerald Young was management consultant with DPC Technologies until 1999 when DPC was acquired by Northrop Grumman Logicon.

Scott Reuter was former TRW (->) and BTG.
Other partners of Hadron are The Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory (APL) or USAMRIID (->).

George Tonn, another Hadron-director was former director of Raytheon's Director of the Advanced Battle Management Systems.
He worked with Hughes Aircraft (acquired by Raytheon), SAIC (->) and IBM Federal Systems.
In 1983 Dominic Laiti, Chairman of HADRON, INC. wanted to buy Inslaw Corp (distributor of spy program PROMIS).

On June 14th, 2001, one week before the BioTerror Exercise, Operation Dark Winter (->) took place (June 22-23, 2001, Andrews AFB, Johns Hopkins Center for Civilian Biodefense Studies), Hadron announced that the U.S. Army Medical Research and Materiel Command "has awarded a Hadron subsidiary, Advanced Biosystems, Inc., a $1.7 million increase in the total amount of its existing one-year contract to develop new medical defenses for anthrax. Hadron was awarded the original $2.6 million contract in March 2001."

Dark Winter simulated a complex smallpox biowarfare scenario. In this "Dark Winter" simulation, 16,000 people in the United States would have contracted smallpox within two weeks.
Among the observers, participants and exercise staff of Dark Winter had been members of Johns Hopkins Center for Civilian Biodefense Studies, ANSER Institute for Homeland Security, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, FBI, House Armed Services Committee, CSIS, Oklahoma City National Memorial Institute for the Prevention of Terrorism, Booz-Allen & Hamilton, Inc.

Halliburton-Cuba contract

In July 2002 Commondream reprinted a Reuters report, that former Dick Cheney's company Halliburton awarded a contract with Guantanamo Bay to build cells (David J. Lesar, Halliburton).

Another political side twist, ignored by the mainstream media, was the report, that KRB used 400 illegal filipinos for that:

"...It took only two weeks to "clear" the workers after a "discreet and thorough screening" by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its counterpart, the National Bureau of Investigation, according to sources at the Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA).

The 400 workers left on March 22 for Los Angeles on a plane chartered by the Brown and Root International on their way to Guantanamo. DFA sources said..."

http://www.inq7.net/iat/2002/mar/28/iat_4-1.htm

More disturbingly, the fact was ignored, that this contract was already an upgrade of an older contract from 2000:

"Halliburton Co. has been awarded a $9.7 million contract to build an additional 204-cell detention camp at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba to hold additional suspected al Qaeda and Taliban prisoners, the Pentagon said on Friday."

http://www.commondreams.org/headlines02/0727-02.htm

The full contract:

Contract was filed in February 2001, but awarded in June 2000 (Thx to targetpractice, DU)

"Brown & Root Services, a division of Kellogg Brown & Root, Arlington, Va., was awarded today a $16,000,000 task order under a previously awarded cost reimbursement, indefinite-delivery and indefinite-quantity construction contract for construction of a 408-unit detention camp at the Radio Range area of U.S. Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Units will be of modular steel construction. Each unit measures 6 feet 8 inches by 8 feet and includes a bed, a toilet, and a hand basin with running water."

The CSIS meeting clearing contracts with Cuba in July 2001:

WASHINGTON, July 05, 2001 — CSIS will host a discussion on U.S. sanctions policy featuring Rep. Howard Berman (D-Calif.) at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, July 10, in 2255 Rayburn House Office Building.

..."The panelists will review the first five years of ILSA, assess the impact of its August reauthorization, and explore the broader sanctions debate, which is intensifying following recent efforts to relax the trade embargo on Cuba..."

Harakat al-Muqawamah al-Islamiyya or short the Hamas (a word meaning courage and bravery) is a radical Islamic organization which became active in the early stages of the Intifada, operating primarily in the Gaza Strip and in the West Bank.

The Hamas has played a major role in violent fundamentalist subversion and radical terrorist operations against both Israelis and Arabs. In its initial period, the movement was headed primarily by people identified with the Muslim Brotherhood (MB) in the Territories.

Hamdi was captured after a November 2001 prison uprising in the northern Afghanistan city of Mazar-e-Sharif.

Hamdi was among the 300 suspected Taliban or al-Qaida members being held at Guantanamo Bay.

In January 2003, a federal appeals court ruled the government can hold U.S. citizens as enemy combatants during wartime without the constitutional protections afforded Americans in criminal prosecutions.

"In overturning a lower-court ruling, the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., said the status of 22-year-old Yaser Esam Hamdi as a citizen did not change the fact he was captured in Afghanistan while fighting alongside Taliban and al Qaeda fighters."

Hardison, Dian

In May 2002, it was leaked to some independent media sources, that former NASA employee Dian Hardison, who was fired at the end of 2001, was later suddenly accused as a terrorist, for accidentally getting foot powder on her January 2002 water bill to the City of Cocoa, Florida.

As democrats.com (->) found out, with the help of her friend Warren Gammel, Hardison was in reality innocent and fired for writing a non-favorable email about President Bush.

http://www.democrats.com/view.cfm?id=7647

Only a few days after the democrats.com story became famous on the internet and mirrored i.e. on Indymedia, Hardison was emerged from jail. At that time, already an upgraded version of her story was planted in "Florida Today" (FloridaToday.com), a publication associated with NASA, and thus controlled by the Bush administration, still accusing her as the "blonde terrorist".

Another FOX article printed the false story, that Hardison sent an envelope filled with foot powder. But according to her friend Warren Gammel (Ocala, Florida), it was an accidental sprinkling and the envelope had even a return address, falsely repeated by FOX News, who ignored her former employment at the NASA.

On May 30th he released a new email of her: "To Warren: Out on $5000 bond, court date for June 28, after nine hours sitting on a concrete floor in 45 F air conditioning."

Gammel continued to write updates on Hardison and later got in touch with the Meria Hellrr Radio show.

Source: http://www.indymedia.org/front.php3?article_id=184500

In Hardisons biography, released during a 1999 Nasa Quest chat and later removed on November 27th, 2002, one can learn, that Hardison was NASA engineer at Kennedy Space Center, with a degree in Materials Science, a kind of cross of Chemical Engineering and Mechanical Engineering.

Source: http://web.archive.org/web/20011126213342/http://quest.arc.nasa.gov/space/frontiers/hardison.html

Hardison explained, that she was an engineering specialist of kind of metal, steel or plastic. Whether it involves cars or airplanes, trains or spacecraft, computers or buildings, if there was a problem to be solved she was working on it.

Finally The Meria Heller (->) Radioshow and MediaMonitors.Net picked up her case.

Harken Energy

Based in Houston, Texas, Harken Energy Corporation ("Harken") is an oil and gas exploration and production company whose corporate strategy calls for concentrating its resources on exploration and development of its domestic properties in the Gulf Coast regions of Texas and Louisiana."

Famous.texas.com described the history of Harken and George Bush:
http://www.famous.texas.com/georgewbush.htm

"...In the West Texas energy business, George W. Bush started out researching who owned mineral rights, He later traded mineral and royalty interests and invested in drilling prospects. He had started his own oil and gas company by 1978, taking $17,000 from his education trust fund to set up Arbusto Energy (-> arbusto means Bush in Spanish). The company fell on hard times when oil prices fell. He made several attempts to revive the business, first by changing the company's name and later by merging with other companies.

In 1983, Bush's company was rescued from failure when Spectrum 7 Energy Corporation, a small oil firm owned by William DeWitt and Mercer Reynolds, bought it. Bush became chief executive officer. Harken Energy Corporation acquired Spectrum 7 in 1986, after Spectrum had lost $400,000. In the buyout deal, Bush and his partners were given more than $2 million worth of Harken stock for the 180-well operation. Bush became a director and was hired as a "consultant" to Harken. He received another $600,000 of Harken stock, and has been paid between $42,000 and $120,000 a year.

By the spring of 1987, Harken was in need of cash. So Bush and his fellow Harken officials met with Jackson Stephens, head of Stephens, Inc., an investment bank in Little Rock, Arkansas (Stephens contributed $100,000 to the Reagan-Bush campaign in 1980 and gave another $100,000 to the Bush dinner committee in 1990.)

Stephens arranged for Union Bank of Switzerland (UBS) to provide $25 million to Bush's company in return for a stock interest in Harken. As part of the deal, Sheikh Abdullah Bakhsh, a Saudi real estate tycoon and financier, joined Harken's board as a major investor.
Stephens, UBS, and Baksh each had ties to the infamous, scandal-ridden Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI).

In 1990, Bush sold his remaining stock options and left the oil business.

Writer Jack Colhoun revealed some details of that stock sale, referring to Bush by his childhood nickname “Junior”:

On June 22, 1990, George Jr. sold two-thirds of his Harken stock for $848,560—a cool 200 percent profit. The move was well timed. One week after Junior sold his stock, Harken announced a $23.2 million loss in quarterly earnings and Harken stock dropped sharply, losing 60 percent of its value over the next six months. On August 2, 1990, Iraqi troops moved into Kuwait and 541,000 U.S. forces were deployed to the Gulf.

On October 9th 2002 Reuters reported, that President Bush’s former oil firm Harken has formed a partnership with Harvard University that concealed the company's financial woes and may have misled investors, a student and alumni group said in a report.

HarvardWatch, an independent group of students and alumni that monitors the school's investments, said the partnership raised troubling questions about the university's involvement in Harken when Bush was a board member.

Board was told of risks before Bush stock sale

"The memo, a copy of which was obtained by the Globe, does not say directly whether Bush would face legal problems if he sold his stock. But it does lay out the potential for insider-trading violations by Bush and other members of the Harken board, and its existence raises questions about how thoroughly the SEC investigated Bush's unloading of $848,000 of his Harken stake to a buyer whose name has not been made public..."

==================
During 2002, Stephen Hatfill (former USAMRIID, SAIC and Battelle -->) was one of the suspects of the FBI regarding the October 2001 anthrax attacks.

From a former GROUND ZERO Forum article, released at Scoop:

"For years, he had loudly complained the United States wasn't doing enough to prepare for a potential bioterror attack, and feared that his warnings weren't being heeded.
Appearing on a cable TV news show, he warned that anthrax could be sent through the mail."

Newsweek about Stephen Hatfill, Aug. 12, 2002

A list dating to December 2001 contains the names of 15 to 20 institutes that worked with the Ames strain of anthrax, which has been scientifically proven as the strain used in the anthrax attacks of autumn 2001.

Microbiologist Paul Keim helped the authorities compare the genetic fingerprint of the mailed anthrax. Every indication was that it derived "at least indirectly from the mother lode of the military strain, kept at Fort Detrick, Md."

Battelle was mentioned as one of the suspicious locations; another location was Porton Down in Britain, who has strong ties to Bioport (--> one of the anthrax vaccine developers) and Dynport, a cooperation between DynCorp (--> and Porton Down (-->).

It was William Patrick III from Fort Detrick (-->), who started the first experiments with a modified anthrax strain at the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID), Fort Detrick (Maryland).

In July 2000, Colonel Edward M. Etizen, became Commander of USAMRIID. He served in Operation Desert Storm as the DCCS and Surgeon of the 62nd Medical Group.
http://www.gulllink.osd.mil/bw_ji/bw_refs/n23en034/index.html

On October 11th, 2001, Etizen testified as follows:
"...I mentioned at the start of my statement, that potential biological terrorism is really a spectrum of possible events - from a letter with an inert powder and a threat in it..."

The FBI stopped reporting about their anthrax investigation in December 2001. But after a couple of months, the pressure on them and Fort Detrick became stronger again. It looked far too strange that their investigation started to stall just as the Rosenberg list of suspicious institutes was released. Rosenberg claimed that the FBI already knew the name of a prime individual suspect in October 2001.

It took 8 months, however, before in June 2001 the FBI leaked for the first time the name of a suspect, who was believed to be either the man behind the attack or was being orchestrated by someone else: Stephen Hatfill, who once worked for Battelle.

Hatfill worked at USAMRIID/Fort Detrick and knew William Patrick III. In 1999, he left USAMRIID for a job at SAIC (Scientific Applications International Corp.), a huge defense contractor where he did work detailing the risks of biological and chemical attacks. In 2001, the CIA rejected him for a job and the Pentagon suspended his existing security clearance...

...By the first week of October 2001, the media had already been speculating for weeks about a possible anthrax attack. A "back story" had been established to suggest possible ties between the Sept. 11th hijackers and an as-yet unconsummated biological aftermath. And then the anthrax attacks materialized.

Investigative journalist Wayne Madsen reports that on October 2, 2001 - just two days before the first anthrax case was reported in Boca Raton, Florida and a week and a half before the first anthrax was sent through the mail to NBC News in New York - Advanced Biosystems received an $800,000 grant from NIH to focus on very specific defenses against anthrax:

http://www.counterpunch.org/madsenanthrax.html

It looks now that a lot of different people had insider knowledge about a possible anthrax attack. It appears that the anthrax was produced and sent before Sept. 11th, with prior knowledge about this attack as well. Whether the idea was to work as a copycat effect or more, the obvious goal was definitely not to kill many people.

It could be, that two people had been behind the anthrax mailings: the "supplier" and the "refiner/mailer". If Hatfill was the supplier, then who was the mailer?

And why did they use two different refinements, one for the media and a more refined anthrax for the Senators?

Why didn't the FBI interview other former USAMRIID scientists, e.g. Thomas Monath from Acambis, former Oravax (->)?

The FBI said that the anthrax spores sent to Tom Brokaw, the New York Post and American media were not as highly refined as those sent to Senators Daschle and Leahy. This indicates that some refining of the spores was done between the mailings.

Another oddity is that someone told FBI agent Barry Mawn to stop the investigation on Tom Brokaw. It later came out, that Mawn already complained, that the anthrax might have come from the States. Mawn later retired from the FBI in March 2002.

The same agent, who classified the famous "passport in the rubble" (by Satam Al Suqami) was obviously part of a plot. Nothing is known about his current whereabouts.

Mawn was replaced by Kevin P. Donovan.
http://www.fbi.gov/pressrel/pressrel02/mueller022802.htm

Mawn tried to get a job at Massport (->), Logan Airport, but decided to do something else.

In the same month, FBI's assistant director Van Harp said in an CNN interview: "This anthrax, we do not believe, was made up in a garage or a bathtub."

Ignored by the mainstream media, Battelle (->) was already an early suspect in October 2001 as well. First it was Michael P. Failey, a former Battelle employee, who was arrested twice.
http://dcf130.mail.yahoo.com/ym/login?.rand=8d1s18jgg4gob

But who else had knowledge about possible suspects?

Or better, who knew too much?

On November 12th 2001, famous BioScientist Don C Wiley (->) vanished in Memphis. His dead body was found six weeks later, 200 miles away, next to the Mississippi river.

His death started a series about strange circumstances of suddenly killed BioScientists. Is it a coincidence, that only 2 days after Wiley vanished, Stephen Hatfill (Battelle) took a plane to England?

And what about the strange death of Vladimir Pasechnik on November 21st, former director of the Institute of Ultra Pure Biochemical Preparations (BioPrep), who produced Anthrax as well?

In December 2001 Battelle Memorial Institute confirmed, that the federal government is expected to spend with them $75.5 billion on R&D in 2002, a 4.7 percent increase over the prior year.

http://www.battelle.org/news/02/01-01-02R&D.stm

In the meantime, as Newsweek found out, Fort Detrick cleared his records, and Hatfill started a job at Louisiana State University. He still claims to be innocent, but didn't offer any new explanations yet.

"...An Alexandria lawyer with the American Civil Liberties Union yesterday defended a Ku Klux Klan member's right to wear a hood in public. Saying that the "ACLU has no love for the Ku Klux Klan, but does for the First Amendment," Victor M. Glasberg argued" http://www.ithaca.edu/faculty/cduncan/276/herandez.doc

The FBI said that Hatfill is one of “around 20” people they are looking at. Who else?

How much did Hatfill know? Is he just a scapegoat?

What did Hatfill work on at the SAIC in 1999?

What did Jerome Hauer work on at the SAIC in the same year? Did they work together?

Hauer, Jerome

================================
In May 2002, Tommy G. Thompson named Jerome M. Hauer as new director of the Office of Public Health Preparedness (OPHP). Hauer replaced D.A. Henderson, who will continue to serve as principal science advisor to the secretary for public health preparedness and chairman of the Secretary's Council on Public Health Preparedness

From a former GROUND ZERO Forum article, released at Scoop:
"Very few cities at this point in time are prepared to manage the consequences of bio-terrorist attack."
Jerry Hauer in an interview with Eyewitness News, October 1, 2001

On May 5th 2002, Jerome Hauer became director of the federal Office of Public Health Preparedness (OPHP), succeeding Dr. D. A. Henderson from Johns Hopkins Institute...

...Hauer is controversial among those who are able to connect the dots between his person and shady business deals in biopharmacy since 1998.
More interesting, he seems to have had prior knowledge about both so called terrorist-attacks: September 11th and Anthrax.

But many private investigators claim since months, he let the attacks happen on purpose to continue his career.
Is Hauer LIHOP (->)suspect No.1?

He started to work for the NIH under Tommy Thompson on September 10, 2001 as an adviser on national security. On September 11th, he told the White House to take Cipro, the antibiotic that works against the anthrax virus, without bothering to reveal his warning to the American nation.
http://www.bayarea.com/mlt/bayarea/living/health/3020501.byyn

The watchdog group JudicialWatch (->) decided to file a lawsuit against the NIH, the FBI, CDC and the White House, for the same reason: Prior Knowledge.
It is not known how long Hauer worked at the NIH before Sept. 11, but we can confirm that he was working on Sept. 10.
http://www.lauriegarrett.com/wtc_day12.html

But things get really interesting when we consider that in August 2001, Jerome Hauer arranged a new job for John O'Neill (->) - the resigning chief of the FBI Terror Task Force - as head of security at the World Trade Center.
How did Hauer know that the Twin Towers would be so important?

We would like to ask John O'Neill, but there is one problem:
O'Neill died in the towers on September 11th, one day after he started his job officially, according to the New Yorker.
Disturbingly, O'Neill has never been received the same hero status in the mass media as has been accorded to the fallen New York firefighters and police officers. His death has gone without the same fanfare. For 11 months his story went untold, with two big exceptions.

The two French intelligence specialists Brisard (->) and Dasquie (see: http://intelligenceonline.fr) published an interview with O'Neill taken before his death in their book, 'Bin Laden: The Forbidden Truth.' And articles on O'Neill were published in the New Yorker and New York Magazine.
...TIME magazine tried to remember him, but left out the most important angles. This should change immediately.

There is a lot which has been hidden from us, but for what reason?
This might have something to do with the FBI HQ (O'Neill complained about them), but also with Jerome Hauer - who is a friend of the current prime anthrax suspect, Stephen Hatfill, who was working for the military anthrax program USAMRIID at Fort Detrick and Battelle, a huge pharmacy company with many ties to the CIA.

Hauer and Hatfill worked together at the SAIC's Center for Counterterrorism Technology and Analysis in 1999. The SAIC (Scientific Applications International Corp) later received a huge BioDefense budget in autumn 2001.
http://www.nandotimes.com/nation/story/455218p-3643441c.html - (Hatfill)

But first, more about Hauer:
In 1983, Hauer joined IBM where he was responsible for the company's Hazardous Materials Response and Crisis Management and Fire Safety programs. Hauer produced a series of hazardous materials training videos that earned him the International Film and TV Critics of New York Bronze award in 1986.

In the early 1990s, Hauer got his first contacts to military and biodefense. Hauer received a master's degree in emergency medical services from the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health. Then he became member of the Johns Hopkins Working Group on Civilian Bio Defense, where he wrote various articles about a possible bioterrorist attack.
http://iml.dartmouth.edu/sts/hauer.html

In 1998, he started working at the OEM (Office for Emergency Management) in New York.
In the same year, Hauer and anthrax suspect Hatfill both supported the CFR as experts in their respective fields. The CFR (->) is an acronym for Council on Foreign Relations, one of the most important think-tanks advising the US government, as well as many other governments abroad. CFR members include the Pentagon's top advisers, Richard Perle, Henry Kissinger, Deputy Defense Secretary Paul Wolfowitz, ex-CIA chief James Woolsey, biosciences specialist Joshua Lederberg, and many others. (->)

On May 28, 1998, Hatfill and Hauer spoke together at the same CFR meeting about "Building a 'Biobomb': Terrorist Challenge" http://www.cfr.org/public/resource.cgi?meet=102
Hatfill was at that time Senior Research Associate at the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute for Infectious Diseases (=USAMRIID ->).

Hauer seems to specialize in the art of holding down several different jobs at the same time. While he started to work for the NIH in September 2001, he remained a Managing Director at Kroll Associates (->) - the official security and bodyguard company for all American presidents since World War II!

With Hauer's many sources of insider information (e.g. Kroll/President bodyguards) , it makes sense that he knew about the CIA briefing for George Bush on August 6, 2001, about warnings of an imminent terrorist "attack with planes."

Hauer is still trying to save the world.

On November 6th, 2001 he participated in the "Independent Task Force on America's Response to Terrorism" at the CFR. Participants there included James J. Zagby (President of the Arab American Institute and Central Asian Enterprise Fund), Newton L. Gingrich (Chief Executive Officer, The Gingrich Group), Harold Brown (former secretary of defense and counselor at CSIS; the Center for Strategic and International Studies), Henry A. Kissinger (Senior Fellow in National Security and European Affairs), Richard C. Holbrooke (Counselor, CFR and Vice Chairman of Perseus, LLC) and Philip A. Odeen (Executive Vice President, Washington Operations of TRW, Inc. and CEO of Reynolds + Reynolds, Dayton). (-->)

Their agenda, eight weeks after the attack of Sept. 11, was strange indeed:
http://www.cfr.org/Publications/PubWeb/Publications/PubDiplom_MF.html

"...Release a White Paper explaining our goals and rationale for the war in Afghanistan, and outlining the evidence that the al-Qa'eda network was responsible for the 9/11 attacks...
...Disseminate stories of particular victims to convey the range of people killed in the 9/11 attacks-stress range of religions, races, income levels, etc...
...counteract myth that Mossad was behind the attacks by showing Jews killed, etc...
...Routinely monitor the regional press in real time to enable prompt responses..."

(*Note: As other sources pointed out, parts of this text had been based on ideas of George Soros ->)

Hauer's deep connection to disinformation circles for his own purpose are well known. In 1998, he convinced New York Mayor Rudi Giuliani to develop a vaccine against the West Nile virus - almost one year before this virus broke out in New York.

To this end, Hauer introduced Col. Thomas Monath of Oravax (now Accambis) to Guliani and organised a business deal.

Hauer continued giving bioterror lectures and writing scenario scripts. He organized a July 26, 1999, conference in New York for journalists and "thought leaders," on bioterrorism and "Reporting on Weapons of Mass Destruction - Responsibility, Reliability, Readiness." At the same time, he was heading the West Nile spray operation in NYC.

Bioterrorism and vaccines - a perfect payroll combination for Hauer?

Among the participants at this 1999 conference was Brigadier General Bruce Lawlor of the U.S. Army and the former FBI assistant director, Lewis Schiliro (NYC).

General Lawlor has in the meantime become the Special Director for Protection and Prevention at the Office of Homeland Security:
http://ksnotes1.harvard.edu/bcsia/esdp.nsf/bios/lawlorbruce

Lawlor was the first commanding general of Joint Task Force - Civil Support (JTF-CS), located in Fort Monroe, Virginia. JTF-CS is a standing joint task force assigned to U.S. Joint Forces Command. Lawlor has taught at the U.S. Army War College and served as a consultant to the Defense Science Board. Nothing is known about his further influence in preventing attacks on America.

However, as FBI assistant director, Schiliro supervised several counterterrorism investigations, including the 1993 World Trade Center bombing and the 1998 embassy bombings in Kenya and Tanzania.

But Schiliro gave up supporting Hauer in February 2000, too.
http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/shows/terrorism/fail/

He left the FBI to move to credit card giant MBNA Corp.
And Schiliro wasn't the only one.
His close friend Louis Freeh - who was replaced in the FBI in August 2001 by Thomas Pickard as the acting head of the Bureau - started a new job as a Senior Vice Chairman at MBNA Corp in early September 2001 and began to collect shares.
http://biz.yahoo.com/t/in/k/kbh.html

The background of the MBNA (->) is very interesting. They helped the FBI in tracing the hijackers' credit card transactions, and had a lot of prominent helping hands. Among them was James Kallsfeldt, the former head of Special Operations, FBI.

MBNA has a controversial status among civil right groups. Since 1996, MBNA CORP has unleashed various bulldozers, dump-trucks and explosives in a savage attack on the Ducktrap Deeryard (major coastal wildlife area on Penobscot Bay, Maine USA) or continued with "dull roar of corporate jet noise".

Then, in April 2001, MBNA had to deal with check fraud. Involved was Intelligent Finance, a Halifax-backed Internet bank and a bogus account for a guy named Vindel.
http://www.mbnasucks.org/kallstrom.html

Interesting is the bio of another director of the MBNA Corporation: Bernadine P. Healy. She serves as a trustee of the Battelle Memorial Institute and is President and CEO of the American Red Cross.
http://yahoo.marketguide.com/mgl/biograph.asp?tr=biograph&rn=5570N

On May 10, 2001, a few months before Sept. 11, she testified on "human challenges that we will face during a WMD attack":
http://www.slu.edu/colleges/spf/csebi/bioterrorism/official/congress.htm

The Red Cross and the OEM under Jerome Hauer worked very closely together. Hauer's connections and insider information seem to be intriguing!

He helped with the construction of the New York OEM headquarters known as "the bunker," on the 23rd floor of 7 World Trade Center.
The CIA later confirmed that they had an office in that building, next to the Department of Defense and the INS. For unknown reasons, 7 World Trade Center was the third skyscraper to collapse on Sept. 11. Officially, it began burning after debris from the Twin Tower collapses caused an illegal diesel-fuel tank inside the building to explode.

The presence of this large gas tank - on the 23rd floor, too - with thousands of gallons of fuel far above ground, in violation of the fire code, was confirmed some weeks after Sept. 11th. There has never been an official verdict on the reasons for the collapse of WTC 7. A FEMA study failed to reach a clear conclusion:

While the collapse of WTC 7 remains a mystery, it cannot be said that the deaths caused by the bio-attack a couple of weeks later were similarly due to incompetence. On the contrary, Hauer had a huge team behind him, and had already warned the White House. Why had he leak all his information in time?

In May 2000, the Johns Hopkins Center, in collaboration with the ANSER Institute for Homeland Defense, the Center for Strategic and International Studies, and the Oklahoma Memorial Institute for the Study of Terrorism held a bioterrorism exercise at Andrews Air Force Base. Former Senator Sam Nunn played the President.

David Gergen played the National Security Advisor. Governor Frank Keating played himself, Frank Wisner was Secretary of State, ex-CIA director James Woolsey (ironically) played CIA Director, John White played Defense Secretary, and Dr. Margaret Hamburg was HHS Secretary. The Attorney General was played by George Terwilliger, William Sessions was FBI Director, and Jerome Hauer played FEMA Director.

http://www.hopkins-biodefense.org/pages/library/fema.html

"One of the striking observations of this exercise was the unfamiliarity of these distinguished and experienced professionals with the basic decisions and trade-offs associated with managing the response to the epidemic."

Observing was Tara O'Toole, MD, MPH Senior Fellow, Center for Civilian Biodefense Studies and at that time Deputy Director of Johns Hopkins Institute. This started a series of different "war games."

On June 22-23, 2001, the same crew organised their last big scenario before Sep11th. They called it DARK WINTER. It was about a possible smallpox attack. Hauer participated as well, this time "playing" the director of the FBI.

The whole list is still mirrored at:

http://www.hopkins-biodefense.org/participants.html

http://www.mipt.org/darkwinter06222001.html

http://www.homelanddefense.org/darkwinter/index.cfm

Among the other participants once again:

James Woolsey, ex-CIA director
Hon. Sam Nunn
George Terwilliger etc.

Observing, among many others, Thomas Inglesby, at that time Senior Fellow Johns Hopkins Institute

Hauer ignored one report by Barbara Rosenberg (on possible anthrax suspects), but he certainly knew who she was. He first met her on April 10, 1998, at a "roundtable on genetic engineering and biological weapons" under President Clinton. The small group of outside experts and cabinet members present there included:

William Cohen (at the time Secretary of Defense), CIA boss George Tenet, Craig Ventner (Cerulea), Joshua Lederberg (Rockefeller University, Defense Science Board), Thomas Monath (Oravax/Acambis, former CDC and USAMRIID), Hauer, and Barbara Rosenberg.

In November 2001, Hauer was still ignoring the investigations by Barbara Rosenberg, who had already worked out a list of possible anthrax suspects, scientists who would have been able to gain access to the original Ames strain from USAMRIID, Fort Detrick.

Among the suspects on this list were Battelle and the Battelle Memorial Institute administrators, who supplied the Dugway anthrax proving facility in Utah, where the only virtually identical Ames strain of silica-impregnated hyper-weaponized anthrax was found:

http://www.sftime.com/print.php?article_id=1295

Meanwhile, Hauer in November started an initiative known as "De-Mystifying the Biological Weapons Debate," and as a member of this group he claimed at the time that the suspects for the anthrax attacks included "Osama Bin Laden and his Al-Qaeda network and sympathizers to US right wing extremists"

http://www.basicint.org/BWreport.htm

Is Hauer in any conflicts of interest? What was his coordination with FEMA? Can Hauer confirm, if a FEMA team was already deployed to New York on September 10, as spokesman Tom Kennedy said in an interview with Dan Rather (CBS, shortly after the attack)? (INFO: An interview with FEMA director Joe Allbaugh took place on September 12th on CBS at 7:40-20 according to the CBS transcript)

On May 8, 2001, Bush announced a new Office of National Preparedness for Terrorism at the Federal Emergency Management Agency. At the same time, he proposed to cut FEMA's budget by $200 million. Bush said that day that Cheney would direct a government-wide review on managing the consequences of a domestic attack...

http://www.washingtonpost.com/ac2/wp-dyn/?pagename=article&node=&contentId=A8734-2002 Jan19

...Hauer not only knew former CIA director James Woolsey, but also Milt Bearden, who was station commander and had managed America's covert war in Afghanistan, helping the Mujahedhin drive out the Soviets between 1986-1989. Both spoke at the Nassau Community College (NYC) on October 22, 2001:

http://www.sunynassau.edu/collegere/Pass/news/archives/10_01/102201_3.htm
Hauer's connections to the CDC, Johns Hopkins and the CIA (James Woolsey) are well-established. What role did Jerome Hauer really play? Why was the distribution of Cipro to White House staff on Sept. 11 classified for such a long time (AP)?

http://www.infowars.com/saved%20pages/Prior_Knowledge/bush_cipro.htm

What exactly does Hauer know about Stephen Hatfill and his former USAMRIID colleague, Thomas Monath? What was his concern in organizing a security job for John O'Neil at the Twin Towers? What exactly did Hauer organise on Sep11th? Is it true that his office ordered thousands of employees "back to their desks" after the first plane hit, causing hundreds of unnecessary deaths?*

Herold, Marc

In January 2002, the Guardian UK released an article on Marc Herold, a US economics professor at the University of New Hampshire.

Based on corroborated reports from aid agencies, the UN, eyewitnesses, TV stations, newspapers and news agencies around the world, Herold estimated that at least 3,767 civilians were killed by US bombs between October 7 and December 10, 2001.

Higazy, Abdallah

In March 2002 Abdallah Higazy was arrested as the so called "Radio Bomber" November 26, 2002 --

"...The FBI agents who obtained a false confession from an Egyptian student initially suspected as a 9/11 terrorist have been cleared of any wrongdoing. Abdallah Higazy, 31, had claimed he had confessed because the polygrapher threatened his relatives in Egypt..."

His lawyer, Robert Dunn, said he wanted to know how investigators came to believe that the handheld radio was found in a safe in Higazy's room at the Millennium Hilton Hotel when it actually belonged to someone staying one floor below his client.

On February 28th, 2002 the NY Post reported, that the hotel security guard admitted he lied about finding an aviation radio in a guest's room - a false accusation that left Higazy sitting in jail for a month.

Ronald Ferry, a 48-year-old ex-cop, pleaded guilty to lying to the FBI in a case that grabbed national headlines before investigators discovered the truth and freed Abdallah Higazy.

On December 13th, 2002 the NY Post reported, that Higazy filed a $20 million lawsuit for being falsely charged. Higazy claimed his constitutional rights were violated by FBI agent Michael Templeton when he was interrogated and coerced into falsely confessing, that he was falsely arrested and imprisoned, and was maliciously prosecuted.

He claims the hotel was negligent in supervising the security guards, who gave false information that led to his arrest.

The arrest came after hotel security guard Robert Ferry told the FBI he found an aviation radio in Higazy's room.

Higazy is suing FBI agent Michael Templeton, who administered a disputed lie detector test that was central to the aborted prosecution.

The other defendants are Ronald Ferry, the former hotel security guard who framed Higazy by claiming to find a pilot's radio in the safe in his room; the Millennium hotel, across the street from the World Trade Center, where Higazy stayed on the 51st floor; the hotel's chief of security, Stuart Yule; and the Hilton Hotels Corporation, which manages the Millennium.

Hijackers

(-> Tracking all hijackers)
At least one Arabic newspaper, the Saudi-owned Asharq al-Awsat, said it had found two of the Saudis named on the list, Abdelaziz al-Omari and Said Hussein Gharamallah al-Ghamdi, alive and well...

http://www.islamonline.net/English/News/2001-09/20/article14.shtml

1) Ahmed Alnami is still alive and working as an administrative supervisor with Saudi Arabian Airlines, in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. He had never lost his passport and found it "very worrying" that his identity appeared to have been stolen. However, there is another Ahmed Alnami who is ten years younger, and appears to be dead, according to his father.

http://news.bbc.co.uk/hi/english/world/middle_east/newsid_1559000/1559151.stm

2) Saeed Alghamdi is alive and flying airplanes in Tunisia. He says he studied flight training in a Florida flight schools for parts of the years, 1998, 1999, 2000, and 2001.

http://www.mujahideen.fsenet.co.uk/wtc/wtc-hijackers.htm

3) Salem Alhazmi is alive and working at a petrochemical plant in Yanbou, Saudi Arabia. He says his passport was stolen by a pickpocket in Cairo three years ago and that pictures and details such as date of birth are of him.

http://www.mujahideen.fsenet.co.uk/wtc/wtc-hijackers.htm

4 and 5) The brothers Waleed M. Alshehri and Wail Alshehri are alive. A Saudi spokesman said, "This is a respectable family. I know his sons, and they're both alive." The father is a diplomat who has been stationed in the US and Bombay, India. There is a second pair of Saudi brothers named Wail and Waleed M. who may have been the real hijackers.

Their father says they've been missing since December 2000. The still living Waleed M. Alshehri is a pilot with Saudi Airlines, studying in Morocco. He acknowledges that he attended flight training school at Dayton Beach in the United States. He was interviewed by US officials in Morocco, and cleared of all charges against him (though the FBI photos are still of him!).

Still alive, another Wail Alshehri is a pilot, too.

http://news.bbc.co.uk/hi/english/world/middle_east/newsid_1559000/1559151.stm

6) Abdulaziz Alomari is alive and working as a pilot for Saudi Arabian Airlines. He claims that his passport was stolen in 1995 while he was living in Denver, Colorado. "They gave my name and my date of birth, but I am not a suicide bomber. I am here. I am alive."

http://news.bbc.co.uk/hi/english/world/middle_east/newsid_1559000/1559151.stm

7) On September 19, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. distributes a "special alert" to its member banks asking for information about the attackers. The list includes 3-Al-Midhar, Khalid. Alive. 4) The Justice Department later calls this a "typo." The BBC says: "There are suggestions that another suspect, Khalid Almidhar, may also be alive." The Guardian says Almidhar is believed to be alive, but investigators are looking into three possibilities. Either his name was stolen for a hijacker alias, or he allowed his name to be used so that US officials would think he died, or he died in the crash. Almidhar is wanted for other terrorist acts, so it's not surprising he's still hard to find. There are three official pictures of Almidhar - one of them doesn't look at all like the other two.

8) Marwan Alshehhi may be alive in Morocco. Family and neighbors don't believe he took part in the attacks.

9) Atta's father says he spoke to his son on the phone on September 12, 2001.

10) No one claims that Hamza Alghamdi is still alive, but his family says the FBI photo "has no resemblance to him at all" (on the other hand, Ahmed Alnami's family says his FBI picture is correct).

11) Majed Moqed was last seen by a friend in Saudi Arabia in 2000. This friend claims the FBI picture doesn't look like Moqed. There are three official pictures of Majed Moqed - one of them doesn't look at all like the other two.

12) The Saudi government has claimed Mohand Alshehri is alive and was not in the US on 9/11, but no more details are known.

13) There is compelling evidence that Ziad Jarrah was in two locations at the same time on more than one occasion.

Hijacker ID-confusion

Comparing all articles on the hijackers very carefully, it seems, that they jumped from city to city, state to state without any concept, without any ID, though the FBI claims, they had to organise new IDs.

Why then, as many 911 Skeptics asked, they didn't do that in one state only?

As reported by some US papers, two hijackers Almihdhar and Nawaf Alhamzi rented a room for a few weeks from Abdussattar Shaikh, a retired English professor at San Diego State University and co-founder of San Diego's Islamic Center.

Disturbingly Shaikh was later confirmed as a FBI informant (->), while the CIA had Almihdhar and Nawaf Alhamzi still on their watch list:

"The CIA was first alerted to them in January 2000, when the two Saudi nationals showed up at a Qaeda "summit" in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia...

...In September 2000, the two moved into the home of a Muslim man who had befriended them at the local Islamic Center. The landlord regularly prayed with them and even helped open a bank account. He was also, sources tell NEWSWEEK, a "tested" undercover "asset" who had been working closely with the FBI office in San Diego (San Diego FBI chief is Bill Gore) on terrorism cases related to Hamas.

Source:
http://www.msnbc.com/news/805186.asp?cp1=1

What odd is, that some stories on the patterns of both informant and hijackers looked the same:

"...He converts to Islam, goes overseas to fight for the fundamentalists, returns to the USA, becomes an FBI informant, and coincidently, has two of the hijackers involved in 9/11 room with him in his building."

"They kept me in their arms a long time," Shaikh said. "They made me feel like I was wanted."
Al-Midhur stayed about six weeks, telling Shaikh he was going home to see his baby daughter. Alhazmi left in December 2000, saying he was moving to San Jose. He later called Shaikh and told him he was in Arizona taking lessons to be a pilot.

The FBI agent, who was in charge with the observation was Bill Gore (Regional Computer Forensics Laboratory=RCFL) who played a special role in the investigation of the San Diego 911-suspects.

It was on November 14th 2000, when former FBI Director Louis J. Freeh (->) offered him this position at the "first multi-agency, multi-jurisdictional entity responsible for acquiring, archiving, and analyzing digital evidence in support of criminal investigations".

http://www.fbi.gov/pressrel/pressrel00/rcfl.htm

Before William D. Gore, his full name, was in charge of a "massive two and one-half year investigation code-named "Sure Buck", which was about health care fraud of 23 individuals from Mexico and Southern California.

More interesting, in April 2001 Bill Gore was involved in the investigation of a recovery of three U. S. citizens held hostage in Nairobi, Kenya Embassy. This was the same embassy, which was bombed, what was blamed on Bin Laden that time.

Totally ignored by the mainstream papers is the story of Egyptian immigrant Mohamed El-Atriss, who was suspected of selling a fake ID card to Khalid Almihdhar, who later officially had been on the plane, which crashed into the Pentagon.
El-Atriss was finally arrested on July 31st 2002

Now it was claimed that he sold an ID to Abdul Aziz Alomari.

But from an earlier trial against Herbert Villalobous, we learned, that it was Villalobous, who arranged these ID's. He was in jail for a couple of months, but is free again. Villalobos' attorney, Patrick Anderson said on court, that his client was kept in isolation for almost the entire time he was detained.

Source:
http://www2.ccps.virginia.edu/sorensen/sipl_alum_1999.html

According to early FBI documents filed in Alexandria federal court Sept. 22, 2001, one lawyer, who wasn't named but worked in the Arlington, Virginia area, signed papers that allowed Abdul Aziz Al Omari and Ahmed Saleh Al Ghamdi to obtain ID cards. The cards listed false addresses for the two men.

Alomari, who listed his original address as Jeddah (->), Saudi Arabia, lived at that time in Hollywood, Fla. with his wife and four school-age children in a rented house in Vero Beach, Fla., later moving out on Sept. 3, telling his landlord he was returning home.

http://www2.ccps.virginia.edu/sorensen/sipl_alum_1999.html

Another "unidentified witness" in the FBI papers said she received $80 for taking Al Omari and Al Ghamdi to the lawyer's office. She stated that she had "provided this service to approximately 100 people during the past four months and (received) approximately $100 per individual."

One of Villalobous helping hands was Victor M. Lopez-Flores, who pleaded guilty on February 1st 2002, to falsely certifying that hijackers Abdul Aziz Alomari and Ahmed Alghamdi were Virginia residents and received a 27-month prison sentence from U.S. District Judge Gerald Bruce Lee.

http://www.phonebusters.com/Eng/Charges_Arrests/February_1_2002_1a.html

Coincidence or not, but Flores' attorney, Alan Yamamoto is one of the lawyers of "Hijacker No. 20", Zacarias Moussaoui (->):

On June 27th, 2002 "Judge Brinkema appointed Alexandria lawyer Alan Yamamoto as a standby lawyer to assist Moussaoui."

Source:

11 days after Lopez-Flores plead guilty, on February 11th 2002, this "witness" was invited again for the trial.

Now for the first name the name of the "unidentified witness" of the FBI in the Villalobous-case had been revealed:

Her name was Katherine Smith, another employee of the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles, who was accused of accomplicing Villalobus. But now the story became a bizarre twist.

Instead of "charged in a scheme with five men" (ABC now mentioned 5 men!), she was suddenly killed "in a fiery car crash the day before her first court appearance, a crash the prosecutor called "most unusual and suspicious"

Hijackers Gas

During the anniversary of Sep11th, the FBI changed the story of the original Sep11th-hijack.

In the update, the official hijackers used gas to subdue the passengers and crew.

In this case, however, the cell phone story and many other details would make no sense anymore.

Hijackers parents

Some of the hijackers parents had been interviewed by international media. Almost none of them believed, that their sons had something to do with the attacks.

Mohammad Atta's father even claimed, that he spoke with his son one day after Sep11th and believed, that the attack was planned by another government instead of Bin Laden.

In an 20/20-interview with Barbara Walters Mohammad Alsheri, a fine art teacher, said in this interview, Waleed and his brother had no flying experience.

Waleed left his native town for a trip to Medina. His father said, he had a strong sense of humour, was live loving, in contact with his father and called him in January 2001, 8 months before 911, he would be "on his way home". He never called back.

His father never got an official visit by the FBI and learned from his son's death from the news and local newspapers (one week later). Saudi Authorities told him, that they had no hard evidence, that his sons had been involved in the hijack. Alsheri claims, his son Waleed wasn't more religious than everyone else.

Another father of the hijackers, Abdullah Alnahmi said his son left home - for the first time in his life — six months before the attacks, and believes, he is innocent. Alnahmi was on the way to 'mecca'.

He called only once, in March 2001. His father claimed, his son never heard about Al-Qaeda and didn't notice any change in Alnamis behavior.

Hijackers screened

--------------------------

As Policetalk.com reported in March 2002, nine of the 19 hijackers were searched before boarding, as claimed in this article: "Nine of the 19 terrorists who hijacked four jetliners on Sept. 11 had been singled out for special scrutiny that morning under aviation-security guidelines, government officials said today, as they looked back sadly at what might have been. But because their baggage contained no explosives, the hijackers were allowed to board."

http://www.policetalk.com/9_hijackers.html

The unanswered questions are:
Why is there no airport security footage of them? How did they (allegedly) get on board with knives, guns, AND electronic guidance systems, while being searched, but avoiding security cameras and not being on the passenger lists?
What aliases were they alleged to be using when they were searched, and if they were not using aliases, why are they not on the passenger lists?

Hijackers- US Air Base connections

--------------------------

In a bizarre twist, the Air Force confirmed on September 16th, "that three people named by the FBI as suspects in the hijackings have names similar to three non-Americans who attended U.S. military schools. The names are Mohamed Atta, Abdulaziz Alomari and Saeed Alghamdi, the Air Force said. It added, however, that discrepancies in their biographical information, such as birthdates, make it unlikely that they are the same three named by the FBI. One of the three attended the Defense Language Institute at Monterey (->), Calif., and the Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.; one attended just the language institute, and one the Aerospace Medical School, the Air Force said..."

Already on September 11th, Air Force spokesman Col. Ken McClellan said "that a man named Mohamed Atta, which the FBI had already identified as one of the five hijackers of American Airlines Flight 11, had once attended the International Officer's School at Maxwell/Gunter Air Force Base in Montgomery, Alabama"

But McClellan later denied his own report!
However Witnesses from the Base claimed, that they remember Mohammad Atta from his moustache.
But this report didn’t go away for one week.
NEWSWEEK found out four days later on September 15th, that “five of the alleged hijackers of the planes... received training at secure U.S. military installations” in Florida, Texas and Alabama.

Three of the alleged hijackers listed their address on drivers licenses and car registrations as the Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Fla.—known as the “Cradle of U.S. Navy Aviation,” according to a high-ranking U.S. Navy source.

"Another of the alleged hijackers may have been trained in strategy and tactics at the Air War College in Montgomery, Ala., said another high-ranking Pentagon official“ in the same article.
The fifth man may have received language instruction at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas...."

As Newsweek revealed, Military records showed that Saeed Alghamdi, Ahmad Alnami and Ahmed Alghamdi used as their address 10 Radford Boulevard, a base roadway on which residences for foreign-military flight trainees are located.

Then again, 3 days later, in another article of pressconnects on September 17th, it was found out, that Saeed Alghamdi was the man, who attended "California's Defense Language Institute in Presidio of Monterey, California."

On September 16th 2001, detnews suddenly reported:

"...The Air Force, meanwhile, confirmed that three people named by the FBI as suspects in the hijackings have names similar to three non-Americans who attended U.S. military schools. The names are Mohamed Atta, Abdulaziz Alomari and Saeed Alghamdi, the Air Force said. It added, however, that discrepancies in their biographical information, such as birthdates, make it unlikely that they are the same three named by the FBI.

Hitler-comparison
================
Between the end of 2001 and 2002, the comparisons between President Bush and Adolf Hitler dramatically increased, if one took a look on many political discussion boards on the internet; same to results on google or a lot of news articles.

Many websites described the Sep11th attack in reality as a coup like the "Reichstagsbrand" to start a war on the left oil (->) resources worldwide.

Various photoshop images, originated in the United States, showed President Bush with a Hitler moustache, in the counterfeit as the former Reichskanzler, or mirrored even original photos of Bush, coincidentally imitating the famous Hitler greeting ("Hitler-Gruss") with the right hand.

Some other examples:
On March 27th, 2002, US Congress member Pete Stark compared the US Congress with the german Reichstag, "denying a chance for debate and open discussion of a budget. It does smack of fascism"

Source:
On June 8, 2002, CNN picked up Fidel Castros comparisons of the United States with the early "Nazideutschland" and accusing President Bush of spreading 'Nazi concepts'.
Source:

In September 2001 german minister Hertha-Daeubler Gmelin compared Bush with Adolf Hitler, but later denied having made the remarks.
Justice Minister Herta Daeubler-Gmelin told a small group of labor union members on Wednesday that Bush was going after Iraq to divert attention from domestic problems. "That's a popular method. Even Hitler did that," the German newspaper, Schwaebisches Tagblatt, quoted her as saying.

Gmelin was responsible for controlling the german 911-terrorist files. After this scandal occured only 48 hours before the german election, she had to resign.

The US Government reacted with an own Hitler-comparison campaign against Saddam Hussein, and tried to criticise Europe as "anti-semite".

Many independent authors or websites however concentrated on George Bush:

Ignored by mainstream media, the Bush family has ties to the original Nazi Regime.

Nazi interests in the Silesian-American Corporation, long managed by Prescott Bush (->) and his father-in-law George Herbert Walker, were seized under the Trading with the Enemy Act on Nov. 17, 1942.

George Bush himself liked the idea of being a dictator:
On December 18th, 2000 he said :
"If this were a dictatorship, it would be a heck of a lot easier -- just so long as I'm the dictator."

Hit the 'Trifecta'

How Bush hit the 'Trifecta' on 9/11--and the Public Lost Big-Time

Journalist Brad Carlton wrote:
"Bush, in the weeks before September 11, pledged to honor the sanctity of the Social Security lockbox except in the event of recession, war, or a national emergency. But after "everything changed" on 9/11, he gloated to his budget director, Mitch Daniels, "Lucky me--I hit the trifecta!"

At the time, this comment (a variation of which is being recycled for laughs at current GOP fundraisers) seemed merely offensive.

But in light of revelations that Bush's August 6 briefing memo was titled "Bin Laden Determined to Strike U.S.,” Bush's "luck" and weird prescience are worth more than passing scrutiny. Whenever someone is suspected of a crime, investigators look for a motive in addition to actual proof of guilt to determine, a posteriori, whether there was malice aforthought. In cases of criminal negligence, motive must also be deduced, a priori, to answer the question: were preventive failures due to craftiness or mere cluelessness?

The serial apologists of the Bush Is Not Stupid crowd are rather incongruously opting for the latter, this in the wake of the scandal about pre-9/11 failures to issue precisely the kinds of public warnings and security directives that accompanied the also "non-specific" Y2K threats. For now, it is difficult to say who knew what when because the administration is not exactly being forthcoming, preferring instead to use the scandal as an excuse to broaden the FBI's snooz powers. However: there was a potential motive for the administration to sit on perceived terrorist threats."

HomelandHealth.com

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has basically joined with the pharmaceutical industry to develop defenses against biological threats. This project was started by the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA) on October 30th, 2001 http://www.phrma.org/press/newsreleases/2001-10-30-303.phtml

In July 2002 Pfizer (Viagra, Celebrex/Arthritis etc.) has agreed to buy Pharcima for $60 billion.

We learned already that the NIH was involved in BioPharmarcy Business deals. In 1998 the OraVax company (Bioweapon Vaccines) had been likewise linked to shady backroom dealings with the NIH for a yet to be tested West Nile Virus vaccine. Among the guests of this meeting Jerome 'Jerry' Hauer, the background story of HomelandHealth?

Actually HomelandHealth, backed by http://www.anser.org is lead by Dr. Michael Friedman, former Head of FDA and Veteran of The Public Health Service and on the board of Pharcima Corporation. Due to their own website, we find magically another old friend of the never ending 911-saga: HomelandHealth's consultant is Arthur Andersen, LLP.

As investigative journalist Jim Rarey found out,
Friedman was the FDA official who gave the Department of Defense the go ahead to use the anthrax vaccine in the Gulf war even though the FDA had not found it to be safe or effective against inhalation anthrax.

Pharmacia Corporation is basically Pharmacia and Upjohn Laboratories, which acquired Monsanto (chemical) Company. The combined companies have a pipeline of new drugs, a $2 billion research and development budget and a leading sales force in the U.S. market.

"...The current Chairman of the Board and CEO of Pharmacia is a Pakistani named Fred Hassan. Hassan was President of Pharmacia-Upjohn at the time of the merger with Monsanto, and moved into his current position after Monsanto’s CEO had served an interim 18-month period as head of the combined companies."

And we find other interesting names:

"...William Ruckelshaus is a Harvard-trained lawyer who came out of the Justice Department to become the first administrator of the new Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in 1970. He served another three-year term as EPA administrator during the Reagan administration. Ruckelshaus is currently a principal in the Madrona Investment Group. Michael (Mickey) Kantor is a close confidante of Bill Clinton and served in his administration first as the United States Trade Representative (USTR). Kantor took over as Commerce Secretary following the controversial death of Ron Brown. Kantor was one of the point men involved in blunting some of the Clinton personal scandals, including the Kathleen Willey affair. Dr. Philip Leder, although a virtual unknown outside of medical circles, has impressive credentials. He is Chairman of the Department of Genetics at Harvard Medical School and a Senior Investigator for the Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI). He was a contemporary of Dr. Don C. Wiley at Harvard..."

Break!

We know this name. Don C Wiley who had made a breakthrough in genetic research in BioScience (x-ray crystallines etc..) was one of a few BioScientists who died under strange circumstances last year.

Wiley was funded as an investigator by HHMI.

For some bizarre coincidences the HHMI management likes locations next to airports:

1) "...They wanted the (Alexandria) center to be an hour's drive from headquarters in Chevy Chase, on a site at least 100 acres and no more than an hour's drive to an airport."

2) "...The Janelia Farm site, on the other hand, is eight miles from Dulles International Airport..."

On Janelia we will find Celera (Craig Venter), another huge pharmacy company, who is proud to be happen as one of the first companies, who recognised the human DNA.

"...Perhaps the most controversial member of Pharmacia’s board is Frank Carlucci. Carlucci is Chairman of the Board and CEO of the Carlyle Group, which describes itself as a "merchant bank." However, its portfolio ranks it as one of the major defense contractors in the country..."

When Carlucci was Secretary of Defense, he worked closely with the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral William Crowe. Crowe later founded in 1997 (with the help of ex-Porton Down al-hibry) BIOPORT, who later in 1998 got a three-year contract by the DoD to develop Anthrax-Vaccines.

Homeland Security

Almost unknown, the first plans to establish the Homeland Security had already planned and finished between 1998 and 1999, two years before the Sep11th attacks.

It was the military scientific think tank ANSER (http://www.asner.org), who created the Institute of Homeland Security in 1999.

Another directive, dated 13 February 2001, was formally approved for release by the National Security Council staff on 13 March 2001.

"Proliferation, Counterproliferation, and Homeland Defense (by the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs)"

Source:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/homeland/

The Membership of the National Security Council discussed at that time, what authority gives them approval power over Congress and/or Judiciary?
http://www.whitehouse.gov/misc/

The full subject of the Homeland Security was:

"Organization of the National Security Council System
This document is the first in a series of National Security Presidential Directives. National Security Presidential Directives shall replace both Presidential Decision Directives and Presidential Review Directives as an instrument for communicating presidential decisions about the national security policies of the United States.”

Other people or institutions, who had been involved in the Homeland Security before Sep11th:

Ken Alibek (->), Dr. Ruth David (former Director for Science and Technology at the CIA, later at ANSER ->), BENS (->), CFR (->), Embry-Riddle or Johns Hopkins Institute.

Immediately after the attack on Sep11th, 2001 President Bush announced Governor Tom Ridge to head "homeland security".

Only 8 months later, in May 2002, Tom Ridge lost credibility in the US Congress and they continued to work on a new Homeland Security Bill.

In the same month, Electronic Privacy Information Center (EPIC), a civil-liberties group, announced a lawsuit against the Homeland Security.

David Sobel, the general counsel for the privacy group, said it's unclear whether Homeland Security is more analogous to the National Security Council or to other offices within the White House that have been ruled to fall under the freedom of information law, such as the Office of Management and Budget or Office of National Drug Control Policy.

However the Justice Department argued, that the U.S. Office of Homeland Security is exempt from the Freedom of Information Act because it technically isn't an "agency" and doesn't exercise substantial authority apart from President Bush.

In November 2002 both democrats and republicans supported a new bill on the Institute of Homeland Security.

Senator Byrd, one of the strongest critics on the Homeland Security Bill on November 19th 2002:

"This legislation is not going to be worth a continental dime if it happens tonight, tomorrow, a month from tomorrow; it is not going to be worth a dime. There are people out there working now to secure this country and the people. They are the same people who are already on the payroll. They are doing their duty right now to secure this country.

This is a hoax. This is a hoax. To tell the American people they are going to be safer when we pass this is to hoax. We ought to tell the people the truth. They are not going to be any safer with that. That is not the truth. I was one of the first in the Senate to say we need a new Department of Homeland Security. I meant that.

But I didn't mean this particular hoax that this administration is trying to pander off to the American people, telling them this is homeland security. That is not homeland security. Mr. President, the Attorney General and Director of Homeland Security have told Americans repeatedly there is an imminent risk of another terrorist attack.

Just within the past day, or few days, the FBI has put hospitals in the Washington area, Houston, San Francisco, and Chicago on notice of a possible terrorist threat. This bill does nothing--not a thing--to make our citizens more secure today or tomorrow. This bill does not even go into effect for up to 12 months. It will be 12 months before this goes into effect. The bill just moves around on an organizational chart. That is what it does--moves around on an organizational chart."

Homeland Security of Michael Moore

As he announced in a public letter, this Office will, each day, "issue the necessary warnings to the American people (and to the other freaked-out inhabitants of this planet) about what precautions and action you and they will need to take. Though not yet a cabinet-level department (this would first require removing the squatters at 1600 Penn. Ave.), Mike's Office of Homeland Security will act as THÉ one-stop shopping and command center charged with monitoring the movements of the doers of true evil."

Honegger, Barbara

"The U.S. Government, Not the Hijackers, Chose the Date of the 9-11 Attacks", which was mirrored at 911pi.com (->).

Honegger criticised in some points the official version of Sep11th:

"Military aircraft had more than enough time - nearly three quarters of an hour -- to respond to and intercept the 9-11 Pentagon plane after all key decision makers were 100% certain the Twin Tower hits had been terrorist attacks and that Flight 77 had also been hijacked, but didn't do so 'in time'."

Honegger mentioned the CIA-exercise from Sep11th:

"Top US Intelligence Agency was to simulate plane crash into gov't bldg. on September 11, 2001. U.S. intelligence agency was planning an exercise last Sept. 11 in which an errant aircraft would crash into one of its buildings. Full story at: http://www.air disaster.com/news/080222/news.shtml"

She explained, "why the leak of the exact wording (not the fact of, which had already been reported in the Washington Times two weeks after 9-11) of a Sept. 10, 2001 NSA intercept so worried and infuriated Vice President Cheney that he demanded an FBI investigation of members of the House and Senate Intel Committee Joint 9-11 investigation to determine who might have leaked it."
That key intercept between the leader of the the 9-11 hijackers, Mohammad Atta, and the 'mastermind' of the 9-11 plot, Khalid Sheikh Mohammad, said: "The Match is about to begin. Tomorrow (i.e. 9-11) is zero hour." "Match", of course, is what you would expect if the speaker were referring to his discovery of the date that the U.S. Gov't had selected to conduct its counter-terror simulation/exercise on the scenario of plane(s) crashing into gov't buildings - one that was about to turn very real when the terrorists 'piggybacked' their long-planned plot onto it."

"...This also explains the choice of date for the attack, which was the date chosen for the 'emergency' preparedness exercise. 9-11 is U.S. abbreviation for 'emergency', and that's precisely the kind of code name the military and intel communities like to give their 'exercises'."

Honegger's conclusion was that Bin al Shibh, Atta, and Mohammad didn't 'choose the date'. The U.S. Government did. She suggested a public 911-commission and declassification of some CIA-files.

Barbara Honegger's article was mirrored on various independent 911-related websites.

She is author of the book "October Surprise".

Honegger is a former member of the Reagan administration who held several sensitive positions. Before she was working as a researcher at the Hoover Institution

After becoming disillusioned by Reagan, she started to leak her insights about the Iran-Contra-affair in mid-1987 after it had become a household word. October Surprise' refers to the evidence that the Reagan campaign cut a secret (and treasonous) deal with Iran to delay the release of the American hostages, in order to keep President Carter from arranging a surprise release in October and winning the November election.

Honegger investigated very early on the September 11th attacks. She sent an "Extreme Alert" memo to Ashcroft on September 19, 2001, insisting that Judge Royce Lamberth , who is chief judge in the secret Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act court (FISA) , be investigated. The memo went to Thomas Picard, the FBI agent in charge of the September 11 investigation. Her memo informed Ashcroft and Picard that Judge Lamberth “may have himself been acting with and on behalf of Islamic extremists.”

Honegger explained, that this same Chief FISA Court Judge Royce Lamberth shut down "up to 20" FISA wiretaps of Al Qaeda-related suspects linked to the near-simultaneous -- "twin" -- 1998 Africa U.S. embassy bombings. These 20 may well be, or significantly overlap with, the 20 9-11 hijackers -- 19 plus suspected '20th hijacker,' Zacarias Moussaoui.

Lamberth was judge in some cases of the liberty watch group Judicial Watch (->), too.

Hoover Institute

The Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace within Stanford University is a public policy research center devoted to advanced study of politics, economics, and political economy—both domestic and foreign—as well as international affairs.

Founded in 1919 by Herbert Hoover, who later became the thirty-first president of the United States, the Institution originated as a specialized collection of documents on the causes and consequences of World War I.

Some of the many "Hoover fellows" are William Perry (->) (former United States secretary of defense, serving from February 1994 to January 1997), William Ratliff , Condooleezza Rice, George P. Shultz (former secretary of state until January 1989 and currently member of the board of directors of Bechtel Group), Edward Teller (chairman of the first Nuclear Reaction Safeguard Committee and supporter of the first nuclear Bomb), Robert Zoellick (->) , Newt Gingrich, Ronald Reagan (-> Reagan-Files), Alexander Solzhenitsyn or Margaret Thatcher.

In 2001 Foreign Policy Expert Kiron Skinner was named to U.S. Defense Policy Board fellow at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University. She is a fellow of the Council on Foreign Relations. Skinner earned her doctor's degree at Harvard University in 1994.

"...On September 7, a call from the Australian Embassy in Washington informed me that on the 10th. of September 2001...my wife and I were invited to fly to Washington the next day to be guests of our Embassy. ...on that Monday at a wonderful Naval ceremony it all happened, both the President and our PM were gracious enough to mention me in their speeches... All quite wonderful, the next day it all hit the fan. We then found out we were originally booked to come home on American Airlines flight 77 from Dulles to LA, at the last moment we were rebooked so we could join the PM and Mrs Howard on their visit to Arlington. We got out of Washington on the first flight from Dulles to LA on the next Saturday, very happy to be home...

Canberra vet lives to tell the tale

October 01, 2001
"...It's September 10 in Washington, USA, as survivor of the sunken HMAS Canberra, Mackenzie Gregory, turns to Australian Prime Minister John Howard and says "See you tomorrow at Arlington".

Unbeknown to Mr Gregory, he is about to survive another event of historical significance - the terrorist attacks on New York and Washington the following day.

Furthermore, Mr Gregory may also have the Prime Minister to thank for his good fortune after he was originally booked on Flight 77 that crashed into the Pentagon on September 11.

Staff from the Australian Embassy cancelled the booking from Flight 77 and re-scheduled his flight to coincide with the Prime Minister's attendance at a wreath-laying ceremony in Arlington.

As one of the few survivors from the sinking of HMAS Canberra on August 9, 1942, Mr Gregory was in Washington for a ceremony handing over the bell from USS Canberra to the Australian Government.

Three US warships sunk that night following an attack by a Japanese surface force, with the then US President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, decreeing that a replacement ship be named after HMAS Canberra.

At the time, Mr Gregory was a sub-lieutenant before he retired from the RAN in 1954 as a lieutenant commander.

In 1964, USS Canberra came to Melbourne with Mr Gregory able to have his son baptised on board, utilising the ship's bell as a font.

Then in 1981-82, USS Canberra was dismantled and the bell kept in storage in Virginia until Australia's ambassador to the US heard of the bell's link to Mr Gregory.

"My wife and I were invited to attend the ceremony on Monday the 10th," Mr Gregory told Navy News.

"It was a wonderful day set in the idyllic surrounds of the White House."

President George W Bush even broke ranks to personally meet Mr Gregory, with Mr Bush ordering a three-star marine general to photograph himself with Mr Gregory, his wife and Prime Minister John Howard.

"We chatted briefly and Mr Bush said, 'It's an honour to meet you, sir'."

The next morning Flight 77 was flown into the nearby Pentagon, with Mr Gregory and his wife taken to a hotel opposite the Australian Embassy shortly after.

"We were stuck in Washington until the 15th when we were able to get the first flight to Australia out of Los Angeles.

Don C Wiley (->) was a researcher at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, which is connected with Battelle (->).

Dr. Philip Leder (HomelandHealth.com ->), although a virtual unknown outside of medical circles, has impressive credentials.

He is Chairman of the Department of Genetics at Harvard Medical School and a Senior Investigator for the Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI).

He was a contemporary of Dr. Don C. Wiley at Harvard..."

Part of the HHMI (Northern Virginia) is the Center for Innovative Technology in Herndon and they currently working on a new plant in Ashburn, which is supported by Battelle:

February 12, 2001

"Northern Virginia has always been trying to get their toehold in biotech," said Walt Plosilas, vice president with Battelle Memorial Institute in Cleveland, and former director of the High Technology Council of Maryland. "This certainly would be a major anchor for them."

For some reasons the HHMI management likes locations next to airports:

"...They wanted the (Alexandria) center to be an hour's drive from headquarters in Chevy Chase, on a site at least 100 acres and no more than an hour's drive to an airport..."

2)
"...The Janelia Farm site, on the other hand, is eight miles from Dulles International Airport..."

On Janelia we will find Celera (Craig Venter), another huge pharmacy company, who is proud to be happen as one of the first companies, who recognised the human DNA.

Actually since September 2001 they have another, not really controversial job: They have to identify all victims of the Twin Towers.

Right now they had to confirm, that 1/3 of all victims had been totally pulverised and no DNA can be identified, which never happened before in the history of criminology.

http://www.bizforward.com/wdc/issues/2002-01/bioscience/

"..., For Chevy Chase, MD-based Howard Hughes, which announced the site selection in February 2001, Janelia Farm offers the perfect mix of rural solitude and urban access. Just eight miles north of Dulles Airport and within 30 miles of most government agencies, the Loudoun County site was once to be the U.S. headquarters of Dutch software developer Baan Companies, which had already started constructing three office buildings there ...

...In all, Maryland now has about 270 biotech companies, including high-profile big hitters like Celera, Gene Logic, Human Genome Sciences and MedImmune. Most are in DC suburbs, although Baltimore has snagged a few, thanks to Johns Hopkins University...."

Huffman Aviation
==================
Charlie Voss, a former employee at the Huffman Aviation flight training school in Venice, Florida where some of the terrorists trained, said "two students -- Mohamed Atta and Marwan Alshehhi" -- had arrived from Germany in July 2000.

Source:

As investigative journalist Barry Hopsicker (->madcowprod.com) found out in late 2001, the official hijacker flight school, owned by Rudi Dekkers, had ties to the CIA:

"The CIA's links to Dekkers surfaced when an unknown company called Britannia Aviation was mysteriously awarded a five-year contract to run a large regional maintenance facility at the Lynchburg Virginia Regional Airport.

At the time of the award virtually nothing was known about Britannia except that the company worked out of a hangar at Rudi Dekker's Huffman Aviation at the Venice, Florida airport.

But when Britannia was chosen over a respected and successful Lynchburg company boasting a multi-million dollar balance sheet and more than 40 employees, aviation executives there began voicing concerns to reporters at the local newspaper... "

Later it was discovered that Britannia Aviation is a company with virtually no assets, employees, or corporate history. Moreover, the company did not even possess the necessary FAA license to perform the aircraft maintenance services for which it had just been contracted by the city of Lynchburg.

Source: http://www.madcowprod.com/

The report about Huffman was picked up by Online Journal
http://www.onlinejournal.com/Special_Reports/Hopsicker030202/hopsicker030202.html

(-> Antini, Nicole)

Hopsicker continued with his investigation on Huffman Aviation and Rudi Dekkers.

Britannia executive Marten reassured those in attendance at that Huffman's hangar at the Venice Airport they had for some time been successfully providing aviation maintenance services for Caribe, a Caribbean carrier.

Today Caribe Air is controlled by an offshore bank located on the Caribbean island of Dominica, Banc Caribe, a private bank.

In March 2002, Rudi Dekkers changed his original story.

The chief flight instructor at neighboring Jones Aviation in Sarasota, where Atta and Marwan trained for six weeks, insisted in an exclusive interview with the MadCowMorningNews that Dekkers was flat out wrong when he told reporters that Mohamed Atta already had a private pilot's license when he entered the U.S.

Dekkers now said, that Atta and Marwan didn't start flight training until August 30th, 2001 at the earliest, seven weeks later than he stated in the aftermath of September11th.

That would mean, Atta had now only 10 days time left to learn how to crash his plane into the Twin Towers.

As Hopsicker reported:
"Left out of most news accounts is the fact Siad Al-Jarrah learned to fly next door to Dekker’s operation at a second flight school, that of Arne Kruihof, like Dekker's a native of the Netherlands.

Hopsicker revealed that in fact it was Dekkers assistant Nicole Antini, who filled out Attas and Marwan Al-Shehhi visa requests.

Furthermore Antini was being sexually harassed by Rudi Dekkers, "according to a lawsuit for sexual harassment which Dekker's was forced to settle recently for an undisclosed sum".

What speaks for Hopsicker is the fact, that he released the story on the Visas and Antini already months before it was published in some mainstream papers.

Onlinejournal reported already in October 2001:
"...Two weeks before the World Trade Center attack she filed suit to force him to enforce the settlement of a sexual harassment charge. Dekkers agreed to settle for $15,000..."
http://www.onlinejournal.com/Special_Reports/Hopsicker102401/hopsicker102401.html
HopSicker speculated, if Rudi Dekkers and Arne Kruthof worked for the CIA as well.

In March 2002, INS Commissioner James Ziglar, Huffman Aviation President Rudi Dekkers, Tom Blodgett, Managing Director of Business Process Solutions at Affiliated Computer Services; and Mr. Michael Cutler, INS Special Agent testified on the visa story of Atta. (Atta, Visa ->)

In early March 2002, Huffman Aviation International received notice from the INS that the student visa applications from known 9/11 terrorists Mohammed Atta and Marwan Al-Shehhi had been approved.

This embarrassing incident raises many troubling questions about INS management and whether the INS is up to the challenge of both processing immigration applications as well as fulfilling its border security responsibilities.

He found out, that Dekkers had a business partner named Richard Boehlhe.

HopSicker stated that Boehlhe stands accused of participating in a fraud using $25 million to build a condominium project which actually cost only $12.5 million.

It appeared that Boehlhe is linked to a firm called Capital Consultants, which is headed by Jeff Grayson. Grayson disappeared in 2000 after $355 MILLION went missing from Capital's investment fund.

Aside from Boehlhe, there is another man connected to Capital Consultants: Alvin Malnik.

Alvin has been called Meyer Lansky's heir in the organized crime biz.

As HopSicker found out, Alvin's son "is married to the daughter of a leading Prince of the Middle Eastern kingdom's founding family."

This was based on an report by Herb Mallard of National Press, the Palm Beach Post and picked up at http://www.sauduction.com/18issue.html

"Alvin Malnik, the man once regarded as the heir apparent to mobster Meyer Lansky, ... described by federal authorities as a top associate of organized crime figures ... Among his friends, Malnik counts Saudi royalty. His son once married a princess descended from the Middle Eastern kingdom's founding family. Malnik runs a national chain of loan stores...

...In 1962, Malnik was listed as a director of the Bank of World Commerce, a Bahamas-based institution that involved 'some of the nations' top gangsters,' ...

In 1978, a Bahamian company named Appolonia Investment Limited paid $3.35 million to buy the property just north of Malnik's Ranch.

Malnik and the prince -- a son of King Abdul Aziz, the founder of modern Saudi Arabia -- once lived in neighboring condos in the Cricket Club. Malnik's son ... would later change his name from Mark to Shareef and marry into the royal Saudi family.

Meyer Lansky was known as the treasurer of the US Mafia.

Furthermore, the Washington Post reported already years ago: "There are other signs, though, that (Bin Ladens) network (was) ... backed by tens of millions of dollars in funds from members of the Saudi elite. U.S. Treasury Department and CIA officials recently went to Dubai to investigate reports that a bank there was funneling millions of dollars to bin Laden through Arab companies in London.

Independent Paper Regena supported HopSickers revelations on Huffman Aviation in March 2002:

"Caribe Air, in turn, has a long history of association with CIA drug-running operations out of Mena, Arkansas, and is also allegedly linked to fraudulent Enron-funded offshore investment partnerships.

According to reports from Newsweek, three alleged terrorist pilots trained at the Pensacola Naval Air Station in Florida, while Knight Ridder stated that suspects Mohamed Atta, Abdulaziz Alomari, and Saeed Alghahmi had attended various other prestigious military exchange officer's training programs. These reports were never categorically denied by US government sources.

Source:
http://www.regena.com/flight-training.htm

HopSickers reports later revealed more bizarre details.

HopSicker claimed, that one name on Atta's email list, for example, "apparently worked at a Canadian company called Virtual Prototypes, whose website states the fact that the firm helped prototype the avionics instruments in the F-15 jet fighter, the F-22 Raptor, the B2 bomber and the Apache Longbow, among others".

Another address on the list, paradisehasaprice@hotmail.com, appears to refer to, or perhaps even to be, a female suicide bomber in Chechnya.

The discovery of Atta's emails came about when a local avionics salesman at Eastern Avionics sold a headset to Marwan Al-Shehhi, authorities said, after which his email address was added to a list kept by the terrorist duo, apparently sharing a single email account.

The owner of the flight school in Venice, Wallace J. Hilliard, was in business with a key figure in the Whitewater scandal, Truman Arnold, a Bill Clinton crony from Arkansas who had been the finance chairman of the Democratic Party.

Arnold's attorney in Whitewater was longtime Washington figure Richard Ben-Veniste, who was just named to sit on the 9-11 investigation panel.

HopSicker said, that he sat down with two Southern lawmen, a current sheriff and his immediate predecessor. These two guys looked him "dead in the eye and said that, based on what they have seen with a lot of CIA-connected covert operations in the area, the CIA was somehow involved in, if not responsible for, the World Trade Center attacks."

http://www.rense.com/general33/dissc.htm

Dekkers charged in fraud case (January 2003):

The deal was brokered by a mutual business partner, Wallace Hilliard. Dekkers obtained $200,000 from Jossart and signed a promissory note indicating that this amount was due and payable on Jan. 15, 2002."
To secure the loan, Dekkers, still acting as president of Dekkers Aviation Group, entered into a mortgage agreement on property at 220 E. Airport Ave., Venice. The mortgage indicated that Dekkers Aviation Group is the mortgagor and Jossart is the mortgagee.

In August 2002, Dekkers sold the building at 220 E. Airport Ave. to Triple Diamond Enterprises. As of Oct. 2, 2002, the date the PCA was signed by investigators, Dekkers had not repaid the loan to Jossart. Jossart did not receive any proceeds from the sale despite having a security interest in the property under the mortgage executed by Dekkers.

On January 24th, 2003, Rudi Dekkers survived a chopper crash

On February 5th, 2003, Hopsicker revealed in a new article, that four additional 9/11 terrorist suspects trained at the flight school owned by Rudi Dekkers. They fled the U.S. in haste just days before the attack, according to sources working at the school at the time.

Three of the fleeing students were Saudi, say sources, while the fourth, 22-year old Marwan Mohammed Shemina, told school officials his father worked for the United Nations in Rome.

Dekkers already mentioned a "NATO"-guy in October 2001:
"... I had at the moment of a week before September 11, I had one student there with a Muslim background who broke his course a week before September 11, stated to us that he wanted to go to Boston because he was doing a cruise or something, and he just stopped his course. He came from England when he attended the flight course in Naples, but he lives in Italy. His father works for the NATO... Then there was money wired to the flight school from an official address like it had to do with the NATO or something, we didn't understand it, so this was a weird situation, then the person left a week prior finishing his course to Boston and a week prior to September 11, all these things together is too many coincidences and we don't believe in coincidence any more, so I reported this to the FBI and the FBI is looking into it and the boy's name did not appear on the list of hijackers or the 19 or 21 suspects total, but he is not home yet, so it is kind of strange, very strange." (Australian Broadcasting Corp. 10/21/01)

The first new terrorist suspect who had trained with Dekkers, Turki M. Almasri, 22, a Saudi national, was named in a story in a January 2003 Washington Post article

In an exclusive interview with the MadCowMorningNews, Danielle Clark, a former executive at the school, disclosed that school officials told the FBI about three more Arab student pilots, including one abruptly ceased training and disappeared under mysterious circumstances in the days immediately preceding the Sept. 11 attack.

The three include two Saudis, Kamran Hussain, traveling on a UK passport; and Ahmad Badri, who had a Swedish passport; and Marwaan Shemisi, with passports from both Italy and Libya.

In point of fact the revelation of the four additional terror suspects brings the current total of 9/11 cadre terrorists known to have been enrolled at flight schools owned by Dutch nationals Rudi Dekkers and Arne Kruijthof to eight.

According to Yellow Cab driver Bob Simpson and other witnesses, MadCowProd found out, that Mohammad Atta and Rudi Dekkers had a good relationship to each other. "They were going to a nightclub in Sarasota, talking and very sociable with each other. He and Atta were friends, you could tell." Mohamed Atta was twice seen with flight school owner Rudi Dekkers in Venice, FL, during September 2001. On September 10th 2002, Rep. Richard Shelby already said about the flight school in Florida. "there is explosive information that has not been publicly released. I think there are some more bombs out there.....I know that."

He claims the Pentagon was not hit by a plane, but by a guided missile fired on orders of far right-wingers inside the United States government. Further, he says, the planes that struck the World Trade Center were not flown by associates of Osama bin Laden ( news - web sites), but were programmed by the same government people to fly into the twin towers.

U.S. senators Edward M. Kennedy (D-MA) and Robert C. Byrd (D-WV) have pointed out that Republican President George W. Bush has failed to make a compelling case to Congress, the American people and the United Nations for the U.S. military invasion and occupation of Iraq.

S. Res. 32 has been co-sponsored by Senator Byrd and referred to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

On March 6th, 2003, NationalReview reported on the Impeachment Campaigns by Professor Francis Boyle (->) and Ramsey Clarke and how it finally reached discussion in the US-House of Representatives:

Rep. Danny K. Davis, a Chicago Democrat who has discussed impeachment with his colleagues in the congressional black and progressive caucuses, said a resolution probably would be introduced in the event of "a full-fledged military effort" that occurs with new congressional war resolutions.

The Supreme Court can declare a law enacted by Congress or an action by the President unconstitutional; and Congress can impeach the President and Federal court justices and judges.

Impeachment appears six times in the U.S. Constitution.

Inderfurth, Karl

Karl Inderfurth (former Assistant Secretary of State for South Asian affairs)
On February 3 1999, Assistant Secretary of State Karl E. Inderfurth and State Department counterterrorism chief Michael Sheehan traveled to Islamabad, Pakistan, to meet the Taliban’s deputy foreign to meet the Taliban’s deputy foreign minister, Abdul Jalil.

They warned him that the US would hold the government of Afghanistan responsible for any further terrorist acts by bin Laden.
According to a report in the Washington Post (October 3, 2001), the Clinton administration and Nawaz Sharif, then prime minister of Pakistan, agreed on a joint covert operation to kill Osama bin Laden in 1999.
The US would supply satellite intelligence, air support and financing, while Pakistan supplied the Pashtun-speaking operatives who would penetrate southern Afghanistan and carry out the actual killing.
The Pakistani commando team was up and running and ready to strike by October 1999, the Post reported. One former official told the newspaper, “It was an enterprise. It was proceeding.” Clinton aides were delighted at the prospect of a successful assassination, with one declaring, “It was like Christmas.”
The attack was aborted on October 12, 1999, when Sharif was overthrown in a military coup by General Pervez Musharraf, who halted the proposed covert operation.
The Clinton administration had to settle for a UN Security Council resolution that demanded the Taliban turn over bin Laden to “appropriate authorities,” but did not require he be handed over to the United States.

The Independent Media Center (www.indymedia.org), was established by various independent and alternative media organizations and activists in 1999 for the purpose of providing grassroots coverage of the World Trade Organization (WTO) protests in Seattle. The center acted as a clearinghouse of information for journalists, and provided up-to-the-minute reports, photos, audio and video footage through its website. Using the collected footage, the Seattle Independent Media Center (seattle.indymedia.org) produced a series of five documentaries, uplinked every day to satellite and distributed throughout the United States to public access stations.

The center also produced its own newspaper, distributed throughout Seattle and to other cities via the internet, as well as hundreds of audio segments, transmitted through the web and Studio X, a 24-hour radio channel based in Seattle. The site, which uses a democratic open-publishing system, logged more than 2 million hits, and was featured on America Online, Yahoo, CNN, BBC Online, and numerous other sites. Through a decentralized and autonomous network, hundreds of media activists setup independent media centers in London, Canada, Mexico City, Prague, Belgium, France, and Italy over the next year. IMCs have since been established on every continent, with more to come.

==========
Former assistant secretary of state for South Asian Affairs from August 1997 to January 2001, now senior advisor to the Nuclear Threat Reduction Campaign (NTRC). The NTRC is a project of the Vietnam Veterans of America Foundation and The Justice Project.

In 1999, Inderfurth met Talibans New York representative, Abdul Hakeem Mujahid to get more information on the whereabouts of Osama bin Laden. After this meeting Mujahid claimed, that they don't know where he is, but religious scholars from the Taliban, who met with bin Laden two weeks earlier told him he could no longer use Afghanistan for political or military operations.

As Niaz Naik(->), former Pakistani minister for foreign affairs, told in some interviews with French television and the BBC, Inderfurth was in a mid-July 2001 meeting in Berlin, together with senior Americans, Russians, Iranians and Pakistanis. On the American side was Tom Simons, a former US ambassador to Pakistan, and Lee Coldren, who headed the office of Pakistan, Afghan and Bangladesh affairs in the State Department until 1997.

Naik claimed that Tom Simons issued a stern ultimatum that impressed upon him the significance of this meeting and the end of the negotiations route. Naik quotes Simons as saying, "in case the Taliban does not behave and in case Pakistan does not help us to influence the Taliban, then the United States would be left with no option but to take an overt action against Afghanistan."

The military action would then start in October 2001.

Informants
==========
Based on the information of german intelligence files, Mamoun Darkanzali (->), was one of the first few informants of the CIA, who was connected with the hijackers, since 1998.

After Sep11th, Mamoun Darkazanli Import-Export Company (Hamburg, Germany) was put on the frozen account list.

German authorities interrogated Darkzanli (->), but after a while they concluded that he wasn't involved in the attacks.

One might speculate, if "some of the former 'informants' just later turned into 'hijackers'?"

Other informants:
Atif Ahmed
-----------

...But the FT story may raise more questions than it answers.

Atif Ahmed, you'll recall, was nabbed by Scotland Yard detectives in November, 2002, after the FBI said it found evidence suggesting he was a co-conspirator with accused "20th hijacker" Zacarias Moussaoui.

In subsequent months, Moussaoui has repeatedly and insistently identified Ahmed as a key player in the 9/11 conspiracy -- and as a British mole within Al Qaeda. Yet the mainstream press declined to investigate, and the elusive Ahmed vanished from the public record in what felt eerily like a press blackout.

from his book "My Jihad":

"The little scrappy guy was taking flight lessons in Scottsdale, right up the road from my house. I'd known some of his roommates before Gharbee had started talking to him and was good friends with one of them. They were all taking flying lessons, and my friend was already rated for twin-engine aircraft. <...> I was still working for the Bureau at this time and reporting to Andy <his FBI contact - Andres Sanchez> regularly.

Both the FBI and Andy were fully aware of all the Arabs whom Gharbee and I had contact with, including the scrappy little guy whose name is widely now known: Hani Hanjour. Hani Hanjour would get his pilots license in 1999 and would fly an American Airlines plane into the Pentagon. They were hardly "deep cover sleeper" as the FBI is calling them now. They lived very openly, and although I had no idea what some of them would eventually do, they made no secrets about what they thought or believed."

(*My Jihad, p213-4)

Introduction to the book:

Aukai Collins claimed, he observed Hani Hanjour, which was denied by the FBI some months ago:

FBI Was Warned of Sep 11 Hijacker
May 23

"A paid FBI informant told ABCNEWS that three years before Sept. 11, he began providing the FBI with information about a young Saudi who later flew a hijacked passenger plane into the Pentagon..."

Aukai Collins, the informant, said he worked for the FBI for four years in Phoenix, monitoring the Arab and Islamic communities there. Hani Hanjour was the hijacker Collins claimed to have told the FBI about while Hanjour was the hijacker flight training in Phoenix. Twenty hours after ABCNEWS first requested a response, the FBI issued an "emphatic denial" that Collins had told the agency anything about Hanjour, though FBI sources acknowledged that Collins had worked for them..."

Randy Glass
-----------------------------
Early August 2001: Randy Glass, a former jewel thief turned government informant, later claims that he contacts the staff of Senator Bob Graham and Representative Robert Wexler and warns them of a plan to attack the WTC, but his warnings are ignored. Glass was a key informant in a sting operation involving ISI agents trying to illegally purchase sophisticated US military weaponry in return for cash and heroin (see June 12, 2001). Glass claims that before the sting operation ended in June 2001, one Pakistani operative named R. G. Abbas made three references to imminent plans to attack the WTC. In one meeting held in New York City in 1999, Abbas pointed to the WTC and said, "Those towers are coming down." Glass caught this meeting on tape (see July 14, 1999). In October 2002, Glass testifies under oath before a private session of the Congressional 9/11 inquiry. He states, "I told I have specific evidence, and I can document it." http://www.cooperativeresearch.org/completetimeline/AAAdvanceinfo.html

Inglesby applied his influence in persuading the U.S. Congress and Department of Justice to fund and arrange a May 2000 exercise that involved key emergency management personnel. The result was named "TOPOFF" - because of the engagement of top U.S. government officials.

The $3 million TOPOFF drill tested the preparedness of top government officials in responding to three simulated terrorist attacks against the United States: a chemical weapons assault in Portsmout, NH, a nuclear terrorism event in the greater Washington, D.C. area, and a bioweapons attack in Denver, CO. In the fictional scenario, an aerosol of pneumonic plague has previously been released at the Denver Performing Arts Center. The release has gone undetected, so the exercise starts with a hypothetical, unconfirmed attack.

http://www.biohazardnews.net/scen_plague.htm#topoff

In June and July 2000, Inglesby organised other bioterrorism scenarios in Atlanta and St. Louis:

http://www.bt.cdc.gov/documents/Atlanta/BSenario.pdf

In three storyboards by the 'CDC,' they 'confirmed' the bio agent Yersinia pestis (the black plague). On November 28, 2000 Inglesby participated at the Second National Symposium on Bioterrorism. Other guests included Jerry Hauer, Tara O'Toole, Margaret Hamburg, Michael Osterholm and Laurie Garrett.

Inglesby's biggest project, however, was DARK WINTER (-) He was the principal designer, author and facilitator of the BioTerror Exercise of June 2001.

Inglesby was a firm supporter of a higher BioDefense budget. Only a few days after the Sept. 11 attack, he complained in the pages of the Washington Post, September 28: "...the Pentagon spent $264 billion to deter regional conflicts, $28 billion to protect against a 'peer' nuclear attack and $3 billion on all other biological, chemical, cyber and nuclear assaults. Of that, he said, $250 million went to public health systems. 'It would be a mistake not to change the funding patterns of the past.'

Did Inglesby have prior knowledge of the anthrax attacks? Why did Inglesby claim to the FBI that the Sep11th hijackers may have been involved in the anthrax attacks?

In a March 2002 article in the New York Times, Inglesby claimed that a June 2001 diagnosis of Dr. Tsonas from the Holy Cross Hospital in Fort Lauderdale could have been anthrax, and therefore Inglesby circulated a memorandum to the FBI:

The only problem is: Dr. Tsonas never informed the CDC about an anthrax case.

Dr. Tsonas was already visited by the FBI in October 2001. He claimed the FBI found the antibiotic Keflex in one of the hijacker's bags, and showed him photos. Then Tsonas believed to recognize Ahmed Alhaznawi again, one of the official hijackers from the Pennsylvania plane.

But Inglesby's memorandum never appeared in the media again. What was the real purpose of this memo?

As reported, Al Haznawi and other hijackers lived and attended flight school near the Boca Raton headquarters of American Media Inc., where the first anthrax case surfaced. Al Haznawi entered the United States on June 8, records show. Sometime that month, he moved into an apartment in Lauderdale-by-the-Sea (Delray Beach) with another suspected hijacker, Ziad Samir Jarrah, according to statements last fall by the building's landlord, Charles Lisa (-)

Charles Lisa later informed the FBI, that the presumed-deceased Jarrah was still receiving his FAA newsletter:

Why did the FBI officially immediately ignore the strong ties between the Sep11th and anthrax attacks? The locations of the hijackers and the first anthrax victim Bob Stevens (-) can't be a coincidence.

If the anthrax attackers had prior knowledge of the Sept. 11 attacks, did they have knowledge of the whereabouts of the hijackers, so that they could blame them for the anthrax attacks, too?

Was it in any way scripted, before Sept. 11, that the anthrax attack would be tied to a possible attack with planes on America? And if so, by whom? Was this plan later changed because the scientific evidence demonstrated that there was no such connection between the presumed hijackers and the anthrax attacks?

And if this speculation does include CIA involvement as well, the question has to be asked again: How many hijackers did the CIA really monitor before Sept. 11th? How many of those who lived in Florida?

Ahmed Ibrahim A. Al Haznawi was one of 10 to 15 hijackers who received their visa from the CIA-connected consulate at Jeddah, Saudi Arabia.

In November 2001 the FBI already arrested one suspect of Jeddah, who was responsible for this: Abdullah Noman. (-)

Was Haznawi on a Jeddah watch list?

And what about his roommate, Ziad Jarrah? More than seven months before the Sept. 11 hijackings, authorities in Dubai detained and questioned Jarrah at the request of the U.S. government - before allowing him to continue his journey from Afghanistan to Florida, according to a United Arab Emirates official.

Who are the possible CIA members, who used the attack for a possible "911Pharmagate" and let it happen on purpose?

How much did Inglesby know about a possible attack - and if so, did he let it happen on purpose to achieve a higher biodefense budget?*

Ingram, Kevin

June 12, 2001: Kevin Ingram and Walter Kapij are arrested in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, on charges of money laundering. Also arrested are Diaa Mohsen and Mohammed R. Malik, who are accused of attempting to buy Stinger missiles, nuclear weapon components and other sophisticated military weaponry for the Pakistani ISI.

On August 28, 2001, 14 days before the Trade Center attacks, former Deutschebank senior bond investment trader Kevin Ingram, pled guilty in a $2.2 million dollar money laundering conspiracy, resulting from a government sting operation investigating the illegal sale of night vision goggles, Beretta machine pistols, M-16 machine guns with silencers, rocket-propelled grenade launchers, mortars, surface-to-air missiles (SAMs), TOW anti-tank missiles, and Stinger missiles, according to court papers examined by the New York Post.

In-Q-Tel

In-Q-Tel is a private, non-profit enterprise funded by the CIA. Their mission is to identify and invest in cutting-edge information technology (IT) solutions that serve U.S. national security interests. In-Q-Tel operates bi-coastally with offices in northern Virginia and Silicon Valley.

In 1998 the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) called on private sector industry executives—led by former Lockheed Martin CEO Norman Augustine—to create and launch this new venture. In-Q-Tel was chartered in February 1999 under the leadership of the DCI and the Directorate of Science and Technology and with the support of the U.S. Congress.

In 2002 In-Q-Tel included a 45-person staff and two strategic business teams, Technical and Venture, with a bi-coastal presence in Arlington, Virginia and Menlo Park, California.

Rick E. Yannuzzi (Senior Deputy National Intelligence Officer for Strategic and Nuclear Programs in the National Intelligence Council/NIC) wrote in Winter 2000:

"The origins of the concept that has become In-Q-Tel are traceable to Dr. Ruth David, a former CIA Deputy Director for Science and Technology. She and her Deputy, Joanne Isham, were the first senior Agency officials to understand that the information revolution required the CIA to forge new partnerships with the private sector and design a proposal for radical change."

Source:

Daniel D. Gupton wrote in August 2001 for Scientific American, that In-Q-Tel was now able to "tracking less visible technologies" and "it monitors what it call deal flows".

In-Q-Tel’s venture arrangement with a small company called Safe Web brought PricyMatrix, "a 128-bit Internet encryption system, for the agency's use".

Insider-Trading 911-CIA

Top-Investigator Tom Flocco reported on copvcia.com in 2001-2002 (and later on his own website tomflocco.com) about the insider trading connected to the 9-11 attacks.

"According to a 10-19-2001 Wall Street Journal report, an unnamed investor purchased 2,000 United Airlines (UAL) put option contracts through Deutsche Bank-Alex Brown on September 6 -- betting the stock would shortly plummet. And USA Today reported, that an individual purchased 810 UAL puts on August 6."

Actually there was later an arrest, which wasn't connected to Flocco's top suspect, former Deutschebank-Alex Brown CEO Wally A.B. "Buzzy" Krongard (CIA) and the use of the spy program PROMIS.

On October 16, 2001, Fox News reported, that, according to sources, accused Russian spy and FBI agent Robert Hanssen sold high-tech PROMIS software to Russia, and that Osama bin Laden allegedly purchased it from Russian organized crime source.

Flocco accused the SEC to block the investigation.

ROGUE FBI TRADER A PRISONER OF LOVE
New York Post; New York; Jul 19, 2002; KATI CORNELL SMITH

Abstract:
"...Jeffrey Royer - who'd been tossed in the slammer by a Brooklyn judge on charges of contacting other witnesses in his case - was free on bail less than a day June 18 when he penned a mushy letter to Christy Sarkey.
Sarkey, an ex-support staffer in the Oklahoma City FBI office, also told authorities that two other FBI agents invested with Royer..

From the print issue:
Friday July 19th, 2002

"...Royer "was jailed again in NY yesterday for contacting a witness in the case- an ex-girlfriend, who'd taken investment tipd from him. Christy Sarkey, an Oklahoma Cop, reported to the Feds that old flame and ex-G-man Jeffrey ROyer repeatedly tried to contact her...
...Royer allegedly leaked information from securities-fraud probes to TV financial commentator Amr "Tony" Elgindy- who's jailed awaiting trial on charges of manipulating the market in ashort-selling scheme...

"...The $500,000 bail of Jeffrey Royer was revoked by federal judge Raymond Dearie in Brooklyn after prosecutors disclosed Royer called and wrote a letter to ex-girlfriend Christy Sarkey.
In granting bail to Royer last month, Dearie warned him about contacting any possible witnesses in the case.
The day he was freed by Dearie in June, Royer wrote a letter to Sarkey in which he apologized to her and said, "I don't know what life has in store for me," according to documents unsealed in the case. Royer also tried to call Sarkey, who worked as a support staffer in the FBI Oklahoma City office, the records show.
Sarkey identified the two agents investing with Royer as Charles Ruiz, who works in New York, and Todd Temple in San Diego, according to the interview summary."

Intellibridge

Intellibridge is a Washington, D.C.-based company that provides open source intelligence and decision-support systems, proprietary analysis and custom content to corporations and branches of the military. The lead investor was Hudson Venture Partners, a New York City-based investment fund with over $170 million under management.

The other members of the syndicate were technology-focused Liberty View Equity Partners; Marketing 1 to 1 Ventures, which brings expertise in customer relationship management; and the Lorentzen Group (represented by Tyburn LTD and Northern Navigation International LTD) whose holdings span from Brazil to Scandinavia.

London-based CDIB Young Associates Capital Partners, LP invested in the company.

Intellibridge's chairman and chief executive officer David Rothkopf, and former U.S. National Security.

Intellibridge Corporation was founded in January 1998 under the moniker The Newmarket Company by former Deputy Under Secretary of Commerce David Rothkopf and advisor Anthony Lake, who both brought together officials from the CIA, NSA and defense community.

David Rothkopf was former Deputy Under-Secretary of Commerce and former Managing Director, Kissinger Associates (->).

On March 29th, 2001, Intellibridge completed a $9.9 Million Equity Round.

In November 2001, Greg Palast (BBC) released the famous article "Has someone been sitting on the FBI?", in which he revealed, how the FBI was sabotaged while investigating the BinLadin family:

"I received a phone call from a high-placed member of a US intelligence agency. He tells me that while there's always been constraints on investigating Saudis, under George Bush it's gotten much worse. After the elections, the agencies were told to "back off" investigating the Bin Ladens and Saudi royals, and that angered agents. I'm told that since September 11th the policy has been reversed. FBI headquarters told us they could not comment on our findings. A spokesman said: "There are lots of things that only the intelligence community knows and that no-one else ought to know."

Iran

On August 13th, 2002, Mohammad Khatami of Iran struck out at President Bush and other senior American officials at a news conference here today, saying they had "misused" the Sept. 11 attacks on the United States "to create an atmosphere of violence and war" across the world

http://www.nytimes.com/2002/08/14/international/middleeast/14AFGH.html

During 2002, Iran was accused of being part of the "axis of evil", supporting the Taliban, smuggling weapons to Palestinians. In December 2001, an iranian oil tanker was bombed by the US Navy.

On February 19th, Iran made again twice headlines. A military plane carrying 280 passengers -- all members of Iran's Revolutionary Guard -- crashed in southeastern Iran, while at the same time, at least 200 of the iranian Shia Muslim soldiers had begun moving troops into Iraq.

Iran-Contra

In October and November 1986, two secret U.S. Government operations were publicly exposed, potentially implicating Reagan Administration officials in illegal activities. These operations were the provision of assistance to the military activities of the Nicaraguan contra rebels during an October 1984 to October 1986 prohibition on such aid, and the sale of U.S. arms to Iran in contravention of stated U.S. policy and in possible violation of arms-export controls.

In late November 1986, Reagan Administration officials announced that some of the proceeds from the sale of U.S. arms to Iran had been diverted to the contras with the help of Oliver North (->), who was later convicted of altering and destroying documents.

The Iran operations were carried out with the knowledge of, among others, President Ronald Reagan, Vice President George Bush, Secretary of State George P. Shultz (->), Secretary of Defense Caspar W. Weinberger, Director of Central Intelligence William J. Casey (->), and national security advisers Robert C. McFarlane and John M. Poindexter (->)

Source: http://www.webcom.com/pinknoiz/covert/icsummary.html

Only 15 years, some of the former Iran-Contra key persons, had been given jobs in the current Bush administration:

• JOHN POINDEXTER (->)

Reagan national security adviser during Iran-Contra, the retired admiral is director of the Pentagon's Information Awareness Office. Created after the Sept. 11 terror attacks, the office uses computer technology to detect and analyze new kinds of military threats, including those from terrorist organizations. Poindexter was convicted in 1990 on five felony counts of conspiracy, making false statements to Congress and obstructing congressional inquiries. In 1991, an appellate court overturned the convictions and similar ones against former White House aide Oliver North. The court held that the government had improperly used immunized congressional testimony against them.

• ELLIOTT ABRAMS
A former assistant secretary of state for Western Hemisphere affairs, Abrams was hired by Bush in 2001 as special White House assistant for democracy and human rights. Abrams pleaded guilty to withholding Iran-Contra information from Congress and was among six Iran-Contra figures pardoned on Dec. 24, 1992, by the first President Bush.

• OTTO REICH
His nomination as assistant secretary of state for Western Hemisphere affairs, the top post for Latin America, was predicted to draw the most congressional fire. Reich was head of the now-defunct Office for Public Diplomacy (OPD), which the House Committee on Foreign Affairs censured for "prohibited, covert propaganda activities" (Washington Post, 10/11/87).

In January 2003, Reich was appointed to a top White House position.
The move, announced by White House spokesman Ari Fleischer, keeps Reich in government, working out of the National Security Council and reporting to national security adviser Condoleezza Rice.

Iraq
Already in October 2000, before President Bush was even confirmed as a president of the United States, thinktank PNAC (->) around Richard Perle and Charles Krauthammer planned a regime change in Iraq.

This plan was renewed on September 20th, 2001, signed by the same 42 people.

On October 13th, 2002, Neil MacKay wrote in the Sunday Herald, that the CIA admitted that the only reason Saddam would use WMDs (Weapons of Mass destruction), against the United States was if he was backed into a corner and therefore warned of a war.

While the United States always claimed, they would attack Iraq because of a threat of WMD, the media started to doubt this.

In January 2003, a poll in TIME magazine showed, that 76% of the readers think, the real reason is about oil.
DER SPIEGEL responded with a cover: "Blood for Oil".

In January 2002, UN-Inspectors came to the conclusion, that there is no "smoking gun" in Iraq, but Bush continued with sending more troops into the gulf, while the CIA still desperately tried to tie Iraq with Al-Qaeda.

Jean-Louis Bruguier, France's leading terrorist investigator, came to the conclusion, that there is no link between al-Qaeda and Iraq. "Not a trace".

Already in December 2001, the UK Observer revealed a plan to attack Iraq, opposed by Tony Blair and other European Union leaders, threatens to blow apart the increasingly shaky international consensus behind the US-led 'war on terrorism'.

Almost one year later, it was once again Richard Perle, who was sure, the war would start in 2003:

"...George Bush's top security adviser last night admitted the US would attack Iraq even if UN inspectors fail to find weapons.
Dr Richard Perle stunned MPs by insisting a "clean bill of health" from UN chief weapons inspector Hans Blix would not halt America's war machine.
"Perle says the Americans would be satisfied with such claims even if no real evidence was produced."

On January 18th, 2002 they released a statement by one of an northeast iranian province leader Hojjatoleslam Mohammad Farzaneh, who said, that the "September 11-U.S. terrorist incidents were designed and carried out by the U.S. secret agencies in order to assure exertion of America's full hegemony over the whole world."

Hojjatoleslam Mohammad Farzaneh argued, that is the way the "free-minded intellectuals" think today around the globe.

In 2002 Iran was declared as part of the "axis of evil" by George Bush.

Isaacson, Robert

Former CNN boss, who ordered censorship in an internal memo in October 2001:

"It seems perverse to focus too much on the casualties or hardship in Afghanistan," Isaacson said in a memo ordering his staff to accompany any images of Afghan civilian suffering with rhetoric that U.S. bombing is retaliation for the Taliban's harboring terrorists. As if the American public may be too feeble-minded to remember Sept. 11, the CNN chief explained, "You want to make sure that when they see civilian suffering there, it's in the context of a terrorist attack that caused enormous suffering in the United States."

On January 13th, 2002, Isaacson resigned as the boss of CNN.

ISI

Short for Inter-Service Intelligence, the Pakistan Secret Service.

According to Abdel Monam Sdaull, of the Al-aram Center for Strategic Studies in Cairo, bin Laden and the "Afghan Arabs" had been imparted "with very sophisticated types of training that was allowed to them by the CIA and ISI".

The ISI, founded after WW2, was a helpful organisation during the so called Golden Crescent drug trade, which was being used to finance and equip the Bosnian Muslim Army (starting in the early 1990s) and the Kosovo Liberation Army (KLA).

As John Cooley reports in Unholy Wars: "By 1981, when CIA chief Casey and his Saudi associates, Kamal Adhan and Prince Turki (->), were casting around for new sources of secret financing for the Afghan campaign, the bin Laden enterprises were all on a short list of possibly helpful families." In 1986, the CIA commissioned bin Laden to help build a huge tunnel complex in Khost, under the mountains near the border with Pakistan.

The CIA’s aim was to provide its Afghan killers with a major arms storage depot, training facility and medical center. It was here that bin Laden decided to set up his own training camp for "Arab Afghans." He later recounted that his "volunteers were trained by Pakistani and American officers. The weapons were supplied by the Americans, the money by the Saudis"

On February 20th, 2003, Pakistan's Air Force Chief, Marshal Mushaf Ali Mir (who had ties to the ISI), was killed in a plane crash. (-> ToraBora)

ISI-Atta connection

In August 2001, Mohammad Atta, as reported, received $100000 from an "unknown source" at the Pakistan Secret Service ISI.

This was the reason, why former chief Massoud later had to resign.

On the same day the United States started their retaliation against Iraq.

As later was revealed, the unknown source used at least two aliases: Mustapha Ahmad Al-Hawsawi aka Shaikh Saeed (->).

http://www.reuters.co.uk/news_article.jhtml?type=worldnews&StoryID=591591

One of the earliest versions of this story was released on September 30, 2001, by Brian Ross reporting on information conveyed to him by the FBI, ABC News.

Less than two weeks later, the findings of the FBI were confirmed by Agence France Presse (AFP) and the Times of India, quoting an official Indian intelligence report (which had been dispatched to Washington).

According to these two reports, the money used to finance the 9-11 attacks had allegedly been "wired to WTC hijacker Mohammed Atta from Pakistan, by Ahmad Umar Sheikh, at the instance of [ISI Chief] General Mahmoud [Ahmad]."

According to the AFP (quoting the intelligence source):

"The evidence we have supplied to the U.S. is of a much wider range and depth than just one piece of paper linking a rogue general to some misplaced act of terrorism."

ISI-meeting in Washington

General Mahmoud Ahmad of the ISI (->), was in Washington for one week from September 6th- September 15th, 2001.

Ahmad had in fact arrived in the U.S. on the 4th of September, a full week before the attacks. The purpose of his meeting at the State Department on the 13th was only made public "after" the September 11 terrorist attacks, when the Bush Administration took the decision to formally seek the "cooperation" of Pakistan in its "campaign against international terrorism."

Ahmad had two meetings with Deputy Secretary of State Richard Armitage, respectively on the 12th and 13th. After September 11, he met Senator Joseph Biden, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate. Confirmed by several press reports, he had a "regular visit of consultations" with U.S. officials during the week prior to September 11, --i.e. meetings with his U.S. counterparts at the CIA and the Pentagon. This included US Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs, Marc Grossman.

During Ahmads visit, on the 9th of September, the leader of the Northern Alliance Commander Ahmad Shah Masood was assassinated. The reason for Ahmads' visit wasn't made public.

Later even his name was altered (changed into "inaudible") in a transcript on questions during a Pentagon-press conference. (- Ahmad, General Mahmud)

Only 1 day before Sep11th, Paknews speculated, that "one can safely guess that the discussions must have centred around Afghanistan, relations with India and China, disarmament of civilian outfits, country's nuclear and missiles programme and, of course, Osama Bin Laden."

ISI-911 ties

During 2001 and 2002, many independent investigators came to the conclusion, that the Pakistan Secret Sevice ISI might have been heavily involved in the planning of the war against the Taliban, and had prior knowledge of the Sep11th attacks, possibly okayed a SETUP (-) with the help of the CIA, to profit from new business arrangements.

Other speculations are around, that the ISI killed General Massoud of the Northern Alliance, used the "War against Terrorism" to plot against India, attacked the indian government, sent Shoebomber Richard Reid (-) to Paris and killed Daniel Pearl (-)), of the WSJ.

Though best ties to the Taliban, the ISI was one of the few secret services, who DID NOT warn the CIA about a possible attack on america (- early warnings).

ISI-Terrorist and Sniper Camps

By 1992, the ISI was operating 13 permanent, 18 temporary, and 8 joint training camps for Kashmiris in Pakistan Azad Kashmir alone. Some 3,700 Kashmiri fighters were located in those camps by the summer of 1992, including terrorists who crossover from Indian Kashmir.

Thus, in the spring of summer of 1992, the ISI established new training camps for Islamist terrorists where they are trained on the latest weapons. The Director of this effort is ISI Brig. Javed, a veteran of the Afghan support effort. A special research council of Islamabad, including military and ISI officers, determines which groups and individuals are eligible to receive assistance, what type, and to what extent:

"Curriculum in Training Camps" - Elementary Training for 7 to 10 days

Jamaat ul Fuqra

Jamaat ul-Fuqra (JF) or "community of the impoverished", a terrorist outfit operating in Pakistan and North America, was formed by a Pakistani cleric, Sheikh Mubarak Ali Gilani, in New York in 1980, on his first visit to the US. Mubarak Gilani's intention in forming the outfit was to 'purify' Islam through violence.

Sheikh Mubarak Ali Gilani, who calls himself the sixth Sultan Ul Faqr, is the chief of JF.

Jamaat ul-Fuqra is headquartered in Hancock, New York.

A media report has indicated that the JF is being probed for links with Richard Reid (->), a Briton, accused of trying to use explosives in his shoes to blow up a Paris-to-Miami jetliner on December 22, 2001.

Gilani was later under investigation for money laundering from the US into Pakistan and vice versa.

The US Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is investigating connections between a small black Muslim community in California's Sierra Nevada valley, called Baladullah and the JF.

Source:

Gilani was interrogated regarding the killing of Daniel Pearl.

He could confirm, that Pearl was on his way to interview him, when he was kidnapped.

It is assumed, even by US intelligence, that Jamaat ul-Fuqra and/or Pearls killers have strong ties to ties Pakistan's Inter-Service Intelligence Directorate (ISI->).

Al Fuqra, which used to be known as Jamaat-ul-Fuqra, "is a splinter group of the extremist Army of Muhammad, a jihadi organization recently banned by Pakistani President Pervez Musharraf. It has had long-standing connections with senior ISI officials, State Department analysis said. The links are so clear, said former CIA chief of counterterrorism Vince Cannistraro (->), that 'Gilani has some former senior ISI official sitting on the board of his organization.'"

Al Fuqra has close ties with another Pakistani extremist group, Harkat-ul-Mujahideen, which, significantly, was left off Musharraf's Jan. 12 list of banned organizations.

Daniel Pearl, former head of the Wall Street Journal's bureau in Bombay, India, was officially investigating on Richard Reid.

In 2002 Jane's Defence Weekly, Jane's Fighting Ships and Jane's All the World's Aircraft, included weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual information products on military business worldwide.

On September 11th, 2002, Alfred Rolington, Managing Director asked:
"Regardless of whoever was behind the 9/11 attacks, there were certain aspects of that day and the preceding ones that were known. The hijackers were, in part, known to be on some wanted lists.

It had been known for some time that Al-Qaeda was training pilots. Why, therefore, was there nothing clearly done to disrupt this attack?"

Jane's reported heavily between June and August 2001 on Bin Laden, known to be "training individuals as commercial pilots".

Japan/weapon deals

In an June 1st interview with AP, Pentagon's No. 2 official Paul Wolfowitz (->) claimed, that "...Islamic terrorists 'have Asia in their sights.'"...

"...Asia must take seriously the threat of Muslim militants who, he said, want to impose 'a medieval, intolerant and tyrannical way of life.'"

Only one day before this interview, the Republic of China (Taiwan) had "obtained support from the US Department of Defense for its proposed acquisition of 30 AH-64D Apache Longbow..."

Due to Jane's Magazine, already in December 2001, North Korea has agreed to sell Egypt two dozen Rodong long-range missiles and related technology.

The same source confirmed that the Republic of Singapore Air Force (RSAF) accepted in May 2002 its first of 20 AH-64D Apache Longbow attack helicopters during a 17 May ceremony at Boeing's...

May 2002 was "succesful" for South Korea, who upgraded its nine Chang Bogo (Type 209)-class diesel-electric patrol submarines.

Jarrah, Siad

Aysel Senguen was for five years — almost from the day they met in Germany in the spring of 1996 — in love with Ziad Jarrah.
Jarrahs Ticket ignored

In January 2002, Maryland police released their "hijacker traffic stop" video of Jarrah.

Ziad S. Jarrah, one of the official hijackers, was stopped for speeding shortly after midnight September 9 - only two days before the attack:

"..Maryland State Police released a videotape Tuesday of a traffic stop involving hijacker Ziad S. Jarrah two days before the September 11 terrorist attacks on the United States.

The state trooper's dashboard-mounted camera did not capture any images of Jarrah, one of the hijackers aboard United Airlines Flight 93. But the officer was wearing a wireless microphone, and the audio track captured the driver giving simple "yes" and "no" answers to the trooper's questions.

Trooper 1st Class Joseph Catalano stopped Jarrah for speeding on northbound Interstate 95 shortly after midnight on September 9. The policeman can been approaching the car, obtaining the driver's license and registration, and returning to the patrol car for a radio check of the credentials."

Sources:

The CIA claimed, that Jarrah (pilot of the jetliner that crashed in Pennsylvania) was not on a terrorist watch list, but according to motel records, a man by that name used a credit card to pay for a late August 2001 stay at the Pin Del motel in Laurel, Md., where Nawaf Alhamzi stayed in September.

Alhamzi was on the CIA watch list.

CNN reported in February 2002 on Baltimore Mayor Martin O'Malley, who said:
"Local law enforcement officials should have been told by the FBI that Jarrah was on a CIA watch list"

Jihad
==============
Frequent used word, explained directly or subtly, to mean "holy war".
As a matter of fact the term "holy war" was coined in Europe during the Crusades, meaning the war against Muslims.
It does not have a counterpart in Islamic glossary, and Jihad is certainly not its translation.
The word Jihad means "striving".

Johns Hopkins Institute
=========================
In March 2002, the Johns Hopkins Institute released a memo, which came to the conclusion, that in June 2001, two of the official Sep11th-hijackers had cutaneous anthrax.

This story was picked up in the NY Times at

The Johns-memo was based on another story, which was already released in October 2001:
The director of the Holy Cross Hospital/Fl. Lauderdale (Florida), Dr. Christos Tsonas, was interrogated by the FBI in October 2001, but pointed out that he didn't recognise the case as anthrax.

He said, he "recognised a dark lesion on the patients leg, but thought "the injury was curious, cleaned it, prescribed an antibiotic for infection and sent the men away".
Officially the Sep11th attack and the anthrax attack had been seperated by both US Gov and FBI.

FBI Director John Collingwood in early 2002:
``This was fully investigated and widely vetted among multiple agencies several months ago,`` he said in a written statement. ``Exhaustive testing did not support that anthrax was present anywhere the hijackers had been. While we always welcome new information, nothing new has, in fact, developed.''
However it disturbingly looks, that both cases in fact belonged together and had been part of an original blueprint.

Then in November 2001, because of the cleverness of many american scientists (FAS -), who realised, that the anthrax attack could have been an idea of government related biopharmacy- and Bioweapon companies with prior knowledge of the Sep11th attacks, it appears that this "plan" was changed and blamed on "right wing nuts".

Later this was updated again: The anthrax came indeed from Fort Detrick (->) and at least two USAMRIID (->)-related suspects had been interrogated or arrested, one of them Stephen Hatfill. (->)

If the idea is correct, that both Anthrax and Sep11th attacks would have been part of one and the same plan and no copy-cat "project", it would explain the bizarre coincidence, why Hamzah Alghamdi ("WTC-south tower") rented in August 2001 an unit 1504 at the Delray Racquet Club, 755 Dotterel Rd, which originally was owned by Gloria Irish, the wife of Editor Michael Irish of the Sentinel Sun, where first anthrax victim Bob Stevens worked, too.

This was confirmed in their paper on October 13th 2001.
Was it part of the plan to blame the anthrax attack on the "hijackers" and who exactly had prior knowledge of the Sep11th attack?

The anthrax-hijacker "connection" by the Johns Hopkins Institute was supported by Dr. Thomas Inglesby, which role looked a little bit too much suspicious and was therefore part of an article named "Top 20 LIHOP Suspects", Dr. Thomas Inglesby (->), which was mirrored or mentioned on at least 150 websites worldwide in 2002, including in the stocktalks at siliconinvestor.com. (LIHOP->)

The CIA ignored the hopskins memo, it seems, they did that on purpose, as reported in the NY Times:
"A senior intelligence official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said CIA Director George Tenet had received the Johns Hopkins memo and that government officials were looking into it. "No one is dismissive of it," the official said. "No one's ruling anything out."

The John Hopkins Institute combines various institutions or projects, i.e Johns Hopkins University (founded in 1876), the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, the SAIS-Novartis (->) International Journalism Awards, The Johns Hopkins University in Bologna, Italy, the Hopkins Nanjing University in China or The Paul H Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS, Massachusetts Avenue, N.W).

The SAIS (->) was established during World War II by "a group of statesmen who sought new methods of preparing men and women to cope with the international responsibilities that would be thrust upon the United States in the postwar world".

SAIS became a division of The Johns Hopkins University (http://www.jhu.edu/) in 1950.

The Johns Hopkins Institute created a "Center for Strategic Education", who compiled an own Sep11th-related link-page at:
http://www.sais-jhu.edu/cse/September111links.htm

Jhu.edu was already created in 1987 by the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, MD, at that time only accessible via FTP-, Telnet-, Gopher- or EMail-servers.

As a Justice Department prosecutor, John Loftus once held some of the highest security clearances in the world, with special access to NATO Cosmic, CIA codeword, and Top Secret Nuclear files.
As a private attorney, he works without charge to help hundreds of intelligence agents obtain lawful permission to declassify and publish the hidden secrets of our times. He is the author of four history books, three of which have been made into films, two were international best sellers, and one was nominated for the Pulitzer Prize.

On his website, John Loftus covers the Bush-Harriman business, Iraq, Enron and 911 and the Saudis:

"As a combined result of two blocks against an investigation between Saudi Arabia and terrorist ties, the Saudis were able to fund middle eastern terrorists in complete secrecy during the 1990’s through a network of Muslim charities in Virginia, Tampa and Florida.

The Saudi funding conduit has now been exposed and shut down by means of a private lawsuit, Loftus vs. Sami Al Arian, which is currently pending in Hillsborough County, Florida. The lawsuit, filed on March 20, 2002, influenced the government into raiding the Saudi charities in Herndon, Virginia, a few hours later. After filing the Al-Arian lawsuit, Attorney Loftus began to receive very detailed documents and information about a third block: a prohibition on investigations concerning the Talibnan.

In the early 1990’s, a consortium of American oil companies (lead by Unocal ->), had hired Enron to determine the profitability of building an oil and gas pipeline across Afghanistan so that America could have access to the Caspian Sea Basin, holding 1/8th of the worlds energy supplies. http://www.john-loftus.com/enron3.htm#congress

Loftus confirmed on his website, that it was former FBI anti-terror specialist John O’Neill (->), who originally discovered the Al Qaida pipeline memo after the Embassy bombings in Africa.

Many people speculated on a prior knowledge of JP Morgan on Sep11th. JP Morgan occupied floors 43-46 and 59-74 of the south tower, which was struck across floors 82-93, and 'lost only 4-5 employees', most of which were security.

Author, historian, and researcher, who has spent the past twenty-seven years examining the hidden history of the Cold War, US intelligence agencies.

As an avid investigator into the Kennedy Assassination, John Judge found links between the characters, assassins, funding and operations in the subsequent murders of Robert F. Kennedy, Malcolm X, Martin Luther King, and numerous other public figures and eye witnesses to the killings.

At a press conference of unansweredquestions.org (->), John Judge, who literally grew up in the Pentagon, explained that the Pentagon is "an airspace that when I grew up here in DC I have seen, and friends of mine have seen, commercial aircraft stray into this airspace and be confronted by interceptors that came up from local military bases or other points in the city and wagged back out of that airspace. This is an airspace that's under constant surveillance,..

...They have interceptors that go up to find out what's happening, why it's off course, if communication to the tower is broken, and that these are procedures that don't need any order from the President. They don't need any order from the Pentagon or anything else. These are standard FAA (->) and NORAD (->) procedures....

...the planes should have been, and could have intercepted the plane at least, wagged at it, tried to indicate it or turn it in a particular direction. They have procedures that they follow...

JudicialWatch.org

Already in February 2002, civil watch group judicialwatch established a poll with the question:

"Should President Bush hold people accountable in his administration for the most egregious failure of national security in American history?"

The answer had been:
Yes 84%
No 15%

On June 14th, 2002, JudicialWatch announced a lawsuit against the FBI, CDC, White House, NIH and a few others regarding prior knowledge on the anthrax attacks.

On the same weekend John Ashcroft announced in Russia, that they had arrested the "dirty nuke bomber" suspect Jose Padilla (->).

During this announcement C|Span decided to cancel a live broadcast from the 911 victims conference in Washington, organised by unansweredquestions.org (-> Fitts, Catherine)

During 2002, Judicial Watch kept the progressive media busy.

They demanded a public release of Dick Cheney's energy-files.

In a lawsuit filed in July 2002, self-described government watchdog group Judicial Watch accused Halliburton of using a change in accounting practices to overstate revenue by $445 million from 1999 through 2001.

On November 27th, 2002, as reported in the Washington Post, a federal judge again rejected Bush administration efforts to protect as confidential documents from Vice President Dick Cheney's energy committee.

The 36-page ruling was the latest step in a lengthy procedural dispute between the White House and Judge Emmet G. Sullivan of the Federal District Court for the District of Columbia.

Nothing of substance was resolved in the ruling. The White House had ignored Judge Sullivan's rulings, going over his head by asking a higher court to exempt Mr. Cheney from having to comply with the judge's orders over the last five months to turn over the documents.

The judge set Dec. 12, 2002 as the next time for the administration to meet back in court with the two groups, the Sierra Club and Judicial Watch, that brought the case.

Furthermore, as revealed on Sep27th, judicial watch filed Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA") requests to uncover the names of those U.S. government officials responsible for the intelligence failures that contributed to the attacks of September 11th. A 30-page interim report by Congressional Joint Intelligence Committee Staff Director Eleanor Hill, that was released to the public on September 18, 2002, failed to hold any individuals accountable, or specifically identify any U.S. government officials for failing to perform their duty in protecting the United States.

Judicial Watch will pursue accountability for the American people through the courts, if necessary.

Staff Director Hill's report is a "whitewash" that talks about intelligence indicators, but fails to identify the specific persons, staffs and agencies who failed the American public."
What is the role of James Kallstrom and MBNA Corp?

Kallstrom, James

He is Senior Executive Vice President of the MBNA Bank (->) and Assistant Director in charge of the New York FBI.

With the help of MBNA Corp, the FBI tried to trace the hijackers credit cards.

Almost at the same time, former FBIHQ Thomas Pickard (->) started a new job at MBNA (Wilmington, Delaware) as well, as a Senior Vice Chairman - right after Sep11th, 2001 and only a few weeks after he and Louis J. Freeh forced FBI Anti-Terror specialist John O'Neill out of his job.

Louis J. Freeh started a job at MBNA in September 2001, too, supporting yet another ex-FBI agent, Lewis Schiliro, who supervised several counterterrorism investigations, including the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, the 1998 embassy bombings in Kenya and Tanzania and BioTerror conferences by Jerome Hauer * (->), who organised the security job at the Twin Towers for John O' Neill (->).

* This conference was on July 26, 1999, conference in New York for journalists and "thought leaders," on bioterrorism and "Reporting on Weapons of Mass Destruction - Responsibility, Reliability, Readiness."

Among participants at this 1999 conference Schiliro and Brigadier General Bruce Lawlor of the U.S. Army (consultant to the Defense Science Board), who is today, unsurprisingly Senior Director for Protection and Prevention, Office of Homeland Security.

The story of MBNA and Kallstrom is rather obscure.

In April 2001, MBNA had to deal with check fraud. Involved was Intelligent Finance, a Halifax-backed Internet bank and a bogus account for a guy named Vindel.

On May 10, 2001, a few months before Sept. 11, she testified on "human challenges that we will face during a WMD attack":

http://www.slu.edu/colleges/sph/cbci/bioterrorism/official/congress.htm

Thanks to OBM Watch (who is keeping a list of information removed from government websites) we learned, that on *January 17, 2002, James K. Kallstrom, Director of the Office of Public Security and James G. Natoli, Director of the Office of State Operations in New York, issued a confidential memo to agency heads and commissioners on "agency sensitive information."

The memo instructs agencies to review all "sensitive" information held by the agency and what information is made publicly accessible via the Internet, freedom of information, or other ways. Sensitive information should no longer be made available to the public except where specifically required by law. Logs over the past year of who has accessed sensitive information should be made available to the Office of Public Security and the Office of State Operations. All of this was to be accomplished by February 17 and certified by agency heads through a confidential report:"

Kamel’s revelations about the destruction of Iraq’s WMD stocks were hushed up by the U.N. inspectors, sources say, for two reasons. Saddam did not know how much Kamel had revealed, and the inspectors hoped to bluff Saddam into disclosing still more.”

Meanwhile, the director of the CIA, George Tenet is having breakfast with Mahmoud Ahmed, head of the Pakistani ISI who had authorized a $100,000 wire transfer to Mohammed Atta, the alleged ringleader of the 9-11 attacks. There must have been a military order...

Karachi-Connection

Karachi is the headquarter of rabid anti-Shia sectarian outfits like Sipah-e-Saeheba and Lashkar-e-Jhangvi.

Intelligence agencies have tracked down Moussaoui's (->) first flight to Karachi on December 9, 2000.

He remained in Pakistan till February 7, 2001 after which he flew out of Karachi to London from where he flew to Chicago carrying $35,000. What he did while in Karachi is still a mystery.

One of Moussaoui’s associates and co-conspirator was Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi, the (official) key financier of the WTC attack. Al-Hawsawi first opened a bank account in a Standard Chartered Bank (->) branch in Dubai, UAE with a cash deposit.

On the same day, another of his friends, Fayez Rashid AH Alqadi Bamihammad too opened an account in the same bank. Less than a month later, Bamihammad gave a power of attorney to Hawsawi to operate his accounts. Hawsawi picked up Bamihammad's Visa and ATM cards from the Dubai branch and shipped them to Florida between July 18 and August 1, 2001.

Investigations have since then revealed that Hawsawi transferred $375,000 to the terrorists involved in the attack through various channels, including some banks in Karachi.

On September 11, 2001, al-Hawsawi flew from Dubai to Karachi to take shelter.

Mir Amal Kansi, convicted of the 1993 shooting outside CIA headquarters in Langley, was picked up in Pakistan. He had fled to Karachi after killing two CIA agents.

The hijackers of IC-814 had taken a PIA flight-PK806-from Karachi to Kathmandu from where they were allowed to board the Indian Airlines flight without the mandatory security check in December 1999.

Karachi happens to be the city where President Pervez Musharraf’s family first came to settle after the Partition.

Amerada Hess, Kean's other company, is a U.S. oil company with gas stations throughout the Eastern US and owns 25% of Premier.

Premier Oil, a British company, has a major gas pipeline operation in Burma. They created a militarized zone in the pipeline region resulting in mass human rights violations and supplied the military dictatorship with a continuous stream of hard currency in gas revenue.

One of the 2000- payments the regime received for gas was spent immediately on Russian MIG fighter jets.

==============
As Barry Hopsicker revealed, Amanda Keller was Mohamed Atta's former live-in girlfriend.

She revealed that supposed "Islamic fundamentalist" Mohamed Atta and his closest associates in Venice were habitual cocaine users.

"They were always drinking," Keller told us. "Always. Beer or wine, or sometimes rum. Once I had met everyone there (at a 'safe house' located in an condominium owned by Rudi Dekkers across the street from the Venice Airport) they felt comfortable with me and pulled out the coke."

"These guys had money flowing out their ass," Keller stated. "They never seemed to run out of money. They had massive supplies of cocaine. Whenever they'd run out, they'd go over to the flight school. I followed them one day with Sabrina (a German friend of Atta's) to see where they were going, and saw them go into Florida Flight Training."

The Florida Flight Training Center is owned by Arne Kruthof, one of the two 'Magic Dutch Boys' who run flight schools at the Venice Airport."

One week, after Dick Cheney resigned from Halliburton Root and Brown, the subsidiary signed a contract with the Pentagon about constructions in various countries. The contract was later upgraded into "a 408-unit detention camp at the Radio Range area of U.S. Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba"

Note:
As later came out, the contract was for building cells, among them: Guantanamo Bay. Coincidence?

Kelly, Jack
============
On September 11th, 2001, already at 8:56 AM (as proven from some weblogs), a few minutes after the first attack on the Twin Towers, an older article of Jack Kelly was repromoted on USA Today, claiming that 'terror groups hide behind Web encryption'. The article was later picked up by ABC.

The original website was edited as -binladen.htm.
Neither USA Today or Kelly explained, where their prior knowledge did come from, to repost this article, even before the second plane crash occurred.

The article included an info about Ramzi Yousef, the convicted mastermind of the World Trade Center bombing in 1993, "who used encrypted files to hide details of a plot to destroy 11 U.S. airliners".

Kelly runs the website idefense.com (Director: Ben Venzke), served with the U.S. government where he managed sever"al significant programs for the information warfare and intelligence commu"n"it"ies.

His articles are mirrored in the NY Post, as the "opinion" of the NY Post.

Kelly suggested in 2002, that some websites should be banned and "good ones" marked with a "golden star", an idea, which was based on the DEA.

Kenya

On August 7th, 1998, two bombs attacked the U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania, which killed 224 people and injured thousands.

Bin Laden, denied in an interview shortly after the attack, that he was behind the embassy bombings but said he admired the people who carried out those attacks and two deadly bombings in Saudi Arabia that have killed 24 Americans since 1995.

"I have high regard and respect for those men who erased the disgrace from the forehead of our nation," bin Laden said.

Washington suspected bin Laden of financing the June 1996 Khobar bombing of a U.S. military complex in the Saudi city of Dhahran which killed 19 American servicemen, another charge he denied.

In an al-Jazeera interview, bin Laden lauded those responsible for the Khobar bombing and other attacks on U.S. targets. "I look with much praise and respect to those great men for they have lifted the humiliation from the heads of our nation"

Pipeline police in Afghanistan
"In February 1998, Unocal Corporation testified to a House Committee of American Congress that "The Taliban government is an obstacle to having a gas pipeline from the Caspian region to the Indian ocean -- that is, through Afghanistan".

American military power removed this "obstacle" in November last year in the name of war against terrorism. Events of September 11 provided an opportunity to America for attacking Afghanistan and establishing military bases there. I am the last journalist, who interviewed Osama bin Laden after September 11 in Afghanistan. After the interview, while we were sipping Arabian tea in his hideout near Kabul, he asked me a question about Zalmay Khalilzad. I showed ignorance about the person.

He informed me that they are going to vacate big cities of Afghanistan in coming days for a long guerrilla war and after that Zalmay Khalilzad will play the shots in Kabul, Northern Alliance will get nothing. After few days of "conquering" Afghanistan, President Bush appointed Zalmay Khalilzad as the special envoy for Afghanistan. This appointment simply means oil for America. Zalmay Khalilzad was an adviser for Unocal in the mid-1990's. He even met a Taliban delegation in Boston five years ago as a Unocal official. It is worth mentioning that Bush family has a strong oil background. So are some of his top aides."

Pakistan's former federal Minister for Environment, Local Government, Rural Development, Labor, Manpower and Overseas Pakistanis, who was murdered by his enemies in Karachi, Pakistan, on June 25, 2002.

Khan's dead body was found hanging from a ceiling fan of a bedroom in the Karachi home of his brother-in-law.

Ironically, the corrupt, tyrannical and political Sindh Police officials have done their job by illegally and fraudulently labeling the brutal murder of Omar Asghar Khan as a suicide.

On June 26, 2002, the BBC reported, that Naim Sarwar Khan, a spokesman for the Omar Asghar Khan family, told them that "there were signs that Mr. Khan's hands had been tied up, and one leg was still supported on a chair when he was found."

One day later the Balochistanpost reported:

"Although Omar Asghar Khan never acknowledged that he had resigned from the cabinet of General [Pervez] Musharraf because of differences with Musharraf, the fact that the NAB [illegal and unconstitutional National Accountability Bureau] was asked by the self-appointed President to find stuff against Omar Asghar Khan indicates that his relations with the military government were strained."

In the same month victims of the Chilean military's 17-year dictatorship started to press legal actions in both Chilean and American courts against Henry A. Kissinger and other Nixon administration officials including former CIA director Richard Helms (->) who supported plots to overthrow Salvador Allende Gossens, the Socialist president, in the early 1970's.

The trial didn't start yet. Helms died in late 2002.
Kissinger later criticised a possible war against Iraq.
He received support by Scowcroft (->)and Brzezinski (->).

In 1991 Kissinger created the famous quote: "Today, America would be outraged if U.N. troops entered Los Angeles to restore order. Tomorrow they will be grateful! This is especially true if they were told that there were an outside threat from beyond, whether real or promulgated, that threatened our very existence. It is then that all peoples of the world will plead to deliver them from this evil. The one thing every man fears is the unknown. When presented with this scenario, individual rights will be willingly relinquished for the guarantee of their well-being granted to them by the World Government." -

THE MUSH-KANGER CONNECTION

"Because Henry Kissinger is a liar and a criminal, he will criminally lie about the 9-11 attacks to hide the secret identities of real hijackers and to cover up the high crimes committed by unknown terrorists on 11 September 2001. Henry Kissinger is known as Henry Kanger in South Asia. Ask anyone from Pakistan, India, or Bangladesh, who speaks the Punjabi or Urdu language, to tell you what 'Kanger' means in Punjabi or Urdu. In September 2000 at The Roosevelt Hotel in New York City, Kissinger held a top secret meeting with 'Pakistani' General Pervez Musharraf, a corrupt tyrant, military dictator and human rights abuser illegally imposed on the 150 million-strong Pakistani nation by the Clinton-Bush regimes. After this Mushkanger clandestine meeting, Musharraf became the Grand Kanger of Pakistan and many 'Pakistani' judges, bureaucrats and politicians became his whores (kangerian)."--HRF.

The nation responded:
"Asking Henry Kissinger to investigate government malfeasance or nonfeasance is akin to asking Slobodan Milosevic to investigate war crimes"

HENRY KISSINGER IS A WAR CRIMINAL
http://www.zpub.com/un/wanted-hkiss.html

Only another few days after the decision on Kissinger as the head of the 911-commission, the Maureen Dowd New York Sunday Times reported on December 1st, who mentioned Kissingers 'illegal bombing of Cambodia; backing Chile's murderous Pinochet; playing Iago to President Richard Nixon' .
Furthermore Dowd expressed, that "Mr. Bush, after all, worked very hard to suppress any investigation of 9/11. He had to cave to the victims' families, who were hellbent to hear what the president learned in his August 2001 briefing about Al Qaeda plans, and what wires were crossed at the C.I.A., F.B.I. and I.N.S."
"Mr. Bush and Mr. Cheney are in tune with Mr. Kissinger's principles: that the greatest enemy of U.S. policy is the U.S. media, that American diplomacy may be happily indifferent to American public opinion, that the great unwashed masses of our democracy are just a big old drag on the elites who know what's best, and that corporate pals are a help, not a hindrance, in government work. For this administration, outside the box is inside the box."

On November 30th, 2001 the Green Party harshly criticized the Bush administration for appointing Kissinger to head the government investigation into Americans were murdered.

Writer David Corn in The Nation magazine:
"A fellow who has coddled state-sponsored terrorism has been put in charge of this terrorism investigation. A proven liar has been assigned the task of finding the truth."

Henry Kissinger has been a Unocal consultant since 1995

On December 3rd 2002, Robert Scheer wrote in the LA Times: "The president clearly does not want to know the truth about Sept. 11. Otherwise he would not have appointed Henry Kissinger to head an inquiry into the origins of arguably the most successful terrorist attack in history.

For example, Kissinger Associates (->), the former secretary of State's ultra-connected consulting firm, has had dealings in the past with Saudi Arabia and Kuwait -- the two nations most closely linked with the 9/11 hijackers -- and was the subject of a congressional investigation for its role in the $4-billion bankrolling of Saddam Hussein in the late 1980s by the Atlanta office of Italy's BNL bank. Kissinger Associates then included Brent Scowcroft, who became national security advisor for President George H.W. Bush, and Lawrence Eagleburger, secretary of State in that administration.

Would the monstrous new homeland security (->) bureaucracy really have protected us from a few box-cutter-wielding nuts? How difficult, after all, is it to prevent people already on a terrorist wanted list from entering the country to attend U.S. flight schools (->)? How hard is it for the president of the United States to get the FBI and the CIA to talk to each other?

And why are we apparently going to war with Iraq (->), which had nothing to do with Sept. 11, instead of with Saudi Arabia (->), which did?

On December 13th, 2002, ABC reported at 5:20 PM, that Henry Kissinger resigned from the 911-Commission.

After a worldwide protest Kissinger said, he was stepping down from the appointment to remove any questions about even the appearance of a conflict of interest regarding his ties to several organizations and public figures. (->Kissinger Associates).

It was the second resignation from the commission within two days.

On December 11th, 2002, former Sen. George Mitchell announced he was stepping down as vice chairman of the independent board.

In his letter, Mitchell cited potential conflicts of interest.
He said he didn't want to sever ties with his law firm.
At the end of this embarrassment, Kissinger did unintentionally promotion for 911-investigative and progressive websites.

In one article, he wondered about the oddities of the death certificates of Flight 93 (->):

"Wally Miller, the local coroner in what used to be a forgotten corner of rural Pennsylvania, was the man charged by law with collecting the human remains and establishing the causes of death. Miller, who worked closely with the FBI during the 13 days that they investigated the crash site, admits that, in the end, he cannot prove what happened; he can only infer it. Neither he nor anybody else knows what exactly caused Flight 93 to go down and, as Miller puts it, "bring the world's troubles crashing down on our doorstep. Kroll Associates, Inc.

Kroll Associates, a security consultant firm, which was renamed to Kroll Inc. in August 2001, started in New York City in 1972.

http://www.krollworldwide.com

O’Gara is responsible for the security of all US-Presidents since 1945.

However the background of Kroll is very interesting, too:

In 1993, Maurice Greenberg’s American International Group (AIG ->), became co-owner of the “private spy agency”, Kroll Associates, as a result of rescuing Kroll from bankruptcy with a cash infusion.
Kroll was notorious during the 1980s as the “CIA of Wall Street” due to the prevalence of former CIA, FBI, Scotland Yard, British secret service and British Special Air Service men Kroll employed for corporate espionage in takeover bids, as well as for destabilization of foreign nations.
(-> Greenberg, Maurice)

Maurice Greenberg was deeply involved in chinese trade in the 80s, where Henry Kissinger was one of his representatives.
In the China trade, Greenberg became very close to Shaul Eisenberg, the leader of the Asian section of the Israeli intelligence service Mossad, and agent for the sales of sophisticated military equipment to the Chinese military.

Maurice Raymond Greenberg was born in New York City May 4, 1925, the son of Jacob Greenberg and Ada (Rheingold) Greenberg. The young man adopted the nickname “Hank” to make people think of a popular American baseball player with the name, Hank Greenberg.

During 1996, while Greenberg was deputy chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations (-> CFR), he chaired the CFR task force on intelligence, which published “Making Intelligence Smarter: The future of U.S. Intelligence.” This report mostly served to exhibit Greenberg’s access to the intelligence community; but he parlayed it into a nomination by Senator Arlen Specter and others, for Greenberg to be Director of the CIA (->).

Greenberg has used his connections to covert intelligence, supranational institutions, private bankers and speculators, and his huge global cash inflow, to shape a unique personal empire.

Since 1997, Frank G. Wisner, Jr., has been a board member of Kroll, and is currently Greenberg’s Deputy Chairman for External Affairs. Wisner’s father was a founder of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, who killed himself over the scandal from his being duped by British-Soviet masterspy Kim Philby. Frank Wisner, Jr., is a director of the George Bush-linked energy giant Enron (a client for whom AIG negotiated payments from Peru over nationalization of Enron operations).

In the early 1990s, Miami-based private investigator Lou Polumbo joined Kroll Associates. According to sources in the industry, Polumbo brought with him a personal history of involvement with the Medallin and other South American narcotics cartels; his business included helping relocate some of the capabilities of these cartels out of Colombia.

The deal to bring Polumbo into Kroll was worked out by Avram Shalom, the former head of Israel’s Shin Beth secret police. Shalom went to work for Kroll; he had been fired as Shin Beth boss due to a scandalous massacre of Palestinians in the Israel-occupied territories by his Shin Beth agents.

Krongard, Wally

LaRouche Report

During 2001-2002, Lyndon LaRouche, the Democratic Party pre-Presidential candidate for 2004, warned that a staged terrorist incident against a U.S. target--whether orchestrated by Israel Premier Sharon "or by Sharon-allied covert networks inside the U.S. military/intelligence apparatus" might occur.

According to his sources, former Mossad European operations director and Jonathan Jay Pollard spy master, Rafi Eytan, has been assigned by Sharon to set in place a "mega-terror" operation inside the U.S.A. LaRouche is founder of the LaRouche Report.

Lawsuits

Starting in early 2002, the first two cases (of later almost 10!) had been made public in some smaller press releases.

In April 2002, one husband of one of the victims of the World Trade Center disaster on 11 September - who is not entitled to payment from the US Victims Compensation Fund - has decided to sue American Airlines for damages.

On June 3rd, 2002, Hilton filed a $7 billion lawsuit in U.S. District Court against President Bush and other government officials for "allowing" the terrorist attacks to occur (= LIHOP).

Among Hilton's allegations: Bush conspired to create the Sept. 11 attacks for his own political gain and has been using Osama bin Laden as a scapegoat. "I hope it will expose the fact that there are numbers of people in the government, including Bush and his top assistants, who wanted this to happen," Hilton said.

His class-action suit named 10 defendants, including Vice President Dick Cheney, National Security Advisor Condoleezza Rice, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, and Transportation Secretary Norman Mineta.

Hilton repeated in early 2003, that the 9-11 Hijackers were funded by the US Government. He claimed, that he interviewed an ex-wife of one of the 9-11 hijackers, who revealed that she "met Mohammed Atta and his younger brother and that this group were double-agents operating in a series of cells that were aided and abetted by the US government". http://www.prisonplanet.com/hilton_03_11_03.mp3

Hilton said he represents the families of 14 victims and that 400 plaintiffs are involved nationwide.
He demands Bush's impeachment (-> Impeach Bush) and believes the truth will come out in trial.

In the same month, Judicial Watch (->) announced a lawsuit against the White House and various US Agencies, accusing them of having prior knowledge of the anthrax (->) attacks.

The agencies named include: the FBI, the Department of Health and Human Services, the Centers for Disease Control, the U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID ->) and the U.S. Postal Service.

The documents were requested under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, or FOIA.

Larry Klayman, chairman of Judicial Watch, noted administration officials said last fall, that some White House staff had begun taking the antibiotic Cipro on Sept. 11, weeks before the anthrax attacks were made public.

"We believe that the White House knew or had reason to know that an anthrax attack was imminent or under way," Klayman said. "We want to know what the government knew, and when they knew it."

Following almost all lawsuits very carefully, investigative journalist Tom Flocco (->) released in November 2002 a summary of his interviews with the most important participants:

-Douglas A. Latto (attorney at New York’s Baumeister & Samuels firm. Baumeister and Samuels represents in excess of 60 families)
-Michel F. Baumeister (a 30-year aviation accident trial lawyer, same firm)
-Judge Alvin K. Hellerstein (Judge of the Lotto/Baumeister lawyers)
-Mark Larson, Thompsons counsel

(When asked Thompson, if he was the person in charge of flight data recovery in the 9/11 investigation, since Honeywell manufactured the data recorders in operation on all four Boeing jets involved in the September 11 crashes. "I cannot answer that under advice from legal counsel," he said.

-Mary Schiavo (->, lead 9/11 counsel for Los Angeles-based Baum, Hedlund, Aristei, Guilford & Schiavo, representing some 40 victim family clients related to passengers on all four planes) including Julie Sweeney (->). Both supported a press conference in June 2002 by Unansweredquestions.org (->)
-Paul J. Hedlund (Co-Counsel of Schiavo, Veteran LA air disaster attorney who concentrates on the outcome of the 9/11 World Trade Center litigation. He said in the interview with Flocco, that "in a typical air disaster, the NTSB pays for the reasonable expenses for recovery of the remains with the aircraft company reimbursing normal and reasonable expenses."
-Ellen Mariani (of Mariani vs. United Airlines, brought by Schiavo and Hedlund on behalf of Mariani’s husband Neil, who was killed when his United 175 jet crashed into the South Tower of the World Trade Center.
Mariani wants to know, why Senator Graham and Congressmen Goss had breakfast together the morning of the attacks with the Pakistani Intelligence leader "who was writing checks to support the hijackers' living expenses in the United States?"

"It was even reported, that Secretary of State Powell and CIA Director Tenet met with the terrorist sponsor"

The Kreindler firm has filed a civil lawsuit on behalf of over 1,400 victims of the attacks, seeking $1 trillion in damages from Al Qaeda, Iraq and other unknown 9/11 terror suspects.

The Kreindler firm includes in its client roster two of the most outspoken activists among all the victim families: Sally Regenhard and Monica Gabrielle. Both have attended congressional hearings and are leaders in the Skyscraper Safety Campaign.)

-Michael Elsner (associate attorney at Ronald Motley's Ness, Mount Pleasant, South Carolina, representing houndreds of victim families in a civil action primarily against members of the Saudi royal family and other prominent Saudi businessmen)

Ron Motley, Attorney on November 25th, 2002:
"We were able to establish, by sworn testimony, the act of participation of Prince Turki in the facilitation of the funding of al Qaeda directly in Afghanistan.

We spoke with senior Taliban officials who were in the room when he indeed did facilitate the transfer of large sums of money directly to al Qaeda in Afghanistan.

Prince Turki hasn't appeared in the suit yet. But when he does, if he does, we will be able to take his testimony under oath.

But Prince Turki was in Afghanistan on numerous occasions facilitating the transfer of funds and equipment to al Qaeda. And the people who gave us these sworn statements were in the room when it occurred. And these were senior Taliban, former Taliban officials.

-Bill Crowley (FBI agent, who investigated the crash scene of Flight 93 (->) in Shanksville, Pennsylvania)

-Ted Lopatkiewicz, spokesman for the NTSB.

Doubting the official version of Sep11th, another 911victim, Kristin Breitwieser became famous in an interview with Phil Donahue.

Breitwieser later testified in new 911-hearings, together with Stephen Push, who lost his wife Lisa on Flight 77 (->), which crashed into the Pentagon.

Lay, Kenneth

Enron Founder and Chairman Kenneth Lay worked in the Pentagon for the Nixon administration during the Vietnam War.

Lay is a close friend of George Bush, Sr.

In fact, his Houston home in River Oaks is near the Tanglewood residence of the former President and CIA Director.

Although there have been no published reports of Bush Sr. doing favors for Lay, three of the "Bush Boys" have used their father's name to get contracts for Enron.

According to an article by Seymour Hersh in the New Yorker, Neil and Marvin Bush tried to influence government officials for an Enron bid to rebuild Shuabba North power plant in Kuwait.

Ironically this power plant was destroyed in George Bush's Persian Gulf War.

Enron abandoned the bid in 2000.

In 1988, then Texas governor George Bush Jr., telephoned Rodolfo Terragno, Argentina's Public Works Minister, to ask him to award Enron a contract to build a pipeline from Chile to Argentina.

"He assumed that the fact he was the son of the president would exert influence. I felt pressured. It was not proper for him to make that kind of call," Terragno told The Nation.

Finally, when Carlos Menem, another Bush Sr. crony, became president of Argentina, Enron won the bid.

Neil Bush, director of the failed Denver-based Silverado Savings and Loan, created a subsidiary of his oil company to conduct business in Argentina in 1987.

Argentina finally got so fed up with the Bush Clan (->), they formally had a parliamentary investigation regarding their so-called 'business dealings.'

Learjet
=================================
A Learjet belonging to the true owner of the Venice flight school that trained both (official) terrorist pilots who flew into the World Trade Center was seized with more than 30 pounds of heroin onboard by Federal Agents in July of 2000 at the Orlando Executive Airport.

Authorities at the time called it the biggest seizure of heroin ever found in central Florida. The seized plane belonged to 70-year old Wallace J. Hilliard of Naples, FL., multi-millionaire businessman, self-styled Mormon Bishop, and the newly-discovered secret owner of Huffman Aviation at the Venice Airport since its purchase in 1999, just months before terrorists began arriving in force in Southwest Florida.

Hilliard was already well-known in aviation circles as the 'money man' and deep-pocketed financial backer of Rudi Dekkers, according to local aviation observers like chief flight instructor Tom Hammersly, who taught at the Venice Airport while the two flight schools there experienced a flood of Arab student pilots.

LeftBehind
=================================
In November 2002, netizen LeftBehind tried to work on a strategy, on "HOW TO REACT TO NEXT 'TERRORIST' ATTACKS":

"First, realize that there will soon be a flood of information on the internet to explain why the 'official story' is a lie. Second, realize that as those of us scramble to read, analyze, and digest the tantalizing and scandalizing news we alone are clever enough to appreciate (while the sheeple chew the TV news cud) -- close to a full week will go by.

A full week in which the only opposition to the NWO, namely you and I, regardless of our differing opinions, will be virtually paralyzed in front of our computer screens. This scenario has worked before. After the week of e-mail one-upmanship, all of us again will be re-programmed into our comfortable couch-potato-freedom-lover mindset. Do you realize this, too, is mind control? We don't have too many days left. But can individuals amongst us begin to formulate NOW the ways in which, 'next time' (which is coming all too soon) we will not fall into this trap? We must not "REACT". We must have a strategy of our own.

There are 1,000 to 5,000 people who potentially will read this posting. Question: How can we prevent or disrupt the flow of propaganda they are getting ready to spew all over us again when the "sXXX hits the fan?" How can we interrupt the falling dominoes? What joker can we put in the deck, each of us, in our own small way. Again, what I'm trying to get at, and I need help in putting my own mind to this... We must not just "REACT" again. For that is how we are manipulated. And that is what makes us impotent.

A third visit to Venice by Atta and Marwan was confirmed by the owner of a rental agency in Fort Lauderdale, near Miami on Florida’s other (east) coast...
During the first week of August Atta and Al-Shehhi rented a white Ford Escort from Warrick's Rent-a-Car, in Pompano Beach.

"He rented two cars over three contracts for a total of five weeks," owner Bradley Warrick told us. "He wanted it (his second rental) for two weeks, he told me, to go over to the west coast of Florida."

that the FBI has never been keen to identify the perpetrator because that perpetrator may, in fact, be the U.S. Government itself.
Evidence is mounting that the source of the anthrax (->) was a top secret U.S. Army laboratory in Maryland and that the perpetrators involve high-level

Madsen mentioned the strange accident of BioScientist Dr. Don C. Wiley and more unsolved deaths of other scientists like Dr. Vladimir Pasechnik, a former

In the same show he supported Congresswoman Cynthia McKinney, who worked with him for three years.
McKinney accused the Bush administration of knowing in advance of the Sep11th attacks, because he or his father would benefit because of The Carlyle Group.

Madsen pointed out, that the United States received "warnings from French intelligence, Israeli, to the United States, FBI and to the CIA".

Magic Lantern

It was law company Booz Allen & Hamilton (->), which has helped develop a system code-named Magic Lantern, which permits a virus containing a key logging program to be secretly transmitted to a recipient. After installing itself on the target's computer, any time the target types in a password to decrypt a message, that same password is immediately picked up by Magic Lantern and transmitted to the FBI.

A companion program to Magic Lantern, code named Cyber Knight, is a relational database system that compares and matches information from e-mail, Internet relay chats, instant messages, and Internet voice communications.

The CIA has been extremely active in developing software than can dig deep within the Internet to harvest information. The CIA has relied heavily on its wholly-owned and operated proprietary Silicon Valley company, IN-Q-TEL (->), to fund research and development for Internet snooping software, supported by Larry Ellison of Oracle (->).

After being brought to the District 1 police station on Decatur Street, Maginnis was made to wait alone in an interrogation room. Two hours later, a Secret Service agent arrived, who identified himself as Special Agent "Willse."

The agent told Maginnis that his "suspicious activities" made him a threat to national security, and that he would be charged as a terrorist under the USA-PATRIOT act. The Secret Service agent tried to make Maginnis admit that he was taking the photographs to analyze weaknesses in the Vice President's security entourage and "cause terror and mayhem."

In December 2002, it was revealed, that Mahfouz' partner Yassin al-Kadi was the secret owner of computer company Ptech (->), which was already known to the FBI since at least October 2001.

Khalid bin Mahfouz was one of the investors of President Bush's first company Arbuso (->), with the help of James R. Bath (->).

Mahfouz is represented by the influential law firm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer & Feld, who represent Mohammed Hussein Al- Amoudi (->) and Salah Idris, two other saudi arabian terror finance suspects.

Mahfouz is connected via James R. Bath to President Bush, and via Sheikh Adbullah Bakhsh, who once was on the board of Harken (->) and organised deals with Stephens Inc. and Union Bank of Switzerland (UBS).

Mahfouz became the brother-in-law of Osama Bin Laden, when his sister married him.

"If evil powers wanted to impose a dictatorship on the United States, would they candidly announce their goal? They would do exactly as they are doing now: They would invent a foreign menace like Muslim terrorism, and stage a dramatic attack like 9-11. This is why Bush has blocked an independent investigation of the WTC attack. Massoud, Gen. Ahmed

On September 9th, 2001, Northern Alliance (->)-Commander General Ahmed Massoud was killed by two suicide journalists with the help of a bomb. Rumours continued during 2001-2002, that this attack had been orchestrated by the Pakistani Secret Service ISI (->), who knew about pending war plans against the Taliban, and about the Sep11th attack.

In May 2002, the story of the killing was altered again- with a grotesque update. As AP reported, New Yorks Staten Island postal worker Ahmed Sattar was behind the killing of Massoud.

Investigators claimed now, that Sattar helped a London co-conspirator writing a "letter of introduction" that allowed assassins to get close enough to kill Massoud.

The London suspect, Yassir al-Sirri (head of the Islamic Observation Center), was already charged with the Massoud killing.

The final version included the original story:
Massoud's executioners, two Arab men posing as Belgian journalists, hid a bomb inside a camera and detonated it during an interview in Massoud's office. Sattar, who was a former friend of Sheik Omar Abdel-Rahman (->), WTC bombing suspect of 1993, had denied any involvement in terrorism.

Faheem Dasthy, Journalist of the independent agency Ariana, based in the north of Afghanistan, is one of the two survivors of the explosion which cost the life to the commander Massoud.

Severely burned at the hands, Dasthy arrived in France in, with the assistance of "Reporters without borders" and of the Afghanistan embassy in Paris. Shortly after that he gave an interview to leparisien.fr on the attack, "his opinion of the American intervention and his vision of the future":

Question:
What are your memories of this 9 September?

Faheem Dasthy : " It was the morning. I was in the house where are placed the guests of Massoud when i was warned that the two Arab " journalists " who wished to meet him had left for the center command. I wanted to film the interview, as I have done it since I work for Massoud, for ten years. They returned little afterwards with their interpreter because they had to wait until the commander was ready. About midday, someone said to us that we could go there. When we returned, Massoud was there with the Afghan ambassador in India, Massoud Khalili (note: second survivor of the attack). Before beginning the interview, Massoud asked them to announce their questions.

The " journalist " started to read, the second to prepare his camera and to film. I placed myself behind them, as I usually did, to be facing Massoud. I realized that his face was in back-light and I bent down to change angle and to fix my camera. Perhaps fifteen seconds afterwards, I heard an explosion. On the blow, that did not seem to me very loud. I believed that I had a problem with my camera, I felt a burn and I left the room very quickly. I requested from the first person that I saw to take me along to the hospital.

I returned to the room and I saw that all was destroyed. After that, I fainted. I awoke at the hospital. Twelve days later, I learned that Massoud had died, as a martyr "

How do you explain that Massoud and his entourage were not wary of these two men whose papers and recommendations seem, a posteriori, very suspect (read below) ?

"It is true that the security around Massoud was not very good. Personally, I did not perceive anything else with those people but the behavior of men who wished to make their job. I believe especially that they were professionals, perfectly prepared to do such an act. If these terrorists are able to succeed of the so strong attacks in the United States, in Afghanistan, for them, it is very simple "

Who is, according to you, the sleeping partner of this assassination: Taliban, Oussama Ben Laden or Pakistani secret service , the ISI? "

Afghanistan under Taliban occupation is a center of international terrorism. It is used as a base for Oussama Ben Laden and his network as with the extremists groups : tchetchens, Chinese, ouzbeks, burmans or Sudanese. It is used as support to the fundamentalist Pakistani religious and part of the Pakistani army.

The services of the ISI coordinate all these movements. Massoud was the biggest obstacle with their interests, his assassination was organized by them. Two days later, there were the attacks in the United States. The link between the two events seems obvious to me "

On Faza-ul Rehman Khalili, the second survivor of this attack :

On Sept 11, after the attacks on NY and Washington were carried out, Khalili went in to hiding, of course on ISI's request. Watch, at the end it shall be proven that Khalili organized the attacks, Osama and ISI give him their blessings each before those attacks were carried out.

Assassination of the Commander Massoud of the Northern Alliance of Afghanistan was planned and carried out at ISI's request, by the same group, Harakat-ul-Mujahideen, a state sponsored terrorist group.

Why is Gen. Musharaf of Pakistan committed to help the US in its war against terrorism?
He is not. He is playing a game and he is trying to protect Talibab, Harakat-ul-Mujahideen, Lashkar-e-Tauiba and other such groups which ISI created. Musharaf may agree to give up on Al Qida in order to protect the rest, but in essence, they are all the same.

One of the few friends of ex-FBI terror specialist John O'Neill (->), who supported him, even after it came out, that he should be fired because of a "lost briefcase" and increased trouble with Thomas Pickard (->) and Louis J. Freeh (->).

Mawn was involved in the "dirty Boston FBI office"-case

The EgyptAir investigation http://www.yowusa.com/authors/srusell/4Q99/flight990_1/EgyptAir_Flight_990_1.htmL
"...FBI special agent Barry Mawn continued the claim that there was no evidence of criminal activity. He said that a Flight 990 hotline had received 85 calls but none were significant.

Mawn, O'Neill's former boss, dismissed his lost briefcase as "nothing.", something that O'Neill would have received a verbal reprimand for. O'Neill, he said, wanted to stay on with the FBI and clear his name, but he'd already decided to retire and enter the private sector...."

It appears, that Mawn was later either part of a plot or had something to hide.

He was the one, who had to classify the famous "passport in the rubble" (->) on September 16th 2001, which was found in front of Building 7, Vesey Street.

As later revealed by ABC, the passsport belonged to one of the official hijackers, Satam Al Suqami.

Mawn was in charge of the New York Anthrax cases:

Due to a November 11th, 2001 press conference with Tom Ridge of the Homeland Security (->), Mawn protested during the investigation, that the original source was based on US -Military:
"Q: Barry Mawn, of the New York FBI is quoted in today's Boston Globe as saying it was produced in the U.S. He said, "It was made here." Is that incorrect?
GOVERNOR RIDGE: Well, he may have a suspicion that it was made here. But, clearly, in talking with the FBI Director and other individuals involved in the FBI, there is no credible evidence that points specifically..."

Mawn was then forced to put the Anthrax-NBC investigation on hold:
"...Although the F.B.I. was notified on Sept. 25 about suspicious letters sent to NBC, neither the letters, nor the powder residue inside them were tested until nearly two weeks later, and then only because a private doctor notified city public health officials about a troubling skin condition in the news assistant who had handled the mail, officials acknowledged yesterday.

Only a few months later, on March 22nd, 2002, Mawn resigned at the FBI.

Mawn almost started a job as Boston airport's security company Massport (->) as a security chief "...Robinson said hiring a CEO will allow Massport to then turn its attention to hiring a new director of security. A number of candidates are interested in the job - reportedly including retired FBI supervisor Barry Mawn..."

Mawn later appeared in a John O'Neill-documentation by PBS.

Mawn, as late as Nov 2001, was being considered for a move up the ladder, as reported in TIME magazine:

"...FBI director Bob Mueller is about to announce radical changes in the way the FBI looks and operates. The recently announced retirements of two top officials — deputy director Tom Pickard and assistant director Neil Gallagher — are only the beginning.
...Mueller hasn't said who will replace them, but word around the bureau is that he is considering bringing back the concept of William Webster's top management triumvirate...
But which three? Smart money says Mueller will elevate Assistant Director Dale Watson, currently head of counter-terrorism, to the counterterrorism/national security slot. The task of overseeing criminal investigations — most of the bureau's work — could go to current Assistant Director Reuben Garcia, Assistant Director Barry Mawn, now head of the flagship New York Office, Bruce Gephardt, the special agent in charge in San Francisco, with whom Mueller bonded when he was U.S. Attorney there — or another field commander..."

McFarlane, Robert

===============

Robert McFarlane was former national security adviser in the Reagan administration.

In 2000, McFarlane was hired by two wealthy Chicago commodity speculators, Joseph and James Ritchie, to assist them in recruiting and organizing anti-Taliban guerrillas among Afghan refugees in Pakistan.

Their principal Afghan contact was Abdul Haq, the former mujahedin leader who was executed by the Taliban in October 2001 (?) after an unsuccessful attempt to spark a revolt in his home province.

McFarlane held meetings with Abdul Haq and other former mujahedin in the course of the fall and winter of 2000. After the Bush administration took office, McFarlane parlayed his Republican connections into a series of meetings with State Department, Pentagon and even White House officials. All encouraged the preparation of an anti-Taliban military campaign.

During the summer, long before the United States launched airstrikes on the Taliban, James Ritchie traveled to Tajikistan with Abdul Haq and Peter Tomsen, who had been the US special envoy to the Afghan opposition during the first Bush administration. There they met with Ahmed Shah Massoud, the leader of the Northern Alliance, with the goal of coordinating their Pakistan-based attacks with the only military force still offering resistance to the Taliban.

Finally, according to McFarlane, Abdul Haq “decided in mid-August to go ahead and launch operations in Afghanistan. He returned to Peshawar, Pakistan, to make final preparations.”

In other words, this phase of the anti-Taliban war was under way well before September 11.

Source: http://www.swans.com/library/art8/dmg001.html

McKinney, Cynthia

===============

It was around March 20th, 2002, when an email circulated on the internet on afro-american Rep. McKinney, describing her "as a hero in the demand for inquiry into 9-11".

Congresswoman Cynthia Ann McKinney from Georgia demanded, that the Bush/Bin Laden connection and "the bizarre fabrications making up the official story around the 9-11", should be fully investigated.

Ground Zero Forum NYC (->) immediately started to promote her case worldwide, including a background coverage on her on democraticunderground.com and provided her with the so called Top 500 FAQ (->), already compiled in January 2002.

Within days McKinney received various support from many other investigative 911-websites or progressive web projects and was provided with additional new informations by Mike Ruppert (->).

McKinney released a written essay.

Her commentary on the "war against terrorism" and September 11th attack had been broadcasted in the famous interview with Dennis Bernstein on Flashpoints, Pacifica Radio on 3/25/02, but her demand continued being ignored by US Mainstream Media.

http://www.flashpoints.net/realaudio/fp20020325.ram (Minute 30)

In McKinney's essay she mentioned "the fact that Henry Kissinger (->) and the current new US Ambassador to Afghanistan, Zalmay Khalilzad (->), both once lobbied Washington, DC on behalf of a US oil company, Unocal (->), and a softer policy toward the Taliban (->)"

McKinney mentioned the "phony" felony list of the US President election to "scrub" from the state's voter roles and the proven fact, that "most of the people on that list were innocent of crimes".

"We know there were numerous warnings of the events to come on September 11. Vladimir Putin, President of Russia, delivered one such warning. Those engaged in unusual stock trades immediately before September 11 knew enough to make millions of dollars from United and American airlines, certain insurance and brokerage firms' stocks. What did this administration know and when did it know it, about the events of September 11?"

In the following interview McKinney mentioned, that the Pentagon "has lost 2.3 trillion dollars" and noone knows where to find that money:

Once again she mentioned other early warnings as "from people in Germany to people in the Cayman Islands to people even, now we learn about the owners of the pilot school".

"...But instead of requesting that Congress investigate what went wrong and why, we had president Bush (painful for me to say that, but) we had president Bush placing a call to Majority Leader Senator Tom Daschle asking him NOT to investigate the events of September 11. My question is, What do they have to hide?"

And then the other issue that saddens me is the fact that the former President, president Bush's daddy, sits on the board of the Carlyle Group (->).

In some media reports, Carlyle Group spokesman Chris Ullman and White House press secretary Ari Fleischer dismissed McKinneys allegation as a "baseless conspiracy theory".
"All I can tell you is the congresswoman must be running for the Hall of Fame of the Grassy Knoll Society," Fleischer said.

But McKinney became a hero among the 911Skeptics.
In just five years, Cynthia Ann McKinney, Georgia's first African-American Congresswoman was the only woman serving in the state's congressional delegation, who has emerged as an internationally renowned advocate for voting rights, human rights and the strengthening of business ties between Africa and the United States. She was known as a passionate, intelligent, charismatic and effective member of the House of Representatives.

On April 12th, 2002, the Washington Post finally reported, that McKinney wants to have a full investigation of 911 regarding possible advanced knowledge of President George Bush, but attacked McKinney together with AP and the NY Times.

On April 14th, 2002, a Poll at Atlanta Journal, which showed that at least 50% believed that US officials knew of 911-attacks in advance, was mysteriously withdrawn.

DU-members (->) noticed another manipulation:

Apr-13-02, 05:10 PM (ET) :
"...the poll is being ffreeped, >600 in just minutes
I had just looked at the poll results a few minutes ago, but since those few minutes have passed the "YES" votes have suddenly added about 600 votes, while the "NO" votes have added about 100.
But prior to this it was 49% to 49%
now its 55% to 44%..."*

But Newsmax reported on the results of the online poll of Atlanta Journal-Constitution and the 'underground'-success of McKinney continued.

Various supportive articles on her circulated on independent media portals like Buzzflash, Bartcop, democrats.com, finalcall.com, truthout.org or Commondreams.

Her hate mail started getting overruled by positive support mail, but the Democratic Party including former House Minority leader Dick Gephardt disagreed with her and failed to support McKinney until George Bush finally had to confirm prior knowledge in May 2002 (-> Bush Knew).

During these 4 weeks, false accusations against McKinney had been made, including requests of sanctions against her.

But as listed on Opensecrets.org, some random (and not rejected!) donations of $1000 by someone named Abdurahman Alamoudi (founder and former executive director of the American Muslim Council) to McKinney, paid similar amounts to George Bush on September 11th, 2001.

While McKinney profited among progressive fans of her since the "Bush-knew"-confirmation in May 2002, her own party continued to dump her.

McKinney claimed she has been vindicated for accusing the Bush administration of not warning "the innocent people of New York, who were needlessly murdered" in order to benefit the Carlyle Group and other defense-oriented companies.

Later McKinney lost to represent Georgia for the US Election.

A few weeks before the US Election, the Green Party asked her if she might leave her party and become a candidate for the Greens as a US President in 2004.

McKinney started to support some public green party events and was speaker on various anti-war protests, including the Washington Protest in October 2002.

She still wonders, why noone insists to investigate Bush and ask on PNAC (->):

"President Bush was warned that terrorists were planning to hijack commercial aircraft and crash them into buildings in the US... in the weeks prior to September 11, 24-hour fighter cover was placed over the President's ranch in Crawford, Texas"

McMichael, J.

In 2001, J McMichael wrote the famous article "911: Govt-MediaSuspends Laws of Physics".

It was first mirrored at http://www.conspiracyplanet.com/channel.cfm?ChannelID=75
http://ecologynews.com/cuennews43updates3.html and later on various other websites.

This was one of the first articles, who inspired many independent investigators to analyse the oddities of the collapses from Sep11th:

"Using jet fuel to melt steel is an amazing discovery, really. It is also amazing that until now, no one had been able to get it to work...
Ironworkers fool with acetylene torches, bottled oxygen, electric arcs from generators, electric furnaces, and other elaborate tricks, but what did these brilliant terrorists use? Jet fuel, costing maybe 80 cents a gallon on the open market...

In the 20th Century, steel melted at 1538 degrees Celsius (2800 F, see http://www.chemicalelements.com/elements/fc.html), but in the 21st Century, it melts at 800 degrees C (1472 F)..."

Fact is, at one time one of the towers didn't burn anymore on one floor, as one, censored picture was able to prove (-> Black Hole).

Fact is:
The official testimony on the Collapse of the Twin Towers later changed the official explanation. The melting steel theory was wrong and outdated at the end of 2002.
A new investigation started therefore in October 2002 (for 2 years) and was already officially described as classified.

Dear Sir:
You attended my office on 27 June 02 and were identified as Timothy Stuart McNiven, Date of Birth 1 Nov 53, Social Security Number 537-56-87[41]. The purpose of the visit was for you to take a polygraph examination in order to support the fact that you were a member of a group assembled as part of the C Battery, 2/81st Field Artillery US Army stationed on Strassburg Kaserine, Idar Oberstein, West Germany for the purpose of developing defensive strategies against attacks by hijacked aircraft. The discussions covered the possibility of aircraft being taken over by dissidents and used to attack important buildings in the United States of America.

Regarding the study that took place McNiven was a member of C Battery 2/81st FA in Idar Oberstein, West Germany in the 1970's...

The McNiven story raised some attention among a few 911Skeptics, but never turned into a real smoking gun. The origin of the document seemed a little bit too outdated.

Mediabanner

SIGA was designed to be a network of Christian activists working for peace and fighting the "New World Order". The organization was created in response to the "terrorist" attacks of September 11, 2001 and the so called "War on Terror" which has followed.

In November 2002, SIGA finished their mediabanner "bush knew".

This sign was put up on the corner of 9th Ave. and 5th Street in South West Calgary (Canada) on Wednesday, November 13, 2002 and removed Thursday, November 21.

Danny Schechter, Executive Producer and Executive Editor of MediaChannel, covered Sep11th related topics.

In December 2002, editor Byron Christopher criticised the new slang of journalism:
"Unless it's a direct quote or otherwise attributable to a third party, there are no "terrorist attacks," just "attacks."

There are no "freedom fighters" and no one is "martyred."

Melting Steel

For almost one year, the official explanation for the collapse of the Twin Towers was "melted steel". Then yet another investigation for 2 years was started.

U.S. Patent No. 3,693,731 details an apparatus for tunneling by melting. In part it describes "a machine and method for drilling bore holes and tunnels by melting in which a housing is provided for supporting a heat source and a heated end portion and in which the necessary melting heat is delivered to the walls of the end portion at a rate sufficient to melt rock and during operation of which the molten material may be disposed adjacent the boring zone in cracks in the rock and as a vitreous wall lining of the tunnel so formed."

Memo

The word "memo" was one of the most popular words of 2002 of the 911Skeptics.

Basically it stood either for the Rowley-memo (May 2002) or for the CIA-memo (Bush knew) from August 2001, but there are other important memos, which had been mentioned in independent Sep1th investigations:

CIA-cable (->)
From August 22nd, 2001. This at a time, when Colleen Rowley (->) still tried to convince the FBIHQ and NSLU to examine the computer of Zacarias Moussaoui. She gave up on August 28th. Ignored by US Media and US Congress are these 6 days, which undermine the "incompetence theory".

CIA-memo
Most famous memo in 2001 was from August 6th, 2001.
Still classified at the end of 2002. Bob Graham (->) asked to declassify this memo and other files.
It was called "Laden determined to strike in the US", in which Bush was warned that the Saudi-born terrorist hoped to 'bring the fight to America' in retaliation for missile strikes on al-Qaeda camps in Afghanistan in 1998 and "domestic targets were considered at risk"

MI5

As Independent UK reported on May 18th, 2002, the "shoebomber" Richard Reid (->) had been on a watch list by the MI5:

Bush was given hijack warning by British intelligence Americans were told of attack threat, say MI5 and MI6, as Marines begin new operation against al-Qa'ida

"...President Bush's CIA briefing last August about possible attacks on US targets by al-Qa'ida – the focus of the current "what did he know and when did he know it" furore – was based on British intelligence reports, officials on both sides of the Atlantic said.

Intelligence sources in London confirmed yesterday that both MI5 and MI6 had sent reports to the United States in the run-up to 11 September, suggesting that America was under threat.

Military Operation

According to the Pentagon on Sep11th 2001, they described the attack as a perfect planned "military operation". That seems to be true.

Famous underground author William Cooper (->) wrote about this statement in one of his last manifests at Point 7 and 8:

7. According to news accounts the perpetrators planned the attack as long ago as 5 years, trained to carry out the attack, pulled it off without a hitch, and no information regarding the attack was ever leaked to anyone.
8. Reference #7. Now someone wants us to believe that these were a bunch of drunken fools who shot pistols in their homes, braggarts, who spoke of impending violence and bloodshed to everyone they met and left incriminating evidence everywhere. We are supposed to believe that by some incredible miracle they escaped the notice of every law enforcement and intelligence agency in the entire world. Now read #7 again.

Military pre-911 studies on attacks

An expert panel commissioned by the Pentagon discusses how an airplane could be used to bomb national landmarks. "...Targets such as the World Trade Center not only provide the requisite casualties but, because of their symbolic nature, provide more bang for the buck. In order to maximize their odds for success, terrorist groups will likely consider mounting simultaneous attacks on the capital with the aim of overtaxing a government's ability to respond, as well as demonstrating their professionalism and reach." [Washington Post, 10/2/01]

September, 1999:

A report prepared for US intelligence entitled 'Sociology and Psychology of Terrorism' is completed. It states: "Al-Qaeda's expected retaliation for the US cruise missile attack ... could take several forms of terrorist attack in the nation's capital. ... Suicide bomber(s) belonging to al-Qaeda's Martyrdom Battalion could crash-land an aircraft packed with explosives (C-4 and Semtex) into the Pentagon, the headquarters of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), or the White House. " The report is by the National Intelligence Council, which advises the President and US intelligence on emerging threats. [AP, 4/18/02] The Bush administration later claims to have never heard of the report until May 2002, despite the fact that it was publicly posted on the web in 1999, and "widely shared within the government" according to the New York Times. [CNN, 5/18/02, New York Times, 5/18/02]

October 24-26, 2000:

Pentagon officials carry out a 'detailed' emergency drill based upon the crashing of a hijacked airliner into the Pentagon. [MDW News Service, 11/3/00, Mirror, 5/24/02] The Pentagon is such an obvious target that, "For years, staff at the Pentagon joked that they worked at "Ground Zero", the spot at which an incoming nuclear missile aimed at America's defenses would explode. There is even a snack bar of that name in the central courtyard of the five-sided building, America's most obvious military bullseye." [Telegraph, 9/16/01]

Military Tribunal

In November 2001, Oliver North (Iran-Contra->) criticised the Military Tribunal:

"We're not at war. Even though U.S. soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines are fighting what certainly looks like a war, it's not. Even though we have yet to recover all the bodies from the savage Sept. 11 attack and even though our attackers have proclaimed an "unending war" against us, Congress refused to declare war on them. And because no war has been declared, what President Bush has ordered, and what Attorney General John Ashcroft is carrying out, may well redound to our ultimate disadvantage. "

Missouri Task Force 1 (MO-TF1)

As Brother Spicci (FEMA?) reported on the independent website http://www.lambdazeta.com/spicciistory.html, he was in charge at the MO-TF1 on September 12th and confirmed the "powdered concrete of the Twin Towers", without having any explanation for it.

Here is what he had to say:

"...I was in St. Louis at a professional meeting the morning of September 11, 2001. While I was helping to set up for a session, I learned that two planes had hit the Twin Towers via my USAR (Urban Search and Rescue) pager.

...When the first tower collapsed, I knew that an activation of Missouri Task Force 1 (MO-TF1) was likely.

This is what our task force had trained for; this is what I had been prepared for. For over five years, I had been volunteering for MO-TF1 (since the inception of the team) and I knew it was my duty to go.

...I arrived for check-in at the USAR team headquarters. Within a few hours we were en-route to New York City. Our team and equipment were in three C-130 military transport planes. We were 'escorted' by pairs of fighter planes the entire route. Most of our team was excited that we garnered that much respect; I kept silent and did not tell them that they were there to shoot us down if we deviated from our course. We arrived at McGuire AFB in New Jersey along with three other USAR teams from California in the early hours of September 12.

...On the morning of September 12 we began the trip to NYC. It took 8 busses and 8 tractor-trailer units loaded with equipment to move the four USAR teams. About 40 New Jersey Troopers ran escort for us, shutting down the New Jersey Turnpike to get us there quickly.

...Soon, we arrived in the area of the World Trade Center. As we came around the block on Church Street, the scene was bathed in light. A light snow was falling. Well, it was not really snow. It was powdered concrete. It was not all that noticeable against the night sky, but when you looked at the tower lights, you could see if falling down.

...The ‘snow’ made everything very surreal. I quickly noticed why. There were no visible signs of solid concrete. It was all gone. There was a significant amount of powdered concrete, none of which was bigger that a grape and most of which was in the air.

...Instead, there were piles of lain out steel, some twisted, some looking brand new with construction makings. Sheet metal was also present. But there wasn’t any furniture or nick-knacks from offices.

... We entered at WTC Building 6. This was the U.S. Customs House. We worked our way through to the levels of underground garages where fire had destroyed some cars, but had left others alone. It was strange to see some perfectly fine cars in between those that had melted from a fire.

Part of the CIA-program MK-Naomi (including MK-Artichoke and MK-Bluebird), which started during WWII with research on hypnosis for interrogation, secure courier duties, and reducing fatigue.

The Mind-control program was still active in the 1970s with the emergence of 'Brain Washing' as a common term (Hypnosis, drugs, and psycho-surgery). Drugs as LSD, Ketamine, and Psilocybin had been used for MK Ultra.

Lobotomy and the implantation of electrodes were considered as methods for creating a compliant agent. Electro-Convulsive Shock, combined with LSD, sedation for days at a time, and constantly replaying the patient’s own voice through helmet-mounted headphones was a notorious Canadian researcher’s recipe for mind control.

In the late 80s, the MK-Ultra program was renamed to the Stargate-Program and included the sub-programs Chatter, Omen, Derbyhat, 3rd Chance, Chukwut, MK-Delta or QK Hilltop.

Ely Lilly, under director George Bush delivered a lot of drugs for the CIA-program, other companies have been Hofmann LaRoche or the Public Health Service and Bureau of Narcotics.

In the first gulf war, an important part of these programs was to experimentate with the drug Pyridostigmine Bromide (man-break series), produced by

MKV-Program

The following guidelines apply to proposals for the Miniature Kill Vehicle (MKV) program with a one-time submission opportunity of Not Later Than 31 August 2001.

The government plans to exercise selected MKV Options on the basis of the Not To Exceed cost and maximum fee described above and to definitize such Options as expeditiously as possible after exercise.

After performance under the MKV Options is completed, the government anticipates a stand-alone competitive acquisition to select a single contractor to implement a prototype development, integration, and flight test program for the selected MKV technology.

Point of contact for the MKV Program portion of this BAA is Noel Paschal.

Due to some sources, Monterey Language Institute was on high alert on September 10th, 2001.

Early reports circulated around September 2001 and later had been picked up by copvcia.com and CentrexNews.

Profile:

Colonel William M. Dietrick is Commander Defense Language Institute in Garrison, Monterey

Monterey Institute of International Studies:

Ibrahim Marashi is a Research Associate at the Center for Nonproliferation Studies (CNS) of the Monterey Institute of International Studies. His research focuses on the diffusion of nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons and missile technologies in the Middle East, particularly Iraq and Iran.

Prior to joining CNS, Marashi worked with the Center for Middle Eastern Studies at Harvard University on a project classifying captured Iraqi state documents. He was a researcher on Iran-Iraq affairs at the US State Department, Congressional Research Service, and National Defense University.

The Center for Nonproliferation Studies (CNS) of the Monterey Institute of International Studies is the world's largest non-governmental organization devoted to combating the spread of weapons of mass destruction. With a full-time staff of more than 50 specialists located in Monterey, Washington DC, and Almaty, Kazakhstan, the Center's five research programs examine all aspects of nonproliferation, publish online databases, and train graduate students.

At least two of the three Bin Laden Video (>->) translators, Ali al-Ahmed, Dr. Kassem M. Wahba (Johns Hopkins University ->) and George Michael (Diplomatic Language Services), had been organised by Monterey and their translation was released on their website at http://www.lib.sfu.ca/kiosk/corise/poli022339.htm#Transcript%20of%20Osama%20bin%20Laden%20videotape

Another name of a fourth translator was classified.

On the website of the Diplomatic Language Institute one can find out, that most of their clients are members of the US Government personnel. They are able to learn 30 languages there, incl. Bin Laden's dialect Urdu.
http://www.dls-inc.com/

The language institute is led by Andrew G. Ratliff, who took on December 28th, 1998 navigator lessons as a pilot at Randolph Air Base in Texas.

In another bizarre twist, the third translator, Ali al-Ahmed was already involved in the early investigations of the FBI.

Ali ah-Ahmed is director of the Saudi Institute, an independent human rights watchdog group, that has researched the hijackers' identities.

Ali ah-Ahmed said, Abdulaziz Alomari, who was identified by the FBI as one of the hijackers who crashed into the World Trade Centre, "used someone else's passport".

More disturbing, at least one of the official hijackers Saeed Alghamdi may have been a student at the Defense Language Institute in Monterey, California.

Source:

As reported, the same Saeed Alghamdi trained at a school operated by Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University (->).

Other reports mention Mohammad Atta and Abdulaziz al-Omarin at Monterey.

In June 2001, Officer Col. Steve Butler (->) of the Monterey Language Institute wrote a public letter, in which he affirmed that President Bush did nothing to warn the American people because he "needed this war on terrorism".

Butlers military assignment brought him into contact with at least one of the alleged hijackers.

Butler was a leading officer overseeing students. It can be assumed, that he may well know considerably more than he is saying about US military-intelligence apparatus involvement in the September 11 events.

Moore, Michael

Moore was maybe the first popular "mainstream" 911-Skeptic, when he began to promote his book "Stupid White Men" in early 2002, which became a bestseller in the United States.

In March 2002, he started a succesful promotion tour in Los Angeles and revealed on the Daily Show info about the UNOCAL-Afghanistan Pipeline connection, the Halliburton Ties with the Taliban plus the fact, that Bin Laden relatives had been able to leave the country after Sep11th.

In October 2002, he released his movie "Bowling for Columbine", another popular project.
In November 2002, Moore opened his own messageboard on his website at http://www.michaelmoore.com/phpbb/, which started immediately in the first few weeks with 600 members and growing.

One of the first members had been Chief Moose, Chuck, Collateral Damage, Doctor Whale, Free, geekjive, joolz, Just Bill, koz-ivan, Mongoose Charlie, Mrs Peel, neko, Oijim, Saoirse, Toxoplasma, Vanna, wayne rooney and Zone Dancer.

Moore's website Michaelmoore.com was created in 1995 in New York by his company "Dog Eat Dog Films".

================================
In September 2001, a german hacker group hacked the Ayna list, a muslim mailing list, which was mentioned by the FBI.

The hacker then found someone named moslem1@ayna.com, who apparently was based in Boston.

The story had no further legs.

Mossad

=============
Though an immense campaign of a couple of websites, which tried to blame the Sep11th attack on the Mossad or even a "secret zionist group", only the same 4-5 stories suggested some "influence".

At the end of 2002, it was still clear, though the Mossad had prior knowledge of the attacks and warned the United States and the MI5 and sent a spy ring to the States to observe some Hamas activities in Boston and muslim students at military flight schools, nothing more could be found.

No ties or evidence for logistic, military or financial acomplimentation.

This compared to the many financial ties to Saudi Arabia, the military plans of both DoD and ISI, the observations by the CIA, the mistakes by the FBI and the irregularities of the official story within the timeline.

Motassadeq, Mounir Al

=================================
Mounir El Motassadeq quickly fell under suspicion when German authorities discovered that he had power of attorney over a bank account in the name of Marwan Al-Shehhi, another former Hamburg student, who was officially aboard the second plane that struck the World Trade Center.

Motassadeq had been registered as a student at Hamburg's Technical University, where Mohammad Atta and al-Shehhi studied. He was interrogated in October 2001, but denied having anything to do with Atta or with terrorism.

German authorities had issued arrest warrants for three other men thought to have provided logistical help to the hijackers. They are 26-year-old German citizen Said Bahaji, 29-year-old Ramsi Binalshibh (->) of Yemen and 24-year-old Zakariya Essabar of Morocco. All three are believed to have fled Germany before or soon after Sept. 11.

In October 2002 a trial against Motassadeq started in germany.

The prosecutor of this trial is Key Nehm

The indictment charging El Motassadeq (Hamburg) with belonging to a terror group Germany has issued international warrants for three other cell members, fugitives Ramzi Binalshibh (->), seen in Malaysia in June 2001, Said Bahaji, who left Germany eight days before the attacks, and Zakariya Essabar.

In a coincidence, Binalshibh was arrested by US officials, one month before the german trial started, but the US Government refused to allow german authorities to interrogate him.

(-> Binalshibh, Ramsi)

Surprisingly, on February 19th, 2003, Motassadeq received the maximum 15-year sentence "for helping the hijackers". This was first conviction anywhere of a suspect in the terror plot against the United States. Motassadeq always insisted he had no idea of a plot.

MO-TF1
Moussaoui, Habib Zacarias

Zacarias Moussaoui, the so-called 20th hijacker, originally from France, was already arrested in August 2001, while learning how to fly planes "without landing".

The FAA (->) received a report on him, but decided against a public warning.

FBI agents around Colleen Rowley (->) tried to examine his computer, which was denied by the FBHQ and NSLU.

As CBS revealed in May 2002, the FBI agents in Minnesota took the radical step of contacting the CIA for help, an FBI whistleblower said. But nothing happened.

Source:

Therefore Moussaoui was only charged for immigration fraud, while at the same time, the French Intelligence Service and Jean-Louis Bruguiere, a French judge and terrorist hunter, warned the United States on Moussaoui, that he might be connected with "Islamic terrorists".

While French and European media continued to write about Moussaoui after the Sep11th-attack, the United States ignored his case until December 2001, when he officially became the "20th hijacker".

A 2002 US-indictment later charged Moussaoui with "being part of an al-Qaeda conspiracy to kill Americans".

Moussaoui was accused to have been in contact with Ramzi Binalshibh (->), a Yemeni cleric and official associate of Mohammad Atta.

In January 2002, Jack Kelly (USA Today) claimed, that one USA Today reporter obtained an FBI report, which said, that Moussaoui got money for flight training in the USA from Yazid Sufaat (->), an alleged al-Qaeda operative in Malaysia.

Sufaat agreed to pay Moussaoui $2,500 a month and $35,000 up front, U.S. authorities said.

Moussaoui arrived in the USA in February 2001 and deposited $32,000 in a bank in Norman, Oklahoma.

He attended flight schools in Norman (->) and Minnesota, before he was arrested on immigration charges in August 2001.

Law enforcement officials alleged that Sufaat gave Moussaoui papers identifying Moussaoui as a "marketing consultant" for Infocus Tech, a Malaysian company.

The papers were signed by "Yazid Sufaat, Managing Director."

July 2002:

Zacarias Moussaoui said, he wants to reveal how the FBI had him and the 19 hijackers under surveillance before the attacks.

The US government denies Moussaoui's accusations that they knew about the terror attacks before they took place.

Moussaoui said the US government "cynically allowed September 11 in order to destroy Afghanistan." (->LIHOP)

MoveOn.org formed a Political Action Committee (PAC) so that like-minded, concerned citizens can influence the outcome of congressional elections, and in turn, the balance of power in Washington, D.C.
During 2002, they promoted "Regime Change Begins at Home".

In January 2003, MoveOn released their remake of the 1964 "Daisy" ad, warning that a war against Iraq could spark nuclear Armageddon. Like the original, the 30-second ad by MoveOn.org depicts a girl plucking petals from a daisy — along with a missile launch countdown and a nuclear mushroom cloud.

Moving Systems

Planted as a story on purpose or not?

This story circulated a lot on the web to blame the Mossad on prior knowledge of Sep11th, who warned the United States twice before Sep11th on an attack.

The original story of "Urban Moving Systems" was based on this report:

On September 13th, 2002, the NY Post reported, that "three men who celebrated as the Twin Towers crumbled are facing deportation.

The men, described as illegal immigrants from the Middle East, were arrested Tuesday afternoon in a white Chevy van (-> White Vans) near the Meadowlands based on a tip from witnesses who saw them "cheering" and "jumping up and down" in Liberty State Park after the attack, a source said.....the van... had the words "Urban Moving Systems" painted on it.

Source:
www.nypost.com/news/regionalnews

Due to sources of rumourmillnews (->) someone found out the names of the immigrants:
Sivan and Paul Kurzburg, Yaron Shmuel, Oded Ellner and Omer Marmari.

The case was turned over to the FBI's Foreign Counterintelligence Section because the FBI believed Urban Moving Systems was a "cover for an Israeli intelligence operation," ABC reported.

In May 2002, the State Division of Consumer Affairs filed a lawsuit in Hudson County Superior Court against Urban Moving Systems and its owner Dominick Suter alleging violations of both the State's Consumer Fraud Act and regulations set forth in the Public Movers and Warehousing Licensing Act.

Under company names such as Urban Moving Systems, Moving Systems, Inc., Advance Moving System, AAA Van Lines, State to State Van Lines, America's Best Movers, and Quality Moving Storage companies allegedly defrauded innocent families during this summer with the help of Moshe "Moses" Elmakias.

The stories of Moving Systems, the arrestment of a jewish "spy ring" (->), ties of Boston Logan Airports security company ICTS to Israel, some parts of the Richard Reid (->) story and other minor details led many people to the suggestion, that the Mossad had been involved in the Sep11th attacks as well.

"What does it mean for America to have a president with the freedom to do what he wants in the world and the power with which to do it? Writing in the WASHINGTON POST this week, one conservative ally of the president said the world should get ready for "The Doctrine of the Big Enchilada." Mueller, Richard

On July 5th, 2001, President Bush announced that he was nominating Justice Department veteran Robert S. Mueller to head the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to succeed retired FBI Director Louis B. Freeh (->).

Mueller became the sixth director of the FBI and started his job on September 4th, 2001, one week before the attack in Sep11th.

Before he was U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of California.

Under the first President Bush, Mueller was Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Justice Department's criminal division. In that post, Mueller supervised the prosecutions of Panamanian President Manuel Noriega and U.S. Organized Crime chiefhain John Gotti as well as heading up the investigations of the BCCI (-> banking scandal and the 1988 bombing of Pan Am 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland.

Mueller was assistant to Attorney General Richard Thornburgh and was a federal prosecutor in Boston and California, where he investigated and prosecuted major financial fraud, narcotics, terrorist and public corruption cases. During the Vietnam War, Mueller served in the U.S. Marine Corps for a year overseas and was awarded several battle citations.

When Colleen Rowley released her memo about the blocked investigations on Zacarias Moussaoui in August 2001, Mueller testified on the situation in the FBI instead of Louis Freeh.

Mueller is a big supporter of reorganising the FBI and tried to influence other foreign agencies, too.

In March 2002, it was reported, that he had a secret meeting in New Zealand.

The Mujahedeen had nothing to do with the Taliban (->).

Mulgrew, Ian

In February 2002, journalist Ian Mulgrew released his article "The truth is out there ... right?" in the canadian Vancouver Sun.

He started his article with a quote by Norman Mailer (->) and argued later, that "President George W. Bush and his right-hand man, Vice President Dick Cheney, have taken the unprecedented step of trying to restrict those investigations, pouring fuel on the simmering conspiracy theories being propagated in alternative publications, on wingnut Web sites and among some serious media outlets. In Germany, a former minister of technology, Andreas von Buelow, made headlines when in an interview he dismissed the U.S. government's explanation that Osama bin Laden's al-Qaeda network is responsible for the attacks. His own explanation implicated the White House..."

Mulgrew mentioned the undisclosed death of FBI agent John O'Neill (->):
"Fox Mulder, was that you? Is that why they cancelled the series?"

Mulgrew supported the website of Mike Rupperts website and suggested to "follow the money".

While indian papers continued to complain, that Musharraf and his secret service, ISI, support terrorists, the United States decided to continue to work with Musharraf as one of their most important allies in their "war on terrorism".

On August 4th, 2002, Musharraf said in an interview for the Aug. 12 edition of the New Yorker magazine, that he is not convinced that Osama bin Laden was the mastermind behind the Sept. 11 attacks:

"I don't think he has the intelligence or the minute planning. The planner was someone else"

Muttawakil, Ahmed

On September 7th, 2002 the UK Independent revealed, that only a few weeks before the attacks on 11 September, the United States and the United Nations ignored warnings from a secret Taliban emissary that Osama bin Laden was planning a huge attack on American soil.

The warnings were delivered by an aide of Wakil Ahmed Muttawakil, the Taliban Foreign Minister at the time.

(NOTE: This close "aide" could have been:
-Khairula Khairkhwa, the former Taliban governor of the western province of Herat
-Sharqawi Abu Ali-al-Hajj, described as an al Qaeda "facilitator"
-former Taliban Information Ministry official Abdul Henan Himet
-Abdel-Bari Atwan, editor of the al-Quds al-Arabi newspaper
-Taliban official, Amir Khan Muttaqi
-Maulvi Abdul Kabir, former Taliban deputy prime minister
-Fazul Rabbi Said-Rahman, who was a Taleban corps commander
-Amir Khan Muttaqi, Taliban official
Obeidullah, an assistant to the intelligence chief, Qari Ahmadullah and former top-ranker in Kabul, who escaped to Pakistan

-Abdul Salam Zaeef, The Taliban's ambassador to Pakistan

http://www.j-n-v.org/ARROW_aw_briefings/ARROW_briefing005.htm

Head of intelligence under the Taliban, Qari Ahmadullah was killed on January 1st, 2002, confirmed by Abdullah Tawheedi, a deputy head of intelligence in the interim administration.

"...Taliban Foreign Minister Mullah Wakil Ahmed Muttawakil met officials from the CIA and Pakistan's ISI intelligence agency. ('US officials... appear to have dismissed the proposal. Instead they are hoping to engineer a split within the Taliban leadership.') (Guardian, 17 Oct., p. 1)"

Muttawakil was in American custody in 2002 when this important detail made news. The emissary went first to the Americans, travelling across the border to meet the consul general, David Katz, in the Pakistani border town of Peshawar, in the third week of July 2001. They met in a safehouse belonging to an old mujahedeen leader who has confirmed to The Independent that the meeting took place. Another US official was present, possibly from the intelligence services.

"Mr Katz, who now works at the American embassy in Eritrea, declined to talk about the meeting...."

Due to the list of the Pakistan US Embassy Officials, the following people might have known about this warning:

Ambassador--William B. Milam
Deputy Chief of Mission--Michele J. Sison
Defense Attache--Col. Herb Stoddard
Defense Representative--Col. Tod Wilson

Already confirmed:
Principal Officer, Peshawar--David Katz

NOTE:
Muttawakil was in deep contact with US Congress-member Dana Rohrabacher (->), who learned on some warnings. After he heard that the Northern Alliance Commander Massoud (->) was killed, he tried to get an appointment with the US State Department, but they postponed a meeting until Sep11th, 2001, 2 PM.

http://www.virtualsources.com/Countries/Middle%20East%20Countries/Pakistan.htm

Muttawakil, was a close ally of the Taliban's supreme leader, Mullah Mohammed Omar (->)

The U.S. State Department confirmed, that they issued an alert in June 2001, which was reported by AP:

"...A close aide to Osama bin Laden denied that followers of the suspected terrorist plan strikes against U.S. and Israeli interests in the coming weeks, the Taliban news agency said Monday.

Bin Laden deputy Abu Hafid told the Bakhtar news agency that no remarks on imminent attacks were made by bin Laden's aides and that no attacks were planned as a media report over the weekend stated... "Two days earlier, the U.S. State Department issued an alert, saying that American citizens may be the target of a terrorist threat from extremist groups with links to bin Laden and his Al-Qaeda organization. ..."

Source:

National Security Council's counterterrorism coordinator in June 2001 was Richard Clarke, who only said some weeks later after the Taliban warning during a White House meeting:

"something spectacular is going to happen."

http://www.npr.org/programs/morning/features/2002/may/timeline/

Clarke was chief of the CSG (Counter-terrorism Security Group), who knew about all warnings about an attack AND the war plans on the Taliban!

The met in 2001 every week in the White House Situation Room, then since July 2001 daily!

Intelligence had been streaming in concerning a likely Al Qaeda attack. "It all came together in the third week in June," Clarke said. "The C.I.A.'s view was that a major terrorist attack was coming in the next several weeks."

As MSNBC confirmed, on May 23rd 2001, Richard Clarke reacted first: "...As a precaution, however, the National Security Council's counterterrorism coordinator, Richard Clarke, advised the FAA to issue a warning about the hijacking threat, which resulted in the June 22 warning, officials said...."

On June 29, 2001, U.S. Ambassador to Pakistan William B. Milam, who heard about all the warnings of a "major attack on U.S. interests", tried[b] to get in touch with the Taliban Ambassador Abdul Salam Zaeef[b] in Pakistan. Richard Clarke heard about this planned meeting by telephone, "conveyed the same message to intermediaries in the United Arab Emirates".

"On July 5th, 2001 Richard Clarke convened a White House meeting of the Counterterrorism Security Group, then met with Rice and Bush Chief of Staff Andrew Card; then met again with CSG plus, Federal Aviation Administration, FBI and Immigration and Naturalization Service. Clarke told them: 'something spectacular is going to happen.'

During the anniversary week of Sep11th, the unknown AP-"Taliban-warning" from June 2001 was apparently leaked to the press again, but downplayed and overshadowed by other events:

"...A State Department official, asked about the newspaper story, reiterated previous government statements that the United States last summer was aware of reports that al Qaeda might be preparing an attack.

"We took all warnings very seriously," issuing public announcements, travel warnings and cautions during that period that attempted to alert the public to these threats, he said, speaking on condition of anonymity..."

"We were hearing a lot of that kind of stuff," he said...

"That kind of stuff" was repeated by 10 other secret service agencies during June and September 2001. The US government claims, the Sep11th attack happened because of "incompetence">

- The wider objective was to oust the Taleban

BBC's George Arney reported:
"...A former Pakistani diplomat has told the BBC that the US was planning military action against Osama Bin Laden and the Taleban even before last week's attacks.

Niaz Naik, a former Pakistani Foreign Secretary, was told by senior American officials in mid-July that military action against Afghanistan would go ahead by the middle of October. Bin Laden would have been "killed or captured". George Arney reported on the same day, that American officials had told former Pakistani Foreign Secretary Niaz Naik in mid-July of plans for military action against the Taliban regime:
"Mr. Naik said US officials told him of the plan at a UN-sponsored international contact group on Afghanistan which took place in Berlin.
"Mr. Naik told the BBC that at the meeting the US representatives told him that unless Bin Laden was handed over swiftly America would take military action to kill or capture both Bin laden and the Taliban leader, Mullah Omar.

National Enquirer
==================

On March 4th, 2002, tabloid National Enquirer revealed some insights on ENRON and their ties to the Taliban and CIA:

"...Arun Davda, who worked as a senior director for Enron's International Division until the company's collapse, confirmed to The ENQUIRER: "Enron had intimate contact with Taliban officials. Building the pipeline was one of the corporation's prime objectives."

As The ENQUIRER revealed two weeks ago, Enron secretly employed Taliban," said the CIA source. ...Shocking, Enron's woeful of the Taliban continued even after Al Qaeda agents bombed two American embassies in Africa in 1998, and the U.S. retaliated with missile attacks on suspected Al Qaeda camps in Afghanistan and Sudan.

"The U.S. was shooting missiles into Afghanistan, and it was clear that the Taliban were enabling Bin Laden and Al Qaeda," terrorist expert Jeffrey Steinberg, editor of the Executive Intelligence Review, told The ENQUIRER. "Nonetheless the oil companies continued to work behind the scenes to complete the pipeline deal."

The pipeline project was originally proposed by Unocal Corporation. And an FBI source told The ENQUIRER: "Enron and Unocal dumped hundreds of millions of dollars into Afghanistan and the Taliban. The pipeline would relieve our dependence on Saudi Arabia -- and Enron would make billions."

"When Clinton was bombing Bin Laden camps in Afghanistan in 1998, Enron was making payoffs to Taliban and Bin Laden operatives to keep the pipeline project alive. And there's no way that anyone could NOT have known of the Taliban and Bin Laden connection at that time, especially Enron who had CIA agents on its payroll!"

National ID
============

The idea of a national ID was first supported by Larry Ellison of Oracle and later developed by many other companies, including Schlumberger (->Oil).

Assisting the government in its goals to gather massive amounts of personal information on citizens and non-citizens, Oracle, Inc. Chairman Larry Ellison has offered in the late 90s, to provide to the government free of charge the database software required to establish an interactive national ID card system. Oracle got its start when the CIA gave Ellison a contract in the 1970s to design a system to enable the agency to store and retrieve massive amounts if information in databases. Not coincidentally, the code name of that CIA project was "Oracle."
The rush by the government to increase monitoring the Internet in 2001-2002 has the backing of a group of federal contract research facilities that have pounded out report after report warning about the threat of cyberspace to national security. These "think tanks" include Rand Corporation (->) and Analytical Services Corporation (ANSER->), who helped establishing the Institute of Homeland Security (->) already in 1998/99.

Jules Naudet was in the north tower when the south tower collapsed. The english version was first shown on March 10th, 2002, on CBS, hosted by Robert De Niro.

The brothers brokered the deal with CBS through friends at Vanity Fair magazine and its editor, Graydon Carter, who contacted CBS President Leslie Moonves. The documentary included footage from inside the complex after the planes slammed into it, showing firefighters using the elevator and walkie-talkies. It was the second high-profile TV documentary about September 11.

NESARA

The National Economic Stabilization and Recovery Act (NESARA), supposedly was passed secretly into law on March 9, 2000. Evidently, it was to be announced on September 11th, 2001.

The bill allegedly eliminates federal income taxes, reduces mortgage and personal debt and changes various banking laws.

More info:
http://www.nesara.com

Compare:
Nesara-related Claim
http://www.p911.org/nesara.htm

"The Justices authorized the reformations be put into the form of a law named the National Economic Security And Reformation Act (NESARA) which was passed secretly on March 9, 2000. Again, secrecy was maintained by revising the official records; details of the bill number for NESARA were revised to reflect a commemorative coin and revised again more recently.

Members of Congress have been ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court Justices to “deny” the existence of NESARA or face charges of Treason punishable by death; some members of Congress have been charged with “obstruction” and threatened with Treason charges. Therefore, all members of Congress pretend that NESARA has not been passed in order to comply with the Justices’ gag order.

The “National Economic Security And Reformation Act” – NESARA - provides major benefits to American citizens including:

1) end of income taxes;
2) forgiveness of credit card and mortgage debt as remedy for bank frauds;
3) U.S. Treasury Bank system which absorbs the Federal Reserve and new precious metals backed U.S. Treasury currency;
4) restoration of Constitutional Law;
5) requires resignations of Bush and Cheney to be replaced by Constitutionally acceptable NESARA President and Vice President Designates;
6) requires the President Designate to declare "Peace" and ends U.S. aggressive military actions immediately and much more.

Many bank presidents and senior stockbrokers have privately confirmed to close personal friends that they have been briefed about the U.S. Treasury bank system.

In June 2000, news of the secret NESARA law passage came from U.S. naval intelligence contacts, some of the White Knights who have assisted the Justices in activities involving NESARA.

Many powerful groups have tried to stop the announcement and implementation of the NESARA law which provides major financial improvements for Americans. After 18 months of clearing interference, the Justices had the current Congress pass resolutions “approving” NESARA on September 9, 2001.

NESARA was to be announced at 10 a.m. EDT on September 11, 2001. Groups opposing NESARA arranged for the attacks to occur on 9/11 to keep NESARA from being announced. The current Bush regime has caused continuous interference with the NESARA announcement and implementation process on many fronts.*

In December 2002, the FBI suddenly announced that "none of the hijackers possessed New Jersey identification, real or counterfeit, which was announced by U.S. Rep. Robert Menendez, D-N.J., chairman of the House Democratic Task Force on Homeland Security.

The day after the terrorist attacks on New York and Washington, Maine Gov. Angus S. King Jr. said two of the airline hijackers apparently used New Jersey driver's licenses when they flew to Boston from Portland. The report has been cited by Gov. James E. McGreevey and his administration in seeking support for a $200 million overhaul of the state Division of Motor Vehicles."

In May 2002, the scientific magazine NewScientist repeated again, that one of the strains that appear identical to the anthrax attack (->) strain most likely originated at the US Army Medical Research Institute for Infectious Diseases at Fort Detrick (USAMRIID ->), Maryland.

Three other strains came from a freezer at Porton Down (->), which in turn had got it from USAMRIID. Another was a culture that came directly from USAMRIID, and the last was from the US Army's Dugway proving ground in Utah.

What did FBI-Robert Mueller (!> secretly discuss in New Zealand in March 2002?

In March 2002 New Zealand paper Herald found out, that "America's top policeman was at the head of an international security summit held under extraordinary secrecy in Queenstown. The summit's cover was blown only when United States Federal Bureau of Investigations director Robert S. Mueller III was seen boarding an unmarked Gulfstream 5 jet for Australia... at Queenstown Airport.

The Prime Minister refused to comment on the summit, but a Government official ...confirmed Mr Mueller had been in Queenstown as part of a conference of English-speaking security chiefs... ...The FBI director was one of about 20 guests, including security chiefs understood to be from the US, Britain and Australia, who stayed at Millbrook Resort near Arrowtown.

Nichol, John

On September 27th, 2002 former Persian Gulf War POW, John Nichol accused the United States and Britain of being hypocritical about Saddam Hussein:

"Many countries have shown a degree of hypocrisy. But Britain and America are particularly bad. We trained Iraqi armed forces. Our special forces were in Baghdad training their special forces. We trained pilots in the Royal Air Force to fly aircraft and drop bombs. We gave Saddam Hussein the technology and the material to produce his weapons of mass destruction, and it’s simply not good enough to say: "Well, we have changed our mind about this."

Noman, Abdullah

From a former GROUND ZERO Forum article, released at Scoop:

"...about 50 to 100 visas were improperly issued by Noman..."

(ABC NEWS November 2001)

Abdullah Noman was working for the US Consulate in Jeddah (Saudi Arabia ->), where he filed 10-15 visas for the Sep11th-hijackers in the so called visa express program.
Noman was later arrested in a sting by the FBI in Las Vegas in November 2001.

Michael Springman, the former chief of the visa section at the U.S. Consulate in Jeddah already confirmed in various international interviews (incl. Greg Palast/BBC), that Jeddah is a CIA connected consulate. He protested about superiors who ordered him to issue visas to unqualified applicants and later resigned from this position.
It looks now that the CIA okayed the visas for most of the 911 hijackers and used employee Abdullah Noman to file visas for:

None of them was pilot of any of the four Sept 11th-planes.

Two more hijackers (which brings us to a total of 15) may have received their visas from Jeddah as well:

"...Abdul Alomari, on Flight 11...listing his address as Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, according to FAA records...

...In December 2000, (Hani Hanjour) obtained a visa from the American consulate in Jeddah and arrived in the United States, according to US officials..."

Vince Cannistraro (->), former head of the CIA's counter-terrorism office and deputy station chief in Jeddah from the mid-to late-1970s, said that the Southwest was the nexus of recruitment for the Saudi hijackers.

Why Noman's story didn't make more news play, is pretty unclear. It could be the Saudi-Arabian connection, the CIA-connection or both.

06/10/02:

"...I used to be in charge of the Visa Section at the CIA's consulate at Jeddah, the principle city of the Hejahs in Western Saudi Arabia. There, for a year and a half, I issued visas to terrorists recruited by the CIA and its asset, Osama Bin Laden. At the time I thought it was basically visa fraud. Somebody was paying $2500 bribes to State Department officials. I was ordered by these same high State Department officials to issue the visas, to shut up, to do my job and ask no questions...

...I asked a few more questions and I said, "No. Visa denied. You haven't proved to me that you're going to come to the United States, accomplish your business and then return home,"

Well a few minutes later I had a phone call from a CIA case officer assigned to the commercial section. "Issue the visas." I said, "No." He said, "Well, it's important they get a visa." And I said, "No." And a few minutes later he was over talking to the chief of the consular section, reversed me, issued the visas and these guys took off. And this was typical....

....this went on for a year and a half. I had people, not every day perhaps, but every week. And I estimate as many as 100 people got visas through me getting overruled on my analysis of their ability to go to the United states and then return....

...And I protested this. I protested to the Counsel for Consular Affairs in Riad. I protested to the Bureau of Consular Affairs in Washington (http://travel.state.gov/index.html).

I protested to the State Department's Inspector General.

I talked about this to the FBI, to the Justice Department's Office of Professional Responsibility (http://www.usdoj.gov/oig/index.html)

, and I went to a couple of Congressional Committees. And by and large I was told, "Shut up. You don't know what you're talking about. This is a difference of opinion. You don't know what you're doing...."

Some information about some of the offices Springman contacted.

In testimony of October 2001 he confirmed, that "Historically, the OIG has played an important role in attempting to combat one aspect of immigration fraud".

He mentions the Visa Waiver program but ignored the Visa Express Program from Jeddah.

In a conclusion, he urged, "the INS and the FBI to ensure that their databases share information, both with each other and with other government agencies."

http://www.usdoj.gov/oig/ts102001b.htm

The same Glenn A Fine later testified on the INS-investigation of Mohamed Atta and Marwan Alshehhi, who didn't get their visas from Jeddah. His only conclusion was to support a new student tracking system called Student & Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS).

The OIG work strongly together with the Department of Justice under John Ashcroft (->).

Glenn Fine reported on the FBI's handling of documents related to Timothy McVeigh on request of Attorney General John Ashcroft.

http://www.usdoj.gov/opa/pr/2002/March/02_ag_158.htm

In another testimony of June 20th, 2001, Fine pointed out, that the "Congress gave the Attorney General the authority to readjust the jurisdiction of the OIG" (See § 9(a)(2) of the IG Act)

http://www.usdoj.gov/oig/ts062001.htm

Fine explains the problems:

"Under this Order, the OIG may undertake investigations in the FBI and the DEA only when the Attorney General or Deputy Attorney General specifically authorizes us to do so in a particular case".

Fine was invited to the 911 hearings in June 2002. The content is classified.

The Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) reports directly to the Attorney General John Ashcroft (under Clinton it was Janet Reno, who now tries to run for governor of Florida).

From November 14th-17th, 2001 Abdullah Noman was a participating at the International Association of Amusement Parks in Atlanta, GA, organised by the U.S. Department of Commerce who work on various trade shows held by Saudi Arabia in the United States. We can assume that the FBI used this chance to try to get in touch with Noman:

http://www.us-saudi-business.com/shows.html

"...Industry Theme: SPT, TOY Dates of Event: November 14 - 17, 2001
Type of Event: IBP Post Recruiter/Control Officer: Jeddah - Abdullah Noman
He worked the last few years at these trade shows, another confirmation about 1998 you can find here:

"...Dates of Event: November 17-21, 1998 Type of Event: Reverse Trade Mission Post Recruiter/Control Officer: Jeddah - Abdullah Noman
It looks as if Noman was arrested before he was able to arrive in Atlanta: November 30th, 2001 - "...he was arrested on Nov. 1, said Assistant U. S. Attorney Lee Vilker..."

But Las Vegas Review claims, it was on a Sunday, which was Nov 4th: "...The Las Vegas Review-Journal reports a U.S. Dept. of Commerce employee Abdulla Noman was arrested Sunday in Las Vegas, NV..."

http://www.letsgojeffs.com/article/articleview.385/1/9/5 - 11/06/2001

But they wrote in another article that Noman was "arrested Thursday in a Las Vegas Strip hotel room" (=November 1st)

There are a couple of other articles about the arrestment of Noman in Las Vegas, for instance freelance editor Michelle Malkin mentioned it at:

http://www.capitalismmagazine.com/2001/november/mm_terrorist_visas.htm
http://www.jewishworldreview.com/michelle/malkin051902.asp

ABC News wrote that "about 50 to 100 visas were improperly issued by Noman from September 1996 until last November (2001)". Noman said he got bribes worth thousands of dollars for making it appear.

Noman is being held in a secluded cell at the Passaic County Jail (New Jersey) after being attacked by inmates during his confinement in Las Vegas. His attorney is Kim Otis of Princeton, New Jersey. Noman's indictment is at:

Noman was arrested with the help of FBI agent Henry Falkowsky.
About the FBI "plot": According to the criminal complaint against Noman, an informant allegedly paid Noman 12,000 riyals (about $3,100) for a visa in 1998.

Agents in Newark later recorded several phone calls between the two that led to Noman's arrest in a Las Vegas hotel after he allegedly accepted half-payment of $4,000 for a second visa, the complaint said.

Tuesday, November 6th 2001 - "...Assistant U.S. Attorney Howard Zlotnick told U.S. Magistrate Judge Robert Johnston that the FBI has tape-recorded and videotaped evidence that the consulate employee, Abdulla Noman, arranged the sale of visas to people entering the United States from Saudi Arabia..."

In which 'strip' hotel Noman was arrested and on which day (November 1st or 4th)?
Is there any connection to Mohammad Attas trip to Las Vegas from June 29 to July 1 (2001), according to a registration slip at the Econo Lodge, an inexpensive motel on the Las Vegas Strip?

And what about the story about him in a "meeting" with Nawaq Alhamzi and Hani Hanjour?
Was this story true?
Or was the Las Vegas connection based on misinformation?
And who leaked this information in the same week that Noman was arrested?

November 6th, 2001 - "...Since the first reports that five terrorists visited Las Vegas earlier this year, there has been speculation that the group was in the valley to complete plans for the Sept. 11 East Coast attacks.

Abdulla Noman, 52, was moved on November 30th 2001 from Nevada to New Jersey, where the FBI recorded calls in which he allegedly demanded $8,000 from an informant to arrange a U.S. visa for a Saudi citizen.

NORAD

North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) has become important part of many investigations due to its navigational background.

On September 11th, 2001, NORAD wasn't in charge- for the first time in US Aviation history.

This is why many 911 Skeptics are still concentrating on NORAD only:

"...Note the oddities:
8:01: United Airline Flight 93, a Boeing 757, bound for San Francisco, is delayed for 40 minutes on run way, with 45 people on Board
Why was this flight delayed?

http://www.ecologynews.com/cuenews43updates2.html

"Normally, NORAD escort aircraft will take the required action. However, for the purpose of these procedures, the term "escort aircraft" applies to any military aircraft assigned to the escort mission."
--FAA Order 7610.4F 7-1-2 (9)

"A NORAD spokesman says its fighters routinely intercept aircraft. When planes are intercepted, they typically are handled with a graduated response. The approaching fighter may rock its wingtips to attract the pilot's attention, or make a pass in front of the aircraft. Eventually, it can fire tracer rounds in the airplane's path, or, under certain circumstances, down it with a missile." [Boston Globe, 9/15/01]

On September 11, 2001, there are only 4 fighters on ready status in the Northeastern US, and only 14 fighters on ready status in the entire US. [BBC, 8/29/02]

In the Eastern U.S., NORAD has at its disposal, several Air Force Bases from which F-16s and F-15s can be scrambled at a moment's notice. Among these bases are Otis AFB in Cape Cod, Mass, Griffis AFB in Rome, NY, Andrews AFB just outside D.C., and Langley AFB in Eastern Virginia. NORAD's mission statement on its website states:

"The Northeast Air Defense Sector's area of responsibility covers more than one-half million square miles of airspace including that over New York City; Washington, D.C.; Chicago and other major metropolitan areas."

On September 11th 2001, the FAA reported on the hijackings and other threats to NORAD's First Air Force Commander, who is based in Tyndall, FLA. On Sept. 11, this was Gen. Larry K. Arnold.Mp B: The First Air Force Commander then relays this info to The Commander in Chief (CINC) of NORAD. On 9/11, this was Gen. Ralph "Ed" Eberhardt. The fact that NORAD was well aware that a major attack was a possibility is made obvious by the command's planning, well before Sept. 11, for a major exercise, slated for June 4, 2002. This is from a NORAD announcement:

"On June 4, 2002, the North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) will sponsor a multi-agency, bi-national exercise, Amalgam Virgo 02, involving an airborne terrorism scenario over the United States and Canada. The exercise, which was planned prior to the events of Sept. 11, is desiganted to allow many U.S. and Canadian agencies to test, improve and validate their coordination and operational procedures."

In fact, AMALGAM (->) had already its first exercise in 2001, before September 11th http://emperors-clothes.com/indict/indict-1.htm http://www.dcmilitary.com/baseguides/airforce/andrews/partnerunits.html

And it says:

"Training for air combat and operational airlift for national defense is the 113th's primary mission. However, as part of its dual mission, the 113th provides capable and ready response forces for the District of Columbia in the event of a natural disaster or civil emergency. Members assist local and federal law enforcement agencies in combating drug trafficking in the District of Columbia."

DCANG MISSION

To provide combat units in the highest possible state of readiness. We will support the Air Force and other DOD agencies. We will provide operational support to our local communities whenever possible.

DCANG VISION

To be the premier organization in the Air National Guard recognized as the benchmark for fulfilling our federal, state, and community missions.

or in the Tenc-Archive (->)

We cannot say exactly when the Mission Statement was removed. We can only say with certainty that it was between April 19 and September 13, 2001. Here's a step-by-step guide to access the Mission Statement:
Other responsible individuals on September 11th had been:

Air Force Lt. Col. Vic Warzinski
Mag. Gen. Richard A. Mentemeyer Commander, 305th Air Mobility Wing, McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey
Lieutenant Colonel Brad O. Buchanan, commander of the 459th Aircraft Generation Squadron, Andrews AFB
Col. Ken McClellan, Air Force spokesman
Ben Sliney (->), FAA (responsible for the stand down order)

Peterson, Peterson in Colorado (CO):

AFB/ NORAD (North American Aerospace Defense Command )

Sep11th air protocol from Mark Elsis (->):

8:13:32 to 8:20: AA11 goes off course and is hijacked.
8:20: AA 11 transponder signal stops.
8:36: NORAD spokesman, Major Mike Snyder, confirmed that the FAA notified NORAD of AA 11 hijacking.
8:38: Boston ATC notifies NORAD that AA11 has been hijacked.
8:39: AA11 flies directly over our #1 terrorist target, Indian Point nuclear stations.
8:40: FAA notifies NORAD that AA11 has been hijacked.
8:43: FAA notifies NORAD that United Airlines Flight 175 (UA175) has been hijacked.
8:46:26: AA11 impacts the North Tower of the WTC between the 94th and 98th floors.
8:46: NORAD finally orders Otis to scramble two F-15's. NORAD has held on to this vital information for at least 6, 8 or 10 minutes, and probably up to 26 or 32 minutes.
8:52: Two F-15's from Otis are airborne.
9:02:54: UA175 impacts the South Tower of the WTC between the 78th and 84th floors. NORAD says the F-15's from Otis are still 71 miles away. This means their average flight speed was only 23.9% of their top speed in trying to intercept UA 175. Otis is 153 miles from WTC - F-15's have a top speed of 1875 MPH. Minus 71 miles from 153 miles = 82 miles covered in 11 minutes from 8:52 to 9:03 -
60 minutes divided by 11 minutes = 5.45 x 82 miles = 447.3 MPH divided by 1875 MPH = 23.9%.
9:30: Three F-16's from Langley are airborne.
9:37: American Airlines Flight 77 hits the Pentagon. NORAD says the F-16's from Langley were still 105 miles and 12 minutes away.
9:49: It takes the F-16's from Langley 19 minutes to reach Washington. This means their average flight speed was only 27.4% of their top speed in trying to protect our nations capital. Langley is 130 miles from the Pentagon - F-16's have a top speed of 1500 MPH - 60 minutes divided by 19 minutes = 3.16 x 130 miles = 410.5 MPH divided by 1500 MPH = 27.4%.
Andrews Air Force Base has two fighter wings that are 10 miles from the Pentagon, yet they inconceivably waited till after all of the attacks were over to finally get airborne.

NORAD in charge on Sep9th, 2001, on a russian exercise:

"The North American Aerospace Defense Command shall deploy fighter aircraft as necessary to Forward Operating Locations (FOLS) in Alaska and Northern Canada to monitor a Russian air force exercise in the Russian arctic and North Pacific ocean.
"NORAD is the eyes and ears of North America and it is our mission to ensure that our air sovereignty is maintained," said Lieutenant-General Ken Pennie, Deputy Commander-in-Chief of NORAD. "Although it is highly unlikely that Russian aircraft would purposely violate Canadian or American airspace, our mission of vigilance must be sustained."

North Korea

In early 2002, President Bush declared North Korea as part of the so called axis of evil (->).

But only a few weeks later, on April 3rd 2002, the US Government announced that it will release $95m to North Korea as part of an agreement to replace the country's own nuclear programme, which the US suspected was being misused.

Supporter of this deal was Agostino Rocca, president of the Buenos Aires-headquartered Techint group.

Rocca died in a plane accident on April 29th, 2002.

His Cessna 15-seater plane, was carrying two crew and eight passengers. It had left Don Torcuato, north of Buenos Aires, on an early morning flight when it crashed in countryside some 120 miles southwest of Buenos Aires. Authorities say the plane was found in cattle and farming country outside the capital, the scene of recent flooding. With him died German Sopena, a prestigious journalist and editor at La Nacion.

On October 19th, 2002, it was revealed, that the White House withheld North Korea's admission about a nuclear weapons program from key Democrats until after Congress had passed its resolution authorizing war with Iraq.

Senate Majority Leader Thomas A. Daschle (D-S.D.) said he learned about the weapons program from newspaper articles the next morning, and Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Joseph R. Biden Jr. (D-Del.) said he was told about two hours ahead of the press.

In fact there was a 12-day gap between the admission by North Korea and the administration's disclosure. During that time, Congress passed the Iraq resolution, and President Bush signed it hours before the 7 p.m. disclosure about North Korea.

....The CIA briefed selected lawmakers from both parties about nuclear intelligence that Kelly planned to take to North Korean officials. When Kelly confronted the North Koreans with the intelligence, they admitted the activity on Oct. 4. Senator Chuck Hagel (R-Neb.) said he first learned about North Korea's admission during an Oct. 9 conversation with Deputy Secretary of State Richard Armitage.

Then, on November 24th, 2002, it came out, that Americas ally, Pakistan has used "its American-built air fleet to carry ballistic missile parts as part of a bartering operation with North Korea".

In February 2003, the Washington Post revealed another lie and Cover-up of the US Government. Already in November 2001, intelligence analysts at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory (->) completed a highly classified report and sent it to Washington. Northwoods Operation Northwoods is described as the "blueprint" of the 9/11th hijacks.

The original story of Northwoods started in 1962, when the Pentagon and the CIA were "desperate for a war with Cuba".

In a TV-documentation by media critic Barry Zwicker (->), Vision TV, he analysed this plan:

"Desperate enough to plan attacks against American bases, equipment and personnel. Desperate enough to dress up American trained Cubans as Communists to make the attacks on American bases. Desperate enough to manufacture an airplane that looked like a Russian MiG to shoot down an American airliner. Why?

"The desired resultant from the execution of this plan would be to place the United States in the apparent position of suffering defensible grievances from a rash and irresponsible government of Cuba and to develop an international image of a Cuban threat to peace in the Western Hemisphere."

As ABC reported on May 1st, 2001 on Operation Northwoods in this article "Friendly Fire": http://abcnews.go.com/sections/us/DailyNews/pintchers_010501.html

"In the early 1960s, America's top military leaders reportedly drafted plans to kill innocent people and commit acts of terrorism in U.S. cities to create public support for a war against Cuba.

Code named Operation Northwoods, the plans reportedly included the possible assassination of Cuban émigrés, sinking boats of Cuban refugees on the high seas, hijacking planes, blowing up a U.S. ship, and even orchestrating violent terrorism in U.S. cities. The plans were developed as ways to trick the American public and the international community into supporting a war to oust Cuba's then new leader, communist Fidel Castro.

America's top military brass even contemplated causing U.S. military casualties, writing: "We could blow up a U.S. ship in Guantanamo Bay and blame Cuba," and, "casualty lists in U.S. newspapers would cause a helpful wave of national indignation."

Details of the plans are described in Body of Secrets (Doubleday), a new book by investigative reporter James Bamford about the history of America's largest spy agency, the National Security Agency. However, the plans were not connected to the agency, he notes. The plans had the written approval of all of the joint Chiefs of Staff and were presented to President Kennedy's defense secretary, Robert McNamara (->), in March 1962. But they apparently were rejected by the civilian leadership and have gone undisclosed for nearly 40 years."

The original document, in 2001-2002 mirrored on various websites, including copvcia.com (->) as one of the first, included "a series of well coordinated incidents":

1. start rumours (many) Use clandestine radio.
2. Land friendly cubans in uniform "over the fence" to stage attack on the base
3. Capture Cubans (friendly) saboteurs inside the base
4. Start riots near the base main gate (friendly cubans)
5. Blow up ammunition inside the base, start fires
6. Burn aircraft on air base (sabotage)

...
(10) Sabotage ship in harbor; large fires --naphtalene
(11) Sink Ship near harbor entrance. Conduct funerals for mock victims

Notinourname shared a similar name of an anti-war organisation, and the title of a documentary, released in March 2002.

Narrated by Jeremy Hardy, the film presents powerful evidence, that the US attack on Afghanistan has not helped defeat terrorism - in fact, the film suggests, the US-led military actions have resulted in the deaths of thousands of innocent civilians and made the world a much more dangerous place.

The documentary was promoted in 2002 by mwaw.org (Media Workers against War ->). The film is available on video cassette directly from TV Choice.

Not In My Name is a predominantly, though not exclusively Jewish group, based in Chicago, which is opposed the Israeli occupation of the Palestinian Territories.

NSA

Right after Sep11th, 2001, the NSA (headquartered in Fort Meade) claimed, that they have intercepted a phone call from some muslim suspects on Sep10th, but had no chance to translate it until Sep12th.

It was downplayed by the White House and immediately vanished from the mainstream papers.

The original story was altered various times.

Once it was Bin Laden, who spoke with his mother (who later even turned out to be his step-mother only), then it was new "financial mastermind" Sulaiman Abu Ghaith, who was speaking with Mohammad Atta.

One of the earliest versions had been reported by ABC:

"Shortly before Sept. 11, NSA intercepts detected multiple phone calls from Abu Zubaida, bin Laden's chief of operations, to the United States. The intercepts were never passed on."

On June 20th, 2002, suddenly the NSA-story was leaked again.

However, this time the White House complained that "a House-Senate probe into the Sept. 11 attacks" had released sensitive information about the NSA intercepts.

White House spokesman Ari Fleischer publicly complained about the leaks to the media of two messages intercepted Sept. 10 by the National Security Agency, while Vice President Dick Cheney called leaders of the congressional 9/11 probe to express his fear that national security could be put at risk.

The Cheney reaction, reinforced by President Bush, surprised some government officials who said the central information in the broadcast and newspaper reports has been public knowledge for months. "This basic story has been around a long time," one senior government official said.

On August 24th, 2002, AP reported, that the FBI asked for information on any contact those senators had with reporters between noon on June 18 to 3:15 p.m. on June 19th 2002.

That is when CNN reported on the details of two Arabic-language messages the National Security Agency intercepted Sept. 10 making vague references to an impending attack on the United States. Other news organizations reported on the messages, too.

Already shortly after the attack, the NSA decided to erase sensitive data:

"...Analysts at the super-secret National Security Agency, acting on advice from the organization's lawyers, have been destroying data collected on Americans or US companies since the Sept. 11 attacks - angering other intelligence agencies seeking leads in the antiterrorist probe, according to two people with close intelligence ties.

...people familiar with the NSA, including some who have worked for it, dismiss the idea that the agency needed to destroy the information immediately. Although that's been the NSA's practice in the past, they believe the NSA's own rules allow it to change that practice in the face of the threat of terrorism.

They believe the real reason behind the agency's stance is its longstanding distaste for sharing raw data with other intelligence organizations. "There are some people in law enforcement who are very unhappy about it, because they need investigative leads," said Vincent Cannistraro, former director of counterterrorism at the CIA."

On March 2nd, 2003, the UK Observer released a rewritten memo, which pointed on a secret document how to bug phones and emails of key Security Council members to get their vote on Iraq.

Dated 31 January 2003, the memo was circulated four days after the UN's chief weapons inspector Hans Blix (->) produced his interim report on Iraqi compliance with UN resolution 1441.

It was sent by Frank Koza, chief of staff in the 'Regional Targets' section of the NSA, which spies on countries that are viewed as strategically important for United States interests. The words, "New World Order," were first mentioned in the contemporary context by the American president George Bush in 1990, when he exulted over the West's supposed victory in the Cold War with the Soviet Union. His words offered hope ("new") for a better life ("world") ahead; one which would be based on (law and) "order," rather than on raw exercise of power, which the Kremlin's "East Side Gang" used in its spheres of influence and control.

The "New World Order" is confused with an ideology, based on the science fiction novel by Robert Anton Wilson, who described the cult "illuminati", which actually doesn't exist any longer.

Other try to distract from New World Order to Zionism or any other paranoic construction.

The New World Order is even not new. Based on the knowledge, that oil and water is running out, it looks like an old wish to get rid of some ideologies or religions, which seem to be counterproductive for business plans.

The idea of a New World Order was picked up again on Sep11th, by Gary Hart (->) of the CFR (->).

In February 2003, Defence Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, a hardliner in Bush's inner sanctum, has left no one in doubt that France and Germany, by their peace actions, risk being sidelined in a "future world order".

The still-unidentified flight instructor became wary of Moussaoui immediately, according to Oberstar. According to Oberstar, PAN AM listed two of the other hijackers in their schools, too:

Hani Hanjour, who couldn't speak english and Mohammad Atta, who sent an inquiry, but them decided to learn in Venice, Florida.

O'Brien, Danielle

Danielle O'Brien, air traffic controller in Dulles.

September 11th, 2001 -8:18 AM:
Airport air traffic controller Danielle O'Brien (Dulles) handled the routine, on-time departure of American Flight 77:
I slid over to the controller on my left, Tom Howell, and I asked him, 'Do you see an unidentified plane near southwest of Dulles?'" she remembered.

"And his response was, 'Yes. Oh, my gosh, yes, look how fast he is.' In the room, it was almost a sense of relief," O'Brien said. 'This must be a fighter. This must be one of our guys sent in, scrambled to patrol our capital, and to protect our president.'

O'Brien had already handed Flight 77 off to a different air traffic control center.

"And we waited. And we waited," O'Brien recalled. "And your heart is just beating out of your chest. And then the Washington National Airport controllers came over our speakers in our room and said, 'Dulles, hold all of our inbound traffic. The Pentagon's been hit.'
9:06 AM:

NY Police broadcast:
"This was a terrorist attack. Notify the Pentagon."

The Pentagon didn't react.

O'Brien explained, that the craft that hit the Pentagon had the speed and maneuverability of a "military plane". Her account was published on the ABCnews site and used on the National Air Traffic Controllers Association site:

"I noticed the aircraft. It was an unidentified plane to the southwest of Dulles, moving at a very high rate of speed. I had literally a blip and nothing more."

"And it went 'six, five, four.' And I had it in my mouth to say three, and all of a sudden the plane turned away. In the room, it was almost a sense of relief. This must be a fighter. This must be one of our guys sent in, scrambled to patrol our capital, and to protect our president, and we sat back in our chairs and breathed for just a second," says O'Brien.

Odean, Phillip A.
============================
From a GROUND ZERO Forum article by ewing2001, originally released at Scoop:

"...No one knows Philip A. Odean yet, but he has one of the rare privileges to have a safe government job until 2010. His ties to the Sept 11th-story have been revealed on the same day, when someone on a public message board at TV Clubhouse wrote these disturbing notes, even without mentioning Odeen's name:

"...I heard earlier today they knew this was coming... I have a brother who lives and works close to the Wright/Patterson Air Force base in Dayton...The company he works for said the officials at W/P advised them to send home all employees... stating W/P was to be target number 6 and they have known this since last night..."

After this member was asked, what she was talking about, she explained: "...they shut down a national company with 10,000 Dayton employees for it. I lived in Dayton for 10 years and I know they had night-flights and missions but it was a rep from W/P asking to shut down the company and giving them the information not just someone off the streets..."

Her reaction seemed pretty credible, because she didn't imply much, but maybe everyone should come to their own conclusion. Here she reveals the name of this company:

"...I do know Reynolds and Reynolds pretty well I worked there for 10 years and I know they wouldn't close the doors on hearsay... I haven't brought it up until now when just because I knew the reaction would be just exactly what it is... that is why I waited until it was already brought up here..."

While this discussion member remained unknown, her story about Reynolds & Reynolds and Wright/Patterson is still untold in the public media.

President of R&R is Philip A. Odeen, who was at that time CEO and President of BDM International (Chairman of the Board is former Defense Secretary Frank Carlucci/Carlyle ->). Odeen is still Executive Vice President, Washington Operations of TRW (->), which was bought by Northrop Grumman (->) in July 2002.

Northrop is in the meantime well known for their Global Hawk unmanned surveillance planes, which were used in Afghanistan.

TRW merged in 1998 with Lockheed Martin Corp to becoming the nation's second-largest defense contractor. Reynolds & Reynolds is one of the contractors of TRW...

...Some weeks before Sept 11th Reynolds & Reynolds sold its information solutions group to the Carlyle Group of Washington, D.C and formed ...In December 2001, General Motors designated Reynolds & Reynolds Co. as one of its preferred services marketing vendors.

R & R CEO Philip A. Odeen is well known at the CFR, who supported the National Security Council in the 70s, therefore he has many ties with the military industry.

Did a friend warn him on September 10th?

As Director of Program Analysis for the National Security Council, Odeen provided staff support to Dr. Henry Kissinger (->) from 1971 to 1973 on a wide range of defense and foreign policy issues including arms control, nuclear strategy and military force structure issues.

http://www.stimson.org/ausia/odeen.htm

He served as Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense in Systems Analysis and worked closely with the Secretary of Defense and other senior DOD leaders on defense planning and programming issues.

http://www.relizon.com
In February 1997, Odeen was named by former Secretary of Defense William Cohen to chair the National Defense Panel.

At that time he was already lobbied by Lockheed Martin and McDonnell Douglas, but other members like Richard D. Hearney Gen., USMC (McDonnell Douglas), David E. Jeremiah Adm., USN (Technology Strategies), Robert M. Kimmitt Brig. Gen. (Lehman Brothers ->), a large investment banking firm involved with defense contractor financing, for example the merger of Lockheed Martin and Loral in 1996) or Robert W. RisCassi Gen, worked for Lockheed Martin at the same time as well.

Did this panel already spin the ideology for the next 4-20 years?

In December 1997, the NDP provided an asessment of alternative force structures for the US military through the year 2010 to the Secretary and the Congress.

Furthermore Odeen is director of the Washington Gas Light Company.

On their website we learn more about the credit profile of Odeen's company Reynolds & Reynolds.

They share the services of Credit Suisse First Boston http://www.reyrey.com/about/history.html

Odeen wrote once in his Quadrennial Defense Review, which was supported by the Honorable Richard L. Armitage (->).

He shared the same ideas about Joint 2020 as Henry H. Shelton (->):

"...our intention is to stimulate a wider debate on our defense priorities and the need for a transformation to meet the challenges of 2020. Such a debate will be critical in building the necessary support of the Congress and American people for the extensive changes that must be made...If we achieve that, we will have fulfilled our mission and our commitment to you, the Congress, and the American people.

Sincerely,

Philip A. Odeen...

http://www.fas.org/man/docs/ndp/front.htm

More interesting, we find this information in another section of the Quadrennial Defense Review:

"...The first National Defense Panel under section 184 of title 10, United States Code (as added by subsection (a)), shall be established in 2004...

http://www.cdi.org/issues/qdr/NDP.html#membership904
http://www.cdi.org/issues/qdr/NDP.html

What kind of "transformation" is Odeen was talking about, and what exactly is planned for 2004?

In a Testimony from January 28, 1998 Odeen mentions, "adversaries including terrorists":

"...the future we face in 2020 will be very different. A whole host of new challenges and opportunities are emerging. While we may find ourselves facing enemies on traditional battlegrounds, it is far more likely that we will face very different adversaries and that our conflicts will include locations in space, throughout our information networks, in highly urbanized areas, within the undeveloped and developing world and, perhaps even on our own soil. Our adversaries will include not just the armed forces of nations, but also international criminals and terrorist groups...

...Odeen's National Defense Industrial Association conference is always held in Monterey (->).

Odeen, as chairman of the Defense Science Board, which advises the Pentagon, had a lot of influence over the last 4 years to decide in which direction the Pentagon should think.

...One example:
The Nunn-Lugar-Domenici Domestic Preparedness Program was designed to increase training of potential first responders to WMD terrorist incidents within the United States. By the end of 1998, 40 U.S. cities had received training, with training ongoing in an additional 80.

As part of this program, each designated city receives $300,000 from DOD for personal protection, decontamination, and detection equipment.

Offutt-Case
=============
Located in Bellevue, Nebraska AFB.
Offutt is part of some interesting angles of the Sep11th attack.

By coincidence, some WTC executes "evacuated" to Offutt Air Force Base just prior to Sep 11event:

"On the morning of Sept. 11, (CEO) Tatlock herself had just arrived with a small group of business leaders at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha for a charity event hosted by Warren Buffett.

She then heard the news of the first plane hitting the World Trade Center's north tower.
"There on the screen, I saw the second plane crash into my office," Tatlock recalled.

...so the supposed event these business leaders were attending, at an Air Force base of all places, was a "charity" event organized by Warren Buffet of "The terrorists are coming, the terrorists are coming" fame."
Tatlock is a high CEO in the Franklin Funds group, a group that had offices in the World Trade Center. The cover story in this article for her presence at Offutt was a charity event.”

"Al-Qaeda is always there, where the oil is, even in Asia or South America"

Anonymous Netizen

From 1949 to 1972, the demand for oil increased by five and a half times in the USA, by 15 times in Western Europe and by 137 times in Japan.

The hydrocarbon society was born and developed through the 50s, 60s and 70s.
The petrochemicals industry converts the oil molecule into clothes, food and fertilisers, added to the value of oil as a raw material for energy and trade strategies.

In 1971, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, Opec, was established.

Two years later, came the world's first oil boycott, as a part of the so-called Yom-Kippur war between Israel and Egypt in October 1973.

The signal to the world was a clear one. Oil was cast into power politics and it is still there as a global power in itself.

To understand, why the so called "war on terrorism" is in reality a war on oil, which needed an official startup (Sep11b), one has to examine the different positions of ChevronTexaco, BP Amoco, SOCAR, Exxon Mobil, British Gas, Agip, ConocoPhillips/Phillips Petroleum the Norwegian Statoil, TotalFinaElf, Russia LukOil/LukArco, GasProm of Ex-Premier Tschernomyrdin, KazMunaiGaz in Kazakhstan, Mitsui of Japan and a few more.

1,200 oil investment companies and manufacturers of oil equipment are competing on the oil of the Middle East, the Norwayan-Russian North Sea, the Caspian Sea and other worldwide sea parts.

Very important is the history of Russia since 1996 or better the story of Chalva Tchigirinski, who is one of the directors of Sibir Energy plc, which has its headquarter in Moscow.

( [http://www.sibirenergy.com/corporate/directory/) ]

Mr. Tchigirinski is the representative of the largest shareholder in Sibir. In this capacity he is a Director of Yugraneft, a Director of both Evikhon and Salymp Petroleum Development NV.

He is President of both Moscow Oil Company and Central Fuel Company (which controls the Moscow refinery) neither of which are in competition with Sibir.

His interests in the sector include a key role in British Petroleum's impressive fuel retail network in Moscow.

Sibir Energy is a UK independent oil and gas production company that produces about 3 million barrels of oil annually and has development plans for oilfields with reserves of almost a billion barrels of oil.

Sibir Energy plc was formed in 1996 by its parent, Pentex Energy plc, a UK independent oil and gas company.

Founded in 1996 with the specific aim of acquiring substantial and inexpensive reserves of Russian oil in the ground, Sibir had amassed 2.2 billion barrels of recoverable oil by the beginning of 2001. Among the directors of Sibir are Tchigirinski's brother Alexander, Mr. Alexander Betsky (three years of accounting and audit experience with Ernst & Young), Urs J. Haener, Non-Executive Director (and former President and CEO of Credit Suisse-Moscow), Henry O. Cameron, William L. S. Guinness and a few others.

Sibirs auditor is Ernst & Young.

In December 2001, a few weeks after the opening of a new pipeline in Uzbekistan, Sibir tried to to merge with the Central Fuel Company that owns a refinery and a big retail network in Moscow region. They announced, that they had acquired a further 20 per cent stake in Yugraneft from Gazprom.

Gazprom later had major problems.

On March 06, 2002 the Energy News Portal Gas+Oil wrote in their issue, that Gazprom became the "russian ENRON": "...As financial scandals go, this one has everything. A Big Five accounting firm accused of overlooking wildly improper deals in its probes of a client's books. A client that's one of the country's biggest energy firms, and yet is now a symbol for the evils of croncy capitalism. The amounts involved? Billions and billions. There's more: Leaked documents, infuriated shareholders, threatened lawsuits. Even the President of the country is angry...?"

(Source: [http://www.gasandoil.com/goc/company/cm21050.htm] )

Auditor of Gazprom was US-company PricewaterhouseCoopers, the world's largest accounting firm, who signed a new CEO, Samuel A. DiPiazza, on January 1st 2002.

Back to Sibir:

In June 2000 Sibir completed already the acquisition of an additional 62% of Russian oil and gas producing company Evikhon and the first 23.551% from Yugraneft.

And Sibneft, in an joint venture with Sibir Energy, hooked up in March 2002 with former Dick Cheney's company Halliburton ( -> ):

[http://www.gasandoil.com/goc/company/cm21067.htm] (->)

Sibir was part of PGS International, which became the leader of the Transcaspian gas pipeline project consortium in February 1999.

(Source: [http://www.eurasiagnet.org/resource/turkmenistan/hypermail/200009/0025.html] )

Later, the consortium was joined by the British-Dutch Shell company which took over 50 per cent sponsorship of the project, as well as responsibility for providing the pipeline with Turkmen raw gas.

The story of Sibir developed successfully in 2002. Tatenf, the country's number six producer, bought 33% atake in London-listed Sibir Energy.

In July 2002 the UK-based Sibir Energy and russian Lukoil together with the Latsis Group of Greece, Rosneft and Sibneft (Russia) bought stakes in Croatia's INA Industria Nafte.

Oil-barrel.com reported in August 2002, that "Sibir took a large step forward in becoming a fully integrated Russian oil and gas company earlier this year when it finalised downstream arrangements, which will complement the company’s substantial, but as yet unexploited upstream reserves.

Two Russian groups Tatneft and Corus Holdings announced they were investing in Sibir. Initially they were to lend US$120 million to Sibir and subsequently subscribe for ordinary shares in Sibir to the value of US$240 million (£166 million) at 22.8p a share.

Sibir decided to concentrate on Russia over two years ago (2000) when a series of deals with Mr Chalva Tchigirinski, a well known Russia business man, saw him injecting assets including Probskoye into Sibir and ending up with 51 per cent of the company’s capital. Sibir has some production through its Yuzknoye and Orekhovskoye fields but the amounts are modest.
...The Russian major Sibur has a 40 per cent interest in Priobskoye and will be the developer. This is a long-term venture. In the Salym project there is a 50/50 per cent joint venture with Shell, essentially to develop two thirds of the Salym field.

...While these mega deals were going on, Sibir, with loans due, found it was running out of cash. Accordingly Sibir has sold its Pentex group of assets onshore the UK. The price received was US$36 million. Some US$15 million was ringed fenced in a loan to the Bank of Scotland.
...The deals with Tatneft and Corus mean between them these two companies will hold 33 per cent of Sibir.

At the end of 2002 it was more than obvious, that the whole "war on terrorism" was in reality a "war on oil" and a battle between US-/UK-, russian (Lukoil->) and french oil (TotalFina ->) industries.

Russia and France resisted for many months against the US plans to invade Iraq, who had already oil contracts with Lukoil and TotalFina.

It was well known, that Halliburton, Baker Hughes, Schlumberger, Flowserve, Fisher-Rosemount had used subsidiaries of these joint venture companies to deal with Iraqi oil companies.

China (China OGP, http://www.chinaogp-online.com/), didn't participate in the oil on war yet, because it reaches its mid-1990s OECD level of energy/GDP by 2050.

Due to a study, The World Oil Supply 1990-2030, which was completed in late 1995 by the prestigious Geneva, Switzerland-based group Petroconsultants and a second report, prepared by Oak Ridge National Laboratory for the Office of Transportation Technology of the U.S. Department of Energy, the world is running out of "cheap oil".

By 2050, the 1994 report said, world oil production would drop to 17.5 million barrels a day, or slightly more than it was in the 1950s.

"The problem of gradually tightening world oil supplies is exacerbated by a growing concentration of remaining reserves in the Persian Gulf. All other producing countries but the five Persian Gulf states (Saudi Arabia, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait, and the United Arab Emirates) will peak before 2000" Source: http://www.aeae.org/www/684-1.html

In 2000, the CIA released their paper "Global Trends 2015", in which they described a "cooperation between governments and private organizations and to the growing reach of international criminal and terrorist networks" and a "rising demand for OPEC oil".

"The responsibilities of once "semiautonomous" government agencies increasingly will intersect because of the transnational nature of national security priorities and because of the clear requirement for interdisciplinary policy responses."

"The potential for conflict will arise from rivalries in Asia, ranging from India-Pakistan to China-Taiwan, as well as among the antagonists in the Middle East."

"By 2015, only one-tenth of Persian Gulf oil will be directed to Western markets; three-quarters will go to Asia."

"The Persian Gulf region- absent a major war- will see large increases in oil production capacity...Russia and the Middle East account for three-quarters of known gas reserves."

"Developments in Afghanistan and Pakistan will threaten regional stability."

In January 2001 socialist paper "Wsws" speculated, that "oil and gas pipelines to China from Turkmenistan and Kazakhstan could be extended to link into the pipeline networks of both Russia and Iran". (Source: http://www.wsws.org/articles/2001/jan2001/oil-j03.shtml )

In 1998, US oil company UNOCAL stopped their negotiations with the Taliban to start working on a huge pipeline project. After the war against the Taliban started in late December 2001, one of the former UNOCAL advisors, Zalmay Khalilzad (->), a senior strategist at Rand (->), became a key National Security Council adviser on Afghanistan. French paper LeMonde claimed, that Hamid Karzai, President of Afghanistan worked for UNOCAL, too, as a consultant. It was never proven, if Le Mondes informations had been based on a confusion with Khalilzad, however the ties between him and UNOCAL are true.

As the Guardian reported, gas reserves in afghanistan could be 576 trillion cubic feet.
http://www.guardian.co.uk/waronterror/story/0,1361,579401,00.html

The afghanistan pipeline project was once part of the Cent Gas Consortium in the Mid90s, at that time supported by ENRON, Conoco, Halliburton, UNOCAL (all US), PSG International Ltd. (a UK-based con-sortium of US companies General Electric and Bechtel), and Shell (UK/The Netherlands).

On November 26th, 2001, CNN reported, that a new pipeline will pump around 600,000 barrels of oil to the west from Central Asia each day.

The $2.6 billion Caspian Pipeline Consortium (CPC) project runs from the Tengiz oilfield in western Kazakhstan to Russia

In February 2002, "...Pakistani President, Gen Pervez Musharraf, and the Afghan interim leader, Mr Hamid Karzai, agreed ... that their two countries should develop "mutual brotherly relations" and co-operate "in all spheres of activity" - including a proposed gas pipeline from Central Asia to Pakistan via Afghanistan.

"We have agreed unanimously ... on working together to develop strong brotherly co-operation, brotherly relations between Afghanistan and Pakistan in all spheres of activity." Gen Musharraf said after their talks...

In November 2000, former CIA director James Woolsey (->) already explained, that "during the Gulf War, Iraq came close to controlling half the world's oil. This could happen again, he warned."

Source: http://journalism.unl.edu/joe/fal00/1101/state4.html

In an January 2003 interview with DER SPIEGEL, Woolsey confirmed, that the war against Iraq is about oil:
http://www.spiegel.de/spiegel/0,1518,231338,00.html

Q: Also geht es auch diesmal um Öl ...
Woolsey: ... aber nicht nur um Americas Abhängigkeit vom Öl, sondern um die der ganzen Welt. Auf kurze Sicht liegt unsere grundlegende Verwundbarkeit darin, dass die Saudis die Fördermenge schnell drosseln oder steigern können, weil sie über die Hälfte der weltweiten "swing capacity", insgesamt vier Millionen Barrel, verfügen. Damit haben die Saudis entscheidenden Einfluss auf den Ölpreis. Wir müssen dem Nahen Osten die Ölwaffe wegnnehmen.

The Moussaoui-Atta connection:

JULY 26 - AUGUST 1, 2002
The Terrorist Motel
The I-40 connection between Zacarias Moussaoui and Mohamed Atta
The motel co-owner, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the incident occurred around August 1, 2001, just six weeks before 9/11.

"They came in around 10 or 11 a.m. and started talking to my desk clerk," he said. Even though he was working about 10 feet away from the trio, the owner didn't really pay any attention at first. "They were asking my clerk, who no longer works here, about a weekly rate for our rooms."
(The former clerk could not be reached for comment.)

The motel, explained the owner, sets aside some rooms with small kitchenettes to rent on a weekly basis. "But they were all taken." He said the clerk explained the situation, but the visitors were persistent. "Finally, my clerk asked me to talk to them."

The motel owner said that Moussaoui and a man who appeared to be Marwan al-Shehhi -- who helped crash a jetliner into the south tower of the World Trade Center -- were friendly and said a few things, but Atta was clearly the leader. "He did most of the talking and seemed very serious," said the owner, adding, "I was standing face to face, about two feet away from Atta, and talked to the three of them for about 10 minutes. Atta asked if he could rent one of the other rooms at a weekly rate, and I told him no."
"I asked him what they were doing here in the area. And Atta told me they were going to flight school. I thought he meant [Federal Aviation Administration] training in Oklahoma City. But Atta told me no, they were taking flight training in Norman (->).

The motel owner was debriefed by an FBI agent and by Oklahoma City Police Sergeant Jerry Flowers.

Oklahoma Bombing-911 Ties

Larry Johnson, the former deputy director of the State Department's office on counterterrorism, told Fox News Channel's Bill O'Reilly in May 2002, that the paths of 9-11 hijackers Mohamed Atta, Marwan Al-Shehhi and Zacarias Moussaoui crossed on more than one occasion with that of John Doe No. 2, the name given to the man witnesses say helped Timothy McVeigh carry out the Oklahoma City bombing.

The FBI was so convinced of the importance of John Doe No. 2 that it even distributed police sketches in an effort to track him down.

"He was seen with Timothy McVeigh three days before the bombing, the morning of the bombing, and he was seen by one of the witnesses getting out of the Ryder truck after it pulled up in front of the Murrah building," the ex-State Department official explained.

Johnson, along with a growing contingent of independent probers, believes that John Doe No. 2 is actually Hussain Hashim Alhussaini, a former member of Iraq's elite Republican Guard.

"The thing that really concerns me relative to 9-11 [is that] when he left Oklahoma around 1996 and 1997, he went to work at Logan Airport in Boston (-> Boston)." Johnson told O'Reilly. "We don't know where he is now."

As bizarre as the Logan Airport tie-in may seem, the coincidences don't end there, according to Johnson.

"The motel in Oklahoma City where the April [1995] bombing was planned and executed - that same motel figures in [the travel of] two of the 9-11 hijackers and Zacarias Moussaoui," he told O'Reilly.

The al-Qaeda trio stayed at the 1995 bombers' motel just five weeks before the 9-11 attacks, Johnson said.

"I've spoken to the owner of the motel," the anti-terror prober said. "After the 9-11 attacks he called the FBI, the FBI came out and interviewed him - and he identified Mohamed Atta, Marwan Al-Shehhi and Zacarias Moussaoui."

Atta, Al-Shehhi and Moussaoui said they were planning on enrolling in a local flight school, the motel owner told the one-time State Department prober.

Olsen, Barbara

Due to the official story, CNN reporter Barbara Olsen, did make two phone calls from Flight 77 (->) to her husband Ted Olsen (->), but later Ted Olsen changed the original story.

Olsen, Ted

Ted Olsen reportedly contacted CNN (less than 12 hours after the alleged crash in which his wife perished), to tell them about the "phone call" from his wife Barbara Olsen.

Mr. Olsen was not personally quoted in the news accounts of the alleged phone call.

From an independent analysis:

"What's even more curious is that Mr. Olsen is said to have told CNN that his wife made the call from a phone attached to the back of a seat on the aircraft. She supposedly used that phone because she didn't have her cell phone, because it was in her purse, and she didn't have her purse with her, in the back of the aircraft (which is where she supposedly was, along with everyone else on board FL 77, except for the terrorist(s) "flying the B757)."

The phone she is said to have used, would have required a credit card to be swiped to make the phone operable. Thus, she would have had to borrow someone else's credit card in order to make a phone call. Ted supposedly told CNN that she called him collect. However; once a credit card is swiped, you can begin using the phone to make calls. So, no collect call would have been made.

If there are records reflecting a call to the Justice Department (where Ted was on the morning of 9-11), and a charge on a credit card for use of a phone aboard FL 77, that would be strong evidence that the "call" story is true.

If no such phone call was made, then much of the official story line about 9-11 events is subject to even more doubt."

Due to AA, this is how the telephone system works on their planes:

"To Place a Call:

Slide your credit card through the side of the phone and then dial 00 + country code + area or city code + number followed by the # key. Rates for satellite calls are $5.00 to connect and $10.00 per minute. Billing begins when a call is answered. Partial minutes are rounded up and billed as a full minute. *

https://www.aa.com/content/travelInformation/duringFlight/onboardTechnology.jhtml

Dan Hawkes, head of avionics at the AA's Safety Regulation Group, says, "A cell phone emits more power the further it is from base station. So as an aircraft climbs, the mobile signal increases in power, boosting the interference level at a critical time in flight."
Nokia, for example, has this warning in its user manual, which accompanies all cell-phone purchases: "Switch off on aircraft. Do not use phones on airplanes as this can cause interference with the navigational equipment. Also, the use of phones on airplanes is illegal."

Opium War Afghanistan

According to the United Nations Drug Control Programme, the Taliban produced an enormous 4600 metric tonnes of opium in 1999, and 3276 tonnes in 2000. Being as they understand supply and demand in the only true free market on the planet, narcotics, they withheld supply in order not to deflate the price.

Then in May 2001, Colin Powell, gave the regime $43 million in an open bribe to thank them for what has now been revealed as one of the most successful 'wars on drugs' ever seen.

The Taliban indeed reduce their cultivation of opium, by an enormous 91%. Production of opium in Afghanistan fell from 3276 tonnes in 2000 to 185 tonnes in 2001 (UNDCP). This happened because the ‘evil’ Mullah Omar ordered a ban (as reported by U.S. State Department), in order to gain some international acceptance. The 185 tonnes produced were, in fact, mainly produced by the so-called ‘Northern Alliance’ (->), another loose collection of right wing thugs and maniacs.

Source: Adam Porter, Guerrilla News Network

On March 28th, 2002 the Bush administration decided not to destroy the opium crop in Afghanistan. President Bush, who formerly linked the Afghan drug trade directly to terrorism, okayed the opium poppy fields who started blooming and ready for harvest.

U.S. forces could destroy the crops using aerial spraying techniques, but no such actions had been planned.

"The war in Afghanistan will be decided within the next six weeks based on whether or not the poppy crops go to market," stated a U.S. intelligence official who returned in March 2002 from Afghanistan.

Jose Padilla aka Abdallah Al Muhajir.

Officially captured on May 8th 2002, as he flew from Pakistan into O'Hare International Airport in Chicago, Illinois.
This was reported one month later, in June 2002.

Earlier, on the same weekend, Judicial Watch announced a lawsuit against some US Government agencies.
On the same weekend many 911 victim groups, organised by unansweredquestions.org had a press conference in Washington, which should be originally broadcasted by C|Span.

The Channel cancelled the broadcast after John Ashcroft announced the arrestment of Padilla.
Only 2 months later noone talked about this case anymore. It was said, that Padilla had never been a threat to the United States and his story was based on some misinformations.

Palast, Greg
=================================
Journalist (BBC), author ("How much money democracy can buy") and co-producer of the documentary "Counting on Democracy".
Greg Palast became a specialist of the Florida election 2000 and investigated on the political situation in Venezuela.

While working on his book in 2001, Palast found out, that President Bush asked the FBI to stop investigating on the Bin Laden Family. Palast was able to prove, that the election was rigged, with the help of the company DBT Online and manipulated voting lists.

In an March 2002, Interview with Buzzflash.com, Palast answered on some questions:

BUZZFLASH: Is there any doubt in your mind that Gov. Jeb Bush and Katherine Harris, removed 57,000 African-American voters from the registries because they knew that George W. Bush needed to carry Florida to "win" the presidency?

GREG PALAST: Well, golly gee, are you telling me a politician doesn't know what happens in a state where every vote is fought over, and they were wondering what would happen when they could just erase 57,708 votes with the flick of a computer button. Did that happen by accident? My God, politicians look at every single vote. 57,000 votes is not just something that they lost track of.

One of the biggest supporters of Palast are filmmakers Richard Ray Pérez and Joan Sekler, who runs www.unprecedented.org, which documented "the battle for the Presidency in Florida".

Passenger list

None of the official hijackers of the Sep11th-attack appeared on the original manifest of the passenger list.

Sources:

Original manifests mirrored at:
http://www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzero/aa11.htm
http://www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzero/aa77.htm
http://www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzero/UA175.htm
http://www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzero/UA93.htm

Here are the official infos about these "hijackers". Many of the real identities are still alive.
The FBI ignored these facts during 2001-2002 and never updated their suspect list.

"Official Pilots":

1) Waleed Alshehri, AA11, North Tower WTC.
   Name not on passenger list.
   Believed to be a pilot, though first reports said, his brother might have been a pilot, too.
   CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on him:
   Possible confused identity with the son of a Saudi Arabian diplomat

Father Mohammad Alshehri said in a "20-20"- interview, Waleed had no flying experience.
Then he left for the first time in his live his town for a trip to Medina.
His father said, he had a strong sense of humour, was live loving, in contact with his father and called him in January 2001, 8 months before 911, he would be "on his way home". He never called back.
His father never got an official visit by the FBI and learned from his son's death from the news and local newspapers.
Saudi Authorities told him, that they had no hard evidence, that his son was involved in the hijack.

2) Mohammad Atta, AA11, North Tower WTC
   Name not on passenger list.
   Believed to be the pilot of that plane.
   Instead of thinking about committing suicide only, he officially applied for a student visa, together with Marwan Al-Shehhi.
   These visas arrived after a "bureaucratic backlog" in March 2001 at Al-Shehhi flight school Huffmann Aviation by Rudi Dekkers.

Author Daniel Hopsinker linked Huffmann Aviation to the CIA connected company
For odd reasons an AP story said, "On the form, filled out by a Huffman assistant, Atta's name is spelled "Mohomed."
Due to local reports Dekkers assistant who filled these visas out, Nicole Antini, was just then being sexually harassed by Rudi Dekkers, her beefy middle-aged boss, according to a lawsuit for sexual harassment which Dekker's was forced to settle recently for an undisclosed sum.

In 2001, the Mossad observed various muslim students, who trained at military flight schools, including Mohammad Atta and warned the CIA twice of a possible terrorist attack.
Leaked to the european press in late 2002, early 2003, it came out, that Mohammad Atta was even observed since 1998 by german intelligence, regarding his contacts (-> Darkanzali, Mamoun).

This fits with other articles on Darkanzali, who was in contact with some spanish suspects, which telephone had been tapped.
In another article it was reported, that the CIA tried to hire Darkanzali as an informant.

3)  Hani Hanjour, AA77, Pentagon
Name not on passenger list.
Believed to be the pilot of that plane. It was said, he held a commercial pilot's license that expired in October, 1999. It was stated, that Lotfi Raissi was his flying teacher.
But Raissi, who was arrested in September 2001 in United Kingdom, was plead un guilty in February 2002 and is free again.

4)  Marwan Al-Shehhi, UA 175, South Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.
Believed to be the pilot of that plane.
Instead of thinking about committing suicide only, he officially applied for a student visa. These visas arrived after a "bureaucratic backlog" in March 2001 at Al-Shehhi's flight school Huffmann Aviation. Author Daniel Hopsicker linked Huffmann Aviation (->) to a CIA connected company

The accomplices:

5)  Saeed Alghamdi, UA93, Pennsylvannia
Name not on passenger list.
CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on him:
"Identity is disputed"
The real Saeed Alghamdi said to newspaper Asharq Al Awsat, he is still alive and pilot for Saudi Airlines.
Saudi Airlines said once it was considering legal action against the FBI for seriously damaging its reputation and that of its pilots.

6)  Ahmad Ibrahim A. Al Haznawi, UA93, Pennsylvannia
Name not on passenger list.

7)  Ahmed Alnami UA93, Pennsylvannia
Name not on passenger list.
Father Abdullah Alnami said to "20/20" (Barbara Walters) his son left home - for the first time in his life — six months before the attacks, and believes, he is innocent.
Another Abdullah Alnami said (before the photos had been released!), he is administrative supervisor with Saudi Arabian Airlines and was in Riyadh when the terrorists struck.

8)  Ziad Samir Jarrah, UA93, Pennsylvannia
Name not on passenger list.
Believed to be the pilot of that plane.

9)  Fayez Rashid Ahmed Hassan Al Qadi Banihammad, UA 175, South Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.

10)  Wail M. Alshehri, , AA11, North Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.
CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on him:
Possible confused identity with the son of a Saudi Arabian diplomat
Father thinks, he and his brother are innocent.

11)  Satam M.A. Al Suqami, AA11, North Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.

12)  Abdulaziz Alomari, AA11, North Tower WTC
Name not on passenger list.
CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on Alomari:
"Identity is in dispute"
The real Abdulaziz Alomari is alive and an engineer with Saudi Telecoms and claims, his passport was once stolen in Denver.
Another Abdulaziz Al Omari is pilot for Saudi Arabian Airlines.

13)  Khalid Almihdhar, AA77, Pentagon
Name not on passenger list.
CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on him:
"May be an assumed name; there are reports he is still alive"

The real Khalid Al Midhan in fact said, he is alive.

14) Majesty Moqed, AA77, Pentagon
Name not on passenger list.

15) Nawaf Al Hazmi, AA77, Pentagon
Name not on passenger list.

16) Salem Al Hazmi, AA77, Pentagon
Name not on passenger list.

CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on him:
"May be a stolen identity"

The real Al-Hamzi is 26. In September 2001 he had just returned to work at a petrochemical complex in the industrial eastern city of Yanbou.

17) Ahmed Alghamdi, UA 175, South Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.

CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on him:
"Lost his driver's license in 1995 for failing to pay a traffic fine,...Bought plane ticket on August 29 through the Internet using a Mailboxes Etc. address"

18) Hamza Alghamdi, UA 175, South Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.

19) Mohand Alshehri, UA 175, South Tower WTC.
Name not on passenger list.

CNN reported (-> Hijackers, alive) on Alshehi:
"Saudi Embassy has named Alshehri as a victim of mistaken identity"

It is claimed, that he communicated with other hijack plotters.
He once asked to use the Internet at a public library in Delray Beach, Florida.

Sources:

ABC later revealed the owner of the passport on Vesey Street, which was located between the Twin Towers and Building 7.
It belonged to one of the official hijackers, Satam M. A. Al Suqami.
His name was not on the passenger list (->)

Sources:

NOTE:
Due to some rumors, many people still believe, that the passport belonged to Mohammad Atta.
This info was based on disinformation. However, many other people believe, that the passport story was either fabricated or "well prepared".

PATRIOT ACT
=================
The USA PATRIOT ACT stands for "Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism." It was enacted by Congress virtually without significant debate, without detailed committee reports, without a conference committee, and with little floor commentary. Submitted just several days after the September 11 (2001) attacks, it was rushed through Congress at lightning speed for a statute of its size and complexity.

It passed the House on October 24, 2001 by a vote of 357 to 66, and passed the Senate the next day, October 25, 2002, by a vote of 98 to 1. It was signed into law by President Bush the following day, October 26, and is now the law of the land.

(-> vanBergen, Jennifer, ->nogreaterthreat.com, -> Michaels, C. William)

“On what legal meat does this our Caesar feed?” wrote New York Times Columnist William Safire as he blasted President Bush’s November 13 emergency order permitting noncitizens the government has “reason to believe” are terrorists to be tried - inside the U.S - by military tribunals (->).

These trials may be held in secret and the prosecutors do not have to produce evidence if it is “in the interests of national security.” And the condemned may then be executed “even if a third of the officers disagree.”

Safire categorized this as a “dictatorial power to jail or execute aliens.” Bush’s proclamation is a nullification of the 6th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. At the same time that Caesar Bush was announcing this edict the Justice Department was announcing – as reported in the AP on November 15 – that it will not disclose the identities or status of more than 1,100 people arrested or detained since September 11th, nor will it continue to release a running tally of those detained.

During 2002, over 25 US cities revolted against the US Patriot Act:
the Massachusetts cities of Cambridge, Northampton and Amherst and the township of Leverett, as well as the town of Carrboro, N.C., all passed resolutions that call the USA Patriot Act a threat to the civil rights of the residents of their communities. In January 2003, San Francisco followed this initiative, which was supported by filmmaker Michael Moore (->), too.

Note:
Many independent investigators argue, that the Anthrax attack on the US Congress was synchronised with the debate on the Patriot Act to eliminate the UPSP-way and a decision on the act.

The timing and targeting of the letters, the anthrax letters, suggests that the motivation of the perpetrators was to promote legislation, which was the USA Patriot Act.

In 2002, a campaign against the PATRIOT ACT reached many US-Cities. In January 2003, The San Francisco Board of Supervisors on Tuesday passed a resolution opposing the Patriot Act on the grounds it violates civil rights.

In March 2003, Union City, CA, became the 65th city to denounce the act.

PATRIOT Act 2
On February 7, 2003 the Center for Public Integrity, a non-partisan public interest think-tank in DC, revealed the full text of the Domestic Security Enhancement Act of 2003 (Patriot Act II), Whereas the First Patriot Act only gutted the First, Third, Fourth and Fifth Amendments, and seriously damaged the Seventh and the Tenth, the Second Patriot Act reorganizes the entire Federal government as well as many areas of state government under the dictatorial control of the Justice Department, the Office of Homeland Security and the FEMA NORTHCOM military command. The Domestic Security Enhancement Act 2003, also known as the Second Patriot Act is by its very structure the definition of dictatorship.

In March 2002, filmmaker Alexandre Pelosi released a documentary, which "followed Bush on the campaign trail for one of the American networks".

Pelosi claimed, that "the White House initially tried to rubbish her film and her methods - falsely claiming she had told the Bush team her footage was for private use only - but changed tack when they realised the attendant publicity would serve only to increase public curiosity.".

Her documentary "Journeys with George" includes footage of a 18-month trip around the United States as part of the press corps following George W. Bush:

"One summer afternoon we flew from Austin to New York City, Bush spoke at a radio talk-show convention and I took a cab to my apartment to get new clothes. Bush finished his speech early and the motorcade left midtown without me. I was stuck in traffic on the West Side Highway and Bush's plane was leaving JFK in 15 minutes. I pulled over, ran up the highway, jumped in a helicopter, and asked the pilot to fly to JFK. The airspace around Bush's plane was closed and the Secret Service was on the ground waving at us to fly away. The pilot told me he was being warned not to land."

Penn, Sean
==========
Popular filmstar, who decided to visit Iraq to stop the war.
In October 2002, Penn released a full page-advertisement in the Washington Post.
In December 2003, Penn visited Iraq for 3 days:

"...Actor Sean Penn on Friday weighed in on the international debate over a possible war with Iraq, paying for a $56,000 advertisement in the Washington Post accusing U.S. President George W. Bush of stifling debate and threatening civil liberties.

In an open letter to Bush taking up most of a page in the top section of the daily newspaper, the Oscar-nominated star of "I Am Sam" and "Dead Man Walking," urged the president to stop a cycle where "bombing is answered by bombing, mutilation by mutilation, killing by killing."
"I beg you, help save America before yours is a legacy of shame and horror," Penn wrote, echoing voices of caution from around the world that have called for a measured response to allegations Iraq is developing weapons of mass destruction.
The letter was signed "Sincerely, Sean Penn, San Francisco, California." A spokesman for the Washington Post confirmed that it was placed by the Hollywood celebrity, who has starred in more than 40 movies.

Quoting Bush's declaration that the world was either "with us or against us" in the war on terrorism launched after the September 11, 2001, attacks, Penn, 42, said Bush was marginalizing critics, manipulating the media and promoting fear.

Those actions and "your administration's deconstruction of civil liberties all contradict the very core of the patriotism you claim," wrote Penn.
"Sacrificing American soldiers or innocent civilians in an unprecedented preemptive attack on a separate sovereign nation may well prove itself a most temporary medicine," he said.."

Sean Penn takes on Bush over Iraq. (Friday, October 18, 2002)
On December 13th, 2002, Sean Penn started a 3-day trip in Baghdad, which was organized by the Institute of Public Accuracy.

"I would hope that all Americans will embrace information available to them outside conventional channels," the 42-year-old actor said in a statement.
"As a father, an actor, a filmmaker and a patriot, my visit to Iraq is for me a natural extension of my obligation to find my own voice on matters of conscience."

The State Department refused to comment on Penn's trip.

The Pentagon attack included a crash, a collapse, some unexplained holes in the building, many different oddities, irregularities and coincidences in the official story, which didn't point on incompetence:

1) AMEC (same company, who renovated same wing, which was later hit, got in charge for cleanup)
2) ARAMARK—connections to Pentagon
3) A pentagon miniature building which was part of a terror exercise in October 2000
4) Tricure exercise in May 2001 (same team was first at Pentagon, too)
5) Lotfi Raissi wasn't the flight teacher of Hani Hanjour, Hanjour was on a CIA watch-list and observed by FBI informant (and ex-CIA muijahadeen fighter) Aukai Collins
6) No real DNA-results on any victim, all came into crematorium
7) Irregularities in the story of Ted Olsen on the phone call of Barbara Olsen
8) The 360 degrees maneuvre by the pilot of the Pentagon plane
9) No evacuation at the Pentagon, instead of intercepting the plane a stand-down order etc..
10) Staged pictures of one part of debris, which 'moved' to different spots
11) Sec camera shows different colors of flame, shooting time to fast

The supporters of the Non-Crash at the Pentagon analysed the possibility, that Flight 77 was rerouted and landed at Reagan International, while a fighter with a small missile hit the Pentagon.

Reagan Airport is less than two miles away from the Pentagon.

In case of a crash into the Pentagon, Flight 77 would most likely have missed the target.
It was a proven fact, that control tower people remarked that the performance of the blip they were following was that of a jet fighter.

Another fact is, that early photos before the "collapse" like of Emmanuel Ratier (Le Monde) showed that the the lawn was not dusty or any light poles or light bulbs had been destroyed.

"The plane was moving at 1.25 miles per second, that's over 400 feet per frame of video capture at a given 15 frames per second. The time of the video tape is off probably for the same reasons.

The images cover a span of four one-hundredths of a second.

That can't be right! At that rate, the security camera would be taking 125 frames per second! Movies are 24 frames per second and TV is 30 frames per second. Why the hell would a security camera have a framerate of 4-5 times that of movie and television? They must mean that each image itself covers a span of 4/100ths of a second, giving a total 2/10ths of a second for the entire sequence.

(5) 17:37:23

Officials could not immediately explain why the date typed near the bottom of each photograph is Sept. 12 and the time is written as 5:37 p.m. The attack happened at about 9:37 a.m. on Sept. 11. Officials said it was possible that the date and time were added the day after the attack when they may have been catalogued for investigative purposes..."

NOTE:
CNN wrote that "at 9:43 a.m., a hijacked Boeing 757 slammed into part of the 29-acre complex used by uniformed and civilian employees of the U.S. military", while Associated Press wrote it was about 9:37 a.m.

The Pentagon was renovated at exactly the same wing, which was hit. Just a "coincidence"?

Where did the Debris go?
Mr. Walker Lee Evey, Pentagon renovation program manager
(Thursday, March 7, 2002 - 11:02 a.m. EST):

Q: Where did all that debris go?
Evey: It went to a landfill in King George County. We went to King George County and talked to them, outlined our program, described what we were doing, why we needed to do it and what was involved in the recovery effort. King George County, Virginia

The aircraft approached the building from the west side at very low altitude, just skimming across the heliport side of the building, entered Wedge One adjacent to Radial Corridor 4, traveled at about a 45 degree angle through the building toward Radial Corridor 5, and it went through the areas underneath Rings E, D and C.

That we've undertaken to repair the building is first what we called the Phoenix Project. The Phoenix Project is that portion of the building that had to be demolished and then rebuilt, reconstructed. And that area is fairly large in size. It turned out ultimately to be about 400,000 square feet of building that we had to demolish.

Q: What were you doing for the Air Force?
Evey: My background is contracting. I was a contracts person in the Air Force.

Pentagon lied first on Security Cam on Sep11th:

The NEXCOMM camera captured the Pentagon crash:
"...Security cameras at a NEXCOMM-operated gas station recorded the Sept. 11 crash of a hijacked passenger airliner into the Pentagon, Navy sources have said.
The security tape, which sources said clearly shows the American Airlines jet ploughing into the building and exploding, was turned over to the FBI.
The gas station is located on a hill south of the Pentagon. Its security camera is aimed to record cars coming and going from the gas pumps. The angle of the camera gives a clear view of the side of the Pentagon where the 757 jet hit, sources said.
The tape's existence has not been discussed publicly by military officials or federal investigators..."

2MuchB$'s thoughts on different colors in the Pentagon video:
"The first explosion in these pics has a bright yellow color, and the rest of the shots show a orange color more relative to a jet fuel explosion? The first shot of this explosive flash would be difficult for an explosives expert to refer to as a jet fuel explosion. Bright yellow color is the result of a well balanced oxidation process. Also notice that a few pieces of debris were reflected away from the crash, but were super heated. And their momentum was quickly dissipated. How come the pieces of plane were been shown had no heat damage?"

Amigaphil's Questions:
http://amigaphil.planetinternet.be/PentagonCrash.html

Some of the unanswered questions:
Why was the grass near the pentagon impact, in near perfect shape, when the GIF shows it had touched the ground several hundred feet before impact with the pentagon?

How did the craft get around the huge electrical wire spools that were directly in its path, and in front of the pentagon face?
Why was there a bright yellow flash upon impact, followed by a typical Jet fuel fire of the appropriate orange color?
What piece of wrecked aircraft could have caused the clean hole deep in the inner rings of the pentagon?
If this piece was an engine, why not 2 holes?
Are there large weapons on top of the Pentagon poised to shoot down hostile aircraft? Or not?

"...On one such flight, a pre-briefed pilot would fly tail-end Charley at considerable interval between aircraft. While near the Cuban Island this pilot would broadcast that he had been jumpedby MIGs and was going down. No other calls would be made. The pilot would then fly directly west at extremely low altitude and land at a secure base, an Elgin auxiliary. The aircraft would be met by the proper people, quickly stored and given a new tail number. The pilot who had performed the mission under an alias, would resume his proper identity and return to his normal place of business. The pilot and aircraft would then have disappeared...

Emmanuel Ratier’s Letter of Confidential Information - Faits & Documents - undertook a special investigation into the official version of the attack against the Pentagon on 11 September 2001. It was published on 1 March, eight days before the publication of Thierry Meyssan’s book, 11 September 2001. L’effroyable imposture [translated as The Big Lie in the English edition], which sold more than 170,000 copies in three weeks and which was recently reviewed by us.
(Resurrection no 16, April 2002, p. 24-26).

Emmanuel Ratier published a document on the Internet on 18 October, one month after the attacks. On 21 March, it was in fact to him that Le Monde and Actualité juive gave first prize for this incredible news, illustrated with a series of photographs entitled: No plane crashed into the Pentagon. As surprises go, it was indeed a surprise! Incredible? One has only to examine the AFP photo, above, to understand that it is the pure and simple truth: it stares one in the face.
The photograph was taken in the first minutes of the fire. Firetrucks are on the scene, but as yet these vehicles have not gone into action. Moreover, the upper floors of the building are yet to collapse.

Now, there is no trace of significant debris, no engine, no black box, no underground. Nothing! And yet, according to the official version, a Boeing 757-200, an air freighter with a wingspan of 38.05 m, a length of 47.30 m, a height of 13 m and a weight of 100 tons, struck the ground and first floors of the front of the building, hedge-hopping as it approached, flying just a few metres above the ground at a minimum speed of 400 km per hour, without knocking down a single streetlamp or even causing any damage to the magnificent lawn in the foreground, the car park, or the helipad.

Was Ratiers picture "photoshopped"?

From an DU(->) Pentagon-discussion thread:

"...Astaneh-Asl has uncovered pieces of structural steel that bear gouge marks - material removed as the Boeing 767s tore through the buildings. One column shows the impact of what Astaneh-Asl believes to be AN AIRPLANE WING SLICING THROUGH THE STEEL; another, the curve of a plane's nose. THESE MARKS, Astaneh-Asl explains, COULD BE MADE ONLY BY A SHARP OBJECT MOVING VERY FAST. (One estimate clocked the impact speed of the jetliners at 300 miles/480 kilometers per hour.)

Astaneh-Asl's examination of the debris found that steel flanges, once an inch thick, became paper-thin after the disaster. He reportedly found PIECES OF STRUCTURAL STEEL WITH GOUGE MARKS IDENTIFYING WHERE A BOEING 767 STRUCK, INCLUDING ONE SEGMENT THAT APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN SLICED BY AN AIRPLANE WING, and another by the plane's nose. Astaneh-Asl is also part of a team assembled by the American Society of Civil Engineers to investigate the trade center site and reconstruct the failure of the buildings

Demodewd Questions:

"...What happens to the fuselage/nose after it intersects the floor column between the two floors? Which floor is it actually on?

Does it grind its way through the floor/ceiling?

How does the nose sustain structural integrity through 3 buildings and a assortment of columns?

How does the nose find its way through the back wall of the first floor of the C ring?

Why is there no observable burned area at the far left corner of the E-Ring blast area and yet there is evident blast destruction?

Why is there a blasted out hole in the recessed area where the right wing of a 757 supposedly hit and yet the wing could have hit only the projected columns?

Why is there profound damage at the more extreme right wing end and none closer in above the second floor column?

Why is the blast so obviously devastating in the left wing section as to being so apparently weaker in the right wing area?

Wouldn't the observable buckled columns attain that status because of the increased weight put on them from those columns that have been eliminated?

Why is the left wing of the plane graphic that displays its immediate approach to the building disproportionately high?

Wouldn't the engine actually be scraping the ground?

Where is the rubble? Is there facade rubble observable?

Wouldn't I see rubble splattered on the cars in front of the far left side of the blasted out area?

If this was a 757 was it remotely controlled?

Is it humanly possible to navigate a 757 in this manner when you are a commercial jet flying novice?

Why would the hijackers elect to fly in such a dangerous and unpredictable manner?

Why would they choose to crash into the West Wing...the most up to date fortified section of the entire building?

Why wouldn't the pilot just nose dive into the center of the Pentagon...what a logistical nightmare that would have been!"

Witness accounts of debris on Ron Harvey's website- the 'moving debris': http://www.dragonslair.pwp.blueyonder.co.uk/77/ffdd.html

"...The Infamous piece of debris that supposedly comes from the letter C or A from the AA logo is about 5 feet long, the painted part of which is less than half of that, yet the lettering of AA logos on their 757s are just over 4 feet wide. Care to explain how this can be possible? Did AA paint smaller lettering on this one plane or is it a case of, Honey, I shrunk the Airliner?

The pictures from airliner.net allow for a much better comparison of the relative sizes. Taking the door on the plane to be 6', it a screen rez of 1024*768, it measures approx. .36mm high by 18mm wide the letter n measures approx. 1.7mm by 17mm, which is approx. 50% of the height of the door. So if the lettering is approx. 3' wide the size still doesn't match up to the piece of wreckage.

The fireball analysis of Montalk:
There is security camera footage which shows the fireball develop, but not the plane. The claim is that the four frames cover 4/100s of a second which is not what one would expect from any normal type of video equipment, and would be especially silly for a security camera.

Pentagon-hole

Holes in the building:

http://www.ifrance.fr/silentbutdeadly/compall.jpg

From a DU-analysis on the mysterious hole:
"...Then you have a picture of a wall with a circular hole in it. There is smoke damage on the top of the hole. Yet and still there appears to be paper and other flammables carefully poured out of that orifice. They are not wet. The heat in that general area was supposedly so intense as to burn all the paint off the aircraft debris, leaving only the green primer.

The cables within the cavity are pulled OUT of the hole.
Yet the aircraft is supposed to have gone INTO that hole with considerable force..."

Army press release noted back on 26 September 2001, one engine of the aircraft punched a 12-foot hole through the wall of the second ring:

"...On the inside wall of the second ring of the Pentagon, a nearly circular hole, about 12-feet wide, allows light to pour into the building from an internal service alley. An aircraft engine punched the hole out on its last flight after being broken loose from its moorings on the plane. The result became a huge vent for the subsequent explosion and fire. Signs of fire and black smoke now ring the outside of the jagged-edged hole.

Source:

Plaguepuppy's (->) response:
"I'm not surprised that they would claim that an engine had made those holes but neither an engine or the nose of the plane would be dense enough to penetrate two entire buildings. A number of pictures show cleanly punched out holes, ~12 inches dia., passing completely through the B and C rings, but ending between C and D. Not to bore you with calculations but the needed density (the kinetic energy is proportional to velocity squared x mass) is far beyond that of the plane or an engine. But a large depleted uranium warhead, the type used in "bunker buster" devices, would do the job nicely."

Demodewd's Missile conclusion (DU->):
"...The missile comes in at a 45 degree angle through the first floor and penetrates three rings blowing out numerous columns on the north side of the crash area. The F-16 comes in (crashing into the second floor) at a smaller angle loaded with explosives and a jet fuel fire splatters the Pentagon facade and roof...

Dick Eastmans (->) thoughts on Reagan Airport:

On October 12th, 2001, Rumsfeld mentioned "a missile" right after the attack:

"Here we're talking about plastic knives and using an American Airlines flight filed with our citizens, and the missile to damage this building and similar (inaudible) that damaged the World Trade Center."

Pentagon, missing money

In early 2002, "a report came off the wires informing us that the Department of Defense was unable to account for $2.3 trillion dollars - or fully one-quarter of its budget this past decade. This would be "unable to account for" as in "gone," "missing," "misplaced."

...And this has been going on for years. The military routinely loses weapons and supplies the way most of us civilians lose socks in the dryer. In June of 1999, for example, Defense Week reported that, "at last count the Navy had no record of receiving nearly $1 billion worth of ammunition, arms and explosives that the service knew had been shipped." $112 million of same had apparently been "in transit" for over six months..."

Pentagon, simulated crash

(Originally released on Ground Zero Forum NYC-> in 2002)

The Pentagon was worried, since at least seven years, that they would be target of a terrorist attack, therefore the incompetence theory (->) seemed to be bogus.

In a 1993 study they compiled a panel of 41 intelligence/security experts that included former ranking CIA, FBI, State Department and Rand Corporation officials, as well as an ex-KGB general and Israeli intelligence agent.

http://www.infowar.com/class_3/class3_081398a_j.shtml

Then in November 2000, they finally simulated a crash with some planes on a miniature model of the Pentagon.

Mirror:

http://www.lebensaspekte.de/groundzero/pentagon_exercise2000.html

On this website you can read the following info:

"...The fire and smoke from the downed passenger aircraft billows from the Pentagon courtyard. Defense Protective Services Police seal the crash sight. Army medics, nurses and doctors scramble to organize aid. An Arlington Fire Department chief dispatches his equipment to the affected areas.

Don Abbott, of Command Emergency Response Training, walks over to the Pentagon and extinguishes the flames. The Pentagon was a model and the "plane crash" was a simulated one...

Don Abbott is responsible for Emergency Response Training at the efilmgroup who works on emergency videos and produced "ICS" (=Incident Command System).

Efilmgroup is also known as Institute of Makers of Explosives and Emergency Film Group.

"I.C.S." is a 25-minute program designed for law enforcement, firefighters, emergency managers, emergency medical personnel, government agencies, the military, security, and facility management personnel who may respond to incidents or be involved in joint response operations.

One of their committee members was New Yorks Fire Department Chief Donald Burns, who later tragically died in the Twin Towers.

http://www.courageandvalor.org/in_memory.cfm

Other specialists included Tom Abbott, Tempe Fire Dept. ("Anthrax Threats"), Manny Aljazeirh, Refinery Fire Chief (Bomb Threat), Bob Andrews, Industrial Emergency Services (Petroleum Storage Tanks), Maria Duzzo (Fun With Chemistry), Rick Emery (Anthrax Threats) or Jerry Grey, HazTech Systems (Hazardous Waste, Inorganic Oxidizers etc..) and many many more.

http://www.efilmgroup.com/videos/ics.html

Don Abbott used the FEMA and CERT-software FDonScene and PDonScene by Fieldsoft.

CERT training revolves around "Abbottville", a 12-foot by 18-foot training tool that is an HO scale diorama, built by Division Chief (retired) Don Abbott.

The tabletop town is used to teach fire, law enforcement, emergency medical, and other emergency response personnel. Actual fire, smoke, chemicals, and background noise are used during training exercises (->) to simulate as closely as possible, real life situations and distractions faced by emergency response personnel and incident commanders.

Division Chief Abbott and Bev Abbott planned to use Fieldsoft to monitor exercise events real time and prompt students to take key actions pertaining to strategy mode evaluation and responder accountability.

Basically, FDonScene is an automated COTS tool (commercial off-the-shelf software) that actively facilitates control and coordination of people, procedures, events, and other resources with the touch of a finger.

Coincidently, a new trial software of FDonScene was installed in time on the morning of September 11th.

In a report on the Fieldsoft website, you can read, how it was used:

"...Over 700 victims passed through the Atlantic Highlands Ferry Port in New Jersey following the September 11, 2001 WTC attack. Two fire departments, three local police departments, as well as representatives from county, state, and federal agencies were on hand to assess and assist the victims as they embarked. Emergency units on the scene included 40 ambulances, an FD communications unit, a decontamination unit, and 10 pieces of fire apparatus. A communications unit member on scene at the Port, who had seen a ninety minute demonstration of the software a few days earlier, brought a trial copy of FDonScene on line and used it to track people, resources, and events. A second person watched how the software was being used, and took over operation of it a few hours later. Overall, the software was operated successfully for 14 hours....".

http://www.fieldsoft.com/success.html#tc

President Bush was familiar with FdonScene because it was first endorsed by the Texas Fire Chiefs Association while he was governor (1998). And, as the FieldSoft brochure mentions, "FieldSoft has engineered software necessary to integrate FDonScene with a consequence management system under development by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA)." So this is definitely a program well known to and used by the military, too.

Skip Trudeau of NJ Field Communications, an Emergency Vehicles company explained on their website, how FDonScene came into action on September 11th:

"In the Comm Unit, we were joined by Firefighter Eric Tantarelli, who had left his civilian job to see if he could help. He was assigned to maintain the incident log. We had an evaluation copy of Fieldsoft's FDonScene, an ICS personnel accountability software product, which proved to be a great asset. Eric recorded everything for the next 14 hours, taking only one (forced) dinner break! We eventually had 19 single-spaced pages of time-stamped, chronological log."

If this operation was only a lucky coincidence for the important development of this program has to be found out.

However it is strange, that FEMA (->) spokesman Tom Kennedy confirmed in an interview with Dan Rather (CBS) that they already arrived on monday, which means September 10th.

This irritating detail was never investigated again. Did the FEMA arrive in time because of prior knowledge?

And what about the Pentagon, who was on High Alert on September 10th as well and told their employees not to take any planes on the next day?

Fieldsoft was founded by Mark Bouchard in 1997 to develop simulation software for Biological Warfare, Dept. of Defense, DARPA and "tactical Incidents".

Bouchard is connected with the META Group, too.

"Before joining META Group in June 1996, Mr. Bouchard was the plant electrical engineer at General Chemical and served as an officer in the U.S. Navy for five years. Mr. Bouchard has a B.S. in Electrical Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute."

One of the members of the board of the MetaGroup is Harry S. Gruner, who worked until 1992 at Alex Brown's (->) Information Technology Group, a company which is specialized in advising software and information services companies, and connected to Alex Brown Deutsche Bank.

Gruner is executive at Transcitive, a stock plan management software http://www.transcitive.com/about/board.asp

Another META-member is Joseph R. Hardiman, who served as the president and chief executive officer of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiary, The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc., from September 1987 through January 1997.

Hardiman joined Alex Brown in 1975 and holds a BS degree in computer science from the State University of New York at Albany.

META Group knew 911 insider trader Tony Elgindy (-> Insider Trading).

Elgindy wrote in a report of 1997, when he was chief equity analyst at Key West securities, which included a "warning" for Jyra Research, Key West has initiated JYRA with a "Manipulated and Overvalued" sell recommendation.

At that time, so the report, JYRA had "over 6.2 million shares outstanding, revenues almost non-existent; and apparent Internet fraud running rampant in the stock, coupled along with the company's inability to justify a market capitalization of over 200 million"

As reported by Bloomberg and mentioned in the Key West Research Report, JYRA continued to deceive the public through false statements and trickery, and recent reports allegedly written by seemingly credible analysts and research houses are, in fact, "BOGUS."

Then on August 20th of the same year, Jyra Research Inc. shares fell 24 percent "after the computer research firm Meta Group Inc. said it didn't write a report that Jyra touted"

At that time Meta Executive Vice President Joe Gottlieb told Bloomberg News the report was produced by another company and distributed by Meta.

PENTTBOM is an technical effort, which was established in late September 2001 by the FBI, the National Infrastructure Protection Center (NIPC). NIPC director Ronald Dick told a group of House lawmakers Sept. 26, 2001:

"During the past two weeks, the NIPC has provided detailed information used to brief the National Command Authority about how the terrorist cells of Sept. 11 used technology to further their murderous activities".

President Clinton established the NIPC in 1998 to coordinate response to and investigation of cyberattacks and other security incidents across federal, state, local and private-sector groups. The center's Special Technologies and Applications Unit, which usually provides technical expertise to track computer intrusions, is providing that assistance for the PENTTBOM team through a newly established Cyber Crisis Action Team.

Earlier in 2001, the NIPC created its Interagency Coordination Cell, which helps resolve conflicts between the many federal agencies involved in cyber investigations.

Perle, Richard

---------------------
From an older GROUND ZERO Forum article, originally released at Scoop:

"It was only a matter of time before we could expect the events of last week..."
Richard Perle, September 2001
http://chronicle.com/free/v48/i05/05b00902.htm

Richard Perle had one big reason to let the Sep 11th attack happen: A war against Iraq.

The war against the Taliban was only a warmup to achieve this goal as it now seems to be. There has been no single day, when he didn't promote this anti-Iraq plan since Sept 11th, and he used every possibility to promote his ideas long time before Sept 11th.

Perle is currently Head of the Defense Policy Board, Department of Defense which advises the Pentagon. He was promoting the famous "axis of evil" long time before Bush did:

On August 6th, 2001 Perle said:
"...We're concerned about Saddam Hussein, we're concerned about the North Koreans, about some future Iranian government that may have the weapon they're now trying so hard to acquire - we're in a unique position as the sole super power..."
http://www.abc.net.au/4corners/roquestate/interviews/perle.htm

Richard Perle's career started when at the age of 25, when he worked for Sen. Henry (Scoop) Jackson under Richard Nixon. Later he worked for the Israeli weapons firm Soltam. Perle is manipulating the media and was one of the first, who supported the October Anthrax-Iraq theory.

He learned his first skills as assistant secretary of defense in the Reagan administration. Richard Perle then became a representative of the so called NeoCons.

"...Neoconservatives are mostly former leftists/liberals who converted to conservatism during the 70's and when Ronald Reagan became President. In domestic policy they tend to be moderate 'welfare' Republicans. However, their major concern is foreign policy. They strongly favor US military interventions overseas and becoming the world's policeman. They promoted the first Iraq War and are constantly the instigators for more confrontation with Iraq, Iran, the Sudan, and other Moslem states. They were among the chief instigators of the Kosovo War. In Washington 'neocon' views dominate the major networks' Sunday talk shows."
http://www.icservative.com/neocoervatives.htm

They are specifically represented by Richard Perle, Bill Kristol & Richard Brooks (WEEKLY STANDARD), Paul Wolfowitz, Fred Barnes, Morton Kondracke, Charles Krauthammer, Frank Gaffney (former aid to Richard Perle and WASHINGTON TIMES columnist), Robert Kagan (Carnegie Endowment for International Peace), columnist Cal Thomas, a dispensationalist, and many others. Neoconservatives are the dominant force over establishment Republicans in Congress.

Their top base among think tanks is the AMERICAN ENTERPRISE INSTITUTE (a policy paper in January, 2001, urged American attacks on Iran, Iraq, Libya, Syria, and Gaza.

Others are the HERITAGE FOUNDATION, ETHICS AND PUBLIC POLICY CENTER, and BROOKINGS INSTITUTION...

Perle has always had complex interests. Perle is known as the "Prince of Darkness", a "master of disinformation who helped win the Cold War".

In 1985, Perle and Paul Wolfowitz had been suspected of supporting the Israeli spy Jonathan Pollard selling documents to Russia.

In 1995, Mr. Perle teamed with current undersecretary of defense Douglas J. Feith (former attorney with the Washington firm of Feith and Zell ->) to represent the Bosnian government. According to Richard Holbrooke, the principal U.S. negotiator at the 1995 Dayton peace talks, Mr. Perle and Mr. Feith worked for and advised the Bosnians during the talks.

Perle is Director of Hollinger Inc (->), a subsidiary of which Hollinger Digital. They own Onset Technology, which cooperates with spy message software of Converse and Odigo. Hollinger Inc. owns more than 400 newspapers worldwide and controls almost 50% of the Canadian press. They are the third largest newspaper chain in the Western world. after Gannett and Rupert Murdoch's News Corporation.

Chairman and CEO of Hollinger is Conrad Black who controls about 78% of Hollinger through a private holding company.

Hollinger and their board members, including Henry Kissinger, have connections to Sunday Times, Chase Manhattan Bank, AT&T, American Express, J.P. Morgan Chase & Co, Gulfstream Aerospace Corporation, Hasbro and Israeli Yellow Pages. Hollinger owns the Jerusalem Post, too.

It's very convenient to follow Richard Perle's strategy, supported by his friends James Woolsey, Paul Wolfowitz and Richard Armitage. Already on September 20th, four days after the attack Perle tried to blame the attack on Iraq. In a meeting with the Wolfowitz Cabal they discussed a strategy and finally sent a letter to Bush with 41 signatures to continue their strategy.

One of the supporters of this letter was Charles Krauthammer, who once did psychiatric research for the Carter Administration. He was a speech writer to Vice President Walter Mondale in 1980. Krauthammer once said: "...The end of the Cold War has brought about a new world order (->). The United States is the predominant power." (7/5/01) http://www.pbs.org/thinktank/show_905.html

Already in 1998, a similar letter was addressed to President Clinton. Paul Wolfowitz was one of the signatories. The current secretary of defense, Donald Rumsfeld signed the letter.

Perle’s biggest aim was always to get Saddam Hussein. "The only way to eliminate Saddam Hussein's governance is by organizing a coup d'etat against him..." http://www.fas.org/news/iraq/1998/10/981019-in.htm (October 1998)

"There can be no victory in the war against terrorism if, at the end of it, Saddam Hussein is still in power." http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/fromline/shows/gunning/etc/script.html (November 2001)

About ABM Treaty: "...ABM treaty. No - it's a relic of the cold war...

Cynically, Perle said after the Sep11th attack: "...I don't want to sound callous, because I was among those who thought we weren't doing enough and that it was only a matter of time before we could expect the events of last week..."

http://chronicle.com/free/v48/i05/05b00902.htm

It is very naive to think, that President Bush wants this war. In reality people behind him use him as a puppet and plot against people, who are not radical enough to follow their own strategy. Colin Powell might be one of them. How much influence did Perle really have before the attacks?

Was he one of the few, who forced the Sep11th attack to let it happen?"

NOTE:
In November 2002, Perle still insisted:
'Inspections Or Not, We'll Attack Iraq' (Daily Mirror UK)
"Because Saddam is so hated in Iraq, it would be easy to find someone to say they witnessed weapons building.

Perle said, the Americans would be satisfied with such claims even if no real evidence was produced: "That's a terrifying prospect."

Pepperspray
=============

During the first protests against President Bush in 2002, witnesses reported on pepperspray against peaceful demonstrators. One member of DU (->), AngryWhiteDemocrat, even reported on spray into a belly's face.

On February 15th, 2003, indymedia.org filmed more violations and sent their footage to FOX TV.

Newsday later reported, that "police officers ...squirted pepper spray into the eyes of penned-in protesters and backed kicking horses into crowds of people, according to video footage aired Tuesday by the rally's organizers (-> United for Peace). "That makes you feel good, doesn't it?" one officer yelled during the pepper-spraying, as demonstrators who seemed to be trapped between crowds of people on one side and metal barricades on the other screamed, "I can't breathe!" and "My eyes!"

"...We don't need macro-conspiracy theories to understand that powerful people sit in rooms and plan for global change with private advantage in mind.

...Many people no longer trust the corporate media to provide the full truth. This opens people's susceptibilities to believing in conspiracies and plots to explain unanswered questions. Cynicism has deterred voting for many. How can we free ourselves from this dilemma? First off, We can think of conspiracies as actions by small groups of individuals instead of massive collective plots by governments and corporations.

Small groups can be dangerous, especially when the individuals have significant power in huge public and private bureaucracies, but they can not possibly be interlinked in a macro way bridging the gaps between thousand of corporations and government bureaucracies. Micro-plots may well be the answer to some of the conspiracies floating in our circles of cynicism. However, without accurate through investigations we only stew in our distrust and experience widening alienation from our democratic process..."

Phoenix-Memo

Between May and September 2002, the complete story of FBI whistleblower Kenneth Williams was totally ignored by US Congress:

On September 23rd, 2002 he spoke at the 911-hearings hidden by a screen, but his identity was leaked again to the press.

"Williams wanted to prevent suspicious student pilot Zacarias Moussaoui (->) from flying a plane into the World Trade Center, a congressional investigator testified Tuesday...

...The Phoenix-based agent, Kenneth Williams, wrote a memo to his superiors in Washington two months before the attacks, suggesting that terrorists might be learning to fly commercial jetliners at U.S. flight schools."

Source:

More absurde, on Sep24th 2002 Reuters confirmed, that FBI officials in New York knew that several associates of Osama bin Laden had trained at U.S. flight schools, but believed the al Qaeda leader needed pilots to transport goods in Afghanistan, a congressional investigator said.

http://www.reuters.com/news_article.jhtml?type=topnews&StoryID=1490622

At least three FBI agents in New York saw the Phoenix memo, but told the joint inquiry they were aware that Middle Eastern men frequently came to the United States for flight training because it was considered the best and most reasonably priced.

...Two FBI agents from Oklahoma (->) visited Airm Flight School in Norman, Oklahoma on Aug. 23, 2001, less than a month before the attacks to ask about Zacarias Moussaoui (->).

"...Months before an FBI agent here warned of extremists attending U.S. flight schools, anti-terrorism efforts in the Phoenix office had virtually ground to a halt when a surveillance unit was disbanded and agents assigned to counter-terrorism were diverted to an arson case, according to current and former FBI agents...

Picciotto, Richard

Richard Picciotto, firefighter, was inside the North Tower of the World Trade Center when it collapsed on the morning of September 11. An FDNY battalion commander, he was on a stairwell between the sixth and seventh floors, along with a handful of rescue personnel and one civilian, when the building collapsed around them.

Picciotto released in 2002 his book "Last Man Down"

Pickard, Thomas

From a GROUND ZERO Forum article, originally released at Scoop:
http://www.scoop.co.nz/mason/stories/HL0208/S00068.htm#e

"...Thomas Pickard took over the job of FBI Director Louis J. Freeh in August 2001, but held this position only for a couple of weeks before Richard Mueller became Director. Just as he did for FBIHQ Dale Watson, former Terror Task Force chief John O'Neill (->) complained about sabotage by Pickard. But because O'Neill's story was never discussed in public, Pickard was never asked about this point.

What exactly "went wrong," causing Pickard to ignore the various warnings about a possible terrorist attack and the memos from Williams about the flying lessons by Muslims and the arrest of Zacarias Moussaoui?

We should take a look at Pickard's career to find a possible answer on this.

Pickard, who was an agent in the FBI's New York office in 1975 and went on to work on a number of high-profile cases.

Pickard went undercover and offered congressmen bribes as part of the 1979 Abscam probe and supervised the FBI's role in trials in the first World Trade Center attack and the arrest of Ramzi Youssef, charged with plotting to blow up U.S. airliners. He helped oversee the investigation into the explosion of TWA Flight 800, the espionage investigation of former FBI agent Earl Edwin Pitts and the capture in Pakistan of Mir Aimal Kasi, who was convicted of killing CIA workers at a traffic light outside the agency's headquarters.

Now this specialist Pickard claims he never heard about the memos by Williams and Rowley. Even with all these connections?

The Washington Post seemed to believe this too:

"The Phoenix memo was circulated only among counterterrorism divisions in New York and at Washington headquarters. It was not shown to then-acting director Thomas J. Pickard or other senior FBI managers, officials said."

http://www.washingtonpost.com/ac2/wp-dyn/?pagename=article&node=&contentId=A39218-2002May18Found=true

But the question is why these memos were not shown to Pickard?

In November 2001 Pickard retired and started a job at Bristol Myers Squibb as new Head Of Corporate Security in January 2002.

Did Pickard let the attack happen on purpose?
If so, under whose influence?
Did he know about a possible anthrax attack?
Is that the reason he later started a job in the pharmacy?...

The attack on Iraq has been long planned. There just hasn't been an excuse for it."

Pilger interviewed Richard Perle (->) in the 80s, who was at that time Assistant Secretary of Defense in Reagan's Pentagon:
"I interviewed Perle when he was buzzing around the Reagan Administration in the 1980s, and I was struck by how truly fanatical this man was. He was then voicing the views of total war."

Pilger expressed, that the former journalist essentials "Impartiality" and "objectivity" now mean the establishment point of view. Pilger writes for the British Mirror since the early 80s.

Plane relocate speculation

Based on the idea of Operation Northwoods (->), one member of Sobs.org, named "Bob" came to the following conclusion on Apr 16, 2002:

What happened on September 11th was very likely something close to this:

"...Three planes had been made ready by operatives from the U.S. Air Force or NORAD, capable of being controlled remotely, with no-one on board: A business jet loaded with high explosives. An F-16 jet fighter armed with a missile. A Boeing 767, painted up to look like a United Airlines jet (call this "Pseudo Flight 175").

Early on the morning of September 11th Mohammad Atta and some other Arabs board American Airlines and United Airlines planes under instructions from their CIA handlers.

Atta and others, some recorded by airport security cameras, will later be declared to be "the hijackers".

The four civilian jet airliners take off:

AA Flight 11, a Boeing 767, leaves Boston at 7:59 a.m. headed for Los Angeles, with between 76 and 81 passengers (about 39% of capacity) and 11 crew members aboard. (This is the jet which, according to the official story, hit the North Tower.)

AA Flight 77, a Boeing 757, takes off from Dulles Airport in northern Virginia at 8:10 a.m bound for Los Angeles, with between 50 and 58 passengers (about 27% of capacity) and six crew members aboard. (This is the jet which allegedly hit the Pentagon.)

UA Flight 175, a Boeing 767, departs from Boston with between 47 and 56 passengers (about 26% of capacity) and nine crew members aboard. (This is the jet which allegedly hit the South Tower.)

UA Flight 93, a Boeing 757, scheduled to leave Newark Airport at 8:01 a.m. for San Francisco, is late and does not depart until 8:41 a.m., taking off with between 26 and 38 passengers (about 16% of capacity) and seven crew members on board. (This is the jet which crashed in Pennsylvania.)

Pseudo Flight 175 takes off from its military base, flying under remote control, and flies so as to intercept the flight path of UA Flight 175. Radar operators tracking UA Flight 175 see the two blips merge.

A half-hour or so after taking off the pilots of the four civilian airliners are informed by radio that the U.S. is under attack by terrorists and that they are to shut down their transponders and land their planes at a military base in some north-eastern U.S. state (directions to the base are given).

The pilots obey this order and change course accordingly.

Pseudo Flight 175 changes course toward New York. To radar operators it appears as if UA Flight 175 is now flying toward Manhattan.

The passengers on UA Flight 93 are led to believe that the plane has been hijacked, and are instructed to use their cell phones to tell this to their relatives (thus planting fake evidence which will later be used in the official story).

The business jet takes off under remote control and (perhaps after intercepting the flight path of AA Flight 11 to confuse the radar operators) crashes into the North Tower at 8:45 a.m.

The event is captured on "the fireman's video", in which a small impact is first seen in the center of the tower (consistent with an impact by a business jet, not a Boeing 767), followed by a huge explosion.

Pseudo Flight 175 approaches Manhattan under remote control and crashes into the South Tower at 9:03 a.m. Its controllers, not used to remote control of such a heavy machine, almost miss the tower, but manage to hit it at an angle, toward one corner. Most of the jet fuel passes through the corner of the tower and explodes in a huge fireball outside the building. The approach of the Boeing 767 and the impact and fireball are recorded by several cameras.

U.S. Air Force planes are finally scrambled at 9:30 a.m., over an hour after the first of the commercial jets has gone off course.

The F-16 jet fighter (see 1. above), under remote control, flies at high speed toward Washington D.C. (perhaps after intercepting the flight path of AA Flight 77), descends to near ground level, makes a horizontal approach to the Pentagon, fires a missile which produces a huge explosion at the outer wall of the Pentagon, then itself crashes into the building (at about 9:40 a.m.).

The event is recorded by a security camera.

Meanwhile (by about 9:30 a.m.) all four AA and UA jets have landed at the military base to which they were directed. The 199 (later listed) passengers and crew from AA Flight 77, AA Flight 11 and UA Flight 175 are herded onto UA Flight 93, where they join the 33 (later listed) passengers and crew, for a total of 232 people. Explosives are loaded on board.

The South Tower collapses (at 9:50 a.m.) by means of a controlled demolition, 47 minutes after impact.

UA Flight 93 takes off from the military base (either under remote control or under the control of a military pilot unaware of his fate) and flies toward Washington in a fake "terrorist attack".

The North Tower collapses (at 10:29 a.m.) also in a controlled demolition, 1 hour and 44 minutes after impact.

Either explosives on board UA Flight 93 are detonated, or the jet is blown apart by a missile fired by a U.S. Air Force F-16 fighter jet, over Pennsylvania (at 10:37 a.m., just over two hours after it took off from Newark Airport).

Pennsylvania state police officials said on Thursday debris from the plane had been found up to 8 miles away (from the crash site) in a residential community where local media have quoted residents as speaking of a second plane in the area and burning debris falling from the sky. — Reuters, Sept. 13, as quoted in Troubling Questions in Troubling Times

All passengers and crew from all four "hijacked" planes, other than those 34 (later unlisted) passengers (including Mohammad Atta) who are part of the operation, are in this way eliminated...

PMCs

PMCs is short for private military companies.

Most popular PMCs are the Carlyle Group, MPRI or Kellog Root and Brown. But the list is much longer than to concentrate only these three.

A nearly two-year investigation by the Center for Public Integrity’s International Consortium of Investigative Journalists (ICIJ--) has identified at least 90 such companies, operating worldwide in 110 countries.

Their October 2002 report included stories on individual representatives like Victor Bout, who sold weapons to the Taliban (as Kevin Ingram stock traded on them at the same time), Leonid Minin (Ukrainian arms dealer) and Jacques Monsieur (Belgian arms dealer), two other "criminals", who all got arrested, and listed companies and their connections to CIA or Pentagon, which still act legally.

In September 2000, Monsieur, told a French judge of having been contacted in Brussels by the CIA and, with the blessing of the French civilian intelligence agency, of having sent tens of millions of dollars in weapons to Croatia.

"...According to numerous court cases, statements by former officials and press exposés in France, the now-defunct French state oil () company, Elf Aquitaine, financing the purchase of weapons and hedging its bets in Congo-Brazzaville and Angola by supporting and helping arm both sides.

ICI is one of several companies contracted by the State Department to go into danger zones that are too risky or unsavory to commit conventional U.S. forces. Since 1994, the U.S. Defense Department has entered into 3,061 contracts with 12 of the 24 U.S.-based PMCs identified by ICIJ, a review of government documents showed. Pentagon records valued those contracts was more than $300 billion. More than 2,700 of those contracts were held by just two companies: Kellogg Brown & Root (--) and Booz Allen Hamilton (--).

Virginia-based military construction company Vinnell Corp. (http://www.vinnell.com) once won a $77 million contract to train the Saudi Arabian National Guard to protect oil fields. In 1992, the Pentagon, then headed by Defense Secretary Dick Cheney (--), paid Brown & Root Services $3.9 million to produce a classified report detailing how private companies could help provide logistics for American troops in potential war zones.

Brown & Root (now called Kellogg Brown & Root, or KBR) is a subsidiary of Halliburton Corporation (--) (http://www.halliburton.com), which Cheney, the U.S. vice president, headed as CEO from 1995 to 1999.

In December 2001 KBR received a 10-year contract to provide base-support work overseas under its Logistics Civil Augmentation Program, or LOGCAP. Kellogg Brown & Root has built camps in Guantanamo Bay (--), based on a contract by the DoD, which already was signed in June 2000!

Source:

Frank Carlucci (--), who served as defense secretary in the waning years of the Reagan administration, was chairman of BDM when it acquired Vinnell; he is still chairman of the Carlyle Group (--), a merchant banking firm that owns BDM with ties to George Bush Sr., James Baker, Richard Darman and even the BinLadin Family (--).

L-3 Communications, which has nearly $2 billion in annual revenue, was formed in April 1997 with the purchase of business units that were spun off after Loral Corporation and Lockheed Martin (--/client of Booz Hamilton) merged in 1996.

L-3 Communications bought Military Professional Resources Incorporated (MPRI), which consulted for and trained armed forces around the world, in July 2000.

MPRI (--) is located in northern Virginia, home to the Pentagon.

Among MPRI’s founders are President Carl Vuono, who served as army chief of staff from 1987 to 1991 and oversaw the U.S. invasion of Panama and the Gulf War; Harry E. “Ed” Soyster, who was the former head of the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA); and Crosbie Saint, who was the former commander of U.S. Army Europe.

MPRI was founded in 1988 as a military training consultancy and later responsible for training Bosnian soldiers.

MPRI says it is supporting the Homeland Security (--) in the United States and hopes to be hired to train the newly constituted Afghan army. Other fastest growing PMCs since 1999, mentioned in that report are Wackenhubt Corp or Armor Holdings, a Florida-based conglomerate.

In August 2001, Armor Holdings acquired Kroll O’Gara-Hess & Eisenhardt Armoring Company (--), the world’s largest armored transport provider. O’Gara was once home for Jerome Hauer (--/BioTerror specialist, who later organised the security chief job for ex-FBI terror specialist John O’Neill (--)).

Kroll is led by Maurice Greenberg.

Kissinger was once his representative at Greenbergs C.V. Starr/American International Group.

In 1993, Greenberg’s American International Group became co-owner of the private spy agency, Kroll Associates.

In 1996 Greenberg became chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations (--) CFR.

Since 1997, Frank G. Wisner, Jr., has been a board member on Kroll O’Gara, and is currently Greenberg’s Deputy Chairman for External Affairs. Wisner’s father was a founder of the CIA.

Frank Wisner, Jr. was a director of Enron (--).
The ICJ-report mentioned other important PMCs, too:
The Nevada-based Sayeret Group (http://www.sayeretgroup.com), who has tactical teams that can deploy anywhere in the world in support of security, protection and direct action operations.

Pistris Inc. (http://www.pistris.com), a Massachusetts-based maritime security company which maintains its own fleet of vessels, claims it can provide fully equipped, mobile protection teams to provide waterborne security of oil fields, ports and vessels throughout the world.

Trojan Securities International (http://www.trojansecurities.com), a company established by former British military and American law enforcement, maintains training centers in Arkansas, where the company is based, as well in Ecuador to accommodate the company’s work in Latin America.

London-based TASK International, which trains military and police forces, and holding an office in Miami and currently training special forces of the United Arab Emirates or the jamaican police.

Several other PMCs have received new, multimillion-dollar contracts from the U.S. government since Sept. 11:

Blackwater Lodge of North Carolina (http://www.blackwaterusa.com), Surgical Shooting Inc. (http://www.blackwaterusa.com),http://www.surgicalshooting.com of California and Automation Precision Training of Virginia were awarded contracts worth more than $60 million by the U.S. Navy in September 2002 for military training.

Ground Zero U.S.A., based in Marion, Alabama, lists an international training schedule for 2002 that includes programs in England, Scotland, Ireland, Mexico, Canada and Norway, and Sayeret can provide a mobile training team to travel to any location in the world at the clients request, according to Sayeret Group President Duke Piper.

In 2002, Ground Zero USA worked with Philippine law enforcement personnel. "PMCs can sell their services abroad through the Defense Department’s Foreign Military Sales (FMS) program, which does not require any licensing by State. Under FMS, the Pentagon pays the contractor for services offered to a foreign government, which in turn reimburses the Pentagon."

In Quatar, which is an important military ally of the United States, US Military agencies hired DynCorp (->) to provide security guard services for U.S. Army installations.

DynCorp created another BioChemistry-subsidiary DynPort (->)(a joint venture with Porton Down UK (->), which former executive Fuad Al Hibri once founded BioPort in 1997, later contracted for 3 years by the DoD in 1998 to produce anthrax vaccines)

The list of PMCs might be longer by now, other global players in the meantime are Betac Corp., Logicon and Cubic Corp.

Betac lobbied on Capitol Hill for intelligence authorization bills, Logicon on outsourcing of government programs and Armor Holdings on “foreign relations for export of products.

In Afghanistan, contractors from Northrop Grumman (in 2002 merged with TRW/Blackstone ->) were hired by the Air Force to man Global Hawk (->), an unmanned surveillance plane.

Even smaller companies like ICI of Oregon (with only 5 employees) are important.

The company was incorporated in 1994 by Brian Boquist, a Special Forces lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve.

Boquist (http://www.boquist2002.com), is a former executive of a subsidiary of Evergreen International Aviation, a private air freight company based in Oregon that has taken on sensitive missions for the U.S. government.

ICIs pilots fly in Russian helicopters and use Russian crew and developed a medical training program under U.S.-government auspices in southern Sudan.

At the end of 2002 the Senate Armed Services Committee has begun a review of the oversight of defense contractors in deployment missions worldwide. That report is due out in mid-2003.

On October 13th, 2002 the NY Times reported on some of these PMCs:

"...Motivated as much by profits as politics, these companies — about 35 all told in the United States — need the government's permission to be in business. A few are somewhat familiar names, like Kellogg Brown & Root, a subsidiary of the Halliburton Company that operates for the government in Cuba and Central Asia. Others have more cryptic names, like DynCorp; Vinnell, a subsidiary of TRW; SAIC; ICT of Oregon; and Logicom, a unit of Northrop Grumman. One of the best known, MPRI, boasts of having "more generals per square foot than in the Pentagon."

PNAC (Project for the New American Century) is a neoCon thinktank, who scripted a regime change of Saddam Hussein already in 2000 and before George Bush was elected as president of the United States.

The same "crew" wrote a "letter of 41" on Sep20th, 2001 to George Bush, urging him to start a war against Saddam Hussein. Among them Pentagon advisor Richard Perle, one of the strongest supporter of the war against Iraq.

Project for the New American Century (PNAC): Cheney's Monstrous Scheme
"In September 2000, the PNAC updated and refined Cheney's original version into a new report entitled: 'Rebuilding America's Defenses: Strategies, Forces, and Resources for a New Century' calling for unprecedented hikes in military spending, American military bases in Central Asia and Middle East, toppling of non-complying regimes, abrogation of international treaties, control of the world's energy sources, militarization of outer space, total control of cyberspace, and the willingness to use nuclear weapons to achieve "American" goals.

This plan by the neo-conservative or neo-con think tank, PNAC, shows Bush's cabinet intended to take military control whether or not Saddam Hussein was in power and says the U.S. for decades has sought to play a more permanent role in Gulf regional security, revealing that a premeditated attack on Iraq to secure a regime change was planned even before Bush took power in January, 2001. Pointdexter, John M.
=================
John M. Pointdexter joined the Bush Administration in February 2002 as head of the Office of Information Awareness at the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA ->).

FOX News reported on November 21st, 2002, that Pointdexter was put in charge of a new system called Total Information Awareness (TIAAP ->), which would permit the military to spy on the civilian population of the United States without search warrants by scanning personal information such as email, credit-card statements, banking and medical records, and travel documents for patterns that suggest criminal or terrorist activities.

Source:
http://www.foxnews.com/story/0%2C2933%2C70992%2C00.html

TIA is supported by DARPA, who once developed the Internet, when it was just called DARPAANET OR MILNET.

DARPA will be in charge of trying to make the system work technically.

Rear Adm. John Poindexter, former national security adviser to President Reagan, is developing the database under the Total Information Awareness Program, which funds had been blocked in January 2003 by the Senate.

Pointdexter was once convicted on five counts of misleading Congress and making false statements during the Iran-Contra (-) investigation.
Those convictions were later overturned, but critics note that his is a dubious resume for someone entrusted with so sensitive a task.

In December 2002, Pointdexter was victim of a prank, when John and Linda Poindexter's private telephone number appeared on 100 different websites, when Matt Smith, a columnist for SF Weekly, printed the material Cryptome (->), a popular website of privacy-issues, posted satellite photos (http://cryptome.org/tia-eyeball.htm) of his house.

Poisoning the Well

The only purpose was to turn "bombshell" into "red herrings".
This phenomena was described as "Poisoning the well", an old secret service trick.

Polling

As revealed by Washington Monthly in April 2002, responsible for analysing or manipulating polls for George Bush is Jan van Lohuizen, and his "focus-group guru", Fred Steeper.
Bush's principal pollsters received $346,000 in direct payments in 2001.
The US administration regularly employed for specialized and targeted polls close to $1 million.
Fred Steeper was the pollster for George Bush Sr. both during his campaign and his four-year term and later for George W. Bush's campaign.

Porton Down is one of the anthrax-suspects on the list by Barbara Rosenberg, FAS (-). In addition of a possible use of the Ames Strain from Fort Detrick (-), in the 1940s Porton Down was working on BTX, the botulin toxins. Botulism, generally appears as a particularly virulent form of food poisoning, with an average mortality rate of 60%. It can appear as "wound botulism" -- a rare complication that occurs when a puncture wound becomes infected with botulinum spores and heals partially, creating an anaerobic chamber the organism can live in.

London Telegraph reported, that Rosenbergs list was carefully analysed. From former 15-20 suspects, only five laboratories, including the defence science and technology laboratories at Porton Down, Salisbury, have been found to have spores of anthrax identical to the bacteria sent through the post.

http://www.pentagon-911.htm

In 1998, Bieport (-), co-founded by ex-Porton Down Faud al-Hibri, received a 3-year contract to work on Anthrax-vaccines. The watch group Judicial Watch (-) thinks, the US government had prior knowledge on the anthrax attacks and filed a lawsuit.

It appears, that the anthrax- and Sep11th attack had been scripted together and radically seperated in October 2002, though many hijackers had ties to related details of the anthrax stories (- Anthrax-suspects). why would the US government do such a thing?

"To maintain fear in the wake of the September 11 atrocity. To coerce control. To act as a catalyst for the horrific Model State Emergency Health Powers Act (http://www.publichealthlaw.net/MSEHPA/MSEHPA.pdf) - which mandates quarantine, execution, seizure of property, food and means of transport in the event of a smallpox attack.

A smallpox attack blamed on CIA funded 'arab terrorists' will be the perfect pretext for martial law."

Powers, Dr. Tyrone

In May 2002, Dr. Tyrone Powers, former FBI agent and terrorism expert, stated the White House could have thwarted the 911 attacks.

In an interview with host Amy Holmes of BET, he said:
"Let me be clear on this, I believe that enough information reached the WH, where the WH could have thwarted that particular attack by hardening the target at the airport."

Powers was a respected veteran of the Maryland State Police, spent nine years as an FBI agent, with posting in Cincinnati and Detroit. He resigned in August 1994.
In his accusations Powers described "sheet-clad students at the FBI Academy impersonating Ku Klux Klansmen". White agents according to Powers' narrative, urinated on photographs of President Bill Clinton and Vice-President Al Gore.

Powers provided eyewitness evidence of the agency's extra-legal harassment of African American Mayors Coleman Young (Detroit), Marion Berry (Washington, DC) and Harold Washington (Chicago).

Prince Turki al Faisal Al Saud

Former head of the Saudi Intelligence Service (->), who was replaced 10 days prior to Sep11th with Prince Nawaf bin Abdulaziz, who accompanied Deputy Prime Minister and Commander of the National Guard Crown Prince Abdullah bin Abdulaziz on his official trips overseas.

Al Faisal became then Minister of Foreign Affairs. Faisal is connected to Unocal (->) through the Saudi Arabian Delta oil company. On September 5th, 2001 he visited Lebanese Prime Minister Rafiq Al-Hariri, "to whom he also conveyed messages from the Saudi leadership concerning the latest developments in the Middle East".

On September 8th, 2001 al Faisal assigned to implement an "arab duty-free zone". The proposed duty-free zone covered Bahrain, Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Morocco, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Tunisia, and the United Arab Emirates. A final meeting was already scheduled for September 12-13th.

Turki al Faisal is primary target in one of many 911victim-lawuits (->) to have been one of the sponsors and founders of the Sep11th attack.

On 8 November 2001, in a rare television interview with Middle East Broadcasting Centre (MBC), Prince Turki Al-Faisal described how "Crown Prince Abdullah sent a letter to President George W Bush before 11 September, in which he stated that relations between the two countries were at a crossroads."

Fifteen of the 19 suspects believed responsible for the attacks on the US are reported to have come from Saudi Arabia.

Indeed, as the CIA confirmed on October 20th 2002, "Al Quida is supported by 12 financiers, most of them Saudis"

As Ron Motley, one of the attorneys confirmed, Faisal participated in the facilitation of the funding of "Al Qaeda":

Motley's law company "spoke with senior Taliban officials who were in the room when he indeed did facilitate the transfer of large sums of money directly to al Qaeda in Afghanistan. And the people who gave us these sworn statements were in the room when it occurred. And these were senior Taliban, former Taliban officials."

On December 11th, 2002, while mentioning the lawsuit, Sen. Bob Graham (->), D-Miami Lakes, chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, and Sen. Richard Shelby, R-Ala., the vice chairman, said the information on Saudi Arabia should be made public to inform citizens about a continued source of support for anti-American terror groups.

Prince Saudi Turki al Faisal has a long tradition of friendship with the US government and US Congress members.

One of his friends, Bin Laden's cousin Sheikh Suhail Ibn Mustahil Ibn Salim, by 1979, together with James R. Bath (->) and Khaled bin Maafuz (->), had become a business partner of former Texas Governor George W. Bush, in the family's Zapata Oil and Arbusco Ltd.

Bin Laden's family had invested in the Carlyle Group (->Blackstone), specializing in buyouts of defense and aerospace companies, in which George Bush Sr. held the position of Consultant. According to business magazine Forbes, the fortune of Khaled bin Maafuz (->BCCI, -Harken), who has the 251 fortune of the world, estimated in thousand 900 million dollars, had founded the main Saudi bank, the Commercial National Bank, that created diverse companies in collaboration with the Sico, Swiss society of the Bin Laden Group.

The sister of Mahfouz was married to Osama bin Laden.

In December 2002, it was revealed, that Mahfouz' main business partner Yassin al-Kadi (->) was the secret owner of US-computer company Ptech (->), among their customers are Applied Materials, Booz Allen Hamilton (->), which is run by former CIA director James Woolsey (->), FAA (->), FBI, IBM Global Services, IRS, The MITRE Corporation (->), MetLife, Motorola, NATO, NAVAIR, PricewaterhouseCoopers, Sprint or the US Air Force.

Kadi was accused by the FBI to be a financial supporter of Bin Laden, but put their knowledge on Ptech on hold since October 2001. The same policy happened to Bin Laden Inc.

Immediately after the US Election in 2000, the intelligence agencies were told to "back off" from investigating the bin Laden family, who was in connection with Saudi Arabia.

The Bin Laden Group, together with Carlyle, held stocks in the BioPharmacy company Biopart (->), which was co-founded by former Bin Laden's business partner Fuad-el Hibri from Intervac LLC (ex-Porton Down, -Dynamic) and Admiral William Crowe (ex-CIA).

El-Hibri once worked as a merger and acquisitions manager for the Rockefeller-linked Citigroup in New York and arranged various deals for the Bin Laden Family, at that time close friends to Saudi Arabia.

Biopart is distributing Anthrax-vaccines with the help of Avant Immunotherapeutics Inc., a contractor of Dynport Vaccine Company LLC, a joint venture between Dyncorp (->) and Porton Down.

Prince Turki Al Faisal had confirmed meetings with the Bin Laden Group and Osama bin Laden himself, several times in Saudi Arabia and Pakistan before he was stripped of his Saudi citizenship in 1994.

In July 1998, as the lawsuit said, Al Faisal met Taliban leaders in Kandahar, Afghanistan and reached agreement on fresh aid from Riyadh.

"Prince Turki also promised to provide oil and generous financial assistance to both the Taliban in Afghanistan and Pakistan. After the meeting, 400 new pick-up trucks arrived in Kandahar for the Taliban, still bearing Saudi Arabia license plates.

The Saudi Intelligence is one of the contractors of British Aerospace (BAe), which is in business with Saleh Bin Laden.

In 2002, John Weston resigned from BAe Systems. There are speculations around, that this had to do with bribery.

In the meantime BAe is under control by Raytheon, Northrop Grumman and Lockheed Martin. In April 2002, Insiders of BAe leaked a document to Cryptome (->), which proved that "there has been considerable reporting elsewhere alleging that the former Head of Saudi Intelligence, Turqi Al Faisal, was a major conduit of material and financial support to Osama, and that indeed that Osama was sent to Afghanistan essentially as an agent of Saudi Intelligence."

http://cryptome.org/soil/soiled-dove2.txt http://cryptome.org/soil/soiled-dove2.zip

Al-Faisal met Bin Laden in June 2001 in a hospital in Dubai, together with CIA agent Larry Mitchell, as reported by Radio France International 1, francintelligenceOnline.com and the Guardian UK.

During an increased crisis between Washington and Saudi Arabia on January 12th 2002, al-Faisal met with Senator and current democratic candidate for US president, John Kerry (->) and members of a delegation from the U.S. House of Representatives, headed by Congressman David Price.

On January 17th, 2002 he met with U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs William Burns. In February 2002, Faisal visited Washington, DC, to attend a series of lectures and discussion groups on Saudi-U.S. relations. The eight-person delegation, which included three female university professors, attended events sponsored by the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS - ->), the Center for Policy Analysis on Palestine, the Middle East Institute and Middle East Insight magazine.

When the lawsuit against Saudi Arabia started in August 2002, George Bush decided to meet Saudi ambassador Prince Bandar bin Sultan on his ranch. Not much was revealed on the content, officially it was described as a meeting on the "middle east crisis".

Prior Knowledge, confirmed

Confirmed reports about shorter copies of the CIA-briefing from August 6th, 2002 about a pending attack on america, went to George Tenet (CIA) , Condoleezza Rice, Dick Cheney, Andy Card, Senator Richard Shelby, Sen. Project Bojinka

It was never confirmed, if this plan really existed, but the idea of Project Bojinka was in reality described by an anonymous source:

"Sometimes in January 1995, when Philippine Police authorities captured Ramsey Youssef in Manila, I was asked, because of my affiliation with the NBI, to help decode and decipher the hard drives of the computers found in Youssef's possession.  This is where we found most of the evidence of the projects that were being funded by Osama Bin Laden in the Philippines.

The first plan was to assassinate Pope John Paul II who was then scheduled to visit the Philippines.  The second was Project Bojinka, which called for the hijacking of US bound commercial airliners from the Philippines, Korea, Thailand, Taiwan, Honk Kong(sic -ed) and Singapore, and then crash them into key structures in the United States.  The World Trade Center, the White House, the Pentagon, the Transamerica Tower, and the Sears Tower were among prominent structures that had been identified in the plans that we had decoded.  A dry-run was even conducted on a Tokyo bound Philippine Airlines flight, which fortunately was aborted by our security personnel..."

In 2001-2002, Project Bojinka made news in various newspapers and at the 911 hearings.

The original idea of repromoting Bojinka, might have been based on a disinformation coup.  The purpose of it was to distract from Operation Northwoods (->) or a public 911-commission.

Projectcensored.org

Projectcensored.org organised in 2002 the "Top 25 Censored Stories of 2001-2002", which has been released as a book.

Political analyst/author Michael Parenti and cartoonist Dan Perkins, aka Tom Tomorrow (->), creator of This Modern World, gave a keynote of Project Censored's annual release of top 25 news stories that were undercovered by mainstream media. Davey D of KPFA Hardknock Radio was MC, and a host of media activist luminaries such as: Norman Solomon, Greg Palast (->), Jeremy Rifkin, and Jim Hightower were honored at the Project Censored Annual Top 25 Countdown/Award Ceremony/Book Release Celebration.

In their Top 25 are two Sep11th related stories:

#11: Bush Appoints Former Criminals to Key Government Roles

The Primary Objective of Project Censored is to explore and publicize the extent of censorship in our society by locating stories about significant issues of which the public should be aware, but is not, for one reason or another.

Director of ProjectCensored.org is Peter Phillips Ph.D.(->) , who wrote about Sep11th related articles and mirrored articles by michaelmoore.com, Mike Ruppert, or Michel Chossudovsky.

Established in the spring of 1997, PNAC is an initiative of the New Citizenship Project (501c3); the New Citizenship Project's chairman is William Kristol and its president is Gary Schmitt.

In October 2000, PNAC wrote a scenario for a regime change in Iraq. Among them Richard Perle (->) and Charles Krauthammer, both old Bush/Reagan supporters.
PROMIS

PROMIS was originally designed by Herb Graham (Graphic Computer Solutions, Inc.) and Michael Riconosciuto. Graham, former Executive Director of the National Center for Prosecution Management (NCPM), developed PROMIS (Prosecutor's Management Information System) for the National District Attorneys Association (NDAA) as a criminal information system for the U.S. Department of Justice.

Source: http://www.gcs-inc.com/snapshot.htm

PROMIS architect Michael Riconosciuto about the software:

"...the PROMIS software has properties and applications to military and industrial skullduggery that surpass the threats it seems to pose to hackers, conspiracy students, and the other riffraff who populate the cybersphere...

http://www.disinfo.com/pages/article/id905/pg2/

PROMIS was later renamed. One of the new names had been LIONS:

ACRONYM: PROMIS (now LIONS)

ORIGINATOR:

Department/Agency Name: U.S. Department of Justice
Major Organization Subdivision: United States Attorneys Offices
Minor Organization Subdivision: Executive Office for United States Attorneys
Name of Unit: Case Management, Washington DC

ABSTRACT: The LIONS system is a database with on-line capabilities which permits the USAOs and EOUSA to compile, maintain and track information relating to defendants, crimes, criminal charges, court events, and witnesses.

PURPOSE: LIONS was established and is maintained to track cases and matters which are presented to and/or pursued by the USAOs. LIONS serves as a day to day management tool as well as a litigation aid and a review tool.

ACCESS CONSTRAINTS: The magnetic tapes and discs which LIONS information is stored on are maintained in a secure vault at the Metropolitan Police Department Computer Center. In addition to the physical security safeguards, there is a twenty four hour patrol.

As Citizen.org wrote in April 2001, "since the introduction of PROMIS, each United States Attorneys' office has undergone subsequent generations of new case management systems. Thus, in the Western District of Kentucky it appears that between 1990 and the present, that office has used at least three completely different case management systems with several different hardware or network computer systems: the PCUSACTS case management system on standalone PCs until 1991; the TALONS system on EAGLE network computer system from 1991 to November 1996; the TALONS system on the Phoenix network from November 1996 to July 1997; and, since July 1997, the LIONS system (with all open cases and three years of historical data from the TALONS systems converted on to LIONS). (Declaration of Carol Uebelhoer).

No explanation is provided for whether the PCUSACTS system was converted to the subsequent TALONS systems, and then reconverted to LIONS, or whether it remains on an on-line system or has otherwise been archived. The only explanation provided about Kentucky's USACTS records is that the extract tapes for that system have been destroyed.

Citizen.org refered these destructions to Carol Uebelhoer, described as "shredding of records in 1997"

The destruction in two district offices - the Western District of Kentucky and the District of Minnesota is described in a lawsuit against Janet Reno in 2002, reported at Citizen.org on November 23rd, 2002:

"The Transactional Records Access Clearinghouse (TRAC) obtained evidence from affidavits submitted by employees of these two offices that electronic records "were shredded during the normal course of business" and that there is no adequate records maintenance program to safeguard against further loss or destruction. See Declaration of Carol Uebelhoer (Systems Manager for the computerized case management system in the Western District of Kentucky) and Declaration of Verlyn Bryant."

The CIA was monitoring in "real-time," pre-September 11, stock option trading activity within United States borders using such software as the Prosecutor's Management Information System (PROMIS). PROMIS has been extensively reported as being used throughout the world’s financial markets because of its "backdoor" system, a versatility in facilitating international transactions.

On October 24th 2001, Justice Department spokesperson Loren Pfeifle confirmed to investigative journalist Mike Ruppert (->) "that the DOJ has discontinued use of the program," , but declined to answer any questions about where, when, or how PROMIS had been used.

Ptech
On November 6th, 2002 the FBI raided a Boston-area computer software firm looking for evidence that the company, which does business with key government agencies, might have links to Osama bin Laden's terror network. This company was Ptech from Quincy, Massachusetts.
The investigation was part of a broader Customs-led program known as "Operation Green Quest", a multiagency task force that has served 114 search warrants since Sep11th, which has resulted in 50 arrests, 28 indictments and the seizure of about $27.4 million until the end of 2002.

Ignored from the mainstream press are background details on this company.
The so called "secret owner", Yassin al-Kadi (->), one of 12 Saudi businessmen accused of funneling millions of dollars to al Qaeda, was well known in investigative circles.
The Washington Post reported later, that public documents filed in Massachusetts showed that Ptech leased much of its office and computer equipment using financing provided by BMI Finance and Investment, a firm that was partly financed by al-Qadi and which shared office space in New Jersey with Kadi International.

BMI was financed by Marzook (a US Designated Terrorist): Yassin Kadi, financier of HAMAS terrorist Mohammad Salah, and two siblings of Osama bin Laden. BMI has developed property in Indianapolis, IN, Baltimore, MD and other locations. The development schemes parallel those of QLI and Golden Marble, Inc. (above).

What was the real purpose of sharing aviation codes with Quantas?

Quantas-Code Sharing
=================================
Agreement of New Zealand on sharing aviation codes.

As it was revealed in 2002, all Sep11th-planes were codeshare.

Under code-sharing, one airline offers service in its own name to a particular destination, but some or all of the transportation is provided by another carrier which carries its partner’s designator code. This practice allows carriers to provide more convenient and often seamless service to travelers.

"The agreement, reached ... after two days of talks in Washington, allows carriers from each country to enter into code-sharing agreements with each other without limit, effective immediately. It also allows carriers of each country to enter code-sharing arrangements with third-country carriers. Two third-country code-sharing arrangements may begin immediately, and one such arrangement may be added on both April 1, 2002 and April 1, 2003.”

United Flight 93, a single aircraft, [AIR CANADA CODESHARE]
45 passengers and crew aboard.
Crashed near Johnstown, Pennsylvania, 80 miles southeast of Pittsburgh.

Qantas and Air New Zealand have confirmed that the flights used in the wave of terrorist attacks in the US overnight were involved with code-share arrangements with the local carriers.
Qantas said that it believed six US residents were flying as Qantas codeshare on American Airlines Flight 77 from Washington Dulles to Los Angeles which was deliberately crashed into the US defence headquarters, the Pentagon, just before midnight AEST.

Qantas said, that one of its US-based staff members was travelling on company business aboard American Airlines Flight 11 from Boston to Los Angeles, which crashed into the World Trade Centre (WTC) in New York.
No passengers or crew are believed to have survived either crash.

... In a statement released this morning Air NZ said United Airlines flight UA175 from Boston to Los Angeles, which is believed to have crashed into the WTC, was a code-share flight with Air New Zealand operating as NZ9051.
"Initial investigations have revealed that Air New Zealand has no record of any of our ticketed passengers being onboard this flight," the company said.
12 September 2001

The Australian government asked Qantas to step in on Monday after Air New Zealand made clear it was considering getting rid of its Australian carrier, the country's second biggest airline. http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/business/1537011.stm

It is interesting to note that Ansett (the Australian branch of Air New Zealand) was experiencing considerable difficulties with its fleet of Boeing 767s and had been forced to ground them at least twice.

Three planes were headed towards Los Angeles.
Three buildings were hit.
These three planes are directly linked to Qantas.

One plane was headed to San Francisco.
This plane was an Air Canada codeshare.
It did NOT hit a building.

One should recall, though, that Australia is an ally of the United States.

Australia and the United States are collaborating to evaluate and further develop Global Hawk (->) as an airborne surveillance system. On 22 April 2001, Global Hawk (ship AV-05) flew non-stop from Edwards AFB, California to Edinburgh RAAF Base, South Australia, where it was based for nearly two months undergoing a series of demonstration flights.

Prof. Charles Bigelow confirmed that his company provided the symbols, but insisted that Microsoft made the final "mapping" decisions assigning his symbols to specific keys on the keyboard.

Raisi, Lotfi

The FBI claimed, that Lotfi Raissi (Algeria) was Hani Hanjou's official flying teacher.

Raisi was in fact Flight Trainer and flight instructor at the Sawyer School of Aviation. He was arrested in October 2001.

However in February 2001, at his trial in United Kingdom, he was spoken unguilty.

It was proved, that he never met Hanjour or taught him any single lesson.
One of Raissi's lawyers, Hugo Keith, told the court: "The Americans now seem unwilling to withdraw from their initial position and accept on this occasion they pursued the wrong person."

Raisi's French wife, Sonia, said outside court: "From the beginning we said Lotfi has nothing to do with all this.
Raisi's brother Mohamed added: "The FBI said to the world that he was a big terrorist and they have to now say to the world that this man is innocent.

Source:

Raisi himself in an interview on February 16th, 2002:
"I am not a terrorist. I abhor terrorism, and my family in Algeria has fought terrorism and been the victims of it for a decade"

In May 2002, Raisi demanded a public apology from the United States government. and announced to sue the US government, in case they would not respond.

Reagan-Files

Many journalists argued, that President Bush used the aftermath of the Sep11th attack to hide historic White House documents of the Reagan administration. Reagan issued an order in 1989 that called for disclosure of most of his official papers 12 years after he left office (68,000 pages of confidential messages between Reagan and his advisers).

Until 1978, American presidents had complete control over the release of their internal communications. Reagan's records were supposed to be released in January 2001, and historians were eagerly awaiting them. But because of delays ordered by White House counsel Albert R. Gonzales, researchers and the public still had been waiting for a complete disclosure at the end of 2002.

The most interesting stuff would be about the Iran-Contra (->) scandal of the late 1980s in which Reagan's aides sold arms covertly to Iran and used the proceeds to illegally fund the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

In April 2002, the New York Post claimed, that they obtained a log of these files:
"The log indicates the concealed papers have nothing to do with Bush's father, the Iran-Contra scandal, or current members of the Bush administration. George W. Bush's order, made about six months ago, allows the sitting president or a former president to block the release of documents that were set to become public 12 years after a president leaves office..."*

Red Cross Bombing

While the Pentagon claimed, that the second Bombing on the Red Cross (October 29th 2001) in Afghanistan, was based on "wrong database" information and "hit on purpose because it was seized by the Taliban", Red Cross spokesman Christoph Luedi said in December 2001:

"This we can confirm is not correct because we started four days before the bombardment to distribute food out of these warehouses to disabled-headed families, a distribution which started on Tuesday and should have been ongoing until Sunday.

This distribution was notified to the Americans especially in light of, because we distributed to different districts and this leads to a massing of people and we wanted to keep them [the Americans] informed that the massing people was linked to our distributions.*

In the early 1990s Rendon supported the Kuwaiti government, as part of a multi-million-dollar PR campaign, denouncing Iraq's 1990 invasion and mobilizing public support for Operation Desert Storm.

ClandestineRadio.com, a website which monitors underground and anti-government radio stations in countries throughout the world, credits the Rendon Group with "designing and supervising" the Iraqi Broadcasting Corporation (IBC) and Radio Hurriah, which began broadcasting Iraqi opposition propaganda in January 1992 from a US government transmitter in Kuwait.

The Wall Street Journal reported on November 8, 2001, that the Army's "4th Psychological Operations (Psyps) group" designed leaflets and radio broadcasts inside Afghanistan "to persuade enemy fighters to quit, and to convince civilians that U.S. bombs raining down on their country will result in a better future for their families."

In December 2002, O'Dwyer's PR Daily reported, that the Rendon Group had re-launched their website, "after a seven-month hiatus".

Already hired by the Pentagon to a $100K a-month contract following Sept. 11, they started to work in Iraq again, spreading radio propaganda and helping to distribute leaflets.

Rense.com

Rense.com was maybe the most popular "source" for 911Skeptics or -newbies between 2001 and 2002, though many, more sophisticated supporters denied their visits at Rense.

In reality, Jeff Rense is however open minded for every kind of article, which is risking censorship or ignorance on major mainstream press.

Rense archived or mirrored the most popular 911Skeptics articles on his server and was therefore a very valuable and important source for many different angles of the Sep11th attack.

Jeff Rense is host of his own radio show and invited a lot of important 911Skeptics like Mike Ruppert.

Rense mirrored the famous 911-timeline by Paul Thompson (-> cooperativeresearch.org) as one of the first websites and made him popular worldwide. He mirrored the Top 500 FAQs by "ewing2001" and his complete anthrax-timeline and many critical articles on the "police state".

His website was created in 1999 in Central Point, Oregon and achieved in 2002 seven Million Hits A Month.

Rice, Condoleezza

Condoleezza Rice is the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs.
At Stanford, she has been a member of the Center for International Security and Arms Control, a Senior Fellow of the Institute for International Studies, and a Fellow (by courtesy of) the Hoover Institution (-).

From 1989 through March 1991, the period of German reunification and the final days of the Soviet Union, she served in the first Bush Administration as Director, and then Senior Director, of Soviet and East European Affairs, in the National Security Council, and a Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. In 1986, while an international affairs fellow of the Council on Foreign Relations (-> CFR) , she served as Special Assistant to the Director of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Rice was a member of the boards of directors for the Chevron Corporation, the Charles Schwab Corporation, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, the University of Notre Dame, the International Advisory Council of J.P. Morgan, The Rand Corporation (-> ) , the National Council for Soviet and East European Studies and the San Francisco Symphony Board of Governors.

Condoleezza Rice was warned by Senator Gary Hart (CFR) five days before Sept. 11 on a possible terrorist attack.
She received the copy of George Tenet's CIA-memo on a warning about an attack on August 6th, 2001 (-> Prior knowledge).

Furthermore, US Congress-member Dana Rohrabacher (->) warned her a couple of days before the attack and tried to get an appointment with the US State of Department.

Therefore, Rice was the only confirmed member of the US Government, who was warned by three individual persons a couple of weeks before Sep11th.

Rice lied more than twice, i.e. in this press conference:

She claimed that they couldn't have thought up planes as weapons, when they'd done just that in Genoa a few months before.

Correction on CNN:
"...An earlier version of this article incorrectly quoted national security adviser Condoleezza Rice's Thursday comments on intelligence reports last summer that Osama bin Laden's al Qaeda network might attempt to hijack a U.S. airliner.

Rice said, "But the fact is this in retrospect even looks hard to put together. At the time, we were looking at something very different. To the degree that hijacking was an issue, it was traditional hijacking."

Source

Comment by DU-member, JeffC :
"...Ms. Rice wants it both ways. She wants to say that there was nothing specific in the reports given to the president, she wants to say that only a traditional hijacking threat was being considered, to "take over an airliner, holding passengers and demand the release of one of their operatives," Rice said of the report's reference to al-Qaida."

But at the same time, "She said the terrorists wanted to hijack a plane and demand the freedom of the "blind sheik" — Omar Abdel-Rahman, the Egyptian cleric imprisoned for a plot to bomb targets in New York in the early 1990s."

============================================
In February 2002 British journalist Yvonne Ridley, who was captured for 10 days by the Taliban in September 2001, claimed, that her own government tried to convince Taliban officials that she was a spy. Yvonne Ridley, who worked for the Sunday Express UK, has written a book (In the hands of the Taliban) about her ordeal, said that her death would have been a public relations success for the British government in the face of anti-war critics.

However, according to Ridley, she was treated relatively well, with "respect" and "courtesy."
She said, "The Taliban never harmed me physically". Ridley thinks, that the British intelligence tried to kill her.
The British Foreign Office denied Ridley's version of events.

Ridley was not the only journalist, who was captured by the Taliban.

In October 2001, French journalist Michel Peyrard, was arrested by the Taliban after illegally entering Afghanistan dressed as a woman but told the BBC he was being treated well.

Peyrard, who worked for Paris Match magazine, and two Pakistani journalists travelling with him have been charged with spying, an offence which carried a death penalty.

Another French journalist who was arrested was freed in October 2001, Aziz Zemouri, from Le Figaro magazine, later and handed over to Pakistani authorities in the border city of Peshawar.

Author Thierry Meyssan (-> Hunt the Boeing) claimed on a press conference in December 2001 in Saudi Arabia, that Michel Peyrard told him how Osama Ben Laden lived openly in Jalalabad, in November 2001, "while the USA bombarded other areas of the country"

RISSNET, or Regional Information Sharing System Network, founded before the September 11th attacks, got a boost when Congress authorized additional money for it in the USA PATRIOT Act (-> in October 2001.

RISSNET is a secure intranet that connects 5,700 law enforcement agencies in all 50 US-states, as well as agencies in Ontario and Quebec, the District of Columbia, Guam, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, and Australia.

According to sources close to the Washington Metropolitan Police, data on targeted local groups such as the Alliance for Global Justice, the anti-World Bank/International Monetary Fund activist organization, has been shared with other jurisdictions through RISSNET.

RISSNET has been used to coordinate the monitoring of the activities of anti-globalization protestors in Seattle, Quebec City, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Washington DC and Genoa. For example, when the FBI seized network server logs from Independent Media Center (IMC->) in Seattle during the April 2001 anti-free trade protests in Quebec City, RISSNET was used to coordinate activities across jurisdictional boundaries.

All RISS intelligence is archived by an Orwellian-sounding entity called MAGLOCLEN or "Middle Atlantic-Great Lakes Organized Crime Law Enforcement Network Headquartered in Newtown, Pennsylvania, MAGLOCLEN distributes political intelligence to all police departments hooked up to RISSNET.

Former U.S. Marine intelligence officer, resigned from the U.N. inspection team in August 1998 after several years as a member. He left denouncing the Clinton administration for having withdrawn support for the U.N. agency and undermining weapons inspections.

In many different interviews and the William Rivers Pitt (->) book "War on Iraq", Ritter "debunked the key arguments for war," notably Iraq's alleged nuclear capabilities.

Ritter in July 2002:

"There is a good chance that a domino effect will come into play. We could see Saudi Arabia fall, Kuwait fall, Jordan fall, Egypt fall and the entire region being swept up in a sea of anti-Western, Islamic fundamentalism. Vast numbers of ordinary Arabs will swing behind the aims of al-Qa'ida. The invasion of Iraq is the quickest path to losing the war on terror and giving legitimacy to the criminal who attacked the US and the entire freedom of the world on 11 September."

Rocca, Christina

Christina Rocca, a veteran of the CIA's Operations Directorate since 1982, was nominated in April 2001, as the Secretary of State for South Asia in place of Karl Inderfurth (->).

Rocca resigned from the CIA in 1997 and started working as an advisor of republican Senator Sam Brownback in Kansas.

In early 2001, Brownback had moved two amendments, adopted by the US Senate in 1999, vesting powers with the President to lift sanctions against India and Pakistan.

On August 2nd, 2001, as revealed by many different sources and documented in "Forbidden Truth" (->), Christina Rocca, the director of Asian affairs at the State Department, met the Taliban ambassador, Mullah Abdul Salam Zaeef, in Islamabad and his assistant, Sohail Shaheen.

Ms Rocca was previously in charge of contacts with Islamist guerrilla groups at the CIA, where in the 1980s, she oversaw the delivery of Stinger missiles to Afghan mujaheddin.

It is believed that she was closely involved in the operations of the CIA against the Soviet troops in Afghanistan in the 1980s. She visited India and Pakistan under her real name.

In the early 1990s, Rocca monitored the implementation of a plan for the buy-back by the CIA from the Afghan Mujahideen (->) groups and the Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) (->) of Pakistan the unused Stinger missiles supplied by the CIA, free of cost during the 1980s, for use against the Soviet troops.

Lt.Gen.Javed Nasir, the Director-General of the ISI during Mr.Nawaz Sharif's first tenure as the Prime Minister (1990-93), did not co-operate with the CIA in the implementation of this buy-back scheme. It was on the recommendation of Rocca that Mr.Clinton placed Pakistan in the so-called watch list of suspected State-sponsors of international terrorism in January, 1993, and demanded that Mr. Nawaz Sharif should remove from the ISI.

Rocca supported the Steering Group-study on Iran-Iraq.

Members of this group had been Senator Brownback, James Woolsey (->) former Director of the CIA) and former Congressman Stephen Solarz, both reputed to be good friends of India .

Rocca is well known to have varied interests in South Asia as well as the Middle East

Roemer, Tim

Tim Roemer basically helped Cynthia McKinney (->) to establish some independent 911-hearings with his Roemer-Commission.

His patriotic duty however ended at the vote for a war against Iraq. He voted pro.

In December 2002, he became one of the 10 members of a new 911-commission, led by Tom Kean (->).
In April 2001 the CIA received a warning by former Northern Alliance Commander Ahmed Shah Massoud, when former Mujahadene fighter and US-Congress member Dana Rohrabacher started to refresh his contacts with the Taliban.

On April 5, 2001 Massoud had a message for Bush at the European Parliament in Strasbourg, France: "If President Bush doesn't help us," he replied in Persian, according to a recording of his remarks translated by Afghan allies, "then these terrorists will damage the United States and Europe very soon, and it will be too late."

A few weeks later, some unknown CIA officers travelled into northern Afghanistan and gave Massoud cash and supplies in small amounts in exchange for intelligence on al Qaeda.

At basically the same time, Republican Congressman Dana Rohrabacher "conducted secret and illegal negotiations with the Taliban while on a trip paid for by Islamic and Egyptian support organizations", charged his Democratic challenger, Gerrie Schipske.

http://www.schipske4congress.org/afghanstn.html

"Rohrabacher traveled to the United Arab Emirate of Qatar and conducted secret, unauthorized negotiations with Osama bin Laden's protégé - Taliban Foreign Minister Wali Ahmad Mutawakel in April 2001," said Schipske.

The Arab news media reports that Rohrabacher pressured the Government of Qatar to set up a private meeting between him and the Taliban’s Foreign Minister.

"Rohrabacher met with Mutawakel and gave him a document that outlined his own 'personal peace plan' and told Mutawakel to take it back to the Taliban," Schipske explains. "It is simply outrageous that this rogue Congressman engaged in negotiations with the Taliban. He needs to explain why he tried to cut a deal on his own and what he promised the Taliban during the meeting."

Schipske urged Rohrabacher to release whatever documents he handed to the Taliban leader.

Rohrabacher’s secret dealings came to light after his 2001 Financial Disclosure was released in late July 2002 showing a trip to Qatar paid for by both the Egypt International Forum and the Islamic Institute.

Rohrabacher and George Tenet have known each other for years. They both worked in 1998 together on a satellite controversy with the Intelligence Committee.

Rohrabacher is a member of the Afghanistan - America Foundation, a non-profit, non-partisan, independent organization located in Washington, D.C., a few blocks from the U.S. Capitol building. This Foundation is honored to have as its National Honorary Co-Chairmen two former White House National Security Advisors, Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski (->) and Gen. Brent Scowcroft (->).

Closely advising and working with the Foundation are Dr. Zalmay Khalilzad, RAND Corp.; Dr. Tom Gouttierre, Director of the Center for Afghanistan Studies, University of Nebraska, Omaha, and Vice-President of the Afghanistan - America Foundation. Dr. Frederick Starr, former President of Oberlin College and now Chairman of the Central Asia-Caucasus Institute at the School for Advanced International Studies (SAIS ->) of Johns Hopkins University; and Dr. Barnett Rubin, Council on Foreign Relations, serve on the Foundation's White Paper Task Force.

ROHRABACHER PEACE TO ASIA TRIP
JANUARY 4 - 19, 2000

Congressman Dana Rohrabacher led a CODEL on behalf of the House International Relations Committee to the Asia-Pacific region from January 4 through 19, 2000. He was accompanied by his Special Assistant, Al Santoli, a national security and Asia-Pacific expert, and Jeffrey Baxter [traveling on private resources], an advisor on anti-ballistic missile systems and a special reserve officer with the Los Angeles Police Department Anti-Terrorism Unit. In Manila, the CODEL was joined by Paul Berkowitz, a professional staff member of the Committee. The delegation investigated national security, international crime and drug trafficking, and human rights issues in Taiwan, the Philippines, Thailand, Cambodia and in the Golden Triangle of the Thai-Burma border.

On July 12, 2000, (at a U.S. Congressional Committee Mtg) Rep. Dana Rohrabacher bitterly "charged the U.S. State Department with pretending to oppose bin Laden and the Taliban while actually secretly supporting them." (ibid, see tenc.com "Congressman").

http://www.whatreallyhappened.com/Scoop_INVESTIGATION_Sept_11th1.htm

In September 2002, Rohrabacher had been part of an investigation, possibly because of this comment one year earlier and the Taliban warning of Mutawakil (-) :

"...behind the Taliban is and was Saudi Arabia. During the war against the Russians, the Saudis provided the Afghan resistance with hundreds of millions of dollars.
...I met with the head of Saudi intelligence, the man responsible for providing that money to the Afghans during the war, the $200 million or so, or whatever it was that the Saudis provided to the Afghans. His name was General Turkey."

About his appointment:

"The day before the attack on the world trade towers and the Pentagon, there was an attempt to kill Commander Massoud. Many of us thought he was dead, he was reported dead, but he struggled for life for another 5 days and just died 2 days ago.

However, the attack on Commander Massoud; and I knew him, I had met him in Afghanistan. By the way, I will just say that I have been in and out of Afghanistan several times in these last few years.

380 of 481
The last time I went in was to see Commander Massoud. The attack on the commander told me something terrible was about to happen, something terrible was about to happen, because Massoud was someone that bin Laden understood that if he did something that would make the United States or someone else very angry at him, that Massoud was someone that would be turned to immediately by our side to ally with.

So before the attack on the World Trade Towers and on the Pentagon, bin Laden and his terrorists attacked Commander Massoud and, unfortunately, succeeded in killing him and eliminating Commander Massoud from the equation today.

I was so concerned about this, understanding that this was telling us something horrible was going to happen, that I made an appointment to see the top officials in the White House in the National Security Council. My appointment with the National Security Council at the White House was to warn them that this attack on Massoud obviously meant something big was about to happen. My appointment was for 2:50 that afternoon. Unfortunately, at 8:45 that morning, the first plane slammed into the World Trade Center...

According the Reuters News (9-24-2001), U.S. Rep. Dana Rohrabacher (R-CA) met with the Taliban leader Muttawakil on Tuesday, April 10. “The meeting was purely unofficial and was organized at the insistence of the U.S. congressman,” said a Qatari diplomat. Moreover, Doha-based Al-Jazeera satellite television said “the two sides also discussed Osama bin Laden and the situation of women and public freedom.”

Curiously, besides Rohrabacher, Qatar’s Al-Raya News agency specifically reported that “the controversial Taliban meeting [with Osama bin Laden’s associate] was also attended by other U.S. congressmen in Doha, [Qatar] for a conference.” That other U.S. legislators besides Rohrabacher met with the Taliban leader was reported by the Associated Press and Agence France Presse.

On Sep11th, 2001, Rohrabacher, who was once fighting with the mujahedin (->), described the attack as "the result of a deal between Saudi Arabia, Pakistan, and, unfortunately, the United States."

...I was thwarted by our own State Department. NGOs with aid for Afghans who were in areas that were controlled by the Taliban, on the other hand, had no trouble with our government, and more disturbing:
Several years ago during the Clinton administration contacted the CIA to let them know that I had an informant who knew exactly where bin Laden was, that he was out of Afghanistan, and that he was willing to pinpoint bin Laden for them. I gave them my contact's phone number. They never called. After a week, I called my friend back and said, Did the CIA get with you? No.

I went to the CIA again and explained that this person had impeccable credentials of knowing what was going on in Afghanistan. They would get to him, but they did not. A week later they still had not called. Then I went and complained to the chairman of the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Goss), whom I respect; and I told him what happened.
The next day he had a meeting in this building with representatives of the NSA, the CIA, and the FBI. It was the bin Laden task force.

I told them what had happened and that my friend could pinpoint bin Laden, and that he had been ignored for 2 weeks. They would get to it, Guess what, a week later my friend still had not been contacted. By then the trail was cold. But when I went to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. Goss), it got action and my friend was called.
He said it was a lackadaisical call. It looked like it was a pro forma call.

More:
I know of a situation at the Defense Intelligence Agency where a young analyst felt there was a lack of information about Afghanistan and that lack of information was threatening to our national security. She wanted to get the information. She wanted to go up to Massoud's territory and find out what was going on because we did not know what was happening in Afghanistan. She was denied, and she had the gall on her own time, on her own vacation time, to go there to Massoud's stronghold to try to get that information. I think someone like that should get a medal.
Instead, she was fired.

(-> Julie Sirrs)

Again on Massoud:

After I had gotten myself together after his death, I knew that it must be because they are going to attack the United States. That is why the Taliban killed him, so we could not have anyone to turn to, to rally behind in our counterattack. So the next day I called the White House. I asked to speak to Condoleezza Rice, and I wanted a meeting with her and the National Security Council because there was an attack that would soon befall the United States of America.

They got back to me, and said, Congressman, we take your opinions on Afghanistan and elsewhere very seriously, but we are very busy. Can you come tomorrow? The earliest we can fit you in is 2:00 tomorrow. I woke up on 9-11 expecting to have a meeting with Condoleezza Rice and the National Security Council at the White House to warn them that there was an imminent attack planned on the United States and to take seriously any possible threat that they saw.
(Rice had now 3 warnings, by CIA, Gary Hart and Rohrabacher!)
http://www.house.gov/rohrabacher/911Speech.html

Investigation was cancelled, on October 15th 2002, he profound condolences to the family of Steve 'Webby' Webster, who lost his life "at the hands of terrorists in Indonesia".

http://www.house.gov/rohrabacher/webster.html

Rohrabachers strange dark past and Robert Kennedy connection:

"...Rohrabacher, then a young conservative Republican, was at the Ambassador Hotel on June 5, 1968 the night that RFK was assassinated and was interviewed by LAPD. That murder led to the eventual election of Richard Nixon and the prolongation of the Vietnam War for another seven painful, profitable years."

In November 2001, Rotten.com responded on an article of the BBC, which described a fund in Kabul, Afghanistan: forgotten manuals, live hand grenades, and hats with the new al-Qaeda logo on them, furthermore a piece of paper with the word "ricin" on it, and plans for a thermonuclear device!

Rotten.com found out, that the "plans" had been in reality based on a well-known parody:

"Theory of Operation...The device basically works when..."

"Plutonium (Pu), atomic number...and is similar to..."

Scary words indeed; the keys to nuclear destruction, just laying out here on this forgotten desk! How could these well-guarded secrets have leaked to the Taliban?

Well, this is where it gets a little funny. You see, those words appear on a semi-famous document that has made the rounds on the Internet since the late 1980's. It's a reprint of a scientific parody called "How to Build an Atom Bomb" from a humor newsletter called The Annals of Improbable Research (AIR) (http://web.archive.org/web/20011118111939/http://www.improbable.com/)

====================================
On September 29th, 2002, indian author Arundhati Roy criticised the pending war plans of the United States against the Taliban and mentioned a Sep20th statement by the FBI, who had doubts about the identities of some of the hijackers. On the same day President George Bush said, "We know exactly who these people are and which governments are supporting them."

She asked, why the World Trade Centre and the Pentagon - were chosen as the targets of the attacks. Why not the Statue of Liberty?

Roy explained the role of the CIA and ISI in Afghanistan and how the Taliban was funded by both of them:
"Someone recently said that if Osama bin Laden didn't exist, America would have had to invent him. But, in a way, America did invent him. He was among the jihadists who moved to Afghanistan in 1979 when the CIA commenced its operations there. Bin Laden has the distinction of being created by the CIA and wanted by the FBI. From all accounts, it will be impossible to produce evidence (of the sort that would stand scrutiny in a court of law) to link Bin Laden to the September 11 attacks.

...What is Osama bin Laden? He's America's family secret. He is the American president's dark doppelganger."

For quoting Roy's words, german TV-anchorman Ulrich Wickert (Tagesthemen) was almost fired and started a controversial discussion on media censorship.

Catastrophe begins on January 20, 1993, when William Jefferson Clinton took the oath of office as the 42nd president of the United States of America. Clinton swore to “preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution of the United States” from enemies both foreign and domestic.

It includes the claim, that the West Nile virus was the first bioweapon used by Iraq. FEMA’s secret plan to build emergency cities that could house millions of Americans and China’s hidden ties with the Talibian and Al-Qaeda.

Rushdie, Salman

A few weeks before Sep 11th, the U.S. Federal Aviation Authority in Washington issued an emergency directive banning author Mr. Rushdie from all flights in and out of the United States, reflecting a heightened state of alert.

The FAA never explains why such directives are issued.

"As a result of security measures imposed by civil-aviation authorities on any flight on which you hold a reservation, the implementation of which would likely cause considerable disruption to our operations and great inconvenience to our passengers, we regret to inform you that Air Canada cannot accept you as a passenger on its flights or that of its regional carriers," said an Air Canada document obtained by The Globe and Mail.

Saudi Arabia

The role of Saudi Arabia, a former business partner of the United States, regarding the Sep11th attacks, was very simple to describe: Oil (->), Money and Visas.

Saudi Aramco, the national company owned by the government, which was created by nationalizing the interests of Exxon, Chevron, Mobil and Texaco in the 1970s, still has estimated oil reserves of 260 billion barrel.

(Compare: Russia 48 billion, Iraq 113-250 est., Iran 90, Kuwait 97, Kasachstan 8)

In 2002, Saudi Arabia had 26% per cent of the world’s oil reserves.

15 of the 19 official hijackers received a visa at the Consulate in Jeddah (->), Saudi Arabia.

While the role of Saudi Arabia was downplayed for almost one year after Sep11th, some journalists tried to find out, if it really was just “incompetence”, which happened in Saudi Arabia or the beginning of a smart plot of a foreign secret service.

Finally Joel Mowbray of National Review found the original visa applications and stumbled about the oddities.

The myth on the so called incompetence in Jeddah, was already debunked as false, by former Jeddah-Consulate Employee J. Michael Springman (->).

He gave various interviews to RAI or BBC (Greg Palast - ->) and basically confirmed, that Jeddah was a CIA controlled consulate and okayed 100s of visas in the last 5 years before 2001.

Springman didn't support that, protested at various US Offices and later resigned.

Springman repeated his accusations at the Press Conference of Unanswered Questions.org (->) in June 2001, which was taped and distributed worldwide.

However the US Government never responded on these disturbing facts.

It looked now like a political strategy to either blackmail or start a war against Saudi Arabia.

As Newsweek reported, payments reached the hijackers, possibly via two Saudi students living in the United States who had obtained them from an account in the name of Princess Haifa al-Faisal, wife of the Saudi ambassador to Washington.

An aide to Saudi Crown Prince Abdullah, foreign policy adviser Adel al-Jubeir, made the round of Sunday talk shows to deny the princess intended to fund the hijackers with the $2,000-a-month payments.

The possible money trail from the Saudi government was confirmed to two of the hijackers, Khalid al-Mihdhar and Nawaf al-Hazmi, who already got observed by the CIA in 2000, and by the FBI.

(-> CIA, observations)

Newsweek said, the FBI had found a steady stream of payments to the family of one of the students, Omar al-Bayoumi, beginning early in 2000.

Bayoumi had befriended the hijackers in San Diego several months earlier.

The Saudi spokesman acknowledged Princess Haifa gave money to the family of Osama Basnan to help defray medical costs. Bayoumi was a friend of Basnan's.

Sen. Bob Graham (->) of Florida, then leading Democrat on the intelligence panel, asked whether “only two of the 19 hijackers received this kind of support?"

Graham was fighting for a declassification of some Sep11th related CIA-files.

Sources described the saudi financial records as “explosive” and said the information has spurred an intense, behind-the-scenes battle between congressional leaders and the Bush administration over whether evidence highly embarrassing to the Saudi government should be publicly disclosed.

The FBI has uncovered financial records showing a steady flow of payments to the family of one of the students, Omar Al Bayoumi. The money moved into the family’s bank account beginning in early 2000, just a few months after hijackers Khalid Almihdar and Nawaf Alhazmi arrived in Los Angeles from an Al Qaeda planning summit in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, according to the sources.

Within days of the terrorists’ arrival in the United State, Al Bayoumi befriended the two men who would eventually hijack American Flight 77, throwing them a welcoming party in San Diego and guaranteeing their lease on an apartment next door to his own.

Al Bayoumi paid $1,500 to cover the first two months of rent for Al Midhahr and Alhazmi, although officials said it is possible that the hijackers later repaid the money.

Sources familiar with the evidence say the payments—amounting to about $3,500 a month—came from an account at Washington’s Riggs Bank in the name of Princess Haifa Al-Faisal, the wife of Saudi Ambassador to the United States, Prince Bandar bin Sultan, and the daughter of the late Saudi King Faisal.

New York Democrat, demanded an independent investigation by the Justice Department's inspector general.

Already known are George Bush's ties with Saudi Arabia.

In April, 2002 Crown Prince Abdullah of Saudi Arabia met with Bush at his ranch in Crawford, Texas, officially to discuss a Palestine-Israel Peace plan.

Saudi Arabia, as a monarchy under King Abd-el-Aziz, started to dig on oil in 1923 with the support of United Kingdom. In 1933 Standard Oil Company of California started to drill in Saudi Arabia.

In December 2002, Saudi Arabia's Interior Minister Prince Naif Ibn Abdul Aziz made the following remarks in the Arabic-language Kuwaiti daily newspaper Al Syyasa:

"We know that the Jews have manipulated the Sept. 11 incidents and turned American public opinion against Arabs and Muslims," Prince Naif was quoted as saying in the Arabic text, while Ain-Al-Yaqeen's English version referred to "Zionists" instead of "Jews."

The GID has close business ties to oil company Ningharco, who tried to make business with argentinian oil company Bridas, after they got tricked out by UNOCAL (->), who became member of the CentGas Consortium (->) in the Mid90s.

Unocal Corp. of the United States and Bridas of Argentina were competing for the right to build a $2.5 billion, 1,300-kilometer natural gas pipeline from Turkmenistan to Pakistan; it would cross southern Afghanistan (Far Eastern Economic Review, 1997). The Unocal proposal was favored by Turkmenistan and Pakistan, and Brida's was backed by the Taliban of Afghanistan. Unocal was unlikely to secure the financing required for the project until the ethnic fighting ends.

Unocal and its Saudi partner, Delta Oil (-> Aramark, -> Kean, Tom), planned to start construction by the end of 1997, even though the Taliban refused to give Unocal permission to build the pipeline across their territory. Turkmenistan was to sell natural gas to the consortium at the border. Bridas was prepared to go ahead with the project without external funding from major banks.

Bridas set up the TAP Pipeline, a 50-50 partnership with Ningharco.

Bin Laden knew on a pending attack against Afghanistan regarding the old UNOCAL pipeline plans.

Former chairman of the Saudi intelligence, Prince Turkey al-Faisal, once has stated that Osama Bin Laden has changed into a radical person after Saudi Arabia had invited the American forces to end the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait in 1990.

Saudi-Prince died
====================

As reported in some media at the end of July 2002, one Saudi Prince died of strange circumstances:

"Prince Fahd Salman, one of the world's leading owners and breeders, died suddenly of a heart attack in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on Tuesday night. He was 46. The nephew of Saudi Arabia's King Fahd, Prince Fahd was part of the Saudi ruling family that has made an indelible mark on the Thoroughbred world. He was the older brother of The Thoroughbred Corporation owner Ahmed Salman, and the son-in-law of Khalid Abdullah, the owner of Juddmonte Farms. Salmaan first came to the notice of American racegoers in 1992 when Cole shipped Zoman to Laurel to win the 1992 Washington D.C. International. Other big winners trained for the Prince by Cole included Bint Pasha, Knight's Baroness, and Riyadhian. More recently, Salmon had 1999 European 3-year-old filly champion Ramrumba with Henry Cecil. Prince Ahmed bin Salman owned a horse. The Saudi royal family's offered to give families of the 9/11 victims this million-dollar horse on the anniversary of the attacks."

Scowcroft, Brent

In November 2001, a high-level presidential commission plans to recommend that the Pentagon's three largest intelligence-collection agencies be transferred to the director of central intelligence in a major restructuring of the intelligence community, according to sources familiar with the panel's findings.

Leader of that proposal was Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, the new chairman of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board. Bush created the panel in May 2001, when he charged CIA Director George J. Tenet (->) with conducting a comprehensive review of the intelligence system. The panel was asked to produce plans for a reorganization of the system to meet the challenges of new threats and technologies.

Compare:

Brent Scowcroft was formerly President Bush's father's National Security Advisor.

In 1998, he supported an alliance of Amoco, British Petroleum, Chevron, Exxon, Mobil and Unocal, leading a multi-billion dollar contract to extract oil reserves from Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan and Turkmenistan, the three countries that surround the Caspian together with Russia and Iran.

Profiting from that oil deal was Azerbaijan president Heydar Aliyev, former Communist Party Secretary and KGB chief in Baku; Turkmenistan president Saparmurat Niyazov, the former chairman of the Supreme Soviet in Ashkhabad; Kazakhstan president Nursultan Nazarbayev, a former member of Soviet Politburo; as well as Georgian President Eduard Shevardnadze, former Soviet foreign minister and Politburo member.

Secret Weapons exposed

In October/November 2002, british papers exposed twice, that the United States is developing a new generation of weapons that undermine and possibly violate international treaties on biological and chemical warfare.

Julian Borger reported for the Guardian UK in October 2002.

The Pentagon, with the help of the British military, is working on "non-lethal" weapons similar to the narcotic gas used by Russian forces to end a October 2002 siege in Moscow.

Malcolm Dando, professor of international security at the University of Bradford, and Mark Wheelis, a lecturer in microbiology at the University of California, say that the US is encouraging a breakdown in arms control by its research into biological cluster bombs, anthrax and non-lethal weapons for use against hostile crowds, and by the secrecy under which these programmes are being conducted.

In November 2002, the Observer reported on the so-called non-lethal weapons, including lasers that blind the enemy and microwave systems that cook the skin of human targets.

The Observer had established that British and US military leaders met at the Ministry of Defence HQ in London to discuss the operational benefits of such technology when used as a 'persuasive tool' against people from enemy regimes.

Documents obtained under the US Freedom of Information Act detail talks about battlefield uses of the weapons and whether they could be used to back up economic sanctions against target countries.

British personnel at the secret meeting with the US military included Vice Admiral Sir Jeremy Blackham and Dr Martin Hubbard, who heads the non-lethal weapons research programme at Porton Down (->), Wiltshire.

US officers included Major General Bice, deputy commander of the US Marines in Europe, and Brigadier-General Richard Zilmer, deputy director of US operations at European Command Headquarters.

The documents reveal the full scope of the new weapons programmes that the US military is developing. The first was high-power microwave technology that cooks an enemy's skin. Its military name is the Vehicle-Mounted Active Denial System (V-Mads), but it has already been nicknamed the People Zapper.

It works by harnessing electromagnetic power to fire an invisible pulse of energy at light speed towards a target. The beam causes the water molecules under the skin to vibrate violently, producing heat and discomfort. Scientists believe the system could heat a person's skin to about 130 degrees in two seconds...

Sept. 11 commission

It took 14 months until November 15th 2002, when the House of Representatives finally approved a measure to create an independent commission to look into the Sept. 11 attacks and why the government failed to prevent them.

Seismic Events

A website, which analysed the seismic data of the Flight93-crash event.

From this website:

"...released a letter by a NASA researcher:

I was able to retrieve the SSPA data. Bottom line, I don't think what this seismograph measured on 9/11/2001 in Pennsylvania is a sonic boom.

First, for reference, see: http://www.galcit.caltech.edu/SonicBoom/f-18 especially the last plot.

This is a known sonic boom, from a known aircraft, hitting a seismograph.

1) Notice that in all three directions, U(p), N(orth), and E(ast), the first downward peak happens simultaneously. It also shows the ground initially moving down, south, and east, which is consistent with the direction of the sonic boom from the F-18.

2) The time difference between the first downward peak and the first maximum peak is on the order of 0.15 seconds. This is consistent with the first plot of the website above showing 0.13 seconds for a pressure measurement of the sonic boom. The pressure plot is the same shape as the initial part of the seismograph displacement plot, just flipped vertically.

3) Prior to the sonic boom, the seismograph data is very flat, and there is oscillations after the boom that dampen out in a few seconds. Now referring to the SSPA data, I looked at the three axes of displacement of the earth. Plots are attached to this email.

1) In the closeup plot, sspa20sec.gif, the event does not happen simultaneously in all three axes. The Z axis on the bottom plot has the event occuring a full second after the north and east axes events, which is an eternity as far as a sonic boom is concerned.

2) The duration of the event is much greater than one would expect of a sonic boom. The shape of the event is not consistent with the "N" shape of a sonic boom.

3) In the plot sspa2min.gif, ere is a considerable amount of oscillations before the event in question.

I don't know what caused these wiggles, but it doesn't look like a sonic boom to me.
Sincerely,
Ed Haering

SETUP
======
One of the possible summaries for a 911-SETUP, which circulated around, have been:

"The September 11th attacks had been orchestrated, planned, supervised and organised from forces behind or connected with the US Government and Military, a corrupted CIA, BioWeapon Institutes, Weapon- and Oilindustry.

The idea of a 911-SETUP was scripted by Brzezinski (->), Kissinger (->), and still unknown members of RAND (->), CSIS(->), CFR(->), ANSER(->), BENS (->), Hoover Institute(->), Project Northwoods(->) etc..."

Purpose:
- controlling the global resources on the earth (Gas, water, oil etc.)
- Creating a new enemy and reason for future technology and future weapons
- Increasing a culture of war and control system.
- Improving classified technologies i.e. BioPharmacy, NanoTechnology, FaceRecognition Programs and Trecking Chip Devices (implanted, GPS etc...), Weather Weapons
- controlling US-Petro dollars instead of Euro-Petro-Dollars

A setup "light" is LIHOP (->), which general idea is to allow a provoked attack and monitor their "accomplices" to let it happen on purpose.

LIHOP without the irregularities of the Twin Tower Collapse, Building7 Collapse, the Stand down Order, the Pentagon attack and Flight93 would need no script, so something must have added with prior knowledge, what and when exactly something would happen.

Available at:
Sheikh Mohammed, Khalid

Accused as financial mastermind of the Sep1 1th attack.
The CIA claimed on March 1st, 2003, that they finally arrested him, but left out the disturbing background details on him.

Due to an Asian Times report from October 2001, Sheikh Mohammed died in a FBI October 2001-raid:

http://www.atimes.com/atimes/South_Asia/DJ30DJ01.html

Robert Fisk questioned arrestment of ISI-Shaikh Mohammed, too:

...At one point, according to documents obtained by The Times, Qatar told the U.S. that it feared Mohammed was constructing an explosive device. They said, he possessed more than 20 different passports; still, they delayed granting the U.S. permission to arrest him

As Paul Thompson (->) found out, in December 1997, CIA agent Robert Baer (->), newly retired from the CIA and working as a terrorism consultant, meets a former police chief from the Persian Gulf nation of Qatar. Baer learns how Khalid Sheikh Mohammed was sheltered from the FBI by Qatari Interior Minister Abdallah bin Khalid al-Thani.

He passes this information to the CIA in early 1998, but the CIA takes no action against Qatar's "al-Qaeda patrons".

By 1999 he is living in Germany and visiting with the hijackers there.

US and German officials say a number of sources place Mohammed at Atta's Hamburg apartment.

German intelligence surveil the apartment in 1999 but apparently don't notice Mohammed.

US investigators have been searching for Mohammed since 1996, but apparently never tell the Germans what they know about him.

Around Summer 2001, the NSA (->) intercepts telephone conversations between 9/11 mastermind Khalid Sheikh Mohammed and Atta, but does not share the information with any other agencies.

Shebarghan

Almost ignored by US media, 3300 unknown prisoners, including many Taliban fighters, had been held in an Afghanistan-camp in Shebarghan during 2001-2002.

Then, in February 2002, the Physicians for Human Rights revealed appalling conditions at this Prison.

Nothing was made public, how the Pentagon or CIA was able to seperate "suspects" to Cuba (->Guantanamo Bay) from "innocent" Taliban fighters, who just fought against the "retaliation".

Sheikh Mohammed, Khalid

( -> Shaikh Mohammed, Khalid)

Sheikh Omar Saeed

Officially the mastermind behind the killing of Wall Street Journalist Daniel Pearl.

Omar Saeed Sheikh is widely believed in Pakistan to be an experienced ISI "asset" with a history of operations in Kashmir.
But Sheikh is also known as Mustafa Mohamed Ahmad aka Mustapha Ahmad Al-Hawsawi (->) and was already mentioned in a public transcript of the trial on the Kenia Embassy Bombings from 1998, which was online since February 2001.

Under his alias Al-Hawsawi, as mentioned in the indictment of Zacarias Moussaouli (->), he wired $100,000 to the official ringleader of the Sep11th attack, Mohammad Atta from an saudi arabian account of Standard Chartered Bank (->).

This was okayed by the ISI (->) and was one of the reason, why former head of intelligence, Massoud, had to resign on October 6th, 2001.

If Saeed really was behind the killing of Pearl or just had been used as a scapegoat to whitewash the Atta-story wasn't investigated yet.

Fact is, that Saeed wasn't the top suspect.

First it was reported, that Jamat Al-Fuqra around Syed Mubarak Jilani or Harkat-ul-Jihad-al-Islami (HUJI) headed by Qari Saifullah Akhtar, both close to the ISI, had been behind his kidnapping (kidnapperguy@hotmail.com).

Then, three other suspects had been arrested: Fahad Naseem, former policeman Sheikh Mohammed Adeel and Salman Saquib.

Added to that list: Mansur Hasnain aka Sunny Ahmed Qazi alias 'Burger', who is believed to have orchestrated the December 1999 hijacking of Indian Airlines plane, IC-814 from Kathmandu to Kandahar.

But Mohammad 'Burger' was among the attackers on the Indian Parliament on December 13, 2001 and has been subsequently killed. During early 2002, it became clear, that Sheikh Saeed tried to whistleblower on his prior knowledge on Sep11th.

This was obviously the reason, why he was already detained, before the dead body of Daniel Pearl was found, on February 5th, 2002.

Source:

Due to Richard Baer, Pearls real interest of his story was never Richard Reid, Pearl wanted to meet Saeed.

Pearl met Khalid Khawaja, an aging former Pakistani intelligence official who counts himself a close friend and confidant of Osama bin Laden. Khawaja served as a source for Pearl.

He found out too much, maybe even a handful of truth around Sep11th and therefore had to die.

Sheikh claimed in a march 2002 interrogation, that he had personally met Mohammad Atta, during one of his visits to Kandahar and knew of the plans for the September 11 strikes. He had told Lt.Gen. Ehsanul-Haq, the present DG of the ISI, who was then a Corps Commander at Peshawar, and Gen. Aziz Khan about it.

"Police also believe that another man, Omar Sheikh, who is British, trained the terrorists in hijacking techniques.

Sheikh was at Forest School in Snaresbrook, north-east London, with Nasser Hussain, the England cricket captain. Now 27, Sheikh was caught after kidnapping in 1994 but freed three years later in exchange for 154 hostages on an Indian aircraft."

Terrorists means the 9/11 hijackers, in the context of the article.

Shelton, Henry H.

Henry H. Shelton was former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff until October 1st, 2001.

From an older GROUND ZERO Forum article, first released at Scoop:
"We had started looking at options for a military campaign."

Henry H. Shelton about a war against the Taliban before Sept 11th

Supporters of the Sept 11th "incompetence theory" have never read statements of General Henry H. Shelton. He was definitely one of the few, who wanted to start a war against the Taliban. He knew about the problems from former Northern Alliance Commander Ahmed Shah Massoud.

It was even well known in the US Congress, when Massoud proclaimed a message for Bush on April 5, 2001 at the European Parliament in Strasbourg, France: "If President Bush doesn't help us," he replied in Persian, according to a recording of his remarks translated by Afghan allies, "then these terrorists will damage the United States and Europe very soon, and it will be too late."

The war however was already planned since 1997/8, at a time, when oil company UNOCAL struggled in negotiations with the Taliban. Shelton knew all this. They had to work on a plan to get rid of the Taliban again.

In May 2001, some unknown CIA officers traveled into northern Afghanistan to silence Massoud with cash and supplies in small amounts in exchange for intelligence on Al Qaeda.
At the same time the attack on America was in its final phase.
Coincidence?

As the Washington Post wrote in January 2002, summer 2001 brought, "a storm of intelligence warnings that blew longer and harder even than those of the millennium. Through June and July, one foreign interlocutor said, CIA Director George J. Tenet worked himself 'nearly frantic' with concern."

At Langley, Tenet was nearly ready. His proposed assistance to the Northern Alliance rebels ranged between $125 million to $200 million and included money, battlefield intelligence, and non-lethal equipment such as body armor and winter clothing

Henry H. Shelton supported George Tenet and liked his plan to back anti-Taliban rebels. He even almost confirmed in public that he was personally involved in the war plans: Talking about Sept 4th, when Massoud was still alive, he said:
"We had started looking at options", for a military campaign before that, he said. But, "we had really not leaned into going into Afghanistan against al Qaeda in the manner we did, or against the Taliban almost at all, until September 11th."

However he was in India on May 31, but the press could find "no specific details" for this meeting.
Later it came out, that during his visit, General Shelton would be calling on Defence Minister Jaswant Singh and the three service chiefs - Navy chief Admiral Sushil Kumar, Army chief General S Padmanabhan and Air Force chief Air Chief Marshal AY Tihnis.

In the military newsletter "Military News" we find another conclusion, which resulted from this meeting:
SLUG: 5-50073 US Troops to Asia DATE: NOTE NUMBER: TYPE=BACKGROUND REPORT

INTRO:
"...The United States is considering moving American troops from Europe to Asia to meet changing conditions. V-O-A's Ed Warner asked some analysts how this would affect U-S global strategy and how other nations in both Europe and Asia might react..."

Shelton was one of the Chiefs, who moved all the troops to the Middle-East,

On June 28, 2001, he explained his visions: "...Within civilian industry, the replacement, restoration or modernization of physical plant assets is accomplished in roughly a 50-year cycle... Joint Vision 2020 - "...Our future force must be a seamless joint force and our roadmap for achieving this joint force is detailed in Joint Vision 2020 (JV 2020)..."

The early September weeks showed us a very significant countdown of this war and the Bush family knew, that something would happen very soon:
September 1-10, 2001
25,000 British troops and the largest British Armada since the Falkland Islands War, part of Operation 'Essential Harvest,' planned to be pre-positioned in Oman, the closest point on the Arabian Peninsula to Pakistan.

At the same time two U.S. carrier battle groups arrive on station in the Gulf of Arabia just off the Pakistani coast. Also at the same time, some 17,000 U.S. troops join more than 23,000 NATO troops in Egypt for Operation 'Bright Star.' The forces are in place before the first plane hits the World Trade Center. (Sources: The Guardian, CNN, FOX, The Observer, International Law Professor Francis Boyle, the University of Illinois.)

Al Qaeda 'Game Plan' on Bush's Desk Sept. 9 - NBC
"...Only two days before the Sept. 11 attacks on New York and Washington, President Bush was given a "detailed war plan" to dismantle Osama bin Laden's al Qaeda network, NBC News reported..."

September 10th, 2001
Many air bases are on high alert, including the Pentagon (MSNBC).
One article claims that The Defense Language Institute in Monterey was put on alert.
The same institute later organised two of the "independent translators" for the bin Laden video. Some articles claim, that two of the official hijackers even worked at Monterey as well.

...One of (Sheltons) last actions was to appear in a meeting with George Tenet. It even made the news pages in the Washington Post and was later analysed in "workers world":

"...On Saturday, Sept. 15, (2001), after a series of previous morning meetings of the "war cabinet," Tenet showed up, "with a briefcase stuffed with top-secret documents and plans, in many respects the culmination of four years of work. Tenet flipped past the cover to the first page, which read 'Initial Hook: Destroying Al Qaeda, Closing the Safe Haven.' The haven was Afghanistan.

Tenet said the CIA had begun working with a number of tribal leaders in the south the previous year. ... Some would try to play both sides but once the war began, they could be enticed by money, food, ammunition and supplies to join the U.S. - led campaign."

The Post described how, at the Camp David meeting, 'Tenet then turned to another top secret document, called 'Worldwide Attack Matrix,' which described covert operations in 80 countries that were either under way or that he was now recommending.

"The final presentation of the morning came from Gen. Henry H. Shelton, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who had also brought a big brief case to Camp David."
In other words, Tenet and Shelton described a long-planned, ground and air campaign in all its precision, including the battle of Mazar-e-Sharif--which later took place, prompting a great massacre carried out by the Northern Alliance.

When the smoke cleared after the initial big offensive in Afghanistan, the Pentagon had new military bases in Uzbekistan, Tajikistan and Kyrgyzistan. It has the dominant position in the oil rich region of the Caspian Sea..."
Workers World, 55 W. 17 St., NY, NY 10011

However Shelton wasn't able to support this war any longer.
He retired on October 1st, 2001 and was replaced by General Richard B. Myers who became the fifteenth Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
Did someone try to take him off the radar as well?

It is interesting to know how many members of the Bush Administration hadn't been around on Sept 11th. Though they had all these major warnings about an attack with planes. One warning was even about Sept 4th and on Sept 10th the Pentagon told their employees not to take some planes on the following day.

Shelton wasn't in the Pentagon on Sept 11th, but he wasn't in the States at all. He was halfway across the Atlantic on the way to Europe.
http://www.washingtonpost.com/ac2/wp-dyn?pathname=article&amp;node=&amp;contentId=A42754-2002Jan26

He later said on the same day: "I will tell you up front, I have no intentions of discussing today what comes next, but make no mistake about it, your armed forces are ready."

What happened with Shelton after October 2001?
He completely retired from the army.

It would be interesting to grill him on a commission again, but there might be a problem:
Shelton had an accident on March 2002:

March 27, 2002
"...The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, retired Gen. Henry H. Shelton, is being treated at Walter Reed Army Medical Center for a spinal injury suffered March 23 when he reportedly fell off a ladder at his home in northern Virginia. Shelton initially experienced partial paralysis..."

How much did Shelton know and what is he not allowed to say anymore?
Was he one of the few, who let the Sept 11th attack happen on purpose?...

Silent Vector
October 18, 2002: CSIS (->) president and CEO John Hamre, CSIS Homeland Security Initiatives Director Phil Anderson, and ANSER (->) Institute Director Randy Larsen, will outline the initial results of a recent simulation exercise of the pre-attack phase of a credible threat to the U.S. energy infrastructure from 12:00 P.M.
1:00 P.M. on Monday, Oct. 21, at CSIS, 1800 K Street, NW, B-1 conference level, room A.

Silent Vector, which was patterned after the 2001 Dark Winter (->) simulated bioterrorist attack, was designed to reveal some of the most pressing issues and vulnerabilities that would arise if the nation were faced with a highly credible, but ambiguous, threat of a terrorist attack on American soil.

This two-day exercise employed a simulated National Security Council of senior policymakers, with former Senator Sam Nunn acting as president. Through the course of the game, participants, largely former senior-level government officials, were given increasingly credible and specific intelligence of a large-scale attack on the nation's critical energy infrastructure.

Silent Vector was developed and produced by CSIS in partnership with the ANSER Institute and the Oklahoma City National Memorial Institute for the Prevention of Terrorism.

Sirs, Julie
On February 2nd, 2002 Julie Sirs, former DIA-agent doubted, that Sep11th was the result of a small "failure":

"I would disagree with that not only because just the fact that it happened indicates that it was a failure, unless it was something that we wanted, which I certainly don’t believe."
She confirmed, that the official statement of the CIA was, that they "had bin Laden under control; 'In a box', was one of the phrases used".
Sirs is able to understand Pashtun, a little bit of persian. After she came back from a 2001 trip from Afghanistan, she tried to explain the CIA, "how closely linked bin Laden was with the Taliban", but "US policy seemed to prefer to treat them as two separate issues".

Sirs criticised the Pakistan Secret Service ISI (->). In 2001, Julie Sirrs travelled twice to Afghanistan. She claimed, DIA officials knew in advance about both trips.

Sirs saw a terrorist training center there, and met with Northern Alliance leader Ahmad Massoud (->), who was later assassinated on September 9th, 2001.

On her second trip she returned with what she later claimed, "a treasure trove of information", including evidence that bin Laden is planning to assassinate Massoud.

However, upon returning, a security officer met her flight and confiscated her material.

The DIA and the FBI started to investigate her.

Sirs claimed, no higher-ups wanted to hear what she had learned in Afghanistan. Ultimately, Sirrs' security clearance was pulled and she resigned. She eventually quit the DIA in frustration.

Skulls + Bones

Skulls and Bones is the world's most powerful secret society.

George Herbert Walker Bush (ex-Director of CIA, -US Ambassador to the UN, and former President of the United States), George W. Bush, current president, are the most famous members of this society.

Sliney, Ben

Ben Sliney was the National Operations Manager for the FAA on Sept 11 and Sept 11 was his FIRST day on the job. Sliney seems to be the guy who initially gave the order to ground ALL planes statewide.

From an report by David R. Henderson, Monterey:

"I teach at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey (->), meaning that I instruct young military officers who are generally smart, hard working and curious.

On Aug. 27, I realized that I might well have one of the best jobs in America. That afternoon, the school's guest speaker was President Bush's White House counsel, Alberto Gonzalez, widely believed to be on the short list for the next Supreme Court appointment. What happened spoke volumes, not just about Gonzalez and his likely positions on the Constitution, but also about the students at the Naval Postgraduate School.

Let me explain. I went to the talk prepared to ask Gonzalez how he could justify the president's making war without a congressional declaration, and took my pocket copy of the U.S. Constitution in case he needed reminding of the its words. Unfortunately, he did. Fortunately, I didn't need to be the one to remind him: The students did the job and much more.

In his speech, Gonzalez tried to justify not just war without a congressional declaration, but the government's decision to imprison U.S. citizens such as Jose Padilla, the alleged "dirty bomber," without charging them with a crime or allowing them a lawyer. Padilla is now in a military prison in South Carolina.

Bush needed power to make quick decisions, Gonzalez said, and Congress would take too long. Among the examples he cited was the Sept. 11 decision to close down U.S. airspace and force commercial and private planes to land or remain grounded. But that example was, to put it mildly, a reach. The person who made that decision, and who didn't need even Bush's consent to do so, was Ben Sliney, the FAA's national operations manager."

In addition to his duties at the Naval Postgraduate School, David R. Henderson is a research fellow with the Hoover (->) Institution and author of "The Joy of Freedom: An Economist's Odyssey" (Prentice Hall, 2002).
Small Nukes

On December 5th, 2001, Michel Chossudovsky (-), Professor of Economics, University of Ottawa, released his article "Tactical Nuclear Weapons" against Afghanistan? . in which he proved, that the United States used GBU-28 "bunker buster bombs" capable of creating large scale underground explosions.

http://globalresearch.ca/articles/CHO112C.html

While the Pentagon's "Big Ones" are classified as "conventional weapons", the official statements fail to mention that the same "bunker buster bombs" launched from a B-52, a B-2 stealth bomber or an F-16 aircraft can be equipped with a nuclear device. The B61-11 is the " nuclear version" of its "conventional" BLU-113 counterpart.

Only one week, after Chossudovsky's article became more popular on the internet, Bush announced to withdraw from the ABM Treaty (-), on the same day, when the Reagan-Files supposed to had been released.

"Mininukes" and low-yield weapons:

"..Future new design work will likely center on low-yield weapons in the five kilotons or below range (including so-called "mini-nukes"). These weapons would inherently be more dangerous because they are more likely to be used. The Warner-Allard provision of the FY 2001 Senate Defense Authorization Bill required DOE to undertake mini-nuke research and development, a direction that has been legislatively barred since 1994 (funding for that provision was not appropriated in House/Senate conference).

Smallpox attack

There are many voices around of those, who think, that the same US- military-biochemists, who advise the US government and planned the Anthrax attack, scheduled already a second Bio Attack, this time with Smallpox (or Botulinum).

These people are very flexible, so it can happen at any time and any place.

However other people had to do their homework first:

- production of enough smallpox vaccines (-)
- increasing the pro-Iraq war propaganda
- infiltrate the peace movement and distract them from too much criticism on challenging the Sep11th story or impeachment strategies against the US Government (ANSWER, Stanley Clarke, stalinist and russian oil interest ties)
- profile or arrest new islamist suspects in the United States
- plan the war and put enough troops in place
- finish a BioTerror Exercise (happened in October 2002 with "Silent Vector", the sequel of "Dark Winter"/June 2001)
- find enough evidence to blame Smallpox attack on Iraq
- make promotion for some suspects (i.e. 19 new FBI suspects from Canada/Pakistan, AP December 2002)
- let it happen on purpose = LIHOP Pr.2

In this scenario, another follow up is possible:

1) Introduction of a new martial law and smallpox vaccination per law.

2) Blame the smallpox attack first on some muslim suspects (i.e the 19 men from Canada/Pakistan) and tie them immediately to Iraq.

3) Copycat the US-Iraq war for other subWW3 scenarios: Pakistan-India war, Saudi Arabia-Yemen, Egypt-Jordan, Israel-Palestine, Northkorea-SouthKorea, Russia-some other ex-soviet states etc....

4) Postpone all further elections in case of WW3.

Smallpox Iraq

On December 3rd, 2002, ABC News "revealed", that the CIA are investigating whether a Russian scientist transferred a particularly lethal strain of smallpox to the government of Iraq in the 1990s. The allegations involve a smallpox strain stored at the Research Institute for Viral Preparations in Moscow.

Intelligence officials (said) an informant has reported the institute's late director, virologist Nelja Maltseva, moved the smallpox on a trip to Iraq in 1990.

The information was leaked to the press by Dr. Alan Selikoff, a scientist at the Sandia National Laboratories (-) in Albuquerque, N.M.

During the next three weeks, President Bush was still searching for a plausible reason to invade Iraq.

At the end of 2002, the FBI released an alert on 19 new muslim suspects, who have "entered" the United States.

(-> Stand down)
As later came out, this alert was based on a hoax.

Smallpox Vaccines

Confirmed companies linked to smallpox vaccine production include Baxter International (->), Aventis Pasteur (Hoechst-Rhone Poulenc subsidiary) Acambis PLC (-> former OraVax), Wyeth (Dryvax) and Fort Dodge Animal Health.

Another private military and CIA-contractor (PMCs ->), DynCorp (->) was the major military and intelligence provider awarded $322 million to develop, produce, and store anthrax and smallpox vaccines for the nation.

BMI (-> Battelle), a leading defense and energy industry contractor, directed the US military's Joint Vaccine Acquisitions Program.

Smallpox vaccination policy

In March 2002, President Bush ordered 150M Smallpox Vaccines for the US Military.

In the wake of 9/11, with bioterrorism on people's minds, the CDC (->) is considering reversing this recommendation, and has announced that it will have 286 million vaccination doses ready by 2003 -- one for every U.S. citizen.

One of the biggest supporters for a new smallpox policy is Jerome Hauer (->)

In December 2002, President Bush and Donald Rumsfeld announced, that they would get vaccinated.

"President Bush said that any civilian who wanted it could have it. I think that was a mistake, frankly," Dr. Vincent A. Fulginiti said.

"This is not a safe vaccine for the general public because of all the complications," Fulginiti said during an interview before his lecture. "This is not the measles vaccine."

http://www.rockymountainnews.com/drnn/local/article/0%2C1299%2CDRMN_15_1653697%2C00.html

In 1961, Fulginiti joined renowned pediatrician Dr. Henry Kempe at Colorado General Hospital in Denver, now known as University of Colorado Hospital.

Kempe, who died in 1984, pioneered treatments for the vaccine's sometimes-fatal side effects. In the 1950s, he developed what is still the main defense against vaccine-induced disease: vaccinia immune globulin, which is made from the blood of recently vaccinated people.

As stated, President Bush took the smallpox vaccine on December 21st, 2002.

In February 2003, Bush's plan to vaccinate 500,000 health care workers against smallpox is getting off to an unexpectedly slow start as hundreds of hospitals and thousands of nurses across the country say that they will not participate.

The CDC said that only 687 volunteers in 16 states had been vaccinated since the program began two weeks ago, though it has shipped 250,000 doses of vaccine to 41 states.

Smith, Katherine

Katherine Smith's case was one of the many cases, which was never really disclosed to the US Nation, however she was connected with the early Sep11th attack investigation of the FBI.

In February 2002, some news papers reported, that Smith, who had been charged "in a scheme with five men to sell fraudulent licenses...died in a fiery car crash the day before her first court appearance, a crash the prosecutor called "most unusual and suspicious"

Katherine Smith sold IDs to five of the hijackers was 'smothered with gasoline and "firebombed" in her car one day before she was scheduled to testify.

Source: Kansas City Star, 02/16/02

FBI agent J. Suzanne Nash said authorities were trying to determine what caused the car to burn. The gas tank did not explode and the car was only slightly dented from the crash.

"Her death was not the result of the crash itself," said THP Capt. Jimmy Erwin. "Her death was by other means." (March 6th 2002)

Source : http://www.gomemphis.com/mca/local_news/article/0,1426,MCA_437_1016243,00.html

As investigative journalist Wayne Madsen (->) reported in an article at counterpunch, Katherine Smith mysterious death was examined at the same institute who examined Don C Wiley (->), the MicroBiologist, who died under strange circumstances in 2001. (Source: http://www.counterpunch.org/madsenanthrax.html)

And "...in yet another strange twist, on March 14 (2002), a bomb and two smaller explosive devices were found at the Shelby County Regional Forensic Center, which houses the morgue and Medical Examiner's Office that conducted Wiley's autopsy. Dr. O.C. Smith, the medical examiner, told Memphis' Commercial Appeal, "We have done several high-profile cases from Dr. Wiley to Katherine Smith (a Department of Motor Vehicles employee mysteriously found burned to death in her car after being charged in a federal probe with conspiracy to obtain fraudulent drivers' licenses for men of Middle East origin) but there has been no indication that we offended anyone . . . we just don't know if we were the attended target or not."
Two of the five men, connected with the Katherine Smith case and fraudulent licenses had been Khaled O'dillah and Sakhera Hammad (Denko Mechanical->).

When Hammad was arrested, investigators found a visitor's pass for the World Trade Center, dated Sept. 5, 2001, in his wallet. He told authorities he was a plumber who worked on the center's sprinkler system.

Smoking Guns

====================================
During 2001-2002, many "smoking guns" had been revealed, but many still remained unknown.

In fact, this book contains still some sleeping smoking guns, which should have been revealed already in 2001-2002.

Many different "Top10" of Smoking Guns exist, these are a few of them:

1) George Bush strange "non"-reaction at Booker Elementary as proven for 25 minutes on an existing tape
2) Pentagon was on High Alert on September 10th and didn't allow their employees to fly the following day
3) Tape interview with Tom Kennedy of FEMA and Dan Rather of CBS, who claimed that FEMA was already in NYC on September 10th
4) Unanswered Question, why Jerome Hauer, member of the John Hopkins Working Group on Civilian Bio Defense and former SAIC and OEM, organized a job for former Terrorist Task Force chief John O'neill in the Twin Towers
5) Former FBI agent Robert Wright, who already testified live on C-Span, accusing John Ashcroft of sabotaging his early warnings.

6) In the 5 days and prior to Aug.23rd and Aug.28th the CIA received 8 to 10 confirmed warnings by different secret services of the world, which were confirmed by the world press for months and have been reconfirmed twice. Another warning was by the Talibam itself, which was confirmed by the Department of State and Embassy in Pakistan.
7) 40-60 early warnings between the last weeks before September 11th plus various reports about high alerts in many Air Force bases on September 10th.
8) Unanswered Question, why Major Brown of LA was warned on the day before September 11th not to fly, and why Condeleeza Rice, who already received a short memo on a warning on an attack on August 6th 2001, didn't react on a warning by Senator Hart (CFR), who warned her five days before Sep11th of an "attack".
9) Unanswered Question, why Jerome Hauer, a bio-terrorism expert, started to work on September 10th, or possibly earlier, for Thommy Thompson of the National Health Institute and then the NIH told the White House to take the anthrax vaccine CIPRO on September 11th.
10) Unanswered Question, why ISI (Pakistan Secret Service) chief Mahmoud visited Washington during September 5th and 14th and what was his reason for meeting with the Marc Grossmann, the CIA, Richard Armitage and members of the Senate Intelligence Committee Bob Graham and Porter Goss?
11) Unanswered Question, why the US Nation doesn't know anything about an indictment against 2 FBI agents and 3 other persons who organised insider trading (->) in knowing of the attacks, which was already reported by the NY TIMES or CNN Money and confirmed by prosecutors and lawyers incl. U.S. Attorney Ken Breen.
12) Unanswered Question, on three photos of November 2000 from a military website, where a miniature model of the Pentagon was attacked by a plane.
13) all 19 hijackers connected with CIA, or other intelligence services.
Mohammad Atta on watchlist since 1998.

Sollog's real name is John Patrick Ennis.
Bills himself as the Nostradamus of the 90s. Claims he predicted everything from the Oklahoma bombing and the TWA crash to the death of Diana.

Sollog (=Son of Light, Light of God) claimed, that the WTC attack had been described in the work of Nostradamus, which was later debunked as false.

The author Ennis participated in some chat rooms during September 2001 and claimed, that he predicted the Sep11th attack.

Members of the same chat room later established a timeline protocol to prove, that Ennis appeared there after Sep11th.

Sollog's nostradamus propaganda is supported at sollog.com which was created in 1998 in Coral Springs, Florida and at http://theunderground.net/sollog , another website from Coral Springs, Florida, created in 1997, administrated by "4613 University Dr Number 311".

Sonnenfeld, Kurt

Kurt Sonnenfeld was the only videographer, who was allowed to film at Ground Zero in New York.
He was working for the FEMA.
On New Years Eve 2002, he was arrested for having killed his wife.

The story didn't make big headlines in the news, but started some speculations and rumours on the internet.

On June 14, 2002, prosecutors dismissed first-degree murder charges against Sonnenfeld in the early New Year's morning shooting death of his wife.

Nancy Sonnenfeld, 36, died of a gunshot wound in the head after she and her husband had celebrated New Year's Eve together. Kurt Sonnenfeld told police that his wife committed suicide.

Prosecutors wouldn't comment on specific reasons for the dismissal, but the defense investigation found a note written by Nancy Sonnenfeld which police had not taken into evidence, said public defender Carrie Thompson.

"Our investigators found a letter written in Nancy's own hand consistent with a suicide letter, although it was very cryptic," Thompson said.

She said the letter said, "What is more beautiful than love and death?" with the word "love" scratched out, "Kurt, please get help." The letter was found behind a framed photograph of Kurt Sonnenfeld.

...Nancy Sonnenfeld's sister, Amy Leek, said the family knew this was coming but would have no comment on the news.
...Kurt Sonnenfeld was a videographer who documented disaster sites for FEMA, including the Sept 11 attacks in New York. Nancy Sonnenfeld was a manager for BSA Advertising.

FEMA's Denver-based Region 8 Deputy Public Affairs Officer Jim Chestnutt and Public Affairs Officer Kurt Sonnenfeld used Canon XL1 digital video cameras with Mini DV disks through 16- to 18-hour days, shooting Ground Zero, the Pile (the mass of debris at the center of the disaster) and the arduous rescue and cleanup operations. They carried the cameras through the streets, over the mounds of debris, and underground for three weeks.

Photographers Andrea Booher and Michael Riegers shot the still photos using Olympus E20 and Nikon D1X digital cameras. The four cameramen passed the Mini DV disk footage to CNN.

In December 2001, the New Yorker released an interview with author Susan Sonntag:

"Let's by all means grieve together. But let's not be stupid together. A few shreds of historical awareness might help us understand what has just happened, and what may continue to happen. "Our country is strong," we are told again and again. I for one don't find this entirely consoling. Who doubts that America is strong? But that's not all America has to be..."

Space Shuttle Accident

=================================
After the second Space Shuttle Accident in February 2003.
the US Government immediately tried to profit from the tragedy:
Bush proposed a budget increase for NASA, including his renewed Star Wars program by Ronald Reagan (-> Rumsfeld, Donald) and continued to rally for his war against Iraq.

Professor Andre Balogh, of London's Imperial College, said the NASA knew, Suddenly it came out, that seven scientists, who tried to warn on a catastrophe, had been fired in 2001.

http://www.nytimes.com/2003/02/03/national/03NASA.html

Another scientist, Don A. Nelson, who resigned in 1999, after harsh criticism on the NSA, tried even to urge the White House to a Moritorium and wrote a letter on August 25th, 2002.

He got ignored in an answer on December 12th, 2002.

Spain connection

One of the few connections, which suggested a possible link between Spanish terror cells and associates of Bin Laden.

One of them is Abu Qatada.

Abu Qatada and his family are secretly moved to a safe house by the British government where he is being lodged, fed and clothed by the government, and is still there. "The deal is that Abu Qatada is deprived of contact with extremists in London and Europe but can't be arrested or expelled because no one officially knows where he is," says a source, whose claims were corroborated by French authorities. The British are doing this to avoid a "hot potato" trial. [Time, 7/7/02]

A British official says "we wouldn't give an awful lot of credence" to the story. [Guardian, 7/8/02] Qatada has already been sentenced to death in absentia in Jordan, and is wanted in the US, Spain, France and Algeria as well. [Guardian, 2/14/02]

In November (2002), while Qatada was still living openly in Britain, a Spanish judge expressed disbelief that Qatada hadn't been arrested already. Qatada has been connected to a Spanish al-Qaeda cell that may have met with Atta (see July 8-19, 2001). [Observer, 11/25/01]

Abu Qatada in an June 2002 interview with CBS Canada:

CBC: In Canada we have many Algerians. I'm told that many Algerians consider you to be the spiritual father of the Armed Islamic Group GIA from Algeria. Why would they say that?

Abu Qatada: This accusation is being repeated. I was told that I am the spiritual father for Algeria and then for Al Qaeda. It looks like this accusation of being the spiritual father is a new accusation practiced by the security systems because they do not have any tangible or organizational links between any of these organizations and me.

First of all, there is no group that belongs to me. I am a Muslim who deals with all Muslims and there is no organization between me and any other group. But I think that the future will produce to the Western nations people and Muslims who are more violent than the ones existing now.

The West will lament us because we were more tolerant in our dealing with them. It is in the best interest of the West if such generation didn't come to being because of unjust and coercive practices.

CBC: We spoke earlier about your hatred to America. What was your reaction to the events of 9/11? Did you think America got what was coming to them?

Abu Qatada: I was surprised by this action, and I don't think, until now, that a Muslim did it; therefore we cannot judge an absent person. We should bring the person who carried out this act and judge him after asking him about what he did. Until now, America did not ask itself why is this happening to us?

Speicher, Michael

In March 2002, the case of former US-Pilot Michael Speicher was refreshed in the US media. Officially he was shot down by an iraqi missile on Jan 17, 1991.

On the same day it was Dick Cheney, who released a statement about the original status of Michael Speicher.

Sources of the M15 claimed in 2002, that Michael Speicher is still alive.

J. Michael Springmann, formerly chief of the visa section at the U.S. Embassy in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, explained in various interviews with European and Canadian media, that he rejected hundreds of suspicious visa applications in the late 90s, but the C.I.A. officers overruled him and ordered the visas to be issued.

Springmann protested to the State Department, the Office of Diplomatic Security, the F.B.I., the Justice Department and congressional committees, but was told to shut up. Springmann observed that 15 of the 19 people who allegedly flew airplanes into buildings in the United States got their visas from the same C.I.A.-dominated consulate in Jeddah.

It all continued in Mid 2001:

http://www.townhall.com/columnists/johnmccaslin/jn20011102.shtml
"The U.S. Embassy in Riyadh is proud to announce the implementation of its new U.S. VISA EXPRESS service for expediting nonimmigrant visa applications throughout Saudi Arabia," the embassy in Riyadh and U.S. consulate in Jeddah announced to Saudi citizens on June 25, 2001, a posting printed in Arabic obtained by this column...

Springman later supported a press conference by unansweredquestions.org (->), supported by many different 911 victim families.

Joel Mowbray of National Review, who obtained the original visa-application forms released them at NationalReview.com on October 28th, 2002: "Only one of the 15 provided an actual address - and that was only because his first application was refused. The rest listed such not-so-specific locations as "California," "New York," "Hotel D.C.," and "Hotel."

One terrorist amazingly listed his U.S. destination as simply "No." But he still got a visa.

Nikolai Wenzel, one of the former consular officers who analyzed the forms, declares that State's issuance of the visas "amounts to criminal negligence. The law is clear: "Every alien shall be presumed to be an immigrant until he establishes to the satisfaction of the consular officer, at the time of application for a visa, that he is entitled to a nonimmigrant."

State's Deputy Press Secretary Phil Reeker remarks that 214(b) is "quite a threshold to overcome" - it just wasn't for Saudi applicants...

Due to the official indictment of Zacarias Moussaoui (-), the official 20th hijacker (-), it was a dubai account of Mustafa Ahmed al-Hawsawi (-) from Standard Chartered, which transferred money to Moussaoui (starting on June 25, 2001, last transfer Sept11th, 9:22 AM).

As later came out, al-Hawsawi was an alias for Sheikh Saeed, since 2002 imprisoned in Pakistan.

Since July 2002, managing director of KPMG is Robert J. Chiaradio , ex FBIHQ (-), who once oversaw early Sep11th warnings by Robert Wright (-), Kenneth Williams (-) and Colleen Rowley (-).

Standard Chartered is named after two banks which merged in 1969. They were originally known as the Standard Bank of British South Africa and the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China.

Of the two banks, the Chartered Bank is the older having been founded in 1853 following the grant of a Royal Charter from Queen Victoria.

With the opening of branches in Macau and Taiwan in 1983 and 1985 plus a representative office in Laos (1996), Standard Chartered has an office in every country in the Asia Pacific Region with the exception of North Korea.

In 1999, Standard Chartered acquired the global trade finance business of Union Bank of Switzerland. This acquisition makes Standard Chartered one of the leading clearers of dollar payments in the USA.

Sir Patrick Gillam, Chairman of Standard Chartered, was appointed Chairman of Royal & SunAlliance in 1997 following the merger of the Royal with Sun Alliance in 1996.

Sir Patrick will be retiring from both positions in 2003 upon reaching the age of 70. He is a former Managing Director of The British Petroleum Company and a former Chairman of Asda Group Limited.

Stand-down

Scrambling of fighter aircraft at the first sign of trouble is a routine phenomenon.

Between September 11th, 2001 and June 2002, jets were scrambled after aircraft 462 times.

The same time period the year before, fighters were still scrambled 67 times.

Source: AP, 8/13/02

As Rosenbaum/Craigslist (-) questioned, "I know from my own experience as a former Air Force officer assigned to the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD ->) working within the Cheyenne-Mt-Complex in Colorado Springs, Co. that the Air Defense Operations Center (ADOC) the centralized command and control center for all air-defense units protecting the continental U.S. has the authority to employ the use of air national guard interceptor aircraft of all 50 states to augment the capabilities of the regular air force coastal air defense assets (e.g. Otis AFB, Maguire AFB etc.).

I know for a fact that this operational infrastructure has been in place since the mid 1960s. The question that I have in my mind regarding Mr. Vidal's (-) assumption is why there was such a huge delay regarding the Air Force's response; why were there no air guard interceptors from PA, NY, MD, or VA not scrambled at least to investigate the abrupt course changes of the 9/11 hijacked aircraft. These guard units were set up to protect the air-space over each
I know for a fact that the ADOC uses FAA tracking facilities and other resources to help monitor the overall airspace over North America and would have had direct communications with the Air Traffic control centers involved and could have immediately coordinated an intercept over the area in question using the pertinent air guard asset. What Happened?

Many sources already revealed after Sep11th, that they have learned about a stand down order, but their friends, working as F15 fighters had been worried to talk in public.

TopView (->) investigated immediately after Sep11th and reported, that Air Force spokesmen confirmed that AFTER the alerts and requests for INTERCEPTS of the aircraft were received from FAA/ATC, orders from the HIGHEST LEVEL of the executive branch of the federal government were received, demanding that the Air Force stand down and NOT follow through with ESTABLISHED scramble/intercept procedures that morning until further notice!

On September 14th 2001, TIME magazine reported on the early events of Sep11th:

http://www.time.com/time/nation/article/0,8599,174912,00.html

At 9:25, Garvey, in an historic and admirable step, and almost certainly after getting an okay from the White House, initiated a national ground stop, which forbids takeoffs and requires planes in the air to get down as soon as reasonable.

Throughout the day, a hardcore group of public affairs staffers grabbed slices of pizza, scarfed chocolate donuts and swigged water and coffee. But cellphones were virtually unusable because of the overloads, and FAA staffers in the emergency op center couldn’t reach their in-house experts only a few floors below on the sidewalk. Minutes later, the Pentagon was hit.

Ten minutes later, at 10.31, the FAA allowed all military and law enforcement flights to resume. (and some flights that the FAA can't reveal that were already airborne).

The guy who was responsible for the stand down order, was Ben Sliney (->)

Note: As Paul Thompson (->) already pointed out in his 9/11 timeline, it is known that after the second WTC crash at 9:03, many base commanders called NORAD and volunteered to put fighters into the air ASAP. So NORAD only has to fob them off for about 20 minutes with excuses, and then at 9:25 they're in the clear to make sure that none of the hijacked planes will be tracked or stopped.

This site shows where we had fighters "on alert" - that is fueled, armed and pilots ready to go:

For all the U.S., there were only 7 locations with 2 planes each. But note that there were 2 planes at Otis and two at Langley which NORAD data indicates as being scrambled within minutes of notification. The problem is that the notification is way too late per standard operating procedures. Fighters should be scrambled whenever a plane is on course and not responding. SOP doesn't say to wait until they are declared or even suspected to be hijacked.

Check the total timelines in this link http://www.medienanalyse-international.de/timetable.html

For Flight 11 and Flight 77, look at how much time passes between the indications that each of these planes is suspected to be hijacked and NORAD is notified. It's about 20 to 25 minutes in both cases. It should be zero minutes.

What Langley was saying before they "cleaned up" http://stand77.com/1stFighterWingFactSheet--LangleyAFB.htm

During a normal day's flying operation at Langley, the wing will launch about 90 fighter training missions in air-to-air combat, aerial gunnery and air defense intercepts. Most flying operations are conducted in dedicated air space over the Atlantic Ocean off the Virginia and North Carolina coasts.

http://stand77.com/71stFighterSquadronFactSheet--LangleyAFB.htm

In a normal flying day, the 71st Fighter Squadron will launch approximately 25 sorties to fly training missions in air-to-air combat, aerial gunnery, and air defense intercepts.

Stand-down/Scrambling story after one year

Almost synchronised with the anniversary of the Sep11th attacks, the Scrambling story became yet another new twist:

From an MSNBC Transcript Aug, 19, 2002
'Ashleigh Banfield: On Location'

"...meet the first two men scrambled into the sky, racing toward the World Trade Center to try to stop the terrorists...
...Within minutes after terrorists hijacked the first passenger planes out of Boston, the FAA alerted NORAD. Air Force fighter jets were scrambled but too late to intercept the suicide hijackers who flew into the World Trade Center and the Pentagon.
...COMMANDER DAVE FEATON, NORAD: We’re looking for space and missile launches throughout the world.
...COL. CORKY VON KESSEL, NORAD: Right. We’ve sanitized, covered up all of our classifieds so that you all can come in.
LT. COL. WILLIAM GLOVER, DIR., NORAD WARNING CTR:

We had about 50 or 60 folks in here, and as you can imagine, we ran the gamut of different feelings in here. We-whenever we saw the first sighting of the first aircraft going into the World Trade Center, there was a dead silence in here, and you could hear a pin drop. People were thinking, they were thinking what’s going on? You know, how could this happen?

BANFIELD (MSNBC) : This colonel and this major, whose names can’t be released, were the two pilots on alert at Otis National Air Base (ph) on September 11th. They were charged with protecting the skies above the northeast that fateful morning.
What was supposed to be just another routine shift, would turn out to be a day they would never forget.

UNIDENTIFIED MALE: Came in here and started to do some-you know, my normal every day scheduling work. And sometime after 8:30, we got a phone call, I guess first went to the control tower and then to our command post about a possible hijacking. We get a lot of false alarms, but I’ve only been here two years, never heard the word hijack thrown around before, so we thought it was the real thing.

The story of golfer Payne Stewart is told among 911 skeptics, when people need answers on the stand-down order of September 11th.

Stewart died, when his private plane crashed, after careering across much of the US in an uncontrolled fashion. It is believed that everyone in the plane had died on board, as a result of internal pressurisation failure. Stewart's plane was intercepted and accompanied for much of this flight by jet fighters, once it was known that there was a problem.

Defraudingamerica.com reveals the culture of misfeasance, nonfeasance, and corruption that made possible the September 11 terrorist hijackings, many prior hijackings, and many prior air disasters.

While Stich was an FAA air safety inspector, among his many reports and recommendations, he reported on the dangers of hijackings and the two common-sense steps that would have prevented almost every hijacking that subsequently occurred, including the hijackings of September 11, 2001.

In a letter to Sen. Arlen Specter, Stich wrote on his insights on weapon smuggling:

"...The agent, concerned about the consequences of commercial airliners being shot down with these missiles, then contacted another CIA employee at CIA headquarters, who then tried to force a response from high CIA officials. This latest action forced CIA officials to finally respond. Negotiations then commenced, which involved, among others, the former CIA agent who headed a major CIA proprietary in Hawaii; a CIA attorney in the Los Angeles area; an Afghani located in California; and an Afghani rebel general in Afghanistan (who had previously turned over 20 Stinger missiles to the United States).

The general agreed to turn over the missiles without cost to the United States, and simply requested the release of an Afghani being held in federal prison on a drug charge arising from a possible KGB setup...

Nine days after the Sept. 11 terror attacks, the agents swooped in to arrest Ana Belen Montes (Cuba-spy), fearing that she represented an overriding security risk...."

Subversive Terrorist Network
===============

Basically every kind of public protest, independent investigation on Sep11th, or sources like from this book could be described as the "Subversive Terrorist Network".

In November 2002, Italian police arrested 42 activists in southern Italy on the charge of "subversive association" and "political conspiracy to disturb government activity through subversive propaganda against the economic order".
This is possible under article 270, which is part of Italy's new anti terrorist law which has come into force since September 11.

Patriot Act (-) in the United States is able to do the same.

Sufaat, Yazid
===============

One unofficial FBI report claimed in January 2002, that Yazid Sufaat was one of the financiers of Zacarias Moussaoui (-).

Officials said they had found evidence that Mr. Sufaat provided Mr. Moussaoui with at least $35,000 in meetings near Kuala Lumpur, the Malaysian capital, in September and October of 2000.

Sufaat, 37, was arrested Dec. 9, 2001 as he returned to Kuala Lumpur from Afghanistan, where authorities said he fought against the U.S.-led coalition.

Sufaat was in contact with Fathur Rohman Al-Ghozi, a demolitions expert for the Moro Islamic Liberation Front, a separatist group seeking to create an Islamic state in the southern Philippines.

Sufaat bought some explosives through a company he owned called Green Laboratory Medicine, according to law enforcement sources.

Ghozi was arrested Jan. 15, 2002 in Manila by Philippine immigration officials acting on a tip from police in Singapore.

In November 2002, the NY Times picked up Yazid Sufaat's story again.
In the meantime he turned into a 'Malaysian businessman and former army captain' with a "U.S. degree in biochemistry", who was captured in a Malaysian camp.

Due to the NY Times story, "Sufaat is suspected of providing employment documents to Zacarias Moussaoui so he could get a U.S. Visa".

"Yazid was first spotted by police in January 2000 meeting al-Midhar and al-Hazmi, and is said to have met with Moussaoui in September and October that year. The information was shared with U.S. security agencies at that time. He was finally picked up in December 2001 while returning to Malaysia via Thailand from Afghanistan. He is being held at Kuanting detention camp under the Internal Security Act, which allows detention without trial".

Sufaat was allowed to contact a lawyer (Saiful Izham Ramli) at the camp while the FBI questioned him who was either present during the questioning or briefed about it after.

Sources:

As TV3 Malaysia later found out, the FBI never sent a report to Malaysia:
"Deputy Home Minister, Datuk Zainal Abidin Zin, said the ministry is supposed to have received the report last week, through the Inspector-General of Police, Tan Sri Norian Mai.

"The FBI have not conveyed any information to us as of last week. They should have given us a report as promised, as part of the cooperation given by the Home Ministry and Yazid Sufaat."

Sufaat's story, his connection with Moussaoui and the observation was never mentioned again or made any new news at all.

In July 2002, Moussaoui accused the FBI that they observed everyone of the 19 hijackers and that the FBI "knew about the terror attacks before they took place."

"They arrested me and not Hanjour who was a few week before me at Pan Am Flight School (and has been reported to be a danger) because they knew that I was not with the 19 hijackers and therefore they will not be alerted... by my arrest".

Moussaoui believes, that the US government "cynically allowed September 11 in order to destroy Afghanistan."

They literally changed laws overnight in secret without us knowing that they were doing it.

And it's the only time in the history of any hijackings that they've ever done this to us. And to me immediately that just flagged, "We're hiding something." And like I said, they're presenting this as, "Look at how wonderful we are. Look at the good we're trying to do for you." And I didn't believe that for an instant..."

Swinton, John

During an increased media censorship in 2001-2002, former New York Times John Swinton's words from 1880, (!) became popular on the internet again:

"There is not one of you who dares to write your honest opinions, and if you did, you know beforehand that it would never appear in print. I am paid weekly for keeping my honest opinion out of the paper I am connected with. Others of you are paid similar salaries for similar things, and any of you who would be so foolish as to write honest opinions would be out on the streets looking for another job. If I allowed my honest opinions to appear in one issue of my paper, before twenty-four hours my occupation would be gone.

The business of the journalists is to destroy the truth, to lie outright, to pervert, to vilify, to fawn at the feet of mammon, and to sell his country and his race for his daily bread. You know it and I know it, and what folly is this toasting an independent press?
We are the tools and vassals of rich men behind the scenes. We are the jumping jacks, they pull the strings and we dance. Our talents, our possibilities and our lives are all the property of other men. We are intellectual prostitutes."

Taliban

Due to B. Raman of the South Asia Analysis Group (saag.org), the CIA and General Pervez Musharraf (Pakistan) are the creators and "the creation of the Taliban".

At the instance of the US and on the orders of Mrs. Benazir Bhutto, the then Prime Minister, and Maj.Gen.(retd) Nasirullah Babar, her Interior Minister, he and Lt.Gen.Mohammad Aziz, the then Deputy Director-General of the Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI), created the Taliban in 1994–95 and helped it overrun 90 per cent of Afghanistan.

B. Raman is additional Secretary (retired), Cabinet Secretariat, Govt. of India, and was in 2001-2002 Director of the Institute For Topical Studies, Chennai.

The USA, much to its disbelief and dismay, discovered in 1993 that many of its past Afghan policies had started to boomerang against the US interests.

Many of the Mujahideen, including the Americans' own favourites and proteges like Gulbuddin. Hekmatyar, had turned Afghanistan into a breeding ground for terrorists.

The Afghan War veterans, also known as "Afghanis" numbering in thousands, had officially got involved in anti-Western terrorist acts.

The increasing menace of terrorist threat to the West, originating from Afghanistan since 1993, led to intense debate in the US.

The concern began after the pipebomb explosions at the Olympic Games in Atlanta, the loss of 230 lives on board TWA Flight 800 in 1996, the bomb explosion at the Egyptian embassy in Islamabad, the killing of CIA officials in Karachi, and the abduction of six Europeans by the Al-Faran in Kashmir.

The Group of Seven Anti-Terrorism Conference was held in July 1996, in Paris, to initiate a global, coordinated effort to identify and locate thousands of veterans of the US-backed 1979-89 Afghan War against the Soviets.

It was in this backdrop of the American commitment to combat the terrorist network, based in Afghanistan, that Washington provided a clear-cut incentive for the introduction of the Taliban movement that emerged on the Afghan political scene in October 1994.

The US saw a strategic interest in the Taliban, as the latter promised to work towards, disarming of armed guerillas; driving out international terrorists from Afghanistan or fighting against Islamic fundamentalism.

The Taliban victory over Kabul, operated by financial support of the Saudi Intelligence BID (->), therefore, was welcomed by the USA.

Ex Afghan government leader Burahn-ul Din Rabani always insisted the Taliban are the operatives of the ISI, Pakistan' secrete service agency, through which the United States and its allies funnelled huge money and arms to Afghan Mujahideen groups.

On October 10, 1999, the United State government declared political and economical sanction against the Taliban regime in Afghanistan because of holding and supporting Saudi billionaire Ben Laden.

October 25, 1999, Taliban offered talks between Afghanistan and the US Government including the future of Osma bin Laden.

Tenet, George

"Osama bin Laden and his global network of lieutenants and associates remain the most immediate and serious threat"

George Tenet, June 2001

There are more quotes about George Tenet’s wish to start a war against the Taliban than one think. Tenet has had at least two different plans how to support a war against the Taliban for years.

One plan was in the form of a National Security Presidential Directive, the other part of a 80 country attack plan, called "worldwide attack matrix"

This is even no big secret. In January 2001 the Washington Post wrote about this plan.

It includes "propaganda operations, support for internal police and foreign intelligence services, and lethal covert action against terrorist groups or individuals"

Only a few days after the attack on America, Tenet, who was in deep contact with DoD commander in chief, Henry H. Shelton met again and discussed again their "long-planned, ground and air campaign in all its precision, including the battle of Mazar-e-Sharif."

Tenet’s 'Worldwide Attack Matrix' included already a war against Iraq.

An important key player for the war against Iraq was Gen. Wayne A. Downing, the deputy national security adviser for combating terrorism, who has a large and expanding staff within the White House.

 Downing, a former commander of U.S. Special Operations forces, and the CIA are trying to identify individuals or groups that might fill a leadership vacuum if Hussein is toppled, sources said.

Tenet was one of the strongest promoters for a war against the Taliban, which was already planned for October, long time before the Sep11th attacks.

George Tenet in June 2001:

"Worldwide Threat 2001 terrorists are seeking out 'softer' targets that provide opportunities for mass casualties. Employing increasingly advanced devices and using strategies such as simultaneous attacks...

...Osama bin Laden and his global network of lieutenants and associates remain the most immediate and serious threat...let me assure you that the Intelligence Community has designed a robust counterterrorism program that has pre-empted, disrupted, and defeated international terrorists and their activities what we have in Afghanistan is a stark example of the potential dangers of allowing states-even those far from the U.S.-to fail...

Many papers show what is going on in the White House right now and try to explain the information between the lines:

"Members of the congressional committees investigating the pre-Sept. 11 warnings said...that there is far more damaging information that has not yet been disclosed about the government's knowledge of and inaction over events leading up to Sept. 11."

NBC too wrote about this war plan:

"The plan dealt with all aspects of a war against al-Qaeda, ranging from diplomatic initiatives to military operations in Afghanistan."

The question that arises out of this is very simple:
If the U.S. government had information, even of a general nature, before September 11 about al-Qaeda plans for an attack in the U.S., why didn't they reveal what they knew?

Doesn't this show that actual evidence is irrelevant to the U.S. government, that their war actions are based not on justice, as they claim, but on the predatory aims and interests of their global empire?

James Woolsey, former CIA director and friend of George Tenet, pointed his finger at "state sponsorship," implying the complicity of one or more foreign governments.

Can we analyse this as yet another freudian slip?

Who is really the "state" behind the attack?

How much did George Tenet know?

Congressman Ike Skelton (CFR), a Democrat from Missouri and a member of the Armed Services Committee, claimed that Tenet warned before Sep11th, that there could be an attack, an imminent attack, on the United States of this nature. Skeltons statements can be heard at http://www.thememoryhole.org/tenet-911.htm

Tenet received at least 8-10 warnings from foreign intelligence services about an attack and hasn’t even denied this.

What exactly was the reason for a nightly meeting and a breakfast with his former mentor, David A. Boren (ex-CIA director) between September 10th and September 11th?

The pair met in St. Regis Hotel, three blocks from the White House and had a "leisurely breakfast" together on the morning of 9/11, when Tenet received the phone call about the attack.

"Their omelettes had just arrived when Tenet's security detail descended with a cell phone"

Boren said in an interview with PBS, that both haven't been surprised of the attack:

"The former head of the U.S. Senate Intelligence Committee said Monday he and CIA Director George Tenet were not ‘totally shocked’"
He served as Governor of Oklahoma from 1975-1979, was Senator from Oklahoma (1979-1994) and is the longest-serving chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence.
http://www.ndu.edu/msep/Boren_biohistory.htm

Moussaoui spent several months in Boren's own community of Norman, Oklahoma (a few miles away from Oklahoma City), where he had attended the Airman Flight School for three months in the spring of 2001.

Another interesting coincidence, or did someone not do his homework?
One might ask, why choose a city with the omni presence of a CIA-VIP?

Boren had named Tenet to be chief of staff for the Intelligence Committee in 1987, when Tenet was 34. Further, it is known that when the younger President Bush was entering office, Boren called him and urged that Tenet remain as CIA director.

Tenet did his homework. Actually the CIA traced officially at least three of the 19 hijackers before Sept 11th.
In January 2001, the CIA suspected Ziad Jarrah had been in Afghanistan and wanted him questioned because of "his suspected involvement in terrorist activities".

The CIA knew many of the 10-15 hijackers who got their visas from the CIA consulate in Jeddah.

At least Nawaf Alhazmi and Khalid Almihdhar have been confirmed as being on the CIA watch list.
And the war plans by the Pentagon against the Taliban had been supported by the CIA as well:
In April 2001 the CIA received a warning by former Northern Alliance Commander Ahmed Shah Massoud.

On April 5, 2001 he had a message for Bush at the European Parliament in Strasbourg, France: "If President Bush doesn't help us," he replied in Persian, according to a recording of his remarks translated by Afghan allies, "then these terrorists will damage the United States and Europe very soon and it will be too late."

A few weeks later, some unknown CIA officers travelled into northern Afghanistan and gave Massoul cash and supplies in small amounts in exchange for intelligence on al Qaeda.

At basically the same time, ... also Republican Congressman Dana Rohrabacher "conducted secret and illegal negotiations with the Taliban while on a trip paid for by Islamic and Egyptian support organizations", charged his Democratic challenger, Gerrie Schipske.
http://www.schipske4congress.org/afghanstn.html

"Rohrabacher traveled to the United Arab Emirate of Qatar and conducted secret, unauthorized negotiations with Osama bin Laden’s protégé - Taliban Foreign Minister Waliid Ahmad Mutawakel in April 2001," said Schipske.

The Arab news media reports that Rohrabacher pressured the Government of Qatar to set up a private meeting between him and the Taliban’s Foreign Minister.
"Rohrabacher met with Mutawakel and gave him a document that outlined his own ‘personal peace plan’ and told Mutawakel to take it back to the Taliban,” Schipske explains. "It is simply outrageous that this rogue Congressman engaged in negotiations with the Taliban. He needs to explain why he tried to cut a deal on his own and what he promised the Taliban during the meeting.” Schipske urged Rohrabacher to release whatever documents he handed to the Taliban leader.

Rohrabacher’s secret dealings came to light after his 2001 Financial Disclosure was released in late July 2002 showing a trip to Qatar paid for by both the Egypt International Forum and the Islamic Institute.

Rohrabacher and George Tenet have known each other for years. They both worked in 1998 together on a satellite controversy with the Intelligence Committee.

Rohrabacher is member of the Afghanistan - America Foundation, a non-profit, non-partisan, independent organization located in Washington, D.C., a few blocks from the U.S. Capitol building.
This Foundation is honored to have as its National Honorary Co-Chairmen two former White House National Security Advisors, Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski and Gen. Brent Scowcroft.

Closely advising and working with the Foundation are Dr. Zalmay Khalilzad, RAND Corp.; Dr. Tom Gouttierre, Director of the Center for Afghanistan Studies, University of Nebraska, Omaha, and Vice-President of the Afghanistan - America Foundation.

Dr. Frederick Starr, former President of Oberlin College and now Chairman of the Central Asia-Caucasus Institute at the School for Advanced International Studies (SAIS) of Johns Hopkins University; and Dr. Barnett Rubin, Council on Foreign Relations, serve on the Foundation's White Paper Task Force.

But back to Tenet. Through June and July 2001, as the Washington Post described, CIA Director George J. Tenet worked himself "nearly frantic" with concern.
"At Langley, Tenet was nearly ready. His proposed assistance to the Northern Alliance rebels ranged from $125 million to $200 million and included money, battlefield intelligence, nonlethal equipment such as body armor and winter clothing."

Terror Exercises
 ===========
Terrorism

The DOD definition of terrorism is "the calculated use of violence or the threat of violence to inculcate fear; intended to coerce or to intimidate governments or societies in the pursuit of goals that are generally political, religious, or ideological."

The Terrorism Research Center (TRC) says, that Terrorist groups that are not supported by a government usually create a support structure of sympathizers and people who have been coerced into helping them.

Compare:

Terrorist Threat Integration Center

Announced in late January 2003, the Terrorist Threat Integration Center will assess intelligence gathered by the CIA, Justice Department, Pentagon and Department of Homeland Security and provide "seamless" analysis of the information to the president and other senior policymakers.

Terror-Scenarios

While the US government still claimed in late 2002, that September 11th was the result of "incompetence", they never reported on their competent BioTerror-Scenarios, which took place between 2000 and 2001. The most successful one was Dark Winter (->)

(-> Exercises)

During 2000-2001 the US Government organised various exercises regarding possible terrorist attacks:

1) On Jan. 22, 2000 James Woolsey, ex-CIA director participated in a CFR Project run as a war-game simulation at its Manhattan headquarters. For the simulation, the CFR enlisted 75 people, including bankers, former Treasury Secretaries, and former State Department officials. Participants were divided into four teams, sent into four rooms, with the ability to communicate with each other and with a command headquarters through the computers.

2) In May 2000 James Woolsey participated in a bioterrorism exercise at Andrews Air Force Base. The Johns Hopkins Center, already in collaboration with the ANSER Institute for Homeland Defense, the Center for Strategic and International Studies, and the Oklahoma Memorial Institute for the Study of Terrorism organised this event. Former Senator Sam Nunn played the President. David Gergen played the National Security Advisor. Governor Frank Keating played himself. Frank Wisner was Secretary of State, ex-CIA director James Woolsey (ironically) played CIA Director, John White played Defense Secretary, and Dr. Margaret Hamburg was HHS Secretary. The Attorney General was played by George Terwilliger, William Sessions was FBI Director, and Jerome Hauer played FEMA Director.

http://www.hopkins-biodefense.org/pages/library/fema.html

"One of the striking observations of this exercise was the unfamiliarity of these distinguished and experienced professionals with the basic decisions and trade-offs associated with managing the response to the epidemic."

Observant was Tara O'Toole, MD, MPH Senior Fellow, Center for Civilian Biodefense Studies and at that time Deputy Director of Johns Hopkins Institute. This started a series of different "war games."

The May 2000 exercise involved key emergency management personnel. The result was named "TOPOFF" - because of the engagement of top U.S. government officials.

The $3 million TOPOFF drill tested the preparedness of top government officials in responding to three simulated terrorist attacks against the United States: a chemical weapons assault in Portsmouth, NH, a nuclear terrorism event in the greater Washington, D.C. area, and a bioweapons attack in Denver, CO. In the fictional scenario, an aerosol of pneumonic plague has previously been released at the Denver Performing Arts Center. The release has gone undetected, so the exercise starts with a hypothetical, unconfirmed attack.

3) From July 12-13, 2000 Woolsey was part of yet another CFR "conference" called "The Next Financial Crisis: Warning Signs, Damage Control and Impact". This was played out before a high-powered audience of 250 people, comprised largely of bankers, investors, corporation officials, and policymakers, mostly from the United States, a few from Europe, of the possibility that the U.S. stock market, and potentially the whole financial system would undergo a melt down.

4/5) In June and July 2000, Dr. Thomas Inglesby of Johns Hopkins Institute organised other bioterrorism scenarios in Atlanta and St.Louis:

In three storyboards by the "CDC," they "confirmed" the bio agent Yersinia pestis (the black plague).

Washington, D.C., Nov. 3, 2000 — "...The fire and smoke from the downed passenger aircraft billows from the Pentagon courtyard. Defense Protective Services Police seal the crash sight, Army medics, nurses and doctors scramble to organize aid. An Arlington Fire Department chief dispatches his equipment to the affected areas. Don Abbott, of Command Emergency Response Training, walks over to the Pentagon and extinguishes the flames. The Pentagon was a model and the "plane..."
crash" was a simulated one....

7) On November 28, 2000 Dr. Inglesby (Hopkins) participated at the Second National Symposium on Bioterrorism. Other guests included Jerry Hauer, Tara O'Toole, Margaret Hamburg, Michael Osterholm and Laurie Garrett.
Inglesby's biggest project, however, was DARK WINTER. He was the principal designer, author and facilitator of the BioTerror Exercise of June 2001.

8) On June 22-23, 2001, the US GOV organised their last big scenario before Sep11th : DARK WINTER.
It was about a possible smallpox attack. Jerome Hauer (ex-OEM) participated as well, this time "playing" the director of the FBI.

The whole list is still mirrored at http://www.hopkins-biodefense.org/participants.html
http://www.mipt.org/darkwinter06222001.html
http://www.homelanddefense.org/darkwinter/index.cfm

Among the other participants once again:
James Woolsey, ex-CIA director
Hon. Sam Nunn
George Tenet etc.
Observing, among many others:
Thomas Inglesby, at that time Senior Fellow Johns Hopkins Institute
On July 14th, 2001 the testimony on DARK WINTER was released:

http://www.globalsecurity.org/military/ops/amalgam-virgo.htm

"...Amalgam Virgo (was) a joint-service, cruise-missile defense exercise at Tyndall AFB about "Fast, low-flying cruise missiles".
...Participants had been "members of the 513th Air Control Group deployed to Florida for the "Amalgam Virgo" cruise missile defense exercise. The multi-service exercise tested the defense and response capabilities to a cruise missile attack on Tyndall Air Force Base...."

...Contributing to the air picture was the Navy Aegis cruiser, USS Yorktown, in the Gulf of Mexico. Equipped with a high-powered radar capable of tracking more than 100 targets simultaneously, the Yorktown also played a role in the multi-layered defense used to shoot down a cruise missile...
"What was perhaps a bit different about this exercise was that it involved U.S. homeland defense and practicing to merge a variety of sister services' capabilities to create a uniform picture and response...."

...The Coast Guard, Navy and U.S. Southern Command, took the lead in detecting, identifying and prosecuting the surrogate terrorist vessel that "launched" the cruise missiles for the exercise.
...During the June 2001 exercise Amalgam Virgo, ANZUS, Inc. demonstrated the Rosetta LINK-16 / Link-11 gateway functionality. Tracks and data were forwarded between both links in both directions in real-time. This demonstration served as the pre-certification contractor test which was scheduled for October 2001 at JITC. Additionally, ANZUS demonstrated the JMMTIDS JIC toolset capabilities developed to support the Joint Interface Control Officer in managing a complex combined interface architecture...."

This is a possible document of a slideshow about this event.
The document is authentic. It came from the National Defense Industrial Association (NDIA) and is from a committee Powerpoint Slide Show in June 2001.

It includes some disturbing highlights about a possible "terrorist attack" on the USA and mentions for odd reason the Phoenix Flight School (where the FBI monitored some of the hijackers) and includes quotes by former DoD Henry H. Shelton and William Cohen:

10) CIA terrorist exercise by John Fulton on Sep11th, 2001
"One U.S. intelligence agency was planning an exercise last Sept. 11 in which an errant aircraft would crash into one of its buildings"

On John Fulton:
He is on staff for the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), currently serving as Chief of the Strategic War Gaming Division of the National Reconnaissance Office, and as a member of U.S. Joint Forces Command's Project Alpha - a prestigious "think tank" for advanced concepts related to such issues as homeland security. He formerly served as the mission director for our nation's satellite imagery program as well as replacing Army Astronaut Same Gernar as the Director of the National Security Space Master Plan for the U.S. Department of Defense and Intelligence Space Communities under the auspices of the Deputy UnderSecretary of Defense (Space).

Editor of Tetrahedron is Dr. Leonard G Horowitz, who released the book "Death in the Air: Globalism, Terrorism & Toxic Warfare".

Dr. Len Horowitz is one of healthcare's most captivating motivational speakers. He received his doctorate from Tufts University in 1977, and then was awarded a fellowship in behavioral research at the University of Rochester.

In September 2002, Horowitz suggested that Kanatjan Alibekov, alias "Ken Alibek," the President of Hadron Advanced Biosystems, should be re-interrogated by the FBI. Alibek (->) is one of the executives of Hadron Advanced Biosystems (->).

Horowitz investigated in the second leading BMI and CIA anthrax contractor, and close personal friend of Dr. Alibekov, Dr. William C. Patrick, III (USAMRIID).

"Suspiciously, Dr. Alibekov and BMI had contracted with this anthrax ace in the Spring of 1998 to predict the dispersal and damage capability of mailing such a hyper-weaponized germ much like the one sent to select members of the media and legislators on Capitol Hill."

BMI, a leading defense and energy industry contractor, directed the US military's Joint Vaccine Acquisitions Program.

Bioport, LLC (->) became a leading beneficiary.

In a bizarre twist, Horowitz already first hand delivered an investigative memo to his regional F.B.I. office on October 1, 2001, almost two weeks before the first anthrax letter was sent from Trenton, New Jersey to the American media building in Boca Raton, Florida.

Thermobarics

On August 1st 2001, the DTRA (->) released an official paper on a new microwave weapon system called thermobarics, which had been mirrored at http://cryptome.org/tbw-paper.htm (-> Cryptome):

August 1, 2001
DRAFT FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY POINT PAPER FOR
THE DTRA THERMOBARIC ACTD
SUBJECT: Thermobaric (TB) Advanced Concept Technology Demonstration (ACTD)

OPERATIONAL NEED: Improved operational capability to defeat critical mission equipment in complex tunnel targets. This ACTD is responding to requirements derived from the following:
Special CINC and Joint Staff requests for a tunnel defeat weapon.
Capstone Requirements Document (CRD) for "Hard and Deeply Buried Target Defeat" (HDBTD) approved by the JROC Jan 01 and signed by the sponsoring CINCs, USSTRATCOM and USSOCOM.
USFK Mission Need Statement.

Joint Warfighter’s Capability Objective of the Joint Warfighting Science and Technology Plan
OPERATIONAL SPONSOR: US Forces Korea is the proposed CINC sponsor for this ACTD.
TECHNICAL MANAGER: DTRA TDSH is the proposed technical manager for this ACTD SERVICE SPONSOR: The USAF is the proposed service sponsor for the TB weapon system. The program will be closely coordinated with Navy explosive payload development activities.
ACTD OBJECTIVE: The objective of the TB ACTD is to leverage existing concepts and work in energetic payloads technology to weaponize, demonstrate, and deliver within three years an improved weapon system for the functional defeat of tunnel targets.
December 21nd, 10 AM:

Pete Aldridge, under secretary of defense for acquisition, technology and logistics, confirms a new BioDefense Budget, included in the QDR and talks about the UAVs [Unmanned Aerial Vehicles] over Afghanistan and the signals intelligence [SIGINT] platform on the Global Hawk.

He confirms the thermobaric weapon which had been used in ToraBora (→).

"...we skipped a laser-guided bomb into a tunnel and exploded it with a delay fuse."

The thermobaric warhead, 2.5 meters in length, is attached to a laser guidance system.

The bombs release two explosions: the first blast scatters solid-fuel particles throughout the underground labyrinth. Then, a delayed fuse ignites the explosive mixture. Temperatures can reach as high as 1600 °C (more than twice the temperature of conventional explosives), turning air into fire.

The fireball travels at supersonic speeds and produces huge pressure impulses, which propagate for quite a time. Thus, to a greater degree than more conventional ordnance, thermobaric weapons are designed to spread their lethal effects throughout the length and breadth of an underground cave and more effectively kill or immobilize enemy soldiers within, without destroying the structure itself. Forces may then search cave dwellings or bunkers for the remains of sought-after human targets.

Destroying bio agents by thermobarics:

The possibility that thermobaric explosives might end up splaying toxins into the atmosphere is another worry. Because of it, alternatives are being assessed.

To avoid contamination of the area, other weapons can be deployed, for example "high-power microwaves that fry the electronics pumping energy to an [underground] weapons facility," said Michael Vickers, director of strategic studies at the Center for Strategic and Budgetary Assessments (Washington, D.C.).

"...The thermobaric bomb releases and then detonates a fine cloud of high-explosive chemicals, creating devastating shock waves that destroy everything -- and everyone -- inside a cave, bunker or building.

Using a device called a Viper -- a portable laser range finder, digital map display and Global Positioning System receiver..."

"Nuclear weapons have a unique ability* to destroy WMD targets, compared to the limited options available now.

Development of a new, low-yield nuclear weapon for this purpose is an option because such a weapon could "achieve the needed neutralization" of WMD agents with fewer "weapon-produced collateral effects" than would be unleashed by using existing nuclear weapons not designed to destroy WMD targets, it adds.

Pete Albridge confirmed, that they "tested one out in Nevada just recently, where we skipped a laser-guided bomb into a tunnel and exploded it with a delay fuse, and experienced a significant growth in overpressure for the tunnel and temperature. It's something that we clearly have a need for in Afghanistan, and they're on their way over there..."

Source:

In fact the thermobaric system included a similar technique to that used by the BLU-82 bomb, the “daisy cutter,” which the Pentagon has dropped several times over al-Quida or Taliban targets.

“Thermobarics” or vacuum bombs, the munitions release fuel vapor that spreads throughout a tunnel before it is ignited, sucking out oxygen and creating extreme pressure under ignition. (MSNBC)

Already in Summer 2001, military scientists of Nuclear Watch of New Mexico and Albuquerque News speculated about the use of new mini nukes, when they monitored highly increased radiation at some US Military Bases.

In reality ToraBora and the mini nuke system thermobarics violated the ABM Treaty of 1972.

One day before the Pentagon conducted its 15th subcritical nuclear test at an underground test site in Nevada, President Bush decided to give Russia notice that the United States will withdraw from the 1972 nuclear treaty that bans testing of missile defense systems.

Suddenly Bin Laden released a new video, showing him in front of a fabric tent, officially produced at the beginning of the bombings on ToraBora.

Gordon Thomas is author of over fifty books and released his most important articles on Globe-Intel at gordonthomas.ie.

One of his 2001-2002 releases had been "Mindfield", which exposed secrets behind the CIA MKULTRA mindcontrol experiments and included "documentary evidence that links US Vice-President Dick Cheney and Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld to the cover-up of the death of top CIA scientist, Frank Olson".

Another one was 'Seeds of Fire: China And The Story Behind the Attack on America'.

Thomas, who lives in Ireland, received two Mark Twain Society Awards for Reporting Excellence. In the 40s he wrote about the Suez Canal Crisis.

His father-in-law was a professional intelligence officer who worked for M15 and ran a network in East Germany. He introduced him to many intelligence agents including William Buckley, the CIA station chief murdered in Beirut.

In one of his earliest articles after Sep1th, Thomas revealed that, "eight days before the September 11 attack, Egypt’s senior intelligence chief, Omar Suleiman, informed the CIA station chief in Cairo that "credible sources" had told him that Osama bin-Laden’s network was “in the advanced stages of executing a significant operation against an American target.”

Prior to that, FBI whistleblower Coleen Rowley had revealed, there was a similar warning from French intelligence.

Both warnings, Globe-Intel has established, originally came from Mossad..."

One has been dead for two years. Two others still fly for Arabian airlines.

A FEMA emergency response team arrived in NYC on the night of Sept. 10 and was the first rescue team to go into action the following morning.

"We didn’t ask why the CIA met with an ailing Osama bin Laden in an American hospital as the biggest British battle fleet since the Falklands sailed for waters off Afghanistan, why Washington gave the Taliban $43 millions in May, or why the FBI and Attorney General of the United States repeatedly ignored warnings and blocked investigations into the impending attacks."

“I believe that people everywhere are fed up with official lies and manipulations;” Thomas says. “We are through with politicians who will not answer us or look us in the eye.”

Thompson, Paul

(-> Timeline)

On Oct 04, 2002, Health and Human Services Secretary Tommy Thompson was suddenly assuring Americans that photo editor Bob Stevens (->) may have caught anthrax while traveling in the North Carolina countryside, but some CDC experts were arguing that mail facilities could be contaminated.

But Thommy Thompson lied. On September 11th, 2001 he was under the impression, that an possible anthrax attack could occur from a terrorist attack. This was the day, when the White House took CIPRO.

From an older Ground Zero Forum article, originally released at Scoop:

"Events related to Tommy Thompson and the coordination between the NIH and CDC give rise to a huge mountain of questions.

It's still a mystery, for example, why Tommy Thompson decided to hire Jerome Hauer, former Office of Emergency Center on September 10th (or maybe some days earlier) and then decide to distribute CIPRO for the White House on the evening of September 11th."

And why is this info widely ignored in the public...?
http://www.lauriegarrett.com/wtc_day12.html

...Thompson already okayed, in early October, a long time before the first attack was known, a sudden cooperation with BioPharmacy companies.

The German edition of financial times already criticised in the same month, that the US Government works together with BioPharmacy companies who have had a bad reputation for years.
http://www.ftd.de/pw/in/1277181.html?nv=rs

BIOPORT (-) had problems with the FDA (Food and Drug Administration) in early 1998, when they were criticised over the quality of their vaccines. Now they have their license back.

Biopart was founded by William Crowe and Fuad El-Hibri (ex-Porton Down -), which is still on the susct list of the FAS.

Then we have Dynport, a subsidiary of DynCorp (and partner of Porton Down UK), who got a contract in 2001 to develop a new vaccine against anthrax.

Another contractor is Acambis (former Oravax since 1993), which was founded by Thomas Monath, who is a good friend of Jerome Hauer and another anthrax suspect Stephen Hatfill (former USAMRIID and former Battelle).

In the meantime Hauer replaced Donald Henderson (Johns Hopkins Institute) as the Director of the Office of Public Health Preparedness (OPHP), a division of the NIH.

Thompson created the OPHP last October to develop and coordinate HHS's bioterrorism preparedness efforts.

Hauer is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins School (-) of Public Health in Baltimore and was a student of Henderson's when Henderson was Dean there.

Hauer called Henderson his, "longtime friend and mentor," according to the HHS release.

Henderson led the World Health Organization's successful campaign to eradicate smallpox in the 1970s. He is the founder of the Johns Hopkins Center for Civilian Biodefense Strategies and was its director before he took the OPHP position.

Thompson was well known for Wisconsin Works, or "W-2," the state's landmark welfare-to-work legislation, which served as a national model for welfare reform.

As Governor, Thompson created FamilyCare, designed to help elderly and disabled citizens, and allow them to receive care in their homes for as long as possible.

Thompson seems to have either a huge intuition, or advance knowledge about a possible anthrax attack.

Though the NIH profited from a new BioDefense budget, they are not the only ones to benefit from the emergence of bio-terrorism on the US mainland.

Cepheid, FDA, Hadron, Intellitec, Ion Beam Applications, Motorola Life Sciences, U.S. Army Medical Research Institute of Infectious Diseases (USAMRIID), U.S. Public Health Service, Versar and DynPort all got new budgets too.

Thompson was a supporter of a project called HomelandHealth.com (-).
The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) had basically joined with the pharmaceutical industry to develop defenses against biological threats.

But this project was already started by the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA) on October 30th, 2001, while the investigation on the anthrax attack was still going on...

TIPS
Nat Hentoff, Village Voice summed up on August 2nd, 2002:

Operation TIPS--The Terrorism Information and Prevention System--is a scheme that Joseph Stalin would have appreciated. Plans for its pilot phase, to start in August, have Operation TIPS recruiting a million letter carriers, meter readers, cable technicians, and other workers with access to private homes as informants to report to the Justice Department any activities they think suspicious.

"By July 16, 2002, that government Web site had removed the listing of specific kinds of worker-informants who would be watching us, but it noted that all the tipsters had to do was "use their common sense and knowledge of their work environment to identify suspicious or unusual activity." There was no definition of "suspicious" or "unusual." The president endorsed Operation TIPS, as did Homeland Security's Tom Ridge and Senate Republican Minority Leader Trent Lott."

The ACLU, of course, opposed Operation TIPS. As usual, there was no word of alarm from Tom Daschle or Dick Gephardt. But Democratic congressman Dennis Kucinich, ranking Democrat on the Government Oversight Committee's National Security Oversight Subcommittee, told Bill Berkowitz in The Progressive: "It appears we are being transformed from an information society to an informant society."

Top500 FAQ
================================
In January 2001, Netizen "ewing2001" collected a list of almost 500 unanswered questions on the Sep11th attacks and a timeline, which included the years before Sep11th. This list plus the article of MalcontentX ("Unanswered Questions") inspired Kyle Hence for his project unansweredquestions.org (->), which was established in June 2001.

The Top 500-List was later mirrored at http://www.rense.com/general24/t500.htm and many other websites worldwide, then upgraded and resorted with the help of some investigative members of democraticunderground.com

The general idea was not to answer these questions, but to let them answer by the US Government and analyse in a public 911-commission.

Many questions of this list inspired various 911-investigators and journalists to focus on different and unpopular angles of the Sep11th attack.

In February 2002, the Top500 FAQ list was sent to CynthiaMc Kinney (->), Tom Daschle and many other US Congress members. But only Mc Kinney showed interest.

Parts of the Top500 FAQ had been released in the german book "Verschwoerungen, Verschwörungstheorien und die Geheimnisse des 11.9." by Matthias Broeckers (->).

TOPOFF was a congressionally-mandated no-notice exercise designed to test the government's response to a large scale, domestic weapon of mass destruction crisis.

The exercise, which included participation by officials in federal, state and local government, involved a biological consequence management scenario in Denver, Colorado, a chemical crisis response effort, involving the military, in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and a radiological weapon attack in the National Capital Region, which comprises Baltimore, Maryland, and Washington, D.C. The Capital Region scenario focused primarily on consequence management and was treated as an adjunct to the TOPOFF exercise...

ToraBora
================================
ToraBora, a cave system in afghanistan, was bombed during the War against the Taliban. The official reason was to kill Bin Laden.

This looked rather odd, because his father built ToraBora together with Bin Ladin Inc. and the help of the CIA in the late 80s.

In 1999, with help of former mujhadeen Abdul Wakil Baidar, the place was still largely deserted, but had been refurbished again.
Both Bin Laden and the CIA still had the maps of ToraBora. Many people wondered:
Why would he hide there at all?

As later revealed, the Pentagon just tested their microwave system thermobarics (->).

On Dec. 21, Pete Aldridge, the under secretary of defense for acquisition, technology and logistics had to explain this technology, which was mentioned in the last Quadrennial Defense Review (QDR).

On January 8th 2002, the US military moved from Tora Bora to Zwahir Kili, another cave system. Admiral Stufflebeam on this decision at a DoD press briefing:
"Well, I don't mean to confuse you. What we've been talking about in terms of the Zhawar Kili area, of late, is the facility and what we have found in this location. Tora Bora was of interest some time ago because it was where al Qaeda was. And so we went after Tora Bora because that's where we knew al Qaeda forces to be, and they were in some concentration; the numbers I don't know, but they were in some concentration. So we went after al Qaeda where we knew it to be at. Once we were able to get in there, we did exactly the same thing there as we're doing in Zhawar Kili now."

Q: Can I ask you a quick follow-up on that? I've asked you this before, about the thermobaric bomb that was announced back in December. Has that been used in the Zhawar Kili complex?
Stufflebeam: No. And the reason why is -- I mean, to go back and take a look at what we're doing, or have been doing since last Wednesday in Zhawar Kili is that we're knocking down these above-ground facilities and we're closing cave entrances. Now, a thermobaric weapon is more closely like a fuel-air explosive. It goes inside to create an overpressure to get what's inside there.

Source:

Zhawar Kili's, also called Wolf's hole, was target of an armed CIA drone, which scored a direct hit February 4th 2002 on a group suspected to be top al Qaeda officials.

On June 24th 2002, Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., said the war in Afghanistan was only partly a military success because of the "enormous mistake" of sending Afghan forces into the mountains after entrenched al-Qaida fighters rather than using tested U.S. troops.

Tracking all hijackers

From a GlobalFreePress analysis by ewing2001:

"...During the end of 2002, it appeared that all 19 hijackers, the official 20th hijacker, Zacarias Moussaoui (->) and almost all informants had been simultaneously tracked by CIA, FBI or any other intelligence agency who shared this information before Sep11th.

Many hijackers even lived next to CIA operatives, which operated at these places, before the hijackers decided to "join" them. It looked therefore, that this was manipulated, staged or scripted.

1) Mohammad Atta

Intelligence reports, surveillance logs and transcripts of intercepted telephone calls by Germany's domestic intelligence service (BND), show, that while the BND was observing criminal suspects like Mahmoud Darkanzali, they monitored Mohammad Atta, too- since 1998.
http://www.nytimes.com/2003/01/18/international/europe/18HAMB.html

Atta was attending the same Hamburg mosque as Darkanzali, Marwan Al-Shahhi, Ziad Jarrah and Ramzi Binalshibh.

Darkanzali was on a watch list, because of his connections with bin Ladin's associates in Sudan, Wadil El-Hage (Manbaa Al Arhar Trading, Dubai) and Mamdouh Mahmoud Salim, who is imprisoned on terrorism conspiracy charges for the 1998 bombings of U.S. embassies in Kenya and Tanzania, already arrested since September 1998.

In Sudan, Salim once ran Wadi Aqiq, bin Laden's umbrella company.
One el Hage business card, for his "Anhar Trading Co.," listed two addresses -- his former home address in Arlington, Texas, and a second address in Hamburg, Germany, which matches the home address of Marmoun Darkanzali, who has lived in Germany since 1985.

The CIA later tried to turn Darkanzali into a CIA spy, as confirmed and reported in german DER SPIEGEL, Chicago Tribune and NY Times.
http://www.chicagotribune.com/news/nationworld/ch-0211170296nov17,0,6628254.story?coll=chi%2Dnews%2Dhed

Furthermore, Mohammad Atta's telephone calls between him and a suspect of spanish intelligence, Imad Eddin Barakat Yarbas had been intercepted. Yarbas is otherwise known as 'Abu Dahdah', a Palestinian with Spanish citizenship and connections with Bin Laden associates.

Yarbas phone was tapped since 1997. As later came out, not only spanish police, but spanish intelligence okayed the bugs.

He was tied with other arrested suspects before and after Sep11th, who got connections to the Salafist Group for Call and Combat (GSPC), which is on a watch list of italian and british intelligence and in at least one case on the watch list of the CIA:

Haydar Abu Doha, a London-based Algerian known as 'the Doctor', and one of the leaders of GSPC, was recruiting members and well known.

One of the most popular plans of GSPC was to blow up markets at the G-8 summit in Genoa in 2001.

Abu Doha was also connected to Ahmed Ressam, the Algerian convicted for trying to attack Los Angeles International Airport during the millennium changeover.

Sources:
http://www.papillonsartpalace.com/alqaedas.htm

Already observed by german intelligence, Atta was visited by CIA-watchlist suspect Khalid Shaikh Mohammed (->), who by 1999 was living in Germany and visited him.

Meanwhile, since 2002, Khalid Shaikh Mohammed is described as financial mastermind of the Sep11th attack, working together with ISI-connected al-Hawsawi (->) aka Sheikh Saeed (->).
http://english.pravda.ru/world/2002/06/05/29796.html

If the Indictment against Moussaoui is based on real money transactions, then Standard Chartered Bank should become one of the top suspects, who okayed the transfers.

Standard Chartered had an office in Building 7, one floor above the CIA, DoD and INS.

Building 7
- a building, which collapsed under strange circumstances on Sep11th
- a building, which was under military control since October 2000, when Blackstone/TRW, a military and CIA-contractor, took over the mortgage.

In 2001, Mohammad Atta started to learn at Huffmann Aviation, a school, which is strongly connected to the CIA as well, meanwhile this can't be considered as a coincidence anymore.

The CIA is already on the case of many other muslim students.

Finally, in July 2001, while observing Atta as well, the Mossad warned the CIA and the Ml6 on highest level and later a second time on a possible terrorist attack.

2) Marwan Al-Shehhi (-> observed together with Mohammad Atta).

Marwan al-Shehhi, as stated, visited on one day Mohammad Atta at the Airman Flight School in Norma (home of ex-CIA David Boren), staying overnight.
http://www.unansweredquestions.net/timeline/2001/bostonglobe091801.html

This was the same flight school of Zacarias Massouai, who officially never met Mohammad Atta.

3) Ziad Jarrah (-> observed together with Mohammad Atta)
In early 2002, newer research on his profile became more interesting.

The CIA still claims, that Jarrah (pilot of the jetliner that crashed in Pennsylvania) was not on a terrorist watch list, but according to motel records, a man by that name used a credit card to pay for a late August 2001 stay at the Pin Del motel in Laurel, Md., where Nawaq Alhamzi stayed in September.

Alhamzi was on the CIA watch list.

http://www.wbz.com/now/story/0,1597,311329-364,00.shtml

Therefore it can be assumed, that Jarrah was observed as well.

Another important detail:
Ziad Jarrahs uncle Nazem Jarrah worked for east germany intelligence service, and as an agent for the Libyan services.

It is well known, that the CIA obtained a copy of all Stasi agents of east germany and they have also an idea of what's going on in Libya.

So how many informants did the CIA have on Siad Jarrah?:

Another witness claimed, Jarrah (Flight 93) was "among a large group of Middle Eastern men" using an apartment near Lackland Air Force Base (San Antonio, Texas) in the summer of 2001 (http://www.reporternews.com/2001/texas/agent0922.html).

Jarrah has another apartment in New York, the FBI ignores in their profile on Jarrah.

Why?

Furthermore ignored, Jarrah decided to marry and left his apartment a few days before the attack to see his girlfriend, who was waiting for him in Bochum, Germany.

This brings us to two possible conclusions:

a) It was indeed the real Ziad Jarrah on the plane, but he wasn't involved in the hijack. The numbers reported in the phone calls on flight 93 do not match the number of suspects.

b) Links to the other hijackers have been embellished by the press.

Ziad Jarrah did not die on the plane - there was someone else using his identity (or he wasn't even on the manifest anyway and it's been made up)

http://www.the-movement.com/Hijackers/ziadJarrah.htm

What almost everyone ignores is however the fact, that none of the 19 hijackers ever appeared on the original passenger manifest and 8-10 original identities claimed to be still alive.

However the FBI never changed their suspect list.

CNN reported in February 2002, that Baltimore Mayor Martin O'Malley has said "local law enforcement officials should have been told by the FBI that Jarrah was on a CIA watch list".

4) Hani Hanjour (on a watch list since 1996).

Due to a former mjujahadeen fighter of the CIA and former informant of the FBI, Aukai Collins, Hanjour was observed by the FBI since 1996.

Collins, was asked by the Phoenix FBI-bureau to listen out for information about young Arabs taking flying lessons.

As reported, Collins stopped working for the FBI in 2000.

Obviously at the same time the CIA "took over".

A consulate employee in Jeddah, which was Abdullah Noman (arrested in November 2001), flagged Hanjour's first application (address: "elscenter melbourne florida"), noting that Hanjour wanted to "visit" for three years, although the legal limit is two.

http://www.foxnews.com/story/0,2933,53344,00.html

When Hanjour returned two weeks later, he simply changed the form to read "one year".

Visa approved.

The ELS Center in Florida is a language centre and was founded by scientists from the American Space Program, which was basically developed between the NASA and the CIA.

http://www.els.com

But Hanjour wasn't able to learn english language, even not under the best scientific and "military conditions", one might assume.

Stamped on September 10th, 2000, Hani Hanjour listed on his third visa application as a "tourist" his address at 3510 Mountain Boulevard, Oakland, CA 94619.
Coincidentally this address is only 30 minutes away (28.5 miles) from the military laboratory of Sandia in Livermore, and on the route of CA-13 North Highway.

Sandia is connected with the CIA, and helped creating the Homeland Security (Ruth David, executive of ANSER, who helped establishing a private contractor of the CIA, In-Q-Tel), both a long time before Sep11th, 2001.

5) Waleed M. Alshehri (UA11)
6) Saeed Alghamdi (UA93)
7) Ahmed Alghamdi (UA93)
8) Ahmed Alhaznawi (UA93)

Waleed M. Alshehri's "career" in the United States is one of the most interesting ones.

He graduated in 1997 at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach (Fla.), which was once claimed on Saeed Alghamdi, but then even the story changed to the much deeper military connected Defense Language Institute in Presidio of Monterey, California.

Meanwhile Waleed M. Alshehri came back with another visa, approved on October 24th, 2000.

But instead of being aware of english language now, his application listed "wasawton" as his address in the United States.

Same did his brother Wail.

As CNN reported, Saeed Alghamdi lived now in Delray Beach, Florida, same to his "buddy", Ahmed Alhaznawi.

Another official hijacker, Ahmed Alghamdi, had his apartment complex nearby Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.

http://www.newsday.com/ny-usprob152367589sep15/0,2383011.story

Embry-Riddle is connected with the blueprinters for the Homeland Security, ANSER, which are operating in their Center for International Aerospace Cooperation (Dr. Ron Turner).

http://www.erau.edu/
http://websearch.erau.edu/Universe/01/01/abouterau.html

Saeed Alghamdi and Ahmed Alghamdi and 4 other hijacker names had been linked to the San Antonio Base at the Alpha Tango Air schools, which once had been linked to Abdul Hakim Murad, who trained there and who was convicted several years ago of a plot to crash a suicide plane into CIA headquarters.

In February 2000, the INS conducted an enforcement action at Randolph Air Force Base, in which 40 Indian national computer programmers on H-1B visas were taken from the site in handcuffs and detained. The individuals were all on valid H-1B visas filed by employers located in Houston, but the INS alleged that amended petitions had not been filed to reflect their temporary assignment as computer programmers at the air force base in San Antonio.

Saeed Alghamdi and Ahmad Alhami both had been mentioned in military records at Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Fla

Due to other military records, Ahmed Alghamdi may have trained at the Naval Air Station in Pensacola

Back to Waleed Alshehri.

He later moved to Vienna, Virginia, which is home for CIA agents Noel E. Firth and James H. Noren, and for FinCen (Financial Crimes Enforcement Network), who testified on the money transfers of Mohammad Atta (or better, they later denied them, when the ties to Pakistan's Secret Service and Saudi Arabian Credit Institutes became too political).

Furthermore Vienna is home for Linda Millis, former NSA, who was working as the Deputy Chief of Cryptologic Services Group of the CIA, where she briefed the Deputy Director of Intelligence and contributed to Presidents Bush's Daily Brief - until February 2001.

Then she started at BENS (->), a nationwide, non-partisan organization, who advises the Pentagon and CIA on national security policy.

http://www.bens.org

9) Salem Alhamzi (AA77)

Salem Alhamzi had been observed by the CIA and FBI, together with Khalid Al-Midhar, which became one of the most well-known stories, which is still blamed on just "incompetence".

But due to a FBI report, which was already released on September 14th, 2001, Salem Alhamzi lived in two small New Jersey cities, Wayne and Fort Lee, which might have been very risky for him.

http://www.fbi.gov/pressrel/pressrel01/091401hj.htm
Fort Lee is well known for their military ties, and for the obscure CIA experiments in the 50s, when they operated from there in a video studio, working on subliminal experiments for commercials.

Meanwhile, Fort Lee is home for DoD and CIA-contractor Boeing, who is working together with Bae and the Harris Cooperation on the Joint Tactical Radio System (JTRS), a project of the Boeing Integrate Defense Systems (IDS), who developed or co-distributed the 737-700 Airborne Early Warning & Control System, the Airborne Laser, Boeing Satellite Systems, F-15 Eagles, F-22 Raptors (partnering with Lockheed), the GPS System, the International Space Station for the NASA, the Space Shuttle, unmanned Combat Air Vehicles and the V-22 Osprey aircraft.

Among other partners of the IDS is the SAIC (->) and DARPA.

Then we have another Salem Alhazmi, who is alive and in Saudi Arabia.

The photo published by the FBI is of the living Salem Alhazmi, who has never been to the US.

So there was a guy who looked just like him using the name Satam M. A. Al Suqami living in Spanish Trace apartments. Did someone alter their appearance to look like the Saudi Salem Alhazmi although using Suqami's name? Clear as mud.

Source: http://www.the-movement.com/Hijackers/Agents.htm

10) Khalid Al-Midhar

Khalid Al-Midhar, already confirmed, was observed by the CIA and FBI, and lived in Jersey City, New Jersey.

Al Midhah, who officially helped crash the plane into the Pentagon, simply listed "Hotel" as his U.S. destination on his visa — no name, no city, no state — but no problem getting a visa.

Odd enough, al Midah decided then to stay in the same city, which was home to the mosque of Sheik Omar Abdul Rahman, who is in prison for the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center.

Even more disturbingly, al-Midhar lived together with Nawaq Alhamzi in San Diego, a center for various military projects, where he was observed with the help of FBI-informant Abdussattar Shaikh, a retired English professor at San Diego State University and co-founder of San Diego's Islamic Center.

Still he had no problem to plan the attack or have been involved without knowing what's going on?

San Diego FBI chief of this observation was Bill Gore.

On November 14th 2000, former FBI Director Louis J. Freeh (->) offered him this position at the "first multi-agency, multi-jurisdictional entity responsible for acquiring, archiving, and analyzing digital evidence in support of criminal investigations".

http://www.fbi.gov/pressrel/pressrel00/ecfl.htm

Noone ever asked Gore, how he could explain this "mess".

11) Nawaq Alhamzi

As reported, Nawaq Alhamzi lived for a while in CIA-connected Vienna, Virginia, and in San Diego and Los Angeles.

(-> BENS, Linda Millis)

The FBI claims, Alhamzi lived at Omar al-Bayoumi in San Diego, who once worked for Dallah Avco (->), an aviation-services company with extensive contracts with the Saudi Ministry of Defense and Aviation, headed by Prince Sultan, the father of the Saudi ambassador to the United States, Prince Bandar.

Their headquarter is in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, all objects under heavy radar by the CIA.

http://law.about.com/library/911/blalbarakaat.htm

As the lawyers for the 911 victims in the meantime found out, al-Bayoumi once founded a fictious company name called Masjed al Madinah al Munawarah (Masjid al Madinah al Munawarah), which is based in San Diego.

http://law.about.com/library/911/blalbarakaat.htm

The 911 victims furthermore accuse Prince Turki al Faisal (->), former Saudi Intelligence, of having ties to al-Bayoumi and been involved in the financial planning of the Sep11th attack.

San Diego is home for the Corporate Headquarters of DoD-contractor SAIC (->), and former employee for Anthrax suspect Stephen Hatfill and ex-OEM director Jerome Hauer (who helped constructing the Commando Bunker in Building 7), and organised a security job in the Twin Towers for ex-anti terror specialist, FBI John O’Neill, where O’Neill died on Sep11th.

Another military project, based in San Diego, is the Tokanak-production by General Atomics.

http://library.nps.navy.mil/home/bibs/dewtrt.htm

Furthermore the Global Hawk air vehicles are built at the Northrop Grumman Aeronautical facility in San Diego, yet another important private military contractor, the Cubic Corporation operates from San Diego as well.

12) Abdullahiz Alomari

Stamped on June 18th, 2001, only a few weeks before Sep 11th, Alomari's visa application named "JKK Whyndham HTL" as an address.

This is interesting. Whyndham is in reality just a hotel. But Alomari even provided no proof for this information, as required by law.

Alomari did not even fill out the spaces naming his nationality and sex.

As journalist Joel Mowbray already complained, who obtained the original visa applications, "at least 15 of the 19 "dots" should have been denied visas" with addresses like that.

He suggested therefore, the 911 victims should file a lawsuit against the US State Department.

When NewsMax sought to interview a State Department appointee on another matter, a news contact warned them to be careful not to get the appointed person in trouble because "Bush appointees over there are carefully watched," and the appointee's phone might be tapped.

"...Alomari listed his home address as the "ALQUDOS HTL JED" (a hotel in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia). Alomari didn't even bother filling in the fields asking for his nationality and gender, apparently realizing that he didn't need to list much more than his name to get a visa to the United States. As it turns out, he didn't. He got his visa...."

http://www.nationalreview/mowbray/mowbray100902.asp

Was Alomari really part of a professional "military operation"?

How did Alomari get a job at Newark Airport?
What kind of connections did he have to Saudi Flight Ops?

Saudi Flight Ops handles maintenance for Saudi Arabian Airlines.

Why was it so easy for him to get a visa in Jeddah?

But more strange, was he really so irresponsible against his wife and four school-aged children?

http://www.espritdecorps.ca/viewarticle.asp?article=65

Why did he really move out of his apartment in Vero Beach, Fla on Sep 3rd, 2001 and left his family alone?

http://www.papillonsartpalace.com/thumbnail.htm

As J. Michael Springman, former employee of the consulate already confirmed in interviews with european media and at the June 2001-press conference in Washington, de facto Jeddah was a CIA consulate, who allowed all 15 (of 19) visas from there, without any explanation.

Springman reported from hundreeds of other obscure visa applications in the late 90s and protested.

Downplayed by the media, top suspect (or "patsy") Abdullah Noman, who was responsible for the "transactions" in Jeddah, was already silently arrested in November 2001.

13) Majed Moqed (AA77)

Why would someone, who is planning a military operation or even just moving to the United States, moving to a city like Caldwell, New Jersey?

http://www.cbsnews.com/htdocs/america_under_attack/terror/team3_right.html

Was it his respect (or dislike?) of the 22nd and 24th President of the United States, Grover Cleveland, who came from there?

http://www.caldwellnjonline.com/history/index.shtml

Was it the Wonder Aviation Club with his only little cute Cessna?

http://www.usac.com

Or was it the 1 hour 15 minutes distance to McGuire Air Force Base (305 Air Mobility Wing) in Fort Lee (23801) in Virginia, where Salem Alhamzi lived, which is base of the Joint Tactical Radio System of Boeing Integrate Defense Systems?

Why did the FBI not release any information on Moqed?

Who leaked the information on Moqed and Caldwell to the press?

Was he really between Sept. 2 and Sept. 6, in Gold's Gym in Greenbelt, NJ as did Khalid Al-Midhar, Nawaq Alhamzi, Salem Al Hamzi and Hani Hanjour?

Khalid Al-Midhar, who was observed by the CIA and FBI, lived in Jersey City for a while, that is 34 mins minutes away.

14) Satam Al Suqami (AA11)
Nothing is known about the address of Sataam Al Suqami, who officially took the same plane as Atta, but for odd reasons it was Suqamis passport, which was found in the rubble of New York on Vesey Street in front of Building 7.

Building 7 was home for offices of the DoD and CIA, and furthermore a building, which was controlled by the military since October 2000, when the Blackstone Group, a subsidiary of TRW took over the mortgage!

15) Wail Alshehri (AA11)

Lived in Hollywood, Florida, and Newton, Massachusetts

But his visa, stamped on October 24th, 2002, mentioned "wasantwn", which might mean Washington, his alleged employer and school was listed as "South City", which made no sense at all.

Why did he risk to live in Washington DC, which is full of agency feds all over the place?

16) Fayez Ahmed (UA175)
17) Hamza Alghamdi (UA175)
18) Mohald Alshehri (UA175)
19) Ahmed Alnami

All four lived in Delray Beach, Florida and checked into the internet from there, due to librarian Kathleen Hensman.

The connection between Florida, drug cartels and the CIA is not only just a speculation or a myth, it's almost the way of life in Florida.

20) Zacarias Moussaoui

Moussaoui was under confirmed surveillance by british intelligence MI5 since late 2000.
http://www.observer.co.uk/international/story/0,6903,625797,00.html

From his indictment and his motions we learn, that he was under surveillance by the FBI, before he was arrested.

Moussaoui claims, they did that on purpose, instead of arresting Hani Hanjour.

Moussaoui officially trained at Airman Flight School in Noman, Oklahoma.

More disturbing, Bin Laden's private pilot, Ihab Ali, learned at the same flight school in Noman.

This city, a few miles away from Oklahoma City, is home of former CIA David Boren, once described by George Tenet as his "mentor".

Moussaoui claims, that all hijackers had been observed.

His address, 209 Waldsack, is only 3 mins away from the University of Boren.

Due to an AP story, four of the official hijackers met all on September 10th in Valencia Motel, Laurel, MD.

That is just 11 minutes away from Fort Meade, the headquarter of the NSA.

Too many coincidences. Period.

The connections between all hijackers, the FBI informants (->) and the CIA (Norman, Fort Lee, Vienna etc...) seem to be triple-proved.

15 hijackers had their visa from the CIA connected consulate in Jeddah (->), Saudi Arabia.
8 hijackers trained at CIA connected flight schools (-> Huffman Aviation, -> Kruthaus, Arne)

Almost every 19 hijackers got linked to a visit of a military flight school (-> Hijackers, US

Maybe some actors pretended to be the hijackers or their identity had been stolen by someone else (-> Hijackers still alive).

It would make sense, that some tracks of the hijackers had been scripted.

So many questions are open on the hijackers and their "connections".

Here are only a few of them:

Why did Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas allow three muslim students to train at their base: Saeed Al-Ghamdi, Ahmed Al-Ghamdi and an unrelated suspect, Fayez Ahmed?

More bizarre, Fayez Ahmed had the same address in Tulsa, Oklahoma, as Ahmed Al-Ghamdi.

What happened with Hadi Omar Jr, an antiques peddler in Fort Smith/Florida, who was detained after using the same Internet log-on as Mohammed Atta?
Or Anand Shah from India, who made flight reservations for himself and Atta.

More bizarre, the story on Attas last day changed, when it came out, that the Bukhars from an early FBI-suspect list had been still alive:

In the original version, the two Bukhars hired a Nissan Altima at Logan airport and drove it to Portland Maine the day before the attacks.

Then the story was scrubbed and refreshed a while later:

Now Atta and Alomari were the ones who rented the car at Logan, drove to Portland and got the connecting flight to Boston. This story doesn't really make sense anyway because a White Mitsubishi left at Logan was supposedly hired by Atta.

Why would you rent a car, leave it in Logan airport, rent another car and leave that one in Portland?

Maybe the FBI should better not answer on this, but some oil-corrupted CIA-members, who scripted all this..."

In September 2002, the two "Washington Snipers" were in Trenton, New Jersey, where they purchased for $250 the Chevrolet Caprice authorities claim was used in the Washington-area shootings.

The headquarters of pharmacy company Aventis is not far from Trenton.

Tricare Exercise

In May 2001, the DiLorenzo clinic’s tri-service staff participated in a simulation exercise for the possibility crash of a Boeing 757 airliner into the U.S. military’s headquarters.

Among the first medical personnel at the scene, they were involved in life-saving rescues and treatment. With support from teams from nearby military treatment facilities and civilian emergency workers, they quickly established triage and casualty treatment centers and ensured the availability of appropriate equipment and supplies.

Navy Rear Adm. John Mateczun of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told U.S. Medicine, "I stand in awe of the work that went on, particularly by the men and women of the DiLorenzo clinic."

Source:
In fact the first medical personnel at the Pentagon scene on September 11th, came mostly from the Army's TriCare clinic on the ground level of the Pentagon's North. Air Force Surgeon General, Lt. Gen. Paul K. Carlton, who had been in the Pentagon for an Air Force Chief of Staff's conference...told U.S. MEDICINE that his team had run an exercise in May with a scenario in which a 757 crashes into the Pentagon. "We had worked out what would happen [and] what was needed," he said.

Trilateral Commission

In 1973, Insider David Rockefeller asked Zbigniew Brzezinski, erstwhile national security advisor to Richard Nixon, to put together an organization of the top political and business leaders from around the world. The result? The TC, which today persists as an elitist, worldwide Establishment organization of "concerned" corporate leaders formed under the guise of fostering international relations and encouraging the trilateral economic linkage among Japan, Europe, and Northern America.

In actuality, their goal is to rule the world--just listen to the late Barry Goldwater.

In his book "With no apologies", he called the comission "David Rockefeller's newest cabal" and said, "It is intended to be vehicle for Multinational consolidation of the commercial and banking interests by seizing control of the political government of the United States."

The TC is linked to the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR->), the Bilderbergers, the Ford and Rockefeller Foundations and IRS.

One member of he TC is Alan Greenspan, formerly employed at Morgan Guaranty, George Bush Sr., Bill Clinton

Trolls

An Internet "troll" is a person who delights in sowing discord on the Internet. He (and it is usually he) tries to start arguments and upset people. Trolls see Internet communications services as convenient venues for their bizarre game. For some reason, they don't "get" that they are hurting real people. To them, other Internet users are not quite human but are a kind of digital abstraction.

Trolls are utterly impervious to criticism (constructive or otherwise). Some people -- particularly those who have been online for years -- are not upset by trolls and consider them an inevitable hazard of using the net. As the saying goes, "You can't have a picnic without ants."

From:
http://members.aol.com/intwg/trolls.htm#WIAT

In 2001-2002, many trolls tried to disturb many investigative and progressive websites with disinformations or absurde arguments. Another popular variation is impersonation.

Truth on oil strategy

In this possible scenario, Russia and United States, by then a strong team, will confirm, that the war against terrorism is in fact on oil, but still orchestrated by "terrorists" like Hussein, who want to destroy estimated 250 trillion barrel in Iraq.

A coup d'etat would be a regime change without a war. Hussein could be exchanged by INC (->) leader Ahmed Chalabi, who is cousin of Dr Fadhil Chalabi

Background:
In December 2002, Iraq, with its back to the wall, cancelled an important oil contract with russians oil company Lukoil.
Since then, Russians only "desperate counterstrategy" was to reach a regime change without war, and offered Saddam Hussein exile in Russia, Syria, Egypt or even China.
Russia still tries to get in an independent business with help of their 4 most important oil companies Lukoil (Wagit Alekperow), Jukos (Michail Chodorkowski), Tjumen Oil and Sibneft, who work on a pipeline to Murmansk, which should be finished in 2007.
Another russian oil company, Sarubeschneft (led by ex-soviet secret service Nikolai Tokarew), is still in business with Iraq since 1967.

NOTE:
There are plausible speculations around, Russia's best "chess move" at the end of 2002, had been to orchestrate North Korea into a new fake crisis with the United States, to distract from Iraq and even sponsored the US-peace movement around International Answer (->) to stop the war.
The CIA, still trying to play the better chess, answered in the same period with a report on a russian virologist Nelja Maltseva from the Research Institute for Viral Preparations in Moscow, who "moved some smallpox strains on a trip to Iraq in 1990".
This information was leaked to the press by Dr. Alan Selikoff, a scientist at the Sandia National Laboratories (->) in Albuquerque, N.M.
3 weeks after this article came out, the FBI released a new terror alert on 19 muslim suspects

Eighty percent of profits would be retained by TSI with the rest accruing to the Taliban.

In September 2000, Telephone Systems International (TSI) announced a $240 million contract with the Taliban to establish a network of satellite-call centers in Afghanistan's major cities and a 30,000-line wireless phone system in Kabul.
Eighty percent of profits would be retained by TSI with the rest accruing to the Taliban.
The contacts between ENRON Broadband and the Taliban continued even during 2001.

In April 2001, TSI signed a GSM supply contract with the Taliban government, although this has been delayed due to American sanctions, but the magazine "cellular-news" was informed in January that service may be available in Kabul from June this year. The Minister did say that handheld satellite phones would be provided shortly however.

Indeed, even during the war against the Taliban, as a Chicago Tribune article revealed, "the phones have been ringing. Businessmen in Mazar-e Sharif, about 220 miles northwest of Kabul, are renting them in their stores on a per-call basis. Because of the border closure, payment for the Uzbek phone service is routed through banks in the United Arab Emirates."

Turkey

On December 6th, 2002, only one week after a huge anti-war protest in Turkey and a few hours after the OK of germany to let Turkey participate in the european union, the State Department issued a "terror alert" for Turkey.

With Turkey's vague decision whether or not to offer a military base in case of a war against Iraq and sending their own troops into the kurdish area, the CIA obviously setup another staged, scripted or provoked attack....

In February 2002, Turkey decided to allow a base for the USA.
Only a few days later, kurdish leader Gen. Shavkat Husn Mushir was killed.

Turley, Jonathan

"Attorney General John Ashcroft's announced desire for camps for U.S. citizens he deems to be 'enemy combatants' has moved him from merely being a political embarrassment to being a constitutional menace."

Two American citizens--Yaser Esam Hamdi and Jose Padilla--are currently locked up in military brigs as "enemy combatants."

As Harvard Law Professor Lawrence Tribe said on ABC's Nightline (August 12, 2002):

"It bothers me that the executive branch is taking the amazing position that just on the president's say-so, any American citizen can be picked up, not just in Afghanistan, but at O'Hare Airport or on the streets of any city in this country, and locked up without access to a lawyer or court just because the government says he's connected somehow with the Taliban or Al Qaeda. That's not the American way. It's not the constitutional way. . .

Jonathan Turley is a professor of constitutional and public-interest law at George Washington University Law School in D.C."
Turner, Ted

In February 2003, former AOL Time Warner vice-chairman Ted Turner, criticized the growing likelihood of a U.S. attack on Baghdad and suggesting that military action is a ridiculous way to bring down Iraqi President Saddam Hussein:

"We got all the bombs and they don't have very much but a few guns. It's the high-tech wealthy Western nation against the Third World country; it's kind of a foregone conclusion that we'll win. It's a question of how many civilians get killed over there -- that's what worries me," Mr. Turner said. "We're trying to get one man, right? And we're going to kill tens of thousands of people to get him. It seems like a pretty inefficient way to do things."

TWA 800

TO BE REVISED

In 2001-2002, many different investigative netizens started to speculate, if the TWA800-crash is in any way related to the background details of Flight 93 (-) and Flight 77 (-).

One speculation is about the possible shutdown of Flight 93, another on the same strange part of wreckage, which was found at different places in front of the Pentagon.

Maybe the answer on the wreckage still lies in the hangar in Calverton, Long Island, where in 1996/67 an investigation team put together the 92-foot long midsection of the TWA 800 jet, at that time in thousands of pieces.

http://cnn.com/US/9607/18/twa.section/

According to James Sanders, all fabric containing the red residue has been removed from the seats in rows 17-19 which are being stored at FBI headquarters in Long Island, NY.

Sanders acquired the samples from lead TWA investigator Terrel Stacey, who removed the residue from seats within the reconstruction at the Calverton Hangar in Long Island.

The Hangar was built on the Northrup Grumman (in late 2002 mergered with TRW/Blackstone ->) Land.

The land was never made public again for other industry.

Chief criminal investigator James Kallstrom (-) said after the TWA800- Disaster:
"The law enforcement team is not ruling out a bomb or a missile," said.

But Kallstrom changed his mind.

Kallstrom later started a new job at MBNA (-).

Compare:

"...Each recovered piece was trucked to a hangar, where the Boeing 747 is being meticulously put back together. A wing, a row of seats, an engine, the mangled remnants of the cockpit -- "a mass of spaghetti," the head investigator called it.
...A document circulating on e-mail -- source unknown -- said the plane was the victim of "friendly fire" -- accidentally shot down by a Navy warship. The media didn't take it seriously until Pierre Salinger, a former ABC News correspondent and President John Kennedy aide, reported it.

The FBI called the document "absolute, pure, utter nonsense," but Salinger stuck to his guns.
"The law enforcement team is not ruling out a bomb or a missile," chief criminal investigator James Kallstrom said.

Lacking a piece of definitive proof, investigators hope the answer lies in the hangar in Calverton, Long Island. It will take months more to put together the 92-foot long midsection of the jet, now in thousands of pieces.

Twin Towers people alive after 1 year

In a bizarre twist, almost 1 year after the Twin Tower Collapse, three people have been found alive, but not among the rubble, but at undisclosed places.

NY Post reported on this strange story of one homeless person, who was for almost one year in a hospital.

On December 14th, 2002, the NY Post followed with another story on a third person, who was taken from the death toll list.

Ellen Borakove, a spokeswoman for the city medical examiner, identified the three as Jeffrey Montgomery, of St. Joseph, Mo.; William Yemele, of Gaithersburg, Md.; and Oliva Khemrnat, of Jersey City, N.J.

But Khemrat's mother insisted that her daughter is still missing and said she was not informed of the change to the list.
"They can't just take my child's name off without telling the family," Meena Bhiro said.

Khemrat said her daughter's correct full name is Olivia Bhowanie Devi Khemraj and she was last seen leaving for a job interview at the trade center Sept. 11.

UAVs are unmanned air vehicles, which are in production since the mid 90s.

One of many successful unmanned X-37 and X-40 (a NASA project) tests at Edwards AFB, CA, are mentioned at SchaferCorp in one of their customers letters at:

The letter was sent on August 8th, 2001.

Brian A. Arnold, Lieutenant General writes, that he "knew a group from SMC [which] had played a large part in the success of this testing..."

"...Through the two-months and seven tests they ran, are paving the way for the first flight of the larger, unpiloted X-37 from a B-52 aircraft next year."
For a multi-million dollar and multi-agency program with involvement from NASA, Boeing and the US Air Force, it is imperative we send our best to get the job done in record time and without delays."

Ummah Tameer-e-Nau is a Taliban-friendly organisation, founded by Nuclear Scientist Sultan Bashir-ud-Din Mahmood.
On the ban list of the United States since December 2001.

As reported in IndiaReacts.com in early 2002, "some weeks ago Pakistan detained two nuclear scientists Bashiruddin Mehmood (Bashir-ud-Din Mahmood) and Abdul Majeed who had retired from the Pakistan Atomic Energy Commission (PAEC) for alleged links with the Al-Qaeda. There is suspicion about the Bin Laden links of a third scientist, the so-called “Father of the Pakistani bomb”. A.Q.Khan, who resigned from the nuclear establishment in March 2001..."

"...Mehmood quit the PAEC (Pakistan Atomic Energy Commission )in 1998 to protest against the likelihood of Pakistan signing the Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty and started a non-government organisation (NGO) called Ummah Tameer-e-Nau (UTeN) affiliated to the AL-Rasheed trust now banned by the US for links with Al-Qaeda. Abdul Majeed who was PAEC’s chief engineer followed Mehmood to UTeN last year.

There should have been an alert in US intelligence as soon as it was discovered that Mehmood had formed an NGO that was working in Afghanistan. UTeN was not an innocuous NGO. It had vowed to rebuild Afghanistan, its members were mostly nuclear scientists and Pakistan military officers, and Mehmood’s religious extremism was loudly proclaimed."

UnansweredQuestions.org
UnAnsweredQuestions.org is an on-line community of concerned citizens, researchers, independent investigators and journalists asking and exploring unanswered questions on Sep11th.

Unanswered Questions was launched on June 10, 2002 at the National Press Club in Washington with the help of co-founder Kyle F. Hence, webadmin Miles Thompson and Catherine Austin Fitts (->) , host of a panel including Tom Flocco (->), Mike Ruppert via telephone (->), John Judge (->), Michael J. Springman (-> Jeddah) or ex-FAA Maria Schiavo (->), who supports a lawsuit (->) regarding Sep11th.

http://www.unansweredquestions.org/transcript.php

UQ invited a huge number of 911-victims (->) including Julie Sweeney , who asked their questions, which almost had been broadcasted live on CiSpan.

However CiSpan decided to cancel the broadcast (-> Dirty Bomber).

But even without TV, this (video-)jevent reached a new breaking point among the 911Skeptics, made big history and turned UQ immediately to the most popular Sep11th-related websites on the net.

Since Autumn 2002, UQ is listed at Yahoo's "War on Terrorism-Coverage"-links.

UQ's team members supported many public events, had their own table in Washington at the war protest and support different 911 strategy lists (->) and 911pi.com (->).

UQ is an active supporter of the 911 people's commission and member of various 911-strategy lists.

UnansweredQuestions.org was created in May 2002 by Miles Thompson in New York.

UNOCAL

In 1995, Unocal (formerly Union Oil Company of California) signed a contract to export $8 billion worth of natural gas through a $3 billion pipeline which would go from Turkmenistan through Afghanistan to Pakistan.

Richard Cellar, boss of "UNOCAL Pakistan Ltd" in 1998:
"UNOCAL controlled is best contacts, into US-government circle around US-vice president Cheney, that at a project office to the line plan involved. In addition assured "UNOCAL(...) the cooperation of influential lobbyist as well as Ex-Foreign Minister Kissinger (->), the earlier US-ambassador in Pakistan, Robert Oakley, and the former colleague of the UN-Sondermission in Afghanistan, Charlie Santos, also US-American."

In March, 1996, prominent US Senator Hank Brown, a vocal supporter of the Unocal project, visited Kabul and met Taliban leaders. In the same month, the US government put pressure on Pakistan government to back the American company and distance away from the Argentinean rival Bridas.

The next month, US Assistant Secretary of State for South Asia, Robin Raphel, visited Pakistan, Afghanistan and Central Asia for the same purpose. As Ahmed Rashid in his famous book on the Taliban has documented, the Unocal invited some of the leaders of the Taliban to Houston.

The delegation, headed by the one-eyed Mulla Mohammed Ghous, reached there in November, 1997.

They were lodged in a five-star hotel, visited the zoo, supermarkets and the NASA space centre. They had dinner at the home of Marty Miller, a senior company executive, where they admired his swimming pool and the large, comfortable house.

USAID

U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID).

On July 2nd, 2002, Mark S. Ward was sworn in as Mission Director for Pakistan at the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) Headquarters in Washington, D.C. by Administrator Andrew S. Natsios.

USAID closed its Mission to Pakistan in 1995 pursuant to legislation barring foreign aid. Mark Ward served in Pakistan from 1991 to 1994 as a regional legal advisor and helped close down what had been one of USAID's largest bilateral programs, assisting agricultural and rural development, health, nutrition, education, and the construction of infrastructure.

Ward had been with USAID for more than 15 years, most recently as Director of the Office of Procurement at USAID headquarters in Washington. He joined the Foreign Service in 1986 and has served in Egypt, Pakistan, the Philippines and Russia. His last overseas post was Moscow, where he served as Deputy Mission Director from 1998 to 2000.

USS Cole

On October 12th, 2000 the US Navy Ship USS Cole was attacked by an explosion that tore a hole in the side of the warship when it apparently was rammed by an unidentified rubber boat while the destroyer was in Aden, Yemen (Arabian/Persian Gulf) for a refueling stop. This incident has major political impact on Yemen and put further oil business of Yemen on hold. (->Yemen, oil)

Four U.S. sailors were killed in the incident. Defense Secretary William Cohen (->) told reporters at the Pentagon on October 12, 2000, that the cause of the explosion was not certain, but his Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Vern Clark, said the USS Cole was "apparently attacked by terrorists in a small boat".

The president of Yemen first said the incident was not a deliberate act, it was not terrorism, it was an accident, but later officially changed his mind.

On October 16th, 2000 Admiral Vern Clark was supported by National Security Advisor Sandy Berger (->), who spoke of a "quite clear" terrorist act. The USS Cole is a type of the DDG-51 Arleigh Burke-class destroyers, equipped with various radar systems, almost 10 different exterior communication systems, 10 other Navigational Equipments and a Damage Stability, 15% length of hit criterion.

Source:

As later came out, one the morning of the USS Cole attack, a harbor pilot was on the bridge of the Cole, a Yemeni officer, helping to steer the ship to its mooring.

Source:
http://usinfo.state.gov/topical/pol/terror/00101706.htm

In the beginning, the official time of the attack was reported wrong.

As the Pentagon confirmed on October 20th, 2000, the "attack" occurred nearly an hour earlier than originally thought, according to Navy officials. The officials said Oct 20 that the ship's records place the terrorist bomb blast at 11:18 a.m. rather than 12:15 p.m., as the Navy reported. Yemen time is seven hours ahead of New York.

The officials said the Cole completed mooring operations at 9:30 a.m. Refueling started at 10:30 a.m. and was ongoing at the time of the attack.

In November 2000, the United States and Yemen signed a document called the "Guidelines for Joint Investigation" on the USS Cole. It was signed in Aden by Ambassador Barbara Bodine for the United States and by Rashed Ahmed Al-Gholom, the Deputy Secretary of Interior for Police Affairs, on behalf of Yemen.

The attack was later linked to the Islamic Army of Aden, then finally blamed on Bin Laden. When FBI anti-terror specialist John O'Neill (->) tried to investigate ties between possible plans of attacks on the United States and a Yemen connection, he was sabotaged by U.S. Ambassador Barbara Bodine (->) in 2001.

In early 2000, the FBI already observed two suspects Khalid Al-Midhar and Nawaq Alhazmi in the United States, but later got an unknown order to stop this observation. The CIA later confirmed, that they observed in January 2000 both Khalid Al-Midhar and Nawaq Alhamzi in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

One year later, on Aug. 23, 2001 an urgent CIA "cable" bore the names of al-Midhar and Alhamzy, who met with some USS Cole suspects.

The CIA claimed, that Al-Midhar had been videotaped months earlier meeting with a suspect in the bombing of the USS Cole, and the CIA advisory was "not a routine matter," an official familiar with the events said. The meeting was officially hosted by someone named Yazid Sufaat (->).

Source:
Washington Post, September 24, 2001; Page A01

Already on August 6th, 2001, President Bush was told in a CIA memo, that aircraft hijackings might be a goal of Al Qaeda. On August 13, 2001, Zacarias Moussauou (->) was nabbed on immigration charges, while learning in a flight school. Khalid Al-Midhar and Nawaq Alhazmi officially later died in the attack on the Pentagon.

The State Department renewed al-Midhars visa in June 2001, with the ok of the CIA. In April 2002, after an 18-month investigation involving the Yemeni authorities, the FBI, the State Department and the Naval Criminal Investigative Service, Yemen was holding at least six people who played a role in attacking the Cole.

The Yemenis have refused to allow the suspects to be extradited to the United States for trial. They want to prosecute those responsible in their own courts. In late October 2001, one Cole Suspect was turned Over By Pakistan.

In February 2002, after a visit of Robert Mueller (FBI), Yemen still claimed, there was no evidence that Bin Laden was behind the attack on the USS Cole.

Vaccinations, forced October 25, 2001
Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Tommy Thompson asked Congress for another $500 million to produce enough of Acambis's smallpox vaccine "so every American will be assured there is a dose with his or her name on it if it is needed"

In November 2002, journalist Mitchel Cohen (->) summed up his investigations on the "forced vaccinations":

"Under legislation submitted to states throughout the US, medical providers will be required to administer smallpox vaccines to the population whether people want it or not.

According to the sample forms in a legislation from late 2002, there are four different experimental vaccines. With a declaration of public health "emergency" the vaccines will be mandatory; several types will be genetically engineered and previously untested on human beings; and the state will establish what amount to internment or quarantine camps for those who have contracted smallpox (either through exposure or by reaction to the vaccine itself), or who refuse to allow themselves to be vaccinated.

New York's version, which is similar to that introduced in legislatures across the country, establishes a Public Health Authority that may "isolate or quarantine ... any person whose refusal of medical examination or testing results in uncertainty regarding whether such person has been exposed to or is infected with a contagious or possibly contagious disease, or otherwise poses a danger to public health." The Bill goes on to say: "The Public Health Authority may isolate or quarantine ... persons who are unable or unwilling for reasons of health, religion or conscience to undergo vaccination ... or treatment."

As Mitchel Cohen found out, "the author of that policy is Jerome Hauer (->), "former head of the Office of Emergency Management in New York City which oversaw the entire pesticide spray program from ex-Mayor Rudy Giuliani's now destroyed "bunker" on the 23rd floor of #7 World Trade Center -- a building which, unbeknownst to most of us, housed the largest CIA offices outside of Langley, Virginia."

After a stint with Kroll Associates, Inc (->), as coordinator of security for the World Trade Center at the time of the attacks in 2001, Hauer, with long ties to the US military's secret biological warfare development programs, now heads the new federal Office of Public Health Preparedness, created in October 2001 to get these involuntary programs in place under the auspices of developing and coordinating federal plans to counter bioterrorist attacks and manage public health crises."

Vaccination for 1 million in US
From Roland Watson in Washington and Charles Bremner in Paris

Vatikan

During Christmas 2002, the media finally started to cover the Vatikan's opinion on the war against Iraq.

The Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, headlined its Christmas editions: "Humanity can win the 'battle' of peace."

"While the clouds of war lengthen, the minds and hearts of men in all continents are drawn to Christmas," the newspaper wrote in a front-page article.

It was the latest in a chorus of Vatican voices coming out against a war in Iraq, which the United States says is hoarding weapons of mass destruction.

Top Vatican officials have said a "preventive" war against Iraq had no legal justification and could spark an anti-Christian campaign in the Muslim world.

During 2002, Vatican officials have been increasingly speaking out against the prospect of war, drawing a sharp difference between a strike against Iraq and what Church officials had said was a "just war" against terrorism following the Sept. 11 attacks.

Archbishop Renato Martino, the prefect of the Council for Justice and Peace and the Vatican's former U.N. envoy, told reporters that a preventive war was a "war of aggression" and therefore not a "just war."

The Vatican's foreign minister, Archbishop Jean-Louis Tauran, warned of the consequences a war on Iraq could ignite in the Islamic world.

"A type of anti-Christian, anti-Western crusade could be incited because some ignorant masses mix everything together," the Rome daily La Repubblica quoted Tauran as saying.

The pope himself has recently decried all the conflicts engulfing the world, mentioning the "forgotten" wars and the one between Israel and the Palestinians and its effects on the Holy Land.

On February 10th, 2002, the pope dispatched a personal peace envoy to Baghdad to urge President Saddam Hussein to co-operate fully with United Nations weapons inspectors.

Venezuela Plot

False described as a homegrown "coup" on April 13th 2002, many different european papers, independent media sources on the internet and some investigative members of democraticunderground.com had been able to give the correct background details of this plot, which had been planned by military elements within the US Government.

On this weekend in April 2002, the honor guard of suddenly ousted Venezuelan president Hugo Chavez, some 1,000 soldiers strong, had taken control of Miraflores, the presidential palace and Chavez was flown to the venezuelan island La Orchil, where he was imprisoned.

But Venezuelan residents protested in 10000s, so interim President Pedro Carmona's Cabinet inauguration was postponed.

Outside the presidential palace, police used tear gas to push back hundreds of Chavez supporters rallying outside the palace, chanting, "Chavez will be back!" and "Democracy, not dictatorship."

Only one day later on April 14th, Venezuela's interim president, Carmona, resigned again, and the former deputy Diosdado Cabello of ousted President Hugo Chavez took over his place until he returned later that day.

Already at that time, stories circulated on the internet about the deep connections between UNOCAL (->) and Venezuela, No. 3 oil supplier to the United States.

UNOCAL work with CITGO, a refiner, transporter and marketer of transportation fuels, lubricants, petrochemicals, refined waxes, asphalt and other industrial products. It is owned by PDV America, Inc., an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Petroleos de Venezuela, S.A., the national oil company of the Republic of Venezuela.

In March 1997, UNOCAL and PDV America, Inc., a unit of Petroleos de Venezuela, S.A. (PDVSA) started their negotiations relating to the restructuring of The UNO-VEN Company.

As intelbriefing.com revealed, on April 5th PDV shut down the 135,000 barrel-per-day El Palito refinery and was severely disrupting both oil and gas production, refining and export operations in Venezuela.

Source: http://www.intelbriefing.com/afi/afi020412.htm

Barry Crimmins (->), NarcoNews (->) and investigative journalist Greg Palast (->) already predicted the plot some weeks earlier in February 2002. http://www.guardian.co.uk/international/story/0,3604,685907,00.html

In one article, Professor James Petras of the State University of New York, correspondent for the Spanish magazine, Rebelión, believed that the United States has been leading a campaign to destabilize Venezuela. Chavez's government had angered U.S. officials by building close ties with Cuban President Fidel Castro and criticizing the U.S.-led military campaign in Afghanistan.

The latest in a series of anti-Chavez actions before April 2002, was lead by two men, Air Force Col. Pedro Soto and National Guard Capt. Pedro Flores Rivero, who held a small rally to accuse the government of being 'non-democratic' and asked that Chavez resign.

Source: http://www.narconews.com/alphandary2.html

Independent Paper Dawn reported already on April 13th on accusations by Cuba, that the so called Coup was in reality a staged plot by the United States. http://www.dawn.com/2002/04/14/int5.htm

On the same weekend, first speculations on an involvement of the CIA circulated by voxfux (->) and intelbriefing.com (->), who analysed the deployment of US Special Forces and the CIA, which have long been involved in Venezuelan internal affairs. The Venezuelan Plot followed in almost the same week of Iraq's decision to suspend oil exports for a month.

It looks, like NSA's Spanish-language linguists and signals interception operators in Key West; Sabana Seca on Puerto Rico and the Regional Security Operating Centre (RSOC) in Medina, Texas assisted in providing communications intelligence to US military and national command authorities on the progress of the coup d'etat.

As Wayne Madsen (->) reported for Intelbriefing , for its part, the CIA provided Special Operations Group personnel, headed by a lieutenant colonel on loan from the US Special Operations Command at Fort Bragg (->), North Carolina, to help organize the coup against Chavez.

They had been in the country since the summer of 2001 and consisting of US Special Operations Intelligence Support Activity (ISA) personnel. The group made contact with senior, pro-US military officers, including armed forces chief Gen. Lucas Rincon, Deputy Security minister Gen. Luis Camacho Kairuz, and business and union leaders, especially those with the state-owned oil company, PDVSA, and the Venezuelan Workers' Confederation (CTV).

Independent Investigators continued to ignore the mainstream press final reports. Soaw.org reported, that Army Commander in Chief Efrain Vasquez and General Ramirez Poveda, two of the major military backers of the transitional government, received training at the notorious US Army School of the Americas (SOA).

(-> Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation, WHISC)

Vasquez attended the school from January 23rd to December 2nd, 1988, taking a course called "Command and General Staff Officer Training". General Ramirez took a course called "Auto Maintenance Officer Training" from May 8th to August 11th, 1972-".

Soaw.org got support of democracunderground.com, who mirrored their story, and got in touch with a live witness and member from Venezuela, Pescao, who continued to reporting live from Venezuela, exclusive for democracunderground.com.

Zmag reported on an eye-witness report, that some snipers during the plot, were members of an extreme opposition party, known as Bandera Roja.

Once again, the mysterious plane was part of the independent investigation.

Ireland.com reported on April 18th, that an unknown US military attache was with the planners of last week's aborted coup.

On the same day, theage.com found out, that this US military attache was at the armed forces inspector general's office at Fort Tiuna," Caracas's military base, "during the preparation for and up until the coup" overnight April 11 to 12, their source said, speaking on condition of anonymity. http://www.theage.com.au/breaking/2002/04/19/FFXJ5U3340D.html

The US Embassy responded within hours on the Fort Tiuna accusation and CNN released statements, that no US official had been involved in the "coup". http://www.cnn.com/2002/WORLD/americas/04/18/venezuela.us/index.html

On April 20st, 2002, theage.com from Australia, who found out the name of the US Army Lieutenant, who had been involved in the plot and an aide to the US military attache: Colonel James Rodgers.

On the same day, Venezuela's air force chief General Luis Acevedo, died in an uninvestigated helicopter crash.

On April 21st, 2002 the Guardian UK reported on diplomatic sources, who confirmed that John Negroponte (Ambassador to the United Nations, who was Reagan's ambassador to Honduras from 1981 to 1985) had been 'informed that there might be some movement in Venezuela on Chavez' at the beginning of the year.

Another photo in an article by venezuelan Notiexpath.com of Colonel James Rodgers was showing him with an unknown man, but reported on a meeting with the attaché of Security John Ross (CIA) http://www.notiexpath.com/notiexpath/20020305gr.htm

On french AOL websites, some news circulated, that according to the source close to the investigation, which required anonymity, James Rodgers, assistant of the military attaché of the American embassy in Venezuela for the terrorist businesses, "was with the putschists on the 5th floor of the general command of ground of local Thursday evening about midnight until Saturday towards 17h00 (21h00 GMT), and remained in permanent contact with them".

Finally on April 22th, the name of the US Atache was revealed- by newage.com: A source close to the official investigation named Ronald MacCannon.
Suddenly a Pentagon spokesman acknowledged MacCormack, the US army attaché in Caracas, and his deputy James Rodgers, had offices at Fort Tiuna, the military headquarters, but denied they had anything to do with the failed overthrow.

http://www.ireland.com/newspaper/breaking/2002/0422/breaking84.htm

Infos on MacCormack exist on http://www.dean.usma.edu/secs/Alumni/Alumni%20Roster%20M-P.htm and is listed on http://www.usma.edu/secs/Alumni/Alumni%20Roster%20M-P.htmlhttp://usembassy.state.gov/caracas/wwwwh048.html

The White House continued to ignore the background details on the Plot and sent Colin Powell to deny any involvements. Powell is an old friend of John Negroponte. He made him his deputy national security advisor in the Reagan administration after the diplomat's Honduran stint, presumably having found nothing disqualifying in his background at the time.

Source: http://www.commondreams.org/headlines01/0325-03.htm

On April 23rd, Reuters reported, that Venezuelan Legislator Rondon insisted that the U.S. was involved in the Coup.

"Rondon also accused U.S. Ambassador Charles Shapiro of involvement in the coup, saying he had met with businessman Pedro Carmona, the interim president who briefly replaced Chavez, at the Miraflores presidential palace April 12."

"We saw him leaving Miraflores Palace, all smiles and embraces, with the dictator Pedro Carmona Estanga," Rondon told reporters.

On April 24th, 2002 the Times UK reported, that Isaac Pérez Recao, a reputed arms-dealer and heir to a Venezuelan oil fortune played a highly visible role in the April 12-13 coup, armed with some bodyguards.

As the coup unraveled, Recao is said to have jumped into a private helicopter and escaped to the Caribbean island of Aruba.

He and his brother and business partner, Vicente Pérez Recao, were seen later in Miami, where they own properties. They did not return telephone calls to their $500,000 beachfront flat in Key Biscayne, a wealthy island suburb of Miami.

Source: http://www.thetimes.co.uk/article/0_3-277341_00.html

On April 26th, Vheadline.com reported from "a source close to Washington, that "Shapiro, already compiled, that Washington was behind the most violent aspects of the coup"

On April 29th, the Guardian UK picked up the story of Wayne Madsen

At the end of April 2002, Conoco, which was set to merge with Phillips Petroleum Co. (P) later this year, holds a 50 percent stake in the venezuelan Corocoro field and is the operator. AGIP, a unit of Italian oil company ENI (ENI), holds a 40 percent stake..."

On May 13th, Greg Palast reported on his website, that Chavez confirmed some early 2002 warnings from the OPEC. Chavez pledged that Venezuela would never join, nor tolerate, a renewed oil embargo. But Chavez had already incurred America's wrath by slashing Venezuelan oil output and rebuilding OPEC, causing oil prices to nearly double to over $20 a barrel.

The American government's panic over the looming calls for an oil embargo, made public by Iraq and Libya on April 8 and 9, explained the US State Department's ill-concealed and clumsy support for the coup attempt.

In December 2002, Venezuela signed an agreement to start developing a $2.7 billion natural gas project, which was initiated by state -run Petroleos de Venezuela, Royal Dutch/Shell and the Mithubishi Corporation, while the US State Department urged the government and the opposition to negotiate an agreement for new elections.

Venezuela, Dec. 6, 2002 -- A four-day-old general strike called to push President Hugo Chavez from office disrupted Venezuela's vital oil industry today, and the streets of Caracas filled with rival partisan crowds, leading Chavez to warn of an imminent coup attempt and urge supporters to stand by his government.

The president's warning came after the captains of seven tankers that belong to the national oil company, Petroleos de Venezuela, dropped anchor and joined the strike -- a defiant threat to the government's main source of revenue. The tankers represent more than half of the company's fleet and about 25 percent of its total shipping capacity.

NOTE:
In February 2003, the strike of the oil workers still continued.
Sources near to International Answer (->) claim, that the strikes are partly orchestrated by US Military Contractor SAIC (->),

Vidal, Gore

=================================
On October 27th, 2002, author Gore Vidal released his popular article "Perpetual War for Perpetual Peace", in which he accused the "Bush Junta" complicit in 911.

"...Vidal argues that the real motive for the Afghanistan war was to control the gateway to Eurasia and Central Asia's energy riches. He quotes extensively from a 1997 analysis of the region by Zbigniew Brzezinski, formerly national security adviser to President Carter, in support of this theory. But, Vidal argues, US administrations, both Democrat and Republican, were aware that the American public would resist any war in Afghanistan without a truly massive and widely perceived external threat.

Vidal asks why Bush, as Commander-in-Chief, stayed in a Florida classroom as news of the attacks broke: 'The behaviour of President Bush on 11 September certainly gives rise to not unnatural suspicions.' He attacks the 'nonchalance' of General Richard B Myers, acting Joint Chief of Staff, in failing to respond until the planes had crashed into the twin towers..."

==================================

Joe Vialls is one of the 911Skeptic journalists, who specialised in investigations on oddities of the stories around the flights from Sep11th.

One of them is the cell phone story on Barbara Olsen (American Airlines Flight 77).
Vialls supported the possibility, that some of the Sep11th planes had been manipulated by remote control technology. Vialls investigation was inspired by a statement by former German Secretary of Defense Andreas v Bulow (->).

Vialls believes, that the suicide of Charles Bishop (->) was manipulated.

Vialls website originally covered three major investigations conducted since 1992. The first is an independent investigation into the murder of policewoman Yvonne Fletcher outside the Libyan Embassy in London during 1984, and links to the CIA and Israeli Mossad.

The second is an investigation into the bombing of Pan Am 103 over Lockerbie in Scotland during 1988, and the trial of the two accused Libyans at Camp Zeist (Kamp Zeist) in Holland. Once again with links to the CIA and Mossad. The third and last investigation takes a long hard look at the Port Arthur Massacre in Tasmania, Australia, a crime for which intellectually impaired Martin Bryant was convicted without trial.

Visa/Atta
========
In 2002, TheSmokingGun obtained Mohammad Atta's original approval, which looked rather fishy:

"It looks like it was submitted August 29, 2000 and approved on July 17, 2001. There is a signature on the approval box (Manuel C. A______). Plus there is handwriting in the upper left hand corner that says it was issued October 1, 2001."

Investigative journalist Barry Hopsicker (->madcowprod.com) found out, that "when Atta and Al-Shehhi showed up at Huffman Aviation on July 1, 2000, they were holding tourist visas.
Huffman (->) enrolled both, charging Al-Shehhi $20,000 and Atta, who had a private pilot’s license, $18,700.

Huffman regularly trained foreign students (a lucrative business for flying schools), so the two raised no suspicions.
A month later, the school’s student coordinator, Nicole Antini, helped Atta and Al-Shehhi file the appropriately bureaucratic form, the Certificate of Eligibility for Nonimmigrant (M-1) Student Status for Vocational Students, to change their visa status from tourist to student. These applications joined about 7.3 million other such annual filings for status changes. The INS approved both visas about a year later-Atta’s on July 17, 2001, and Al-Shehhi’s on Aug. 9, 2001.
They promptly received formal notices from the INS. By then, of course, both students had finished their training;
Huffman had been under no legal obligation to wait for INS approval before enrolling them.
No background check had been required, and even if it had been, neither Atta nor Al-Shehhi was in the FBI or CIA databases as a suspected al-Qaeda operative.*

Vreeland, Delmart Edward Joseph Michael "Mike"
=================================
The story of Mike Vreeland has many interesting twists and inspired Mike Ruppert of copvia.com to a deeper investigation.

Apparently Vreeland was a former naval intelligence officer and in jail on September 11th, but claimed, that he tried to warn the United States of an pending attack.

He said, while in prison, he smuggled out an envelope including a piece of paper with some notes, which included the words "world trade center" and "let one thing happen, stop the rest...".

Whether he was innocent in jail or not, has to be analysed somewhere else.

When Vreeland was free again, he was popular enough to get an interview for the Jeff Rense (-> Show.

Vreelands laywer was Rocco Galati, who represented Abdellah Ouzghar (associated with "millennium bomb plotter" Ahmed Ressam), who was fighting extradition to France where he was convicted in absentia in April 2001 of providing forged identity documents to a European-based terrorist network responsible for murder, armed robberies, a subway bombing and a plot to blow up the Los Angeles Airport.

In June 2002, Vreelands lawyer claimed, that his food was poisoned.
Global Free Press: Peircing The Veil Of Censorship

While many supporters of Vreeland, including a satire Vreeland fanboard, which admin imposterred him, thought his story might be relevant of disclosing some truth on the Sep11th attack, it was in reality only valuable for the prove of "prior knowledge" on Sep11th and nothing more.

It was never really proven, if Vreeland's letter really left the jail before September 11th or if Vreeland only tried to prove his innocence with some constructed stories.

However his case proved, that many people had in fact prior knowledge of Sep11th.

Vreeland was an oil business specialist (->Oil), too.

Among his notes on his letter and envelope, authentic or not, one find the notes: "ulista petrovka and Chalva Tchigirinski".

This info was the most interesting part of his story, because later President Bush confirmed prior knowledge anyway. The Vreeland story turned finally into a no-leg.

While "ulista petrovka" is an adress in moscow, on which the Marriott Royal Hotel is located, Chalva Tchigirinksy is one of the directors of Sibir Energy plc, which has its moscow office a few streets away on 5 Nikitsky.

War Crimes

The US State Department reacted upset on a documentary on German television alleging that US soldiers were involved in war crimes in Afghanistan.

The film, Massacre in Afghanistan--Did the Americans Look On?, was produced by Irish filmmaker Jamie Doran.

It was shown December 18th, 2002, on one of the German public channels--ARD.

The 45-minute documentary had its premiere on British Channel 5 and the Italian station RAI.

Prior to the German broadcast, a spokesman for the US State Department, Larry Schwartz, declared: "It is a mystery to us why a respected television channel is showing a documentary in which the facts are completely wrong and which unfairly depicts the US mission in Afghanistan."

In fact, the allegations in Doran's film have been public for over half a year and the US government has refused to make any statement or advance any argument to refute its detailed evidence of complicity by US soldiers in of POWs...

...Massacre in Afghanistan postulates that the 90-minute video offered to Quairishi was stolen on the orders of General Dostum, who is holding the footage in order to protect himself from possible prosecution. Should any attempt be made to implicate Dostum, the video would clearly indicate the close collaboration of American military forces in the killings...

...the Pentagon issued a statement June 13 denying the allegations of US complicity in the torture and murder of POWs. The US State Department followed with a formal denial on June 14...

War plans almost signed

Already before Sep11th 2001, Bush almost signed war plans against the Taliban:
"...on Sept. 4, it called for phased escalation of pressure against Taliban leaders..."
"...It had not reached Bush's desk by Sept. 11..."

War was planned

The story of the war against the Taliban began already in 1997, when Zbigniew Brzezinski (->) and the CFR (->) put their war Plans in a Book, which was described as "A Blueprint for World Dictatorship":

"Eurasia is all of the territory east of Germany and Poland, stretching all the way through Russia and China to the Pacific Ocean. It includes the Middle East and most of the Indian subcontinent. The key to controlling Eurasia, says Brzezinski, is controlling the Central Asian Republics. And the key to controlling the Central Asian republics is Uzbekistan."
(Quote: "Blueprint...")

Other indicators:

1) On November 6, 2002, Dr. Johannes B. Koeppl, Ph.D. a former German defense ministry official and advisor to former NATO Secretary General Manfred Woerner told Mike Ruppert (->) from FTW, that "the interests behind the Bush Administration, such as the CFR, The Trilateral Commission – founded by Brzezinski for David Rockefeller – and the Bilderberger Group, have prepared for and are now moving to implement open world dictatorship within the next five years. They are not fighting against terrorists. They are fighting against citizens."

2) In 2000 Russia tried to attack Afghanistan, but was blocked by the United States:
"After the militant incursion in 2000, the United States sent military equipment for Kyrgyz border guards as part of a comprehensive US equipment and training support package—a $3-million allocation.43 US Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright articulated the initial aid promise during an April 2000 visit to Kazakhstan and Kyrgyzstan. Albright also pledged similar support for Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan. At the same time, leaders from the FBI and CIA visited this region. CIA Director George J. Tenet met with his Uzbek counterpart in Tashkent to "discuss American aid with satellite intelligence information and other special equipment to combat terrorism."

3) Long before 9/11, the White House debated taking the fight to al-Qaeda.
"...One such meeting took place in the White House situation room during the first week of January 2001. The session was part of a program designed by Bill Clinton's National Security Adviser, Sandy Berger, who wanted the transition between the Clinton and George W. Bush administrations to run as smoothly as possible. With some bitterness, Berger remembered how little he and his colleagues had been helped by the first Bush Administration in 1992-93. Eager to avoid a repeat of that experience, he had set up a series of 10 briefings by his team for his successor, Condoleezza Rice, and her deputy, Stephen Hadley....

Source:
http://www.time.com/time/nation/article/0,8599,333835,00.html

4) March 15th, 2001 :
British-based Jane's International Security reports, that the new American administration was working with India, Iran and Russia "in a concerted front against Afghanistan's Taliban regime."

5) In May 2002 Deputy Secretary of State Richard Armitage (->), a career covert operative and former Navy Seal, traveled to India on a publicized tour while CIA Director George Tenet made a quiet visit to Pakistan to meet with Pakistani leader General Pervez Musharraf. Armitage has long and deep Pakistani intelligence connections and he is the recipient of the highest civil decoration awarded by Pakistan. It would be reasonable to assume that while in Islamabad, Tenet, in what was described as 'an unusually long meeting,' also met with his Pakistani counterpart, Lt. General Mahmud Ahmad, head of the ISI.

July 2001:
Three American officials, Tom Simmons (former U.S. Ambassador to Pakistan), Karl Inderfurth (former Assistant Secretary of State for South Asian affairs) and Lee Coldren (former State Department expert on South Asia), meet with Taliban representatives in Berlin and tell them that the U.S. is planning military strikes against Afghanistan in October. Also present are Russian and German intelligence officers who confirm the threat.
[Source: The Guardian, September 22, 2001; the BBC, September 18, 2001.]

7) Summer 2001 - According to a Sept. 26 story in Britain's The Guardian, correspondent David Leigh reported that, "U.S. department of defense official, Dr. Jeffrey Starr, visited Tajikistan in January." The Guardian's Felicity Lawrence established that US Rangers were also training special troops in Kyrgyzstan.

There were unconfirmed reports that Tajik and Uzbek special troops were training in Alaska and Montana.

8) September 1-10, 2001 - 25,000 British troops and the largest British Armada since the Falkland Islands War, part of Operation 'Essential Harvest,' are pre-positioned in Oman, the closest point on the Arabian Peninsula to Pakistan. At the same time two U.S. carrier battle groups arrive on station in the Gulf of Arabia just off the Pakistani coast. At the same time, some 17,000 U.S. troops join more than 23,000 NATO troops in Egypt for Operation 'Bright Star.' All of these forces are in place before the first plane hits the World Trade Center.

US planned war in Afghanistan long before September 11
By Patrick Martin
20 November 2001

"...Insider accounts published in the British, French and Indian media have revealed that US officials threatened war against Afghanistan during the summer of 2001. These reports include the prediction, made in July, that 'if the military action went ahead, it would take place before the snows started falling in Afghanistan, by the middle of October at the latest.' The Bush administration began its bombing strikes on the hapless, poverty-stricken country October 7, and ground attacks by US Special Forces began October 19.

Source:

In February 2002, Paul Bremer, former U.S. ambassador for counterterrorism during the Reagan administration confirmed in an USA Today article, that "the U.S. government has been planning for bin Laden's capture since 1996, according to two U.S. intelligence officials who say they helped draw up the plans. A CIA spokesman declined to comment." http://www.usatoday.com/news/world/2001-2002/2001-02-28-main.htm

Donald Rumsfeld confirmed in an interview with TIME magazine, that a war was in planning:

"...It was sometime between the period when I agreed to do the job and February...we did not run around saying things that we would not do. That is to say, to announce publicly that we're going to use air power but not ground forces..."

"...it was discussed, it was agreed to, it was put in place, and it involved putting pressure on the Taliban and the al Qaeda...The short answer is that Tommy Franks, the general, the combatant commander, proposed a plan, it was discussed, it was agreed to, it was put in place, and it involved putting pressure on the Taliban and the al Qaeda and recognizing that some of what was going on would be visible, some would not be visible, and that we needed to be patient and that it would take some time, and that the world was expecting an explosion of cruise missiles on television and that they would have to have, that we would have to manage those expectations down..."

Sometime in early spring 2001, according to an account reconstructed by Condoleezza Rice from her own memory and from those of others present, Bush expressed impatience with the pace of progress against bin Laden.

After being briefed in the Oval Office about recent threat warnings, with Cheney and White House Chief of Staff Andrew H. Card Jr. in the room, Bush is said to have replied: "I'm tired of swatting flies. I'm tired of playing defense. I want to play offense. I want to take the fight to the terrorists."

Source:

Many skeptics came to the conclusion, that Bush knew much more before Sep 11th, than he claims. Maybe not much, but a lot about political changes.

For instance, we have this "Indonesia" mystery:

"Just eight days after the attacks in New York and Washington on 11 September 2001, the Indonesian president Megawati Sukarnoputri kept a previously scheduled appointment with President Bush. In the short meeting, Bush promised to lift the embargo on commercial sales of non-lethal military items. Indonesian military officials and much of the Indonesian press thought that Megawati had scored a victory in restoring military ties. Many speculated that Bush was offering Megawati a recruitment bonus to join his coalition against terrorism.

But in an off-the-record conversation, a White House official explained that the package Bush presented to Megawati was completed on September 10th, and not a word was changed after the events of the next day. Much of what Bush promised Megawati was from the administration's review of US-Indonesian military ties policy that had taken place over the northern summer.

Washington Sniper
==================

Evidence in the Washington-area sniper shootings case pointed to teenager John Lee Malvo as the triggerman in most if not all of the shootings.

That could complicate prosecutors' efforts to get a death sentence for the older suspect, John Mohammad. "There is not much pointing to Muhammad, and that is going to make it really hard to show that he was the triggerman," one senior law enforcement official involved in the case told The New York Times.

On November 2002, the NY Post revealed, that NY Con Peter John Gianquinto, 53, was being held at the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn on passport-fraud charges.

Gianquinto and sniper suspect John Muhammad were together on the Caribbean island of Antigua in 2001, authorities of Antigua claim.

Muhammad and Gianquinto were "scam artists," selling TVs and VCRs bought with bad checks, an Antiguan investigator said.

There are speculations around, which see the Snipers connected with a CoOp-action.

Watson, Dale
==============

Dale Watson, former CIA and former FBIHQ, warned the CIA months before Sep11th about an attack.

However, only a few weeks before Sep11th, he decided to ignored warnings by two experienced and respected FBI-agents Kenneth Williams (->) and Colleen Rowley (->):

Source:
http://dailynews.att.net/cgi-bin/news?e=pri&dt=020531&cat=news&st=newsattackfbireportdc

In late 2002, Watson resigned from the FBI and started a job at Booz Allen Hamilton (->).

From an original GROUND ZERO article, originally released at Scoop:
"During the past several years, the FBI and CIA have developed a closer working relationship." - Dale Watson, 1998

Since Sep. 11th the official explanation as to why the events of Sep. 11th happened is based on the so-called "incompetence theory", supported by ex-CIA director James Woolsey, Pentagon Top Advisor Richard Perle and columnist David Corn.

The 911-commission didn't even get underway before the current US Government tried to kill the 911-hearings and dismiss any skepticism or accuse every skeptic of treason.

This is nonsense.

If you carefully analyze the timeline of September 11th and the preceding days, not to mention weeks and months, you have to come to the conclusion that someone let the attack happen.

The motives are a just a war against the Taliban and an oil pipeline system in that region.

Both had been planned for years. This is well-documented in many articles. One of the most recent was in Newsweek. But no one has analyzed the role of the FBI Headquarters and whether or not they were either sabotaged or bribed to let the attack happen.

To start finding the correct answers, we should therefore start at the top: Dale Watson.

Watson ignored at least 4 different FBI agents' warnings including the "urgent cable" of the CIA from August 23rd about Almihdhar and AlHazmi.

The first known warning was FBI agent Robert Wright. He tried to warn his superiors three months before September 11th that Americans were in danger of terrorist attacks at home. No one listened to Wright and he finally blew the whistle a few months ago in March 2002, but didn't make much news coverage even then.

Wright spoke out again at a press conference in Washington, D.C. in May. He accused the FBI of intentionally thwarting investigations of known terrorists. But instead of making national news, Wright's story was downplayed in the media. More disturbingly the FBI tried to block his new book, "Fatal Betrayals of the Intelligence Mission". Why?

What does the FBI have to hide? Or who told them to do so? Wright brought a lawsuit against the FBI, claiming they violated his First Amendment rights by prohibiting him from making his complaints public. Chicago attorney David Schippers, who was the House Republican's counsel during Clinton's impeachment hearing, and Larry Klayman of Judicial Watch, who was one of the independent prosecutors, represent Wright.

Wright said, in tears, live on C-Span, that he was threatened by John Ashcroft for months to shut up his mouth.

Schippers tried to reach John Ashcroft for weeks, but finally gave up a couple of days before September 11th. Noone called him back. The regular answer on the phone: "we don't start investigations at the top" or "we will get back to you". Schippers gave several interviews after Sep. 11th and explained his frustrations.

Once a famous attorney, he was now called a crackpot or a traitor.

...Why did Watson ignore Wright?
...Why did the manager of the FBI Headquarters, David Frasca (Radical Fundamentalist Unit) ignore the two warnings of FBI agents Kenneth Williams (early July) and Coleen Rowley (August)?

"...He is one of the sharpest agents I have ever met," said former FBI agent Ronald Myers, a constable in Maricopa County, Ariz. "He's a superstar. Anyone in FBI management who wouldn't take what Ken Williams said seriously is a fool."

As Senator Arlen Specter, Charles Grassley and Patrick Leahy pointed out in a joint letter to Robert Mueller, "it has been noted that Supervisory Special Agent Dave Frasca in the Radical Fundamentalist Unit (RFU) may have been involved in handling the Phoenix memorandum and the Moussaoui investigation at FBI headquarters,..."

But Mueller never responded in public regarding Frasca. More strange is that Watson even sent a warning to the CIA before Watson, Wright and Rowley's warnings.

In a secret FBI report he warned CIA director George Tenet, months before Sept. 11, "of a significant terror threat from the Middle East, and said the bureau did not have the resources to combat it", the NY Times reported.
http://dailynews.att.net/cgi-bin/news?e=pri&d=020531&c=cat&news&st=newsattack&fbireport&dc

Contra Costa Times wrote about yet another internal memo from Aug. 22, 2000, then, to Thomas Pickard, the deputy director in charge of counterterrorism at the time, "acknowledged the FBI's lack of coherent prevention strategy".

(Watson) worked in the FBI Headquarters as Chief of the Iran Unit, Counter-terrorism Section, NSD, from November 1991 through April 1994.

In June 1996, Mr. Watson was named Deputy Chief of the CIA at the Counter-terrorist Center.

In July 1998, Mr. Watson was appointed Inspector Deputy Assistant Director of the National Security Division (NSD), FBI Headquarters, Washington, D.C. Following an internal reorganization at FBI Headquarters, on December 6, 1999, the Attorney General appointed Mr. Watson the Assistant.

No one has subpoenaed Watson about what exactly "went wrong" during August 2001, especially when they had already arrested Zacarias Moussaoui.

TIME reported, that Kenneth Williams’ memo was never forwarded by Watson – and not even to Mike Rolince, chief of the international-terrorism section http://www.time.com/time/covers/1101020527/story2.html

"Do you think," says a White House antiterrorism official, "that if Dick Clarke had known that the FBI had in custody a foreigner who couldn't speak English, who was trying to fly a plane in midair, he wouldn't have done something?"
Even 5 days after the CIA send their urgent cable to the FBI, another FBI agent, Colleen Rowley, was still in contact with the NSLU, a law division within the FBIHQ. On August 28th she finally gave up. No permission was granted to search the hard drive of Mr. Moussaoui's computer under the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA).

The incompetence theory doesn't work any more, especially for Dale Watson. He was a specialist and he ignored other specialists like Kenneth Williams. Why?

If we look at Watson's past, this makes no sense at all. 5 years after the first bombing on the WTC, Dale Watson testified about an old plan, called Project Bojinka, which originally was about "simultaneously plant devices on flights" February 24, 1998 - "The terrorists of tomorrow will have an even more dizzying array of weapons and technologies available to them..."

Watson was concerned about "chemical, biological, and nuclear materials within the criminal and terrorist communities. These weapons of mass destruction represent perhaps the most serious potential threat facing the United States today..."

But Watson was convinced of a perfect working relationship between the FBI and the CIA:

"...During the past several years, the FBI and CIA have developed a closer working relationship.

This has strengthened the ability of each agency to respond to terrorist threats, and has improved the ability of the U.S. government to respond to terrorist attacks that do occur..." "To improve response capabilities on a national scale, the FBI is working closely with five other federal agencies - the Department of Defense, the Department of Energy, the Public Health Service, the Environmental Protection Agency, and the Federal Emergency Management Agency -...Due to the measures I've discussed and several other initiatives, we are much better prepared to address the international terrorist threat than we were five years ago..." Watson praised various computer warning systems like E.G. NLETS. NLETS is controlled by state law enforcement agencies whereas the NCIC is controlled by the Department of Justice through the FBI. "...more than 35 federal agencies involved in the U.S. government's counterterrorism effort receive information via secure teletype through this system.

The messages are transmitted to all 56 FBI field offices and 33 foreign liaison posts.*

Then the FBI used the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit (LEIU), a "private, federally-funded network of computerized files", which was so successful that the ACLU tried to file a lawsuit against its use:

http://www.publiceye.org/huntrred/Hunt_For_Red_Menace-07.htm

LEIU was developed by the California-based Anacapa Sciences Incorporated. Later the FBI developed two other programs, the National Infrastructure and Computer Intrusion Program (NIPCIP) and Awareness of National Security Issues and Response (ANSIR). The FBI improved the National Threat Warning System (NTWS), which had already been implemented in 1989.

Sixty federal agencies and their departments received NTWS - information via secure teletype as well. The messages are transmitted to all 56 FBI field offices and 44 legal attaches. This basically works like a news ticker.

...Also unknown is the fact that the FBI also used data of the AAMVA (American Association Motor Vehicle Administration) and worked on a new transfair system in real time.

Who else in the FBIHQ can answer these questions about Rowley, Wright and Williams?

What do Ruben Garcia Jr. (Domestic Terrorism specialist), Kathleen McChesney (master's degree in Public Administration) have to say?

Why did the (first) 911 hearings die so fast?

Was Bush's Confirmation of prior knowledge a strategy to get rid of these hearings?

What can another FBI Headquarters employee of that time, Robert J. Chiaradio tell us?

Maybe not much. He doesn't work there anymore.

On July 8th, 2002 Chiaradio was named by KPMG Consulting, one of the world's largest business consulting and systems integration firms, as managing director and lead advisor on homeland security.

Were the rats leaving the sinking ship?

Did the FBIHQ let the attack happen on purpose?..."

Watson's new book Order Out of Chaos - published by Dandelion - will be released in 2003.

Watson reported on censored stories on ties between Ml6 Deals with bin Laden and Iraq.

This regards the case of former M15 officer David Shayler, who has evidence to prove Ml6 gave £100,000 to bin Laden and Al-Qaeda, arms to Iraq and had prior knowledge of several terrorist attacks on London in the 1990's.

Since September 11th, the US Military increased their research and development on weather manipulations and weather weapons.

A good collection of credible sources is located at:

In November 2002, Michel Chossudovsky described HAARP as a weapon of mass destruction.

HAARP, a weather modification program, is a "giantic heater that can cause major disruption in the ionosphere, creating not just holes, but long incisions in the protective layer that keeps deadly radiation from bombarding the planet."

Wellstone, Paul
===============
Senator Paul Wellstone died in an airplane accident in Minnesota on October 25th, 2002, one week before the house election in 2002.

The lawyers who successfully handled Minnesota's landmark lawsuit against the tobacco industry have begun investigating the plane crash that killed Sen. Paul Wellstone.

Sam Kaplan, legal adviser to Mark and David Wellstone, confirmed ... that Mike Ciresi and Roberta Walburn have been retained by the Wellstone family to consider possible legal action in connection with the Oct. 25 charter airplane crash in Eveleth that killed wife Sheila Wellstone, daughter Marcia Markuson, a DFL Party official, two Wellstone campaign workers and the plane's two pilots.

Richard Conry, a convicted felon who exaggerated his flying experience when he was hired in April 2001, was the chief pilot on the flight that killed Wellstone, the two pilots and five others.

Compare:

1) The Top 5 oddities of that case:
1. There were no calls from the pilot as to any mechanical trouble.
2. Twin engine planes can fly on one engine.
3. Planes with no power can 'crash' land with survivors.
4. Weather is reported as 5 miles visibility, drizzle and light snow, no storms or severe weather.
5. Pilots were 'experienced'.

2) VoxNyc.com about Wellstone's death:
http://www.voxnyc.com/archives/0000039.htm 10/25/02

3) The missing link?:
The machine was built by Raytheon.

4) The Weather lie:
Weather radar shows Deluth clear of any storm activity.
5) The 2MuchBS analysis (Ex-DU):

"...These stories of massive chunks of ice weighting the plane down are pure garbage. I have been part of many studies on the problem.

What most don't realize is that ice "may" form a smooth new boundary, but as the thickness of the airfoil section increases due to ice, the lift production increases. I have read many posts claiming that when ice forms on a wing the plane just falls out of the sky, ABSOLUTELY false.

What "could" be possible is a collection of ice that impedes control movement, but this should not force a small plane to ditch into the woods. As a matter of fact most pilots would radio in and explain the situation, and inform of an increased landing velocity, as flaps "could" possibly not be deployed.

The chances that large ice formation would limit movement of all control surfaces at precisely the same moment are null. Keep in mind they all operate in a seperate pressure gradient from one another. Apparently the pilot squawked, "all is well" just a few miles out. Unless they were flying in New York where physics appear quite different from the rest of the world, there is no way they could have developed control limitation in such a narrow space of time, through ice buildup, within the atmosphere they were flying.

And as to the weight problem, I assume they had burned off fuel volumes. Most aircraft do, unless in New York or course. The plane could carry ice with no problem.

If the craft had become heavy and lazy the pilots would have let someone know. I am curious how many other planes went down in that area? Answer: none...

...(to claim, that) you can build ice over an airfoil at 70 degrees F. ... (is) such a ridiculous spin..."

6) Paul Wellstone's last interview with ABC News
http://www.truthout.org/docs_02/10.27A.Wellstone.intv.htm

Cochran: You voted against the president. There are about half a dozen really close races and the White House is interested in all of those because of control of the Senate. Given the fact that you voted against the president, do you think this race is particularly meaningful to the White House?

Wellstone: I think the race is definitely particularly meaningful to the White House. I think the president has been here four times, the vice president has been here once and Karl Rove is coming out this weekend and they're saying the president might come back again. But look, maybe the president will come campaign for me. That could happen -- you never know.

7) McDonnell-Douglas-Professor:

On December 17th, 2002, the NTSB said specialists at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colo., are working with the safety board to determine the icing conditions that existed along the flight's route.

Paul Czysz, professor emeritus of aerospace engineering at St. Louis University, said it only takes an eighth of an inch of ice on the wing's leading edge to disrupt the flow of air. That can cause the wing to lose its lift and the plane to suddenly change course.

Paul A. Czysz, Professor Emeritus MDC Fellow, is a military hardliner. Formerly McDonnell-Douglas and ex-security director at Northwest Airlines, he analysed the 2000-Osprey crashes (quoted in the April 19, 2001 USA Today about problems with the military's V-22 Osprey program. The Osprey was involved in two fatal crashes in 2000)

Westfield
==============
Almost unknown, not only Larry Silverstein, but Westfield had acquired the Twin Towers, too, shortly before Sep11th:

"...The Australian property group Westfield Holdings had recently signed a $US3.2 billion, 99-year lease on the centre’s shopping precinct..."

Financial Times reported on Sep14th, 2002, that "the owners of the demolished World Trade Center in lower Manhattan acquired the buildings just (in July 2001) under a 99-year lease allowing them to walk away from their investment in the event of an act of terrorism.'

The owners, Silverstein Properties and Westfield America - a shopping mall specialist - purchased the buildings from the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey for $3.2bn in July and completed the financing just two weeks ago ... It is understood that the buildings are insured for more than $3bn, enough to cover rebuilding costs.'

Westin Hotel
=============
Name of the hotel in Boston in Copley Plaza, which was stormed on September 12th, 2001 by the FBI and Swat teams.

The Boston Globe reported on its website, that three people were taken into custody at the hotel. The Globe said the three were linked to a credit card used to buy tickets on the flights that crashed into the World Trade Center. It cited an anonymous source close to the investigation.

A law enforcement official who spoke on condition of anonymity told The Associated Press that while no one was arrested in the hijackings, a Boston search turned up a link to a name on the manifest of one of the hijacked flights.

Source:

The Boston-raid is connected with some investigative oddities:

The FBI later seized a car containing flight manuals and an instruction book on how to fly a Boeing 767.

Furthermore the authorities seized luggage of Mohammad Atta, which did not make the connection when Atta arrived on a flight to Boston from Portland in Maine.

It contained instructional videos and manuals on operating Boeing 767s, overalls like those worn by airport ramp workers, a Holy Quran and a fuel-consumption calculator.

Other oddities or irregularities:

1) Official flight Manuals exist only in english, french or one japanese dialect.
Every professional pilot has to learn english aviation abbreviations.
2) The Portland flight was already postponed for a couple of minutes. The luggage had enough time to pass the connection. However for bizarre reasons, Atta and Alomari came on the last minute and therefore "in time", so that this part of the puzzle would even make sense. But what happened with Alomaris luggage?

According to New York Times reporters William Broad and Judith Miller, (31) "seven scientists endorsed the stockpile." These included "two men who stood to gain financially from the decision..." These men included Dr. Monath and Dr. J. Craig Venter, president of The Institute for Genomic Research near Washington working on anthrax genetics.

One year later in 1999, the first official West Nile Virus was located in New York City.

The show "snuggled in" some ironic details on the "war on terrorism".

Aaron Sorkin is creator of this television show.

In March 2002, Sorkin said in an interview, "...it's absolutely right that we are all laying off the Bush bubblehead jokes. But that's a far cry from what the New York Times and CNN and others on whom we rely on for unvarnished objectivity are telling us, which is that 'My God, on September 12 he woke up as Teddy Roosevelt'."

In October 2002, actor Martin Sheen, who plays the President in "WestWing", criticised the War against Iraq at a protest in Central Park, NYC (20000 visitors).

In February 2003, Sheen headlined a TV ad debuting in Los Angeles and the nation's capital urging Americans to join a Feb. 26, 2003 "virtual march" on Washington to oppose a war with Iraq.

2002 was the year of whistleblowers: Thomas Hopkins/FAA (->), Robert White (->), Aukai Collins (->), Coleen Rowley (->), Kenneth Williams (->) and a few other unknown identities.

In December 2002, TIME Magazine's editors chose Coleen Rowley, Cynthia Cooper and Sherron Watkins "for believing — really believing — that the truth is one thing that must not be moved off the books, and for stepping in to make sure that it wasn't."

Rowley, 48, wrote a letter to FBI Director Robert Mueller in May 2002 criticizing the agency for ignoring evidence before Sept. 11, 2001, that hinted of an attack. She later told the Senate that the FBI was mired in bureaucracy and 'careerism.'

Cooper, 38, a WorldCom internal auditor, alerted the company's board in June 2002 to $3.8 billion in accounting irregularities. A month later, the telecommunications giant declared the largest bankruptcy in U.S. history.

Watkins, 43, sent memos in August 2001 warning Enron (->) chairman Kenneth Lay that improper accounting could cause the company to collapse. The company later filed for bankruptcy, and Watkins resigned as a vice president in November 2002.

White, Thomas E.

Thomas White was Secretary of the US Army in 2001-2002.

During the summer of 2002 it was revealed, that Thomas E. White (former vice chairman of Enron->) was deeply involved in crooked accounting deals at the energy giant.

Source:  http://www.scoop.co.nz/mason/stories/HL0210/S00052.htm

In October 2002, White sold off half his holdings, about $3.08 million in stock

White, graduated from West Point in 1967 and went on to become a brigadier general. Along the way, he became a close friend of Colin Powell, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and now secretary of State. Powell recommended White for Army secretary.

After he retired from the Army in 1990, White joined Enron.

On March 10th, 2002, the New York Times revealed, that Defense Department inspectors are examining changes in bid requirements that helped the Enron Corporation win a $25 million Army contract to run the utility systems at Fort Hamilton in Brooklyn, according to federal investigators.

Source:  http://www.nytimes.com/2002/03/10/business/10BID.html?

White had admitted having 84 phone calls or meetings with Enron officials after he became Army secretary in May 2001, most of them around the time of Enron's collapse.

On July 18th, 2002, Newsday quoted Sen. Barbara Boxer (D-Calif.), who said she planned to question White about his role at Enron Energy Services, which had a contract to run the power systems at a military base in New York City.

During Spring 2002, the Pentagon downplayed the dubious problems of White.

Instead, in April 2002, the Pentagon started to investigate on an inane case:

White used a military plane for a trip to Colorado during which he finalized the sale of an Aspen home. White made $12 million from selling ENRON shares.

White Vans

The mystery on white vans or fabricated stories on White vans regarding possible terrorist attacks, started right after September 11th, when it was reported, that 'more than 30 Ryder, U-Haul, and Verizon trucks have been reported stolen across the country'.

This story turned out to be a hoax.

However a true story was on the arrestment of a spy Ring from Israel, which used a white van from time to time, which had not necessarily something to do with the Sep11th attack.
This spy ring was responsible to monitor some muslims, who had been allowed to learn in some flight schools, including at military bases, as reported in some mainstream papers.

The Mossad, who claimed to be unconnected to this spy ring, later warned the United States twice on a possible attack, but the CIA ignored these warnings.

In October 2002, when the "washington sniper" terrorised DC, many eye-witnesses claimed, that a white van had been involved.

Wiley, Don C.

Don C Wiley was John L. Loeb Professor of Biochemistry and Biophysics at Harvard's Department of Molecular and Cellular Biology and examined dangerous viruses including AIDS, Ebola, Herpes Simplex and Influenza, and was widely known for his work in X-ray crystallography.

When Wiley vanished on November 16th 2001, he was one of the most famous specialists of Structural Biology of Viruses and the Human Immune System.

However the FBI didn't examine his case on possible terrorist links or a hijack.

Later, the Memphis Police found Wiley's car on a bridge and came to the conclusion, that he committed suicide.

This explanation was immediately denied by his friend Phillipp Marrack, a professor of immunology, supported by Wiley's friend and scientist James Davis, Wiley's brother Greg Wiley, Wiley's sister-in-law Susan Wiley, Wiley's father Bill Wiley, even the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, but this was all hidden in Memphis local newspapers only.

Wiley planned a vacation to Iceland with his wife Katrin Valgeirsdottir and started therefore to learn icelandic language.

Ms. Valgeirsdottir was at Logan International Airport in Boston on Nov. 16 2001, heading with her children to Memphis, where her husband had arranged to pick them up at the airport later that day. She received a cellphone call telling her that his rental car had been found at 4 a.m. on the Hernando DeSoto Bridge, which connects Memphis with Arkansas. The keys were still in the ignition, the gas tank was full, and the car, a white Mitsubishi Galant, was blocking truck traffic.

Don C Wiley was professor at Harvard, and conducted research at the Chevy Chase, Maryland Howard Hughes Medical Center, which does work for the National Institutes of Health.

On October 1, 2001, just three days before the first reported anthrax case in Florida, the Hughes Center announced that a joint Harvard-Hughes team had identified a mouse gene that made mice resistant to anthrax bacteria.

Professor Wiley had been in Memphis attending the annual meeting of the Scientific Advisory Board of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. One the day when he vanished, he had been at a banquet for the board at the Peabody Hotel, a short drive from the bridge, where his car was found.

The speculations on Wiley, if he was murdered, became louder on many internet discussion groups until December 2001, when his dead body was suddenly found on December 22nd 2001.

Once again, his case was not publicly discussed in the mainstream media.

More odd, his body was found, snagged on a tree, nearby a military hydroelectric plant in Vidalia, La., about 300 miles south of Memphis.

The Shelby County medical examiner identified the body (-> Smith, O.C).

All for a sudden, the FBI started now to investigate the case.

Then, almost three months later, on January 14th 2002, they changed the official explanation to an "accident", based on some obscure paint, then found on his car: "yellow paint marks on Wiley's car door indicated that he may have hit a construction sign".

Wiley's case contained more oddities:

1) It took him only 40 days to "swim" in the mississippi river (with its many curves) and then already has been found.

But he swam very slow, 7.5 miles a day.

However due to geomorphological statistics, the Mississippi River streams with an average temp of 260-280 stream miles.

Source : http://www.vulcanamat.com/southern/web_maps/riveryards_map.htm
So it's plausible, that a dead body needs only 2 days from Memphis to Vidalia.

2) Natchez Democrat reported, that his dead body was found by workers of the military Murray Hydroelectric Station. This power plant is part of the Catalyst Vidalia Corp., a subsidiary of Catalyst Energy, with the help of general partner with Dominion Capital Inc., an affiliate of Virginia Power, as a limited partner.

The plant was supported by the US Government, the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), and by the Military and the US Army Corps of Engineers.

It was built with the help of Raytheon (->) Engineers & Constructors, a big national weapon company.

http://www.powertelon.ca/watson.htm

3) Conflicting articles reported, that Wiley was found in a trash rack of this Power Plant.

When Wiley's story became more famous on the internet, Ian Gurney (->) reported as one of the first journalists at www.caspro.com, that already 5 BioScientists died under strange circumstances. Other listed later until 10-13 different cases.

Among them Dr. Benito Que (->), Dr. Don C Wiley, Dr. Vladimir Pasechnik (->), a former microbiologist for Biopreparat (->), the Soviet biological-weapons production facility, Dr. Robert M. Schwartz (->) and Set Van Nguyen (->).

Williams, Kenneth

In July 2001, FBI agent Kenneth Williams released the so called "Phoenix-Memo", in which he warned about suspicious activities by Middle Eastern men at an Arizona flight school.

But this memo wasn't made public and classified until early May 2002.

Then it came out, that another FBI agent, Michael Kennedy did not prioritize this memo and was ignored by FBIHQ leader Dale Watson (-> ex-CIA), Robert J. Chiaradio and the manager of the office, Dave Frasca (->), who ignored another warning by FBI agent Coleen Rowley (->), too.

Source: http://www.nytimes.com/2002/05/21/national/21INQU.html

Another email, forwarded to FBI-terror specialist John O' Neill (->) didn't help avoiding the attack, too.

O' Neill was forced to leave the FBI and started a new job as security chief in the Twin Towers, where he died on September 11th.

On May 14th, 2002, it was revealed that the memo cited Osama bin Laden by name and suggested that his followers could use the schools to train for terror operations. This "bombshell" led to the confession of President Bush, that he had prior knowledge on an attack since at least August 6th, 2002 (-> Bush knew).

Williams case opened a series of independent articles, which basically proved, that the US government let the Sep11th- attack happen on purpose (-> LIHOP).

On September 20th, 2002, Williams repeated his accusations against former FBIHQ-boss Dale Watson.

Though hidden by a screen in new 911-hearings, his identity was leaked to the press.

In these second 911-hearings, Williams revealed, that he knew thirteen days before Sep11th on August 29th, 2002, that "someone Will Die". This info circulated in an e-mail in which he accused the NSL:

"...Thirteen days before the Sept. 11 attacks, a frustrated FBI agent warned headquarters that "someday, someone will die" after he was denied permission to pursue a man who would become one of the hijackers. Let's hope the [FBI's] National Security Law Unit will stand behind their decisions then, especially since the biggest threat to us now, UBL, is getting the most "protection"

http://ap.tbo.com/ap/ breaking/MGAFZHPQC6D.html

Williams spoke about Khalid al-Mihdhar (->), that "we had talked about for three months"

After Williams accusations on Sep21st 2002, only three days later Reuters reported on a bizarre detail: "FBI officials in New York knew that several associates of Osama bin Laden had trained at U.S. flight schools, but believed the al Qaeda leader needed pilots to transport goods in Afghanistan, a congressional investigator said on Tuesday..."

'Superstar' FBI Agent Ignored

"He is one of the sharpest agents I have ever met," said former FBI agent Ronald Myers, a constable in Maricopa County, Ariz. 'He's a superstar. ... Anyone in FBI management who wouldn't take what Ken Williams said seriously is a fool.'

Williams is a former San Diego beat cop who joined the FBI about 10 years ago.

"He was a great cop," said retired FBI agent Roger Browning, one of Williams' first FBI supervisors. Williams served under Browning for about five years on the FBI's SWAT team in Phoenix, and showed the brains as well as the brawn for being a topnotch agent. "He was very understanding and very savvy and almost a mentor to the younger agents on the SWAT team," Browning said.

"...Ken Williams, was concerned by the students' affiliation with Sheik Omar Bakri Mohammed's group because the sheik had been involved with a fatwa — an Islamic call to action — that suggested airports as one of several legitimate attack targets in the United States, officials told The Associated Press.'

Wilson, Robert Anton
=================================
Author and social philosopher (The Universe Contains A Maybe).
Supporter of political power to the people by way of the Internet.

Asked on his opinion on the war on terrorism, he responded:
The people who are running it, they're not trying to win. They know they can't win; they just want to keep the war going because it makes money for everybody. '

Wilson criticises, that more and more people lost their attention span or have no standard to judge anymore:
"So they judge by whomever they heard speak most recently!
"Oh that must be the truth, I just heard it five minutes ago."

Wilson is convinced, that there are thousands and thousands of conspiracies fighting with each other and can't get along with far-Left and far-Right theories about one big conspiracy that runs everything.

Wilson believes, since the amount of information doubles yearly, society goes through a tremendous transformation.

As far as DynCorp is concerned, though, there's Winokur's pal, Dudley Mecum, DynCorp director since 1988, who just happens to be the managing director of Winokur's Capricorn Holdings Inc., as well as CitiGroup, the New York banking conglomerate, convicted of serial money laundering and other criminal offenses.

Wolfowitz, Paul

================================================================================================
Paul D. Wolfowitz, Deputy Secretary of Defense.
He's one of Bush's national security campaign advisers and the dean of Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies in Washington.
Wolfowitz served as Defense undersecretary in charge of national security strategy and policy when Dick Cheney ran the Pentagon.

On December 7th, 2002, two activists, Saul Kanowitz and Anne Sadler, organizers with the Int'l ANSWER Coalition unfurled a banner reading, "Stop the War on Iraq." They chanted, "Stop the war against Iraq, No Blood for Oil." Seven other people stood in silence, protesting Wolfowitz, wearing T-shirts with anti-war slogans.

From an original GROUND ZERO Forum article, originally released at Scoop:
"You can't wait until you have evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that somebody did something in the past" - Wolfowitz interview with the San Francisco Chron. Thursday, 28 February 2002, 1:38 pm

If anything needs no evidence, than it is the fact, that Wolfowitz wants to replace Donald Rumsfeld, he's even already in discussion.

Without any discussion it's a fact, that Wolfowitz wants a war against Iraq.

Wolfowitz is much louder than other supporters like Richard Perle or James Woolsey and was even in Turkey working on new allies for this plan.

If this is so obvious, then why not speculate about the possibility that he wanted a war against the Taliban before Sept 11th as well?

Wolfowitz is currently Deputy Secretary of Defense, therefore the number two man at the Pentagon since 2000.

For the last eight years, Dr. Wolfowitz has served as Dean and Professor of International Relations at the Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) of The Johns Hopkins University.

Paul Wolfowitz is a good friend of current NYC's mayor Bloomberg, who was his boss for a while when he was the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Hopkins.

From 1989 to 1993, Dr. Wolfowitz served as Under Secretary of Defense for Policy in charge of the 700-person defense policy team that was responsible to Secretary Dick Cheney for matters concerning strategy, plans, and policy. During this period Secretary Wolfowitz and his staff had major responsibilities for the reshaping of strategy and force posture at the end of the Cold War.

For four years (1973-77) he was in the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, working on the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks and a number of nuclear nonproliferation issues.

There is not much known about where Paul Wolfowitz was between September 10th and 11th, but he was in touch with Dick Cheney who gave the okay to shoot-down Flight 93.

Wolfowitz: "In fact we were already tracking in on that plane that crashed in Pennsylvania"

The question is whether he was in touch with Donald Rumsfeld that day too.
According to Veronica Clarke, spokesman of the Pentagon, Rumsfeld was "on the phone" with someone after they saw on TV how the second plane hit the World Trade Center.

But no-one started the command to evacuate the Pentagon - why?
It is still an open question if he was in contact with General Myers and/or the commanding officer of NORAD that day, General Ralph Eberhart.

Army Gen. Henry Shelton, was "somewhere over the Atlantic" en route to Europe when the attacks occurred, and Myers wasn't in the Pentagon, too.
"...Myers said he was on Capitol Hill that morning in the offices of Georgia Sen. Max Cleland to discuss his confirmation hearing to become chairman. While in an outer office, he said, he saw a television report that a plane had hit the World Trade Center.
"They thought it was a small plane or something like that," Myers said.
So the two men went ahead with the office call.

Meanwhile, the second World Trade Center tower was hit by another jet. "Nobody informed us of that," Myers said. "But when we came out, that was obvious. Then, right at that time, somebody said the Pentagon had been hit."

Somebody thrust a cell phone in Myers's hand. Gen. Ralph Eberhart, commander of U.S. Space Command and the North American Aerospace Defense Command, was on the other end of the line "talking about what was happening and the actions he was going to take."

What did Rumsfeld, Myers and Wolfowitz say to each other and at which time?
On 9/13, General Richard Myers appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee for his confirmation hearing as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He was asked some pointed questions regarding the military response (or lack there of) on 9/11.

He contradicted himself several times, indicating that in two days time, he really couldn't account for the military's performance. Either this or he was stonewalling.
The Senate Committee Chair (Carl Levin, D-MI) offered more than once to take Myers testimony during the closed-door portion of the hearing, evidently in an effort to keep the General from embarrassing himself any further. Myers appointment as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs breezed right on through.

General Ralph Eberhart, NORAD’s commanding officer on 911, testified before the same committee on 10/25/01. By this time the military officials were all pretty much following the same line – the incompetence theory.

They also, however, should have been able to answer one simple question:
“At what time did the FAA notify you that there was a problem?”
Eberhart said he didn’t know and passed the buck to the FAA.

What was Wolfowitz’s role on Sep11th?
How much did he know on September 10th and how far did he plan the war in Afghanistan before Sept 11th, together with Shelton and Woolsey?
"...assumptions that went into military plans on September 10th just don't apply any more...

As Newsweek found out, the Pentagon, was on high alert on September 10th and told their employees not to take the plane on the following day.

But the Pentagon had enough time for the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services, who gathered in Pentagon Conference Room 5C1042. This civilian advisory committee, whose members have the protocol status of three-star generals, monitors the concerns of women in uniform.

And what was the topic of discussion on the eve of the worst attack in U. S. history?
"After briefings from representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Coast Guard, DACOWITS, as the committee is known, issued a formal request for more information on what they deemed a matter of paramount military significance: breast-feeding.

On the next day the first hijack was already known at around 8 AM. It’s very strange, that this information didn’t reach the Air Force in time.

What did Wolfowitz do that time? Why was NORAD not activated?

From the standard line about NORAD:
“...the mission of NORAD had been to look for enemies from without, assuming that any aircraft taking off from the U.S. is friendly in origin.”

Wolfowitz, a native of New York and a graduate of Cornell University, immediately said after the attack in a BBC Interview, to "end" states sponsoring or harbouring militants but was speaking about Iraq. "This is not an Islamic act that was conducted. If I'm not wrong, there are only two significant figures in the Muslim world who have praised this attack, Saddam Hussein being one and the leader of Hamas being the other”.

Wolfowitz didn’t care much about the official version, he created his own one, which still exists:
that there are ties between bin Laden and Iraq.

Wolfowitz manipulates official statements by Washington and in one case, Colin Powell was very angry about it.

On October 7th, 2001, when the war against the Taliban started, Wolfowitz manipulated a letter of UN-Ambassador John Negroponte (who was involved in the Iran-Contra affair) and added, that other strikes against Iraq, Syria or Sudan might be possible.

Did Wolfowitz let the attack happen on purpose?

Woolsey, James

From an GROUND ZERO Forum article, originally released at Scoop:
"Recruit spies inside terrorist organizations if you can't recruit people with some kind of a violent past."
James Woolsey, September 11th

Many people claim, that ex-CIA director Woolsey had so much insider information, that it seems very unrealistic to claim he wasn't able to connect the dots of all these early warnings before Sep. 11th and didn't warn the highest levels of Pentagon and the White House to prevent the attacks.
Some even think, he is member of the so-called shadow government, "to ensure survival of federal rule after catastrophic attack", the existence of which
But what are the goals of this shadow government? Did Woolsey have personal interest in letting the attacks happen on purpose?

Woolsey has a long experience with the US government. He is a close friend of Richard Armitage, Richard Perle and Paul Wolfowitz, a group called the “Wolfowitz Cabal” under Reagan and Bush. Woolsey has a lot of conflicts of interest.

R. James Woolsey was the director of Central Intelligence from 1993-95. He served as an ambassador and United States representative to the Negotiation on Conventional Armed Forces in Europe (CFE), Vienna from 1989-91.

Woolsey served as the undersecretary of the Navy from 1977-79, and was general counsel to the U.S. Senate Committee on Armed Services from 1970-73. In addition, he was an advisor to the U.S. delegation for the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT I) in Helsinki and Vienna, an analyst with the Office of the Secretary of Defense and National Security Council staff, and a captain in the U.S. Army.

Woolsey was a delegate at large at the U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Reduction Talks (START) and Space Arms Talks (NST).

In the private sector, he has served as director of Martin Marietta, as well as British Aerospace, Fairchild Industries, Titan Corporation, USF&G, Sun Healthcare Group Inc., Yurie Systems Inc and DynCorp, where ENRON executive Herbert S. "Pug" Winokur is on the board as well.

DynCorp, according to Alex Cockburn and Jeff St. Clair, is the nation's twenty-second largest defense contractor with 1998 U.S. Government contract revenues of $475 million. DynCorp, which currently has between 300-600 contracted employees in Colombia, is performing functions like crop eradication (using defoliants – similar to those used in Vietnam), to sophisticated aerial reconnaissance, to combat advisory roles training military and possibly even paramilitary forces.

As noted by highly credible writers such as Peter Dale Scott, Col. Fletcher Prouty and even the legendary "retired" CIA executive Ted Shackley in his book The Third Option, the use of private corporations, whether directly owned by CIA as "proprietaries" or not, is a common practice for the extension of U.S. military and diplomatic power.

James Woolsey, who now describes himself as a "private citizen," is the man who was very early on entrusted with investigating Iraqi involvement in the September 11 attacks and anthrax outbreaks. He perpetuated the incompetence theory of the Sept. 11th attacks. Does that implicate him as well? That seems very unrealistic.

Woolsey is a master strategist. It is well known that he wanted a war against the Taliban for years, but was even more interested in a war against Iraq. The Iraqi National Congress, the exiled group that opposes Saddam Hussein, said in October 2001 that it held meetings in London with Mr Woolsey.

Administration sources have said his trip was funded and approved by Paul Wolfowitz, the deputy Defense secretary. But Woolsey made no comment about the exact nature of his brief. He told The Telegraph: "I was in London and that's it."

Woolsey supported the story, that Mohammad Atta met an Iraqi diplomat in Prague.

This was obviously based on rigged information.

However Woolsey said, "I doubt very seriously if this was simply a social relationship or that they liked to drink Czech beer together." and expressed this in Pentagon's Top Advisor Richard Perle’s paper Daily Telegraph, owned by Perle’s company Hollinger Inc.

Woolsey participated in various Terror Scenario war games (->).

On Jan. 22, 2000 he participated in a CFR Project run as a war-game simulation at its Manhattan headquarters. For the simulation, the CFR enlisted 75 people, including bankers, former Treasury Secretaries, and former State Department officials.

Participants were divided into four teams, sent into four rooms, with the ability to communicate with each other and with a command headquarters through the computers.

In May 2000, Woolsey participated in a bioterrorism exercise at Andrews Air Force Base. He played the CIA director. This event was organised by the Hopkins Center, in collaboration with the ANSER Institute for Homeland Defense, the Center for Strategic and International Studies and the Oklahoma Memorial Institute for the Study of Terrorism.

From July 12-13, 2000 he was part of yet another CFR "forum" called "The New Political Crisis: Warning Signs, Damage Control and Impact".

This was played out before a high-powered audience of 250 people, comprising largely of bankers, investors, corporate officials, and policymakers, mostly from the United States, or from Europe, and revolved around the possibility that the U.S. stock market, and potentially the world financial system would undergo a melt down.

Woolsey knew about the Bio Terror Scenarios organized by Dr. Inglesby (Johns Hopkins Institute) almost simultaneously, in St. Louis and Atlanta (June 15 and 16, June 26 and 27, 2000).

Finally Woolsey participated in the biggest Terror Scenario, called Dark Winter, once again developed by Dr. Inglesby (John Hopkins), which took place on June 22-23rd 2001.
In Dark Winter Woolsey "played" the director of the FBI.
http://www.hopkins-biodefense.org/participants.html

Woolsey knew exactly, that the United States could expect very soon. He still had enough contacts at the CIA. But maybe it was a conflict of interest which stopped him from doing anything.

Woolsey is partner of the law firm Shea and Gardner, which represents Arthur Andersen LLP, Ernst & Young, General Electric and Lockheed-Martin, two more corporates with a huge interest in a "war against terrorism".

Shea & Gardner (->) was founded in 1947 by Francis M. Shea and Warner W. Gardner, both of whom had served with distinction in the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations. http://www.sheagardner.com/FSLSCS/Custom/home.asp
Woolsey is a Warhawk,

Woolsey was once appointed by President Reagan as Delegate at Large to the U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Reduction Talks (START) and Nuclear and Space Arms Talks (NST). Woolsey is presently still a member of the boards of directors, or boards of managers, of: Linsang Partners, LLC; BC International
But with all his connections, his only response in a PBS interview on September 11th was: "Well, they may well have had some kind of indication that something was going to happen."

http://www.pbs.org/newshour/bb/military/terroristattack/intelligence2.html

...this seems to be bogus. In the same interview he said something else rather strange:

"...in terrorist groups, there isn't anybody except people who want to be terrorists. So it cuts back on your ability to recruit spies inside terrorist organizations if you can't recruit people with some kind of a violent past...

How does this fit with the history of the Taliban, which was created with the help of the CIA and ISI?

It seems like a Freudian slip, when the CIA confirms something like this: "U.S. had agents inside al-Qaeda ...the terror group, but the intercepts and field reports didn't specify where or when a strike might occur."

Woolsey definitely knew about these CIA moles.
Did he let the attack happen on purpose?
If so, under whose direction or influence?"

World Assembly of Muslim Youth (WAMY)

Due to many investigators, the World Assembly of Muslim Youth (WAMY) based in Riyadh, was linked to Abdullah Bin Laden (->), one of the relatives of Usama Bin Laden.

The World Bank Group, with the help of the World Bank Institute, is one of the world's largest sources of development assistance. In fiscal year 2002, the institution provided more than US$19.5 billion in loans to its client countries.

In late 2002, the World Bank released a book called "The Right to Tell - The Role of Mass Media in Economic Development" (http://www.worldbank.org/whb/righttotell.html), which explained, how a "free press can reduce poverty and boost economic development in poor countries but the success of newspapers, radio and TV stations in spurring development depends on their independence, quality, and their ability to reach a wide audience."

In 1999, the World Bank's Economic Development Institute, the Bank's external training arm which was founded in 1955, merged with the Bank's Learning and Leadership Center thereby adding to its work program the training of Bank staff. A year later the Institute's name was changed to the World Bank Institute (WBI).

WBI programs were offered in 149 countries in 2000.
The Institute's head office is in Washington, D.C. WBI has field offices in China and the Russian Federation.

Wright, Robert

In Fall 2001, ex-FBI agent Robert Wright started to accuse the US Justice Department, that they had blocked his early warnings (->) on a pending attack on the United States.
Already in Summer 2001, Wright asked former Top Prosecutor David Schippers (Chicago attorney who was the House Republicans' counsel during President Bill Clinton's impeachment) for help, who himself tried to reach John Ashcroft (->) for weeks- without any success.

In March 2002, Robert Wright, in the meantime supported by watchdog Judicial Watch (->), gave a press conference on CSPAN, announcing a lawsuit.

Source:
http://www.judicialwatch.org/1567.shtml

However his case had been ignored in the US Congress and Mainstream Press.

Finally, in May 2002, when other early warnings of FBI agents became popular (Phoenix-Memo, Kenneth Williams ->, Colleen Rowley->), the Washington Post wrote about Wrights lawsuit against the FBI.

Wright accused the FBI of violating his First Amendment rights by prohibiting him from making his complaints public.

He had written a 500-page manuscript titled "Fatal Betrayals of the Intelligence Mission", which he tried to release as a book in October 2001.

The FBI blocked the release of this book.

Special Agent Wright was already taken off a Hamas investigation in August 1999.

Wright's lawsuit was filed one day after the FBI was chastised by US Congress for failing to more aggressively look into a July 2001 recommendation from its Phoenix field office that U.S. aviation schools should be canvassed for Middle Eastern men seeking flight training.

Schippers, his lawyer, later leaked to the press, that Wright was even one of 10 FBI agents, who knew time and place of the pending attacks on Twin Towers and Pentagon.

Now it was reported, that Wright was the only FBI agent to seize terrorist funds (over $1.4 million) from U.S.-based Middle Eastern terrorists using federal civil forfeiture statutes, prior to the September 11th attacks.

The original source of the funds was Yassin Kadi (->), a Saudi businessman, who was reportedly a financier of Osama bin Laden.

Wright pointed to recent misconduct and falsifications of wiretap warrant applications by FBI agents (signed-off by the former FBI Director, Louis Freeh ->) to the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) Court.

Prior to September 11th, SA Wright alleged FBI intelligence agents lied and hid vital records from criminal agents for the purpose of obstructing his criminal investigation of the terrorists in order to protect their "subjects," and prolong their intelligence operations.

Wrights accusations sounded similar like of John O'Neill (->), who dramatically died in the Twin Towers, after he resigned from his job at the FBI only a few weeks before.

Wright continued to claim, that ITU’s (International Terrorism Unit) incompetence and repeated failures to support criminal investigations contributed directly to the "deaths of five Americans".

The FBI continued to illegally refuse the release of SA Wright’s 500 page manuscript, Fatal Betrayals of the Intelligence Mission.

In fact, the FBI refused to turn the manuscript over to Sen. Richard C. Shelby, Vice Chairman of the Joint Intelligence Committee, charged with investigating the FBI’s intelligence failures.

WTC-UFO

Many websites had been influenced by photos, who implied that an unidentified object on Sep11th at the WTC was an extraterrestrial object. Others claimed, it was a missile. A few supported the possibilities, that the "missile" was in fact the microwave weapon system "thermobarics", shot out of the Building 7, which later collapsed under strange circumstances.

While many photos based on photo manipulations (japanese UFO-animation), many websites continued to insist on an extraterrestrial or military object.

D.E. Alexander claimed, that there had been an UFO already on July 24th 2000.

Realufos was established in May 2002 in Coral Springs, Florida. Alexander was a supporter of Sollog.com, who was outed as a fraud.

Attack on USS Cole- what's the oil connection of Yemen (->)?

YellowTimes.org
=================================
In March 2002, YellowTimes columnist John Chuckman released his article
"Footprints in the dust: signs of connections between CIA and WTC attack", in which he mentioned his "strong suspicion that the flight school in Florida where one of the terrorists, Mr. Mohamed Atta, trained likely had connections to the CIA."

YellowTimes released many different Sep11th-related articles in 2001-2002.

YellowTimes is an online news/opinion publication, which includes the "Power and Interest News Report".

It was created by publisher Erich Marquardt, in October 2000, "with the goal of opening another window onto the world".

Yemen connection
=================================
On September 11th, 2002, Yemen's oiltanker Limburg (with ties to France) exploded.
It was expected to have great impact on Yemen's economy as well as its territorial seawaters

Yemen/Oil
=================================
Due to Yementimes from October 27th 2002, Yemen (which borders Israel) has large quantities of oil and gas and therefore great oil exploration potential across the republic.

Oil Deputy Minister Abdulmalik Alama explained in an interview, that the September 11th 2002 explosion of the oil tanker Limburg gave insurance companies chances to raise prices and therefore Yemen will not be able find buyers for the oil.

Alama participated in the autumn "Conference of the North", which included 1,200 oil Investment companies and manufacturers of oil equipment.

Yemen talked especially with Norway Oil Organizations.
(In 2002, Norway was the world's biggest operator of submarine gas pipelines and the world's second biggest exporter of oil. ->Norway)

In August 2000, Mou Shuling, Vice President of China's Petrochemical Corporation (= SINOPEC, established in July 1998) met already with ranking Yemeni officials and discussed with them ways of boosting bilateral cooperation between Yemen and China.

Already in contact since 10 years, in April 1999 SINOPEC began with test drills in Yemen.

The first well drilled at Sea Block 53 for Dove Energy was an immediate success testing about 5,000 barrels of crude oil per day.

On October 12th, 2000 the US Navy Ship USS Cole was attacked by an explosion that tore a hole in the side of the warship when it apparently was rammed by an unidentified rubber boat while the destroyer was in Aden, Yemen (Arabian/Persian Gulf) for a refueling stop.

Four U.S. sailors were killed in the incident.

This incident put further oil business of Yemen on hold. (->USS Cole)

Zapata

Zapata was George Bush Sr.'s oil company, who was supported heavily in the CIA's early covert operations aimed at toppling Cuba's Fidel Castro.
Bush supplied two Zapata Oil exploration ships--the Zapata and the Barbara J.--for the CIA's abortive 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba.

George Bush Sr. made millions during the '50s and '60s Texas oil boom, and he made many friends, most notably James Baker, who became Bush's company lawyer in 1963 after Zapata merged with Penn to become Pennzoil.

Pennzoil has ties with Halliburton (-) from 1994, as Wayne Madsen, investigative journalist based in Washington, found out:

"...pumping the oil from the Caspian Sea's Azeri-Chirag-Gunashli fields would not have been possible without the help of Kellogg Brown & Root (-), a subsidiary of Halliburton that provides infrastructure and logistics support around the world to customers ranging from oil companies to the Pentagon. Indeed, some of Ramco's top officials are veterans of Halliburton and close Cheney associates--such as Senior Executive Vice President Dan Stover, Halliburton's former vice president for global operations under Cheney.

In 1994, Ramco partnered in the Azerbaijan operation with Pennzoil, a company that was created when South Penn Oil Company was bought by Dubya's daddy's Zapata Petroleum Company (which itself had been launched with the help of a $50,000 investment from James Gammell).

In 1999, PennzEnergy company--the new incarnation of Pennzoil--was bought by Devon Energy of Oklahoma City. Although Ramco has sold its concessions in Azerbaijan to Amerada Hess (directors of which have included Bush I Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady), Devon continues to play an important role in oil production in the Caspian fields..."

Zionism-Paranoia

There are two different kinds of Zionism-Paranoia.
One group think, it might be anti-semitic to investigate about possible ties between the Sep11th attack and interests of Israel.
The other think, that it was a setup by Mossad, Shin-Beth or another unknown shadow organisation, the zionist conspiracy.

But the ties between Israel and the Sep11th story could only prove prior knowledge, nothing more.
The Mossad already confirmed very early, that they warned the CIA and MI5 twice on an attack.

It can be assumed, that the classified story on the arrested spyring (Fox TV, Carl Cameron, fanchelligence.com) only proved, that some agents observed many hijackers and wondered, why they had been "allowed" to train at US-Air bases, military- and CIA related flight schools (-> Huffmann Aviation). However, other minor stories had been indeed "hijacked" for anti-semitism and obvious Zionism-paranoia, but others tried to criticise Sharon only, accusing him being a terrorist.

While ties of Lewis Eisenberg, Maurice Greenberg, Kroll Associates, Richard Perle, Paul Wolfowitz and a few others to Israeli government or even Shin-Beth can't be denied, the other stories (ICTS/Boston Logan, Daniel Levin/Flight 11, Odidio-Warning, Jerusalem Post report on Sep11th, Philip Zack and Urban Moving Systems --> had no legs, made even no sense in that context or just had been based on wrong facts.

The best summary gave the paranoiamagazine:

American Zionism The Real Problem- By Edward Said:

"This is the first article in a series on the misunderstood and misjudged role of American Zionism in the question of Palestine. In my opinion, the role of organised Zionist groups and activities in the United States has not been sufficiently addressed during the period of the "peace process," a neglect that I find absolutely astonishing, given that Palestinian policy has been essentially to throw our fate as a people in the lap of the United States without any strategic awareness of how US policy is in effect dominated, if not completely controlled, by a small minority of people whose views about Middle East peace are in some way more extreme than even those of the Israeli Likud."

At the end of 2002. Bush was not only attacked by various impeachment initiatives or lawsuits regarding Sep11th, but with a private case by Margie Schoedinger of Missouri City, Texas, too.

On December 2, 2002, she filed a lawsuit against him and stated, "on or about, October 26, 2000, an attempt was made to abduct Plaintiff (Schoedinger) by three unknown assailants. Because of the actions of these assailants, Sagar Land police officers were dispatched to the scene. In the end, no report was taken. Zogby, James
===============

Dr. James J. Zogby is founder and president of the Arab American Institute (AAI ->), a Washington, D.C.-based organization which serves as the political and policy research arm of the Arab American community. Since 1985, Dr. Zogby and AAI have led Arab American efforts to secure political empowerment in the U.S.

Through voter registration, education and mobilization, AAI has moved Arab Americans into the political mainstream.

For the past three decades, Dr. Zogby has been involved in a full range of Arab American issues. A co-founder and chairman of the Palestine Human Rights Campaign in the late 1970s, he later co-founded and served as the Executive Director of the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee.

In 1982, he co-founded Save Lebanon, Inc., a private non-profit, humanitarian and non-sectarian relief organization which funds health care for Palestinian and Lebanese victims of war, and other social welfare projects in Lebanon. In 1985, Zogby founded AAI.

In 1993, following the signing of the Israeli-Palestinian peace accord in Washington, he was asked by Vice President Al Gore to lead Builders for Peace, a private sector committee to promote U.S. business investment in the West Bank and Gaza. In his capacity as co-president of Builders, Zogby frequently traveled to the Middle East with delegations led by Vice President Gore and late Secretary of Commerce Ron Brown.

In 1994, with former U.S. Congressman Mel Levine, his colleague as co-president of Builders, Zogby led a U.S. delegation to the signing of the Israeli-Palestinian agreement in Cairo.

Zogby chaired a forum on the Palestinian economy at the Casablanca Economic Summit in 1994. After 1994, through Builders, Zogby worked with a number of US agencies to promote and support Palestinian economic development, including AID, OPIC, USTDA, and the Departments of State and Commerce.

Dr. Zogby is active in U.S. politics for many years. Zogby was elected a co-convenor of the National Democratic Ethnic Coordinating Committee (NDECC), an umbrella organization of Democratic Party leaders of European and Mediterranean descent. On September 24, 1999, the NDECC elected Dr. James Zogby as its representative to the DNC’s Executive Committee.

A lecturer and scholar on Middle East issues, U.S.-Arab relations, and the history of the Arab American community, Dr. Zogby appears frequently on television and radio. He has appeared as a regular guest on all the major network news programs. After hosting the popular "A Capital View" on the Arab Network of America for several years, he now hosts "Viewpoint with James Zogby on Abu Dhabi Television, which can be seen Friday afternoons from 2:00:300pm EST.

Since 1992, Dr. Zogby has written a weekly column on U.S. politics for the major newspapers of the Arab world. The column, Washington Watch, is currently published in 14 Arab countries. He has authored a number of books including two recent publications, "What Ethnic Americans Really Think" and "Arabs: What They Believe and What They Value Most."

Dr. Zogby has testified before U.S. House and Senate committees, has been guest speaker on a number of occasions in the Secretary's Open Forum at the U.S. Department of State, and has addressed the United Nations and other international forums. He recently received a Distinguished Public Service Award from the U.S. Department of State "in recognition of outstanding contributions to national and international affairs."

Dr. Zogby is active professionally beyond his involvement with the Arab American community. He is a board member of the human rights organization Middle East Watch and currently serves as a member of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR->).

Zubaydah, Abu
==================

Abu Zoubeida aka Abu Zubaydah, was named on the FBI's list of most wanted bin Laden lieutenants (Beghal-C) before the CIA finally captured him at the end of March 2002 and started interrogating him at an undisclosed location.

Many 911Skeptics thought in 2002, that his whole personality is based on fabrications and doesn't exist or died a long while ago.

"Zubaydah", while captured, confirmed that "the hijackers of Flight 93, the plane that crashed in Pennsylvania on Sept. 11, intended to slam the plane into the White House."

http://www.guardian.co.uk/uslatest/story/0,1282,-1754798,00.html

But in conflicting reports he "denied any knowledge of the attacks, telling his interrogators: "We don't kill innocent people..."

When Zubaydah was arrested in Summer 2002, a few Indian papers pointed as a "supporter of Bin Laden", might be not the real Abu Zubaydah.

South Asia Analysis Group (-> saag.org) came to the same conclusion:

"...Pakistani intelligence officials, while not disputing the US identification, continue to say that they are not 100 per cent certain. According to them, the man identified by the US as Abu Zubaida also resembled Abu Hasham alias Abdul Latif alias Abu Amer Hashim, a Syrian..."

For bizarre reasons, Abu-Zubaydah (almost dead), later "warned" the FBI of an attack on the Brooklyn Bridge in NYC and confirmed a connection between Ramsi Binalshibh (->) and some of the hijackers.

At the time of this confirmation and the release of a new video including Binalshib, the NSA confirmed for the first time, that they translated another telephone call on September 11th, which revealed information about a possible 5th plane (->) and a crash into the White House.

The code name of the White House had a different name from what was told in the "Binalshib"- video.

Zwicker, Barry

Barry Zwicker produced the first 911Skeptic film ever released on a public TV Channel, named "Insight MediaFile" on Vision TV Monday, January 28 2002.

His Six-Part Series included a close-up of George Bush at Booker Elementary School (from the original video copy of the local broadcast), where one exactly can see, how George Bush was just nodding 3, 4 times, when he heard about the 2nd attack on the World Trade Center.

This close-up version, which includes the disturbing nodding, was never shown again on National US TV.

Zwicker basically asked in his reports, "What Happened on 9/11 and why aren't the mainstream media asking that question?"

Media Critic Zwicker dared to suggest in his weekly commentary that the CIA, Pentagon and White House may be complicit in the horrendous events of Sept. 11th, 2001.

That commentary was the first in a series on MediaFile, which was therefore the first current affairs TV program in Canada to raise this possibility.

The "Dostojewsky of 911Skepticism" in an exclusive pre-release at GlobalfreePress.com:

"911Skeptics Unite -the encyclopedia" by Nico Haupt aka ewing2001 aka Testpod69 aka @GlobalfreePress.com) 48 hours after the release, the financial mastermind of Sep11th, Khalid Shaikh Mohammed, was "arrested". (Shaikh Mohammed died in FBI October 2001-raid: http://www.atimes.com/atimes/South_Asia/DJ30Df01.html Robert Fisk questioned arreanstment of ISI-Shaikh Mohammed: http://www.thestar.com/NASApp/cs/ContentServer?pagename=thestar/Layout/Article_Type1&c=Article&cid=1035778519658&call_pageid=968332188492&)
Read about Mohammeds disturbing ties to Standard Chartered Bank (Building 7/Dubai), Skeikh Saeed and the Pakistan Secret Service ISI.
Read, why the NSA will continue to spy on everyone to start the war against Iraq.
"911Skeptics Unite" is the ultimate alphabetical collection on smoking guns regarding Sep11th, evidence on the bogus war on terrorism, a handbook for investigative, progressive and activistic proud americans and worldwide citizens.

You heard of some suspects and strange details, but forgot their name and context? You wonder about some new US-organisations and abbreviations, but lost the info? You don't trust some members of the US-government, but forgot the link? You search for an investigative website? You wanna support a pro-american peace-activist site, a pro-american impeachment site, you wanna fight for the first amendment? You wanna have a peaceful revolution?

"911Skeptics" can help out.

With 850 pages of keywords on Sep11th and its political aftermath, it is the biggest print collection ever on this topic.

"911Skeptics Unite" compiles every detail of the irregularities of the official story, obvious lies and fabrications (even confirmed by FBI and CIA) and presents the most important key persons and projects of an investigative and progressive movement, who wants to have their old america back and tried to stop the war on resources and regulating the energy prices.

"911Skeptics unite" is not only challenging the official story on the Sep11th- and anthrax attack, it shows, how both originally had been connected with each other, facts the US Government and some corrupted CIA-members are refused to say.
But it's not only an alphabetical index, it is already the evidence for a growing movement against the WhiteHouse doctrin.

"911Skeptics Unite" quotes critical and patriotic voices out of the FBI, CIA and Pentagon against Bush, Cheney, Rumsfeld, Rove, Rice and their "advisors" Richard Perle or Jerome Hauer.

It compiles alphabetically every individual author, activist and website, who was investigating on Sep11th so far and it refers to an endless collection of links from patriotic citizens who are scared of their own US-Congress, which seemed to be controlled by one and the same party-no difference between democrats and republicans is allowed.

"911Skeptics Unite" presents a glossary of the political aftermath and possible pretext for Sep11th, which will show the corruption and lies of both democrats and republicans.

It presents US Citizens, who want to have a peaceful revolution in their own country, stop racism, stop spying on their own citizens and declare peace with the Middle East.

It brings short biographies, never revealed facts and documents, oppressed and disturbing insider details of leaders of corporate identity, oil-biopharmacy and weapon industry, who really run the United States.

"911Skeptics unite" shows, how many thinktanks scripted parts of a possible Sep11th-scenario, before it occured, it lists all terror-exercises and early warnings before Sep11th.

One conclusion is definitive: The "incompetence theory" is a big lie, the evidence against it too strong, the supporters so overwhelming, but ignored by the US media, which is manipulated by US Military and self-brainwashed, ignoring impeachment- and peace movements of their own US-citizens and worldwide.

911Skeptics unite is based on the results and research of GROUND ZERO FORUM NYC, established on Sep11th, 2001 at 8:53 AM.

-Key member ewing2001 of GZ was banned at democraticunderground.com by the admin

-hacked in May 2002 shortlv after their 911Skeptics-forum in NYC, a few days before Bush confirmed "prior knowledge" on Sep11th

-founding father of the 911 people's commission

-founding staff member of ShadowGovernment TV, New York, which merged in October 2002 with globalfreepress.com

-the results of the most important investigative files of GZ had been personally delivered to the United Nations, ShadowGovernment TV, Martin Luther King III, Cynthia McKinney and various right- and leftwing projects or media (FreeRepublic.com, DER SPIEGEL, Green Party/Ralph Nader, FDNY, ConEdison, various 911victims, Japanese TV, Norway TV, Business Talk Radio, Scoop NZL, Matthias Broeckers, Telepolis, CNN and many more...)
